Improvements Made at School

Work is progressing on improvements at the Bronte School. Most of the work is being done on the land across the creek, west of the buildings.

A 132 by 96 foot slab of concrete has been poured for three tennis courts and four poles have been set for lights.

A 20 by 60 foot slab was due to be poured Wednesday which will serve as the floor for the new FFA barn. Curbs for the new track have been staked and will be poured in the near future. The track itself will "hopefully have a good caliche fill," said Supt. C. B. Barbee.

Grading has been done and a big drainage pipe will be installed to carry excess water from the area into the West Kickapoo Creek.

Other work to be done include pads for shot put and discus and runways for jumps and pole vault.

Mariano Lopez of San Angelo is contractor for the work.

Coach Bob Shields has been busy this summer building new equipment for use inside the buildings. He has constructed a photo stand from which the video tape operator can photograph basketball games. Additional shelving has been installed in the book storage room for holding books and supplies and more shelves have been added in Room 11. Shields also has constructed a 4 by 10 foot table for the high school learning center.

Judge W. W. Thetford spoke at the Tuesday meeting of the Robert Lee BCD on the results of a poll initiated by the Commissioners' Court to determine how Coke countians would like to see federal revenue sharing funds spent. He said the number of cards was gratifying and expressed appreciation to everyone who filled out a card and returned it.

The judge said the highest percentage of votes was given on a writain for a medical center. He pointed out, however, that this federal money cannot be used for this purpose since the entire county is under the jurisdiction of either the West Coke County Hos-

Scholarship Goes To Larry Hooper

Larry Hooper, a 1973 graduate of Bronte High School, has been selected to receive a $600 Carl B. and Florence E. King Foundation Scholarship by the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation.

The King Foundation provided funds for ten $600 grants to be given to outstanding 1973 Texas high school graduates. TILF administers the scholarship program.

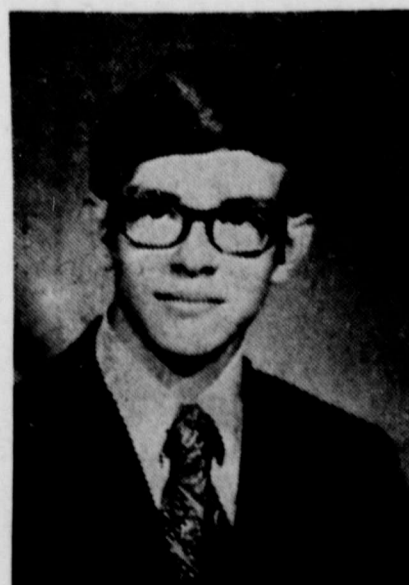

Hooper earned eligibility for the scholarship by participating in the University Interscholastic League contests in Spelling, Ready Writing, Persuasive Speaking and Typewriting.

In 1971 he won first in district and regional and third in state in Spelling. In 1972 and 1973 he swept through to win all top honors at district, regional and state in Spelling.

In 1973 he won first in district in Ready Writing, and took first in district and fourth in regional in Persuasive Speaking. In the same year he won third in district in typing. He also won a Division I rating in the piano solo contest.

Valedictorian of his graduating class, Hooper earned a straight A record through four years of high school. He was a member of the Spanish Club, Teen Council and the Longhorn Band. He was junior class treasurer and a member of the cast of the junior class play.

Hooper plans to major in English at Baylor University. He would like to teach English in college.

Larry Hooper

pital District or the East Coke County Hospital District. He said county tax money could be used for this purpose but not the federal revenue sharing funds.

A county wide water system carried second on the east side of the county, but apparently it, too, is not feasible. Judge Thetford said engineers have told him such a plan would run more than a million dollars and federal revenue sharing funds would not be sufficient to pay the bill. He said there is a possibility that a federal grant might be obtained some time in the future to finance a water project.

The judge said engineers could update water and sewer plans developed six years ago at a cost of about $1,000.

Thetford said the county has to send in a report by June 20 on how the county will spend the first $60,000 received last fall. Another $17,000 was received after the first of the year and $17,000 more is expected this month.

A discussion was held on using the money to build a county livestock show barn in Robert Lee at an estimated cost of $43,800, and a recreation center at Bronte at an estimated cost of $37,000.

Some of the money could be used for maintenance of tennis courts as well as the airstrip adjacent to Lake Spence and the old jail.

Judge Thetford said the court would give the matter further study before a decision is reached.

Texas Bats .333... Egg Production Below Earlier Levels... Cattle and Calves Marketed Show Declines.

Of nine selected categories of vegetable production, Texas is first in three of them, giving the state a .333 batting average. Texas is first in the nation in production of cabbage, spinach and watermelons for the year 1972, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

In production of fresh market vegetables, Texas is third in the nation, outranked by California and Florida. In total vegetable production Texas is in fourth place; California, Wisconsin and Florida are ahead of the state in that category.

Watermelon production in Texas last year totaled 70,000 acres; spinach production totaled 5,500; and cabbage production totaled 19,000 acres.

On a county basis, Hidalgo

County is Texas' leading vegetable producer with a total of 60,000 acres. Other counties in the top 10 in total vegetable production are Frio, Zavala, Cameron, Deaf Smith, Starr, Castro, LaSalle, Wilbrey and Duval.

Hidalgo is the state's leader in production of cabbage, cantaloupes, carrots and onions. Frio County is the state's leader in production of watermelons.

Other rankings of the state show the importance of Texas to vegetable production for the nation. Texas is second in cantaloupe production, second in carrot production, fourth in green peppers, second in onions.

Total vegetable acreage in Texas during 1972 amounted to 213,100 acres. Complete details on the vegetable industry in the state are included in the 1972 Texas Vegetable Statistics. A copy may be obtained by writing the Texas Department of Agriculture, Box

Today's Health News
 Published by the American Medical Association

Ten thousand travel agents could be wrong... Especially when they tell you there's no threat of disease in Botswana, Africa (where there's still a good chance of catching African sleeping sickness), no malaria in India, and little chance of getting "tourista" (traveler's diarrhea) in Mexico. Commercial airlines and foreign governments aren't much better either when it comes to discussing health risks—for the most part, they don't want to talk about it ["It discourages business," said one travel-industry leader.]

But health hazards do exist, and most Americans traveling abroad—more than seven million last year alone—are unprepared for them, says the nonprofit Traveler's Health Institute of New York. To find out what foreign travelers should and shouldn't do to protect their health, Today's Health asked a number of medical experts.

The first thing a traveler should do after mapping his itinerary is plan to visit his family doctor—both before and after the trip. Even though it is unlikely that a family physician will have up-to-date health information at his fingertips about Nairobi, Madras, or Singapore, he knows where to find it. He will know what precautions should be taken and what immunizations are needed. Afterward, he'll be aware of the diseases the traveler has been exposed to and, if there is a problem, can diagnose and treat it.

Second, make sure to get proper immunizations. Only a few are required in most countries, but to be safe most experts consider six immunizations essential for any foreign trip. They are Smallpox, Typhoid-Paratyphoid, Poliomyelitis, Diphtheria, and Tetanus. Some doctors believe travelers should also get influenza vaccine, as well as gamma globulin which, while it does not immunize, offers protection from infectious hepatitis.

Travelers to Asia, the Middle East, Africa, and parts of Latin America should also consider getting shots against cholera, yellow fever, and typhus and should take regular doses of a prophylactic drug called chloroquine diphosphate to guard against malaria.

Third, those traveling outside of North America, Australia, New Zealand, and most of northern Europe should be careful about what they eat and drink. Water should be bottled or canned—even for gargling and brushing teeth—and, the further away from the beaten track, the more well-cooked the food should be.

Finally, when in doubt ask a doctor, not a travel agent.

SALES of cattle, calves, sheep, goats and hogs showed moderate declines in Texas.

Cattle and calves marketed through auctions numbered 427,000 head, 33 per cent below a month ago.

Sheep sales at 79,000 head were 38 per cent below a year ago. Goat sales at 30,000 were 25 per cent below a year ago.

Hogs sold at 34,000 head were 32 per cent below a year and a month ago.

EGG production in Texas during April showed a 10 per cent reduction from a year ago and one per cent less than the previous month.

Texas hens are still not quite up to the national average on a laying basis. Texas eggs laid daily per 100 hens averaged 62.6 during April. Nationwide, the average was 63.8 eggs laid daily per 100 hens.

Egg type chicks hatched in Texas during April increased two per cent from last year. The national total was virtually the same as a year ago.

FUEL shortages are being reported from various parts of Texas by agriculture producers. Farmers who run short of fuel are requested to report it to the Texas Department of Agriculture or to their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

Agricultural industries have first priority in the use of fuel, according to federal guidelines on a voluntary compliance basis. More stringent regulations are to be enforced if necessary.

 From The Living Bible

Seven weeks had gone by since Jesus' death and resurrection, and the Day of Pentecost had now arrived. As the believers met together that day, suddenly there was a sound-like the roaring of a mighty wind-storm in the skies above them and it filled the house where they were meeting. Then, what looked like flames or tongues of fire appeared and settled on their heads. And everyone present began speaking in languages they didn't know, for the Holy Spirit gave them this ability.

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Inflation got a boost last week when the House approved a 40 per cent increase in the minimum wage—upping the floor from $1.60 to $2.20 per hour.

The same measure extended coverage to five million federal, state and local government employees and to 935,000 maids in private homes.

Lest any affected think more of the good life has been legislated for them, it is important to know that NO WAGE PAYMENTS are mandatory because NO EMPLOYMENT is required. A total of 34 million workers will be immediately affected if the bill is finally enacted. Some of these will, of course, lose their jobs because of the new law.

The farm worker minimum of $1.30 would rise to $1.60 now and later to $2.20. By raising the minimum, above-minimum wage levels are expected to automatically rise. That is why the AFL-CIO was a chief architect of the pending boost. The unions seek, and may get, a windfall.

This runaway wage push is expected to hurt a lot of people and add to unemployment—and to welfare rolls. It is believed:

1. When fully effective, the forced raise will boost unemployment among teenagers to an estimated 30 per cent of those in that category.

2. It will eventually force closure of thousands of small affected retail stores—those which eke out a tight profit margin.

3. It is estimated employment hours of maids will be cut by about one-third.

4. It will force more elderly and the handicapped off the payrolls, and play havoc with job seeking students.

5. It will force more automation in processing plants and on farms and ranches.

6. By pushing inflation upward, this big wage boost will, of course, tend to increase consumer prices—across the board. Inflation never had it so good*

After high school, will your kid go to work, or to college?

High school is the end of Free Education.

If your child decides to go on to college it'll take money. Lots of money. Money that you should probably be saving right now.

And there's no better way to start a college savings fund than by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. That way an amount you specify will be set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. Before you know it you'll have a nice little college fund on hand.

Now there's a bonus interest rate on all U. S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 3 1/2%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan. And, if your child keeps studying and you keep saving, you'll both be ready for college.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a great way to save.

FISHING REPORT from Lake Spence

White bass and striper fishing heads the action list at Lake Spence this week. Warm water temperatures have both species schooling. The best location for both whites and stripers has been in the main body of the lake near the river channel.

Most of the striper fishermen are pulling trolling rigs and are getting the fish deep. However, some schooling stripers have been hooked with top water baits. Numerous stripers in the four and five pound class were caught last week, but Roy Ford's record fish of 8½ pounds still stands as the best striper caught with rod and reel at Spence.

Recently, Parks and Wildlife Department fishery crews netted a striper which weighed 12 pounds. The fishery experts say that striped bass in Lake Spence could attain weights of up to 35 pounds within the next three years.

Lake Patrol officers estimated there were 1100 fishermen at the lake last weekend.

Retirement. The end of work, or the beginning of worry?

Most people look toward retirement as a time of relaxation and enjoyment. And it can be if you prepare for it. But if you don't, it can be a time of worry and discontentment. A time when you can look back and think of a million ways that you could have saved, but didn't.

Well, there's no better time to think about retirement than now, while you're working.

One easy way to save on a regular basis is by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds; 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months

(4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. They'll help make your retirement just what you want it to be.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.
