

Swifts, Horns to battle for 2-A playoff berth

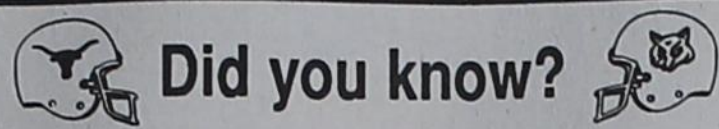

When Hart and Nazareth meet on the gridiron Friday night at Swift Field, there will be a lot at stake for both teams.

The winner of Friday night's contest will claim a playoff berth while the loser must put away the pads until next season.

Hart and Nazareth are longtime county rivals and each time the teams meet the intensity is fierce. And when you throw the teams into the same district, that intensity really heats up. Especially when there's a playoff berth at stake—for the second year in a row.

Hart dropped to Class A in 1992 and realignment placed the teams in the same district. Last year the Swifts and 'Horns tied with Sudan for the district championship and a coin flip sent Hart and Sudan into the playoffs.

The Hart and Nazareth football teams have met in regular season play each year since 1976 and during that span, the Swifts have a one-victory edge, 9-8.

This year Hart and Nazareth are tied for second in District 2-A and the winner will advance into the playoffs. Sudan won the district championship Friday night with a 21-0 win over Nazareth. That gave the Hornets a 4-0 district mark. They had topped Hart, 67-0, on Oct. 22.

"This game (Hart vs. Nazareth) is for all the marbles," said Hart Coach Danny Wilhelm. "Whoever wins this game will be in the playoffs. And we've got to go to Naz and that will make some difference. We haven't had a lot of luck playing there in the past."

Kickoff in the District 2-A showdown will be at 7:30 p.m.

Hart is 8-1 on the season, with its only loss coming to Sudan. The Swifts are 7-2, with losses to Sudan and Happy.

"This is a big game," said Nazareth Coach Rick Price. "The winner will finish second in district and will play White Deer (District 1-A champ) in bi-district."

On offense, Nazareth will start Gaylon Schilling at quarterback, Nick Johnson at tailback, Morgan Heck at fullback, Scott Brockman at tight end, Colby Pohlmeier at split end, Brad Keel at flanker, Bryan Charanza at center, J.J. Bermea and Ryan Hoelting at tackles and Jaret Schulte and Alston Farris at guards.

Voters okay amendments

County voters approved 12 of 16 constitutional amendments, but voters across the state defeated a proposal that may have been crucial for the future of communities like Dimmitt.

Amendment 16, which would have provided another $75 million in new bond proceeds to the Texas Agricultural Fund for economic development in rural areas, was turned down by state voters. Also getting the axe was Amendment 1, which would have established a COMMUNITY FORUM PLANNED TUESDAY—Gainell Minnick, left, curriculum director for the Dimmitt Independent School District, and Gloria Hernandez, school-community liaison, look over materials for two education forums planned Tuesday at Rhoads Memorial Library. The forums (5:30 p.m. in English, 7:30 p.m. in Spanish) will address real world needs for education in the 1990s, including expectations of businesspeople for students graduating from high school. Ideas expressed at the local forum will be included with information from other forums held throughout the Panhandle, and eventually incorporated into a statewide plan which will be implemented by the Texas Education Agency. Be careful: It's cancer-drive season again.

I was about to sign my name Tuesday to become a door-to-door volunteer when I took another look at the letterhead.

Hey, wait — this isn't the American Cancer Society's annual Crusade, I realized. This is from the Cancer Fund of America. The return addressee is James Reynolds, 2901 Breezewood Lane, Knoxville, Tennessee. Come to think of it, the local Cancer Society's Crusade Committee lines up its door-to-door volunteers by personal contact—not by letters out of Knoxville, Tennessee.

Sure enough, the required disclosure statement on the backside of the letter disclosed that 60% of the money donated to the Cancer Fund of America goes to pay for fundraising and "public education in conjunction with fundraising appeals" (solicitation letters, posters, workers' pamphlets, etc.).

The CFA raised almost $12 million last year. At least $120,000 of the money raised by volunteers went into salaries for the overseers back in the home office.

The bottom line is that only 28% of donations to the CFA go to "patient and community services," and part of this 28% is used for "settling causes of action regarding certain previous mailings."

What that last little string of jargon means is that the ol' CFA got legally zapped, either for fraud or fibbing.

So be careful.

If you want to help the original, legitimate Cancer Crusade, wait until you're asked by a member of the local chapter of the American Cancer Society. If you want to donate to the fight against cancer, wait until you're approached by an ACS Cancer Crusade volunteer. The pledge cards or literature he or she will be carrying will have the Cancer Society's copyrighted sword emblem on it. Discard all mail appeals; the Cancer Crusade doesn't solicit by mail.

City signs golf course deal with Clovis man

After four months of what ifs, the Dimmitt City Council took little time Monday in accepting a bid of $191,000 from Glen Adair for the Castro County Country Club.

Adair closed the deal with the city on Tuesday after the council unanimously accepted the offer of the Clovis man. Adair, interested in the course from the beginning, was one of only two bidders; Howard Bishop's bid was for $175,000.

The golf course, clubhouse, swimming pool and other improvements were foreclosed last August by Farmers Home Administration. FmHA took its action after the Castro County Recreation Association defaulted on its FmHA note.

After FmHA received no substantial bids, it sold the course to the city in September. The city operated the course for about six weeks, with Terry Widick in charge of the limited operations.

Unsold were the baseball parks, built in 1967-68 when the golf course was originally constructed. The parks had been leased by CCRA to Dimmitt Kids Inc. and the Dimmitt Independent School district for $1 a year, but that lease was nullified when FmHA took its action. The ball fields were part of the city's purchase, and the city is retaining title to the parks.

Adair, who closed the deal with the city Tuesday morning, said the pro/manager will be Jeff Fontanilla of Clovis, and will rename the facility "Country Club of Dimmitt."

Adair, an avid golfer, said he had dreamed of owning a golf course, but will not be involved in the club's operation.

"I have the right person for that position," Adair said. "I'll just be one of the members, play golf and use the facilities whenever time permits."

Fontanilla said he and Adair have worked over the past two months, making notes of needed improvements.

"Our primary objective is to upgrade the facility and render the best possible service to the members and their families," he said. "Once the renovation of the clubhouse is completed, I believe it will be a place for the entire family to enjoy and be proud to be a member."

Fontanilla also said he has many ideas to upgrade the golf course beginning next season.

King renews NAFTA attack

Just as the Clinton Administration is picking up its efforts to "sell" the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) to Congress, Texas Corn Growers Association head Carl King is pushing his efforts to defeat the legislation.

King testified recently before the House Ways and Means Committee, and is now pointing to disasters in the Canadian Free Trade Agreement (CFTA) as a prime reason why the Congress should defeat NAFTA.

"We have discovered that since the ratification of the CFTA, U.S. producers of oilseeds, durum wheat, barley, sugar, peanuts, feeder cattle and hogs have been ruthlessly victimized by the unfair provisions of (CFTA)," King said. "If that is what we got from CFTA, just what is in store for U.S. farmers in NAFTA?"

King said Thursday that the complex relationship between all ag products results in lower market prices for corn producers if other commodities are hurt.

"If the barley market is hurt, so goes other feed grains such as corn," King said.

Country-of-origin rules are much the same in NAFTA as in CFTA, but have apparently been ignored by the Canadians, King said. He pointed out one example: Canadian exports of peanut butter and peanut paste to the U.S. have increased 567% over the past three years, even though no peanuts are grown in Canada.

Other examples pointed to by King were prepared by Allen Richard, legislative representative of the National Farmers Union. Richard's report said:

--American imports of Canada's six major grains and oilseeds increased 38% from 1990 to 1991.

--The rate of growth of Canadian exports to the US grew faster than any of the other top 10 US trading partners.

--US imports of Canadian wheat increased by 76% after the implementation of CFTA.

--Imports of Canadian feeder cattle cut into Mexican market share and have cost US cattlemen $40 per head.

Wife jailed in murder

A 24-year-old Dimmitt woman remains in Castro County Jail in lieu of $150,000 bond, accused of murdering her common-law husband with a butcher knife early Saturday.

Martina Ramos was arrested at the murder scene, a house at 603 E. Dulin, about 1:30 a.m. Saturday. She was taken in for questioning by Dimmitt police, who filed murder charges against her after interrogation. She was arraigned Sunday by County Judge Polly Simpson, who set her bond.

Edward D. Gonzales, a lifelong Dimmitt resident, was killed by a butcher knife wound to his chest. The knife penetrated about five inches into his chest cavity, severing arteries. He was dead before he could receive care from emergency attendants.

Dimmitt police said officers first received a call on 9-1-1 at 1:10 a.m. Saturday, when a caller from the house said there was a fight. At 1:13 a.m., another person called, saying there had been a stabbing.

When officers arrived, Gonzales was lying on a love seat, already not breathing and unresponsive to attempts to revive him.

Police reports said the couple had been arguing throughout the day. The scene was in disarray when police arrived, with a window broken during the couple's fight.

The case will likely be considered by the Castro County Grand Jury this month.

CPS seeks help

Donations will benefit county's abused children

As the holiday season approaches, children across the world will begin dreaming of Christmas presents and holiday celebrations.

But for some children, a new pair of shoes or a couple of new outfits would be as welcome as a football, bicycle or doll.

Abused and neglected children in foster or group homes have needs most people take for granted.

Many of those children have no hope of returning to their original homes. They are under the care of the Castro County Child Protective Services and funds to satisfy these children's basic needs are limited. Buying Christmas gifts for the children puts a heavy financial burden on the organization which oversees their care.

That's why Child Protective Services is asking for help.

The board is launching a campaign to raise money for children receiving out-of-home services. During November, local banks will include in customers' bank statements a postcard asking for donations to be made to Child Protective Services. A self-addressed return envelope also will be included and donations should be made to Castro County Child Protective Board.

The board currently is overseeing care of 23 children, ranging in age from 1 to 17. Of those 23 children, 15 will probably remain in the county's care until they are 18 or adopted.

Randy Smithson, secretary-treasurer for Child Protective Services, said at Christmas the board generally will spend $100 on each child who is between junior high and high school age and will spend $50 on children under junior high school age.

But buying gifts for 23 children is expensive, especially when the group needs help with paying for the children's everyday needs.

NAFTA isn't too nifty

Here are some of the reasons Carl King gave to the U.S. House Ways and Means Committee for voting against the North American Free Trade Agreement:

- The president would lose the authority to limit farm commodity imports. King said the rule "is the cornerstone of America's ability to establish domestic farm policy."
- Lost market share of US corn sales. King told the committee the majority of US corn production goes to meat production.
- Lost consumer confidence in a safe food supply.
- Huge cuts in US production and sales of beet sugar and high fructose corn syrup.

4 in finals for chief

Four finalists were interviewed Monday by the Dimmitt City council for the vacant police chief's position.

A decision may be made during a special session Monday.

The finalists include acting chief Ray Aleman, fellow Dimmitt police officer Santos Perez Jr., Dwayne Haney and Mike Ahrens. Haney, a former Dimmitt patrolman who left here 12 years ago, has been an investigator for the Lubbock County District Attorney's office for seven years. Ahrens served over seven years as a detective for the Hereford Police Dept., and is now chief of the South Plains College Police Dept.

The council interviewed each man for about 45 minutes Monday night during an executive session that lasted over three hours.

On the Go

With Mary Edna Hendrix, 647-3343

Troy and Claudene Langford hosted a fish fry for the Plains Memorial Hospital staff and auxiliary on Tuesday at the hospital. They served catfish and crappie that they caught at Waurika, Okla. The hospital kitchen staff fried the fish and french fries, and others brought salads and desserts.

Katie Collins was honored with a surprise 85th birthday party on Oct. 23 at the Senior Citizens Center. This special occasion was hosted by her family: Mayor Wayne and Darlene Collins, Ted and Cherrie Collins, and James and Darene Collins. Katie has eight grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. A pretty birthday cake and punch were served to many friends and relatives. There were pictures from the early days displayed. A table was decorated with quilts that Katie had made and given to the family. Katie's sister and husband, Juanita and Harold Voss, flew in from Tennessee to join in all the fun.

My grandson's family, Neely, Adria, Matt and David, drove over from Amarillo on Monday and had lunch with me, then they took me to a ranch where Kevin is doing the finishing work on a house. We saw several deer and Kevin told us he has seen as many as 40 in the early morning. Neely and the children brought me back to Dimmitt where they toured the museum. The children are doing home schooling, so this was a field trip for them.

Irene Carpenter has returned from a wonderful visit with her daughter and family. Her first stop was with James and Joyce Autry in Rocky Ford, Colo., then they went to the Ponderosa Church Camp where the main building was donated by Jim and Ruth Allison of Hereford. There is a barbecue grill as big as an average-size room. Next, Joyce and her pastor's wife took 10 women to Colorado Springs for lunch. Then they went to McCook, Neb., to visit Steve and Lynette Sodom and children Brandon and Stephanie. They enjoyed watching Brandon play football.

While they were there, Greg and Lou Galligos from Denver and children Allen and Kristy came to Nebraska for all the fun with the family. Next, Irene, Joyce and a friend, Letha Blubaker, drove to Walsenburg, Colo., to visit former Dimmitt resident Serena Teague. Her daughter, Lavelle Mapes, came by and took them all to lunch. Serena sends greetings to all her Dimmitt friends. Then they went to Westcliffe to visit friends and enjoyed an evening meal and spent the night. Then, it was back to Rocky Ford where they visited with Kelly and Debbie Autry and children Trent, Kimbra and Whitney.

The Plains Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will have its annual Bazaar and turkey dinner on Nov. 12 at the Expo Building.

The Town and Country Extension Club met on Thursday morning with Ann Henderson presiding. Margaret Womack called the roll and each one answered with "where they get their strength," and some replied, "From God."

New officers were elected for 1994: Rose Acker, president; Ann Henderson, vice president; Rosetta Bellinghausen, secretary-treasurer; Margaret Womack, council delegate; and Mary Edna Hendrix, reporter. Marilyn Neal was in charge of the program and she discussed Cajun foods. Acker served lasagna, eggplant parmesan, and a tossed salad. Claudene Langford served cake, Halloween cookies and apple cider.

The First State Bank employees had fun on Friday. Everyone was dressed for Halloween: clowns, robbers, scarecrows, witches, and Prissy Boothe was dressed as an old woman (she had to take her mask off to get her work done). They were serving Halloween cookies, orange punch and popcorn. It was a good day to have indoor fun!

Rosetta Bellinghausen honored Rose Acker with a birthday luncheon on Friday in her home. She served croissants filled with tuna salad and cheese-stuffed celery; Vernice Green brought a Jello salad; and Mary Edna Hendrix brought almond tea. Rosetta served a birthday cake and coffee.

Catherine McFarland had made two dishes to bring from Amarillo, but since it was cold and snowing she was unable to come to Dimmitt. Others enjoying this special occasion were Ed and Betty Freeman, Deanne Clark, Clara Vick, Doris Flynt, Emily Ramey and William Bellinghausen.

Clara Vick recently returned from a visit to Italy, where she attended the annual reunion of former prisoners of war. Many of the persons at the reunion were kept at the Hereford POW Camp during World War II.

The 1993 reunion was Sept. 17-19 at Pesaro, on the Adriatic Sea coast. There were 166 persons there, the largest of all their reunions, since this was their 50th anniversary. There were several sons and daughters of POWs at the reunion.

A two-hour film was shown, covering the group of 44 Italians who returned to Texas in May for the dedication of the Landmark Distinction Medallion marker at the Hereford POW Camp's chapel. The film began with the group leaving Milan, Italy and arriving in New York. The group traveled to Florence, Ariz., where some were kept at a POW camp, and then went on to Amarillo.

The film shows the activities planned by the Castro County Historical Commission. It includes the dedication, activities at the museum including real cowboys, and the barbecue at the First United Methodist Church with James Dobbs and Marshall Young as chefs displaying the cooker.

Clara presented a 30-minute film including news clips from the Amarillo TV stations and from WFAA-TV in Dallas. The video was re-recorded at Channel 4 in Amarillo so the Italians could transfer it to their recording system.

Each year, some of the ex-prisoners send or bring to the museum some of their collectables from when they were POW's at the Hereford Camp. This year, Renato Pirovano presented a small airplane to Clara for the Castro County Museum. He constructed the airplane from tinplate that was used for POW meals. It is attached to a stand and is a beautiful gift for the Museum.

He also had some photos of local families with whom he worked.

Clara met Alessandra Visser, a young lady from Florence, who published a 58-page paperback book in 1992, The Chapel of POWs of Hereford. The Italians presented the museum with several copies.

Gen. Alessandro Brighenti of Bologna presented Clara with a continued report of his escapes from the camp. He enjoyed telling of his return to Texas and his appreciation of all the attention he received. He also gave the museum a folder marked "Censored" that contained three brief newspaper reports of his escapes and a pencil drawing of his face from the "Wanted" poster while he was at large. His good friend Alfredo Rizzon was the artist for the picture.

A 22-course banquet featured different kinds of fish. A large cake, decorated with "Hereford-1993" and Italian and American flags was served at the end.

Sunday morning's Mass honored the POW's who had died since the last reunion, with the laying of floral wreaths tied with ribbons of green, white and red.

Clara was a guest in the home of Piero Marzi in Castiglione, in the Tuscany area. His home is across the beach on the Ligurian Sea, and is perhaps one of the most beautiful areas of Italy. It's a coastal area with lots of fruit and fresh fish. Marzi toured with Clara, going to many scenic places along the 91 miles of coastline of the Isle of Elba.

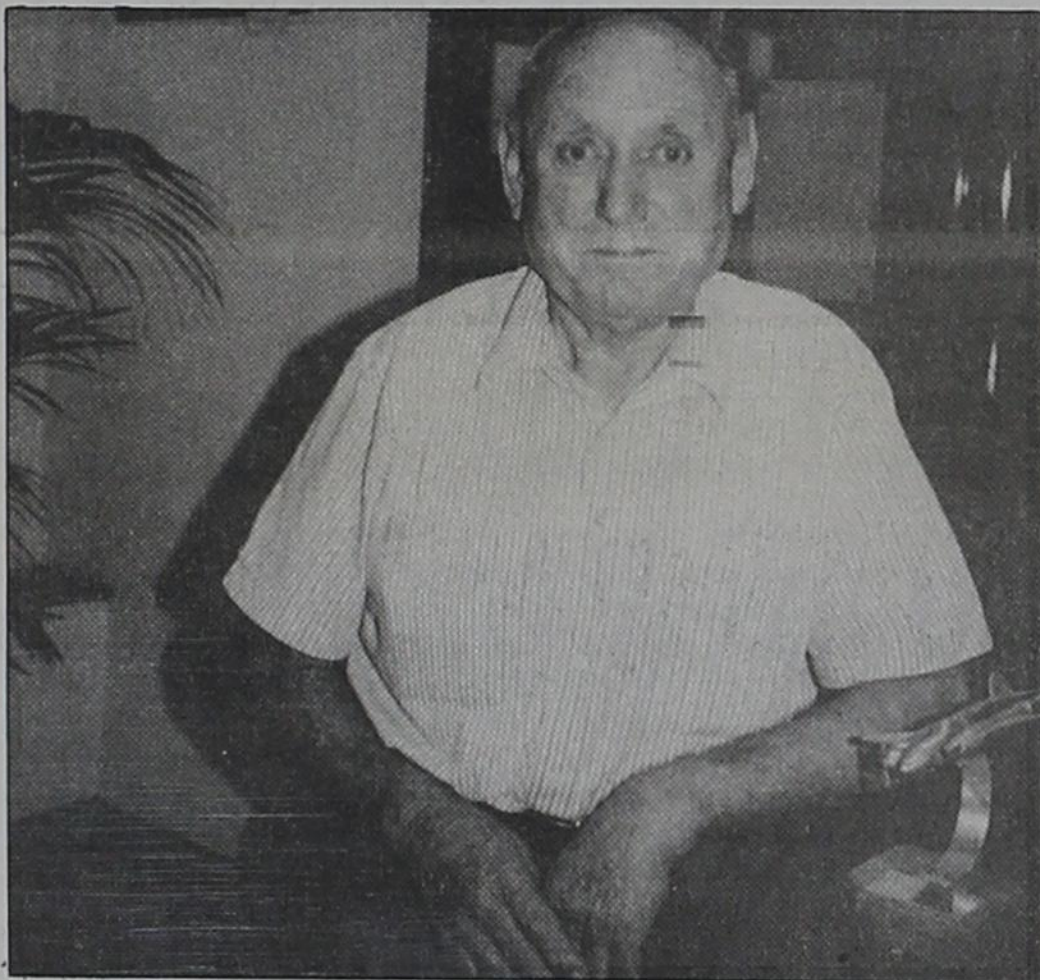

While in Arezzo, Clara was a guest of four Hereford POWs. Clara heard reports on the ancient history of Arezzo, and Clara and two others toured the beautiful town of Siena. While seeing the Tower of Mangia, they agreed to climb the bell tower. Clara did not understand it was 400 steps up a winding staircase, only wide enough for one person at a time. Sometime later, they arrived at the base of the bell tower, which meant another 15 steps up a ladder to the top of the tower. It was worth it, though, the view of Siena and the area.

They also toured Cortona, a city renowned for art and history. It's located atop a hill in the mountains. Another day friends took Clara to Assisi, where there were many tour buses from many countries. Every building was artistically decorated and designed, but the most elegant was the "Lower Church" building, characterized by the calligraphic decorations on the arches of the vaulted ceilings.

Clara was a guest of Oreste Giorgetti and his family, who live near Rome. Giorgetti was one of the ex-POWs who returned in May, and was one of the workers from the POW camp to work for eight months at the American Zinc Company foundry at Dumas. He gave Clara a report for the Museum. He took Clara to several sites in and around Rome she had never seen, including the American Military Cemetery. It is a beautifully-kept 77 acres, with all American soldiers who died in the Sicily and Rome areas buried there. Clara also found a complete list of all who died in the European Theater in both World Wars. Clara found the name of one of her cousins who died in Belgium and is buried in Luxembourg.

Clara visited in Pompeii with the families of Rosetta Bellinghausen and Rosa Acker. Gen. Franco Di Bello also sent his greetings to everyone, and many asked Clara to tell all their Texas friends hello. They all like the Castro County News, especially the May 6 edition with the Italian greeting and the Italian colors.

Babbling Brooks By John Brooks

As if there's not enough pressure on new Dimmitt boys' basketball coach Alan Steinkle:

We received the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches newsletter on Friday, and guess who they are picking to win this region in class 3A boys?

You guessed it. Dimmitt's picked.

Not so in girls, though: TABC is going with Muleshoe, followed by Canyon and the defending state champion Bobbies to make the trip from Lubbock to Austin.

I suppose we'll see in February, eh? I say bring those Mulettes on.

Since basketball season is still a couple of weeks away, we need to address the football season and clear up some things there.

First, I say good work to what Danny Chisum has done this year with the Dimmitt Bobcats. Yes, the record is not what you want it to be, but I believe there are positive strides being made with the DHS football program.

One of the biggest improvements in the program is Chisum's emphasis on academics. Most mornings before school, you will find him (or Steinkle) in the library providing tutorials to all students who need help. That's an important commitment: these men are teachers first, coaches second. It's rare when you find a coach who is a good teacher (or vice-versa), and we have a good 'un in Danny Chisum.

Coach Chisum has taken strides to make sure that the young people in the athletic program are remembering their first job at school is not athletics, but academics. He wants success in both arenas, and firmly believes we can be successful on the field, in the gym and in the classroom. He has told me repeatedly this year, and others in the school and administration have confirmed this, that you can be successful at both.

If we're not going to be successful in the classroom, we might as well check it in.

Now, if we could just get some really big linemen...

Just as there are socially-correct terms for all persons, there are socially-correct names for National Football League teams.

Socially-correct names would avoid all of the unfair inferences toward native Americans, animals, and anything or anyone else who might be involved.

Many of these are, of course, too involved, but that's how it is in the socially-correct world, or so the gals here at the office told me while fetching me coffee the other day.

A View From the Hill By Congressman BILL SARPALIUS

Cutting spending is probably the most important and most difficult job we in Congress have. I always have been in favor of cutting funding for frivolous projects, but deciding what is frivolous takes a lot of serious consideration.

Several aspects have to be considered, and hopefully, those doing the decision-making have educated themselves on each and every part of the project. President Bill Clinton has proposed more cuts in a $10 billion package of new spending cuts and other cost-saving initiatives. The "Government Reform and Savings Act of 1993" includes several proposals to provide the American people with a more effective, efficient and responsible government. I know this is something the people have been asking for for many years, and I believe this Congress intends to do something about it.

The legislation affects several federal agencies by consolidating and streamlining agency operations, eliminating unnecessary programs, ending unneeded subsidies and improving financial management and debt collection.

The largest cut would come by authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to reorganize the US Dept. of Agriculture (USDA) to better accomplish its mission.

The Secretary would be allowed to streamline the USDA's field structure. It's estimated that $1.64 billion in savings can be accomplished through this proposal.

I do want to take some time to study this issue thoroughly, to be ensured that this streamlining doesn't hurt farmers and ranchers in the 13th District. I also want to make sure agriculture doesn't end up taking more than its fair share of cuts.

Along the lines of eliminating what we don't need, the legislation would bring about a savings of $350 million by maximizing the efficiency of the Dept. of Defense's health care operations. The proposal would close the Dept. of Defense's Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences. This move is needed because qualified medical personnel can be obtained from non-Federal institutions at a much lower cost.

There also are plans to streamline and reorganize the US Army Corps of Engineers, streamline field operations of the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, and phase out the Bureau of Mines mineral institutes. These three steps alone would bring about a savings of $296 million.

The legislation also includes plans to eliminate duplication, something that happens too often in the federal government.

One section would consolidate the current polar-orbiting satellite programs operated by NASA and Dept. of Commerce and Dept. of Defense. That move alone could save $300 million. Another move to end duplication would be to consolidate two similar programs operated by the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development. Both of these programs provide rental assistance to needy individuals and families.

The proposals by the President also include ways to improve and strengthen collection programs. A savings of $961 million could be accomplished by improving the debt collection efforts of the Dept. of Justice. The plan also contains a series of measures to improve debt collection for several government agencies, among them, allowing the agencies to use private collection agencies.

There also are plans in the legislation for improving processing of Social Security Administration disability claims in an effort to ensure that benefits are not paid to individuals who are no longer disabled. That will bring about a savings of $485 million. Another $730 million could be saved by allowing competitive contracting for Medicare claims processing.

This legislation also provides for improvements to the federal helium program, improvements which will bring about a savings of $47 million. This, along with all other improvements in this legislation, is long overdue.

I commend the President for doing what he said he was going to do when he was on the campaign trail. Unfortunately, there is waste in government, and I am proud to be a part of the Congress that is working to reduce this waste.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

This is not an attempt to try any case in a newspaper, but I am not exactly uninformed about the legal system. I have over 50 years experience in the profession, dating back to 1940 when I worked after school and on Saturdays for the Lipscomb County Attorney. At least 25 of those years were working for county and district attorneys and judges. I still do legal work on a regular basis.

I have earned, by examination, several certificates which qualify me to perform any law office duties that support staff can legally do. The above resulted in my receiving an honorary Associates Degree. Through the years I've done most things at least once, including serving as bailiff on occasion.

I've taught undergraduate college law classes, and legal secretary courses across the state. I have been Texas Legal Secretary of the Year (1975), and was guest lay speaker for statewide Texas Bar Association-sponsored seminars. I have been a consultant and writer, and my cartoon book, The Case of the Courthouse Cuties, still appears in law office waiting rooms from California to Pennsylvania.

The point of all this being: I have a deal for Neoma Williams. If she will refrain from instructing me about the legal system, I will not tell her how to run her newspaper.

MILDRED SHEFFY

Dear Editor:

As we all know basketball season is upon us one more time. I am very excited about this season as I know all basketball coaches are. On the other hand I have great sadness in my heart about starting this season.

For 32 seasons, a great man graced the hardwood with pride and poise. This tremendous man was full of compassion, character, and he was the most humble man I have ever known. I always called him "Coach." I had too much respect for him to call him by his first name, even while working under him. I had the true privilege and opportunity to play for, coach against and coach under one of the greatest high school coaches of our time, Coach Kenneth Cleveland of Dimmitt High School.

This letter will not even begin to do this great man justice, but I would like to try anyway. Coach was my friend, mentor and someone I could always count on. Everyone who played for him, coached against him or just knew him as an acquaintance loved and respected him.

We lost Coach Cleveland to a tragedy last May, and it has been exceptionally hard on so many people because of the great impact he had on our lives. I miss him very much, but I carry so many warm memories of him with me everyday. Coach taught us so much more than just how to play basketball. He taught us about having pride, poise, love of life and to play to the best of our abilities. We loved him because he took great interest in all of us.

Coach, we miss you and we will never forget you!

Yours in basketball

Nazareth

By Uirgle Gerber, 945-2669

The annual Halloween carnival sponsored by the Band Mothers in the Nazareth Community Hall was well attended and enjoyed on Sunday evening.

There were many great costumes, entertaining games, a very good spookhouse and food concessions. Many thanks to those who worked many hours getting everything set up for a fun night.

Thanks to the Junior Catholic Daughters who distributed Halloween sacks full of goodies to the Nazareth Senior Citizens after school last week.

The Texas Red Ribbon campaign was observed last week in the Nazareth schools with several special activities. On Wednesday, a drug-free march was held and students in the kindergarten through fifth grade hung posters in local businesses.

Leonard and Rosemary Wilhelm, Father Stortz of Happy and Lucille Drerup drove to Canadian Sunday to attend the 85th birthday celebration for Msgr. Stanley Crocchiola in the Sacred Heart Parish Hall. A covered dish dinner followed a mass celebrated in Sacred Heart Catholic Church with Msgr. Stanley officiating. It was a beautiful drive to Canadian.

On the return trip they stopped in Amarillo to visit with Florene Brockman, who is a patient in St. Anthony's Hospital. She is doing better and should be home shortly.

A "50 days after 50" surprise birthday party for Evelyn Albracht was enjoyed by family and friends Saturday evening at the Albracht home.

Sunnyside

By Teeny Bowden, 647-5703

The cold weather has been the biggest news this week.

It seems to have affected almost everyone in one way or another.

On Friday the temperature reached 22 at 10 p.m. with a trace of snow. Since the trace of snow Friday froze in the rain gauge, I couldn't bring it in the house to let it thaw and measure it. I couldn't get it out of the bracket, either, but the snow level was .10 of an inch in the gauge.

Temperatures dropped to 22 degrees at 1 a.m. Saturday and had fallen to 18 degrees at 4:45 a.m.

At 7:15 a.m. Saturday more snow was falling and the temperature was 14 degrees up until 8 p.m.

22 degrees was recorded at 1 a.m. Sunday and that temperature had fallen to 20 by 4:30 a.m.

Rev. A.C. Hamilton filled the pulpit at both services Sunday. He is serving as interim pastor. Mrs. Hamilton accompanied him to Sunnyside.

The Hamiltons had lunch with Ezell and Verba Sadler.

Anthony Sisemore, pastor, is still stripping cotton in the Plainview area and he might finish in two weeks, weather permitting. He is not a bi-vocational pastor. He just took this job stripping cotton before he found out he had this chance to pastor a church. The church will allow him to finish the cotton stripping before he begins his service as pastor.

David Fletcher and his family will move from Jayton to Amarillo soon. He will pastor a church downtown which he says has the potential for great growth.

Lucille Drerup spent last weekend in Lubbock with John and Carol Gary and family.

Bud and Rita Kern recently enjoyed a trip to Lake Ozarks for Bud's ninth annual 28th General Hospital Army Reunion. This was the largest reunion they have had and the men really enjoyed visiting. The wives had been attending also, so they had fun and enjoyed the five days in beautiful Missouri.

After the reunion Bud and Rita drove to Memphis, Tenn., to visit their son and his wife and children, Francis and Nini Kern and family.

Francis is consultant engineer for Continental Eagle Cotton Gin Manufacturing Co. in Memphis. They have just completed building a huge cotton gin in Marked Tree, Ark. This is the largest completely electronic cotton gin in the United States at this time. They toured the building while they ginned local cotton. The trip was enjoyable and the fall colors were breathtaking.

Rosemary Wilhelm, Lucille Drerup, Ida Gibson and Julia Birkendelf enjoyed a day recently in Amarillo, visiting with friends Artie Huseman and Winifred Wagner who lived in Nazareth many years before moving to Amarillo to live close to members of their families.

Kim Drerup is a patient in Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt after having an emergency appendectomy on Saturday. We wish him well.

Jerry and Tricia Rose and children, Eric and Andrea; and Jerry's parents, Ed and Ruth Rose of Amarillo, enjoyed the Halloween carnival at the Community Hall on Sunday. Also attending the carnival were Kevin, Melinda and Miriah Gerber of Plainview, who enjoyed dressing in costumes for the carnival.

Linda Kendrick of Desoto is spending a few days with her parents, LeRoy and Dorothy Pohlmeier.

Cartwright is honored

Angela Cartwright has been honored as the Student of the Week in Mrs. Damron's fourth grade class at Dimmitt Middle School.

Cartwright is the daughter of Patti Cartwright and Jerry Cartwright. Her birthday was Oct. 15, and her wish is to be a writer.

She enjoys drawing, and her favorite thing about DMS is art day. She enjoys pizza, loves cats, and thinks Cassica is cool. Her favorite book is Boxcar Children.

ESL selects top posters

The English as a Second Language (ESL) classes from Dimmitt Middle School recently held a poster contest and each poster was decorated along the theme of Red Ribbon Week.

Winners in the ESL Class were: 1. Benjamin Fuentes, 2. Pedro Castaneda, 3. Victor Delgado, 4. Manuel Soto and 5. Javier Moran.

The Advanced ESL Class winners included: 1. Sandra Reyes, 2. Ariana Carpio and 3. Veronica Olmos.

Group to present ideas on education

Castro County Pro Family Forum will present a program on education issues at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Rhoads Memorial Library in Dimmitt.

Ritchie Tarbet, Nazareth science teacher and coach, will share viewpoints on outcome based education, education for self-responsibility and sex education, Texas Commission on children's ideas on parents as teachers, and President Clinton's education goals. Many of the issues were covered at the Eagle Forum Seminar which Tarbet attended on Saturday.

There is no charge for admission.

Chamber plans annual holiday event Nov. 18

Dimmitt's annual Christmas Open House and associated events will be held Nov. 18 from 6 to 9 p.m.

"Light Up the Holidays-Dimmitt Style" is this year's theme, with many Dimmitt businesses open to help holiday shoppers. Each store that is open and participating in the event will have an unadvertised mystery item on special during the three hour event.

Over 50 local buildings will be lighted, and Santa will make his first appearance at the gazebo.

The evening will include Christmas caroling, strolling minstrels; and drawings for special items. Merchants with candy canes in the windows will participate in weekly drawings for $50 in Dimmitt Dollars.

Plains Memorial
Antonio and Beatriz Arellano of Hart are the parents of a baby girl, Claudia Arellano, who was born at 4:13 a.m. last Wednesday, Oct. 27, at Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt. Paternal grandparents are Gabriel Arellano and Evangelina Arellano of Pomona, Calif. Maternal grandparents are Felimon Hernandez and Micaela Silva of Gabi-lan de Arriba, Jalisco, Mexico.

John and Debbie Wait are the parents of a daughter, Michelle Renee Wait, born Oct. 25. Born at 3:02 p.m., she weighed 6 lbs., 7 oz., and was 20 1/2 inches long.

She has three siblings: Poppie, 6, Edward, 4, and John III, 2. Her paternal grandparents are John and Doris Wait of Dimmitt, and her great-grandfather is Wesley Wait of Campo, Colo.

Christmas bazaar set in Canyon

A Christmas Delights bazaar will be held in Canyon Saturday, Nov. 13, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the all-purpose room at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

The bazaar is being sponsored by Heritage Woman's Club of Canyon.

Exhibitors from across the Panhandle will display their creations at the show.

A snack bar and bake sale will offer homemade food to freeze or eat on the spot.

David Christopher Butler and Patricia Eileen Kern

Kern to wed Butler

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kern of Nazareth announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Eileen Kern, to David Christopher Butler.

The couple plans to exchange wedding vows on Nov. 26.

The bride-elect is a 1979 graduate of Nazareth High School. She majored in pre-med biology at University of Dallas, then earned a bachelor of science degree from the University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas' physician assistant program. After graduating, she worked in Dallas as a family practice physician assistant from 1985 to 1993. She moved to San Antonio earlier this year and opened the Bandera Medical Clinic in Bandera where she is a physician's assistant.

The prospective groom is a Dallas native and graduated from North Garland High School. He is a veteran of the US Air Force and earned a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Texas at Dallas. He holds degrees in police science and psychology and served as a corporal in the Dallas County Police Dept. from 1983 to 1991. He is owner of Adrenaline Rush Adventures, a bungee-jumping company. He is an aircraft pilot and an emergency medical technician in the Bandera County EMS system.

Reception to honor Stevenses

A farewell reception for Joe and Wanda Stevens will be held Sunday, Nov. 14, from 2 to 3:30 p.m. in the Ettie McDermitt Conference Room at Plains Memorial Hospital.

Stevens, who has been the Plains Memorial Hospital administrator seven years, has accepted a similar position at Seminole.

Hospital employees and members of the Plains Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will host the reception.

Wedding shower honors Newmans

Michelle Newman was honored with a wedding shower Saturday in the home of A'llan Bradley in Dimmitt.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Bradley and were presented to the honoree and her mother, Debbie Schumacher, and Karen Newman, mother of the groom, Richard Newman.

The serving table was decorated with an autumn arrangement of leaves and pumpkins. Guests were served cinnamon rolls, sausage balls, fresh fruit, nuts, hot apple cider and coffee.

The 30 ladies assisting Mrs. Bradley with hostess duties presented Mrs. Newman with a vacuum cleaner.

Food show to feature 4-H'ers' best recipes

Tasty main dishes, fruits and vegetables, breads and cereals and nutritious snacks and desserts will be prepared by youngsters and presented to judges Sunday at the Castro County 4-H Food Show.

This year's show will be held at the Hart School.

4-H'ers are asked to be at the school by 1:30 and judging will begin at 2 p.m.

The public is invited to a tasting tea after the show.

4-H'ers will compete in one of four classifications including Clover Kids, Junior I, Junior II or Senior. The different categories are Main Dish, Fruits/Vegetables, Breads/Cereals and Nutritious Snacks/Desserts.

A special non-competitive category will be held for members who just want to display prepared dishes. These dishes will not be judged and the member will not present it to the judges. He or she will be recognized for participating.

Awards which will be presented are a "Rookie Award" to the top first-time boy and girl; "High Point Clover Kid," "High Point Junior I," "High Point Junior II" and "High Point Senior." 4-H'ers placing first and second will receive ribbons.

An overall high-point winner will be named, also.

4-H'ers interested in entering the food show must hand in materials at the Extension office by 12 noon Friday.

Rules, guidelines and entry forms may be obtained from a foods leader or the Extension office.

County winners in Junior I, II and Senior divisions will advance to the District Food Show, which will be held Nov. 20 at Levelland.

CPS seeks help . . .

"Most of our expense is on new families we take into care, because those children have nothing," Smithson said.

"When we remove children from homes, often they don't have anything, even clothing (other than what they are wearing). We just have to foot the bill on outfitting them with clothing and shoes," Smithson said.

A family of four children is currently staying in a foster home in Hale Center, and Smithson said the state is paying $1,900 per month for their care. But the county must pay any expenses that are not covered by that $1,900. And that's what happens in each individual case. State money goes only so far, and it's up to the county to pay for any children's needs which are not funded by the state.

Child Protective Services has an annual fund raiser to help pay these expenses and this year's event raised $900. Then Castro County Commissioners budgeted $1,500 (up from $1,000 in 1992-23) for Child Protective Services during Fiscal Year 1993-94.

The rest of the money needed must come from donations.

"We like to give foster parents cash and let them buy the children Christmas presents. They are closer to the children and know better than we do what each individual child wants or needs," Smithson said.

Castro County residents were generous in 1992, Smithson said, and several church and civic groups have sponsored a child or group of children. Those organizations send money to the children for extras like soft drinks, candy, gum, etc. The children also use that money to buy Christmas and birthday presents for siblings.

"Some of them send the children allowances at the beginning of each month. That helps teach those children responsibility. They have to learn to manage their money through the month."

Toni Waldo, president of Child Protective Services, explained how several of the children are living and what they need.

A 17-year-old girl is in a semi-independent living situation, sharing an apartment with another girl. The pair are supervised by a girls' home. She needs several household items to establish her home.

Six children are in foster care and are hoping to be adopted. Those children range in age from 2 to 15 and four belong to the same family.

An 11-year-old girl is receiving residential treatment to help her cope with the abuse she lived with for many years. "She is responding well and will possibly be moved to the home of a relative or into foster care," Waldo said.

Four siblings are living in a group children's home and two sisters have been placed with relatives.

The remaining nine children are living with relatives, "away from harmful situations, but still are being served by Child Protective Services. Two of these will be in the permanent care of the county if not adopted," said Waldo.

She said the board is hoping to raise enough money to assist in the children's care.

"Any size donation is appreciated and will be used to support the children of Castro County. The funds raised will not be used by the state agency or by other counties," Waldo stressed.

She listed several special needs some of the children have.

Bicycles in good condition are needed for four children living in a group home. Waldo said children in the home frequently ride bikes for an outing and these children would like to be included. The bicycles are needed for three girls, ages 15, 13 and 6; and for a 7-year-old boy.

Two of the children in relative care are receiving special counseling in Lubbock and Amarillo. Others require counseling on Tuesday evenings in Plainview, and assistance is needed to transport those children to their counseling sessions.

If you can help by providing transportation once a week, once every other week or twice a week, contact Donna Stump, Child Protective Services Specialist, at 647-4181.

And three children recently placed in care of the county need additional clothing.

Clothing is needed in girls' sizes 10-12, 8-9 and 7X Chubby. Age appropriate toys, books and board games also would be appreciated for the girls, who are 9, 6 and 5 years old.

Anyone who wishes to donate either clothing, toys, bicycles or money should contact Stump or mail to Castro County Child Protective Board, P.O. Box 517, Dimmitt, Texas 79027.

Dimmitt frills, chills Chieftains, 19-0

By JOHN BROOKS

Gee, the Dimmitt Bobcats looked good in those red pants after defeating the Friona Chieftains, 19-0, Friday at Bobcat Stadium.

The red pants were just one of many keys for the Bobcats' upset of the Chieftains. Friona, now 4-5 on the year and 1-3 in district, was knocked out of the running for the playoffs.

For Dimmitt, it was quite an upset. Friona had been pointing to this game for a year, since Dimmitt's drubbing of the Chieftains in 1991 and 1992.

But what do red pants have to do with anything on the football field?

RUMBLIN' DOWN THE FIELD--Dimmitt's Derrick Thomas (20) avoids a Friona tackler and gets a clearing block from a teammate on Friona defensive back Jay Belcher (13) during Friday's game at Bobcat Stadium. Thomas scored once and picked up 191 yards on 36 carries as the Bobcats shut out the Chieftains, 19-0.

DHS third at district cross-country

Dimmitt's girls finished third in the District 2-3A Cross-Country Meet held Saturday at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock.

Amy Ethridge won the individual district championship, finishing 11 seconds ahead of the field in 12:43.23. Summer McLean was the only other Dimmitt runner in the top 10, finishing ninth in 13:46.81.

Dimmitt was expected to qualify for the regional race, also scheduled for Lubbock, but fell a point short to Tulia, 52-53. Muleshoe won the district team title with 22 points; the Mulettes finished second through fifth and eighth to easily win the team title.

"Some of our girls ran well, and some didn't," said Dimmitt coach Richard Wood. "Maybe we'll have better results next year, because all of our runners are back and we have lots of young ones who are going to be very good."

Dimmitt ran away with the junior high division; in fact, the top three runners would have been in the Top 10 if they had been eligible to run in the varsity division. Shawna Kenworthy won the junior high division in 13:28.38.

Dimmitt's Ben Perez finished ninth overall in the boys' division, in 19:53.22.

Friona gained just two yards on its first drive, and the Bobcats lost four yards on their first three plays. A Tait Crow punt, though, was muffed by Friona and recovered by Jimmy Casas at the Dimmitt 45. Dimmitt marched methodically to the Friona two, where the drive was stopped on downs.

Dimmitt mixed in some old offensive tricks, with a Wing-T look and Stacy Musick (usually a guard) providing an escort for Derrick Thomas.

"We wanted to be a little more consistent in our blocking and it really paid off for us," Chisum said. "It allowed us to do some other things with our offense, having some success with Stacy leading the way for Derrick."

Cats, 'Winds meet in finale

Dimmitt travels to Floydada Friday for its final game of the 1993 football season.

With a win, the Bobcats could end the season in third in District 2-3A.

Floydada will feature a Wishbone offense and a tough defense.

"They're dangerous because they use a run-or-pass option that is very dangerous," said Dimmitt coach Danny Chisum.

Floydada is a 14-point favorite in the Harris Rating System.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

"I didn't know anything about (a box full of red women's underwear) before I opened the package," Dimmitt coach Danny Chisum said (with a straight face).

"I left the fieldhouse at 4 p.m. Friday and came back at 5:10 p.m. The other coaches said there was a box that had been delivered to the school on UPS. It had a UPS packing slip on it. The box was on my desk, but I didn't really think about it at the time because it was too close to the game and I had other things to worry about."

The box was taken to the training room where it sat for a while, then was opened by assistant coach Lanny Crow. Inside were about two dozen pair of red panties, one for each member of the Dimmitt football team. A letter questioning the masculinity of the Dimmitt team was also in the box.

"I told the kids I didn't know anything about the letter, and I didn't because I'm not into doing things like that," Chisum said. "I said it was up to themselves for motivation. I went in and told the kids I had nothing to do with it, and I told them they could handle it any way they wanted to."

The way they handled it (plus a Friona booster sign degrading the Bobcats that was destroyed in the wind before the game) was to shut down the Friona offense. Friona had only four plays during the game that gained more than 10 yards, and the Chieftains picked up only 75 yards of total offense.

Meanwhile, Dimmitt held onto the ball twice as long as Friona and picked up 252 yards.

"Our rushing game was great," Chisum said. "Very seldom do other teams stop us, because we stop ourselves. We stop ourselves on busted plays, busted blocks and penalties, and we avoided that most of the night Friday."

Dimmitt set itself up for an early fall with a mistake on calling the flip, giving Friona the ball and the wind in the first quarter. Friona, though, only took six snaps in the

ROUNDING THE BEND--Dimmitt quarterback Tait Crow (12) races past Friona defenders Luis Rodriguez (55) and Jason Medrano (50) on a 24-yard gain during the second quarter of the District 2-3A showdown Friday at Bobcat Stadium. Crow had dropped back as if to pass, then pulled the ball down and raced downfield to the Friona 32. The run helped set up a one-yard quarterback sneak six plays later that gave Dimmitt a 13-0 lead. Dimmitt won the game, 19-0.

Sudan hands Swifts first district loss

By SCOTT BROCKMAN
Nazareth matched up with Sudan in virtually every statistic except one Friday night, and it was the one that counted—the score. Sudan held Nazareth out of the end zone all night and claimed a 21-0 win and the District 2-A championship.

The Hornets improved to 7-2, 4-0 while Nazareth fell to 7-2, 3-1. Sudan racked up 203 yards of offense while the Swifts finished with 197. Sudan led in first downs, 15-13. Both teams punted once, had two penalties and lost two fumbles. But Sudan managed something the Swifts couldn't — the Hornets scored three touchdowns.

"We didn't play bad, we just made some mistakes and gave them some presents with our turnovers," said Nazareth Coach Rick Price. "The one element we lacked was scoring, and that's the object of the game. We just didn't do it. But we moved the ball well and I think our offense played well enough that we should have been able to score."

Running back Tim Williams was the key to Sudan's offensive attack. He rushed for 131 yards on 27 totes. He was a defensive leader as well, picking off two passes.

"Williams broke some tackles and there's no excuse for that. He hurt us some, but he didn't kill us. We just couldn't score when we had the chance."

Leading the way for the Swifts were quarterback Gaylon Schilling, who threw for 84 yards; and senior Morgan Heck, who gained 52 yards on 17 carries and recorded eight tackles.

Nazareth kicked off to Sudan first. The pooch kick was ignored by several Hornets, but Nazareth's Ron Backus was on the spot and recovered the ball on Sudan's 39-yard line.

The Swift offense took over and marched inside the 10-yard line before Sudan's defense held. Facing a fourth - and - nine play, the Swifts elected to kick a field goal, but Nick Johnson's attempted kick was blocked and Sudan took over.

The Hornets also had success moving the ball, driving deep into Swift territory. But that drive ended when Colby Pohlmeier stepped in front of a Sudan receiver and intercepted the pass.

The Swifts couldn't convert a third down play. They approached the line of scrimmage and set up to go for the first down, but then shifted into a punt formation. That's when tragedy struck. Jaret Schulte's snap sailed over Schilling's head and the Hornets took over on Nazareth's 28-yard line.

From there it was a short trip to the end zone for the Hornets.

PLUNGING FORWARD—Nazareth's Brad Keel (carrying ball) dives forward for an extra yard after he hauls in a pass from quarterback Gaylon Schilling during a District 2-A matchup at Sudan Friday night. Keel's reception moved the Swifts to the Sudan 27-yard line on their first offensive series. Nazareth worked its way inside the 10-yard line, but was pushed back and forced to attempt a field goal, which was blocked. Sudan went on to win the game, 21-0, and claimed the District 2-A championship.

Lady golfers fare well in area play days

Castro County lady golfers have competed at meets in Clovis, Hereford and Canyon recently, and several of the women placed.

On Aug. 11, Jo Beth Mays, Mozelle Hall, June Parker and Cyn-dy Reynolds competed in a play day at Clovis.

Parker earned a point in the season standings and Hall was Low Net in the Fifth Flight, finishing with an 82.

Hereford was the site for the next play day on Sept. 8. Three Dimmitt women including Patty Summers, Connie Gilbreath and Reynolds earned points in the meet.

Summers fired a 99 to win Low Gross in the Third Flight. Gilbreath's 75 was good for Low Net in the Third Flight.

Reynolds finished with Low Putts in the Fifth Flight, finishing with 35 putts.

The year's competition ended with a tournament at the Canyon Country Club and Summers, Hall, Reynolds, Gilbreath, Trenea Matthews and Audrey Shottenkirk competed.

Hall earned two points and Matthews finished Low Net of the Field with a 69 and Low Gross in the First Flight with 99.

The lady golfers from Hereford won the Team Traveling Trophy in High Plains Ladies Golf Association and Dimmitt finished fourth.

After Nazareth punted on its next possession, Sudan set its offense up on its own 36-yard line. But on the first snap the Hornets lost control of the ball and Jon Johnson recovered it for the Swifts.

Sudan's defense forced Nazareth into another fourth-down situation, but this time the Swifts went for it. Schilling's pass intended for Scott Brockman was picked off by Sudan and that turnover later resulted in another 7 points for the Hornets.

Sudan drove from its own 28 to the Nazareth 23. Then McAdams dropped back and found Jerald Weaver alone in the end zone. Williams' extra point was good for a 14-0 lead with 1:42 left in the half.

The Swifts were plagued by bad breaks in the second half, too. Nazareth was set to receive the second-half kickoff, but the ball scooted through Brad Keel's arms and Sudan recovered.

Sudan started driving toward the goal line, again, but this drive ended when Bryan Charanza snagged an interception for the Swifts.

Nazareth put together a long, time-consuming drive, traveling 63 yards to Sudan's 39-yard line. They converted a fourth - and - one play during the drive. Then Keel hauled in a 24-yard pass from Schilling, giving the Swifts a first down after being forced into a third-and-24 situation.

Nazareth's offense stalled after that and Schilling tried to go to Keel on a third-and-nine play, but Williams stepped in front of the receiver, picked off the pass and returned it to Nazareth's 31.

That set up the final Sudan touchdown.

With 9:22 left in the fourth quarter, Chad King plunged into the end zone from four yards out. After Williams booted the PAT, Sudan was in command, 21-0.

On Nazareth's next play from the line of scrimmage, Williams recorded his second interception.

Sudan couldn't move the ball and was forced to punt.

The Swifts didn't have better luck, either. On a fourth-down play the Swifts came to the line and again shifted back. This time the ball was snapped to the upback, Nick Johnson, who rolled to his right and passed, but the attempt was picked off by Weaver.

Records: Nazareth 7-2, 3-1; Sudan 7-2, 4-0

McAdams then fumbled and Heck recovered on the Nazareth 25. The Swifts moved the chains to midfield on a 25-yard pass from Schilling to Brockman. But the drive stalled after that and Sudan took over and ran out the clock.

"Sudan is a good team. Our goal was to hold them to 21 or less points and we did that," said Price. "We just have to forget about this loss and concentrate on the next game. We have to approach it as a playoff game."

Hart, Naz runners headed to regional

The Region 1-A cross country meet will be flooded with county runners this year.

The Hart Lady Horns and Nazareth Swiftettes advanced teams to regional while one boy runner from Hart and another from Nazareth will compete.

The Region 1-A meet will be held Saturday at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock. The girls' race will begin at 8:30 a.m. while the boys will run at 8 a.m.

Nazareth's girls advanced to regional with a first-place finish in District. Team members are Carie Wethington, Misti Ball, Denia Durbin, Kristin Brockman, Kelly Jones, Margie Durbin and Lena Durbin.

The Hart girls finished second behind Sudan in their district meet. The Lady Horns compiled 66 points, compared with Sudan's 51.

Hart girls placing included 4. Tylene Garcia, 13:20; 7. Christina Robledo, 13:32; 17. Shae Bennett, 14:08; 18. Sandra Lopez, 14:11; 20. Traci Knox, 14:16; 40. Bonnie Reyna, 14:55; and 46. Brandi Key, 15:10.

Casey Hoelting of Nazareth and Mario Guzman of Hart will compete in the regional race after placing among the top five individuals in their respective district races. Hoelting finished second in his race while Guzman finished fifth with a time of 18:23.

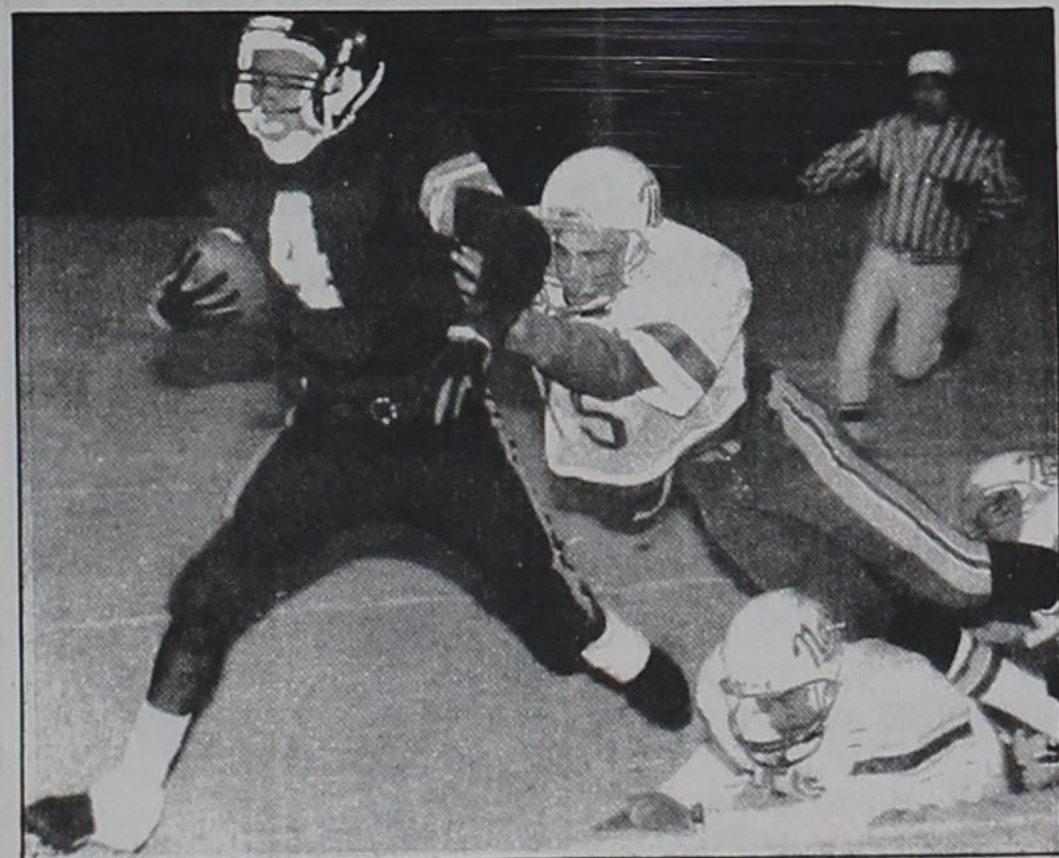

The Longhorns finished third as a team and were paced by Guzman. Others running were Erasmo Castillo, eighth, 19:28; Harvey Robledo, 10th, 19:58; Jaime Rodriguez, 12th, 20:10; Barry Washington, 17th, 22:08; JR Lee, 20th, 24:15; and Raynea Garcia, 21st, 25:18.

First scrimmages are set Tuesday

Basketball season is almost upon us and that means county teams are preparing for the first scrimmages of the season.

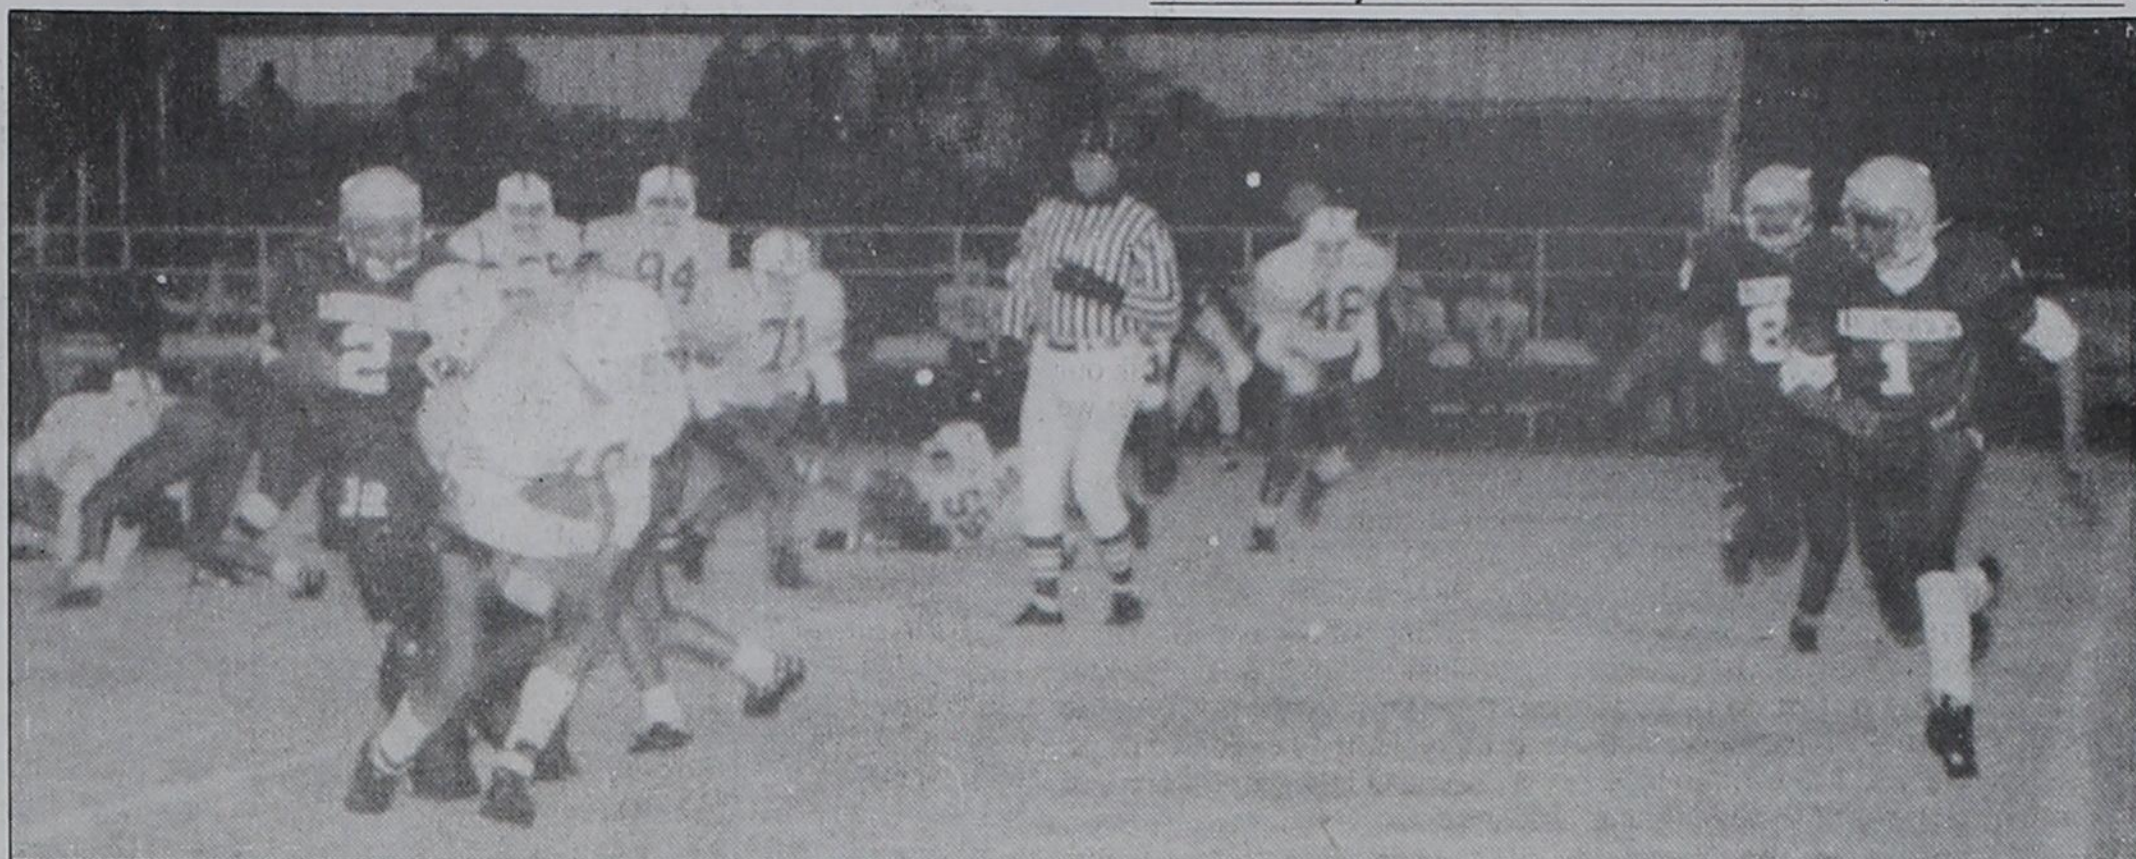

The Dimmitt Bobbies and Nazareth Swiftettes will travel to Levelland Tuesday where they will scrimmage each other and the Lady Lobos in an annual matchup. The first quarter is slated to begin at 5 p.m. at Levelland High School.

Hart's Lady Horns will host Muleshoe Tuesday night with the junior varsity scrimmaging at 5 p.m. and the varsity tipping off at 6:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, the Bobcats will scrimmage Tascosa and Borger in Amarillo (at Tascosa High School) beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Then on Nov. 13, the Swiftettes and Lady Horns will meet Littlefield in Hart for a three-team scrimmage—unless the Nazareth and Hart girls are running at the state cross country meet.

The Bobcats will play their second scrimmage on Nov. 13 in Levelland, against the Lobos and Amarillo High beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Horns rebound with 42-0 win

Hart got back on track for the state Class A playoffs Friday with a 42-0 win over the Farwell Steers.

The Longhorn defense rebounded from the 67-0 loss to Sudan the week before, playing defense like it has all year. The Steers picked up just 38 yards, including 35 on the ground.

Through the air, Aven was three-for-seven with a touchdown, and no interceptions. Jeremy Card led the way with one catch for a 79-yard touchdown. Lee had one catch for 11 yards, and Washington caught a six-yard pass.

Hart ahead 13-0 with 3:33 to go in the opening period.

After forcing another punt attempt, Hart had just 23 yards to cover in four plays before Aven found the end zone on a 10-yard run. A two-point run by Salas gave the 'Horns a 21-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

- Third quarter:
Hart--Jeremy Card 79 pass from Aven (Garcia kick)
Hart--Manuel Minjarez 32 fumble return (J.R. Lee kick)

In the third quarter, Aven hooked up with Card for the 79-yard touchdown, and Garcia's PAT gave Hart a 35-0 lead with 6:45 left.

Farwell fumbled on its next possession. Minjarez scooped up the loose ball and rambled 32 yards, and Lee added the PAT to give Hart its 42-0 win.

The victory leaves Hart 8-1 on the year and 3-1 in district. Friday, it's do-or-die time for the 'Horns as they face Nazareth for a playoff berth.

25-SECOND CLOCK DEBUTS AT BOBCAT STADIUM--A new feature was added to Bobcat Stadium recently, and made its debut at Friday's Friona-Dimmitt game: a 25-second clock. The clock, which can be set for various times, is being purchased through private donations with no expense to the Dimmitt Independent School District. The clock can record any interval of 99 seconds or less, and can record time counting up or down.

JV defeats Tulia, 12-6

Dimmitt's junior varsity controlled the line of scrimmage both ways and capitalized on two touchdown runs by Dagon Newton to pick up a 12-6 win over the Tulia JV Thursday at Nazareth.

"It was an absolutely great performance," said Coach Lanny Crow. "We are very proud of the blocking and the hard running. This is probably the best this group has played, and it was in an extremely physical game."

Dimmitt opened the scoring in the second quarter when Newton scored from a yard out. The PAT kick failed, leaving Dimmitt up 6-0 at halftime.

After Tulia came back to tie the game in the third period, Newton scored in the fourth quarter on a three-yard run. The two-point conversion try failed, but Dimmitt held off the Hornets for the win.

"Defensively, several people played very well," said Coach Gus Ortiz. "The tackles and nose guards had 20 tackles, caught the ball carrier behind the line six times, and recovered a fumble. The defensive ends had eight tackles, caught them behind the line seven times, and caused four fumbles."

"The linebackers had 13 tackles, caught them behind the line five times, and caused a fumble. The secondary had 13 tackles, caught them behind the line four times, had two interceptions and recovered a fumble."

Fermin Sanchez led in tackles with 10, and Drew Musick and Tucker Schumacher each had seven tackles. Will Sanders had 5 tackles.

On offense, Newton had 22 rushes for 69 yards, and Toby Crow had eight rushes for 44 yards. Quarterback Joey Martinez completed three of seven passes for 24 yards.

Hart's defense was led by lineman Manuel Minjarez, who recorded 8 1/2 tackles, a sack, and a 32-yard fumble return for a touchdown. Also making big plays were linebacker Harvey Robledo, with 7 1/2 tackles and a sack; defensive end Cesar Salas, with seven tackles and three sacks; defensive lineman Fernando Urbina, with seven tackles; linebacker Clint Emery, five tackles; and defensive back Jeremy Card, who blocked two punts to put the game away.

The defense was not on the field much, though, since the offense rolled up 311 yards, including 215 on the ground and 96 through the air. The Longhorns were led by Duke Chavers with 95

7th graders wax Friona

Dimmitt's seventh grade football team is now 8-0 after a 44-0 drubbing of Friona Thursday at Bobcat Stadium.

The team will go for a perfect season at Floydada today. DMS beat Floydada in the teams' first meeting in September.

The Bobcats picked up 302 yards on the ground and passed for another 78 yards.

"It was a great team effort," said Coach Ty Johnson. "Everyone played well."

Dimmitt was led by Jerry Thomas, who scored two touchdowns and two two-point conversions while gaining 158 yards. Beau Hill scored two touchdowns and a two-point PAT, picking up 114 yards.

Derrick Buckley threw for a touchdown, ran for a PAT and threw for another two-point conversion, while Rey Oliviero ran for a touchdown and picked up 64 yards. Stacey Villanueva scored the final touchdown for Dimmitt and picked up 44 yards for DMS.

More about

Thomas ended up with 36 carries for 191 yards and a touchdown. Most of his yardage came on sweeps to either side, with Musick leading the way from the backfield on many plays. Other times, the Bobcats ran from a one-back set, and Thomas cut back across the grain to pick up yards.

Regular fullback Joe Juarez carried the ball just three times, but the biggest was a 10-yard gain from the Friona 28 to sustain the drive.

Dimmitt moved to the Friona two, but Thomas (twice) and Crow were denied by the Chieftains and turned the ball over on downs.

On first down, Friona quarterback Blair Burney was ruled to have muffed the snap. Even though the ball was recovered by the Bobcats in the end zone, the ball was moved to the one because of the muff ruling. It made little difference: on first down, Crow kept the ball and ran through the left side of the line. Phil Thrasher's PAT kick gave Dimmitt a 7-0 lead with six seconds left in the first quarter.

Dimmitt forced Friona to punt, and the kick into the wind went just 25 yards. Dimmitt moved from its own 49 to the end zone in 10 plays, with Crow gaining the final yard with 6:31 to play in the half. Crow had put the Bobcats in scoring position with a 24-yard run, rolling out and faking a pass, then pulling the ball down and rambling to the Friona 32.

Two plays later, Thomas went 24 yards for an apparent touchdown on a pitch sweep, but a block below the waist negated the score. On the next play, from the Friona 27, Thomas raced 23 yards to the Chieftain 4. Crow's sneak three plays later gave Dimmitt its 13-0 halftime lead.

Dimmitt should have led by more, after recovering a Friona fumble two plays after the kickoff. The Bobcats moved from the Friona 26, converting a fourth-and-two at the 18 with a 14-yard run by Thomas. A holding penalty negated one touchdown, and a Thrasher field goal attempt was blocked.

In the third quarter, Friona ran 17 plays; the Chieftains had just 16 snaps in the first half (including punts). The results, though, weren't a lot better, as the Chieftains turned the ball over on downs at the Dimmitt 35 when Thomas sacked quarterback Jay Belcher for a four-yard loss on fourth-and-five. Later, a Burney pass was picked off by Raymond Limas at the Dimmitt 24 to stop another threat.

Dimmitt responded after Limas's pick, with Thomas ripping off a 47-yard-run to the Chieftain 26, but the Bobcats fumbled two plays later.

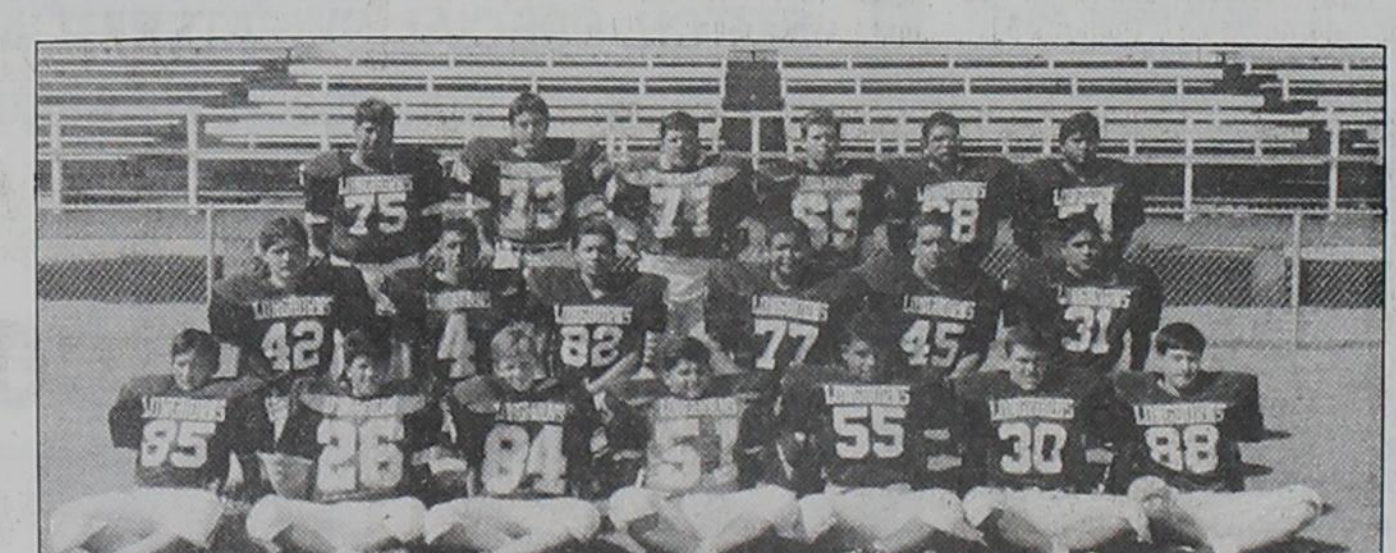

The teams traded punts before Limas again intercepted Burney. Dimmitt pinned the Chieftains in their own end with a 35-yard punt by Crow, and ended Friona's chances when Justin Stroud sacked Burney for an eight-yard loss on fourth-and-20 at the Friona 24.

Dimmitt took seven plays to go 16 yards, with Thomas carrying the ball the final yard over right guard for the final six points.

On the ensuing kickoff, Friona's Juan Gamboa was turned around by Juarez, who jarred the ball loose and recovered the fumble at the Friona 34.

MINDING YOUR OWN BUSINESS

By DON TAYLOR

It Pays to Advertise

I built a better mouse trap.
It was a sight to see.
Because it was so clever,
I knew the world would come to me.

My trap had bells and whistles and benefits galore, so I waited with anticipation for the world to find my door.

But the path was never beaten, the buyers never came.
They knew not about my mouse trap and they'd never heard my name.

They knew not of its cleverness,
its benefits and price.
Nor of the iron-clad guarantee to rid their house of mice.

You must take your better mouse trap, to markets grand and glowing,
with fireworks and fanfare and many trumpets blowing.

For no one will buy your mouse trap unless they know about it.
You must advertise and merchandise and then you'd better shout it.

Do not rest upon your laurels is what I would advise,
if you want to sell some mouse traps,
it pays to advertise.

I know Whitman and Frost have nothing to worry about. Though I was tempted to emulate Charles Osgood and write the entire column as a poem, better judgment won out.

However, I hope the poem got your attention and made this point: Promotion is important. Whether you are selling a better mousetrap or the same old widget as last year, you have to let the whole world know.

Effective advertising should be believable and point out real benefits.

You should follow proven guidelines to increase your advertising effectiveness.

Advertising tips

--Use a simple, uncluttered layout.

A print advertisement should include a lot of white space. Limit the number of items in any ad to increase the visual impact.
Simple ads with photographs or art work are more appealing than straight copy.
Photographs increase recall by 26% over art work, according to research. A common error is to overcrowd an ad with too many items. Stick with one dominant element to attract attention.

--Use a "grabber" headline. Studies show that 80% of those reading ads never go beyond the headline. Therefore, your headline must draw your reader into the body of the ad. Your headline must deliver a benefit, or promise a reward for wading through the rest of the copy.
Make the most of your headline; it is the only chance you get to snag a reader.

--Deliver the goods in your copy.
Effective copy will expand on the headline and point out specific benefits.
Don't mention the price without pointing out the savings and value. Remember that the readers of your ad don't buy products for the product, they buy for the benefits they will receive. Pointing out the benefits will help your readers understand what's in your offer for them.

--Ask for Action. An effective ad will inspire the reader to take action. As in all selling, it pays to ask for the order.
Make it easy for your customers to respond. Every ad should include your business name, address and phone number. Use your logo in every ad and remember to include the hours you are open for business.

Schilling's creation is recognized

Kyle Schilling of Dimmitt earned $50 from Progressive Farmer after a "hitch holder" he invented was selected as one of the magazine's featured "Handy Devices" during October.

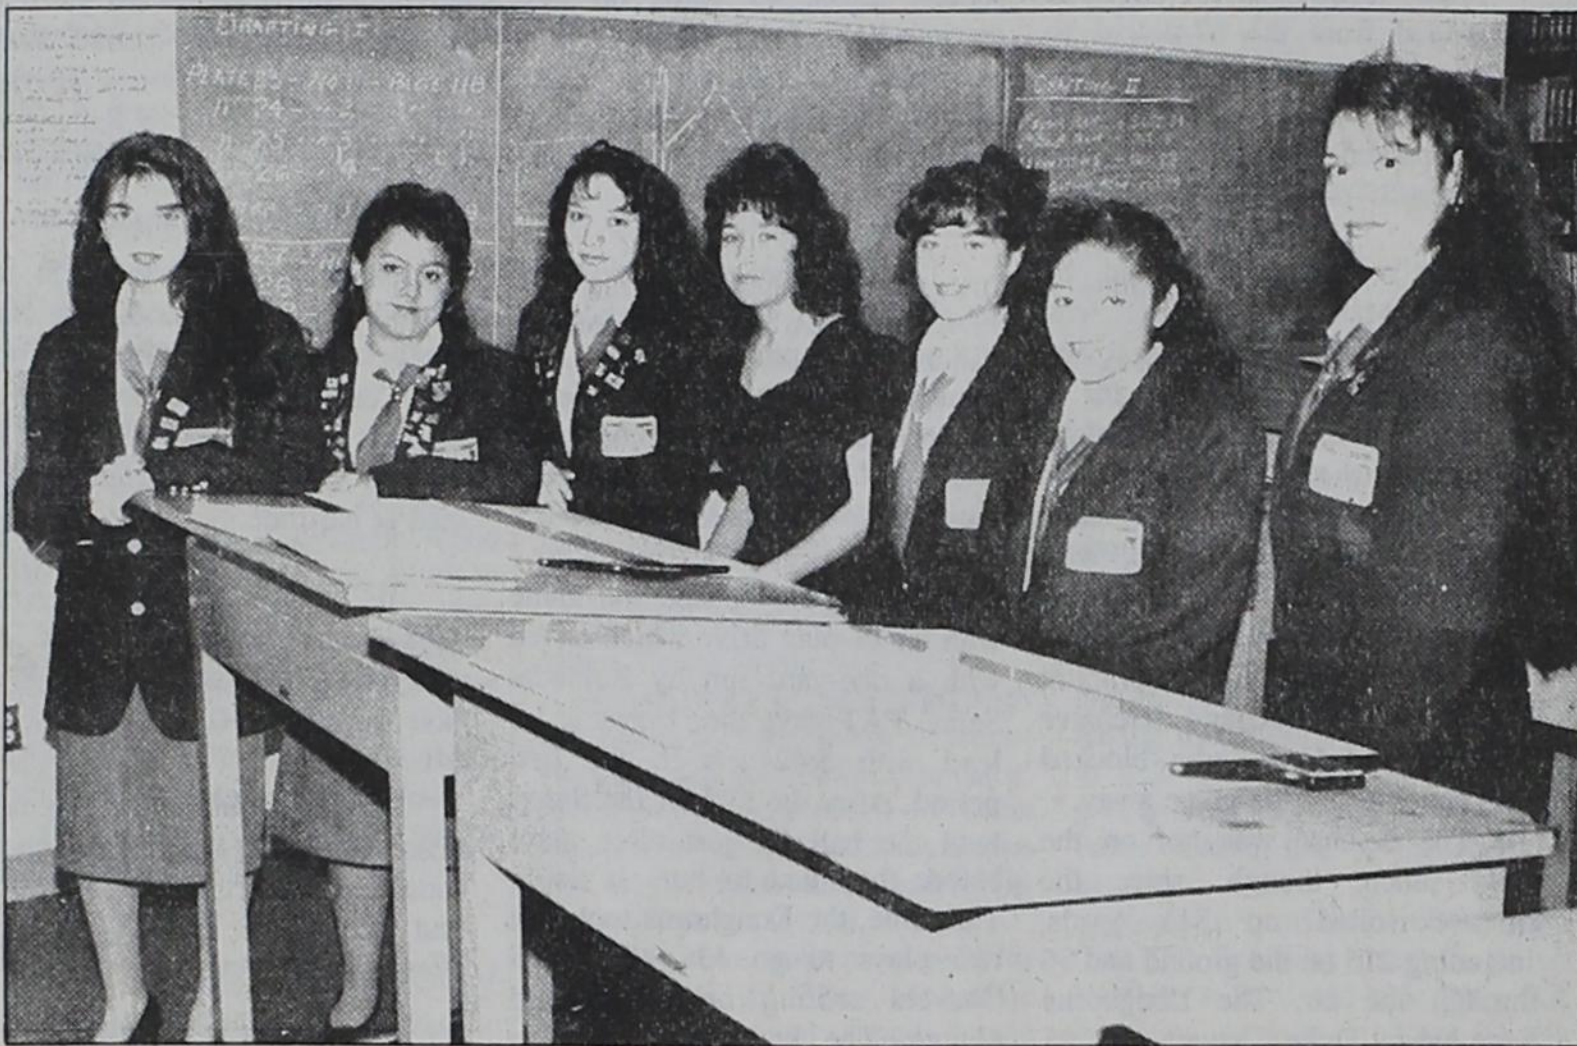

Schilling built a quick-hitch stand to eliminate the need to lift his heavy quick hitch when unhooking it from the tractor.

The stand was constructed from scrap two-inch pipe and rod-weeder bar. Schilling put steel wheels on the bottom so the stand can be stored out of the way.

Schilling welded two trays inside the stand to hold hitch pins.

When he needs to rehook the hitch, he can roll the stand right up to his tractor's 3-point, according to information in Progressive Farmer.

Schilling's mention in the magazine drew the attention of Carter Townsend's parents in Madison, Miss., Otis and Jimmie Townsend, who called and asked Carter if he knew Schilling. It also was noticed by several local residents.

OFFICERS LEAD TSA--New officers have been elected for the Dimmitt chapter of the Technology Student Association. Chapter officers conducted a seminar at the regional Leadership Conference held Oct. 28 at South Plains College. The local team has qualified for state and national competition the past

Technology students attend regional meet

Dimmitt High School students attended the Technology Student Association's annual Leadership conference on Oct. 23 in Levelland at South Plains College.

The students attended sessions on stress management, rules changes for 1994, "First Impressions," "Communication Combat," careers and opportunities in drafting and design, personal effectiveness, and took a bronze-level examination over the history and function of TSA.

The Dimmitt Chapter Conducting Team also conducted a session. Local chapter officers include Amy Chambless, president; Crystal Rodriguez, vice president; Marta Arredondo, secretary; Sonia Cardona, treasurer; Susie Ramirez, reporter, and Alma Moctezuma, sergeant-at-arms.

The team performed parliamentary procedure to show how they were able to qualify for state and national competition the past four years.

Others from DHS attending the conference were Geraldo Barrios, Dennis Chambless, Denicia Barrios, Erika Flores, Claudia Dominguez, Tony Gonzales, Ubaldo Rodriguez, Omar Rascon, Ruth Torres, Naomi Torres, Stephen Villanueva, Rachel Perez, Meredith Morgan and Mark Lumbrera.

Irrigation conference is planned

A general session on 1992 energy regulations and how the new rules will affect irrigation will lead off the opening program at the Texas Agricultural Irrigation conference, scheduled Jan. 10 and 11 in Amarillo.

Concurrent programs in agribusiness marketing strategies and chemigation complete the morning program.

The two-day program is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The workshops qualify participants for continuing education credits (CEUs) throughout the program.

Bob Givens, a farm show broadcaster from KGNC Radio in Amarillo will open his noonday ag program microphone to a panel of industry and agribusiness experts for a discussion of critical issues impacting irrigated agriculture.

Dealers and producers will reconvene Monday afternoon for sessions on topics ranging from worker's compensation, Equal Employment Opportunities Commission (EEOC) guidelines to a final wrap-up program on chemigation.

Texas Agricultural Irrigation Association's annual membership meeting will begin at 4 p.m. with events slated throughout the evening on Jan. 10. Cowboy poet and humorist, Buck Ramsey, will be the featured entertainment at the evening banquet.

On Tuesday, Jan. 11, a program on agricultural commodities will highlight the agenda, with morning sessions devoted to peanuts, corn and sugar beets. In the afternoon, the focus will shift to wheat and grain sorghum production, and cotton.

A large trade show featuring national and local vendors, will offer new innovations in equipment and service and is slated to run during both days of the convention.

Cotton Talks

Harvest of the 1993 High Plains cotton crop is estimated to be approximately 50% complete, according to Dr. Kater Hake, Extension cotton specialist in Lubbock.

Hake believes harvest is 60 to 70% completed in areas south of Lubbock and is only 30% complete north of Lubbock.

The area's cotton was ready for the first general freeze this week. Several light frosts and dry conditions have prepared the remainder of the crop and Hake said freezing temperatures helped knock the rest of the leaves off those plants.

Crop quality is good so far. Through Oct. 28, the Lubbock and Lamesa classing offices classed 676,278 bales. The Lubbock office has a carryover of 100,900 samples while Lamesa has 31,807 samples waiting to be classed. Average quality at both offices is color grade 21 and leaf grade 3.

Calculations tracking the development of the 1993 Upland Cotton Deficiency Payment show the payment rate is staying at 19.6 cents through August, according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Average price and total monthly marketings stayed relatively stable from July to August, causing only a negligible change in the projected deficiency payment from July's 19.59-cent level.

The maximum deficiency payment allowed under the current farm bill is 20.55 cents per pound, or the difference between the upland cotton target price of 72.9 cents per pound and the current 52.35-cent upland cotton loan rate.

Cumulative marketings are running significantly behind last year's totals. Through August 1993, only 5.96 million bales have been marketed, compared with the 7.144 million bales marketed in the first eight months of 1992.

PCG notes that 1993 marketings seem to be following in the footsteps of the 1992 crop in one way—a one-month delay of the usual upswing in marketings.

Historically, an increase in marketings occurs as the new crop starts coming off the stalk and moving into trade channels in August.

"A clear view of this year's deficiency payment isn't available yet," said Donald Johnson, PCG executive vice president. "If marketings and price follow historical patterns, then it is possible that we could see a final deficiency payment of 20.55 cents."

He adds that the calculated payment rate should stay fairly constant through the remainder of 1993.

The only way to get a significant decrease in the calculated deficiency payment is for marketings to go through the roof and for the price to follow, increasing the weighted average farm price.

KILLOUGH HONORED FOR WORK--Dimmitt Mayor Wayne Collins, right, presented a certificate of appreciation to director of Public Works James Killough at Monday's meeting of the Dimmitt City Council. Killough was praised for his work in keeping Dimmitt's utility rates low; work with the Texas Water Commission; special purchases that have saved thousands of dollars; his service as Dimmitt's building inspector and fire marshal; and his work with Castro County EMS and other volunteer work in the community. Photo by John Brooks

Pesticide certification course is planned

A recertification course for Texas pesticide applicators will be held Monday, Dec. 6, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Castro County Farm Bureau Office in Dimmitt.

To register for the course, call the Farm Bureau office at 647-5106. Seating is limited to 15-20 people and will be reserved on a "first-come" basis. Deadline to register will be Nov. 23.

There will not be a lunch break and lunch will not be served. Those attending are asked to bring their own lunch.

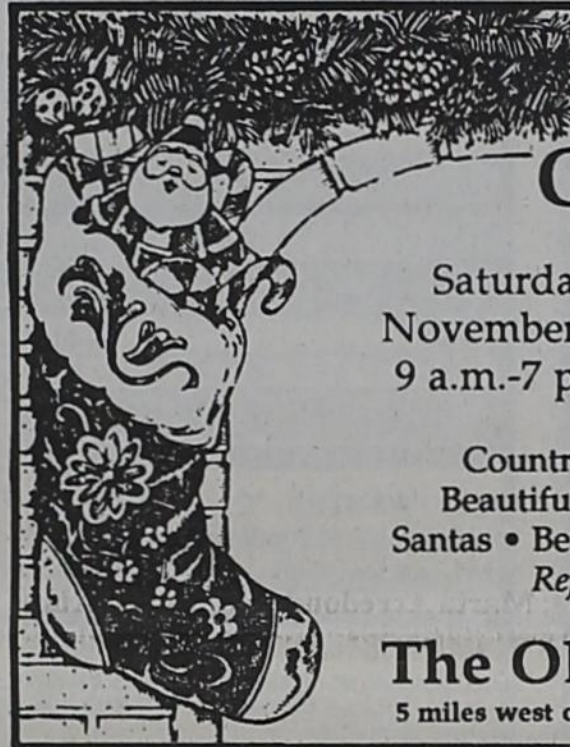

The course is for private, commercial and non-commercial pesticide applicators licensed or certified through the Texas Dept. of Agriculture.

Five continuing education units (CEUs) will be awarded to participants at receiving sites for the satellite broadcast.

To renew a license or certificate, most applicators must obtain 15 CEUs by the end of 1995. This course will count toward CEU requirements for all licensees and "grandfathered" private certificate holders.

The course will include one CEU in Integrated Pest Management (IPM) and two CEUs in laws and regulations.

Sponsors for the course are Texas Farm Bureau, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System and Texas Dept. of Agriculture.

ASCS News

By SCOTTY ABBOTT
County Executive Director,
ASCS

Pending legislation (HR 3171) will establish a Farm Service Agency (FSA) through co-location of ASCS, Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC) and programs administered by Farmers Home Administration except for the rural development program.

The FSA will carry out programs related to:

- Price and income support and other related programs.
- Supervision of FCIC.
- Agricultural credit programs formerly assigned to FmHA, and other lending programs for persons engaged in the production of agriculture.

Not included in the function of the FSA are conservation programs which are to be assigned to the Natural Resources Conservation Service. ACP approval authority will be taken away from a producer-elected county committee.

In each county or area the secretary of agriculture may establish a county or area committee in which the activities of the FSA are carried out. The committee will consist of five members who are fairly representative of the farmers in the county or area. Three of the members shall be elected by the farmers in the county or area under such procedures as the Secretary may prescribe. Two members shall be appointed by the Secretary. The members shall serve for terms not to exceed three years.

Disaster Insurance Requirements

To be eligible for 1993 disaster benefits, you should purchase 1994 crop insurance if the 1993 loss for the commodity for which payments are being sought is greater than 65% of the expected production.

Insurance that is purchased to meet multiple-peril crop insurance requirements can be cancelled if it is later determined that crop insurance is not required. You cannot avoid the crop insurance requirement by delaying the filing of a request for disaster benefits until after the crop insurance closing dates.

For 1993 quality losses, you may be eligible for a greater quality loss depending on the price you received for your crop. When you bring in your production, it needs to include the grading factors per load, the date you sold it, and the price received. It will be compared to the posted county price for the date you sold it.

1993 Grain Loans
When making application for a 1993 grain loan, you must do the following:

1. Get a warehouse receipt from the storing warehouse.
2. Provide proof that storage has been paid for nine months from the date the loan is made.
3. Bring warehouse receipt and applicable lien waivers to this office.

Lien searches will be conducted and if any liens beside the bank show up, you will have to obtain a lien waiver or we will have to call the Travis County ASCS for them to research it for us. Expect at least a two or three day delay to get your loan.

Police calls

Investigators are searching for leads in a fire that destroyed a vacant house southeast of Nazareth Saturday night.

A vacant house belonging to Clyde Hoelting was a total loss, with damages of $20,000. Hoelting had purchased the house at auction about six months ago, and told authorities the house had been vacant for 18-24 months.

Officials said there was no electricity or natural gas connected to the house, and an arson investigator with the State Fire Marshal's Office is assisting deputies.

Units from the Nazareth Volunteer Fire Dept. and a tanker from the Dimmitt Volunteer Fire Dept. responded to the blaze, but the house was consumed before firefighters arrived.

Deputies are also working with Dimmitt police on the apparent theft of an electric meter from a house northeast of Dimmitt.

The meter was traced by its serial number to the house, and is owned by Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative. The meter was hooked up to a house at 611 W. Etter.

Reports in the city over the past week included:

--A person was driving while intoxicated, and another was publicly intoxicated, at the Azteca Complex.

--A phone, worth $100, was taken from a vehicle in the 500 block of W. Andrews.

--A house in the 100 block of NW Sixth was burglarized Oct. 27.

--A juvenile was charged with assault and terroristic threat in connection with an incident Thursday at Dimmitt Middle School.

--A terroristic threat was reported in the 400 block of W. Jones on Sunday.

--Criminal mischief, with tires punctured with livestock needles, in the 300 block of SW Second on Sunday.

--Someone drove on top of grass at the Castro County Country Club.

--A person drove through a yard on Ruskin Circle.

DHS plans program on alcohol use

Dimmitt High School will host a program on Project SAVE on Nov. 11 for students and parents.

A program for parents and other interested persons will be held Nov. 11 at 7 p.m. at the DHS band hall. Student assemblies will be held during the day to promote the program.

Project SAVE is an audio-visual presentation sponsored by Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission. The acronym stands for Specialized Alcohol Violation Education.

"The program is designed to encourage students to seek alternatives to alcohol parties," said Sue Summers, DHS counselor. "We also want to educate high school students on the legal aspects and liability of under-age drinking."

"This program promotes NO drinking by persons under 21."

The program will cover various state laws and will present students hard facts based on factual information.

County voters approved Amendment 16, 435-201, with all seven precincts and the early vote carrying for the proposal.

Voting was light in the county, with about 650 persons voting. That's about 15% of the county's registered voters.

Local voters also narrowly defeated Amendment 4, the income tax proposal, 326-316, and Amendment 11, covering administration of local pension funds, 382-233. The two amendments carried statewide.

Lining up on defense for Hart will be Manuel Minjarez at noseguard, Fernando Urbina and Eddie Chavers at tackles, Cesar Salas and Raynea Garcia at ends, Harvey Robledo and Chris Hernandez at linebackers, Carlos Urbina and Fred Reyna at cornerbacks and Barry Washington and JR Lee at safeties.

When Hart has the ball, it operates with Jason Aven at quarterback, Garcia at fullback, Salas at tailback, Minjarez at center, Reyna and Clint Emery at guards, Andy Bennett and Hernandez at tackles, Urbina at split end and Joe Longoria or Lee at flanker.

Nazareth's defense features Schulte and Coby Schacher at ends, Hoelting and Heck at tackles, Charanza at middle linebacker, Bermea and Johnson at linebackers, Schilling and Pohlmeier at corners and Keel and Brockman at safeties.

"Hart has a very solid football team," said Price. "They are extremely tough on defense. They scored 32 points against us last year, so they've got a good offense, too. They have a couple of outstanding athletes in the backfield."

Price said Salas and Aven are the keys to Hart's offense.

"Either of those guys is a threat to go all the way. We're going to have our hands full with those two. They definitely present some headaches for defenses."

He said Hart runs a "52" defense and "they're really good at it. They read well, gang tackle and flow to the ball. They're hard to fool. People have a hard time running the ball against them. We've got to get our passing game going to be successful."

Wilhelm praised Nazareth's offense and said his defensive unit will have to be in top form to contain.

"Nazareth's got a good passing game," said Wilhelm. "They've got a sophomore quarterback who's good and he has two receivers he likes to throw to. And their running backs are both returning starters and they've done a good job all year long."

Defensively, Wilhelm said the Swifts will show different looks up front.

"It's hard to know what to expect from Nazareth defensively," Wilhelm said. "We'll just have to be ready for anything. We have to play Longhorn football—tough and aggressive. On offense, we've got to be able to control the line of scrimmage and not turn the ball over. On defense, we need to pressure their quarterback when he drops back to pass."

Farmers warned on burning

Several complaints about burning corn stalks have been filed with the Texas Natural Resources Conservation Committee (TNRCC) regional office in Lubbock, according to the Texas Corn Growers Association.

"We want to make sure growers are aware that if they don't follow the state's guidelines on burning, they could face a stiff fine," said Carl King, Texas Corn Growers Association president.

Producers should call the Lubbock office (796-3494) if they intend to burn crop residue. New guidelines on burning were written in 1992 after numerous complaints about smoke irritation were received by the former Texas Air Control Board. Former TACB workers were threatening to curtail all burning, but King and Harold Bob Bennett, former TCGA executive assistant, worked with TACB officials to write new regulations.

The rules include:

--Burning must be done only when the wind will carry the smoke away from any city, town, residential, recreational or industrial area, navigable water or landing strip, and shall not be conducted when a shift of wind is predicted.

--Burning shall be at least 300 feet away from any adjacent properties which have residential, recreational, commercial or industrial use.

--Burning shall not commence when wind speed is predicted to be less than 6 mph or greater than 23 mph.

--Burning shall not be conducted during periods of actual or predicted low-level atmospheric inversions.

--Burning must be outside the corporate limits of a city or town.

Farmers are responsible for smoke that travels across non-public roads used for school buses or mail carriers, and farmers must have flaggers on those roads. Farmers must also notify neighbors of proposed burning.

"All of us realize that it is sometimes essential to burn stalks," said King, "but we must take into consideration our neighbors and areas where people are made uncomfortable by excessive smoke."

James Bradford

James Bradford, 73, died Monday.

Services were Wednesday at First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Johnny Robertson, pastor, officiating. Burial followed in Castro Memorial Gardens by Foskey Funeral Home.

Mr. Bradford was born Aug. 6, 1920 in Paris. He moved to Dimmitt in 1933 from Blossom. He married Mildred Lust on Sept. 21, 1941 in Dimmitt.

Mr. Bradford was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, past member of American Legion Post 445, and was a 1937 graduate of Dimmitt High School. He attended Texas Tech University until he enlisted in the Army Air Corps in World War II. A retired farmer, he was a partner in Bradford Farms, North Gin and J&D Corn. He was a past member of the Dimmitt school board. He was a member of First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife; four sons, Bob Bradford of Denton, Jack Bradford and Jim Bradford of Dimmitt and Kent Bradford of Davis, Calif.; a daughter, Jean Whitehead of Amarillo; a brother, J.T. Boswell of Amarillo; and nine grandchildren.

The family requests memorials to First United Methodist Church, 110 SW Third, Dimmitt, or a favorite charity.

The passage of Amendment 4 Tuesday—the one "prohibiting a personal income tax without voter approval and, if an income tax is enacted, dedicating the revenue to education and limiting the rate of local school taxes"—really bothers me.

There's something fishy. Under our representative form of state government, our constitution gives our elected representatives—the Legislature—authority to enact whatever taxes are necessary.

But this amendment takes away that legislative authority vis a vis a state income tax, and leaves it up to us to vote to tax ourselves.

Texans have been so conditioned from the cradle up to loathe the idea of a state income tax that it sounds like a good deal. But . . .

Amendment 4 restricts the use of a state income tax (if and when enacted) to education funding, and to a resultant limiting of local school tax rates.

That sounds good, too, right?

But why should any not-yet-enacted tax be restricted in its use? For instance, has anybody around here forgotten that we've voted three billion dollars to build new prisons on credit?

And why should the state government have the authority to limit local property tax rates?

Pallbearers were Marshall Langford, Donald Wright, Jim Cleavinger, Johnny Webb, Ben Hill and Cliff Cook.

Louise Clark

Louise Beavers Clark, 76, of Littlefield, died Saturday.

Services were Monday in Parkview Baptist Church in Littlefield with the Rev. Glen Clark, pastor, officiating. Burial followed in Muleshoe Memorial Park under the direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Mrs. Clark was born on May 17, 1917 in Tahoka. She married Artie Beavers in 1933. He died in 1975. She married Gene Clark on Dec. 16, 1980 in Littlefield. She was a member of Parkview Baptist Church.

Survivors include her husband; a son, James Beavers of Lubbock; a daughter, Carolyn Jackson of Littlefield; two stepsons, Gary Clark and Stanley Clark, both of Dallas; two sisters, Doris Graham of Littlefield and Edith Graef of Dimmitt; 14 grandchildren; and 12 great-grandchildren.

Shawn Cotter

Shawn Cotter, 26, of Dimmitt, died Friday.

Services were Monday in Fourth and Bedford Church of Christ with Harry Riggs, minister, Ronnie Parker, former minister, and Dean Wiseman, associate minister, officiating. Burial followed in Castro Memorial Gardens by Foskey Funeral Home.

Mr. Cotter was born April 19, 1967, in Perryton and was a former resident of Winters. He moved to Dimmitt in 1983 and was a 1987 graduate of Dimmitt High School. He married Mary Ann Martinez on April 6, 1989 at Winters. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Ashley Nicole Cotter of Dimmitt; his father, Charles Cotter of Dimmitt; his mother, Barbara Philips of Winters; and a sister, Connie O'Dell of Winters.

The family requests memorials be to Hospice of the Plains, 4416 Olton Road, Plainview 79072.

Pallbearers were David Stephens, Lee Schilling, Rudy Martinez, Frank Rodriguez, Mike Robel and Robert Jones. Honorary pallbearers were members of the Dimmitt Independent School District Maintenance Dept.

Edward L. Gonzales

Services for Edward L. Gonzales, 31, of Dimmitt, were held Monday afternoon in the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Dimmitt with Father Guillermo Morales, pastor, officiating.

Burial followed in Castro Memorial Gardens under the direction of Foskey Funeral Home of Dimmitt.

Mr. Gonzales died at 2:17 a.m. Saturday.

Survivors include two sons, Eddie Gonzales Jr. and Michael Gonzales; three brothers, Trinidad Paiz III, Frank Paiz and Avery Paiz, all of George West; five sisters, Debra Lee Lopez and Cynthia Sanchez, both of Dimmitt, and Christina Paiz, Angelita Paiz and Eva Paiz, all of George West; his father, George Gonzales of Dimmitt; his mother, Angie Paiz of George West; and his grandparents, Pedro and Patsy Gonzales and Teodoro and Erminia Tijerina, all of Dimmitt.

Pallbearers were Michael Hinojosa, Gabriel Hinojosa, Jimmy Casas, Trinidad Paiz III, Frank Paiz and John Hernandez.

Jessie Nicholson

Jessie King Nicholson, 70, of Lubbock, a former Dimmitt resident, died Friday in Lubbock.

Memorial services were Monday in the chapel of First United Methodist Church in Plainview. Her body was donated to Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center.

Mrs. Nicholson was born Aug. 17, 1923 in Garza County. She graduated from Post High School. She married W.E. "Nick" Nicholson on July 8, 1948 in Lubbock. He died in 1984.

Survivors include a son, Rickie, of Lubbock; a daughter, Niki of Lubbock; three brothers, Gene King of Hereford, J.W. King of Wichita Falls and David King of Post; two sisters, Almata Reed of Kress and Judy McAlister of Post; and two grandsons.

W.J. Martin

W.J. "John" Martin, 76, of Dimmitt, died Tuesday.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) at First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Johnny Robertson, pastor, officiating. Burial will follow in Westlawn Memorial Park by Foskey Funeral Home.

Mr. Martin was born Sept. 27, 1917 in Cottle County and moved to Castro County in 1938. He married Nellie Beth Connell on Sept. 27, 1947 in Clovis, N.M. He was a farmer, a member of the Dimmitt Domino Club and a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Tommy Martin of Perry, Okla., and Bob Martin of Dubuque, Iowa; a daughter, Luan Dugan of Amarillo; a sister, Lucille Emerson of Amarillo; and five grandchildren.

The family requests memorials to The Methodist Home of Waco, 1111 Herring Ave., Waco, Texas 76708.

Pallbearers will be Ricky Kuntz, Delton Tischler, Leland Jennings, Bob Anthony, Don Sanderson, Bob Sanderson, Bill Miller, Kenneth Lowe, Kenny Ebeling and David Behrends.

Marie Stewart

Marie Stewart, 75, of Olton, died Oct. 24, 1993.

Services were Thursday in First Baptist Church in Olton with the Rev. Mike Wilcox, pastor, officiating. Arrangements are by Foskey Funeral Home. Graveside services were Friday in Moore Memorial Gardens at Arlington.

Mrs. Stewart was born in Dimmitt and was a former resident of Fort Worth. She moved to Olton in 1986. She married Ivan Milton Stewart in 1938 at Olton. He died in 1977. She was a homemaker and a Baptist.

Survivors include two daughters, Oletha Gibbons of Duncanville and Merle Ann Huntley of Vancouver, Wash.; a son, Wayne Stewart of Wylie; two brothers, Bud Andrew and Wilburn "Andy" Andrew, both of Olton; six grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

The family requests memorials be to Running Water Draw Care Center, P.O. Box 409, Olton 79064.

Telecourses begin at DHS

A teleconference is planned for Tuesday as part of a new program at Dimmitt High School.

A series on "Cancer in the 90's" will begin Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the DHS Resource Center. Other programs will be held Nov. 23, Nov. 30 and Dec. 7.

DHS Principal R.L. Stockstill said the community is invited to take advantage of a new communications system provided DHS by the Texas Education Agency for the teleconference series and other programs. The system will also be used by teachers, students and others at DHS.

The programs include colorectal cancer on Nov. 9; prostate cancer on Nov. 23; childhood sickness on Nov. 30; and avoiding breast cancer on Dec. 7.

At 7 p.m. on Nov. 16, a special teleconference will be held on the new Tech-Prep Texas program. The teleconference is designed to give parents information about the program designed for all students. Tech-Prep programs are highly popular in much of the rest of the U.S. and will be implemented in Texas by the 1994-95 school year.

"The program on Nov. 16 is designed to make parents aware of the program, and we invite all parents to come to the meeting and find out about Tech-Prep Texas," Stockstill said.

9th graders fall to Friona

Dimmitt's freshmen had an improved performance but suffered too many turnovers in a 34-20 loss Thursday at Friona.

Dimmitt's ninth graders are now 2-5 for the year.

"We had a good team defensive effort in the second half," said coach Mike Self. Self praised offensive performances by Joey Flores, Kalem Thomas, Josh Roberts, Colby McDaniel, Jessie Lopez, Luis Nino and Tony Gonzales.

Flores scored for Dimmitt in the first quarter on a 35-yard run, but Dimmitt trailed 14-6 at the end of the period. In the second stanza, Thomas scored on a three-yard run, but the leaky defense afforded Friona a 34-12 halftime lead.

Oscar Rueda scored on a five-yard run in the fourth quarter, and the Bobcats converted on a two-point conversion for the final score of 34-20.

Sheep clinic to be Nov. 13

A sheep clinic designed for new feeder feeders will be held Nov. 13 from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon at Danny Newton's farm, located behind W.J. Hill's office in Dimmitt.

Although the clinic will be designed for new feeder feeders, anyone is welcome to attend.

If possible, you are asked to bring your sheep, so each animal can be discussed individually. Even if you cannot bring your animal, it will still be beneficial to attend.

Correction

The News misidentified two people in last week's issue.

In a cutline about the 4-H Gold Star winners, Karmen Pohlmeier was misidentified as Kalina Pohlmeier.

And in a cutline under a photo from the Chamber of Commerce's Gallery of Gifts, the News reported that Danny Newton had won the television set, but Danny Bruton was the winner.

The News regrets the errors.
