The Senate committee on Constitutional Amendments set the two resolutions proposing amendments to authorize a sales tax, for p yment of the social security program, for hearing Tuesday night, February 28.

One of the most important actions of the week was the passage by the Senate of the bill regulating mutual life insurance. The act requires all such compames to pay the full face value of their policies if they continue to do business in Texas. Burial associations were also brought under regulation in the act.

Local Store Observes Second Anniversary

Friday and Saturday of last week the "M" System Store oberved its second anniversary in tobert Lee. Employees and ofcials of the store went to much fort to have everything in eadiness for the event. The store was well stocked with a complete line or staple and fancy merchandise. A truck load of fresh vegetables and fruit was unloaded late Thursday especially for the event. Another truck was unloaded Saturday morning to replenish the stock. Those in charge report a most pleasing response from their customers as they celebrated the occasion. The volume of business for the two days was exceedingly fine. The store carried a full page in the last edition of the Observer in which a mass of bargains were offered the buying public. Briefly the manager commented, "We could not have hoped for a better Anniversary Sale -- we really appreciate the patronage and the fine pirit of our customers and friends."

At a drawing held at 5:15 Saturda, afternoon a huge Anniversary cake was given away. Alma Gene Escue was the name drawn. Mrs. Mollie Gray drew a can of Schilling's coffee presented by the representative of

You Must Decide

WHAT PRICE HUMAN LIFE

RUCKING interests demand legislative authority to increase the existing truck load limit on Texas highways, arrogantly ignoring the fact that highway hazards to life and limb grow greater

On the highways of Texas in 1937, the last year for which authentic figures are available, 670 persons men, women and children . . . lost their lives in accidents in which trucks were involved . . . and 3,360 others were injured . . . many of them permanently disabled.

In the past six years 1932 to 1937, inclusive the number of persons killed annually in truck accidents increased from 241 to 670 and those injured from 887 to 3,360. These indisputable figures taken from actual accounts of truck accidents published in Texas newspapers show that in the six-year period 2,936 persons lost their lives and 15,183 were injured in truck crashes on the highways of our state. The number killed is greater than the population of Odessa, Gatesville, Lampasas, La Grange, Raymondville or a score of other thriving Texas cities while the number killed and injured exceeds the population of Sherman, Marshall, Corsicana or Paris, all ale of official records of accidents in which trucks were involved reveals a Sighway that fact that the heaviest and largest trucks, as a class, operating over Texas highways in 1907, showed a death rate of four and one-half times that of all trucks, large and small, and almost seven times that for all motor vehicles, including trucks.

The combination of weight and the of motor vehicles is thus definitely proved to the controlling factor in fatal highway accidents . . . the heavier the vehicle . . . the motor the more surely is hills or esipples.

The statutes now in effect have governed truck operations on Texas highways since 1931 and the ever-growing toll of truck accidents, injuries and deaths, reflects only the increasing ingenuity of the operators of overloaded trucks in evading or openly defying the laws created to control them in the interest of public safety. Large trucks use your highways only by your permission expressed through your legislature.

Texas citizens and taxpayers have built and maintained Texas highways. They are definitely entitled to the safe use of them and not to be driven from them by those who seek to operate upon them for selfish gain.
