The Facts in the Case.

When you read a thing you like to feel that it's the truth. THE DALLAS SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS gives the facts the case.

THE PERFECT LIVER MEDICINE.

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Noble, O. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years, and can cheerfully recommend it as the most perfect liver medicine and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit, and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find a lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever-producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at H. H. Pearce's.

NEED MORE HELP.

Often the over-taxed organs of digestion cry out for help by Dyspepsia's pains, Nausea, Dizziness, Headaches, liver complaints, bowel disorders. Such troubles call for prompt use of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are gentle, thorough and guaranteed to cure. 25c at H. H. Pearce's drug store.

H. Pearce's drug store.

M. H. Havens made us a pleasant call wednesday. He says cotton is almost hip high and nearly oaked between the rows.

Tom Hennesey is pulling the reins on one of the Robert Lee and San Angelo mail hacks these days.

We are authorized to announce M. H. Havens as a candidate for the office of county commissioner of Precinct No. 2 at the November election.

Mr Havens is well known in his precinct, and we feel that any comment on him from the Rustler is unnecessary, as Mr. Havens has served in that capacity before, and the people know that he is qualified to fill the office.

THE BOSS WORM MEDICINE.

H. P. Kumpke, Druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child, which was sick, and threw up all food, could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at H. H. Pearce's.

Uncle Tom one of the Rustlers best correspondance was in town last Friday.

W. L. Powers, who has been in very feeble health for some eight or ten months, died at his home, two miles west of Edith, Thursday morning at four o'clock. His children, were all present when he died, except Mrs. J. R. mill, who was sick.

The Rustler extends sympathy to the family in this their sad bereavement.

Frank Holcombe who has been visiting friends and prospecting here for several days will leave to day or tomorrow for Kaufman and other points in north Texas.

SEVERELY INJURED.

Dave Smith, an employe on the Hanna ranch near here, was quite severely injured Tuesday by being caught between a wagon, drawn by a pair of mules, and a gate. Several of his ribs were broken, and he was badly bruised up other wise and will be incapacitated from work for a few days.—Sweet Water Review.

STOCKMEN, HORSEMEN, AND OTHERS.

The undersigned has bought the Texas Wagon Yard business, corner Twohig ave. and Courthouse street, and solicits the patronage of the public. Will buy, trade and sell horses, making a specialty of this branch on Fridays and Saturdays. Will break horses to ride and drive and board them by the day, week or month as well as take first-class care of vehicles. Also do a general livery business.

TOO MUCH TROUBLE.

A belated traveler, who was compelled to stay all night in a backwoods cabin, says that soon after the frugal meal a tall, gaunt youth of about 18 and an equally sallow and gaunt girl of 17, bare-footed took their hats from wooden pegs in the wall and prepared to go out, where upon the mother, taking her pipe from between her yellow teeth, said reprovingly: "Go 'long an' wash your feet, Levi, you an, Looly both! Hain't you 'shamed to go off to an evenin' party without washin' your feet?" They obeyed, but as Levi took the washpan from a bench by the door, he said, with a grumble: "I'd 'bout as soon stay home from a party as to have to fix up for it!"

IN MEMORY of my only little girl, Dorris, who died, May 26th, 1902.—Age 3 yrs, 2 months, and 6 days.

We had a little treasure once, she was our joy and pride, we loved her, ah! perhaps too well, for soon she slept and died. All is dark within our dwelling, lonely are our hearts to day, for the one we loved so dearly has forever passed away. Those little lips so sweet to kiss are closed forever now, those sparkling eyes that shone so bright, beneath the pearly brow, that little heart that beat so high, free from all care and gloom, are hidden now from those she loved—beneath the silent tomb. The little crib is empty now, the clothes laid by, a mother's hope, a father's joy, in death's cold arms doth lie. Go little pilgrim, to thy home on yonder blissful shore; we miss thee here, but will soon come, where thou hast gone before. When we see a precious blossom, that we tended with such care, rudely taken from our bosom—how our aching hearts despair! Round it's little grave we linger, till the setting sun is low, feeling all our hopes have perished with the flower we cherished so. 'Tis hard to break the tender chord, when love has bound the heart. 'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words "we must forever part." Dearest loved one we must lay thee, in the peaceful grave's embrace, but thy memory will be cherished 'till we see thy heavenly face. Thy gentle voice now is hushed, thy warm true heart is still, and on its young and innocent brow, is resting death's cold chill. Thy hands are clasped upon thy face, we have kissed thy lovely face, and in our aching hearts we know, we have no darling no w. Through all pain at times she'd smile, a smile of Heavenly birth; and when the Angels called her home, she smiled farewell to earth. Heaven retaineth now our treasure, earth the lonely casket keeps, and the sun-beams love to linger, where our darling baby sleeps. A bud to us the gardener gave, a pure and lovely child, he gave it to our keeping, to cherish undefiled. But just as it was opening, to the glory of the day, down came the Heavenly Angel and took the bud away. This lovely bud so young and fair, called hence by early doom, just came to show how sweet a flower, in paradise would bloom. Ere sin could harm or sorrow fade, death came with friendly care, the opening bud to Heaven, conveyed and bade it blossom there. A precious one from us is gone, a voice we loved is still, a place is vacant in our home that never can be filled. God in His wisdom has recalled, the boon his love had given, and though the body slumbers here, the soul is safe in Heaven. Precious darling she has left us, left us, yes forever more. But we hope to meet our loved one on that bright and happy shore. Lonely the house and sad the hours since our dear one has gone; but oh! a brighter home than ours, in Heaven is now her own. Peaceful be thy silent slumber, peaceful in thy grave so low: Thou no more wilt join our number, thou no more our sorrows know, yet again we hope to meet thee, when the day of life is fled, and th' heaven with joy to greet thee, where no farewell tears are shed. Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep, from whom ever wake to weep, a silent and undisturbed repose! unbroken by the last of foes, Asleep in Jesus, far from thee thy kindred and their graves may be; but thine is a blessed sleep, from which none ever wake to weep. We have lost our darling baby, she bid us all adieu: she's gone to live in heaven, and her form is lost to view. Oh! that darling how we loved her! oh! how hard to give her up! but an Angel came down for her and removed her from our flock. Another little lamb was gone, to dwell with him who gave: another little darling babe is sheltered in the grave, God needed no more angel child amidst his shining band, so he bent with loving smile, and clasped our darling's hand. Sleep on in thy beauty, thou sweet angel child, by sorrow unlighted, by sin undefiled. Like the dove to the ark, thou hast flown to thy rest, from the wild sea of strife, to the home of the blest. Call not back the dear departed, anchored safe where storms are o'er. On the borderland we left her, soon to meet and part no more. When we leave this world of care, we shall find our missing loved one, in our father's mansion fair. 'Twas not in anger, or in strife, the reaper came that day, 'twas an Angel visited the earth, and took our flower away. In some spot where vulgar herbage grows, if chance a Violet raise its purple head, the careful gardener moves it ere it blooms, to thrive and flourish in a nobler bed: such was thy fate dear child, thy opening such! pre-eminence, in early bloom was shown: for earth, too good, perhaps: loved too much—Heaven saw and early marked thee for its own. Farewell: dear but not forever, there will be a glorious dawn; we shall meet to part no never! on the resurrection morn. Tho' thy darling form lies sleeping, in the cold and silent tomb, thou shalt have a glorious waking—when the blessed Lord doth come. I am a young mother, bending o'er the couch of my slumbering child—and I kiss the soft lips as they murmur my name while the dreamer lay smiling in joy. O sweet as the Rosebud encircled with dew, when its fragrance is flung on the air, so fresh and so bright she seems to me, as she lay in her innocence there. But I know when I gaze on the same lovely form, pale as marble, and silent and cold. But paler and colder my beautiful girl.

That the tale of my sorrow is told—But the Healer is there, who has stricken my heart and taken my treasure away, to allure me to Heaven—He has placed it on high, and I will sweetly obey: There had whispered a voice of my God. "I love thee—I love thee—pass under the rod!"

A GOOD TYPE OF SUMMER RELIGION NEEDED.

In most communities there is a disposition in the heated term, to grow lax and indifferent in the discharge of religious duties; and this fact makes the Summer season on a hard one on the preachers. The nights are short and warm, and when the prayermeeting time approaches it is an easy matter to persuade oneself that he ought to retire early and get a good night's rest instead of attending the prayer service. And while he is listening to that plausible temptation, scores of other Church members are heeding the same arguments, and the result is that the pastor finds only a handful of the very faithful ones when he enters the chapel for the midweek service. Nevertheless he has taken some suitable subject under prayerful consideration arranged many appropriate Scripture passages adapted specially to the spiritual needs of his people but they are not there to get the benefit of his earnest preparation. Empty benches confront him and he is often discouraged because of what seems to him a lack of interest and appreciation upon the part of his membership. And the same applies to the Sunday service to a certain degree. When the holy day comes round, a man has no trouble to convince himself that he has had a hard week and needs a day of rest. So instead of getting up at the usual hour and making preparation for the public duties of the day, he sleeps in, lounges about and takes his ease until it is too late to attend Sunday-school, and when the hour for worship approaches he concludes that the weather is really too hot to go to Church. So he spends the day listlessly and to no religious advantage. As a matter of fact, a great many people do the same thing, and the public services are poorly attended. Yet the pastor has made hard preparation and is expected to preach two good sermons for the benefit of his people. Such a course of conduct is most discouraging to the faithful minister of the gospel. If it is the duty of the preacher to be at prayer service and at his morning and night services on Sunday, prepared to speak out of God's Word to the people, they ought to be present also to attend upon what he has to participate in the public worship. A good type of summer religion is badly needed all over this country.

Two Standards of Morals.
(From The Mason News.)

Argument is necessary to convince an intelligent mind that society has two codes of morals—one for man, another for woman. That for man is liberal in the broader sense of the word. It gives him latitude. True he is tethered, but the tether is long and more than that it is elastic: It lets him go; it draws him back. He may fall on the gutter and yet not be a hopeless wretch. Reformers will talk to him and when he starts up society will extend a welcome hand. He can use profane language and not lower his social standing. He can steal, he can foully murder, he can ruin innocent womanhood, and from these degrading deeds climb to an anchoring place in society. Not so with woman. When once she falls in the street, society wants her no more. When her lips are soiled with profanity, the brand mark is put upon her and she is shunned. When her feet wander from the path of virtue, she is forced to dwell with the outcast and her doom is forever fixed. Is it right that woman should be dealt with so rigidly and man so leniently? Is it right to magnify crime in one and minimize crime in the other? Society says yes, and society is not so far wrong as one would think when first see plumps the subject. Its error is in dealing with man too easily and not that of fixing different standards. Harsh as it may sound, we make bold to assert that there should be two codes—that the stricter should be for woman. It should be so for the reason that crime in woman is greater because of her superior influence. An audacious crime in Roosevelt would be worse than the same crime committed by a man in the humbler walks of life—worse because it would be noticed by more people and have more imitators. His responsibility is greater and with that increased accountability comes an increased influence superior to that of man is readily seen. She it is that fixes the standard of society. If she dwell on a low plane, the standard is low; if she dwell on a higher plane, the standard is high. Boast as he may of his social pull, man must admit that the standard is fixed not by himself, but by the fine hand of the opposite sex. In works for good, in works for bad, superiority belongs to woman. With tender heart, with gentle hand with pleading voice, she can torch the wayward when every other power on earth has failed. To the sick room she is the angel of mercy, to society she is the influence that gives it tone, to the fireside she is the guide mark that gives it purity and happiness.

William J. Caey of Coleman county, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Fry this week.

H. H. Pearce, our popular druggist, made a trip out in the Valley View neighborhood Tuesday.

HOUSEWORK
Too much housework wrecks women's nerves. And the constant care of children, day and night, is often too trying for even a strong woman. A haggard face tells the story of the overworked housewife and mother. Deranged menses, leucorrhœa and falling of the womb result from overwork. Every housewife needs a remedy to regulate her menses and to keep her sensitive female organs in perfect condition.

WINE OF CARDUI
is doing this for thousands of American women to-day. It cured Mrs. Jones and that is why she writes this frank letter:

Glendean, Ky., Feb. 10, 1901.
I am so glad that your Wine of Cardui is helping me. I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I am doing my own work without any help, and I washed last week and was not one bit tired. That shows that the Wine is doing me good. I am getting fatter than I ever was before, and sleep good and eat heartily. Before I began taking Wine of Cardui, I used to have to lay down five or six times every day, but now I do not think of lying down through the day.
MRS. RICHARD JONES.

Entered at the postoffice at Robert Lee, Texas, as second-class matter.

A post office has been established at Venice, Coke county, and Laurie C. House appointed post master.

The Democratic State convention held at Galveston this week has marked an era in the eventful lives of the old Confederate soldiers of Texas.

Col. Sam Lanham who was nominate for Governor, is no doubt, the last Confederate soldier who will be the Chief Executive of the great State of Texas, and to thus honor him is a duty nobly done, for it will be the last vote that many old soldiers will cast for a man who fought for the Lost cause, for they are rapidly passing from the stage of action. After Mr. Lanham shall have served four years as Governor of the greatest state in the union, it is safe to say that no other Confederate soldier will ever be Governor of Texas.

The property, owners and progressive people in Coke county, and especially those in and near Robert Lee, should lend their influence toward securing the Orient for Robert Lee. We want the rail road and think the county seat is the place for it. To have the road to go East or West of us would only bring about a rivalry that will most certainly be against the best interest of the whole county. Our county capitol is already established here, and to get the rail road will forever settle the agitation of moving it elsewhere. So let every-body talk and pull for our town. You can't afford to do otherwise—Mark the prediction. If we can get the rail road Robert Lee will be a town of 5000 inhabitants in five years.

SAVES A WOMAN'S LIFE.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, Dorchester Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often", she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by H. H. Pearce Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Luttrell-Williams.

Robert Lee was the scene of a beautiful marriage ceremony Wednesday evening. Jim Luttrell and Miss Jennie Lou Williams, of Bronte, were the happy couple. They were accompanied by Mr. Jim Offield and Miss Lillie Hickman, Mr. Charlie Taylor and Miss Willie Sims, Mr. Charlie Luttrell and Miss Taylor, and an other couple, whose name we did not learn. Immediately on arriving in town the party went to the Lee hotel, where the marriage took place; Judge Gid Graham officiating in his usual graceful manner.

Mr. Luttrell is one of Bronte's enterprising young men and is to be congratulated in choosing for his life partner the young lady whose many traits of character have endeared her to those who know her best.

The Rustler join their many friends in wishing them abundant happiness and prosperity along their chosen pathway.

Fr. Chadbourne, Texas.

To the Rustler:

Our meeting commenced at 11 A. M. with a fine start-off. Three conversions Sunday night. Seven in all up to Tuesday night. Brother Steel is giving satisfaction. The outlook is good for more conversions. We commenced at Saneo Saturday night before the fourth Sunday in July.

W. K. Simpson.

A SPLENDID REMEDY.

Neuralgic pains, rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yield to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Lintment. It penetrates to the nerves and bone, and being absorbed into the blood its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures. Dr. D. F. Moore, Agent Illinois Central Railway, Milan, Tenn., states: I have used Ballard's Snow Lintment for rheumatism, backache, etc. in my family. It is a splendid remedy. We could do without it 25c 50c and $1. at H. H. Pearce's.

Jack: Roy, who has been off at work for some months, is with some folks again.

Frank E. Thomas left Robert Lee, Saturday eve for old Runnel and returned Tuesday bringing his wife and baby with him.

NOTICE.

Satisfactory arrangements have been made with the people of San Angelo, for grounds and other assistance for our reunion on the 6 and 7 of August. I have been ordered by Comdr., J. W. Rotchford, gen. Comdr., to give notice of the followin order: That the Colorado Concho Confederate Veterans association, of West Texas will meet on the 6 of Aug. on the North Concho three miles below San Angelo, for a general reunion. Every body is invited to be on hand and have plenty of good grub for themselves and friends. Good camping grounds and fine water have been secured for the public. So all you have to do to have a good time is to come and have your basket filled with the good things, that are needed on such occasions.

We will have some of the best speakers of the state to address the people during the time, notice of which will be more fully given later on. At least 10000 people is expected to be on hand, and we expect to have a good program as the daughters of the South are in this.

Now comrades and friends, do not forget this order, but be on hand and have a well filled basket.

H. H. Hayley, Lieut. Com.

Per order of J. W. Rotchford, Com'ia Chief.
