PRINCIPAL ITEMS OF WAR NEWS REPORTED DURING THE PAST WEEK

The Russo-Japanese war failed to develop any startling features last week, with the exception of the one lone agement, when Admiral Togo have to in front of Port Arthur, cleared his decks for action and shelled the Russian ghold. A number of people—the exact number has not been made public by the Russian officials—were killed, rding to well authenticated reports. It is also known that the Russian cruiser Diana was damaged seriously. Another feature was the blowing up of a Russian torpedo destroyer by a mine in the Port Arthur harbor. entire crew is believed to have been lost.

Marquis Ito has reached Seoul and is conferring with the Korean authorities, while Russia declares that, a Koreans are coerced, it will not consider them as belligerents and will ignore them as much as possible.

Gen Kuropatkin le rushing across Siberia, while Russian troops continue to pour into northern Korea. China is suspected of encouraging a "Jap" landing and Russia has given another warning at Peking, at the same holding 17,000 men in readiness to meet the landing forces.

And the military band still plays twice a week in the park at Port Arthur.

A development of the week that may precipitate a naval battle soon is the probable departure of the Russian adivostok squadron from the icebound harbor by forcing its way out with dynamite. It is believed the fleet is tryto join the skips under Admiral Mararoff's command off the Lisotung peninsula. At the same time the latter are to have attempted but falled to get away and join the Viadivostok fleet.

The powers have abandoned all idea of offering mediation. Russia has forbidden foreigners at New Chwang from going beyond the mud walls of the native city. Viadivostok reports mail and telegraphic communication open, letters from St. Petersburg reaching there in

Before the outbreak of hostilities Japan consented to eliminate Manchuria from the controversy on assurces that treaty rights there would be respected. Japan insisted on Russia acknowledging the absolute preponderance of Japan in the whole of Korea, while Russia demanded a neutral zone, to extend from the Manaurian border to a line running from Gensan to the Ping Yang inlet. The white space in the map indicates the zone proposed by Russia. Japan was willing to concede a neutral zone, but insisted that it should include an equal part of Manchuria, including the Yalu river and the Russian forts thereon.

Fire on the night of March 18th destroyed the entire wood working department of the Santa Fe shops at Albuquerque. The fire was caused by a careless employe dropping a torch into a pile of shavings. Several freight cars and thousands of feet of lumber were burned. Prompt work by the fire departments of the Santa Fe company and the city prevented the flames from spreading to other departments of the shops. The damage is estimated at $35,600. The burned structures will be immediately rebuilt.

Judge A. J. Socorro Earthquake Theory. "It is perhaps an exaggeration to say that we are having a daily earth-quake in Socorro, but it is pretty nearly that," said Dr. Charles R. Keyes of the Socorro School of Mines at the Alvarado hotel in Albuquerque Dr. Keyes was in the city for a or two on business and was asked by the Morning Journal to explain the causes for the frequent disturbances which have alarmed the people of Socorro and San Marcial within the past

"I do not find the cause in any volcanic disturbance," said Dr. Keyes. "There is not a particle of evidence of any such cause to be found in the district. In my opinion the shocks are the result of the slipping of the strata in the Magdalena mountains. The frequency of the shocks would tend to point to the slipping of the huge masses of rock on the mountain sides as the cause. The matter will prove an interesting one for geological in-vestigation, and the School of Mines expects to look into it carefully at the slightest cause for alarm, as this slipping of the strata is by no means un common in the mountain regions, and would not be at all surprised if Albuquerque is experiencing just such shocks every day, only they are too slight to be noted without the aid of delicate instruments. Some of the shocks at Socorro have been very violent and have shaken houses, sent dishes flying from shelves and spilled water from buckets. They are some what terrifying at the beginning, but the people are now getting used to

Important Railroad Suit.

The legal department of the Santa Fe system in Las Vegas has been served with notice of a suit filed in the district court at Albuquerque, by the Caledonia Coal company, of Gallup, against the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company, the Santa Fe-Pacific Railroad Company, the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company and the American Fuel Company, for sums that exceed, in the aggregate, $500,000. The plaintiff company asks $400,000 in damages, $50,000 attorney's fees, and costs. It is charged that the companies named have violated the United States act protecting trade and commerce from monopoly and restraint, and the statute regulating interstate commerce. The Santa Fe company is charged with having made better rates to the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company than to any other corporations. Neill B. Field of Albuquerque represents the plaintiff, and R. E. Twitch-

Day for Planting Trees.

Following is the text of Governor Otero's Arbor Day proclamation: Executive Office, Santa Fe, N. M., March 11, 1904. Whereas, Under the laws of the territory of New Mexico, the second Friday of March in each year is designated as Arbor Day, to be observed by the public schools, their officers and teachers in the territory, but that the actual planting of trees may be done on such other and more convenient time as may be best to conform to the local climatic conditions;

Now, therefore, I, Miguel A. Otero, governor of the territory of New Mexico, in pursuance of said law, and by virtue of the authority in me vested, do hereby designate and proclaim Friday, the 25th day of March, 1904, as Arbor Day, to be observed by all the public schools of the territory as such by the planting and setting out of trees and shrubbery for the beautifying and adornment of public school grounds and places, or in the streets or private homes of citizens of the commi nities of the territory; and the county superintendents of the several countles throughout the territory are admon shed to give particular care and attention to see that the same is obtheir charge, in order that not only they may derive the benefit and pleas ure which such observance will give, but that those who come after them may share in the same.

Done at the executive office, this the 11th day of March, A. D. 1904. Witness my hand and the great seal of the territory of New Mexico. MIGUEL A. OTERO. By the Governor:

Money for New Mexico.

The Indian appropriation bill which has passed the House of Representatives, includes the items to build a girl's dormitory at the United States Industrial school at Santa Fe to cost $25,000, as well as the item of $50,-000 to improve the Indian school and plant at Albuquerque.

The chances now are that these two items will stick in the bill through the Senate, and this will prove quite s triumph for this section of the coun.

Besides these the bill contains an appropriation for a large sum of money day schools at the different pueb los, and irrigation projects in the ter-ritory, and for the support of the Nav-ajos and other Indians. Delegate Rodey helped very materially in getting these latter items made quite large, and has the assurance of the Indian of fice that New Mexico will not again be cheated out of its share of these funds as it has been for many years past.

The Zuni irrigation project will be finished, if possible, within two years, and this will involve, before it is done, probably an outlay of $150,000.—Alburuerque Journal

ROOSEVELT'S SIMPLICITY.

The $1,000,000 home in the suburbs for the president and the increase of nis salary to $75,000 a year are the latest steps toward extravagance fathered by Republican leaders very close to the present occupant of the White house, according to Joseph Ohl, Washington correspondent for the Atlanta Constitution. Mr. Ohl snys that these propositions, coming as they do, coincident with an appropriation of $90,000 for new stables to guard against the Roosevelt horses contracting solds, have served to direct attention to the unwonted extravagance which has marked every phase of the Roosevelt administration. "The wiser Republican politicians." says Mr. Obl. 'are manifesting no little alarm over these developments, since they realize that such evidence of extravagance may prove a dangerous weapon in the hands of their oppopents in a campaign before the people, and there is much effort in onsequence to cover up the facts." Under the Roosevelt administration, Mr. Ohl says that one is astounded to read the cost the nation has been forced to pay for these extras. He explains: "First, an appropriation of $475,445 was slipped into the sundry civil service bill in June, 1902, to cover the cost of this so-called 'restoration,' Instead of calling on the army of architects which the government employs for the construction of its public buildings throughout the country, and which numbers in its ranks some of the leading architects in the United States, $65,000 was paid to a New York firm, the head of which had the good fortune to be a personal friend of the then secretary of war, Mr. Root, to furnish the plans for piece of vandalism which any presiditions of this country. But this sum | generation. was not enough, and from time to time, the general appropriation for this include the $65,000 appropriated for the president's horses, nor the $90,000 which congress only several days ago was asked to appropriate Tuesday

BANK OF PORTALES,

The Bank of Portales, the oldest financial institution in Portales, sends greetings to the people of Roosevelt county, and wishes a happy and prosperons New Year to all. We are are in a better condition than ever to accomdate our customers, and if you are in search of a safe and conservative institution with which to do business; you an find none better than the Bank of Portales.

Out of the 18,425 banking houses in the United States only about 5,000 are National Banks, and bank statistics show that in proportion to numbers, more National Banks failed during the past year, than any other kind.

The banking laws of the territory are so framed as to rotect the depositor and, under its wise provisions, but few, if any, bank failures occur.

The Territorial Auditor is compelled, under the law, to visit all Territorial Banks twice a year and make an examination of their condition, and report the same, and the banks are required, by law, to make two reports, thus making four annual reports.

We want your business. Our motto is, "Live and Let Live" Call and see us and be convinced that it will be to your interest to do business with us.

For Brunettes.

The fashion of blending pale pink and red is a blessing to brunettes, to whom the combination is most becoming. The pink is used for the foundation of the frock in some soft or gauzy fabric, with a garniture of cherry-colored, poppy or even crimson velvet. Occasionally this order is reversed and a red gown is decorated with flowers or ribbons in pale pink, but the result in this case is not

It was a hot, sultry July morning 1 ows of the great trees toward the The harvesting season on the farm of John Frost was at its height. Outside the great, white farmhouse, all was silent and serene. But inside, all was changed, for John Frost's young wife, with a perplexed face, was cogitating over the fact, that dinner was to be gotten for a dozen hungry men, and as was often the case, the master of "Maple Grove Farm" had gone to the field without providing wood with which to cook the midday meal. "Julia,' she called, impatiently, "go out and see if you can't find some wood. It's time the pies were in the oven this minute." Reluctantly Julia took a basket and went out, knowing full well what it meant to search for wood, for had she not done so many times before, and knew there was hardly a splinter left on the adjacent fences? Mrs. Frost wiped the beads of perspiration from her face, which had contracted into an ugly frown. She was angry and humiffated at the repeated necessity of searching for wood herself, or inflicting the useless burden on her little maid.

"Oh, it is such a desperate remedy," she thought, "but I must do it. It is my last and only chance." Just then Julia entered the kitch-

EXPERIMENTS ON THE BRAIN. Electricity is Not Dangerous When a Mild Current Is Used.

Experiments on the brain of a liv ing subject with electric currents have been comparatively rare, as there has prevailed among physicians and physiologists the idea that such a course of experimentation was extremely dangerous. There have recently been published, however, records of some experiments carried on by M. S. Leduc, with the object of using the electric current to produce sleep and of studying its effects on the brain generally. In early experiments it was shown that the brain is the best conductor of electricity in the human body, being about 3,000 times more conducting than muscle. It was also observed that when a continuous current was passed through the head from one ear to the other, and the sensation of giddiness was produced and that objects appeared to revolve in the same directions as the current flowed. However, when the electrodes are placed on the forehead and neck and the current sent from back to front the effects are innocuous so long as a mild current used, and in some cases may be beneficial. According to M. Leduc, the most satisfactory current is one ot four millamperes at thirty volts, which is broken or interrupted 100 times a second for nine-tenths of the period of interruption. The first effect noted was the disappearance of the faculty of speech, after which followed the loss of the motor faculties. Under ordinary conditions there is no affection of the respiration or and then it may cease. The patient is said to awaken instantaneously from the electric sieep and to experience a feeling of refreshment.

PHRASES USED BY MODISTES.

They Vary With the Years and the Seasons Just as Styles Do.

A woman who ordered a "gown" at her dressmaker's a short time ago does not do so now. Dressmakers who cater to fashionable folk are as careful of their phrases as a professor, and every few years the style in expressions changes. For instance, she would not think of calling her place of business a "shop" or a "store." To her it is a "salon." Nor does she sell "gowns" or "frocks." "Dresses" or "costumes" are the latest terms "Costume for ceremony" is the queersounding phrase that means a specially ornate affair. The modern dressmaker never uses the word "coat." It is called "jacket." Nor does she deal in waists. "Bodice" is the proper term. She refers to the "models" on

Phenomenal Fishing. One of the most phenomenal catches of fish on record has just been made at Oceanside, Los Angeles, Cal. T. J. McGarvin and three assistants ran their seine through the surf and then were unable to pull it in, owing to the enormous amount of fish they had taken. A team was sent for and attached, and still the catch could not be landed. A second team was procured and the united effort of men and teams drew the wonderful catch to the shore. Most of the fish were of the kinds known as yellowfin croakers and blackfin croakers, fish about eighteen inches in length, and weighing eight or ten pounds each. It was found when the fish were ready for market that there were fifteen tons of them. Nine tons were shipped to Los Angeles and the remainder were dried at the fish-drying works there,

For Growing Girls. West Pembroke, Me., March 21-Mrs. A. L. Smith of this place, says that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for growing girls. Mrs. Smith emphasizes her recommends tion by the following experience: "My daughter was thirteen years old last November and it is now two years since she was first taken with Crazy Spells that would last a week and would then pass off. In a month she would have the spells again. At these times she would eat very little and was very yellow, even the whites of her eyes would be yellow. The doctors gave us no encou agement, they all said they could not help her. After taking one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she has not had one bad spell. Of course, we continued the treatment until she had used in all about a dozen boxes, and westill give them to her occasionally, when she is not feeling well. Dodd's Kidney Pills are certainly the best medicine for growing girls,"

Mothers should heed the advice of Mrs. Smith, for by so doing they may save their daughters much pain and sickness and insure a healthy, happy; future for them.

To Readers of "The Union": I have been through the World's Fair grounds again to-day for the third time since coming to Louis last week, and every day the wonder within me grows, I had imagined from the descriptions that the management intended to eclipse anything ever before attempted, but I had no idea of the tremendous size, the magnificent designs, the splendid settings, and the artistic beauty of the buildings. I was somewhat prepared to see something of the ordinary, but my mind had by no means grasped the splendors which will be open to the visitors to the World's Fair this summer. Of course the grounds and the buildings at this time are in a chaotic state, and the weather was unpropiltious for pleasant visiting, but even with these drawbacks, and with nothing but the bare and in many cases but partially inished buildings to be seen, the

When Trains Would Not Stop.

M. F. De Mare suggests a system operating railroads, particularly er, which will avoid the loss of time due to stoppages to let off and take on passengers. The train, which may be frawn by any power, has attached to the rear end a car equipped with motors, enabling it to attain a speed somewhat above that of the train.

Before approaching a station, the passengers and baggage intended for that point are transferred to the rear car.

The latter is then detached from the train and brought to a stop at the station, the train proceeding at full speed. Passengers who wish to take the train to other points are placed on a car similar to that detached from the train. This stands on a side track and on the approach of the train gets under way. As soon as the train has passed the station, the car proceeds out upon the track at full speed

Production of Argon.

The Paris chemist, Henri Moissan

aided by another chemist, has found a new method for producing argon, the component part of the atmospheric air.

the discovery of which by Lord Ray-leigh and Professor Ramsay some years ago created quite a sensation.

The gas argon is contained in very infinitesimal quantities in the air, and on account of the difficulty of obtaining it, it could never be thoroughly examined. Moissan obtains it from the air by passing the same through a red hot tube filled with spirals of copper.

In this manner the oxygen of the air is taken up and the gas emanating from the tube consists of nitrogen and argon. The nitrogen is then taken up for the most part by a mixture of magnesium and lime, and the remainder by calcium heated to a red heat. In this manner it has been possible to obtain a quart of argon in one day.

If there are too many cow stalls, the single and double stalls on each row of cattle can be made into two box stalls, leaving a passage of three feet between them to get into the cow stable. The bent on the side of the drive way comes directly over passage behind the cattle and to avoid having the posts in passage way they are put on each side of the gutter behind cattle with a cap of 12 by 12 inch timber on each and the sill rests on this cap.

Beans for Hens; Plan of House, Etc. H. D.-1. Would cooked beans fed once daily be a suitable food for laying hens? 2. What is the best way to use poultry manure for growing vegetaules on sandy soil?

Beans are seldom used as food for poultry, and it is doubtful if they would be relished as much as mash made with grains of other varieties. They could no doubt be used to advantage as a portion of the daily mash as they are rich in the elements needed by laying hens. 2. It is estimated that a cow weighing one thousand pounds should receive daily about twenty-four pounds of dry matter, and as well cured hay contains 70 per cent of dry matter, a cow should receive daily about thirtyfour pounds of hay. At this rate a cow will consume in six months little more than three tons of hay.

When old age comes on, catarrhal dis-cases come also. Systemic catarrh is al-most universal in old people.

This explains why Peruna has become so indispensable to old people. Peruna is their safe-guard. Peruna is the only remedy yet devised that meets these cases exactly.

Such cases cannot be treated locally; nothing but an effective systemic remedy could cure them. This is exactly what Representative Hearst of New York introduced a resolution providing for an investigation of the trust question by a committee of five members of the house. The resolutions contain ten clauses, reciting the evil effects of trusts on the country.

The Senate committee on territories rejected the resolution extending the hearing before a United States commi time for the construction of the Akron, Sterling & Northern railroad, for the reason that the company has had the franchise for a number of years and has not proceeded with the construc-

The Senate public lands committee authorized a favorable report on the Dubois bill providing that settlers who have made homestead entries and were unable to prove up on the same through no fault of their own, or who did not dispose of them for a pecumiary consideration, may make an addicional homestead entry.

Justice Pritchard has granted counsel for August W. Machen, George E. Lorenz, Diller B. Groff and Samuel A. Groff, convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States in connection with the Postoffice Department investipation, until April 28th next to file their bill of exceptions and to docket their appeal in the Court of Appeals.

The House committee on territories delegated to a sub-committee of four Republicans and three Democrats the task of framing an omnibus statehood bill to embody the conclusions of the committee on the various independent bills which have been considered by it . The omnibus bill will provide for two states as previously planned. The Democrats on the committee will oppose the joint statehood proposition. Among the amendments made to the ostoffice appropriations bill in the house was one by Mr. Overstreet, providing for an appropriation of $500,000 for "unusual business" at third and fourth class postoffices. The postmaster general is required to make public the regulations under which the allotments are to be made before using any part of this amount, and a similar requirement was imposed in the case of the expenditure of the $1,000,000 for separ-

In the House during the discussion of the postoffice appropriation bill, Mr. Spight of Mississippi discussed the negro question and declared unjust the attacks on the people of the South who had been charged with brutality and barbarism toward the colored Comparing the lynchings and burnings at the stake which had occurred in the South with those in the North, he said the people of the South in meting out punishment to a negro who had committed a flendish crime. never followed it up with violence toward defenseless children and women, as had been done in the North. He de clared that President Roosevelt, by inviting Booker Washington to dine at the White House, had done more to inflame the passions of the negro and to give him a perverted idea of his importance and his near approach to social equality than anything that had been done for the past ten years.

During a speech in the House, Mr. out the defects in the American system of government. Each new administration brought changes in certain employes according to the exigencies of presence of overwhelming danger that confronts us no effort is made to change the system." He then spoke of the growth of abuses in the various government departments and pointed McKinley and Roosevelt had misappropriated public property in using naval vessels as their private yachts. President Roosevelt, he declared found it necessary to have two vessels, the Mayflower and the Sylph, the latter fitted out at an expense of $100,000. The papers, he said, referred to them as the "President's yacht Mavflower" and the "President's yacht Sylph." In the Supreme Court on the 14th egislative and judicial appropriation inst. the government, through Attor-bill. This is the second of the big sup-ney General Knox, applied for a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Francis J. Wing of the United States District Court of the northern district of Ohio zona, to succeed Isaac T. Stoddard, to take what the department of justice maintains is legal action with respect to certain Chinese exclusion cases, This is the first time in the history of the Supreme Court that the government has sought a writ of mandamus against a federal judge. In his application Attorney General Knox maintains that Judge Wing, in holding unconstitutional that part of the Chinese exclusion law which provides for the deportation of alien Chinese after a sioner, is proceeding contrary to de-cisions of the United States Supreme Court and is preventing the deportation of Chinese who are unlawfully in the United States.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster Gen eral Bristow; in testifying before the louse special committee on the post office report, claimed for himself re sponsibility for only the first seven pages of the report which was sent to the postoffice committee, and said the other portions of the document were the work of other officials of the department. The clerk hire section, he said, was prepared in the office of the first assistant postmaster general and that part relating to leases by inspectors and others in his own department. Mr. Bristow's testimony threw much light on all phases of the inquiry. He practically cleared members of congress from wrong-doing touching the clerk hire section of the report, by stating that it was the duty of the first assistant's office to ascertain the condition of the work in an office where an increase had been recom-

In concluding his hearing before the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce Admiral Walker, president of the Panama Canal Company, stated that actual work on the canal would be begun after the commission had made a stay of a few weeks on the isthmus for which it was to sail March 29th. Admiral Walker, in answer to a question, said that a large number of inspectors would be employed by the commission. These inspectors would be engineers and he did not want the law to provide that they should be selected through the civil service commission. "Admiral," asked Chairman Hepburn, "what you have said in disparagement of the civil service comating mails at third and fourth class mission has been ery painful to some members of the committee. Don't you think it would be possible for you to select what char-women, scavengers and water-carriers you will need through the civil service?" "I am sorry to be misunderstood," replied the admiral, because I am a thorough believer in the civil service when it does not apply to us. But I am very sure that it would not be satisfactory to the isthmus of Panama."

The which the commission was to sail state rooms had been engaged to the capacity of the ship by the agents of prospective contractors who wanted to look the ground over. In this connection to the fact that Presidents Cleveland, he advised that no requirement of law should make it necessary to do the work by contract, as he believed contractors might combine to the disadvantage of the government. It was the intention of the committee, he said, to continue actual work on the canal as now being carried on by the French company, in order to demonstrate the exact cost of such work. The engineering feat of the whole enterprise was expected to be the construction of the Bohio dam. It will be necessary to go 120 feet below the sea level to get the proper foundation for this dam. Although there have been made borings for rock bottom, Admiral Walker said a little now and then?" He spoke of that many more would have to be ahe number of carriages and horses in made, because it was essential that the use by the Departments of Commerce | engineers should be absolutely certain of the proper foundation before beginning the work.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain, and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I ran across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,—she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it. I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain, and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out."- Miss Alice M.
