The advertising car which the Territorial Fair Association is to send out to-day or to-morrow, says the Albuquerque Journal of August 30th, is to be a vast improvement on all former vehicles used for the purpose. General Passenger Agent W. J. Black of the Santa Fe company, has very kindly allowed the association the use of a big combination coach and baggage car, which will make very comfortable quarters for Billy Berry and the staff of theatrical and bill-posting artists which ic to accompany him on his tour of New Mexico.

From Santa Rosa to El Paso the car travels free over the El Paso-North-eastern line, thanks to the great and much appreciated courtesy of Mr. A. N. Brown, the obliging general pas-senger and freight agent for the Rock Island at El Paso. The freedom of the Northeastern system means much to the managers of the fair, as it gives an excellent opportunity to wake up the people of that distant section to the act that there is going to be something doing in Albuquerque next October. Every place where there is at least one house will be visited and some places where there is not even a ence post. Santa Rosa, Carrizozo, Capitan, White Oaks, Cloudcroft, Tularosa, Alamogordo, Lincoln, Nogal, Fort Stanton, Torrance and all intervening points will have a call from the artists who will leave souvenirs which wil not allow the inhabitants to forget the Biggest Ever.

George P. Learnard has loaned a fine plane to be used on the trip for the edification of the countryside.

Arrangements have been made for A. M. Dettelbach of Santa Fe to bill al the country tributary to the Denver & Rio Grande lines. Very little advertising has been done in this section for previous fairs, but it will be done up brown this year in the northwest counties. Mr. Dettelbach will also take a team and spend two weeks or so driving into the outlying districts, especially the Taos country, which he will so decorate with posters that he who goes by on a flying machine may read.

If the people do not flock from every nook and corner of the territory to the fair it will certainly not be the fault of those who have the advertising in Corn is in silk and ears are hardening in earlier fields, even the late fields are coming forward rapidly.

Gardens are in a flourishing condition in the Estancia valley. Potatoes are maturing nicely in Grant. Native having continues and much hay of good quality is be ing stacked. Grass on the ranges continues fine and is generally getting into good condition for winter pasture. The third crop of alfalfa is growing rapidly in northern counties and the fourth crop in southern. Tent Cottages at Sunmount.

The proprietors of the Sunmount Tent City have decided to change the style of the tent, which has heretofore been constructed entirely of canvas. above the floor and three foot wains scotting. The improved design will be a regular cottage, wood frame with hip roof, matched floor, three-foot beaded wainscotting and heavy canvas extending from the woodwork to the eaves of the cottage. The roof will be the same as any wood structure will be covered with California red shinggles and will extend eighteen inches over the canvas, thereby preventing any moisture coming in contact with the material above the wainscotting even in case of severe rain storms. Ine sides will be provided with swinging windows, and during such times as the occupants desire they may have perfect circulation of air through the cottage. Inquiries have been received from points covering nearly the entire United States, and the management is booking double the number of guests now than ever before since the resort opened.-Santa Fe New Mexican.

CONCENTRATION OF WEALTH A GRAVE MENACE.

Banks of the Country Rapidly Being Merged Into One Great Trust-Republican Administration Owned by the Financial Interests.

The concentration of wealth in few hands is obvious to everyone. The enormous and fast increasing wealth of the Rockefellers, Morgans, Vanderbilts, Goulds, and others, is a constant exhibition of it. But few, however, appreciate the extraordinary tendency towards the concentration of the banks of the country in few hands, which is the most striking feature of the financial situation and shows the enormous power that two interests ish government for distribution to possess over the money of the country. The most important of these interests is the Rockefeller, or Standard Oil, group; and the other, the so-called Morgan-Life Insurance group. This combination of financiers virtually controlled by two men, has command of one-half of all the banking business included in the report of the as-devil the dispatches. RECIPROCITY THE LEVER.

That May Move the Mountain of Protection.

Reciprocity with Canada and Newfoundland, which the great majority of Republican business men of Massachusetts are demanding, is stirring up a hornet's nest in that state. That delightfully stalwart organ of the trusts, the American Economist, sees trouble ahead and declares that reciprocity must be taken by the throat and choked into harmlessness by vigorous action. It attacks Senator Lodge for trying to conciliate the insurgents and foretells his downfall if he does not boldly fight them. The Economist, however purblind it may be on the merits of protection and high tariff, sees plainly that if reciprocity is successful in Massachusetts it will be the beginning of the end with protection. It denounces the admission of Senator Lodge at Point Shirley on July 9, when he was trying to placate the Republicans who are in arms against him, that he agrees with their demand for reciprocity as other Republicans do. The Economist answers him by saying:

"It is far from true that all Republicans agree to the Massachusetts idea of wide-open reciprocity. It is vaults of $16,697,300. The loans of not true of all Massachusetts Republicans; it is not true of Republicans in any other part of the Union. It cannot be true. Else the reciprocity resolution of the national Republican convention would not have been, could not have been adopted. To the general body of the Republican party reciprocity in competitive products with Canada is just as hateful, just as objectionable, as reciprocity in competitive products with France or Germany would be. In either case the principle of protection is violated, the faith of the party of protection is broken."

That is the true "Stand pat" argument and Republicans everywhere will have to agree to it, or be denounced and driven out of the party by the protection faction which is much the stronger and who, through their trust friends, furnish the sinews of war for the G. O. P.

One inch of reciprocity in competitive products will lead to the breakformation of the tariff that would force the trusts to revise their prices to reasonable rates. Of course that would not suit the monopolists or their organ, which says it is for undiluted protection."

But the Economist is not content with standing pat, but gloats over the defeat of the "lowa Idea" when it

"For a time the "Iowa Idea" made some headway alike in Iowa and in the adjoining state of Minnesota. But only for a time. No sooner had Republicanism of the stalwart, steadfast type began to assert itself actively, energetically and aggressively than a marked change became apparent. Mugwumpery was forthwith quoted at a discount in the political market, and the genuine article of party loyalty and party consistency rose to par. It is above par now, and is certain to remala so throughout the current campaign.

"In Iowa the "progressive" cabal has been pretty thoroughly squelched. Messrs. Roberts and Perkins still maintain a precarious perch on the Cummins roost, it would seem, because they do not know how to get the "Register" and the "Journal" off the perch with any degree of grace or consistency."

The Democrats can view this facional fight in the Republican party with complacency, but cannot but aid those honestly intent on reforming that great abuse of the tariff, that will ation of Mukden, if well founded, not allow us to trade with our neighbors. The reciprocity lever will, if properly handled, move the mountain of protection that anchors the trusts on a long suffering people.

inactivity Against the Trusts.

Under the whip and spur of public to use for that purpose. Nearly two years have elapsed since that appropriation was made and less than opinion that the trusts needed curb-$30,000 has been expended. The money spent was used by Attorney General Knox in having some other lawyers of his own kidney, who are notoriously not trust busters, to fight the trusts. Of course, under those circumstances no trust has been disturbed since the appropriation was made. Mr. Knox, just before the corporations of Pennsylvania elected him for United States Senator of that state, stated there was no intention by the Administration of "running amuck" against the trusts. Attorney General Moody, who succeeded Knox. seems to be running in the same rut and the trusts are more oppressive than before Congress appropriated the money to fight them. It may be said hat President Roosevelt complacently approves this do-nothing policy.

September 6.—It was reported in St. Petersburg at a late hour Monday night that Kuropatkin's rear guard had been almost annihilated and that the main Russian army was in danger of being surounded.

There was also received there a brief dispatch from Mukden saying that preparations for the evacuation of that place are proceeding.

This report, if well founded, as is pointed out in the St. Petersburg dispatches, would mean the abandonment of the whole of southern Manchuria and the winding up of the present campaign.

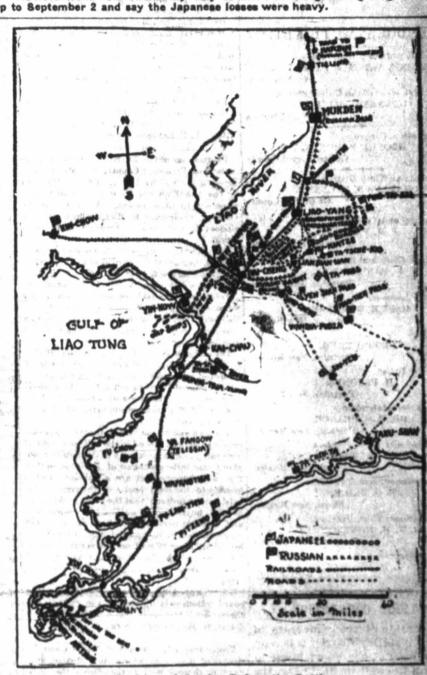

It is known that the forces of Kuropatkin and Oyama are racing for Mulcden. This much stands out in the news of Monday, and is indicated in a report forwarded by Kuropatkin, who says that his retreat is being conducted in perfect order, though the Japanese Sunday repeatedly attacked his rear and continued the attack until Monday. The result of the race is in doubt. The united Russian forces are now north of Yental, a station on the railway about ten miles northeast of Liao Yang. They are pushing on to Muden, to which the bulk of the Japanese forces is marching direct, after ha

A strong Japanese flanking column is about thirty miles northeast of Liao Yang, and is trying to get between the Russian forces and Mukden. Kuropatkin in his report makes no mention of the abandonment of 200 guns at Liao Yang, a rumor to which effect is in circulation.

up to September 2 and say the Japanese losses were heavy.

Russians May Abandon Mukden. St. Petersburg, Sept. 6, 3:20 a. m .-It is impossible at this hour to obtain any statement from the authorities regarding the reported preparations for the abandonment of Mukden. The bulletin from there saying this is contemplated is the first intimation that such a course is contemplated. If it turns out to be true, it means the abandonment of the whole of southern Manchuria and the winding up of the present campaign.

In fact, should Mukden be evacuated there would be no point for wintering the army of a quarter of a million with its many wounded, short of Harbin, On the other hand, the evacuation of Mukden would give Field Marshal Oy- General Linevitch is still at Vis ama commodious quarters and the practical control of two lines of railway. Oyama's advance is reported to be engaging the Russian rear, but it is Yental, a place about ten miles no not expected to develop anything more serious than a series of rear-guard actions tending to harass General Kuronatkin's retreat.

The Japanese have thrown a strong flanking column across the Taitse river at Benitzu, about thirty miles northeast of Liao Yang. This column is hurrying to the northeast and endeavoring to get in between the Russian army and Mukden.

Knropatkin has dispatched General Rennenkampf with a strong Cossack division, which it is believed is already blocking the eastern high road.

Kuropatkin has three roads over which he is marching toward Mukden, beside the double-tracked railroad. The latter is chiefly occupied in the transportation of guns and of equipment, of which there is a great quantity. The soldiers are marching in light order, and most of the wounded have already been dispatched north by rail.

Kuropatkin estimates his losses up to and including September 4th at 16,000. This is considered to be a very conservative figure. The losses to the Japanese probably double this number, owing to their positions as attackers.

PULLMAN PORTER

APPEALS TO ROBERT T. LINCOLN.

Was Discharged for Trying to Organize a Union-Has Written a Book Setting Forth the Porter's Wrongs.

"Freemen, Yet Slaves Under Abe Lincoln's Son," is the title of a book-let written by C. F. Anderson, a discharged porter of the Pullman company, who is leading a movement to organize 6,000 Pullman car porters. The booklet is an appeal for better wages, a rearrangement of hours and a softening of certain hardships which the writer declares all porters endure. Robert T. Lincoln, president of the Pullman company, is taken severely to task for an alleged "lack of consideration for the men who contribute much to the service of the company.'

Anderson attributes his dismissal to the company's belief that he was organizing a union of porters. He declares that the organization now being formed will be a benefit association. which will appeal rather than demand. "Public sentiment can bring us things we want," said Anderson, we shall play for it as hard as we can." In a letter to President Lincoln, Anderson wrote:

"You were elected president of the Pullman company at a salary equaling that of the President of the United States. That being true we understand how hard it must be for you to realize how much real suffering men have to endure who work like slaves for the meager salary of $25 a month. The thing that now confronts you is industrial slavery. The situation that controlled your father was chattel slavery, and right manfully did he deal with it In another part of the booklet Anderson points out that on one occasion he was on practically continuous duty for 114 hours.

As for tips, Anderson declares that if it were not for the generosity of travelers a porter could not exist. Anderson declares that porters on the smaller lines, who are obliged to perform the work of conductors in connection with their own duties should receive an advance of $5, or $40 a month. The ordinary porter, he holds, should be given $35 a month instead of $25, the present salary. "Freemen, Yet Slaves" will be sent broadcast through the country, with editions de luxe for the officials of the Pullman company.

Dealer Notes Marked Revival of In-

"We have sold 50 per cent mor tennis racquets so far this season than for ten years past," said the head of the sporting goods department in a big department store yesterday. "The game is surely on the jump. Tennis was practically dead for several years, but it's too good a game to go under. Golf gave it a black eye, but golf is now on the toboggan, except among the experts—the people who play on the teams representing the various country clubs. The individual players no longer cut any figure, and the sale of golf clubs is practically nil.

"But it's different with tennis racquets. The old fellows who used to play years ago are again taking up the game, but, between you and me, up with an old racquet that's all out of date, and ask to have it restrung. 'Ine restringing of a racquet, though, is a good bit of a lottery; it may turn out all right, but more often it won't. Stu, the old timers are willing to take chances. Their principal objection to the new racquet seems to be that they can't get a good clutch on the handle, which is thicker than the old pattern.-Philadelphia Record.

Large Meat Eating Shortens Life

Absolutely pura. Send for our New Premium List The Geyserite Soap Mfg. Company, Denver.

This is true, for the reason that men lived to a great age during the centuries of a vegetable dietary. The causes of the rapid falling off of the alloted time of man's existence is no doubt traceable to meat eating. From the Creation to the Deluge animals were used for sacrifice, but not for food. Man's made for a long life and certainly can attain it if he uses the wisdom given him by his Creator. Let his diet consist of foods which will maintain health and prolong life and free from all injurious substances.
