Rex Brand will be in charge of the Coke County office now and L. L. Wilkins will also still be employed in the office.

Jacoby said that there have been lots of changes in Coke County since he first came here, with lots of progress made in land use and conservation practices. He said his work here has been gratifying and that Coke Countians have been fine people to work with.

Mrs. Jacoby will continue her work as office deputy in the Coke County Sheriff's office.

Cool Weather Covers Area

The Bronte area stayed cool under overcast skies this week as a weak cold front moved across the region. The cool and rainy weather was quite a contrast to the recent 100 degree plus weather which scorched the area the first of last week.

Light rain made the July 4th holiday one of the coolest on record. Rainfall during the past few days varied from 1 to 3 inches, brightening agricultural prospects and adding water to area lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. (Willie) James Hibbs and family have moved to Bronte to make their home at 424 S. Jefferson. Hibbs, former superintendent at Blackwell, is retiring after 25 years as an administrator in Texas public schools.

The Hibbs family expressed their appreciation for the warmth and friendliness extended them by people of Bronte.

by only $324. Their bid was $112,342.

Four contractors submitted bids on the work. Wilson Paving Company of San Angelo submitted a bid of $124,000 and Pioneer Construction of Abilene had a bid of $137,000.

The contract will be signed within the next 10 days and calls for completion of the work in about 60 working days after the contract is signed. The contractor is ready to move in as soon as the contract is signed.

The work will be financed with money voted in a $200,000 bond issue approved by voters last March. The road bonds were sold to Columbian Securities Corp. and will be retired in 10 years.

As a part of the road bond issue a contract was awarded earlier for the construction of four bridges in the county. Ferrier Bros. Bridge Co. was successful bidder on the project, and four bridges were built on Snead Creek, Messbox Creek, and two on Mule Creek, at a cost of $66,855.81. These bridges have been completed and the contractor paid.

Included in the paving contract is re-topping of pavement in Robert Lee and Bronte and county maintained rural paved roads. An estimated $26,000 will be spent to construct new pavement. Other items included are revising grades and dips and widening some of the existing pavement.

Screwworm Cases Make Big Jump

By County Agent Sterling Lindsey

The number of screwworm cases found in Coke County continues to climb. A total of 26 cases have been logged in the county during 1972, an increase of 16 confirmed cases during the past week.

Most of the cases came from the middle section of the county, but the pattern is beginning to spread out. Simpson Brothers had most of the cases, a total of 10, from samples submitted during the previous two weeks.

Other cases being confirmed were submitted by Gene Baker from his place six miles southwest of Robert Lee; James Arrott, five miles west-southwest of Tennyson; Fred and Larry Jameson, two miles southeast of Silver; Clyde Bowen, 14 miles south of Robert Lee; Frank Percifull, eight miles southeast of Robert Lee; and Don Stewart of Lamesa, on his place approximately 18 miles southwest of Robert Lee.

The recent showers have been wonderful for the pastures, but could cause the screwworm control program problems. Everyone is encouraged to check livestock regularly for possible cases and to be sure to submit a sample of all cases found. Sterile fly drops are made on locations from which confirmed cases were taken.

Mrs. Wayne Stout is in Lubbock visiting in the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sandefur. While in Lubbock, she is undergoing a series of medical tests.

Austin — Wide variance in election costs over the state have been pointed up by Secretary of State Bob Bullock in a recent report.

Bullock said primary expenses ranged from 36 cents per voter (Democrats) in Travis County to $4.83 (for Republicans) in El Paso County.

Some county chairmen managed a "thrifter, better organized election," while others spent the maximum amount authorized, said the chief election officer.

"These figures have reaffirmed our belief that single polling places for both parties, with primaries financed through the county clerk's office, would be a positive step toward reducing our primary election costs," said Bullock.

Bullock noted this breakdown for major counties:

County	Demo Cost per voter	GOP cost
Travis	36 cents	$2.50
Harris	61 cents	$2.44
Tarrant	61 cents	$1.83
Dallas	57 cents	$1.94
Bexar	59 cents	$2.65
El Paso	50 cents	$4.83
Nueces	52 cents	$4.48

Higher unit cost for Republicans is not surprising, due to the small size of the GOP primary, Bullock said.

In some counties, the Secretary of State complained, 400 voting machines were allowed where "half as many" probably would have done the job.

COURTS SPEAK — A U. S. Supreme Court decision holding the death penalty unconstitutional left uncertain the fate of 41 Texas prisoners on death row.

A federal court at Brownsville held five Texas laws used in labor disputes are unconstitutional and scored the role of Texas Rangers in a 1966-67 Starr County farm workers' strike.

The State Supreme Court next fall will hear arguments concerning the extent of a health insurance policyholder's rights in suits based on alleged misrepresentation in policy sales.

The High Court ruled Sun Oil Co. has rights to use 100,000 gallons of water daily for injection of oil bearing sands beneath a Hockley County tract to increase production.

Part of the value of medical and legal practices of divorced husbands can be held as community property for distribution to wives, the Supreme Court held.

NEW TRADE MISSION PLANNED — An August trade mission by 12 Texas industrialists to the South American cities of Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro is planned by the International Trade Division of Texas Industrial Commission for Aug. 20-31.

The trip will emphasize these products as best possibilities in South America: petrochemicals, chemicals, power equipment, construction and mining equipment, steel, graphics industry equipment, machine tools, office machines, textile machinery, transportation and communication and agriculture and food processing.

FILIBUSTER MARK SET — Sen. Mike McKool of Dallas cracked the world's filibuster record during the special legislative session, arguing 42 hours and 33 minutes for more funds to improve mental health-mental retardation services.

Indications are there is little hope of winding up work on the $4.1 billion appropriations bill before Friday. Additional federal funds totalling nearly $128 million apparently will be assured for welfare.

Senators scheduled a mid-week clash over adoption of new rules which include a controversial provision to authorize consideration of appointments by the governor in open session. Senators traditionally have done this work behind closed doors, and showed reluctance last week to depart from the old practice.

HIGHWAY FUND IN JEOPARDY — The entire Texas highway program is in jeopardy, Texas Highway Commission members Charles Simons told Texas Press Association at its summer meeting in Corpus Christi.

Simons warned the highway program is threatened by proposed environmental controls, raids on the federal highway trust fund, government reorganization, federal revenue sharing and bureaucratic red tape.

He said the federal government should finish the interstate system as pledged, then release to the states responsibility for collection of the special highway user taxes invoked in 1956 to establish the highway trust fund.

Simons expressed concern over schemes to divert trust fund revenues to build rail mass transit systems in the East and Midwest. He charged a proposal for governmental reorganization is a move to "dominate the highway program and to divert highway user tax revenues to wild eyed welfare and other socialistic schemes."

BILLBOARD FORMS AVAILABLE — Application blanks to erect billboards within 660 feet of highways are now available through Highway Department and city offices.

Sign permits are required under the new State Highway Beautification or billboard control act which went into effect last week.

Plans for enforcing sections of the billboard law dealing with illegal, abandoned and non-conforming signs, junkyards and auto graveyards will be announced later.

Short Snorts

The May unemployment rate for Texas rose slightly but remained below the May 1971 level.

More than 420 cities received $40 million from the local option sales tax during the first quarter of 1972.

A $441,638 federal grant will help the Texas Department of Public Safety expand its criminal intelligence functions.

Texas's business recovery continues slowly, but the threat of inflation remains, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Building permits in the state reached a new record high last month.

NEW HIGHWAY SIGNS WILL GIVE NEW LOOK TO TRAFFIC SIGNALS

Although the "new look" in highway signs is not as revolutionary as the miniskirt—Texas Highway Department engineers hope it will be as eye-catching.

In many cases, symbols, shapes and colors are substituted for words. It is hoped that this will give the message to motorists at a glance and remove language barriers.

The new symbol signs and pavement markings adopted by the Texas Highway Commission are from the revised "Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices" released by the Federal Highway Administration.

The new prohibitive signs are probably the most important. These signs all have a red circle with a slash cutting diagonally through the center which means "DO NOT" or "NO." The symbol inside the circle shows what is prohibited.

The yellow diamond shaped signs still stand for a warning, but some of the symbols showing hazards are new. In addition most warning signs continue to have a word message, but the message is located under the sign on a plaque.

For example: The word message "MERGING TRAFFIC," is replaced by a black arrow being joined by a smaller black line. A plaque under the sign will have the word "MERGE." It is hoped this will minimize confusion as to which stream carries the merging traffic.

School signs are shaped like a schoolhouse, containing the silhouettes of two children on a yellow background.

Color is a key in the new system. Red indicates stop or prohibition; green shows movement permitted or "gives directional guidance; blue signifies motorist services; yellow indicates general warning; and black on white is used for regulatory signs such as those for speed limits and for most guide and destination signs.

In addition, orange (a new color in the manual) will convey construction and maintenance warnings.

The shapes of the new signs are important. Diamond shaped signs signify warning; rectangular signs with longer vertical dimensions provide traffic regulation; rectangular signs with longer horizontal dimensions contain guidance information. An octagon always means stop and an inverted triangle means yield.

In addition to the new signs, there are major adjustments in the use of color for pavement markings.

Yellow lines will be the only color used for centerline markings on two way roads and white will remain on multiple lane highways—for separating traffic flows in the same direction.

A broken yellow centerline will mark the division of the road where passing is permitted. A solid yellow line to the right of a broken yellow centerline will mean no passing is allowed for traffic in that lane. Double solid yellow lines will denote areas where no passing is permitted by traffic traveling in either direction. Similarly, a double yellow line will mark the center line of multilane divided highways.

WASHINGTON
 "As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
 Congressman
 17th District

Washington — The Brookings Institution here in Washington is a non-partisan, non-profit, research organization. In its economic studies it draws on some of the best scholars in the country.

In a recent study, a group headed by Charles L. Schultz, who was Budget Director in the Johnson Administration, came to conclusions and opinions considerably different from those he and associates expressed in the early 60's.

At that time, along with other prominent economists, Schultz, Walter Heller and other saw a "fiscal dividend" in the country's economic growth immediately ahead. At that time they saw large amounts of revenue coming into the Federal Treasury permitting tax cuts, revenue sharing with states and localities and funds for programs of the "Great Society."

The report recently completed by these gentlemen and others has the effect of repudiating many of the actions which were a part of the Great Society. The report calls for a reversal of direction for the Federal Government from providing goods and services and other complex schemes for aiding the poor, to increasing the quality of opportunity and improving the quality of public services. In clear terms it calls for drastic change in the spending programs of the Federal Government and warns of the fiscal plight which has overtaken it. One significant line stands out — "For the first time in American history, except during major wars, government spending—even without any new programs—is now rising relentlessly faster than the growth of revenues from an expanding economy." In other words, the conclusion is that the government is overspending itself and the programs to which the government is committed can't be paid for without huge deficits.

Following this conclusion, the report says that the overcommitted Federal Government can not spend any more on trying to solve social or other problems without a big tax increase. It says that even if the Congress enacts this year only the programs that President Nixon has proposed, and no more, the Federal budget for 1975 will reach $300 billion and that this would be $17 billion more than tax revenues under present rates.

The makeup of the Brookings group who produced the report reflects a change of attitude on the part of liberal intellectuals who had considerable influence in shaping policies and programs now criticized. They refer to many programs as uncertain, wasteful and not providing solutions. It goes far in undermining the liberal intellectual belief in the Federal Government as the chief problem solver in our society.

The Brookings people seem to agree with proposed reforms which have been around several years. Essentially what is needed, among other things, is (1) five year budget projections submitted annually; (2) pilot testing of any new programs; (3) a joint congressional committee to evaluate the total budget to determine both revenues and expenditures and (4) more disciplined spending.

What is needed is new incentive to reduce the tax drain and curb spending for programs of uncertain effect.

This sort of policy contradicts candidates on the campaign trail who dreamingly promise to cut taxes and increase spending. It just can't be done and people know better.

TIPPEN APPOINTED TO COMMITTEES

Newly elected Senator Bill Tippen, representing Senatorial District 24 which includes Coke County, has been appointed by Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes to serve on the following Senate Committees: Agriculture and Livestock, Banking, Counties, District and Urban Affairs; Legislative, Congressional and Judicial Districts, Oil and Gas, Parks and Wildlife, Rules, Transportation, Water and Conservation, and Youth Affairs.

Senator Tippen began his service to these committees immediately upon appointment, and will serve until Jan. 1, 1973.

Easy Care and Durability Tops
 Easy care and durability top the list of what homemakers want most in household textile products.

In a study of buying habits and attitudes toward natural and man-made fibers, researchers found that homemakers prefer easy care and durability in sheets, blankets, room size rugs and tablecloths.

Although they mostly buy cotton sheets, homemakers are especially concerned about ease of care, regardless of the fiber. In a comparison of all wool, all cotton, and all synthetic blankets, wool was considered durable yet rated lowest because it shrinks and can't be washed.

Most respondents to the study seemed to favor fiberglass for curtains and draperies in living rooms.

The study also showed that homemakers prefer all acrylic, all nylon and all wool room size rugs since they look good over long time periods and require little care. All acrylic fibers rated highest for use in bedroom scatter rugs, and all cotton ranked first for bathroom mats.

Cotton is the leading fabric purchased as yard goods for sewing at home

Sprays Spell Ironing Ease

Spray starch and fabric finishes earn their keep.

These aerosol products improve appearance and feel of garments, restore crispness and body lost in washing and offer convenience.

Spray an entire garment, damp or dry, and press. Or use the sprays for added crispness on collars, cuffs and trims. If the first coating isn't enough, a quick respray and ironing will add more body.

It is pointed out that starch gives firm body or crispness while fabric finish provides light body. And fabric finish is especially suitable for synthetics, permanent press and blends since it responds well to lower iron temperature settings that are recommended for these fabrics.

Both types of sprays make washing and ironing easier. Dirt is deposited on coated surfaces rather than embedded in the fibers. So soil washes out easily.

"Glidability" becomes an ironing plus for coated fabrics. But sticking can result from excess moisture or improper iron temperature setting.

When this happens starch or finish can build up on the iron. Under continued heating, this build up will scorch. So don't overly dampen material and use the appropriate iron setting.

If a low setting is necessary, switch from starch to fabric finish, which permits smooth ironing at lower temperatures. A finish also helps prevent sticking or scorching on dark washables if it's sprayed on the wrong side to eliminate shine and if it's absorbed by the fabric. Absorption requires waiting only a few minutes before ironing.

Fabric finish may also solve flaking problems that occur from starch on fabric surfaces or from iron temperatures that are too low. Some resin treated fabrics don't absorb starch well. Use fabric finish, then, or roll up the starch coated garment for a minute until the starch is absorbed.

For satisfactory and economical use of sprays, follow instructions for use. Most labels advise homemakers to shake contents before using, line markers on the spray button and can, and hold the can at the proper angle. Also, clean the spray opening by removing and rinsing the button or by holding the can upside down and exhausting the residue in the hose.
