The Steers welcomed their rials, the Bronte Longhorns, for a rimmage session Thursday night last week. The evening was ighlighted with a Bar-B-Que given by the Quarterback Club. The guad of 1958 was presented to a mewhat large Robert Lee crowd. Freddy McDonald, Steer halfack, was sidelined for Thursday because of illness. He will be seen in action Thursday night, ptember 11th, against Sweetwat-"B" Mustangs.

The Steers and Bronte were fairmatched all through the even-The Longhorns outweighed the Steers on the line by some twenty pounds. But the speed makes the difference for the Robert Lee and Bronte lines. Robert Lee's passing grew better as the evening's play continued. Ends Jerry Tinkler and James Harmon were the targets of Richard Sims, Steer quarterback.

Sam Skipworth, John Walker, and Ronnie Sims were also carryng the pigskin for Robert Lee. Kinsey took McDonald's place at halfback with a good showing. Meanwhile Melvin Duncan, Jerry Blair, Bill Mundell, Douglas Ashworth, Bobby Cowley, and Gary Ledbetter knocked holes the Longhorn line.

The Steers, in spite of the small material and decreased number of boys, are rated third by the San Angelo Standard Times. The Abilene Reporter picked them as second in district.

Friday, September 5, the Steers locked horns with the Lakeview "B" Chiefs. The scrimmage was mainly to work out "rough spots" in the offensive pattern. Jerry Blair and Gary Ledbetter are gong ing to be "great guns" on the line, along with Melvin and Sam. James Blankenship was seen quite a bit chairman of the Upper Colorado River Authority, has called a meeting in Robert Lee Friday evening to discuss and perhaps make a decision as to spillway repairs at Mountain Creek Lake.

All UCRA officials and directors and members of the Robert ee City Commission have been notified to be on hand when the engineering firm of Forrest & Cotton of Dallas will explain in detail its findings. Copies of the engineers report have been in the hands of UCRA and city officials for the past ten days.

In submitting their report, Forrest & Cotton stated that after a thorough survey they concluded that complete protection of the dam and spillway against damage from floods cannot be justified, as the costs are excessive when compared with the original investment in the project, and also with the ability of the city to repay the UCRA.

The engineer submitted two reports to be considered. These are (1) the 10-foot drop structure estimated to cost $120,000, and (2) the riprap estimated to cost $77,-000. Their conclusion was that the nose to the grindstone. $120,000 plan offers the best overall solution, considering both capital cost and maintenance to be anticipated.

Robert Lee city officials includ-Commissioners Wayman Robertapproved this plan. Final decision will be up to UCRA directors. G. C. Allen is secretary-treasurer of the group and Cumbie Ivey is a director. Other members of the UCRA board include Porter Henderson, vice-president, R. E. Bruce, Henry Teplicek, Grady Mitcham, Dale Leddy, Rufus Foster, and Carl Runge, legal advisor.

> Original cost of the project was $81,088.94, and Robert Lee has been prompt in making its monthly payments, having paid a total of $30,450 up to this date. However, spillway repairs previously made and paid for by the UCRA amount to $28,820.99. That was prior to the flood of last October which caused almost total damage to the spillway, repairs of which are now up for solution.

A suggestion that the city might be able to increase its payment has drawn an answer from Robert Lee officials who point out that the sum of $416 is also being paid each month on a city bond and interest account. When the new lake was built, the city voted $65,000 bonds for a filtering plant and new distribution system.

Robert Lee also has an old bonded debt of $10,000. Three of these bond's are to be retired next spring, three in 1960 and the final block of $4.000 will be paid off March 1, 1961. Until they are out of the way the city will have its financial

Candidates for county judge paid in the biggest assessment of $228 each, and their refunds amounted to $91. Campaign Against Mice and Rats Launced by Coke County 4-H Clubs

Coke County 4-H Clubs, in cooperation with the Texas Rodent Control Service, have launched a campaign to control mice and rats that are plaguing the county. During the next two weeks, the clubs presiding. will have bait available. It is Silver will be host to a junior high prepared by the Rodent Control Waldrop, Mrs. Pat Rives and Mrs. Service to curb heavy infestations and a possible heavy build up of planning to attend that game, but the predators. Similar campaigns are being conducted in other coun-

Four stations have been established where orders for bait can be made. Either dry or a water mix bait may be ordered at Odom's Cafe, Silver; Baker's Grocery, Robert Lee; Lee's Feed Store. Bronte and Green's Grocery, Tennyson.

The bait will be available two weeks, Sept. 12-26. Deliveries will be made on Sept. 15, 18, 22, 25 and 29. Bait will be delivered on the first delivery date following the order.

Two kinds of bait will be offered. The dry bait contains fumarin, an anticoagulant as the killing agent.

Anticoagulant baits are very effective, but must be eaten daily or at regular intervals for five to seven days. The bait must be kept out at least a week and preferably longer to work effectively. One or two pounds normally is ample for household use while five to ten pounds is needed for a farmstead with several buildings. These baits are relatively safe to use around pets and children. They can be harmful to pets or people, but must be consumed in large amounts to be harmful.

Water mix baits come in packets that make one quart of bait when mixed with water. It is sometimes more effective than dry baits around granaries, barns, or stored feeds where there is loose grain. Using both wet and dry bait in such areas is usually ef-

A good method for baiting is to put one-half the bait in small containers such as jar lids or cut off cans or paper bags with a small hole in them. The bait should be placed along rat paths such as rafters, baseboards or behind boxes. Bait should be checked daily to see that it is available for at least a week or longer as other rats and mice will migrate

As cool weather approaches, the rodents will migrate to shelter and feeding areas. Now is the best time to begin offsetting damage that could be done by a winter influx of the pests.

All farm and ranch operators are invited to participate in the control campaign. The more operators cooperating, the more effective the program will be.

HERE THEY GI AGAIN

(Jane Austin)

The Robert Lee High School halls are again alive with chatter, talk and just plain "gab." Much of this talk is telling of summer's vacation, and the enjoyment and pleasure it provided. Whether a boy or girl took a long vacation, held a job, or simple "took it easy" during the summer, was interesting to others. Several students had the opportunity to vacation in other states and Canada. But now that many new things have been done and seen, most of the students are glad to be back

This week's Observer will be the last for a number of subscribers who are getting too far in arrears. Too bad!

There has been some controversy over the county's Farm to Market road program, but we feel that the state's taking over ness most of the summer, with the Edith to Silver stretch is by far the best deal we can get at this time. Maintenance costs of this 17-mile stretch will be enormous and the cost would otherwise come from local road funds. The road serves an important area of the county where oil production accounts for one-half or more of the county's total tax revenue.
