NEW GAS PLANT WILL BE BUILT IN THIS COUNTY

Wide interest was directed to Coke County oil activities the past week when it was announced that a new natural gasoline plant was to be constructed across the river southwest of Silver.

Plans for the new project have been under discussion for several months, but nothing had been in print until a first page story appeared in last Sunday's San Angelo Standard-Times. (A reprint of the article is published elsewhere in this issue of The Observer.)

Sun Oil Company has been negotiating with oil operators in the area, in an effort to pipe the gas into the Jameson plant at Silver. However, those plans seem to have failed and Texas Natural Gas Corp., of Tulsa, Okla., announces it will build the new plant.

This field is expanding rapidly and as many as 200 producing wells are expected to be developed. Perkins-Prothro of Wichita Falls has probably the largest leased acreage, and may have as many as 140 wells. Stanolind has extensive leases on the Spade Ranch, and Humble, Fuller & Miller, F. Kirk Johnson and T. Murray are among the operators who are developing the area.

Sun is now piping gas from new wells across the river including S. E. Adams, Magnolia and American Republics, as well as their own wells south of the Jameson field on John Walker and the Blanks Estate. It is probable that most of the remaining gas from the field will be processed by the new plant.

Since the Railroad Commission owns on continued waste of gas, it is a foregone conclusion that the new plant will be rushed to completion as soon as possible.

County officials and residents of Bronte and Robert Lee are anxious to see the Santa Fe run spur out of Bronte, if the company decides to build a railroad to the new field.

Directors of the Upper Colorado River Authority say they have not been approached on the matter of furnishing water.

Mrs. A. J. Roe, Jr. Returns Here As County HD Agent

Mrs. A. J. Roe, Jr., the former Faye Croslin, has returned to her former position as Coke County Home Demonstration Agent. She has been selected to succeed Miss Jonell Black, who has resigned to be married.

Just ten years ago Miss Croslin came here as this county's first full time Home Demonstration Agent. She was a graduate of Texas State College for Women at Denton and had served three years as assistant agent at Tyler. She was also engaged in Civil Service work in connection with feeding troops at Fort Bliss and Hobbs AFB during the war.

Miss Croslin was married in February 1946 to A. J. Roe, Jr. of Robert Lee and resigned her HD position in July. They purchased a farm from her parents at Honey Grove and operated the place several years. Because of the drought they returned to West Texas two years ago and Mr. Roe has been engaged in oil field work.

They have resided in Robert Lee several months and Mr. Roe is now employed by D. S. & R. Construction Co. The Roes have two children, Daphne, 7, and A. J. III.

Mrs. Roe has already taken over her work and last week attended a training school at Texas A & M College. She plans to get started with 4-H Club meetings next week.

Miss Black has been on a two weeks' vacation and will be here Friday to formally turn the office over to Mrs. Roe.

MUSICAL POSTPONED

Because of the football game in Robert Lee Friday night, the monthly Junior Grand Old Opera at Green Mountain will be held Friday night of next week, Oct. 29. The 29th is an open date for the Steers. This arrangement is for this month only, and the event next month will be held on the fourth Friday as usual.

Editorial

LET'S BUILD IT NOW

Now is the time for Coke County to build a new Court House. Big increases of tax money from oil properties make it possible to have this much needed building without any increase in tax levies. A bond issue of $300,000 to construct proposed new Court House can positively be paid off in 15 years and probably less.

Another page in this newspaper gives more details of the county's financial position, as well as some information as to the excellent county building that is being proposed.

It is highly important to consider that oil development is continuing in Coke County, and no one can predict how far it will go. We do know that 21 rotary rigs are drilling now and many new producing wells will be brought in this year. This indicates that the taxing valuation will have another big jump next year, probably as much as 3 million dollars or more.

This means that additional funds will be available for roads and other improvements. The road funds are already benefitting by enormous increases of taxes.

Everyone agrees a new Court House is needed. It is merely a question of good judgment to build it now.

We have had other bond issues recently. They include new school houses in Bronte and Robert Lee and a new paving project in Precinct 1. But these taxing districts are benefitting from oil and the bonds can be paid off on schedule. It is a bad practice to borrow money unless you know how you are going to pay it back.

Coke County can vote bonds for a new Court House and rest assured that the bonds will be retired without a hitch. Oil production will continue many years and likely will be at its peak during the next 15 years.

Goodness, No! Not 30 Per Cent

The office of Paul Good, county tax assessor-collector, has been answering inquiries relative to a discount of 30% on state and county taxes paid during October.

The Observer two weeks ago stated that such a discount was available to early taxpayers, but it was a typographical error.

However, you can get a 3% discount if you pay your taxes this month. During November the discount drops to 2% and only 1% is allowed during December.

A lot of tax money is coming in now, and most of the big taxpayers will take advantage of the 3% discount and pay before the end of October.

QUARTERBACK CLUB

Postmaster Bub Lewis announces the Quarterback Club will meet Thursday night of this week at 7 o'clock at the school house. Mr. Lewis is president of the organization and a good turnout is requested. More members are needed and everyone interested in helping the Steers is invited to join the club.

BOBBIE DAVIDSON

Robert Lee Girl Is Senior at H-SU

Bobbie Kathryn Davidson is a senior student at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. She expects to receive a Bachelor of Business Degree next June, and a six-year high school teaching certificate. Economics is her minor.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Davidson of Edith, Bobbie is a graduate of Robert Lee High School and attended San Angelo College two years before enrolling at H-SU.

Hardin-Simmons, a co-educational, liberal arts school, was founded in Abilene in 1891 by the Sweetwater Baptist Association. From a modest beginning with $5,000 capital and 16 acres of land, the University has grown to one of the top Baptist colleges and now boasts one of the most modern educational plants in the Southwest with more than 5 million dollars in resources.

BCD LUNCHEON

The first of a series of BCD luncheon meetings was held Thursday of last week at Henry's Barbecue. It was voted to continue the noon meetings every two weeks and they will be held on Wednesday hereafter. Next Wednesday the group will hear a discussion of constitutional amendments to be voted upon at the general Election Nov. 2. A. V. Sheppard is in charge of the program.

JUNIOR FOOTBALLERS WIN

Robert Lee Junior High football team won a 34-0 victory over the Colorado City seventh graders at Colorado City last Saturday morning. A return game will be played in Robert Lee Saturday, Oct. 30.

Absentee Vote Deadline Near

District Clerk Weldon Fikes advises that the deadline for absentee voting on the Court House Bond proposition is next Wednesday.

Persons who expect to be out of town on election day may take advantage of the absentee voting law. They may appear in person at the Court house, or request that a ballot be mailed to them.

Little interest is being shown in the General Election to be held Tuesday, Nov. 2. Next Saturday, Oct. 30, is the final date for getting an absentee ballot for the General Election.

HERMLEIGH TO PLAY STEERS FRIDAY NIGHT

Hermleigh Cardinals, considered one of the strongest teams in District 6-B, will be seen in action here Friday night against the Robert Lee Steers. Hermleigh is undefeated this season and has been running roughshod over all opponents.

The Steers would like to win a game from the Cardinals, but they haven't been able to since they entered the new conference seven years ago. And it is doubtful if this is the year to turn the trick. However, upsets are frequent in football, and the 1954 Steers are a high scoring and explosive club that are sure to upset the dope bucket before the season is over.

Hermleigh had an open date last week and should be in fine fettle for their contest here Friday night.

A big crowd is expected and a thrilling game assured. There will be plenty of added attractions with the crack Robert Lee Band performing between halves. The student body and fans have lots of enthusiasm this season, led by an attractive and hard-working group of cheer leaders.

Atha Hall and Bill Simpson, both starting linemen, will be out of action again this week. Hall received a bad back injury in the Hobbs game and Simpson is suffering from illness. Other members of the squad are willing and ready.

Robert Lee was out scored but not out classed at Loraine. Lynn Davidson and Sherman Williams were great on offense, with Sherman turning in his best game of the season. Loraine was pointed to stop Davidson, but nevertheless he got loose for some great runs. The Steer passing attack was not up to par by any means. On the defense Center Roland McArthur was a standout, and on numerous occasions he was through the Bulldog forward wall and threw ball carriers for a loss. Don Bell, Robbie Godwin, Harold Robertson, Jerry Hurley and Jack Gray also played well.

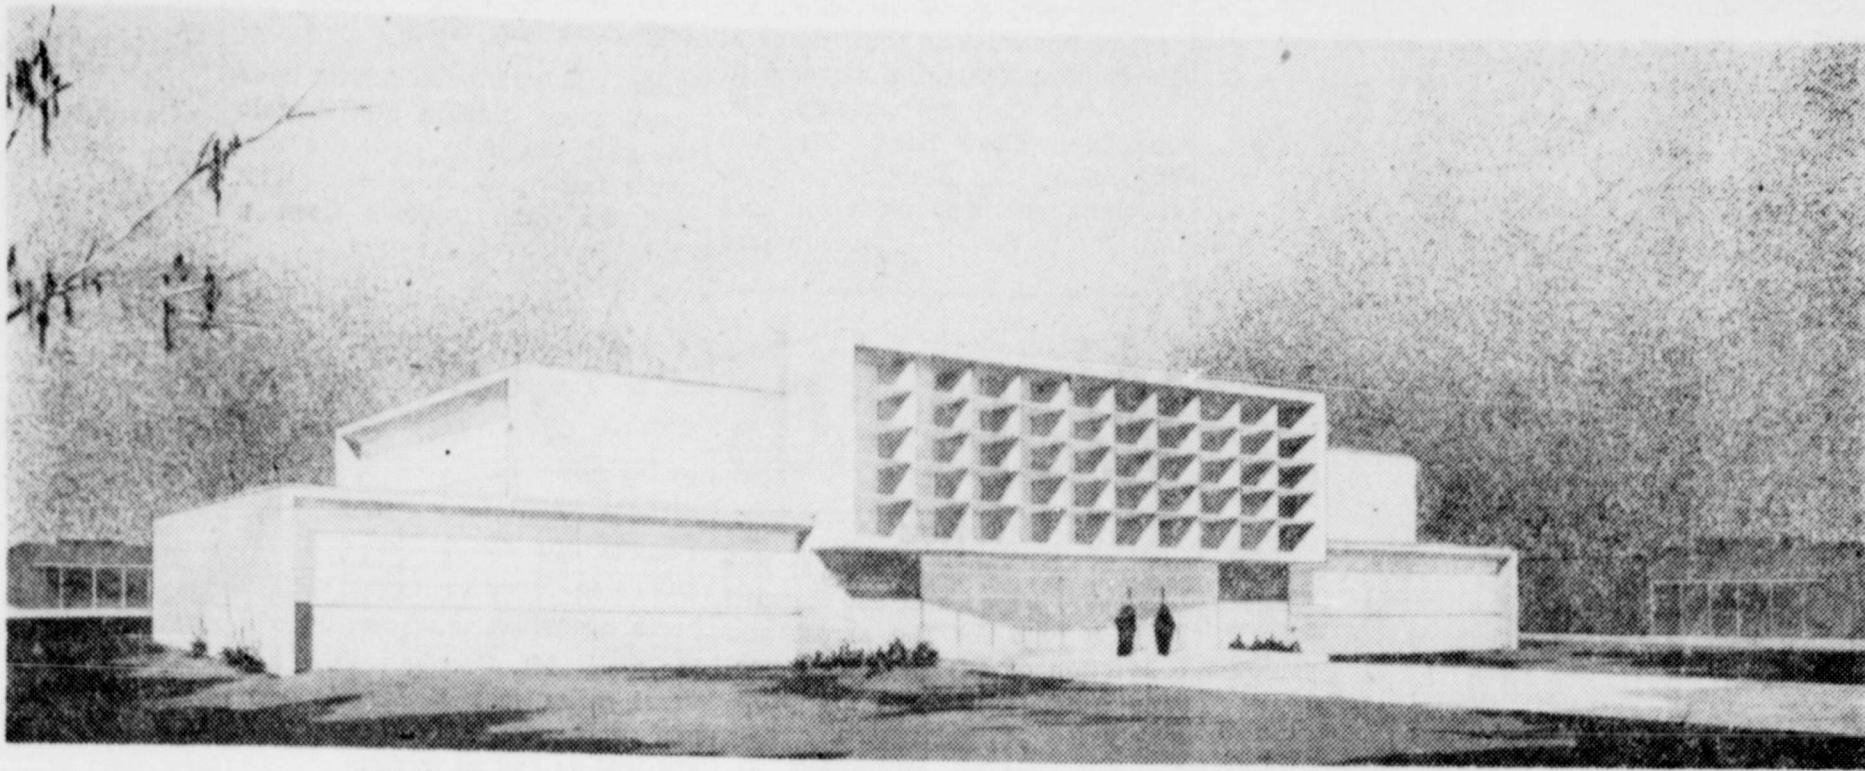

Hobbs found tough going at Bronte last week and fell before the Longhorns by a 33-0 score. Not to take any glory away from Bronte, but it is reported Hobbs was playing without three regulars, one of whom quit school and two had enlisted in the Marines. You see Hobbs defeated Robert Lee two weeks ago 27-20.

Bronte entertains Loraine this week in its final home contest of the year. Hobbs plays at Trent.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Varnadore spent a few days last week in Childress with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mac Mathis.

BIRTHS

DICKEY—Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Dickey, Jr. (Sheila Ryan) are parents of a daughter born Oct. 18 in Coke County Memorial Hospital. Arriving at 9:50 p. m. Deborah Marie weighed 7 pounds 4 ounces. She has a brother, Robert Ryan, 2 years old. The father is Coke County attorney. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Dickey, Sr. of Robert Lee and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Ryan of Minneapolis, Minn.

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF PROPOSED NEW COKE COUNTY COURT HOUSE

Oil Will Build New Court House Without Raising Taxes

Yes, it is possible beyond a doubt for Coke County to pay for a new $300,000 Court House over the next fifteen years, without any tax increase.

It is being made possible because of the continued oil development which has increased the county's taxable valuation from 4½ million dollars in 1946 to more than 25 million dollars in 1954.

The present setup of county tax levies includes 25 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation for the Permanent Improvement Fund, sometimes referred to as Court House and Jail Fund. The proposed Court House Bonds would be paid out of this fund.

Figuring a 25 cent levy on the 25 million dollar valuation, we get the figure of $62,500 which is the approximate amount that the Permanent Improvement Fund will derive in tax money this year.

SURPLUS OF $39,000

Neimier Audit Company's annual report shows that only $23,000 was spent from the fund last year, and it has no present obligations which would exceed that amount at any time. Hence, the fund still will have available more than $39,000 annually.

Prorated over 15 years, there would be $20,000 Court House Bonds coming due each year, while the interest payments will decrease as the principal is retired. Bonds will be sold at 2.35% interest, a highly favorable rate.

Coke County's oil development continues, with 21 drilling rigs operating within our boundaries at this time. As many as 150 new producers are anticipated during the next two years in the northwest corner of the county alone, while activity continues on all sides of Bronte and some new fields may be discovered.

The big taxing valuation on oil properties is bound to increase, providing more funds for better roads and other improvements all over the county which the people may desire in future years.

Most everyone agrees that Coke County needs a new Court House. The old building, erected in 1892, is unsafe, inadequate and in a bad state of repair after more than sixty years of service. It has been kept from falling down by steel rod braces running through the center of the second floor.

THE NEW STRUCTURE

Preliminary plans for the new Court House have been prepared by Architect Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth and his associate, Harry Weaver, of Robert Lee. Outside dimensions are 152 feet by 58 feet. It will be fireproof throughout, constructed of concrete and steel, faced with brick, glass and aluminum.

A small basement provides a storage vault for the county clerk directly below his office on the main floor. Also heating and cooling equipment, public rest rooms, janitor's storage, etc.

Entrance to the building is a double door in the center on the first floor elevation. A corridor runs the entire length of the floor with large office rooms for the clerk, sheriff and tax collector, judge and commissioners, and smaller office space for the treasurer, county agent and home demonstration agent, soil conservation, ASC, Veterans Administration, Justice of the Peace and a conference room with dimensions of 14 x 19 feet.

Two stairways lead to the second floor, where the court room, 40 x 58 feet, occupies the center space. It is provided with 198 seats. At either end are rooms for a judges chamber, jury and grand jury, county attorney, library, county surveyor, rest rooms and a modern jury dormitory. The second floor is only 112 feet long.

BOND ELECTION OCT. 30

A special Election to vote on the proposition of issuing $300,000 in bonds for the construction of a new Coke County Court House has been set for Saturday, Oct. 30. The election was called after a petition with more than 200 signers had been filed.

The election notice includes in part: "whether or not taxes shall be levied annually on all taxable property in said county sufficient to pay the annual interest on said bonds and provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay the bonds at their maturity." This provision will have no bearing in the election, since the county already is levying sufficient taxes in the Permanent Improvement Fund to take care of the new Court House Bond Issue.

History of Coke County

By Jessie Newton Yarbrough

INSTALLMENT 33

Coke County pioneers demonstrated their belief in education for wherever settlers made homes, schools were soon established. These pioneers provided every educational advantage possible under existing circumstances, for no matter how meager their own schooling may have been, they wanted the best for their children.

There was little money for schools in the pioneer settlements therefore school buildings were small and of cheap construction, equipment was extremely meager, school terms were short, teachers were poorly paid, and well qualified teachers were scarce.

The earliest school buildings were small, one-room "boxed and stripped" buildings, constructed of one-by-twelve boxing plank, with one-by-four strips nailed over the cracks. No bonds were issued to build these schools. The men who had children went in wagons to the nearest railroad town, "dug down in their jeans" and paid for the lumber, hauled it to the building site and did the building with their own hands. Schoolroom furniture consisted of home-made benches for children, a home-made table and rawhide or rope-bottomed chair for the teacher. Heating equipment consisted of a wood-burning box-stove, and a wood box for the fuel which was usually mesquite wood hauled and piled near the school by the fathers and chopped into stove lengths by the "big boys" as it was needed.

The public free-school term sometimes lasted no more than two to four months, but the brief free term was usually supplemented by a "subscription" school for another two months. The usual tuition was from one dollar to one dollar fifty cents per month, payable, if the sending family had no money, in anything the teacher or teacher's family could use, as wheat, chickens, pork, et cetera.

It meant real sacrifice on the part of both parents and children to support these pioneer schools. Every dollar paid for tuition was a dollar sorely needed by the parents for the necessities of life. Some students walked as far as four miles to school, starting before sunrise and arriving home at dusk and sometimes dark on short winter days. But so determined were those pioneers that no sacrifice seemed too great, and the weather was seldom too bad for regular attendance at school.

Mrs. G. A. Beeman, the former Lula Newton, remembers her first school thus:

I went to school at Paint Creek School, the old one by Alf Key's in 1891, to Professor St. John, and the next year to Mrs. Hallmark. It was four miles from our house, and we had to start before sunup. School was not out until late, and sometimes it was dark by the time we got back home. Yes, Buddy did go with me for "Sister" was nearly nine and must go to school. Poor little fellow, not quite five, yanked out of bed and sent four miles to make it safer for "Sister"! The weather was seldom too bad for us to go, but sometimes our feet and hands got so cold we cried. You know Papa didn't believe in absence from school.

Children were assigned homework, and the books were carried home each day. Parents, tired after a day of toil, sat up to hear the children read and spell and to lend whatever other assistance they could in preparation of lessons to be "recited" the next day. Books were fairly well-cared-for and were used until worn out. Uniform textbooks and state-owned "free" text books came later.

One of the first schools in Coke County was taught by a Mr. Hall in a "one-room, wooden structure on Mountain Creek, one mile west of Hayrick Mountain and near the spot occupied by the H. C. Allen rock ranch house. This was in 1885-86. It was a four-month "subscription" school. Parents paid $1.50 (one dollar fifty cents) per month for each child. Some of the pupils in that school were Ada, Sally, Alice and Howard Caraway, children of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Caraway, and Wylie Byrd.

After that term, school was moved about two miles east to Sand Springs. There was a good spring at that site which furnished water for the school; then, too, the country was settling up faster in that direction, and he move made it more convenient for a larger number of children.

TULSA FIRM TO CONSTRUCT NEW GASOLINE PLANT NEAR SILVER

Printed from San Angelo Standard-Times)
 The Texas Natural Gasoline of Tulsa will install a gas processing plant with a capacity of 10 million cubic feet of gas in the Silver area of Coke County within the next 18 months. This installation will care for the estimated output of 200 wells in the Jameson (Strawn) field and the Fuller-Coke (Strawn)

Confirmation was provided at a weekend by Harold Teverbaugh, chief engineer of the company, in a long distance telephone talk with The Standard-Times. Cost has not been determined, but an outlay of several hundred dollars is expected.

GAS NOW WASTING

The plant will require 40 employees when finished and should employ 25 to 30 tank cars of propane daily, Teverbaugh said. The company is negotiating now with the Santa Fe Railroad over the right to be built, possibly from Sterling City or Bronte. Surveys have been run on the proposed site on the Blanks Esland south and west of Silver. This site would require 62,000 acres of land, with 58.62 acres of Survey 1, H&TC Ry. Co., 4.16 acres out of Survey 2, L. George of this city made field survey.

Teverbaugh said estimates of reserves in the area to be developed at 300 billion cubic feet of gas, now being flared and wasted. This flaring production, however, has been the means by which estimates could be determined.

First work will start within five or six weeks on installation of five compressor engines. Installation work on processing facilities should be under way in five to six months, Teverbaugh said.

NOW SEEKING WATER

Plans are to erect storage for a million gallons of gas products on the site. The company will process propane, butane, iso-butane, and natural gasoline, all to be run to tank cars. The residue gas will be injected into the reservoir for pressure maintenance, according to current plans. No underground storage of products is contemplated.

The plant will require 300 gallons of water per minute, and the company is making surveys at this time within a radius of 15 to 20 miles for a water supply. If wells to produce this amount of water can be found, the plant may depend on them.

The company may do the construction job itself, but this had not been determined Saturday. One hundred employees will be required in construction, and most of this labor will be recruited in the Coke area.

No superintendent has been named.

Miss Pansy Castello of San Angelo spent the weekend in the Sam Jay home.

Methodist Church Notes

The Robert Lee Methodist Church and Quarterly Conferences are called in special session for Wednesday evening, October 27, at 7:30, to consider and vote upon the construction of a building to house four church school class rooms. Prior to the question of approving the building plans, a vote will be taken on whether the rooms should be used for children's classes or adult classes. By authority of Dr. L. Eugene Harris, District Superintendent, the Reverend Warren Ellis, pastor, will preside. Vote is to be taken by secret ballot, and all members of both conferences are urged to be present. Members of the Church Conference include all church members 18 years of age and older.

To discuss the building plans and arrangement the Commission on Education and the Church School Workers Conference met Wednesday night of this week. Recommendations from this group call for a building adequate for the four classes of the children's division: Cradle Roll, Nursery; Kindergarten; Primary and Junior.

The Young Adult Class met in business session Wednesday night. The principal matter concerned the equipping and maintenance of the Nursery. The class met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hanna.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship is joining with other groups of the community in sponsoring the Halloween "Trick or Treat" Program for Underprivileged Children.

Is It Safe ?

Many religious people believe that one faith is as good as another if we are sincere in what we believe.

Truly, sincerity is to be admired in anyone. The Bible speaks of many people, however, who were religiously sincere but sincerely wrong.

The prophets of Baal were sincere in their idolatry. Kings 18:21-39.) Appolos was sincere in his error. (Acts 19:1-4) Paul was religiously sincere while he was killing Christians (Acts 8:1; 9:1-3.) The Jews were zealous for God, but NOT ACCORDING TO KNOWLEDGE. (Rom. 10:2.) These examples are flanked with many more wherein people were sincere, yet sinful.

If God saves by virtue of sincerity, then every human nice and transgression becomes godly if it is done sincerely.

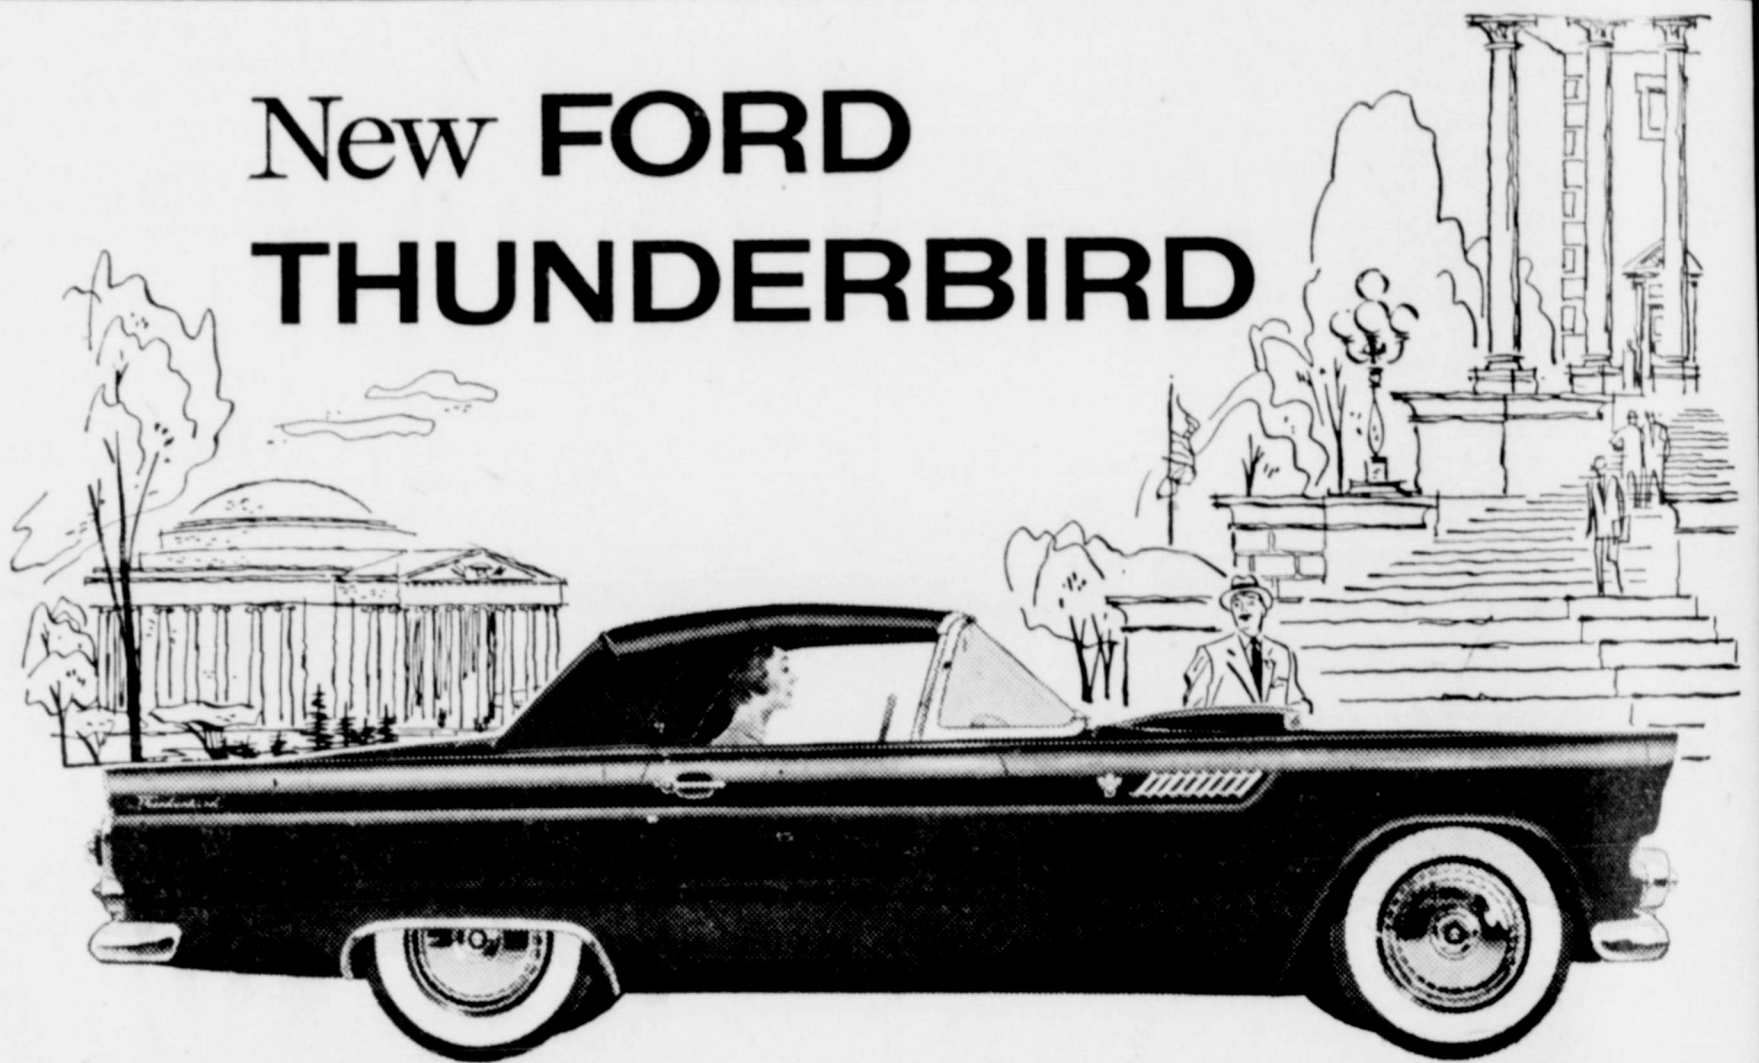

Doctrines of men, however sincere, will damn our souls. (Matt. 15:8-10; Mark 7:9-10; Gal. 1:8-9; Rev. 22:18-20.) God's way is the only right way in religion. (Matt. 7:13-14; John 14:6; John 8:12; Eph. 4:4-5, etc.)

"There is a way that SEEMETH RIGHT unto man, but the end thereof is the ways of DEATH." (Prov. 16:25.)

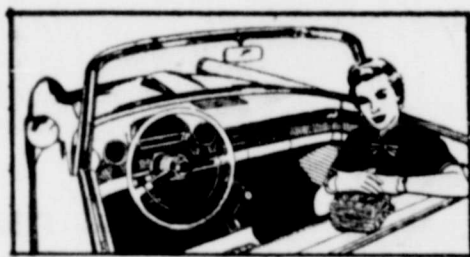

May we all not go our own ways. Let us all go the Lord's way.

Dearly beloved, these articles are not for the mere purpose of showing that we are right and others are wrong. They are designed to show that God is right and cannot be wrong. Let us do His will. New FORD THUNDERBIRD

A personal car of distinction
...with Trigger-Torque performance

You'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top . . . and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned . . . power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up . . . by power, if you like. There is a tachometer . . . and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

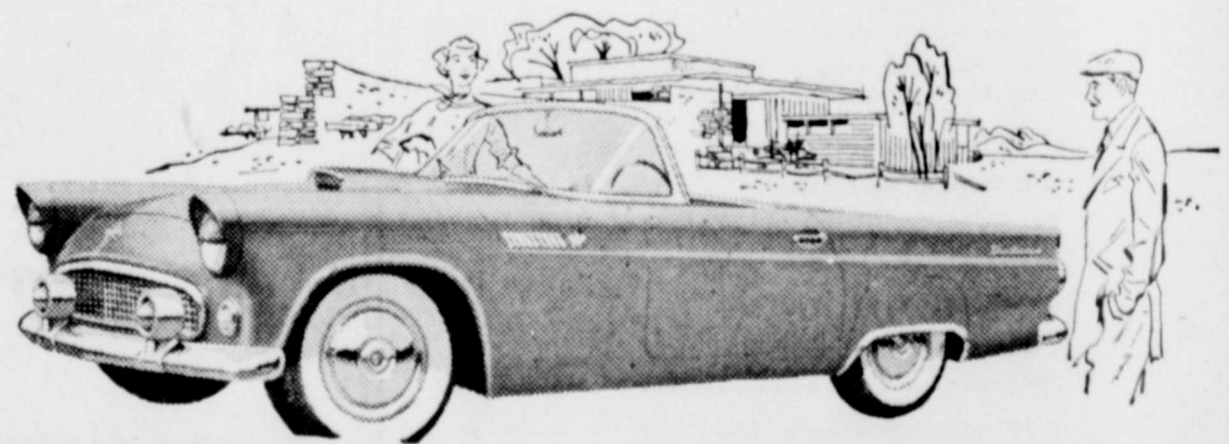

Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response . . . fleet, liquid agility . . . backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand. Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And you can have the Thunderbird with the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability.

But, more important, the Thunderbird is the product of the same advanced engineering . . . the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

500 Bales Cotton Ginned In County

Although no rain has fallen since last May farmers of Coke County are making a small cotton crop.

Robert Lee's Gin had processed 315 bales up to noon Wednesday and 185 bales had been handled by the Luttrell Gin at Bronte, making a total of 500 bales brought in thus far.

Fred and Pete McDonald, gin operators here, believe more than half the crop has been harvested. Mr. Luttrell thinks he may get 100 or 150 more bales.

Largest run at the Robert Lee Gin was Tuesday of this week when 17 bales were processed.

Jim Blair is the largest cotton producer in this area. He has already brought in 40 bales and expects to get a half dozen more. Jim had in 144 acres on land owned by Freddie Lee Roe and Frank Bryan. He did some irrigating by pumping water from the Colorado River.

L. E. Wink has brought in nine bales. Reports on other producers were not available at this time.

37 Pct. Students At H-SU Working To Pay Expenses

Abilene — (Sp) — It hasn't been too many years since the phrase "Working my way through college" was a familiar sound to the ears of many housewives about this time of year. But that time worn door-opener has come a long way from the magazine sales pitch.

In case you hadn't heard today's working college students are holding down jobs in almost every phase of the business world.

And if you need any proof, just examine the files of Billy West, manager of the Hardin-Simmons University Student Employment Service, who is a graduate student himself.

Working and saving during summer vacation periods is only one way H-SU students help pay all or part of the expense of higher education.

Many Hardin-Simmons University students work part-time or full-time during the school year. Some drop out for a year or longer to work and accumulate enough savings to return and complete requirements.

H-SU officials estimated 37 per cent of students earn all or part of their expenses.

The Student Employment Service at H-SU helps students and employers by listing both part-time and full-time jobs. The service averages 500 part-time placements, and 10 full-time placements annually.

Construction work and jobs on the H-SU campus top the list for student summer workers.

Skills required of today's working college students are varied. Many prospective employers specify age, physical requirements and personality characteristics, as well as skills required to fill the position available.

During the school year, the University itself uses more students than any business establishment in town. Students are employed on the campus in many different positions including office work, clerks in the Post Office and book store, janitors and ground keepers.

For women students, office work, general house work, and baby sitting are positions most regularly filled by H-SU students.

Men students of Hardin Simmons can be found holding down jobs in many fields of Abilene ranging from television and radio station work to attendants at service stations.

Hardin-Simmons University students earn their way through school with part and full-time jobs and at the same time gain practical experience as "full-fledged members" of the "outside business world."

And most of these working students have found its a lot of fun "working my way through college."

Balmorhea State Park, southwest of Balmorhea, Texas has the world's largest walled swimming pool, fed by natural springs at the rate of 26,000,000 gallons a day.
