Army's options still growing

The package of Army options from which a young man can choose is growing. THE MOST recent option, announced this week by SFC. Charles E. Barton, local Army recruiter, offers a choice of 36 specific unit locations and 229 job specialties at most of these units.

This dual option permits a young man to choose his unit and his job specialty. For instance, he may choose to be an electrician with the First Cavalry Division at Fort Hood. After the applicant has made his choice and been found qualified, the recruiter insures that there is an opening for the job specialty before he is enlisted and sent to basic training. After basic, the enlistee attends advanced training at an Army training center prior to assignment to his chosen unit for a guaranteed 16-month tour in his specialty as an electrician.

The choice of occupations ranges from illustrator to auto mechanic to medical specialist. Training is given at an Army school or by on-the-job training, depending on the occupation, and will be valuable to the enlistee when he returns to civilian life.

THE AVAILABLE units are located on military installations in Kentucky, Georgia, California, Kansas, Texas, Colorado, Washington, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Hawaii.

SFC. Barton advises anyone interested in this dual option, which is also available to prior service men, to visit him at the Dimmitt City Hall or at his office at 317 Third St., Amarillo, or call collect 376-5151, Ext. 2182, or at home, 353-2862. He has a list of the available job specialties and unit locations.

USMC offering $1,500 bonus

Men enlisting in the Marine Corps for four years and qualifying for service in the fields of infantry, artillery, tanks or amphibian tractors will be eligible for the $1,500 bonus upon receiving their advanced occupational specialty designation.

THE TIME to act is now because this special program will only be good through Aug. 31, 1972.

For more information on this and other challenging programs call Sgt. John H. Diehm collect in Amarillo at 806-376-5151 extension 2151 or 335-1228.

WHY IS it that most people get so excited over nothing? THE know-how is less important than the do-it-now. THE bill-paying habit is expensive.

HAS IT BEEN SO LONG?

It may seem like a long, long time since the horse-drawn plow first broke out the prairie in Castro County.

But has it been so long?

Many of our pioneers can remember, in this space age, when they followed a sod-buster plow across the prairie.

Times have changed rapidly in their lifetimes. But luckily, some of the lessons they have taught us will never change.

Such as courage.

And foresight.

And love of the land.

And freedom.

And progress.

No—it hasn't been really been so long!

Need help getting jelly stains out?

Homemade jellies and jams mean special treats for hot rolls, biscuits—and sometimes, clothes.

"IT'S JUST as sticky to wipe jam, jelly and fruit juice stains out of fabrics as it is off skin," Roxanne Schnorr, clothing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, commented.

To avoid lingering and permanent stains in garments, Miss Schnorr said to treat all fruit stains immediately.

"If the garment is worth saving, it's worth the trouble to follow stain removal steps," the Texas A&M University specialist pointed out. "Some fruit stains are difficult to remove and you may have to repeat a procedure several times."

ACCORDING to Miss Schnorr, you can remove most fruit stains or at least lighten them. She said to start removing the stain before washing because hot, soapy water can set it permanently. The first step, then, is sponging it with cool, soapy water.

"Citrus fruit stains may be invisible after drying," she noted, "but will turn yellow with age and heat and become difficult to remove."

For stains on white cotton or linens, Miss Schnorr suggested stretching the fabric over a bowl and fastening it with an elastic band or string. Pour boiling water from a height of one to three feet through the spot. Launder in suds according to normal procedures.

FOR OTHER washable fabrics such as synthetics and colored cottons, rinse or soak the stains in cold water," the specialist instructed. "Work detergent into the stain and launder the garment following regular procedures. If necessary, apply a hydrogen peroxide or sodium perborate bleach to the stain."

You can also add a few drops of ammonia. She said to wait 15 to 30 minutes and then wash, following regular laundry steps. This works especially well for cherry, plum, pear and peach stains.

"It's always wise to test bleach on a hidden seam," Miss Schnorr cautioned. "Certain finishes and fabrics react differently."

The specialist concluded that the season of fresh fruits will be less noticeable—except at the breakfast table—if you act promptly.

IT'S EASY to voice an opinion before one knows much about the subject involved.

Miss Holley wins crown; Zealot Club float named best

By MYRT LOMAN

One of the highlights of the Hart Day activities was the crowning of the Queen of Hart Day Friday night.

Suzanne Holley, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dub Holley, was crowned by Becky King, Miss Hart Day 1971.

Preceding the coronation, the 14 contestants were served a salad supper in fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

Miss Holley, a junior of Hart High School, moved to Hart in June of this year from Strawn. She is a member of the First Baptist Church and Youth Choir, enjoys reading, sewing and playing the piano. She presided over the Saturday activities.

JEAN FOSTER, 18, a senior in Hart High School who won the Miss Castro County title in 1971, was first runner-up. Her sister, Karen, 14, a freshman in Hart High School, was second runner-up. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wamon Foster. Both are members of the First United Methodist Church and Youth Choir.

Mrs. Lawson Smith, Cathy and Danny Smith were Queen contest judges. They interviewed each contestant at the salad supper and graded them on poise, charm, modeling and personality. Later the girls were asked questions by Richard Franks, master of ceremonies and president of Hart Day.

ON FRIDAY night following the coronation, the essay contest winners were announced. They had written essays on the subject "What I Like About My Hometown."

The Goodneighbor Club sponsored the senior division and presented Reta Heck a check for $15 and Kathy Kennedy, second place winner, received $10.

In the junior division, the Zealot Club had three winners with Sharla Carson, first place, receiving $10; Jana Mapp received second place and $7.50; and Debbie Lacy, third place winner, received $5.

SATURDAY at 10 a.m. the Goodneighbor Club hosted a coffee in the community room of Farmers State Bank for residents and guests with Miss Hart Day presiding at the guest register.

At 11 a.m. Miss Hart Day drew the winners of the Tops Club free-gifts contest. Hart merchants donated the gift items.

THE PARADE formed at 2 p.m. on Seventh Street and traveled south on Broadway with Granville Martin, deputy sheriff, leading the parade followed by Miss Hart Day in a Duane-Buggy.

The Zealot Club placed first in the float division with its float featuring a multi-colored heart. The brush Arbor float won second place. The float was built by the family of J. D. Rodgers. LeAnn and Darsa Friday added the feminine touches. The Hart Oil Co. float titled "The Hang Out", a scene from an old-time saloon, placed third.

Chad Black placed first in the bicycle division and Bryan Hankins placed second with a motorcycle.

In the antique car contest, Bob Ott of Sunnyside placed first in his 1929 Model A truck; Wister Clevenger of Hart placed second with a 1929 Model A Tudor Sedan, and Weldon Bradley of Sunnyside placed third with a 1947 Packard car. Weldon Bradley placed first with the most unusual entry, a 1915 Mogul tractor, and Chad Black, on his bike as "Johnny Blackberry," received honorable mention.

Clarence Birkenfield of Nazareth received honorable mention with his wagon and team, and the Hart Junior Riding Club also received honorable mention with a horse and buggy, a typical early day mode of travel in Hart.

The Goodneighbor Club's entry was a 1934 Model A car, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Darryl McLain, carried members of the Goodneighbor Club. Percy Hart was the driver accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Fred (Ruth) Hamm. The city was named for their father and they have been residents for 70 years.

The Goodneighbor Club also recognizes Percy Hart as having been here the longest, since 1902.

Mrs. Demmie McLain from Monteca, Calif. traveled the longest distance to attend the festivities.

The American Cancer Society float carried its life saving message—it will take continued education and research to wipe out this dread disease. The ACS colors are red and white, and the "Sword of Hope" is the emblem. Riding on the float were representatives of the team volunteers, Kathy Kennedy and Shirley Flippo.

Volunteers pointed out that one out of every four watching the Hart Day parade will have cancer and urged everyone to have an annual physical examination as a part of your cancer control program.

NEATEST BEARD in the Hart Day Beard-Growing Contest was displayed by Richard Franks. Here, the winner proudly holds his trophy and grins at the other bushy-faced entrants in the contest. Sponsored by the Golden Ones Club, the beard-growing contest and sale of shaving permits netted $75 for the Hart School Band Fund.

In the Riding Club division the first place winner was the Kress Riding Club; second place was the Lamb County Sheriff's Posse and third place went to the Hart Junior Riding Club. Three riders from Amarillo also participated.

Richard Franks received the trophy for the neatest beard in the contest sponsored by the members of the Golden Ones Club. They also sold "Shave Permits," with proceeds to be given to the Hart Band for uniforms. Approximately $75 was raised.

Floats were judged on appearance, effort, theme and imagination by judges, Hazel Merritt, Bill Mason and Mozelle Trotter.

The Khiva Klowns of Amarillo temple brought fun and laughter for all viewers of the parade. Miss Gertrude Better Bilt of Hart also mingled among of Littlefield, Intermediate girls division; Harley Malone, Intermediate Boys division; Reta Holland of Kress, the Senior girl and R. G. Henderson Sr., men's division.

THE FIRST United Methodist Church of Hart will observe their 50th anniversary August 27 with a noon luncheon in fellowship hall of the church.

Rev. E. H. Phillips of Big Springs, former pastor, will bring the morning message and Rev. Fred Brown of Lubbock will bring the evening message.

All members, former members and friends are cordially invited.

MEMBERS of the First United Methodist Church will arrive at 2 p.m. on Sunday afternoon for an evening fellowship, fun and worship. The afternoon will be spent in activities of hiking, swimming, playing volleyball and pitching horseshoes.

Following the games, the members will enjoy a covered-dish supper with the worship service conducted in the tabernacle.

MR. AND MRS. Lowell Richburg and daughter, DeAnn, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Richburg in Subiaco, Ark. recently. While there DeAnn, riding an English bike down a mountain, lost control and fell, receiving numerous bruises and scratches. Enroute home the family visited the Cowboy Hall of Fame and Frontier City at Oklahoma City.

KIPP BURNETT was hired last Wednesday night to serve as parttime youth director for First Baptist Church during the school months. Kipp is a student at West Texas State University and has served as full time director during the summer months.

THE Cox-Hutcherson annual family reunion will be held Sunday in the American Legion

Building. All relatives and friends are invited to bring a basket lunch and enjoy eating, visiting and reminiscing of the ole days.

MRS. JOHN Holloway will host the members of the Golden Ones for a covered dish luncheon on Aug. 25 at her home. All members are urged to be present and bring a friend.

GIRLS IN ACTION will begin meeting regularly on Wednesday afternoons at 4 p.m. in fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

During the summer months girls met only twice each month.

Mrs. Harold Bass, leader, invited all junior age girls to become a member, study the Bible and learn of mission work in other countries and states.

MR. AN DMRS. Bruce Martin of Hereford are parents of twins born Aug. 12 in the Palmer County Hospital at Friona. The girl weighed 2 pounds, 14 ounces and was born at 4:01 p.m.; the boy weighed 2 pounds, 11 ounces and was born at 4:06 p.m.

The new babies have an older brother, Carl Wayne who is 3 years of age. Bruce is a former Hart resident.

C. R. JONES fell a week ago Monday from a building belonging to the Grain Handling Co. while walking a rafter some 20 feet above a concrete floor. His foot slipped, hanging his leg on a 2-foot rafter. Jones managed to pull to a scaffold where he caught a pipe and slid down 14 feet. His leg muscles were pulled and he was taken to Plainview for examination and was released. But on Friday he was rushed back to Plainview where he remains in the Central Plains General Hospital for x-ray, tests and observation.

Authors preserve area's history with interesting, authentic books

Few people have done more to preserve the history of America, particularly the Texas Panhandle, than Mrs. L. B. "Teeny" Bowden of Sunnyside and Father Stanley Crocchiola of Nazareth.

MRS. BOWDEN published her first book last October. Titled "This Land We Hold," the book traces the history of the Sunnyside community from the time Coronado crossed the Panhandle in search of the three fabled cities of gold; through the periods of the Comanche; the establishment of the XIT Ranch; the land developers and farm families; the development of farms, schools, churches; until the development of Sunnyside itself.

From there the book tells of such community history as the first-place state victory in the Texas Rural Neighborhood Development Contest of 1953, the night of the devastating tornado of 1960 and the rebuilding, and the purchase of the community building two years ago.

The thick book, through in-depth research tracing the growth of Sunnyside and the forces and events that have come together to affect the community, gives a new insight not only to this area of our county's rich past but also into the history of the Texas Panhandle itself.

MRS. BOWDEN has lived in Sunnyside since she was 6 years old. She came to the community with her parents, the Ernest Loudders, when they bought a farm there in 1926. She is recognized as the community historian by her neighbors.

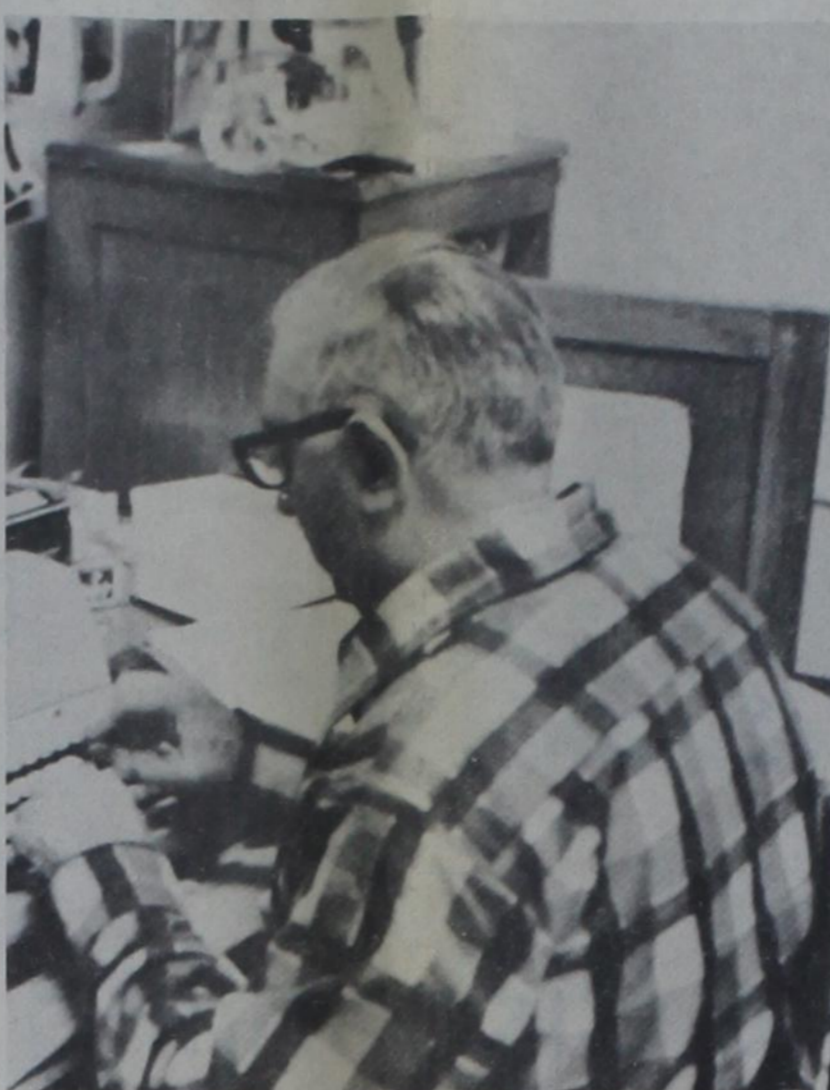

She has been compiling facts for her book since 1952—although at the time she didn't realize that a book would be the outcome.

Copies of her book, "This Land We Hold," are available at the Castro County Library and Castro County News office. They sell for $12.95 each.

FATHER STANLEY Crocchiola, pastor of the Holy Family Catholic Church in Nazareth, this year published "The Texas Panhandle, From Cattlemen to Feed Lots (1880 to 1970)"—his 36th book. It, too, is a real contribution to the preservation of the Panhandle's history.

MRS. TEENY BOWDEN of Sunnyside poses on the guardrail of the Running Water Draw bridge with a copy of her book, "This Land We Hold," which came off the press last October. In background, cowboys herd cattle along the historic draw which served as the lifeline for Indians, buffalo hunters and settlers. Mrs. Bowden is the Sunnyside correspondent for the News.

REV. STANLEY CROCCHIOLA, one of the Southwest's most prolific historical authors, works in his "writing nest" in the parsonage of the Holy Family Parish at Nazareth. His latest book, "The Texas Panhandle—From Cattlemen to Feedlots," traces the cattle feeding industry of the area from its open-range beginnings to its dynamic growth in recent years.

Father Stanley is a leading Southwest historian and prolific author. He said, "I spent more time in getting notes and writing this book than I have on any other." He had collected notes on this book for 20 years or so. Intense researching on the book took three years, and assembling and typing took 13 months.

This book is intended as a gauge for future books on the Panhandle. Father Stanley said he chose to write on Panhandle history because "so little has been written about this area and its history is so rich." "FROM CATTLEMEN to Feed Lots" is a general view of what has happened to the cattle industry in the feedlots

It traces the decline of cattle ranches and the birth of the cattle industry in the feedlots of today.

The book begins with the invasion of the Plains' big cattle ranches by the railroads and nesters. Although the ranchers finally had to sell out, they fought the railroads until 1887, when the first train crossed the Plains.

Father Stanley notes in his book that "The feedlot concept was first tried in South Texas in 1888, but it didn't catch on until the end of World War II. The pressure for beef animals in the 60's sparked the spread of feedlots from Iowa to California, like wildfire." THE BOOK is the largest one that the priest-historian has written to date. It has 782 pages and weighs four pounds in its mailing wrapper.

Using "F. Stanley" as his pen name, Rev. Crocchiola has had 36 books and 107 pamphlets published, in limited editions. The price of this new book is $13, which covers only printing costs. All of his books are published on a non-profit basis.

Father Stanley is a man of many talents. He has his priestly duties, but still finds time for painting, researching and writing books, and reading. He reads four or five books at a time, newspapers such as the New York Times, and 28 magazines a month. WHEN HIS new book was published in February, Father Stanley was already 83 pages into a new manuscript so we should be treated to another well-researched history book soon.

CROPS are continuing to make generally good progress through the state. Cotton is reported to be making excellent progress on the High Plains and Low Plains due to recent rains. The crop is doing nicely in the Blacklands and East Texas except for insect problems. Harvest in the lower Rio Grande Valley has been delayed by rains.

EVERY minority has a tendency to blame the majority for its own mistakes.

A PRETTY girl makes a lot of men feel younger.

THEORIES are good if they work.

BEEKEEPER EDWIN 'GOOSE' RAMEY ... Checks one of his indoor hives

SMOKING BEES AWAY FROM THE 'SUPER' ... To get to the honey they've stored inside

BEES ARE NOW WORKING TO FILL THIS FRAME ... They overproduce; man taps the excess

Local beekeepers share fascinating hobby

By GAY ROLAND

Looking for a hobby? One that is inexpensive, not too time-consuming, interesting? Why not try beekeeping? Bees are just about the most interesting of all nature's insects, and besides, there is the fringe benefit of pure golden honey.

THE DEAN of Castro County's apiarists (or beekeepers) is Edwin "Goose" Ramey. He has had bees for a third of a century. He got his first hives in 1938.

He said, "I got my first hives from a man in Hereford. I just wanted one hive, but he was selling them for $7.50 a piece or the whole lot for $75. I came out with 10 hives."

Since then he has added more hives until he now has about 20. He keeps his bees "solely as a hobby—I give the honey away to people who appreciate it."

RAMEY has devoted quite a few years to the study of the bee's habits. He even has a small one-frame glass hive, similar to an ant farm, which he used to watch his bees until they became too many for the hive. He has presently been checking a theory of his that bees become more docile and easier to work with at a certain phase of the moon.

Asked how he became aware of this peculiar trait in bees, he said, "I was working my bees one day and noticed that they were exceptionally docile. My wife asked me why and I joked and said, 'Must be the moon.' But I got to thinking about it and decided to check it out, and so far it works."

He has been checking this theory for about three or four months now and has found that his bees are easier to work with just after the full moon, between the new moon and the first quarter.

13-YEAR-OLD John Scott Armstrong is a recent convert of Ramey's into the mysteries of beekeeping. Together they work the Armstrong hive at the farm of John Scott's father, Charles Armstrong. (Ramey always names his hives according to where he finds the bees.)

A fact about bees that Ramey has noted through the years is that bees in our part of the country make more honey in August than in any other month. He also noted that bees can make honey from almost anything. "Cotton, clover, cucumbers, alfalfa, anything bugs can chew. They even can use elm buds in the spring."

Ramey explained that there are three types of bees—the queen, the drone and the worker. The queen is kept in the bottom section of the hive, where she does nothing but eat and lay eggs. She is kept from the other parts of the hive by a wire screen called a queen excluder. She is easily recognized because her body is larger and longer than the others. If a hive should lose its queen, the workers can take a two or three-day-old egg, give it special care and feed it something called "royal jelly," and in about 16 days have a new queen.

THE DRONE is a male bee that fertilizes the queen. That is its main function in life. It is said that drones come from unfertilized eggs.

The third type of bee, the worker, is aptly named. Workers gather pollen, guard the hive make honey, and take care of the eggs, queen and drones. It takes approximately 5,000 bees to make a pound of honey.

It is interesting that all bees come from the same eggs. Different treatment of the eggs make the difference.

Skunks think bees are a great delicacy. In the summer the little insects are too fast for the skunks to catch, but in the winter, when they stay inside the hive (bees won't work when the temperature is below 56 degrees), skunks can catch and eat them. The skunks come up and scratch on the outside of the hive door. When a bee comes to investigate the noise, the skunk eats it. It only takes a day or two for a skunk to wipe out an entire colony. Ramey sets out traps and sometimes catches as many as 10 skunks in two weeks.

AT PRESENT, Ramey is conducting an experiment to see how well bees will produce when their hives are inside a building. He is keeping two hives inside a shed at his farm and should be able to record some results by next year.

Because he is recognized as one of the leading authorities on bees in our part of the country, Ramey was recently asked by Johnny Beene, the head of the Masonic orphans' home in Fort Worth, to come down and help get the children started with 10 hives.

renting a hive to pollinate his fruit trees. The hive swarmed, and the man who rented it to him caught the swarm and sold it to him. He said that at that time "I didn't know anything about bees except that they sting you." He noted that the weeds people complain about are good for bees, but some people fear spraying will eliminate honey production.

JACK CARTWRIGHT has one hive for his table and 30 leased for his cucumbers. He has used bees about three years to pollinate his cucumbers, and decided to get a colony for his own hive.

Western Vegetables in Dimmitt contracts all bees used in cucumber fields in Castro County. The bees are brought up from the Rio Grande Valley and left for the summer. Then before it freezes in the fall, they are moved back down to pollinate the crops there. There are about 300 hives of contracted bees in the county.

Elvon DeVaney of Western Vegetable said, "You can't raise cucumbers without bees. Other insects help, but there are not enough here to do any good. Without bees the cucumbers are bally and poor quality."

THE BEES used now for commercial enterprise are known as "stingless bees." They are tame bees bred by artificial insemination so they are not hostile.

So if you are looking for a hobby or a good business venture (the price of honey nearly doubled the past year), why not go in for bee keeping? With the "tame" bees that are available now, all the worry about stings is gone. And besides, who knows? Someone might even train them to package the honey and deliver it right to the doorstep!

SOMEONE ought to invent a dry cleaning process for some of the country's jokes and some joke-tellers.

THERE'S little use to try to conceal your age. Your old friends know it and your new ones don't care a hoot about it.

We're proud to have been a part of Castro County's Years of Progress!

PEOPLE become interested in bees by a kind of chain reaction—one man gets a hive or two and shows them to a friend, then he gets some and shows them to a friend, who in turn gets interested—until everything starts to roll.

That is how Shorty Barlow got his start with bees. He went into partnership 10 years ago with a man who was getting some hives. Now Barlow has 30 full colonies of his own.

Unlike most of the other bee hobbyists in the county, Barlow sells much of his honey. His wife processes the honey at home in her kitchen.

TO PROCESS the honey, Mrs. Barlow heats it in the comb. When it cools, the comb floats to the top and then is strained off. She said that the honey-comb is good for arthritis, and that unprocessed honey is used to treat allergies.

Barlow's bees are scattered through Castro and Lamb Counties. Some are being used in friends' fields to help with the pollination of their crops—one of the main uses of bees here. Barlow said that the taste of the bees' honey depends on where they get their pollen, and that clover makes the clearest and sweetest honey.

HERSHEL WILSON of Sunnyside, Swain Burkett and Jack Cartwright are also beekeepers.

Wilson has kept bees for six or seven years. He said he got started in his hobby because "I like honey, and they put it in the cutest little box." He added, "Bees are fascinating. Besides, they like to work and I don't." He uses his bees to help pollinate his cotton.

Mrs. Downing gives old furniture new life and beauty

By DON NELSON
Mrs. Lana Downing is preserving the history of America with the furniture in her home.

THE DOWNING home in Easter is furnished almost completely with excellent old pieces that bear sturdy testimony to the craftsmanship of past American masters.

A few of the Downings' furnishings are family heirlooms, but most were bought for bargain prices at auctions, or "scrounged" in the oddest places. And all were restored by the resourceful Mrs. Downing.

That is her secret, and her special talent—restoring furniture. The young homemaker is considered the foremost local authority on furniture restoration and refinishing, and this year she taught a workshop on the subject for the Extension Service.

WOULD YOU believe that a mantle clock that was charred black in a fire, its face ruined, could be restored to a beautiful working clock? Or that a lumber-mill wall clock that had been smashed and left to decay decades ago could be put back together and made into a cheery-faced kitchen clock? Or that a pair of porch-column tops from a pre-Civil War home in Louisiana could become the base for a striking coffee table?

Mrs. Downing has accomplished all these feats with her knowledge of refinishing, mixed with equal portions of imagination and elbow grease.

Her enthusiasm is contagious. Her husband, Trent, and their little daughters, Laura and Amy, all seem to share Mrs. Downing's pride in the results of her hobby.

FILLING ONE'S home with old and antique furniture isn't just a matter of finding and restoring. It also involves making original go-with-pieces—such as bookcases, picture frames and shelves—that will coordinate with the furniture and enhance the mood of the home. Mrs. Downing is good at creating new antique-type pieces to go with the renewed old pieces.

What are some of the advantages of old furniture?

"Old furniture is very easy to live with, for one thing," Mrs. Downing says. "A little dust on it only adds to its charm, and what is another scratch or two? I never sand away all the dents and scratches when I refinish an old piece.

Professional refinishers never do. All the bumps and marred places are part of the value of old furniture.

"ALSO, OLD furniture gives a family a feeling of stability, I think. When children live in unsettled times, with everything from the draft to their feelings about religion to the bomb hanging over their heads, it's nice to have a constant, subtle reminder of roots in the past. Old furniture, old kitchen tools, an old stereoscope—these can give children a view into the past, can let them appreciate where they have come from."

And too, there's more variety to be enjoyed in old furniture, she says. In a nation of assembly lines and fad cycles, it's the old furniture that dares to be different.

"In these days of computerization, when everyone is zip-coded and numbered and stamped, when every fourth house on the block is exactly alike and all the new furniture in the stores looks alike," Mrs. Downing says, "it's nice to find a really different old white-phant piece of furniture and transform it into something attractive and useful and DIFFERENT from what everyone has."

FURNITURE restoring should please the ecologist, too, Mrs. Downing says, since it amounts to recycling furniture to avoid waste.

"Using old things instead of buying brand-new things helps in a small way to curb the constant flow of junk to the dumps, which the ecologists keep telling us we'll eventually be buried in," she says.

In the Downing home you'll see fine old chairs (individual pieces as well as sets), a glass-top side table with hand-carved display piece, fireside lounge, walnut armoire, mahogany buffet, player piano, walnut pump organ, and dozens of other major pieces of furniture—all of which Mrs. Downing has restored and reupholstered to their original beauty.

Also prominent in the Downing home are such knick-knacks as a hardwood block planer, wood-screwclamps, old clocks, pictures, prints, frames, utensils and specialty pieces. Each could tell the history of several generations.

WHERE DOES she get them? "I like to go to junk stores and places like Goodwill Industries and Salvation Army Thrift Stores and find old kitchen utensils that are useful," she says.

MRS. LANA DOWNING and her daughters, Amy and Laura, relax on the fireside lounge in the front room of their home in Easter. In foreground is one of Mrs. Downing's most prized projects—a slate-topped coffee table that's supported by two Corinthian porch-column tops from an ante-bellum home in Louisiana. This is just one of many displays of fine old furniture and accent pieces in the Downing home, which is furnished almost entirely with old and antique pieces that Mrs. Downing has restored and refinished.

"I recently found—for 25 cents—a marvelous old ricer, made of heavy metal—a really handy gadget. I always find something on these forays. I like to take something that is someone else's junk and either find a use for it or make it into something beautiful—preferably both!"

She adds, "It is nice to inherit old furniture, but not essential. Very few of our things are from our families. However, both by mother and Trent's have found things for us at auctions and antique stores. Trent used to think I was some kind of a nut, hauling furniture from all over the country—but now he is a believer too, and doesn't reject an old relic until he sees the final product.

"IF A PIECE isn't a family heirloom, it is still nice to know where it came from and a little bit of its history. Quite often, a shop keeper can tell you. We have desks from the old post office in Lawton, and some pieces that were given to us by a friend in Lawton, and knowing their history is just as good as if they had always been in the family.

"On one visit to Louisiana we found the clock that was in my grandfather's sawmill. It had been taken down from the wall by vandals and thrown into a corner. Our daughter Laura had to climb under the mill building to retrieve parts of the door. The works could not be repaired, so we installed a battery-operated pendulum movement and a new face, which I hand-decorated to fit the old case. It is now the focal point of a wall grouping in the kitchen.

"Our coffee table could tell a lot of stories if it could talk. It is made from the Corinthian style column tops from the porch of a house that was built in 1841 in my home town in Louisiana. When we were remodeling our home, a family was remodeling this beautiful old home which I had always admired. The columns had gradually deteriorated until only three of the original 10 or 12 remained. They were taken down and were lying in front of the house to be hauled off.

My mother spotted them and we asked for them. I think we counted 22 separate steps that we did in restoring them to be the base of our coffee table. They are done in green, and support a black slate top."

YOU CAN spend as much or as little as you like on old furniture, she says—depending on whether you want a genuine antique, and what its demand is on the market.

"The term 'antique' makes most people think of spindly, delicate chairs that one would be afraid to sit on," Mrs. Downing says. "'Antique' used to be defined as something made before 1830, before the advent of factory-made furniture. Today, I believe most people refer to anything 100 years old or older as an antique. Even at that, most of our things would not, strictly speaking, be antiques. So I just call them 'old things.'"

"Some pieces are in great demand and are therefore prohibitively expensive. Round clawfoot tables and curved-glass china cabinets are two examples.

"BUT OTHER things can be had at real bargains. 1920-vintage bedroom and dining room suites can be found at very reasonable prices, and if you can refinish them yourself, you can have beautiful furniture with some history to it for one-tenth the price of new.

"Children like the old things, too. Our Amy has an old marble-topped dresser which has seen its color marks and spills, but doesn't look any worse for the wear.

"Some things are best left in the attic. A sofa which would require elaborate upholstery done by a professional might cost more than a new one. But an old sofa or chair with pretty wood carving and upholstery that's simple enough to be done by an amateur could be worth the effort.

"PRESERVING and using old things can save lots of money. I have a funny quirk—I don't brag about the things I paid a lot for, as most people do—I brag about the things I got really cheap.

"While most of our things did not come from this area, but from Louisiana and Oklahoma, old furniture and accessories can be found here. Dimmitt has second-hand stores with fine old pieces that can be redone. Also, there are frequent antique auctions in Lubbock and Amarillo.

"This part of the country is so newly settled that it seems especially important to me that people preserve relics of its piece that I really got excited about. It is directly related to Dimmitt's history—it was Dr. Mayes Miller's instrument cabinet. Mrs. Miller couldn't decide whether to use it or not in her newly remodeled home. We got together and discussed its possibilities, and it is truly beautiful now. I took off seven separate colors of paint—most of which were probably two coats thick—then applied a soft green and antiqued it, then spattered it at random with gold. It is one of my favorite transformations."

What is Mrs. Downing up to now?

"Right now I am working on a roltop desk, and also as my project for the winter I have some real challenges," she says.

"TRENT'S parents had a fire in a room containing irreplaceable family heirlooms. While they were covered by insurance, no insurance covers sentimental value. I am trying to restore things which were declared total losses by the insurance adjuster. So far, I am truly pleased with the results.

"I did Trent's grandmother's mantle clock, which looked as though it had been burned to a cinder, and beneath the burned finish there was still good wood. The clock turned out well enough to give me encouragement, and I have done a chair and a carved table with good results. I am taking 'before' and 'after' color photos so I'll have a good record of the progress."

When you walk into the Downing home, you don't see the 'before.' You see only the 'after'—and it's impressive.

GUIDON BEARER OF FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION'S MOUNTED PLATOON
... Preserving the role of the pony soldier in America's history

Here comes the Cavalry!

Soldiering has never been the same—in the American Southwest, at least—since they took the soldier off the horse.

BUT THE special charisma of the pony soldier will be recaptured during the 1972 Castro County Roundup when the mounted platoon of the First Cavalry Division makes its first appearance in the Texas Panhandle.

The 15-man platoon, dressed in authentic Cavalry uniforms of the 1880s, will march in the Roundup Parade, lead the grand entry and give mounted drill demonstrations nightly at the Dimmitt Rodeo, and set up a walk-through Cavalry museum and display of modern weapons on the courthouse square.

The pony soldier pictured on the cover page of this section is a former officer in the mounted platoon. The enlisted man at left is the platoon's guidon bearer.

ALL THE men in the platoon are volunteers who have a common appreciation of the pony soldier's role in America's history, and the skills and determination to preserve that tradition.

Staff Sgt Edward J. Harder of Amarillo, First Cavalry Division recruiter who coordinated plans for the platoon's appearance here, said any young man interested in serving in the mounted platoon can be given a special assignment to the unit when he enlists. Of course, he must prove he has the skills needed to be a pony soldier.

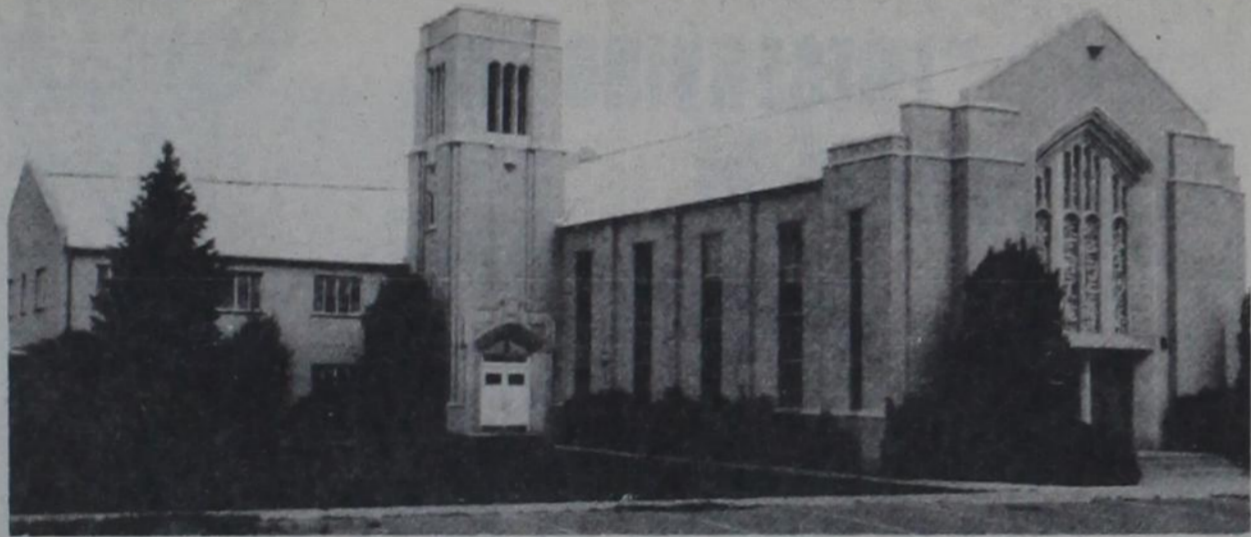

The mounted platoon was reactivated March 5 at Fort Hood when the First Cavalry Division's colors came back from Vietnam. Traditionally, the platoon is not active anytime the division is involved in a conflict.

IN ADDITION to being a "color unit" of the division, the mounted platoon also is a public-relations arm of the First Cavalry. One of the division's regimental commanders, Lt. Col. Edward J. Kelly III, will be on hand tonight (Thursday) at the opening of the rodeo to present I-Cav award certificates to local people who have cooperated in bringing the platoon to the Roundup.

A LOT of worry can be wasted on other people. FEW friendships avoid at least one real test. MANY tales start with: "Well, they tell me . . ."

Fiery wreck injures seven

Seven persons were injured, one critically, in a fiery three-car collision 5 1/2 miles south of Dimmitt on US 385 Sunday about 6:15 p.m.

A 1957 Oldsmobile driven by Ms. Ellen Laury of Dimmitt was attempting a left turn from US 385 onto a dirt road when her car was hit from the rear by a 1967 Pontiac driven by Chuck Lay of Levelland, highway patrolmen said. The Olds then jackknifed into the northbound traffic lane and struck a 1968 Ford driven by Gary Glazner of Dalhart, officers said.

The Oldsmobile burst into flames and caught the Pontiac on fire. All three cars were demolished in the wreck.

Vehicles collide under stop light

Two vehicles received minor damage when they collided under the traffic light at the intersection of Bedford and Broadway in Dimmitt Monday about 5:05 p.m.

A 1964 Chevrolet pickup driven by William Claude Yates of Dimmitt was traveling west on Bedford when it was struck in the right front fender by a 1970 Oldsmobile driven by Garland Lynn Word of Lubbock, who was traveling south on Broadway.

Police Chief W. W. Jones said Yates was cited for disregarding a red stop-and-go traffic light.

Dimmitt delegation will attend WTCC textile-industry seminar

A delegation of Dimmitt men will attend a seminar on "How To Get A Textile Industry In Your Town" next Thursday in Sweetwater.

INDUSTRIAL development and civic leaders from 17 West Texas towns have been invited to attend. The event is being sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Texas Industrial Development Council and Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce.

Among those invited are Bob McLean, director of West Texas Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Elmer Youts; and Dr. David Bechtel, president of Castro County Chamber of Commerce.

Also planning to attend from Dimmitt are City Manager E. B. Noble; Bob Caddell, manager of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.; and Ralph Glover, manager of Southwestern Public Service Co. and industrial development chairman of the CoC.

INVITATIONS have also been extended to industrial development representatives from utility and railroad companies, and executives from cotton, wool and mohair organizations.

Claude W. Brown of McCamery, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who will open the meeting at 9:30 a.m., said, "This will be the first of a series of area-wide seminars sponsored by WTCC devoted to a specific industry."

Harry W. Clark, vice-president of the First National Bank of Midland and chairman of the WTCC Industrial Development Committee, said, "The development of additional yarn mills, knitting and weaving mills, and dyeing and finishing plants would fill the gap in West Texas from the raw product to the finished product."

A STUDY which has just been completed by Lockwood Greene Engineers, Inc., industrial consultants of New York, Spartanburg, Atlanta and Dallas, will be released and examined in detail at the seminar. The background on the textile industry in the US and the position of West Texas in this industry will be explained by F. L. McDowell, president of the Ralph E. Loper Company, Greenville, S.C., and G. Hubert Jones, manager of the Dallas office of Lockwood Greene Engineers, Inc.

The featured speaker at the noon luncheon will be Carl Cox Jr., of Dallas, Executive Director of The Natural Fibers and Food Protein Committee of Texas. He will review the present status of the textile industry in West Texas, the new technology on the horizon and how West Texas can fit into the picture.

The afternoon will be devoted to group discussions on how to present local communities to the textile industry.

Two ambulances and a private vehicle were required to take the injured to Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt.

MS. JOHNNIE V. Smith of Dimmitt, a passenger in Ms. Laury's car, was transferred immediately to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital in critical condition. She suffered chest injuries, a fractured femur and extensive lacerations in the neck.

Ms. Laury received emergency treatment at Plains Memorial Hospital and was transferred to Methodist Hospital in fair condition. She suffered a broken right forearm and left leg.

Lay was treated for lacerations and bruises and released. His 14-month-old son, Christopher Scott, was transferred by private car to Methodist Hospital. Lay's wife, Anita Spence Lay, was not injured in the accident.

Former resident perishes in fire

Ms. Wanda Pierce, 54, a former Dimmitt resident, died in a mobile-home fire Sunday evening in Clinton, Okla.

GRAVESIDE services were conducted at the Bovina Cemetery at 4 p.m. Wednesday with Rev. John Street, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dimmitt, officiating. Dennis Funeral Home of Dimmitt was in charge of arrangements.

Born Feb. 22, 1918, in Greer County, Okla., she married Curtis Huggins of Dimmitt in 1936. He died in Bovina in 1954. In 1958, she married Sam Berryman of Dimmitt, who died in 1966.

Ms. Pierce was a dental assistant while living in Dimmitt, and also was employed several years by Sears, Roebuck & Co. She had been a resident of Clinton two years.

SHE IS survived by her husband, Ralph, a son, Keith Huggins of Garland; a daughter, Ms. Jean Huggins Gonzales of Corpus Christi; three brothers, two sisters and six grandchildren.

Occupants of the Ford were also admitted to Plains Memorial Hospital. Glazner and his wife, Beverly, and a passenger, Edward Richard Moore, also of Dalhart, were all admitted in fair condition. Moore has since been released.

Highway Patrolmen Dyrle Maples and Billy Scott investigated the accident.

Maples said Lay was cited for failure to control speed to avoid an accident, and Ms. Laury was cited for driving without a license.

Correction

Sales tax collected by the City of Dimmitt last year totaled $68,923.54 for a four-quarter year, compared with $31,761.33 the previous year, which included only two quarters.

Figures reported last week represented the amount collected by the city for property taxes, not city sales tax as reported.

ger, Larry Sanders, 18. Sheriff's officers said Burress lost control of his car and it was demolished as it rolled into a cornfield, coming to rest right-side-up 50 yards from the pavement. Sanders was taken to Plains Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released.

Board revises DHS dress code

Dimmitt High School boys will be allowed to wear their hair longer this year, but will not be permitted to use wigs or any other artificial means of concealing true hair length.

THIS WAS one of several revisions of the school dress code adopted Monday night by the Dimmitt School Board. Other revisions established rules regarding slogans or emblems on clothing, and ruled out non-prescription sunglasses inside school buildings.

The new boys' hair code for this year spells out these maximum hair lengths:

Front: must not touch the eyebrows.

Side: must not extend below the bottom of the ear when combed straight down.

Back: must not extend below the bottom of a regular shirt collar when combed straight down, with chin parallel to the floor.

Any artificial means of concealing the length of the hair, such as wigs, combs, rollers, etc., is prohibited.

BOYS' AND girls' attire with slogans or emblems is permitted only if it promotes Dimmitt and/or an accredited college or university.

See-through attire will not be permitted for boys or girls.

Boys will not be permitted to wear colored glasses inside buildings unless the glasses are prescribed by a doctor.

Nazareth board okays new rules to cut bus time

The Nazareth School Board has made changes in the bus routes and established a new policy regarding the distance a student must go to meet the bus.

BUSES will not be driven into a place that is less than two-tenths of a mile off the road. Any other turn-in must have a place large enough to turn the bus around without using reverse gear.

These changes are being made to cut down the time students are on the bus.

The board accepted the amended budget for 1971-72 and approved the budget for 1972-73. The tax rate will remain the same for the coming year.

Bus drivers were hired for the school year. Form III was accepted for the lunchroom program, and lunch prices were set at 35 cents for kindergarten through sixth grade and 40 cents for grades 7-12, teacher and visitors.

Hart trustees okay insurance

The Hart School Board moved Monday night to accept a contract with the United Fidelity Life Insurance Co. for school insurance this year.

THE BOARD also voted to buy wire mesh to enclose the football field, and limited the senior trip to three days to be a Friday, Saturday and Sunday near the end of school.

Bus drivers for the coming year will be J. V. Westcott, Rt. 1; Dennis Humphreys, Rt. 2; J. C. Box, Rt. 3; Ms. Houston Sullivan, Rt. 4; Ray Forbes, Rt. 5; Ms. Ralph Cole, Rt. 6; and Tom Ed Benton, Rt. 7.

Football players will continue two-a-day practice sessions through Sunday.

Wreck results in DWI charge

A two-car wreck in Hart Monday night resulted in a DWI charge and a $100 fine for a 17-year-old Hart youth.

HIGHWAY patrolmen said the accident occurred at 10:30 p.m. on First Street and involved a 1966 Ford Mustang driven by Rudolph G. Arrizola, 17 and a 1972 Mercury driven by Ms. Maurice Arvon Carson.

Patrolmen said Ms. Carson was driving south when she met Arrizola's car coming down the wrong side of the street. She swerved to her left to avoid a head-on collision, and at the same time Arrizola swerved to his right, patrolmen said. Ms. Carson's car struck the left side of Arrizola's Mustang.

Arrizola pleaded guilty Tuesday in County Court to driving while intoxicated, and was fined $100 plus $37 court costs and tax by Judge Raymond Wilson.

Dimmitt Schools approve budget of $1.9 million

The Dimmitt School Board Monday night approved a budget of $1,960,587 for 1972-73—lower than last year's.

THE 1971-72 adopted school budget was $2,016,954, according to Gene King, business manager. King said the lower budget for 72-73 reflects the funding of the Head Start program through PESO for 1972-73. King explained that in the past, Head Start money was in the local budget.

The board also approved new policies on grades and promotions, added girls' golf to the sports program, granted a highway easement, approved revisions in the student dress code and hired three new personnel.

Before adopting the $1.9 million budget, the board heard reports on school finances, taxes, transportation, food service, athletics, swimming pool and USDA commodity distribution in school.

The school lunch program received $21,123.81 worth of commodities last year from the USDA, Supt. Charlie White reported.

PROFESSIONAL personnel hired by the board for 1972-73 are Ms. Shirley Herber, Ms. Geneva Schaeffer and Ms. Jean Morris.

The board approved a policy on promotion and retention, and one on reports and grading.

Vacationers wind up trips before school bells ring

By MYRTLE SHEFFY Mrs. Jim Hamilton and Sheila, Jeanie and Mary are home from a three-week trip back east. Jeanie told me some of the highlights. They visited an uncle Robert Fairchild at Bracey, Va., that is near Richmond. They saw the Atlantic Ocean, on to Norfolk where the big naval base is, to Williamsburg, where they made tours of the fine old southern mansions and gardens. They went by car so they could see more. From Virginia to Washington D.C. they went to see all the fine government places. Jeanie says it makes her prouder of our country. They saw most of the historical places between here and there. Jeanie goes to Tech at Lubbock next week. Sheila will teach sixth grade science at Hart. Mama Lora-nelle teaches here and Mary is a 10th grader. Oh yes, Amy Perkins of Oklahoma City is a guest of Mrs. Amy's. Amy is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Perkins.

THE PARKER kids, Dawn, Nita and Cliff visited their grandmother in Carlsbad and Brenda stayed with an aunt in Oklahoma City while their parents Ronnie and June went to a mission meeting in Denmark. Ronnie and Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Campbell are home from a trip to Denmark. This was a Church of Christ business trip. The Bedford Street Church supports two Danish ministers and Ronnie says they go there to look for leaders and give guidance in the Christian mission work. They visited in several homes and were shown the interesting places there. The city is Copenhagen. Enroute by plane they stopped in Paris, France for two days, and coming home had a stop off in Amsterdam, Holland. It was a good pleasant trip but mostly business.

I WAS talking to Nancy Hays. Their son John graduates from Baylor University at Waco Saturday. His major is business administration. She and Charlie and daughter Mary and Carol and Kent Hance are going for the ceremony. As you know Mary and Kay Willis got home from a six-week trip to Europe and Kay gets married this Wednesday. Mary spent the weekend visiting her school friend Rob LaRue in Andrews. He is a pre-med student, finished at Baylor and now at Tech. And the grandchildren Ron and Susan Hance and their mother Carol have been here for a visit. The Rebekah Lodge had a special meeting Thursday. They presented a special pin to Mrs. Floyd Reynolds. They had four visitors from the Friona Lodge.

Mrs. Ocie Bolton gave a party to celebrate Mrs. Reynolds' birthday last week. Several ladies came bringing gifts.

PEOPLE in Dimmitt headed out for the hills and streams in Colorado and New Mexico this week before school starts Aug. 21. These I heard of—Jack and Carolyn Thompson and children are home from Platoria Lake, Colo. They only caught two fish and threw them back. They saw Dr. David and Mary Bechtol and girls. Seems they caught enough fish to eat. Others are Gene and Mary Nell King and kids. Don't know which place they went to and Martha and Jess Willard went to Lake City.

Don and Verbie Nelson, Connie, David and Nathan took the camper and went to the lake northwest of Trinidad. Barry and Stephanie Love and kids went to Colorado for a vacation.

Bynum. They took the grandchildren home week before last. Rebby, Shea and Ramona visited here while their parents were recuperating from burns. They live near Phoenix.

MRS. Richard Lillie and girls Suzanne and Julianne of Austin have been here for a visit with her parents Floyd and Frankie Stanford and brother Gordon and family. They visited her brother Allan and family in Lubbock one day. Nolan Froehner met with the laymen of the Methodist Church at Ceta Canyon last week. And this weekend Larry and Marlene Altman and the Methodist teenagers will go to Palo Duro for a supper campout and will see the pageant "Texas." Ann Sheffy Webster and sons Greg, Mark and daughter Melinda of Palo Alto, Calif. came to Dimmitt for a visit with Ann's mother Mrs. Pearl Sheffy, brother Ray and Jetti and sister Sue and John Merritt and family who are home from a recent California trip.

Sunday Mrs. Pearl Sheffy was hostess to a family get together dinner at the cafe. Her family and the Goodwin Millers and the Jack Miller family, all 21 of them.

MRS. EDNA Tate Cooper has been quite ill in Plains Memorial Hospital but is better now. Her son Giles and Mrs. Tate of Amarillo came Sunday to move her to their home. The Tates were Sunday guests of his uncle Es and Kate Noble. And the Nobles remind you to bring your food to the Methodist fellowship hall Thursday for a visit with all your longtime friends. We will see you there.

Aural Davis says, Janis her daughter says write to her Janis is Davis, 16 Lakeview Ave. T. Peekskill, N.Y. 10566. She reads our paper. Aural, Grace Wright and Buster Cooper went to the Hayloft Supper Club for a meal and to see the show. "Any Wednesday." Most enjoyable.

Bessie Strickland was the "birthday girl" one day recently. So a group of her Sunday School class from Lee Street Baptist baked her a cake and all gathered at the home of Yvonne Wakefield for a party. These brought gifts and good wishes—Darla Hicks, Connie Wakefield, Becky McDermitt, Mrs. Wakefield, niece Sue from Three Way and Cindy Wakefield.

GUESTS in the R. N. Carpenter home this week were R. N.'s sister Jewel and R. D. Watson from Oklahoma City. The A. D. REV. AND MRS. William Summers, pastor of Assembly of God Church, are home from a ten-day trip, first to Albuquerque, on to Durango and Silverton, Colo., and a few days at Camp Isabel Lake. They went for a rest and did no fishing. Say the million dollar highway near Silverton is worth seeing and riding on, a little scary in the mountains. They visited their son Wayne Watson and family at Pueblo. Mrs. Summers' parents Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Meeks of Dallas have been here this week.

The Robert McDaniels daughters Diane Lowmire and children of Dallas and Elisabeth Lump and children of Houston have been here for a visit.

THE HARVEST "While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease." Genesis 8:22 The harvest each year should remind us of God's great promise to man. This promise was made right after the great flood, from which only Noah and his Ark survived. Just prior to the flood, all men lived so evilly that it grieved the Lord that he had made man of the earth. Today the churches stand as a bulwark against evil. Attend church regularly so that never again would man grieve the Lord as before. Coleman Adv. Ser.

Horse lovers will understand poem commemorating 'Biscuit'

The following poem was written to commemorate "Biscuit," an outstanding roping and bulldogging horse owned by Mrs. William J. T. Robertson of Dimmitt.

Biscuit was raised and trained by Johnnie Thomas of Hondo, N.M., and was owned by Mrs. Robertson for several years before his death. He was retired from rodeo use two years before he died at age 25. Biscuit's service was always in demand, and he was leased by Mrs. Robertson to many of the top rodeo cowboys to be used in bulldogging and roping.

WHY THEY KEEP A HORSE

There's fellers keep a horse because he's sumptin' they can use,
While others keep a horse just for sumptin' to abuse.
He's an animal to bully, he's a critter they can boss,
There's lots of different reasons why a feller keeps a hoss.

There's fellers, too, that keeps a hoss to trade or sell or swap,
It's sumptin' they can talk about most anywhere they stop.
It makes 'em feel important when they put a deal across;
Yes, there's several different reasons why a feller keeps a hoss.

And then there's folks that keeps a hoss to carry 'em around,
To help 'em work their cattle and to help 'em till their ground.

There's places where without him would be a total loss;
They have lots of reasons why they ort to keep a hoss.

And then some people keep a hoss fer pleasure and fer show;
They like to take him out in front of people that they know.
They like to see him gitten' fat and puttin on the gloss;
It's a lot of satisfaction just to own a purty hoss.

But the folks kept "Old Biscuit" long after he was through;
He was sort of on a pension for the work he used to do.
They kept him till the day he died, no matter what it cost;
And it sure is fine for people to purtect a wore-out hoss.

Sara is a 1968 graduate of Dimmitt High School. The Fred Moultons were accompanied by brother Jess and wife Roberta of Perryton, making a more interesting vacation. Some of the highlights in California were a visit to Disneyland, and in Long Beach a visit aboard the "Queen Mary Liner." This is a tourist attraction, but in her day a very luxurious way of travel. San Francisco is always fascinating, especially since it was first time for some of the party.

They also visited Lake Tahoe and Reno. The redwoods of California are a sight to see. The Moulton party drove on to Washington State where they visited Elma Moulton of Oroville, mother of Fred and Jess, also their sister Jean Robinson and family of Oroville, and their brother Kenneth, Marie and family of Tonasket. The Kenneth Moultons are former Dimmitt residents. Marie grew up here and is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cooper.

While in Oroville the Texas people drove to Penticton, B.C. a short distance from Oroville. On Sunday the group attended worship services with their mother in a small congregation of the Church of Christ in Oroville and were pleasantly surprised to see a former Dimmitt family, Dale and Carol Welsh. He taught music in the Dimmitt school in the 50's. They were active members of the Bedford Street Church of Christ, and live in Wenatchee, Wash. now. They send hello to former acquaintances and friends here. Also recently helping with a meeting in the Oroville church was the Lester Flippo family of Hart.

Pam Heard returned home from Ruidoso just in time to pack again and leave with the young people of First Baptist Church for Milan, N.M. The group will help with Vacation Bible School at Indian Missions there.

Put up vegetables with good recipes

By IRENE KEATING
This is a busy time for everyone with canning, freezing, and school starting. I've had many calls about food preservation and this week I'd like to share some good recipes with you. If you need more recipes or any other information, please call me at 647-3455 or 647-5219 or come by my office in the Courthouse.

CHOW-CHOW
1 qt. chopped cabbage
2 cups chopped green tomatoes
1 1/2 chopped sweet green peppers
1/2 chopped sweet red peppers
Mix well and put into enameled pan or stone jar. Put in layer of vegetables and sprinkle well with salt, continuing until all the vegetables are used. Sprinkle the last layer with salt. Let stand over night and drain well the following morning.

In a separate pan put:
1 qt. vinegar
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons ground mustard
3/4 tablespoon celery seed
1 1/2 tablespoons white mustard seed
1 teaspoon cloves (tied in a bag)
Heat to boiling, add the well-drained vegetables and cook slowly until tender (about 1/2 hour). Pack into sterilized jars and seal.

SAUERKRAUT
Wash, quarter, core and shred sound, hard, fully matured cabbage. Weigh. Thoroughly mix 1/2 pound salt with 20 pounds cabbage. Firmly pack into stone jar or tight keg. Cover with white cloth and dinner plate or glass pie plate. Fill jar with water and use to hold plate under the brine, which forms as salt draws juice from cabbage. Start cabbage curing in a temperature of about 85 degrees.

PICKLED ONIONS
1 gallon small white onions
5 cups white vinegar
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spices
3 cups sugar
While onions are freshening, mix the sugar, vinegar, and spices (tied in a bag). Bring to a boil. Cover and let cool. Heat and cook several times for best flavor. Pack freshened onions into hot, sterilized jars and cover with spiced vinegar. Seal air-tight and store in a cool and dry place. (More or less sugar may be added according to taste).

Robinson picked for state board

Lyle Robinson, manager of Swisher Electric Cooperative at Tulia since 1959, was elected to the board of directors of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc. during the state organization's 32nd annual meeting in San Antonio.

ROBINSON'S tenure will be for two years.

The High Plains rural electric leader has been involved in the rural electrification program since 1939 when he started work with Magnolia Electric Cooperative in his native Mississippi.

Robinson has devoted a total of 30 months in foreign countries in the development of rural electrification. His foreign service has included work in Columbia, Vietnam and India.

THE NEW director is active in the Toastmasters, chamber of commerce and industrial foundation. The cooperative which he manages serves Swisher and Castro Counties.

Plainview PCA holds conference

Directors of Plainview Production Credit Association took a forward look at agricultural financing Friday at a Director-Manager Conference in Lubbock. The group joins other PCA directors from throughout the West Texas and Panhandle areas.

PLAINVIEW PCA participants were Henry Hayes of Plainview, president; Loyd Widener of Lockney, vice president; Billy W. Carthel of Friona; Don Garrison of Silverton; and Ray Robertson of Dimmitt. James A. Rogers, PCA general manager, and LaMoin Howerton, assistant manager, both of Plainview, accompanied the group.

Rogers said the conference was sponsored by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, which provides loan funds for the state's 33 PCAs.

Sessions featured recent policy and procedural changes affecting the Production Credit System of financing, the PCA president said.

PLAINVIEW PCA recorded $58.5 million in loans outstanding as of July 31, 1972. The association makes agricultural production loans in Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Parmer and Swisher counties.

Whose Advertising Misleads?

Many national political leaders over the past year or two have been carrying on a crusade for "truthful advertising."

Now of course, no one will take a stand for grossly deceptive advertising but this preoccupation with advertising's content has led to many examples of minute hair splitting.

But as the election campaigns go up in heat, it can be wondered how it happens that some of the severest of advertising's critics can be so careless in their own campaign statements. After all, political speeches are merely advertising.

At least one major primary candidate, in a zeal to influence votes by putting the black hat on business came out with the statement that 40 per cent of the U.S. corporations did not pay one dime in Federal income taxes this year.

This is an example of a half truth that if applied to the advertising of a product, would cause screams to high Heaven.

The facts are that some corporations did not pay any income tax, because they failed to have any net income due to economic conditions. No person, natural, or corporate, is required to pay an income tax on no income.

But the statement is even more aggravated because the large share of this 40 per cent of the corporations are what is known as Sub-Chapter S Corporations commonly called S Corporations.

Mahon planning two-week visit in home district

Congressman George Mahon said this week that he will spend two weeks in his district following the recess of Congress Friday.

CONGRESS will reconvene Sept. 5, and has set Sept. 30 as the target date for final adjournment.

Mahon said he hopes the Sept. 30 adjournment date could be met, but pointed out that much additional work remains to be done.

"I will present to the House in mid-September the big defense appropriation bill totaling in excess of $75 billion dollars," Mahon said. "I predict that the appropriation work of the Congress will be completed in September, and that the sums made available for all purposes will not greatly exceed the President's total budget. There will be increases and decreases; in my judgment, however, some bills will be considerably in excess of requirements."

MAHON SAID that a lame-duck session of Congress after the election would be a mistake and that he was pressing for final adjournment before the election date.

"My Lubbock and Washington offices will be open during the recess period," Mahon said, "but I plan to spend my time visiting about over the 17 county congressional district."

FAMILY OWNED ELEVATOR HAS STEADY GROWTH SINCE 1956

Bruegel and Sons Elevator, Inc. was built on the north edge of Dimmitt on US 385 in 1956.

"We built on to the original plant every year for the next seven years," J. R. Brown, elevator manager said.

Fred Bruegel Sr. is chairman of the board in the family owned corporation. Fred Bruegel Jr. is president of the corporation.

"Each family member has contributed considerably toward the growth and success of the elevator," Brown said.

"The present elevator and adjoining buildings are about five times the size of the original," Brown said. "We have added two major steel warehouses and three grain pick up points—at the Dodd Community, one, five miles north of Tam Anne, and the former White's Elevator 16 miles west of Dimmitt. We can now spot about 50 railroad cars on our spur track since the spur was lengthened to keep up with our expansion."

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association has brought Japanese and numerous German people to visit the local elevator. Some American field service visitors have also toured the Bruegel and Sons Elevator.

J. R. Brown is manager of the facility. Ed Woodard is also in the office to help customers. Elevator superintendent is Carl Nelson, and Gerald Johnson works in the elevator.

"Our slogan is 'Serving the Best Grainmen in the Nation'," Brown said. "We feel that the best grain producers in the nation are here in Castro County. The mutual advantages of our services and the crops produced by these grainmen have enabled us to expand to this point.

"We deal in all types of grains," Brown says.

Bruegel and Sons Elevators are ready to serve your seed and grain needs.

SHERIFF'S BUCKBOARD—Ready to go for the Roundup Parade today is this red buckboard owned by Sheriff Jack Cartwright. In the seat are Donnie McDaniel and Danny Goolsby, who mounted the spring seat, repaired a wheel and broke the team of horses to pull the wagon in today's parade.

Riding in the bed are Kenny and LuAnn Ebeling, Ms. Cindy McDaniel and Ms. Kathy Goolsby. This is one of three old wagons which the sheriff owns.

Cartwright has wagons—but who has the horses?

Sheriff Jack Cartwright is preserving an important part of America's history with his collection of horse-drawn wagons. Cartwright has an old buckboard, a caisson and a deluxe buggy. He also has an interest in an old chuck wagon.

The buckboard will be in today's Roundup Parade, and will be driven by Donnie McDaniel and Danny Goolsby, who have been repairing it and breaking a two-horse team to pull it. "I got the wagon in a swap with Arnold Morgan seven or eight years ago," Cartwright said. "He told me he thought it was originally a hearse. Mr. Detweiler at Dodd—he runs a blacksmith shop there—restored the wagon for me."

"DONNIE AND Danny repaired a wheel and mounted a spring seat on it, and painted the seat red to match the rest of the wagon. I got the spring seat from a man at Hereford, and I got the harness off of Pie Montgomery," Cartwright said.

Although the wagon required a lot of repair, Cartwright said his old buggy "is just like it was new."

"It has the original floor mat in it, a chauffeur's seat that folds up, and has fenders on it," the sheriff said. "The top needs to be repaired where it's rotting a little, but otherwise it's just as good as new."

CARTWRIGHT, who seems to enjoy a good trading session, swapped around to get the buggy, too.

"I sold an old 1929 International truck to Jim Hays," he said, "then I took the money and bought the buggy from Lynn Polson."

Cartwright's first antique wagon was the artillery caisson, which he acquired in 1942.

"I got it off of Raymond Ellison at Hereford," he explained. "He had two of them and sold me that one for $10. He used to break brones to it. It's an old World War I caisson that carried ammunition and pulled a field cannon. It was drawn by a two-horse team."

The Castro County Unit of the American Cancer Society met last Monday to complete plans for the coming year. A FINAL fund-drive figure of $4,200 was realized in the county during the past year, more than the goal of 36 cents per person set for the state. The meeting night has been changed from the first Monday to the first Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in Lamar Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church. Meetings will be held in September, October, January, March, May and August.

Mr. and Mrs. Hary Kleman will take over the presidency of the county unit in September.

THE PUBLIC Education Committee is sending a letter to all county organizations offering to give a program at a club meeting, and asking for a club member to attend Cancer Society meetings.

Hart members of the local unit built a float which appeared in the Hart Day parade.

Contributions in memory of deceased friends and loved ones are on the increase in the county. During the past month, 13 contributions were given in memory of four different persons.

Greetings Comrades,
I'm going to start off by saying that our District 13 Convention last weekend was a tremendous success. I just can't get over the large turnout we had for this event.

THINGS got off to a slow start Saturday afternoon, but as time went by the registration increased, and soon well over a hundred people had signed in. Later that evening "The Wells Fargo's" were making some mighty good music to dance by. This group of conventioners were definitely in a dancing mood. The dance floor was crowded every song the band played.

Sunday morning we opened our joint meeting at 9 o'clock and our good Mayor, Elmer Youts, gave a wonderful light-hearted welcoming speech. Thanks a lot Mr. Mayor, we appreciate your kind words for our organization and for taking time to be with us.

Our Department Representative, Sr. Vice-Commander W. K. Huber and Ladies' Auxiliary Representative, Past Department President Ylovia Williams both expressed appreciation for courtesies extended them and what a wonderful year we have to look forward to. Our Veterans Hospital representative, C. L. Walker, gave a brief talk praising our efforts for the clothing drives in the past. In Dimmitt alone he was able to collect three pickup loads of clothes to be distributed to needy veterans and their families.

AFTER THE joint meeting we had our regular business meeting at the Post Home and the Ladies Auxiliary conducted their meeting in the community room at the First State Bank.

Dist. 13 Commander, Roy Bussey of Littlefield, presided over the meeting. Roy talked about our goals for the coming year and how important it was for each post to do their part in bringing Dist. 13 up this year. We are off to a roaring start with 357 transmittals being turned in at the meeting.

We were honored to have District 7 Commander, H. A. Edmanson of Levelland, as our guest and he extended an invitation to attend the Dist. 7 Convention in Slaton Sept. 16-17.

LITTLEFIELD Post 4854 was awarded the "Traveling Plaque" but they just barely did win as Plainview was a close second. I might add, Littlefield will be the site of the next convention to be held in November.

We have something in common with Littlefield that I think is rather unique, our commanders are Vietnam veterans. There has been a very noticeable increase of Vietnam veterans taking part in post and district events and programs. At the district convention about 10 percent present were Vietnam veterans and I'm sure proud to see it.

BOOSTER CLUB OFFICERS are currently supervising the annual membership drive of the Dimmitt Athletic Boosters, with a goal of 400 to 500 members this year. To stimulate membership, the club is planning a weekly football contest for members only, with cash prizes for weekly winners and trips to the Cotton Bowl and Sun Bowl games for the season's guessing champions. Officers of the club, from left, are Ms. Shirley Wise, treasurer; George Rush, president; Ms. Adeline Rush, reporter; Ms. Polly Simpson, secretary; and Ellis Mayberry, vice-president.

On behalf of our Commander Eddie Adams, all the Post officers and members, I want to extend a very sincere heartfelt, "Thank You for a job well done" to the Ladies Auxiliary unit of our post for their work in planning, preparing and presenting this convention. The meal we had Sunday, everyone will agree was really outstanding and the work registering our out-of-town guests and other jobs too numerous to mention was deeply appreciated. Thanks again girls, we couldn't have done it without your help.
JUST FOR the record, I want to mention that our post home will be open during Round-Up Week. In the past we have been closed but this year we will remain open during normal hours of operation, 4:30 to 12 on week days and 4:30 to 1 on Saturday.
LAST WEDNESDAY we had a nice crowd at Game Night and I hope we have another one this week. Remember this is a family type event and you can bring everyone, there's no need to hire a babysitter. We start at 8:30 and I hope to see you there.

Boys Ranch Rodeo coming Sept. 3-4

The only rodeo of its kind in the nation will be held over the Labor Day weekend, Sept. 3 and 4.

IT WILL BE the 28th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, where approximately 10,000 people are expected for the two performances. Both performances of the rodeo will begin at 2:30 on Sunday and Monday afternoons with music provided by the Boys Ranch band. An added attraction will be big barbecue sandwiches that will be prepared and sold by the boys for only $1.00. The rodeo is also a traditional homecoming for the more than 2,500 boys who have lived at the Ranch since it was founded by Cal Farley in 1939.
