The 1970 census counted 3,047 white persons in Coke County, 98.5 per cent of the total; and 45 persons of other races. In 1960, 99.9 of the population was white. The census showed 187 children under 5 years; 766 in ages 5 through 17; 1,636 people 17 through 64; and 498 who were 65 and older. The population 14 years and over included 1,650 married people, 255 who were widowed, 42 divorced, and 457 never married.

There were 1,103 households, with 3,079 persons, including 235 one-person households. In addition 8 persons were living in group quarters.

The 1970 census counted 1,564 housing units in Coke County, 817 of them occupied by owners, 286 occupied by tenants, and 461 vacant. These included vacant units for seasonal use. The proportion occupied by owners in 1970 was 52.2 per cent, compared with 46.1 per cent in 1960.

Harvey Wink came in closely behind with the honors as he took a second place in the grueling one mile run with a 4:58.4.

In the shot put competition, James Fields won fourth place. Next Saturday, Coach Kenneth Rasco will take his track team to Bangs and to San Angelo March 26 and 27.

New Farm Program Outlined

Under both the 1971 and 1972 farm programs, the set-aside acres on each farm must be of at least average productivity for the farm. This announcement from Frank Percifull, chairman of the Coke County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, provides farmers with a guideline for next year as well as this year.

"Originally, it appeared that farmers participating in the new set-aside farm programs would be asked to set aside acreage that had been in crop production at least one of the three previous years," Percifull said.

This would have meant a hardship for some farmers; for instance those with good potential cropland in permanent cover. Also, it would have limited a farmer's freedom to make his own farm management decisions just at a time when farm programs are being shaped to give farmers more decision-making freedom.

"So the U. S. Department of Agriculture revoked the 1-in-3 rule for set-aside land, and ruled that set-aside acreage must be of at least average productivity for the farm," the ASC Committee chairman said.

"Now it has been announced that the same ruling will be in effect next year also.

"I want to emphasize that the average productivity rule will be closely followed. If a producer designates set-aside acreage which is below average in productivity for his farm, his County ASC Committee will reduce the producer's farm payment by Austin — A blue ribbon committee has been formed to lead the fight against income taxation.

Midland attorney Tom Sealy resigned from the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System to devote full time to directing the work of the statewide group.

Texas Association of Taxpayers started with an advisory committee of 300 prominent citizens. Sealy announced that a membership drive is getting under way.

"Our purpose is not obstruction, but rather an honest and open effort to help the Legislature develop a reasonable tax program and undertake whatever economies are possible in order to resolve this situation in the regular session," Sealy said.

"We are united on one broad principle — that this should be done within the present tax structure and without enactment of either a personal income tax or a corporate income tax."

T.A.T. notes that business pays 34 per cent of the present sales tax and that 18 per cent of all state revenues come from natural resource taxes which many states do not levy. Our organization, says Sealy, feels that "this is no time to strap income taxes on the people" in view of unemployment and the shape of the economy.

It will argue a corporate income tax is "simply the forerunner of a personal income tax."

Meanwhile, the House-passed $492.5 million tax bill, made up largely of sales levy increases, arrived in the Senate without a sponsor. It was referred to the State Affairs Committee.

Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan, chairman of the State Affairs Committee, indicated that he will not lend his name to the bill and that he is in no hurry to schedule hearings.

AD RULES SET — Advertising regulations for health insurance companies to follow have been drafted by the State Board to take effect April 1.

Companies are instructed to stick strictly to the truth and to close loopholes that might deprive the policyholder of coverage.

Special participating policies drew close attention and were termed "unfair, inequitable, misleading and deceptive."

Tough rules drafted earlier by a Board attorney were discarded in favor of uniform regulations recommended by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. Insurancemen favored the latter.

Ads must disclose the waiting period that is necessary before the effective date of the policy, any illnesses not covered and whether benefits listed require more than one policy for full coverage.

When existing ailments are not covered, the ad cannot imply that one's medical history does not affect the policy or the claim payment. Use of the phrase "no medical examination required" is thus limited.

Board plans to enforce these rules by cease and desist orders. Companies which ignore the order can be fined or have their license revoked.

TEXAS RATES LOW IN SAFETY — Texas was ranked in the bottom quarter of states in a federal evaluation of compliance with federal highway safety standards.

Gov. Preston Smith in a letter to Transportation Secretary John Volpe protested the rating and said that Texas' efforts to comply have been "misjudged or ignored." He said the Legislature is now considering all aspects necessary to compliance.

National rating is based on such things as motor vehicle inspection and registration, licensing, codes and statutes, traffic courts, driver education, emergency medical services, highway design, construction and maintenance and alcoholic beverages in relation to highway safety.

In a special message to the Legislature, Smith asked for an end to the misdemeanor probation for drunk drivers.

COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court in a Montgomery County school bond election case held one must render property (real or personal) for taxation to be eligible to vote in such elections.

High Court, in a seven to two verdict, reversed the lower courts in a Reeves County case and concluded that a rancher does not have legal title to 160 acres of land even though he maintained fences for more than 10 years and kept his cattle there.

Attorney General Crawford W. Martin advised consumers that merchants are not required by law to take back merchandise returned by customers who have simply changed their minds about wanting it. Stores, he said, are liable for defective merchandise.

APRIL DRAFT CALL — Col. Melvin N. Glantz, state director of Selective Service, announced the April draft call in Texas is 1,033.

National call by the Department of Defense is for 17,000 men, all for the Army. April call for pre-induction physical examination in Texas will be 4,001.

Short Snorts
Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon will be governor for a day on April 3.

Bicentennial Commission recommended a program for Texas' participation in the nation's 200 anniversary celebration.

Harlingen is the first Texas city to announce a "crime-stop" telephone number in cooperation with the new state program to report crimes.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes announced plans to organize a 1,000-member Texas delegation to visit Paris, Stockholm and Moscow on behalf of American prisoners of war and servicemen missing in Vietnam action.

WASHINGTON
 "As it looks

OMAR BURLESON
 Congressman

Washington — The recent agreement between 17 building trade unions and 34 major contractors is something like an agreement between neighbors not to run over one another's lawn with a four-ton truck. In effect the rules say that the union members will come to work on time, will do the best job they can using whatever tools they need, and will leave only when the work day is over. It is agreed that the contractors will not resort to lock outs. The agreement provides that neither the unions nor contractors will break the law and that workers will not be paid for not working.

Following the release of these terms, there was considerable excitement in the newspapers around Washington. One report termed the agreement as "without precedent" and so it doubtless is. The same article said of this provision, "it would have been unthinkable in these circles a few years ago." One must wonder what is "unthinkable" about abiding by rules in existence, either written, implied or assumed, all along.

Most news articles described the pact as a "breakthrough in the construction industry, which, if it can be enforced, will help hold down the skyrocketing building costs." If rules of conduct could not be enforced before these latest agreements, one again must ask what is new — nothing appears to change methods of enforcement in any contract.

About everyone can agree that ballooning costs in construction should be held down. According to figures compiled by the Associated General Contractors, costs have gone up 81 per cent in the past dozen years while other living expenses have increased 39 per cent in the same period.

The entire story is, however, not told in this comparison, even though construction industry is sort of a bellwether.

The same kind of issue is involved in numerous other industries where make-work or no-work rules rank in importance to work itself. In the end it is production that counts. When production costs more, the end product is bound to cost more, assuming that other factors, such as margins of business profit are reasonable. Hence inflation feeds on itself and everyone is hurt.

In terms of economic welfare of the country, there are two opposing views of this situation. Some see overly expensive work rules as keeping employment high, even at the expense of more costly products. Others see these same rules as making housing more costly resulting in a reduction in construction of all kinds.

Many industries are coming around to the idea of a four day work week. Most of those who have tried it say four 10-hour days per week prove more productive than 5 days of 8 hours each. Workers seem to like it and produce more. After a level of experience this plan may catch on for greater industrial efficiency at some less costs.

What was started out here was to point up an incongruous situation of negotiating an agreement not to violate the law. It is something like a candidate for public office who proclaims his honesty. What less could be expected?

Steve Jameson of Andrews was a weekend visitor in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Homer Jameson.

LEARN

Turn on, tune in, or get off is not only the phraseology of our youth but for ages has been the calling card of any lawless person wanting to "get by" with something illegal. Young person, you are being used by the criminal element of our nation.

The idealism which suggests "flowing like water," "doing what comes naturally," or "doing one's own thing" certainly is not new. Mankind has always wanted to eat, drink, and be merry regardless of future death. Just because something smells sweet, don't call it a rose. Many things look good on the surface but inside are "rotten."

Situational ethics says, "do what you feel like doing." If you want to drive a better car, steal one. If you are angry then hurt someone. If you want to drink then drink something, that is, regardless of the effect. If you feel sleepy in the morning just stay in bed. Do what comes naturally.

Notice though, from the cradle to the grave our maturity depends on "acting;" acting the proper way in a given circumstance. Not necessarily doing what we want but what is best for the future. It is natural for a child to want candy instead of good food; should it be allowed to eat only candy? It is natural to want things we can't buy; should we steal them? It is natural to be angry when displeased; should we commit an act of violence? The very ones who suggest doing what comes naturally are the first to talk about "love," "peace," "brotherhood," "right," and "wrong." If what they teach be true there is no such thing as right or wrong but simply "what one wants to do."

Crime-Stop Program For Coke County

A statewide effort to reduce crime by stimulating public awareness and participation in law enforcement was launched recently from the office of Gov. Preston Smith.

In an appeal to Texas newspaper publishers, Governor Smith asked them to initiate, coordinate and publicize "Operation Crime-Stop" in their respective communities as part of the Governor's Crime-Stop Program.

The plan has been endorsed by the board of directors of Texas Press Association, to which most of the publishers belong. It seeks "to enlist the aid of newspapers across the state and to join them with other resources in their home communities in the campaign to involve all citizens in crime prevention and control."

The role of the law enforcement agency (police or sheriff's department) in Crime-Stop, the Governor explained, consists principally of providing a telephone number for citizens to call to report suspicious persons or circumstances, and of making the necessary response to such calls. Though the police agency naturally prefers to know the identity of all callers, it gives assurance that those wishing to remain anonymous may do so.

Beyond this, the program is largely one of creating public awareness of the crime problem, advising citizens to observe suspicious persons and circumstances and to report them by calling the Crime-Stop numbers.

Crime-Stop, the Governor said, has a place in communities of all sizes. While the public information staff of the Criminal Justice Council will provide aids and suggestions to the newspapers of the state, the program must be tailored locally to fit the needs of the individual community, he added.

All law enforcement officers in Coke County indicated their interest in the Crime-Stop program. They said they would appreciate being alerted at any time a citizen sees suspicious happenings.

Sheriff Melvin Childress said he felt the idea was a good one, and that he and county officers under him always appreciate all the help they can get.

Highway Patrolman Bobby Hart pointed out that if all local law enforcement officers are out and cannot be reached, the caller may call the Department of Public Safety office in San Angelo and a dispatcher can contact local officers by radio.

Hart said he wanted to emphasize that making a call to officers is not "squealing." "It is the duty of every citizen," he said "to report illegal activities. To do so promptly may even save the life of somebody," the patrolman added.

ART SHOW PLANNED AT BRONTE APRIL 3, 4

A children's art show is being planned for April 3 and 4 in Bronte. The paintings will be hung in the showroom at Highway Garage, formerly Caperton Chevrolet Co.

Royce Phillips, local art teacher and director of the show, said adults are invited to hang paintings in the show, but only the work of children who are 14 or under will be judged and ribbons awarded.

Phillips said all paintings to be shown must be delivered to him on Thursday, April 1, and picked up again late Saturday at the conclusion of the show.

Frank Walker, San Angelo artist, will judge the children's work.

Could you ask the people of Robert Lee to help us keep our city clean?

Your friends,
Second Graders

Now all your U.S. Savings Bonds pay higher interest.

Now it's official.

Now one of the safest investments in the world brings you new and higher returns.

Now your U.S. Savings Bonds pay the highest interest in history: a full 5 per cent when held to maturity of 5 years and 10 months. (4% the first year; 5.20% thereafter to maturity.) Previously, these Bonds earned you only 4 1/4% if you held them for seven years.

The new interest began June 1, 1969. So all of the Bonds you own, no matter when you bought them, have been collecting higher interest since that time.

Those Bonds are still replaced if lost, stolen or burned.

You can still buy them through Payroll Savings or the Bond-a-Month plan.

Regardless of your other investments, can you think of any easier, better, or safer way to build a nest egg for yourself?

It's nice to know that you are doing a little something for Uncle Sam, too. The $52 billion in U.S. Savings Bonds now outstanding in the hands of millions of Americans go a long way toward keeping your country financially strong.

There never was a better time to take stock in America.

There's a man at the place where you work who can start you on the Payroll Savings Plan right now.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America. With higher paying U.S. Savings Bonds.

FARM PROGRAM —

an amount to reflect the difference in productivity of the set-aside acreage and the acreage on which the program crop is produced," Percifull said.

"Farmers signing up for one or more of the 1971 feed grain, wheat, and cotton programs agree to set aside part of their land—20 per cent of the feed grain, 20 per cent of the cotton base acreage allotment, and 75 per cent of the domestic wheat allotment. The program sign-up period is underway now and continues through April 9, at the County ASCS office.

After his crops are up—usually in June—a program participant certifies compliance with the programs he has signed up for, at which time he designates exactly his set-aside acreage. Following certification, spot-checks may be made on the farm at any time to determine if farm program provisions have been fully complied with.

Final dates to make certification in Coke County are May 1 on wheat and August 1 on feed grain and cotton.

Percifull said spot-checks may be conducted by either local or out of state ASCS compliance officials.
