Morning Fire Guts Earl Caulder Home

The Earl Caulder family lost about all their possessions early Tuesday morning when a fire gutted their home in west Bronte. Firemen were able to keep the fire from doing too much damage to the outside of the structure, but everything inside was destroyed.

Caulder was alone and asleep in the house when the fire broke out. He was awakened when the flames burned an electric wire in two and the air conditioner went off. He was able to pick up some ammunition and guns and get out of the house. Everything else was lost.

Mrs. Caulder and their baby were out of town visiting her parents when the fire occurred.

Bronte friends of the Caulders have been taking up donations to assist them in replacing some of their belongings. Anyone who would like to help them may leave a donation at Quick-Shop Food Store, Coulter's Beauty Shop or First National Bank.

Fire Chief Jack Lee said firemen did a fine job containing the fire.

Wrecks Heavily Damage Trucks

Two accidents early Wednesday morning left three vehicles damaged, but the occupants were not seriously injured.

Donal Cooper of Bronte was the driver of a 1971 Ford pickup which rolled over about 12:30 a.m. 6.4 miles south of Bronte on US 277. The pickup was a total loss. Cooper was taken to Shannon Hospital by a Newby ambulance. He was treated for cuts and bruises and released.

The other accident occurred 10½ miles north of Bronte and involved two International trucks and trailers. One vehicle, a 1964 model loaded with lumber was parked alongside the road when the other truck, a 1970 model loaded with 38,000 pounds of beef, hit the parked truck from the rear.

The driver of the 1964 truck was asleep in the vehicle when it was hit. Henry Curtis Smith of Oklahoma, driver of the 1970 model truck, suffered some cuts but was not seriously injured. His truck tractor was a complete loss.

The accidents were investigated by Patrolman Bobby Hart.

Know How to Escape

Escape: First Rule of Fire Safety

Exactly what would you do if, right now, you heard the crackle of fire in your kitchen?

Exactly what would you do if, in the middle of the night, your family was sleeping soundly and you awakened to the smell of smoke?

People who don't have ready answers to these questions are risking their family's and their own lives. For these are the people who don't know how to act when fire strikes in the home.

The first rule of safety from fire is escape; get everybody out at the very first sign of fire. But unless you have done some thinking and planning, you may not be able to escape. National Fire Protection Association studies show the great majority of the estimated 6,500 U. S. lives lost in home fires last year were needlessly lost—because of failure to pre-plan and rehearse escape measures, the association points out.

So prepare a home life safety plan for your family, we urge. Make sure everyone, including the children, knows exactly what to do. Then hold family fire drills regularly.

Here are some pointers to help you plan:

1. Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially bedrooms. Allow for blocking of stairways and halls by fire.
2. Particularly for nighttime fires, remember that closed bedroom doors will hold back flames and smoke, allow extra time to escape.

3. For upper floor escape, use any available porch and garage roofs, ladders or—for agile children, especially—trees as ways down to safety. Be sure exit windows work easily and that they are low and large enough to get through.

4. Pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet and be sure everyone understands the rule: "Once Out—Stay Out!"

5. Know how to call the fire department from a neighbor's telephone and do this as quickly as possible once everyone is out of the burning house.

Austin — The biggest oil and gas lease sale on Texas public lands in a quarter century is scheduled Oct. 2.

Land Commissioner Robert L. Armstrong said 1,348,610 acres in 1,712 tracts will be offered for lease consideration.

Most of the state tracts are submerged in the Gulf of Mexico. Nine hunder and 40 Gulf tracts totaling 998,610 acres have been nominated, plus 563 tracts in Texas bays and inlets including 267,678 acres.

Oil and gas firms and individual bidders offer bonus payments via sealed bids on leasing of the state owned tracts for a period of five years to explore and develop minerals. Armstrong said a record high interest is indicated in potential oil and gas production on state lands.

"This will be the largest sale in more than 25 years," said Armstrong.

A sale involving nearly one million acres of land in 1965 brought more than $39 million in bonus payments to the permanent school fund.

Armstrong said the current sale is doubly significant because leases will enable the state to take its one-sixth royalty payment in gas or oil instead of cash.

A court case is now pending to determine if this can be done on existing leases. The "in kind" provision, specifically allowing the state to take oil and gas as well as cash, will be written into the October bid propositions.

Armstrong said this will permit the state to offer cities the option of buying some of their natural gas directly from the state at fair market value.

POLLUTION STANDARDS WEIGHED — Differing state and federal penalties for water pollution control violations have stalled designation of Texas Water Quality Board as the agency to issue federal waste discharge permits in the state.

The federal government will study further authorizing the Board to issue "national pollution discharge elimination system" waste discharge permits under 1972 water quality amendments.

State penalties which apply to both municipalities and industries set a maximum of $1,000 per violation daily. Federal penalties call for a maximum of $25,000 a day per violation. TWQB Executive Director Hugh Yantis said the requirement that states have authority to impose $25,000 daily fines was received after the 63rd Legislature adjourned, and he did not feel a special session was in order on the question.

Yantis argued that the Texas penalties do represent a substantial deterrent. He said it is "inconceivable that approval will not be given eventually to our state program." Yantis noted a $125,000 fine levied against Armeo Steel was "possibly the largest ever collected under any state water pollution law."

SINGLE MEMBER LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS PUSHED — First legal move in an effort to have eight more counties divided into single member legislative districts was launched last week.

David Richards, Austin attorney retained by the State AFL-CIO, seeks authority for 10 individuals to intervene in a Tarrant County House redistricting case.

If the motion is approved by the three judge federal court, judges will be asked to split Travis, Lubbock, McLennan, Jefferson, Nueces, El Paso, Hidalgo and Galveston into single member House district. Each of the counties now has two or more representatives elected countywide. Richards claims this "unconstitutionally dilutes voting strength of racial and political elements."

DECEPTIVE PRACTICES AIR-ED — State Insurance Board will follow a practice of publicizing names of insurance companies and individuals cited for unfair competition and unfair or deceptive practices.

Board Chairman Joe Christie, meanwhile, announced eight cease and desist orders issued against firms or individuals in San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, Austin, Denton and Atlanta, Ga., for misleading advertisements or sales presentations.

DESEGREGATION GRANTS APPROVED — More than $13.1 million in federal grants have been approved to aid 54 Texas school districts support special programs to advance classroom desegregation this school year.

FOOD LABELING — II

Last week we said we'd report today the information many food processors will have to list on their labels when the new Food and Drug Administration regulations go into effect in the next year or so. The following standard format and headings have been established for information which will be required, that is, if the product requires nutritional labeling at all. Each can, or carton, or container will have to list:

1. Serving size.
2. Servings per container.
3. Caloric content.
4. Protein content.
5. Carbohydrate content.
6. Fat content.
7. Percentage of U.S. Recommended Daily Allowances of protein, vitamins, and minerals.

Now, glossing over many problems that face food manufacturers in conforming to the regulations (such as finding enough space on a food container to list all those things in type large enough for people to be able to read), let's consider some of the points made at a recent food writers' conference by the University of Missouri's food science and nutrition expert, Dr. Dee M. Graham, who thinks the new labeling regulations may be "a disaster for the consumer."

Dr. Graham says the new labeling will add to food costs and tend to squeeze out smaller food firms. Smaller firms will not have the resources, he said, to get all the analytical information they will need to put on the labels. Thus, more and more big firms will take over the smalls and Dr. Graham feels this is not in the consumer interest.

Content Can Vary

Dr. Graham also points out the nutritional content of foods can vary according to seasonal variations, geography, storage, and other factors which tend to average out in our national food supply. (This, he said, is one reason nutritionists advise variety in menu planning.) Thus the information on labels may be faulty because of the impossibility to keep up with all these variables, and thus FDA and the food industry would again come under criticism from "militant consumer activists."

Labeling also can be misleading, Dr. Graham pointed out. A fabricated product could look better on the label when in fact it would be nutritionally inferior to a traditional food.

Dr. Graham favors broad-scale nutrition education with emphasis on teaching people proper food selection. Simple, descriptive labeling with "back up information available from sources referenced on the label, with such data being considered legally a part of the label for enforcement purposes" is what Dr. Graham recommends.

"KNOW WHAT TO LOOK FOR WHEN YOU BUY TEXAS EGGS," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White says. With egg prices on the rise, the more a consumer knows about purchasing eggs the better buy she will make. Because size and grade or quality are not related, a Jumbo or a Medium egg may be Grade AA, A or B. According to information from the Texas Department of Agriculture, Grade AA eggs cover a small area with a thick, high white and a firm, high yolk. Grade A covers a moderate area. It has a reasonably high, thick white and firm, high yolk. Grade B covers a wide area with a small amount of thick white and a flattened, enlarged yolk. Grade B eggs are better for scrambling, baking and combining with other foods than for poaching, frying and cooking in the shell. Egg sizes include Jumbo, which weighs a minimum of 30 ounces a dozen; Extra Large, 27 ounces; Large, 24 ounces; Medium, 21 ounces, and Small, 18 ounces.

Farmcast

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

A New Record... Farm Price Average Up Again... Livestock Slaughter Declines.

Both in Texas and throughout the nation, the numbers of cattle, beef cows, and calves show significant increases. Thus, cattlemen are increasing production in order to meet increasing demands for the product.

The number of all cattle and calves on Texas farms and ranches as of July totals 16,409,000. This compares with 15,350,000 as of Jan. 1.

The 1973 Texas calf crop is estimated at 6,250,000 head; this is an increase of 15 per cent over 1972. This is the largest calf crop for Texas since estimates began in 1924. Nationwide, the figures also show increases. As of July 1, the number of cattle and calves totaled 131,000,000 head. This compares with the Jan. 1 inventory number of 122,000,000 head.

As important, if not more so than total cattle and calves numbers, are totals of cows and heifers—the beef factory. As of July 1, a total of 53,800,000 cows and heifers have calved; this is up four per cent from July 1 last year.

Beef cows at 42,400,000 head are up six per cent nationally. Milk cows, however, are down two per cent (as had been predicted earlier by dairy associations due to the cost-price squeeze) to total 11,400,000 head.

Texas, naturally, is number one in the cow inventory; the state showed an increase of 15 per cent; Missouri in second place, had an increase of eight per cent in cow inventory, and Oklahoma, third place in the nation, had an increase of four per cent from a year ago.

The real clincher to the increasing number of livestock in the nation lies in the preliminary estimates of calf numbers. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service and U. S. Department of Agriculture predict that 50,000,000 calves are expected to be born during this calendar year. This again set a new high, being four per cent over 1972.

Texas again, is first in this category, followed by Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska.

FARM price percentages continue to increase in Texas. As of July 15, the all farm products index for Texas farmers was three per cent above the previous month and 32 per cent above a year ago. The livestock price index is up 34 per cent above a year ago.

Beef cattle at an average of $46.40 per cwt. were up $1.10 from a month ago and $9 above a year ago. Hogs at $39.40 were $2.90 above a month ago and $12.40 above a year ago.

COMMERCIAL slaughtering plants in Texas during June produced a total of 183,800,000 pounds of red meat. This is down seven per cent from the 198,200,000 pounds produced a month ago and one per cent below a year ago.

Nationwide, commercial production of red meat is down nine per cent from a year ago. Beef production is down nine per cent; veal production is down 29 per cent; and pork production is nine per cent under a year earlier.

In Texas, during June the number of cattle slaughtered was 25,000 below a month ago. Calf slaughter was 900 less than last month. Hog production was 16,000 below a month ago.

DRYLOT sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head or more had 126,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter as of Aug. 1. This is 15 per cent below the number on feed a month ago and 12 per cent below the number on feed a year ago.

Intentions to market are: August 71,000; September 36,000; October 19,000. September and October intentions are incomplete.

The cost of not saving keeps going up.

If you need cash and you haven't saved it, you have to borrow. And that means paying through the nose to use someone else's money.

So it makes sense to put away a few dollars of your own. One great way to do just that is by purchasing U. S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's an easy way to build a nest egg.

Now there's a bonus interest rate on all U. S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 1/2%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds. It's a lot better to be receiving interest on your own money than paying it out on someone else's.

Seven sensible reasons why you should join the Payroll Savings Plan.

1. You'll save money.
2. It's easy, all you do is sign up once and money is automatically set aside from each paycheck.
3. The money is used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. There isn't a safer way to save.
4. Bonds now pay the highest interest rate ever. There's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½% payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.
5. The government replaces it if a Bond is lost, destroyed, or stolen.
6. You never see the money. It's deducted and saved before you can get your ever-spending hands on it.
7. Our seventh reason is really hundreds of reasons. Bad reasons, like you may lose your job someday or a medical emergency might come up. Good reasons, like that trip you always wanted to take, retirement, a home, a college education, a boat, a car or whatever else you may see in your future.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a good way to save.

Car Insurance Down But Up

The State Insurance Board recently ordered an average 4.3 per cent drop in private passenger car insurance rates. But it appears that residents of this area will pay slightly higher rates.

The 4.3 per cent statewide cut will be offset by the addition of "personal injury protection" authorized by the last Legislature. Mrs. E. F. Glenn of the local agency, Youngblood & Glenn, said the cost of the extra protection will amount to slightly over $20 for each car that is insured.

The PIP coverage protects the driver of a car and all of his passengers, she said. Liability insurance will still be advisable, but the PIP protection will pay medical expenses and loss of income for persons injured, even if fault for the accident lies with the driver of the car in which persons were injured.

The new coverage will be written into every policy written after Aug. 27. If a car owner does not want the coverage he must sign a rejection statement each year at renewal time in order not to be charged for it.

Mrs. Glenn said the rejection slip will be sent out with each policy they renew, in order for those who do not want PIP to reject it.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

Those who heard Jesus use this illustration didn't understand what he meant, so he explained it to them. "I am the Gate for the sheep," he said. "All others who came before me were thieves and robbers. But the true sheep did not listen to them. Those who came in by the way of the Gate will be saved and will go in and find green pastures. The thief's purpose is to steal, kill and destroy. My purpose is to give life in all its fullness. "I am the Good Shepherd. The Good Shepherd lays down his life for the sheep."
