Beautification Week Is Set

HAPPY FISHERMAN — Deputy Sheriff Don Thorpe looks happy as he displays the big 8 pound, 4 ounce black bass he caught last week at Lake E. V. Spence. Daughters Shawntina and Tonya don't seem to mind sharing the glory with him.

Bank Reaches $5 Million Mark

A big milestone was reached Tuesday June 26, when deposits in the First National Bank in Bronte totaled more than $5 million. Tuesday afternoon at the end of the business day for the bank the deposits amounted to $5,098,452.49.

President Earl F. Glenn said he felt a great deal of satisfaction in topping the $5 million mark since it was just a little over a year ago that the bank attained $4 million on deposit.

Glenn said the phenomenal growth "can be traced to only one thing—our loyal customers." He said the patronage and support of the bank's more than 2,000 depositors is most appreciated.

The First National Bank has grown steadily since 1922 when the late L. T. Youngblood took over. There were dark days during the depression of the 1930s but the bank managed to stay solvent and was really never seriously threatened with having to close its doors.

During the 1950s, deposits shot up to $2 to $3 million and during the late 1960s, the $4 mark was almost reached. However, it didn't come until June 5, 1972.

Speaking for the officers and directors of the bank, Glenn said, "We are grateful to all of our depositors and borrowers for the business they have given us through the years, and I can assure you that it will continue to be the policy of this bank to do everything we can to aid all our customers in any way possible."

"Bronte Beautification Week" will officially begin July 6 and continue through July 13. The project is being sponsored by the Bronte City Council, with Councilman L. O. Clark as chairman.

Mayor Martin Lee issued a proclamation declaring July 6-13 as "Beautification Week" and called on all citizens to cooperate in making the period a time to beautify the city.

Everyone is asked to put forth a special effort to beautify his property, including residential, commercial, vacant lots, rental property, etc.

Trash should be placed in alleys in containers, as no loose trash will be picked up. "Pick Up Day" will be held after July 13.

Several boys will be needed to assist with the trucks to remove trash. Interested boys who want temporary employment may contact Clark about a job.

Special awards will be given for homes considered to be best groomed or most beautiful. A special committee will tour Bronte Friday morning, July 13, and award the first place winner $10.00 and a "Bronte Beautification Award" yard plaque; second place winner will receive a $7.50 cash award and third place winner will receive $5.00.

Clark and other members of the City Council urged everyone to fix up, clean up and repair. "Let's Beautify Bronte. Be a winner," the chairman said.

Subscription Special Will Start Monday

The Bronte Enterprise's annual subscription special will start Monday and continue through the month of July.

Bronte Firemen Ask Cooperation

(Editor's note: The following item was submitted by C. E. Bruton on behalf of the Bronte Volunteer Fire Department and it delivers a message which should be seriously considered by any persons who are guilty of the charges made.)

To Whom It May Concern:

We don't mean to be rude, but there must be some changes made. Please do not call the hospital every time we have a fire. Last week we had a fire and the hospital got 20 to 30 phone calls from persons wanting to know where the fire was. The nurses on duty at the hospital have a lot more to do than report to everyone where a fire has broken out.

If you just have to know where a fire is, drive down to the fire station and read the big black board, for it will state where the fire is.

Another thing which hinders the work of firemen is the spectator rush to fires. Several times there have been so many cars with spectators that firemen and trucks could not get to the fire.

The firemen appreciate help a lot of times, especially with grass fires, but they would appreciate cooperation on these other two items, also.

This was discussed at Monday night's fire meeting and it was decided to ask for your cooperation.

Thanks
Bronte Volunteer Fire Dept.
By C. E. Bruton.

Farmers Should Report Fuel Shortages to ASCS Office

Coke County farmers are reminded they should report immediately any critical farm fuel shortages to the ASCS county office.

J. E. Quisenberry Jr., County Executive Director of the Coke County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office, reports that in addition to using fuel conserving methods in their farming operations, farmers have also been asked to report critical fuel shortages to ASCS.

Quisenberry said that if a fuel supply problem cannot be resolved locally or at the state level, the shortage will be reported immediately to Washington, D. C., where it will be brought to the attention of the Office of Oil and Gas (OOG), U. S. Department of Interior. The OOG operates under the authority of the fuel allocation program which designates farming and other vital activities for priority access to fuel supplies.

Quisenberry said that if any farmer cannot obtain fuel needed for his farm operations he should make this fact known to ASCS. He emphasized that farmers should do everything they can to obtain supplies before requesting assistance. Quisenberry also urged farmers not to buy more fuel than they need for the near future, as equitable distribution is necessary if all farmers are to have enough fuel through harvest.

Quisenberry said some suppliers have not been able to meet farm customers' needs fully, partly because independent and cooperative fuel producers and marketers have not been able to obtain enough supplies. The national concern over fuel is based on two problems: supply and distribution. Demand for fuel has increased steadily, while supply has not. And, some areas are near the end of major petroleum distribution systems, making equitable distribution difficult.

A primary reason for the fuel shortage in farming areas, is the greater need for farm products. The country's farmers have been encouraged to plant about 40 million additional acres of food and feed crops this year.

Quisenberry cited the gasoline supply-demand situation as an example. Gasoline demand has risen at an annual rate of about six per cent during the past two years, while crude oil processing has risen only three per cent annually. We use nationally an average of 47 million barrels of gasoline weekly, while we produce only 43 million barrels.

Quisenberry said that both state and federal agencies have been working on the problem and several actions have been taken to increase supplies. In the meantime, he said, ASCS will offer the critical shortage reporting service to farmers as long as it is needed.

ASCS is handling this monitoring service for all farmers in the county.

Austin — Experts offer little hope for an early easing of the energy crisis, and Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Langdon warns a lot more oil and gas is being used than is being found.

A House committee studying the crisis heard a national authority's grim opinion that "there is no way out."

Dr. John McKetta, past chairman of the National Energy Policy Committee, said President Nixon should declare a national emergency, since it's too late for problem studies in the area.

Langdon told the same committee legislative efforts to cope with the problem will be frustrating because solutions must be sought at the national level.

Although the state regulatory agency has been permitting 100 per cent production for more than a year, Langdon said Texas producers are still falling short of demand for oil by 400,000 barrels a day, or roughly 10 per cent.

Atty. Gen. John Hill termed the situation "extremely critical," and said no other matter should receive more attention today.

As the commission set the July oil allowable at 100 per cent for the 16th straight month (with buyers seeking a record 3.8 million barrels a day), Langdon issued a new warning that only nine million barrels of oil a month are being added to Texas supplies while 105 million million barrels are consumed in the same period.

"Unless this trend is reversed, the Texas oil and gas industry is in the process of self-liquidation," said Langdon.

Texas crude oil stocks as of June 8 were 94.7 million barrels, a decline of 7.2 million from 1972.

Langdon asked for reports at the July commission meeting on the amount of oil companies discovered in 1972, and "somewhere along the line," he said, he will want to know "what it will take to find more"—and whether the industry will really be "able to stay in business."

FUTURE HIGHWAY NEEDS — Mass transit needs should be financed from its own funds not from highway funds, Roy D. Chapin Jr. board chairman of American Motors Corporation, told Texas Good Roads Association members and the Texas Highway Users Conference here last week.

"Highway construction and maintenance needs during the 20 years will be $600,000,000,000 in the United States," he explained. Mass transit needs will total $50,000,000,000 for rail construction and development and $13,000,000,000 for bus transportation.

"Highways are still the basic answers for urban transportation needs. The Department of Transportation says by 1990 that 92 per cent of transportation will be on roads and streets—with only eight per cent on bus and railroad facilities."

Chapin who is chairman of the board of the National Highways Users Federation, spoke to a partisan audience, but his statistics impressed neutral observers about the need for political unity in the current struggle between eastern states and the rest of the nation for current highway user funds.

"HUD says that population density will continue to drop in urban areas," Chapin concluded. "Travel patterns will be from suburban home to suburban jobs. Buses and car pools can start lowering congestion—but highways are still important to those methods of transportation."

AMENDMENT PROPOSED — Nine more proposed constitutional amendments will appear on the Nov. 6 general election ballot — just a couple of months before the Legislature sits at a constitutional convention.

The amendments for the November ballot are:

SJR 8—proposing a $15,000 a year salary for legislators and annual legislative sessions.

SJR 13—extending the $3,000 property exemption to homesteads of unmarried adults.

SJR 29—authorizing cities to levy ad valorem taxes sufficient to pay the principal and interest on general obligation bonds.

HJR 6—providing an additional $100 million for Veterans Land Program.

SJR 1—establishing new requirements for conservation and reclamation districts.

SJR 25—exempting water supply cooperative property from taxes.

SJR 26—giving district courts concurrently with county courts general jurisdiction of probate courts.

SJR 12—providing for financing of seawalls by bonds.

HJR 7—similar to SJR 13, plus exemption of property from forced sale.

RIGHTS BILL SIGNED—Young Texans 18-20 will get full majority rights under new legislation which takes effect Aug. 27.

Governor Briscoe signed the bill, in spite of speculation he would veto it.

It permits the 18-20 year olds to "enjoy all the privileges and responsibilities of adult citizenship," according to Briscoe's statement.

Among adult privileges which the new youth group will be able to indulge in is purchase, consumption and sale of alcoholic beverages.

Other bills signed near the deadline for approval or veto included family code revision, free kindergarten for all five year olds, primary election proceedings and financing for 1974 and bail bond reform.

Altogether, Briscoe signed or allowed to become law without signature 659 bills passed by the Legislature this year and vetoed 29.

FOR "OPENNESS"—Atty. Gen. John Hill spoke for "openness" in government at the Texas Press Association convention in Houston last week.

"It's not an easy policy for public officials and sometimes it's not the most efficient, but the legislature says that's the law and I plan to support it," he told 250 weekly and daily newspaper publishers.

"I'll interpret and enforce the open records law also. It is liberal in nature toward openness," he said.

Hill spoke at the 94th annual convention of the Texas Press Association at the new $42 million Hyatt Regency Hotel.

INDEPENDENCE DAY JULY 4, 1973

Psalms 33: 12-22 from The LIVING BIBLE

Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, whose people he has chosen as his own. The Lord gazes down upon mankind from heaven where he lives. He has made their hearts and closely watches everything they do. The best-equipped army cannot save a king—for great strength is not enough to save anyone. A war horse is a poor risk for winning victories—it is strong but it cannot save. But the eyes of the Lord are watching over those who fear him, who rely upon his steady love. He will keep them from death even in times of famine! We depend upon the Lord alone to save us. Only he can help us; he protects us like a shield. No wonder we are happy in the Lord! For we are trusting him. We trust his holy name. Yes, Lord, let your constant love surround us, for our hopes are in you alone.

The cost of not saving keeps going up.

If you need cash and you haven't saved it, you have to borrow. And that means paying through the nose to use someone else's money.

So it makes sense to put away a few dollars of your own. One great way to do just that is by purchasing U. S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's an easy way to build a nest egg.

Now there's a bonus interest rate on all U. S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds. It's a lot better to be receiving interest on your own money than paying it out on someone else's.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.

After high school, will your kid go to work, or to college?

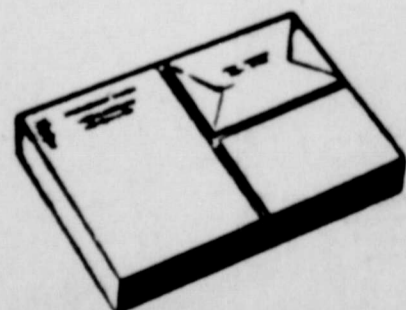

High school is the end of Free Education. If your child decides to go on to college it'll take money. Lots of money. Money that you should probably be saving right now. And there's no better way to start a college savings fund than by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. That way an amount you specify will be set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. Before you know it you'll have a nice little college fund on hand. Now there's a bonus interest rate on all U. S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 3 1/2% payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds. Join the Payroll Savings Plan. And, if your child keeps studying and you keep saving, you'll both be ready for college.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a good way to save.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

What a bald man wants most is usually a head of hair. He can buy it; have it transplanted, implanted, or woven; or try to grow it himself using creams, lotions, massages, and gadgets. But which of these remedies gives him the best return on his money?

From a medical point of view, wigs and hairpieces are the most worry-free answer to his dilemma. But they lack permanence and are, after all, a false and unconvincing front. And despite what you read elsewhere, drugs, creams, and magic devices are no panacea. In fact, they're completely ineffective against male-pattern baldness which accounts for 95 percent of all shiny domes.

Suture implantation sounds hopeful — in theory at least. Plastic-coated stainless steel wire is stitched into the scalp so the wire protrudes slightly at regular intervals. Hanks of hair, synthetic or real, are attached either to the wire loops or to a mesh base woven between the anchors. But implantation involves a high probability of discomfort and pain, and a risk of infection, skin disease, and scarring. There's also the possibility that the body will reject the wire anchors. It's costly, too, ranging from $500 to $1,500, depending on the kind of base and type of hair used.

Those who opt for hairweaving, the tying of synthetic strands to existing, bona fide hair, are buying a certain amount of security, but also face problems. Hairweaving can aggravate dandruff conditions and result in hair loss by traction. The attached hairpieces also gradually move away from the scalp as the supporting hair grows, and the client must have them relocated — usually every two or three months (or more frequently) and at a cost that can run as high as $50. Add to this the minimum initial charge of $375, and the cost of a head of hair goes spiraling upward.

But for anywhere from $300 to $1,000 (or even $2,000, if he's an especially needy case), a man can buy back his own hair; it's simply transplanted from one portion of his head to another, but not without difficulty. The technique, which both medical and government authorities feel is the safest and most effective (aside from wigs, which can fall off), involves a considerable amount of pain. The patient must also be able to handle the psychological strain of a worsened appearance for the transition period of several months. Finally, the client must overcome what may be the greatest trauma of all—the shock of having hair again.

TROTLINE CATCH — Mr. and Mrs. Perry Smith of Lubbock caught these nice sized channel catfish while trotline fishing at Lake Spence. Even though black bass and the exotic striped bass always seem to capture most of the attention at Lake Spence, catfish are being taken by both rod and reel and trotline fishermen.

gelo, and Mr. and Mrs. Rick Stephens, Lubbock, 5 channel cat up to 4 lbs. and 1 yellow cat at 2 lbs.

Hillside Grocery

From Robert Lee: Fred Segal, 36 channel cat up to 3½ lbs. and 3 blacks up to 2 lbs., 10 oz. Sherman Williams, 15 white bass up to 2¼ lbs.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

The wicked flee when no one is chasing them! But the godly are bold as lions! When there is moral rot within a nation, its government topples easily; but with honest, sensible leaders there is stability. When a poor man oppresses those even poorer, he is like an unexpected flood sweeping away their last hope. To complain about the law is to praise wickedness. To obey the law is to fight evil. Evil men don't understand the importance of justice, but those who follow the Lord are much concerned about it. Better to be poor and honest and rich and a cheater.

Price Controls: The President's 60 day price freeze, which most economists agree can only provide a palliative—not a cure—for inflation—is, according to reports,

MURTISHAW REUNION HELD AT OAK CREEK LAKE

The Murtishaw family reunion was held at Oak Creek Lake June 16 and 17 in the home of Mr. and H. C. Murtishaw. It was the 27th annual reunion of the family. The gatherings have been held at Oak Creek Lake for the last 10 years.

Family members and their families attending were: Mrs. Grace Murtishaw, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Murtishaw and Mark and Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Murtishaw, all of Bronte; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wojtek (Mildred) of Robert Lee; Mrs. W. D. Sparks (Maurine) of Colorado City; and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sharp (Mary) and Cliffie of San Angelo.

Other relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Otho Long, Kyle, Coy and Randy, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wojtek, Harvey and Carla, and Anna Kay Rowaldt, all of Robert Lee; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Sparks Jr., Shelly and Tori, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Sparks, Brent and Tony Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Murtishaw and Johnny Wayne, Leslie Woullard, Mrs. Zella Boykin, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brodman, Pjay Haney, Terry Harris, Alan Killingsworth and Cathy Schwartz, all of San Angelo; and Julie Beyerlein of Indianapolis, Ind.

giving at least some temporary relief. It's axiomatic, though, that you can't stop inflation by passing a law. Experts insist rigid, permanent type mandatory controls would probably cause a recession and do far more harm than good.

A recent Washington Post editorial bemoaning high prices, particularly on food, prompted Agriculture Commissioner Butz to remind the editor that on the same day the editorial appeared the Post announce in its front page the newstand price of its paper would increase from 10c to 15c—a 50 per cent jump.

Watergate: A variety of reactions—some good, some bad—have been registered regarding behavior of John Dean, former White House counsel, who was fired after his Watergate involvement was revealed. The Senate Committee then offered him immunity from prosecution on any of his Watergate skulduggery he would relate over TV, plus any secret or confidential tidbits regarding the President he might want to include.

This breach prompted the renowned columnist, Stewart Alsop, to describe Dean as "a specimen of an unlovely breed—the turncoat, squealer or fingerman," whose "ambition is to keep out of jail by fingering his former chief, and friends."

COMMON CAUSE: Of all the registered lobbyists in Washington, Common Cause was, according to official Reports just made public, by far the biggest spender last year. That liberal pressure group, which rates rather low with many congressmen, shelled out $558,839 last year—and also led the big spenders among Capitol Hill lobbyists the preceding year of 1971.
