

DAILY DYNAMITE EXPLOSION AND RIOTS IN CRIPPLE CREEK DISTRICT

June 7.—The Republican at Victor gives the following account of the terrible dynamite explosion at the Independence district morning: A number of buildings surrounding the Independence station and which were damaged more or less by the explosion had been occupied as homes by union miners now on strike in the district. Warning had been given these, and none within the reach of the explosion were at home when it occurred. Fortunately the hoisting at the Shurtloff mine near by had been delayed, and the forty or more miners employed on that property had been released to take the train, as was their custom. Not for this, and with a little more careful planning of this plot by the assassins, 100 men might have met death in the explosion. That it was a deliberate, cold-blooded murder, and that it was perpetrated by union miners is not denied, and is believed by practically every person in the Cripple Creek district to-night. The assassin had planned the work carefully, deliberately, and there is no doubt but that in doing it he had the connivance, support and advice of many besides himself. Not for this, for the specific act have been made, but as the outcome of the violent demonstrations of thousands of citizens and non-union miners alike, fully 150 union miners were taken in charge by deputy sheriffs, deputy marshals, militiamen and private individuals, by forces of arms, in Victor, Independence and Goldfield, and these at 11:20 o'clock to-night were placed upon a special Florence & Cripple Creek train and headed for Cripple Creek, six miles away. The Trinidad bloodhound was telegraphed for, brought here and took up the trail of the murderer at 5 o'clock. The pump man at the Altman water works pump house on the Colorado Springs wagon road, about a mile below Cameron, says that at noon to-day he saw Victor Poole, one of the union miners, who had worked some of the early days of the strike on various mines in the district, and who had been in the air and surrender to the troops, and sheriff. 5:00 p. m. to 5:20 p. m.—Striking miners, who had been in the air and surrender to the troops, and sheriff. 5:20 to 6:30 p. m.—Arrest in Victor of union miners wherever found by sheriff and deputies. Union store raided by 150 union prisoners who had been taken during the day to Cripple Creek, going out of Victor at 11:30. List of Killed and Injured. Denver, June 7.—The following is a list of the killed and injured in the dynamite explosion at the Independence depot in the Cripple Creek district as given by the correspondent of the News: Sinclair, single, Cripple Creek, the thirteenth man to die as the result of the explosion. Gus Augustine, single, aged 25, home in Victor; has a brother living in Janesville, Wis. Arthur Muhleise, single, aged about 33, has relatives in Germany. Henry Haas, single, lives in Cripple Creek; relatives not yet learned. Alexander McLane, married, home in Cripple Creek; he was one of the best known miners of Leadville, where he lived for many years. Charles E. Barber, single, home in Cripple Creek. Herbert McCoy, married, home in Victor. J. H. Hartsell, single, lived in Cripple Creek. William Shanklin, single, Victor. E. Keino, married, home in Goldfield. W. Deaney, single, Cripple Creek. Edward Ross, single, Cripple Creek. E. H. Johnson, formerly of Little Horse, Wyo., home in Victor. Injured in the Victor hospital are: Phil Chandler, J. A. Brooker, Edward Hoffman, John Pollock, Tom Sinclair, Holland and Sinclair are in a critical condition. Injured in the Red Cross hospital in this city: Dan Galney and Clarence Allen. John Collier, both legs amputated at the Victor hospital. Ed Holland, right leg amputated at the Victor hospital. Dan Galney, right leg amputated at Red Cross hospital. A. H. Allen, both legs fractured, but amputation not necessary; at Red Cross hospital. Amputation has been performed upon a number of the wounded, but it is almost certain that several of them will die. Victims of Victor Riots. Denver, June 7.—The News correspondent furnishes the following list of killed and wounded in the Victor riots: Peter Crisman, Gold Coin miner, shot through the mouth but not fatally injured. Roxie McGee, killed outright, shot through the heart. Fred Studevant, shot from behind, through the right side. He found the bullet in his left pocket, where he recovered it. Not serious.

criminal charges, sealed in the back end of a buggy, which was being driven by a woman and heading down toward Colorado Springs at great speed. Specific charge against any one man or set of men for committing the crime has not been made. Detective Rob Sterling, an employe of the Mine Owners' Association, says that he has positive information who it was pulled the wire. News of the enormity of the crime was telephoned to President A. E. Carlson of the Findley mine by his superintendent, James S. Murphy, soon after the explosion. At 3:50 o'clock a special train on the Midland Terminal was made up in Cripple Creek with all available physicians, by Mr. Carlton, Mr. Murphy and E. C. Newcombe, and hastened to the scene of the disaster. There the view of the wreck which met them in the early light was one which beggars description. The body of one man had been blown seventy-five yards away, two feet of others were found on the Delmonico dump 400 feet away. The hillside was covered with portions of flesh and the nearby buildings spotted with blood. The injured were placed upon the train and hastened to the hospital in Victor. A return trip was made for the bodies of the dead, and everything possible done toward gathering up the remains. There had been many miraculous escapes from the effects of the explosion. Fully two-thirds of the men waiting on the platform were able after a few minutes to render assistance to the injured. Officers from Cripple Creek came upon the scene soon after the removal of the bodies. Under Sheriff J. Knox Burton reached the scene of the crime, and after tracing the wire by which it had been committed to the point where the perpetrator sat, he called two union miners from the crowd, deputized them and with them in charge of the crew, left. Later in the day, when a new sheriff had been appointed, the first act of his official life was to remove Under Sheriff Burton from office. Hod Finch, dangerously stabbed by some unknown person. He is at Red Cross hospital and reported in a critical condition. Spud Murphy, a bartender, shot through the back under the right shoulder. Wound bad, but not necessarily fatal. John Davis, watchman at the Vindicator mine, shot in back by a man who is now under arrest. Davis was quickly removed to the Victor hospital and died there at 6:30 to-night. Victims of Second Riot at Miners' Hall. Peter Calderwood, shot in leg. Edward McKelvey, shot in leg. Arthur Parker, shot in leg. Thomas McManus, shot in leg. Ordered to Leave Telluride. Denver, June 7.—A Republican special from Telluride last night says: Members of Troop A of the National Guard of Colorado received orders to-day to report for duty at 9 o'clock to-night and preparations were made to enforce the order given a few days ago to O. A. Floaten of the People's Store, Tony Balla, a saloonkeeper, and M. J. Sullivan, secretary of the local Miners' Union, to leave. The men were ordered to leave Tuesday morning and it is understood that they will be forcibly deported. It is reported here that there will be wholesale deportations within the next few days. The report is to the effect that about 125 more agitators are marked for deportation. Congressman H. M. Hogg is attorney for the men, and has advised them not to leave voluntarily, but remain until they are forcibly deported. A telegram was sent to Governor Peabody to-day urging that the order of deportation be rescinded. A telegram was also sent to President Roosevelt, but late to-night no reply had been received. The message to Washington was as follows: "Have been ordered to leave our homes by June 7th, but do not intend to do so. We, as citizens of the United States, demand your protection under our constitutional rights. The civil courts would protect us, but they are powerless. The governor will not protect us. "O. A. FLOATEN." "M. J. SULLIVAN." The four men ordered to leave, as well as the entire union element, are anxiously awaiting word from Washington. The impression prevails, however, that the men will be forced to leave to-morrow. Early this morning handbills were spread broadcast over the city charging the Citizens' Alliance with the murder of Jim Clark, former marshal of Telluride, and "Mexican Sam." Both men had made strong anarchistic utterances and the mystery surrounding the death of each was never cleared away. Troops Ready to Act. Denver, June 7.—Acting Governor Haggott is prepared to throw all of the available troops of the National guard into Victor should a call for assistance come from that city. From the time the news of the terrible catastrophe at Independence reached the capitol yesterday all officials was on the qui vive for further trouble, and conferences between the acting governor and Adj. Gen. Bell were of almost half hourly occurrence. Plans for handling the state militia in all possible situations were discussed, as everyone in the state house was of the opinion that a demand for troops would follow quickly upon the heels of the first bad news. By the time word arrived that bullets had begun to fly, General Bell was prepared to move the militia within an hour's time. But there came no call for troops, nor had there been such call up to a late hour last night.

NEW MEXICO NEWS SUMMARY National Guard Encampment. Adjutant General W. H. Whitman returned yesterday from a visit of a few days to Albuquerque. When asked about the annual encampment of the New Mexico National Guard this morning, he said to a representative of the News that neither the time nor the place for the encampment had yet been determined upon. It will occur some time during the summer, probably during the first part of August, and company commanders all over the territory have been called upon to report the number of men who will attend the encampment and their views as to a favorable location. It is desirable that a central point be selected, but on account of the drought it is hard to find a camping ground, where there is sufficient water. Of course the time of the encampment depends largely upon the place selected, so that some seasons of the year are pleasanter in one locality than in another. In regard to the new uniforms and the chances of securing them for the Territorial National Guard, General Whitman said that none could be had at the present time as the regular army except to the regiments returning from the Philippines. The reason for this is that there are about 1,000,000 of the old blue uniforms on hand and it will be at least two years before the supply will be exhausted when the new ones will be issued. To show that it is impossible to obtain these uniforms, General Whitman cited the following: The adjutant general of New York state applied to the secretary of war for the new uniforms for the 14,000 men forming the militia of that state, and an order was drawn on the quartermaster's department for the uniforms. When the quartermaster general stated he facts of the case, however, the order was revoked. —Santa Fe New Mexican. New Judicial Districts. The Supreme Court of the territory met in Santa Fe June 4th to redistrict the territory into judicial districts, this step being necessitated by the recent creation by Congress of a Sixth judicial district. All of the judges were present and after discussing the matter all day, decided to divide the territory with reference to the principal railway lines, as follows: First District—Santa Fe, Toas, Rio Arriba, San Juan counties; headquarters at Santa Fe; John R. McFie, judge. Second District—Bernalillo, McKinley, Sandoval, Valencia counties; headquarters at Albuquerque; Benjamin S. Baker, judge. Third District—Socorro, Grant, Sierra, Luna, Dona counties; headquarters at Las Cruces; Frank W. Parker, judge. Fourth District—San Miguel, Mora, Colfax, Union counties; headquarters at Las Vegas; Chief Justice W. J. Mills, judge. Fifth District—Eddy, Chaves, Roosevelt counties; headquarters at Eddy; William Hays Pope, judge. Sixth District—Otero, Lincoln, Torrance, Leonard Wood, Quay counties; headquarters at Alamogordo; E. A. Mann, judge. Alamogordo may build an official residence for Judge Mann. The State of Lincoln. In his letter to Mr. Rodey, printed in the Journal yesterday morning, that good friend of New Mexico, Senator Elkins, of West Virginia, expresses the hope that a territory, when it comes into the union, will drop both "New Mexico" and "Arizona" and come in as the state of Lincoln. This suggestion on the part of Mr. Elkins, furnishing a reason for repeating it, was given in the paper several years ago by this paper during the course of the years that the new state should be given the name of "Lincoln," and this suggestion was unanimously endorsed by the territorial encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, at the annual meeting in this city, a few weeks ago. It is now believed that it would be everywhere well received and one that no citizen of the United States would have reason to object to. We concede that it is not good policy as a rule to give to states the names of men, but Washington and Lincoln are names that may properly be made exceptions to the rule.—Albuquerque Journal. New Mexico Crop Conditions. The following crop bulletin was issued by the weather bureau June 1st: Drought conditions have been believed to some extent by light showers but the rains have not been sufficient to increase the scant water supply materially or to do more than start the grass on the ranges. Conditions are not so generally favorable to warrant the planting of crops on land dependent on rainfall alone for water supply and only about one-half of the fields under ditch have been seeded. Except in a few localities, principally in the extreme north, where rains have been more abundant, range stock continues to shrink and grow thin. Wheat and oats are also growing. First alfalfa is being cut as far north as Albuquerque, but the yield does not come up to the average. In the southern markets apricots are coming in. Articles of Incorporation were filed at Santa Fe on the 2d inst, for the San Antonio & Carthage Railway Company, principal place of business at Socorro county. The incorporators are: Daniel H. McMillan of Socorro, H. O. Bursum, Simon Nubbaum, J. H. Vaughn, Edward L. Bartlett of Santa Fe. The capital stock of the company is $140,000. The first board of directors consists of the incorporators, Morton K. McMillan and Ross McMillan. Daniel H. McMillan will act as treasurer of the company. It will build a railroad from San Antonio to the Carthage coal fields.

MARTIAL LAW FOR CRIPPLE CREEK DISTRICT. Arrest of Active Strikers.—Wesley Out Officers Allied With Miners' Federation.—Union Record Seized. Strikers in the Sweatbox.—Many Men Deported. Denver, June 8.—The Republican correspondent at Victor last night gives the following summary of events of the day and the situation in the Cripple Creek district. The drag-net under agitators was continued all day and took in Gillet, Altman, Cripple Creek, Independence, Goldfield, Elkton, Cameron and Victor. Special arrests were made by special squads and old and new offenders were taken into custody for specific offenses against the law. The work of securing resignations of officials plying to the dictates of the Western Federation of Miners, continued throughout the day, the marshals of Cripple Creek, Independence and Altman resigning and enough of the aldermen on the Victor board to secure a safe administration. A justice of the peace in Cripple Creek, who has often offended the law by turning loose union law breakers, resigned on request of a citizens' committee. Records of the union in every camp were taken into possession of the sheriff and will be examined for evidence of union approval for participation in crimes. In the office of the Altman union, were found quantities of electrical fuses and batteries to produce explosions. In the Victor union office were found about thirty group photographs of the shifts of workmen in various mines and in many cases non-union men had been marked. The Vindicator's shift photograph, in which Charles McCormick and Mel Beck appeared, had these men marked and in the list on the back their names had been marked out, as though checked off after these men were murdered in an explosion perpetrated in the same manner as that at the Independence depot. The gun with which the powder under the depot was exploded was found and delivered to the sheriff. Twenty-eight of the less vicious offenders drawn in by the drag-net were deported by special train to Denver, in all between 175 and 200 union sympathizers have been taken in by the sheriff, waiting investigation and on specific charges. They are held in the jail and in the armory at Victor and in the Mining Exchange hall in Cripple Creek, under military guard. On request of Sheriff Bell, Acting Governor Haggott declared martial law and under it the twenty-eight men were deported. Frank Cochran, secretary of the Victor union, was arrested and treated with the thirty-third degree to force a confession of the crime committed under approval of the union. There was no talk of lynching or violence toward anybody to-day, though if the man who pulled the infernal machine would be lynched to-day. It has been a day of hard work of close study of ways and means—a deliberately spent day. Armed men are everywhere on missions of arrest, but they carry authority as officers. The order has been issued that the streets be kept strictly closed. Only one offender in the whole district was found to-day, and his doors were quickly closed. Only one drunken man was seen on the streets of Victor and when Sheriff Bell went to him, shook his head and courteously told him to get off the streets until sober, he promptly complied. What will be done about the Portland case is not clear. It may be the company will be disciplined in some way for its attitude against the cleaning up movement. The real leaders of the strike have nearly all flown the district. Now that the legal machinery is clear up to the courts, at least some of these known criminals will be brought back. Practically every mine and every lease in the district is closed down, the Portland excepted, to remain so until the situation is made clear. HOLD-UP ON RIO GRANDE. Train Robbery Near Palisade in West-Corridor. Denver, June 8.—A dispatch from Salt Lake City, at an early hour this morning says: "Denver & Rio Grande passenger train No. 5, westbound, was held up near Palisade, Colo., a station just east of Grand Junction, at an early hour this morning. Brakeman, Shellenberger, was seriously wounded, the result of a bullet from the gun of one of the hold-ups, and the conductor had his lantern shot from his hand. The robbers flagged the train about two miles from the station and when the trainmen went forward to learn the trouble, were confronted by two masked men. After marching the conductor back to the train they detached the engine and express car from the coaches and blew open the safe, after running the locomotive and car some distance up the track. The express officials at this hour are unable to say what amount was obtained, but claim it was small." "Rio Grande No. 5, which was held up, left Denver Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and was one of the heaviest trains ever sent out. This train makes the eastern connections at Denver and Pueblo and generally carries a heavy list of passengers and express matter. It is due at Palisade at midnight. Delaware for Gray. Dover, Del. June 8.—Contrary to the expressed wish of Judge George Gray, the Delaware Democratic state convention, by a unanimous vote, yesterday instructed its delegates to the St. Louis convention to present the name of Judge Gray to the convention as the choice of the Delaware Democracy for President, and to work for his nomination.

The twenty-fourth annual New Mexico Fair, to be given in Albuquerque next October, was formally launched at an enthusiastic meeting of the executive committee of the Association last night in the Commercial Club. The full committee, President McGaffey and Secretary Gunaul, were present, and the business of the twenty-fourth fair started off with a swing that means great things for the annual fall festival, says the Albuquerque Journal of May 24th. In the first place, this executive committee has decided that the fair next October shall have something new, right off the bat, to amuse the people. They have settled on an air ship. A real, live airship, that will sail. And, while they may not succeed in getting Santos Dumont, it is reasonably certain that they will secure one of the experts who will enter the World's Fair contests at St. Louis this summer to make an exhibition here. The committee has also decided to hang up $5,000 for horse racing for the week, which, with the big stake races of last year repeated, will make it worth the while of the big ones to come this way. Another thing which will bring the big follows this way this year, is that the Las Vegas race course will have been finished by October and the racing association of that city is planning a race meet to draw the Colorado circuit, to take place before the fair here. This will give the horsemen from a distance two weeks of racing where heretofore they have had to come all the way to Albuquerque for the single week. The baseball game has not been definitely decided, but it is probable that with the formation of the proposed Southwestern League it will be made big enough to get the winning teams here for a series during the week. The present estimate for this branch of the sport is $15,000. A Southwestern band contest with a fat purse at the end is an added attraction which was decided on last night. A feature this year will be the first electric trolley line parade ever given in the Southwest. People who come to Albuquerque during the fair week will be apt to think that they have dropped into carnival week in some one of the big cities of the East, for there will be parades of floats in the daytime, decorated with gay banners; at night lighted by hundreds of electric lights, gliding over the new electric line. There will be the unique spectacle of His Royal Highness Montezuma returning to inspect his kingdom, mounted on the front seat of an electric car. Considerably more attention than heretofore is to be paid to exhibits this year, with emphasis to be placed on the fruit exhibit, which will be drawn from all parts of the territory. Youthful Murderer in Prison. Sentenced to the territorial penitentiary for life for murdering in cold blood his closest friend in order to get possession of $13, Antonio Maria Archaleta, who was charged with the murder of Dolores Sanchez of Cerro, in the same county, was brought to Santa Fe from Taos May 24th and lodged in the territorial prison. The boy pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree and was sentenced to a penitentiary by the leading citizen of Questa the court accepted the plea and Judge John R. McFie sentenced Archaleta to the penitentiary. The guilty man heard his sentence with a smile and walked laughingly away with the sheriff. "I will be glad to get to the penitentiary," he said. The murder was one of the most wanton and cold blooded that has occurred in Taos county. Archaleta, a poor laborer, and his young wife and child lived with Dolores Sanchez and upon his charity. On the night of the murder, which occurred last December, Archaleta and Sanchez were together in a saloon at Questa. About midnight they left the saloon and went to the house of Archaleta's father on some small street. Archaleta was alone, and he had been waiting the opportunity, cleft open the head of Sanchez with three blows of an ax, took the coveted money and threw the body into an old well. Archaleta left Questa that same night and it was several days after that the body of the murdered man was found. What had aroused suspicion and had led to a search for the body was the discovery of blood and brains that had been spattered upon the walls of the Archaleta home. Archaleta was soon arrested and placed in the penitentiary at Santa Fe for safe keeping. He was taken to Taos last week to stand trial. Archaleta's version of the murder is that he and Sanchez quarreled while in the saloon at Questa. The quarrel became fierce as they imbibed more intoxicants and upon their arrival at the Archaleta home he seized an ax and killed Sanchez in a fit of rage and drunkenness. This story, however, was not believed by the court. A community irrigation ditch is being constructed in the Rio Grande valley in Santa Fe county, north of Santa Cruz and extending about fifteen miles north into Rio Arriba county, by the property owners in those localities. The ditch will be fifteen miles long, ten feet wide and four feet deep. The head of the ditch will take water from the Rio Grande at a point where there is a strong flow. The ditch starts five miles north of the town of Plaza del Alcalde and will run to a point above Santa Cruz. Fifty men and teams are employed in the construction of the ditch. An Albuquerque dispatch of May 31st says: Ralph Baird, said by the officers to belong to an organized gang of sheep thieves in central and southern New Mexico, and whom the sheep safety board has been after for a year past, has been captured and lodged in jail at Socorro. This afternoon Judge Green put him under $5,000 bond for his appearance at next term of court. He could not furnish bond and was placed in jail. Baird is accused of stealing 150 head of sheep from Jose Aragon. At that time he was chased by officers, but escaped by abandoning his horse and hiding in the thick timbers.

Democrats will find a complete roster of the Democratic candidates in our announcement column.

The Sphinx 1904.

The people meet in hall and street. They talk and see the world. And they are not alone. They are with the Sphinx.

Vote your choice and if the majority is against you, accept their will and nurse no sore spots.

The Sulphur Springs, Texas, News says: "We are after the Baruchians now and will soon be after the tubercularians."

With a $70,000,000 deficit confronting them and dissension and strife in their ranks, the republicans present no very formidable appearance to a united democracy.

This campaign has been one of exceptional fairness and free from all personalities. Each candidate has made his canvass on his merits, without resorting to the demerits of any antagonist.

Every Democrat should turn out and express their choice at the primaries today, and after the majority have chosen candidates the work should not be allowed to drag until a handsome majority is piled up for the successful nominees this fall.

J. B. Knight, who is a candidate for the office of surveyor, is a young man who has had a good course of practical experience as a surveyor and has been for the last two years associated with one of the best practical railroad surveyors and civil engineers. His correspondence shows the position which Mr. Knight can attain in regard to competency.

A man who will encompass the downfall of a young girl after she has made a start to lead a better life and then make his villainy public is not a fit subject to live in a decent community, and he should be exposed and branded as the irresponsible monstrosity of misguided manhood that he is. It is neither justice to the community nor compatible with honesty to cover his identity or shield him from public condemnation.

NOTICE—J. F. Tompkins and L. R. Credit have dissolved partnership and Mr. Tompkins has taken in Spot Cash as a partner in the barber business.

Roosevelt county's only hope of ever getting artesian wells lies in the success of the bond issue. Jones & Morrison is the style of the new firm which succeeds Blankenship & Co. in the coal and feed business. Kettl Jones, who has so long and successfully managed the business in the past, is the senior member of the new firm and is too well known and admired to need an introduction, while the junior partner, Beth Morrison, has a wide circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the county. Mr. Morrison, besides being the bookkeeper for the Blankenship and Woodcock mercantile company, owns more real estate adjoining the townsite than any one man in the city. # DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION—PE-RU-NA MADE KNIFE UNNECESSARY.

Mrs. Eva Barito, 133 East 18th St., New York City, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for three years with leucorrhoea and ulceration of the womb. The doctor advocated an operation which I dreaded very much, and strongly objected to go under it. Now I am a changed woman. Peruna cured me; I took nine bottles, but I felt so much improved I kept taking it, as I dreaded an operation so much. I am today in perfect health and have not felt so well for fifteen years.—Mrs. Eva Barito.

Mrs. Senator Roach, of Larimore, N. Dak.; Mrs. Senator Warren, of Cheyenne, Wyo.; Belva Lockwood and Mrs. General Longstreet, of Washington, D. C., are among the prominent ladies who endorse Peruna.

Miss Helen Rolof, Kanakana, Wis., writes: "Several times during the past two years in need of a nurse, and at those times Peruna has been of great help in building up the system, restoring my appetite and securing restful sleep.—Helen Rolof.

Miss Marietta Armitage, 26 Greenwood Ave., Detroit, Mich., District Organizer of the Royal Templars of Temperance, writes as follows: "I suffered for five years with uterine irregularities, which brought on hysteria and made me a physical wreck. I tried doctors from the different schools of medicine, but without any perceptible change in my condition. In my despair I called on an old nurse, who advised me to try Peruna, and promised good results if I would persist, and take it regularly. I kept this up for six months, and steadily gained strength and health, and when I had used fifteen bottles I considered myself entirely cured. I am a grateful, happy woman to-day.—Miss Marietta Armitage.

MADE THE ACCOUNT SQUARE.

Long Suffering Customer Even with Restaurant Keeper.

Dobson was chuckling as he and his wife emerged from the restaurant. "George!" said his wife, "what's getting into you? For the last ten minutes you have had something on your mind and now, suddenly, you begin giggling."

"Marry, I don't want to go through life with a secret in my bosom," said Dobson after chuckling some more. "Remember the counterfeit 50 cent piece that I got last winter?"

"Yes. It's the only money you ever succeeded in saving."

"It's gone. I gave it to the cashier at the restaurant."

"By accident?"

"No. I did it in cold blood. I have been thinking about doing it for a long time.

"How did your conscience permit you to do such a thing?"

"That's the worst of it. Every time I think about it it seems to make my conscience feel better. We have been patronizing that restaurant on occasions for a year. The proprietor has given us veal in the chicken salad, codfish in the devilled crabs, chicken frary to the statues of the United States, but it was poetic justice."

"There has been reason for suspicion?"

"We have had evidence that would convince any jury. After I had given him a 50-cent piece with some lead in it I tried to be ashamed of myself, but I couldn't. It may have been contrary to the statutes of the United States, but it was poetic justice."

HE WAS KIND, SHE CLEVER.

And Combination Resulted in Her Getting a Seat.

She was a very clever woman, and a past master in the art of strategy. So all agreed who rode down town with her on the Sixth avenue surface car.

She entered the car at Seventy-second street. Every seat was taken, and almost every strap had a man or woman suspended from it.

She looked about hesitatingly for an instant, but every man was interested in his paper. Then she took hold of a strap almost in front of a young man, a very young man, who was blushing guiltily as he pretended to read.

While the young man blushed and the woman thus hung, her handkerchief fluttered, accidentally to all appearance, to the floor. The young man looked up just then and saw the white bit of cambric. The feeling of chivalry which he was evidently trying to stifle would not be suppressed longer.

He arose and stooped for the handkerchief.

While his back was turned she gently slipped into his seat.

When he turned about and saw what had occurred he almost collapsed. But the woman did not. She took her handkerchief out of his hand, smiling innocently.

"Thank you," she said, sweetly. "You are very kind."—New York Sun.

"Out of the Darkness into the Light."
 "Out of the darkness into the light," said the young man to the woman, "never came sound to listening ear. Or waiting heart, more thrilling and nerve-racking than the light of truth. Nerving the soul for its onward flight. Than 'out of the darkness into the light.'"

Only the folding of hands and feet. And closing of eyes in slumber sweet. Only the stopping of painful breath. Only the touch of the hand that said, "Only the Master's call of night. And 'out of the darkness into the light.'"

Out of the shadows of sorrow and care, out of the blackness of doubt and despair. Out of the harrowing constant strife, out of the wearying toil of life. Out of the quivering touch of sin.

Into the certain hope of the just. Into the fullness of joy and trust. Into the peace that passeth all understanding. Into the rest where labors shall cease. Into the regions by guilt untrod. Into the smile and presence of God.

Watchers pale watchers, who wearily stand. Longing for sight of the better land. Look up over the darkness and gloom, to the star.

Of promise that gleams in the distance afar.

For surely it cometh the dawning And 'out of the darkness into the light'—F. H. Marr.

A Missing Mascot.

"No more luck," she wailed; "I shall never have another bit of luck. I know I shan't. I've lost it and I hadn't had it but three months."

"What is it that you have lost that you are making such a fuss about?" inquired a friend. "Your pocketbook?"

"Pocketbook?" answered the forlorn one. "No. I wish it was only my pocketbook, that wouldn't be serious. But I've gone and lost my beautiful yellow garter and—yes, it may be a plain old thing, but it was such a mascot. Janet wore it when she was married, then gave it to me and I have worn it ever since. And such a good time as I have had! Dances, whist clubs, and no end of larks, and I've met simply slues of men. You know they say that whoever wears such a mascot will be married within the year. Guess I'm dished now for fair."

Then He Was Good.

A congressman of Missouri relates that he was making a campaign speech last fall, when he was annoyed by the frequent interruptions of a countryman, who seemed bent on making trouble.

"My friend," said the speaker, determining to suppress the disturber, "haven't you heard the story of how a braying ass put to flight the entire Syrian army?"

"Don't you be afraid of this audience," shouted back the disturber of the meeting; "there ain't no danger of it stampeding. You've done tested it!"

Volunteered information.

Two New York book sellers were riding down town recently, and were reading "shop" gossip in the newspapers. A sporty looking man sat just behind them. "Now, this paper," said the first bookseller, turning to his friend, "places the Virginian first, Mrs. Wiggs second and—"

"Gentlemen," interrupted the sporting man eagerly, "excuse me for butting in, but as I've followed this game for years I know what I am saying. That does beat you out first is a pure fable. There are no such horses running; take my word for it."

Brave Japanese Fishermen.

The Japanese as a race are fearless. This is evidenced by the hazardous occupation of the little brown men who earn a living far from the rocky coast lines of the islands. One of the chief articles of diet in Japan is fish. To secure it for the market the Japanese go many miles from land in their tiny craft, which to those who do not understand their strength and buoyancy, look as though any ordinary wave would capsize them. These Japanese go two and three hundred miles at sea to catch fish.

Each year the shores of the islands are strewn with wreckage from the boats, while the sea gives up the bodies of the brave men who were caught in the fearful typhoons, which sweep around this corner of the earth. Then, again, the ocean liners take the lives of many of these doughty Japanese. There is never a diminution in the numbers of the fleet.

Revolutionary Pensioner.

Mrs. Rebecca Mayo, the last surviving widow of a soldier of the Revolution, is now over seventy years of age, though when she married Stephen Mayo, a soldier of the Virginia line, she was very young. She lives in Newborn, Pulaski county, Virginia, and Congress recently increased her pension $25 a month.

Mr. Albee's Opinion.

Alpine, Cal., June 6.—Mr. T. M. Albee, our postmaster, has expressed an opinion based on his own experience which will no doubt be of interest to many. Mr. Albee is a man of few words, but his well-known truthfulness and upright character adds much weight to any statement he makes. He says: "The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills that I used convinced me of their good qualities and I used altogether four boxes with the very best results. I can heartily recommend this remedy."

This voluntary expression of opinion will doubtless find an echo in many homes in California for Dodd's Kidney Pills have been making some miraculous cures in this state.

From the evidence already published it seems safe to conclude that the medicine will be found to be a perfect cure for rheumatism, urinary trouble, backache and any and every form or symptom of kidney complaint.

When we speak of the better classes we do not necessarily refer to the people who bet.

IMMENSE TOBACCO PURCHASE.

Forty-Eight Thousand Dollars Paid for a Fancy Lot of Tobacco.

The biggest purchase of high grade tobacco ever made in the West by a cigar manufacturer was made last Wednesday by Frank P. Lewis, Peoria, Ill., for his celebrated Single Binder cigar. A written guarantee was given that the entire amount was to be fancy selected tobacco. This, no doubt, makes the Lewis factory the largest holder in the United States of tobacco of so high a grading.—Herald-Transcript, Dec. 21, 1902.
