AD-LIB-BEN

More than 100 persons gathered last Friday night at the Bronte Park primarily to eat homemade ice cream and secondarily to honor James and Liz Golson on their 25th wedding anniversary.

The ice cream and cake were wonderful and after the crowd was saturated with the goodies, they finally got around to bringing up the purpose of the occasion.

The Golsons were finally brought up and presented a number of gifts plus a money tree.

We have no idea as to the dimensions of the tree, and we didn't hear Mr. G. say, but we would bet a dollar to a hole in a donut that he was thinking: "Gosh, that thing is beautiful and the color is just right but the size is a little bit small."

A couple of characters like G. and Liz who have managed to put up with each other for 25 years, we think, deserve each other for at least 25 more.

1976 GRADS HIKING-OFF TO COLLEGE

Quite a few of other 1976 graduates are making plans to go to college, but have not made a definite decision as to where they will go.

Coke Pageant This Weekend

A pageant, "A History of Coke County, Home of the Rabbit Twisters," will be presented Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Robert Lee School Auditorium.

The musical history of Coke County was written and directed by Lucille Bryan and is primarily based on Jessie N. Yarbrough's forthcoming book which gave the pageant its name.

Mrs. Yarbrough's history and Mrs. Bryan's pageant depict the county's history from 1854 with Indians and military men at Fort Chadbourne, continuing through the Fencing War, pioneer family life, organization of Coke County, the fight to move the county seat from Hayrick to Robert Lee, a look at early schools and churches, "for-eigners" who contributed to county growth, and the impact of Black Gold.

Names of many families involved in pioneering, whose descendants are still familiar today, will be used. There are approximately 100 persons involved in this production.

Narrating by choir and speakers give a good review of county history, ending with a rousing finale projecting us into our nation's third century, a better Coke County, Texas, U.S.A.

A large amount of audience participation should prevent fatigue and contribute to a casual, enjoyable program.

Two performances will be given, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 27 and 28. Admission is $1.00 for adults, 50 cents for children under 12, pre-schoolers free.

Everyone is invited and urged to attend this extravaganza, which is part of the Coke County Bicentennial Program.

Voter Registration to Be Pushed

Coke County is joining with the rest of the state in conducting a campaign to get voters registered in time to vote in this fall Presidential election.

A voter registration application blank is being printed inside of this week's paper. It is being provided as a public service by the First National Bank in Bronte and The Bronte Enterprise.

Citizens who are not registered to vote are urged to fill out the blank and mail it to Tax Assessor-Collector O. B. Jacobs, Robert Lee Texas 76945 before Oct. 1.

Secretary of State Mark White, the state's chief election officer, stated that a new registration law provides that Texans need only fill out a registration postcard and mail it. The application in this newspaper will serve the same purpose.

Registration applications are also available through the county tax assessor's office or by calling a toll free number in White's Austin office. The number, which is open during business hours is 112-800-292-9602.

White said his office is putting on a massive drive to get voters registered between now and Oct. 1. "We hope to literally put voter registration at the fingertips of most Texans before the registration deadline," he said.

Applications will also be on display in many food stores around the state, White said.

White said there was lots of room for improvement over the last presidential election when only 43 per cent of voting age Texans cast ballots.

The Enterprise plans to push this drive until Oct. 1 and wants to thank the First National Bank for its concern and help.

If you are not a registered voter, please fill out the application blank inside this paper and mail it to the tax assessor in Robert Lee.

Home Laundry

PLAN AHEAD

Sort clothes according to type of fabric, color-fastness, degree of soil and garment construction. You'll save both hot water and electricity by doing similar items together. Accumulate a full load before running your washer.

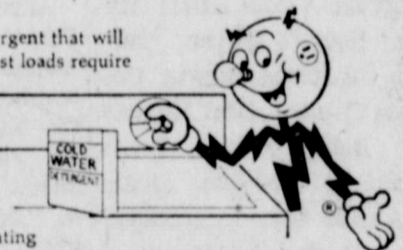

BE SELECTIVE

Choose the cycle that is precisely appropriate for the clothes you are washing. Is a "hot" temperature setting really necessary? Except for heavily soiled items, most loads will come clean in either a cold or warm wash. Look into cold wash detergents.

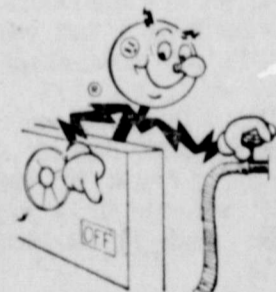

Use the least amount of detergent that will get your clothes clean — most loads require only an ounce or less!

Overloading causes extra strain and wear on your equipment: check the manufacturer's recommendations for load weight. Balance your load by alternating small and large items.

FOR SAFETY SAKE

Be sure control is "off" before reaching into your washer. If one is necessary, use only a heavy duty extension cord. Be sure your washer is grounded. Keep dry cleaning agents, color remover and Fibreglas out of your washer. It's a good idea not to wash clothes containing cleaning fluids in your washer.

Coke Ladies Report on European Tour

(Editor's Note: The article below was written by Mrs. Charlie Boecking of Bronte and relates the experiences she and Mrs. W. T. Roach had on a recent tour of Central Europe. We found her story very interesting and believe our readers will enjoy it.)

We left Dallas-Fort Worth Airport about 2 p.m. June 27 and arrived 3½ hours later in Bangor, Maine, for a fuel stop and change of crew before we crossed the Atlantic. Everyone, lawyers, dentists and bankers, all 219 of our party stormed the souvenir shop to buy cards to write home that we were finally on our way.

We had a very smooth flight over the Atlantic, England and France and our first view of the Alps was with early morning sun on the snow. This view was from 37,000 feet and we saw them in all their majesty. That was a sight I shall never forget.

When we arrived at the Hotel International in Zurich, Switzerland, the keys were in our respective doors so most of us, after checking out the bathroom, etc., got about two hours sleep before going on an afternoon tour of the city of Zurich.

The city is very clean. The lake that is in the center of the city is clean and clear. The weather was very warm and sunny and people were out in the parks and there were many sail boats on the lake—motor boats are not allowed on the lake because of pollution.

I expected the banks to be outstanding in appearance because Zurich is the financial and banking capital of the world. But they were just large, square buildings with heavy bars on the windows. Not a numbered account in sight. One outstanding thing about Zurich is the high cost of houses—$100,000.00 up. The average person lives in an apartment. The average worker's income is approximately $600 per month but they have high taxes, including a church tax.

After a good night's rest, we left at 8 the next morning on an all day tour. We passed through the Swiss countryside to reach the shores of Lake Lucerne where they put our buses on a large ferry and we crossed the lake. By this time we were deep in the Alps. Such beauty is impossible to describe. As one of the very charming tour guides so aptly put it, "Here your eyes have something to do." After driving through Engleberg Valley to Engleberg, we ascended by funicular (cog rail) and three changes of cable cars to Mount Teli, Central Switzerland's highest peak. The view from there was fantastic. It was like being on top of the world. After enjoying this for about two hours, we descended for lunch and then on to Lucerne for sightseeing and shopping.

Their highways are very modern and functional. They have completed their highway program at a very high cost. It was a tired but happy group that returned to the hotel in Zurich that evening.

(This article will be continued next week.)

Having just completed roof repairs from a recent storm, I need to know whether the new roof is insured in case of another storm.

If you have all ready collected on one roof repair necessitated by a storm it would be advisable to have receipts, contracts etc., proving that the roof was indeed repaired competently. Satisfactory roof repair would qualify you for collecting from your insurance should another storm cause a leak. The cost of repairs would be looked at by your insurance company as being necessitated by two separate catastrophes. However, in order for your insurance to pay for the damage caused by the second storm, the deductible must once again be met. It is important to notify your company as soon as possible after such damages are incurred.
