PRESIDENT TAFT SIGNS THE LONG ANTICIPATED SHORT HOMESTEAD LAW

Many Western Congressmen Witness Presidents Act

Law Will be of Much Benefit to Homesteaders Here

Washington, June 6.—Following is the text of the three year homestead law signed by the president today in the presence of many western congressmen:

In the house of representatives, U. S., March 27, 1912. Resolved that the bill in the senate 3367 entitled "An Act" to amend section 20 to 191 and section 20 to 197 of the revised statutes of the United States relating to homesteads do pass with the following amendments: Strike out all after the enacting clause and insert: That section 2291 and section 2297 be amended to read as follows: No certificate, however, shall be given or patent issued, therefore until the expiration of three years from the date of such entry; and if at the expiration of said time or at any time within two years thereafter the person making such entry, or if he be dead, his widow, or in case of her death, his heirs or devisee, or in case of a widow making such entry his heirs, or devisees, in case of her death, proved by himself and by two credible witnesses, that, she or they, have a habitable house upon the land and have actually resided upon and cultivated the same for the term of three years succeeding the time of filing the affidavit, and makes affidavit that no part of such land has been alienated except as provided in section 2268, and that he, she or they will bear true allegiance to the government of the United States, then in such case he, she or they, if at the time citizens of the United States, shall be entitled to a patent as in other cases provided by law; that upon filing in the case land office notice of the beginning of such act, the entryman shall be entitled to a continuous leave of absence from the land for a period not exceeding five months in each year after establishing residence, and upon the termination of such absence the entryman shall file a notice of termination in the local land office, but in case of commutation, the fourteen months actual residence as now required by law must be shown, and the person commuting must be at the time a citizen of the United States, provided that when the person making entry dies before the offer of the final proof, these succeeding to the entry must obey the law in all respects to show that the entryman had complied date of his death and that they have since complied with the law in respects as would have been required of the entryman, had he lived, excepting that they are relieved from any requirements of residence upon the land, provided further that the entryman shall in order to comply with the requirements of cultivation herein provided for, cultivate not less than one-sixteenth of the area of his entry, beginning with the second year of the entry and not less than one-eighth beginning with the third year of the entryman, had he lived, except that in case of entry under section 6 of the enlarged homestead laws, double the area of cultivation herein provided shall be required, but the secretary of the interior may, upon a satisfactory showing, under rules and regulations prescribed by him, reduce the required area of cultivation; provided that the above provisions as to cultivation shall not apply to entry commonly known as the Kincaid Act, or entry under the act of June 17, 1902, a reclamation act, and that the provisions of this section, relative to the homestead period shall apply to all unprotected entries as well as entries hereafter made, upon which residence is required; provided that the secretary of the interior shall within sixty days after the passage of this act, send in a copy of the same to each homestead entryman of record, who may be affected thereby, by ordinary mail to his last known address, and any such entryman may, by giving notice within one hundred and twenty days, after the passage of this act, by registered letter to the register and receiver of the local land office, elect to make proof upon his entry, under the law which the same was made without regard to the provisions of this act.

Section 2297. If at any time after the filing of the affidavit as required in section 2290 and before the expiration of the three years mentioned in sections 2291 if it is proved after due notice to the settler to the satisfaction of the register of the land office, that the person having filed such affidavit has failed to establish residence, within six months after the date of entry or abandoned the land, for more than six months at any time, then and in that event, the land so entered shall revert to the government provided that the three years period of residence herein fixed shall date from the establishment of actual permanent residence upon the land.

And provided, further, that where there may be climatic reasons, sickness or other unavoidable cause, the commissioners of the general land office may, in his discretion allow the settler twelve months from the date of the filing in which to commence his residence on said land under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe.

County Salary Bill

Last Friday afternoon the senate passed the county salary bill and sent it to Gov. McDonald for his signature. Roosevelt County is classed as a third class county, and salaries are as follows for this county:

County Commissioners, $400.00 each; treasurer, $2,500; assessor $2,500; sheriff $2,000; deputy sheriffs, $1,000; county clerk $2,500; probate judge, $400; school superintendent, $1,500; county surveyor, $10 per day when working on official business.

Judicial districts are classified into first, having four counties; second having three counties; third, two counties; District attorneys in first judicial districts receive $4,000; second class, $3,500; third class $2,500 and actual traveling expenses.

Severe penalties are provided for failure to account for and turn over fees, commissions and monies, or neglect to discharge the duties of the office, or false swearing to itemize accounts.

In the Mid Continent Magazine for May the New Mexico Irrigation projects are written up by Mr. J. B. Dugger, a member of the state board of immigration at Albuquerque, New Mexico. We quote the following: "After a struggle for statehood, extending over a period of fifty years, New Mexico has been admitted to the Union and is now a full-fledged state. Here is offered the last opportunity in the profitable work of building a new commonwealth. The increase in population; in development and in investments which came with statehood in Oregon, Washington, Oklahoma and many other western states is bound to come in New Mexico. Why? Because New Mexico has equal and in many cases superior advantages to offer. Opportunities have been overlooked because of lack of confidence in the territorial form of government. That ban has now been lifted and a new field has been opened up to the man looking to the west as a place for home and investment. In size New Mexico is fourth state in the union, Texas, California and Montana coming first, second and third respectively. There are 122,469 square miles, or 78,390,160 acres, and of this vast area, according to the last annual report of the state irrigation engineer, only 750,000 acres are now under irrigation. The engineer's report shows that in addition to this, 4,000,000 acres can be irrigated by surface water (actual measurement); that 640,000 acres can be irrigated by pumping, the lift, in no case being greater than fifty feet and the wellflow never less than 500 gallons per minute; that 76,000 acres can be irrigated from artesian wells, and 100,000 acres by drainage, or a total of 4,815,300 acres of land subject to irrigation at nominal expense and suitable for the very finest class of farming.

"The average irrigated farm consists of forty acres. At this rate, New Mexico can offer 40-acre irrigable tracts to 120,375 heads of families. The present population of the state is less than 323,000, or less than three persons to every square mile, as against 400 to 600 persons to the square mile in several of the eastern states.

"A census of the dry farming districts of New Mexico, taken by the state immigration bureau, shows that 718,000 acres were under cultivation in 1911, and that 1,730,000 acres are subject to this form of farming. Of this latter area about one half is public domain and in most cases lies some distance from transportation. In Mora, San Miguel and Chispa counties, dry farming has been very successful. In the Estancia Valley and parts of eastern New Mexico, dry farming is being practiced and where scientific methods are rigidly followed, is successful, crop failures occurring in few instances.

"In Roosevelt county, eastern New Mexico, is located the Portales Valley, where 10,000 acres of what was formerly dry land is now irrigated by pumping, the power being furnished by an immense central plant. This plant produces electricity and sends it out over seventy-eight miles of transmission lines extending throughout the valley. Each farmer has his individual well, pump and motor, and when he desires to irrigate all that is necessary for him to do is to turn on the current. This plant and system was erected by the farmers of the valley, the installation being done by the Westinghouse Electric Company for a consideration of $350,000, or $35 per acre. Land under this project may be had at prices ranging from $65 to $125 per acre. As many as ten tons of alfalfa have been cut to the acres and the crop has never fallen below six tons. Cantaloupes are being grown in hundred-acre tracts and orchards are being planted all over the valley. There are many private pumping plants, that is, plants not under the project, and there is room for many more. The irrigation-engineer's report shows that 155,000 acres, including that already reclaimed, can be irrigated in this valley with the aid of the pump.

155,000 Acres of Land Can be Irrigated in This Valley With the Aid of Pumps

"It has been clearly established by careful experiments extending over a period of many years that irrigation by pumping is mechanically practicable and economically profitable, and from the developments that have already taken place, especially in the states of California, New Mexico, Texas, Kansas and many others, it is certain that the area irrigated in this way will increase very rapidly in the near future, and that there is an immense territory and a vast number of people that may be benefited by the use of pumps for irrigation.

"As a whole, New Mexico is still in her virgin state and the man who is looking to the west for profitable investment, health, pleasure or home cannot go far wrong in making a thorough investigation. All the convenience of life enjoyed in some of the older states may not be found at present, but those who are willing will have an opportunity to profit by the growth and advancement which is bound to come in the near future.

"Being located at an altitude ranging from 3,000 to 7,000 feet above sea-level, the new state has a very dry climate, noted for its very favorable effect on tubercular, rheumatic and other diseases contracted in damp climates.

"The average irrigated farm consists of forty acres. At this rate, New Mexico can offer 40-acre irrigable tracts to 120,375 heads of families. An Abundance of Rain

The rainy spell began on Thursday afternoon and evening when a shower of rain fell. Saturday afternoon this shower was followed by a still harder rain and on Sunday the bottom fell out and between two and three inches of rain fell. The fall was slow and steady, with very little wind. On Monday morning the ground was soaking wet, with water standing several inches deep in the streets and in fields. Monday afternoon and night a slight shower fell. Irrigation was at a standstill as lands were wet enough without any artificial applications of water.

This seems to be a general rain over the eastern New Mexico. Reports from Roswell show that a heavy rain, hail and wind storm did much damage to the fruit crop there on Sunday afternoon. It is estimated that one-tenth of the fruit crop is spoiled by the hail storm which lasted more than an hour.

Reports from Portales Springs came in early Monday morning, showing that between two and three inches of rain had fallen there.

From Clovis comes the report that a good heavy rain fell and that prospects are better for them than they have been for some time.

One and three-fourth inches of rain fell here Sunday night and up to Tuesday afternoon two and three-fourths inches had fallen. Farms all over the eastern part of the county are optimistic as to the outcome of crops on dry land, as the same amount of moisture fell on all farms. Winter seasons were exceptionally good, and in fact, crops have not suffered for moisture to any extent this year and present indications bid fair for more rain in the near future.

Farmers from different sections make the statement that if the same amount of rain which fell Sunday evening could be had every three or four weeks that farm products this year will excel anything that Roosevelt county has ever produced.

The rain did not damage any of the irrigation crops as most of the alfalfa has been cut and baled. Irrigation farmers are well pleased with the rain as it saves the cost of gasoline and kilowatt power.

Tuesday night another rain came and added another half inch of moisture. This makes a total of three and one fourth inch of rainfall since last Thursday.

Fourth of July Celebration

At the meeting of the executive committee last Monday night it was decided to turn the fourth of July celebration over to the Portales Concert Band.

Members of the band are now seeing business men and citizen to get the necessary expenses.

The band expects to have a baseball game dinner and other amusements, and will furnish the music for the occasion.

It has not been given-out, yet how much money will be donated to the celebration by the people, but all monies collected will go toward the entertainment of the crowd on that date.

This celebration was turned over to the band for the reason that it is already organized and could doubtless do better with the celebration than the committee elected to take charge of the celebration.

TWO NEW PRIVATE PUMP-ING PLANTS BEING PUT ON VALUABLE FARM LAND

Dr. Bailey Installing New Plant to Irrigate 40 Acres

Dietert Says Portales has Good Irrigation Project

Dr. Bailey, of Tiaban, New Mexico, came to Portales some time ago and purchased some of the irrigable lands and since has proceeded to develop it. He has just about completed installing a twenty-two horse power engine and a number six centrifugal pump. Dr. Bailey expects to irrigate forty acres of his place, which is about one mile northwest of Portales. His land has all the necessary requirements for good cultivation, having shallow and an abundant supply of water, the land being fertile and tillable. Dr. Bailey has not yet given out what he expects to plant on his land.

C. R. Johnson, is another man who sees the advantages of irrigation in Portales. He owns one hundred and sixty acres of good level land and is now engaged in putting in a twenty-two horse power gasoline engine to run his number six centrifugal pump. Mr. Johnson's land lies about six miles west of town. This year he expects to plant kafir corn, milo maize, bean and cantaloupes. His land lies well and he expects to make an ideal farm of the place.

C. Dietert, the machine man, who is installing the pumps informed a Herald representative that he has been engaged in putting in private pumping plants for the past few years in the southwest, and that Portales has a better show than most of the projects that he has visited. He says that land will soon be worth from two hundred to five hundred dollars per acre. All that Portales needs, says Mr. Dietert is an advertising campaign to let the people know that this land is as good as it is and that the water is pure and shallow. He made the statement that the land around El Paso are sandy and have very little soil, yet, people are paying as high as one hundred and fifty dollars for unimproved lands.

He made the statement that he had visited the Wilcox and Deming districts and had examined the projects very carefully and if he were going to buy land for irrigation he would rather have land located in the Portales Valley. He says that the water lift is not so great here as in the other irrigable places in the greater part of the state and that this is a great saving to the farmer.

He emphasized the fact that the water is pure and free from all forms of alkali, making it much better for irrigation than river water. Pumping systems are much better than ditch systems because the farmer can get as much water as he wants at any time, he says, and further, in a few years farmers are going to begin winter irrigation so when spring comes the land will already have been broken an fixed for planting, with an abundant supply of water already in the land which will do away with watering the land, more than two or three times during the growing season.

DEMOCRATIC IN POLITICS

When Mr. Goldberg inscribed the words, "Every apple I raise in my orchard is big enough to make twenty carloads of apple sauce" and "last year we divided one of our cantaloupes into different sections and rented them as apartment houses", in a cartoon, we feel sure that he received the apple and cantaloupe from Portales.

Three Year Homestead Law

Last week, just after finishing our last run, we received a telegram from congressman, H. B. Ferguson, stating that the president had signed the three year homestead law.

We are sorry that we were unable to get it in last week's paper, and we are printing it this week, as the homesteaders are all interested in the new law.

In another place in the paper will be found the text of the law, as the new law itself is too lengthy to publish.

It was expected that the president would sign this bill on Thursday, but as we try to get the Herald out on time, we did not wait to hear whether or not Mr. Taft signed it and made it a law.

Fall's Relection

The all exciting scene in the house of representatives came last Thursday when a resolution was introduced by Llewellyn, rescinding the resolutions formerly passed declaring against election of United States senator during this session of the legislature to succeed Senator Fall. The action of Llewellyn was clearly contrary to all his former agreements not to insist upon the election for the reason that it would take up the time needed for legislative work and it was really not the time to have the election. Representatives Rogers and Carter branded him as a falsifier and proved him to be such on the floor of the house. Extraordinary things have often been done in state legislature, but the action taken in the re-election, Mr. Fall surpasses anything ever known. It is enough to put New Mexico in the list of states which are absolutely owned by the political bosses. The showing made by the Democrats, proving the action of Llewellyn and others have been in contravention of all pledges, was endorsed by all who favor clean government without regard to party affiliations. This all goes to prove that the corrupt methods of the leaders of the old guard will soon meet defeat. All who favor good government have resolved to keep up the struggle until machines are killed and the people come to their own. And this machine will never be killed until the people of the New Mexico vote for men who are Democrats and are willing to fight for the people as have Rogers, Carter, Evans, Barth, Aldredge and Mabry. As long as such men as Bursum, Springer, Speiss, Holt, Hawkins and others less important in the gang, as elected the legislatures will be a disgrace to herself and the United States. The proud old American Eagle will hang her head in shame, regretting that New Mexico has become a state and fervently wishing that she were not in the union at all, even as a territory. The legislature has been the laughing stock of the world ever since it convened, and the re-election of Senator Fall at this time only adds more disgrace upon the good citizenship of the people of our state.

Legislature Closes

The first state legislature closed Saturday noon after a ninety day session. The closing days of the session were full of excitement, owing to the number of bills considered by the assembly and the election of a United States senator. Many of the most important measures were held in committees until near the close of the session in order to push them through without the bad features being detected and opposed. However, there were the several Democrats and progressive Republicans who were always alert in watching for such. Nothing could draw them from their work of vigilance. Although they could not always defeat the undesirable measures, they were found protesting by voice and vote. The majority branch of the senate, following the dictates of the gang bosses, passed no other legislation than that desired by the lobbyists for the interests, such men as Bursum, Springer, Speiss, Hawkins and others. Senator Holt majority leader, had only to give the signal and his followers, Pankey, Page and others, would fall in line and follow blindly. The old gang was inclined to oppose everything advocated by the minority of either branch of the legislature without regard to the merits of their measures. At the same time, the minority was ready to assist the majority in such work as was considered for the good of the state and in the enactment of wholesale legislation without considering the source whence it came. This was demonstrated by the manner in which they worked for good laws with the same diligence as they protested against the passage of the bad. Because they desired to keep everything open, letting the people know of the work being done, the Democrats were much censured by the bosses whom they exposed. Not since the days when A. H. Hudspeth was in the legislature has the old machine met with such determined opposition. In the house, Representatives Rogers, Smith and Carter, Democrats and Clancy and M. C. de Baca, progressive Republicans, and in the senate, Barth, Mabry, Evans and Aldredge, were continually on the firing line. They contended that legislation should be enacted free from the influence of old political bosses; the good laws would never come from the machine controlled politicians, declaring the people should know from the stump and through the press of how their rights had been dealt with.

It is to be hoped that every voter in the state, now as we assume the duties and privileges of statehood, may study the many measures which have been considered by the legislature and will probably be taken up next session, and learn how the representatives have stood on them. The voters should take more interest in the matter of making laws. If they would be more watchful of the conduct of the representatives, the legislature would not be so recreant to the trust and confidence reposed in it. And we anticipate a very different crowd in the next legislative body elected by the people of the state.

The School Question

The Portales Herald: Two weeks ago your local contemporary had a good deal to say in a vague and indefinite way about the Portales schools. The gist of the criticism seemed to be that the board has employed some teachers who are unfit because they are both incompetent and physically incapacitated. As to the competency of the teachers will say that all of them have been examined by the proper authorities and nearly all have been granted first grade certificates which would seem to indicate that in the judgment of the county and state superintendent they are competent. We feel sure that the criticism was not directed at the one or two teachers who hold second grade certificates and have had a great many years of actual experience. If the present board has ever employed two or more, or any number, of teachers who are physically incapacitated with tuberculosis or any other contagious diseases we do not know it. It certainly is not the wish of the board to engage any teacher so afflicted or that is incompetent and if we have done such a thing we don't know who the teachers are, and the editorials above referred to fail to enlighten us on that point. Every member of the teaching corps of the year just closed held a health certificate issued by a reputable physician of Portales. These health certificates would indicate that there was no such physical incapacity as alleged. Now the board invites honest, frank criticism and suggestion may be helpful it must be just and fair and be extended in a way that the board can fathom out what is actually intended. The board has tendered to the members of the teacher corps of last year on certain terms places on the faculty for next year. One has declined this offer and no contracts have been formally entered into with any one. We hope to be able to run a nine months school next year and with the additional five mill levy should be able to, if the tax is paid, but we cannot run a school on delinquent taxes. We have competent teachers whose homes are right in our midst and we feel an inclination to employ them and they actually give their services for less than equal competent imported teachers would and for less than what they could obtain elsewhere. The school term just closed has been the most successful the district has had in a great many years, or perhaps ever has had and it has been run as economically as any previous school, and more so than some not nearly so successful. While a few patrons have shown dissatisfaction it is not probable that any school anywhere ever did, or ever will entirely please all the patrons. A certain amount of dissatisfaction is something that every teacher and school board must count on. It is something that goes with the business of running a school just as poultry raising is attended with lice, agriculture with obnoxious weeds and merchandising with deadbeats. Any teacher or school officer who is not willing to put up with a certain amount of it is certainly not fitted to be connected with a public school. Doubtless the board and every member of the faculty have made mistakes, and it is possible that every patron of the school has too, for we are all human.

With reference to using a part of the proceeds from the sale of the school section for prolonging the lately closed session to a nine months term will say it was the unanimous judgment of the school board as well as the retired town board that the present generation of children were as deserving and needy of school advantages as any future generation that will likely ever live in Portales.

Christ's Witness to John the Baptist. Matt. x12-19.

Golden Text—Among them that are born of women there is none greater than John, yet he that is but little in the kingdom of God is greater than he. Luke vii 28.

(1.) Verse 2—What had John done to be in prison?

(2.) Verse 3—What do you think had produced doubt in the mind of John concerning the Messianship of Christ?

(3.) What, if anything, was there in Christ's manner of life that would be liable to make John doubt?

(4.) What are the causes which often produce doubt in the minds of good men on matters of which at other times they have been certain, as in the cases of Elijah and John?

(5.) Verses 4-6—At what point did John need most to be strengthened?

(6.) What did Jesus consider to be the supreme proof of his mission?

(7.) What today are the proofs for the divinity of Christ's mission and gospel?

(8.) Verses 7-8—What special scenes or demonstrations had attended John's preaching in the wilderness?

(9.) In what respect was John unlike "a reed shaken with the wind"?

(10.) What sort of clothing did John wear?

(11.) What significance is there in the fact that Jesus and John were not alike in their manner of dress?

(12.) Verses 9-10—In what respect was John more than a prophet? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(13.) What is the evidence that Mal. iii 1, from which Jesus quotes, refers to John and Jesus?

(14.) As a matter of fact how did John prepare the way for Jesus?

(15.) Verse 11—What did Jesus mean by saying that there had not arisen one greater than John the Baptist, but that the least in the kingdom of heaven was greater than he?

(16.) Verses 12-13—How did the great revival produced by John's preaching resemble soldiers storming a city?

(17.) Why can no power in heaven or earth or hell keep a really determined man out of heaven?

(18.) Verse 14—John no doubt had the spirit and power of Elijah and was planned by God to be the forerunner of Christ. What, if any, evidence is there that God plans every man for a specific work and gives him the power to do it?

(19.) Verse 15—What qualities are necessary to understand spiritual truth?

(20.) Why are spiritual hearing and sight—to hear God and see him—possible for all?

(21.) Verses 16-19—Why does God direct or allow equally good men to adopt such different outward modes of life?

(22.) What was the real reason which caused so many to reject the preaching of both John and Jesus?

TYPEWRITERS GIVEN AWAY

The Emerson Typewriter Company of Woodstock, Ill., have recently given away over 400 of the highest grade, wholly visible Emerson Typewriters made in the world. They have gone into every state and territory in the United States. There may be some in your town. They are giving them away everywhere to men, women, boys and girls, over 18 years of age, on surprisingly liberal conditions.

If you could make any use of a $100 typewriter, providing it did not cost you even one cent, then in a letter or on a postal card addressed to Frank L. Wilder, President, Woodstock, Ill., simply say, "Mail me all your Free Offers," and by return mail you will receive their Free Offers, the names of over 400 who have recently received typewriters free, and you will learn on what easy conditions you can get one of their typewriters free right away.

The Emerson Typewriter is one of the highest grade, wholly visible typewriters made in the world. Many who have used the "EMERSON" and other makes pronounce the "EMERSON" superior to any $100.00 typewriter on the market. It is a wholly visible machine, has every new, up-to-date feature, looks like other high grade $100.00 typewriters, though it is selling just now at an astonishingly low price and on terms of no money with order, trial free in your own home. Nothing to pay at first, and after a thorough trial, 10 cents a day until paid. The "EMERSON" has every new improvement, universal keyboard, back spacer, tabulator, two-color ribbon, everything the best; is the ideal machine for beginners as well as for the most expert typist and stenographers; just the typewriter for the smallest or largest office.

If you could possibly make any use of a high grade typewriter, even though it didn't cost you one cent on money, or if you would like the agency in your town on a plan by which you could make big money, or if you would like a position with the company, then be sure, on a postal card or in a letter addressed to "Frank L. Wilder, President, Woodstock, Ill.," say, "Mail me your Free Offers."

These tablets are mild and gentle in their action and especially suitable for people of middle age and older. For sale by all dealers.

The summer normal of Roosevelt county, New Mexico, will be held in a term of four weeks on July 22nd, and close August 17th, 1912, at Portales, the "Irrigated City" of eastern New Mexico. Institute circulars will soon be ready to mail to the teachers of the county and all others interested in the success of the normal. Reading Circle books may be secured by teachers from the county superintendent, Portales, New Mexico.

A limited number of manuals for this coming institute session have been sent to the county superintendent for distribution among teachers, who are going to attend the Roosevelt county institute. Teachers may call or send for the manuals; if sent by mail an additional charge of six cents will be required.

FAMILY TELEPHONE ORGANIZATION

Modern conditions have brought about the need for what might be called a long distance telephone organization of the family. "When in doubt, telephone" is an axiom that ought to be impressed upon every member of the family going on a journey, or to live at a distance. The mother can reach her children at school, and children should be required to telephone home occasionally. When husband or wife set out on a journey a telephone itinerary should be jotted down and left behind.

Members of the family traveling should not be content with providing means by which those left at home may reach them quickly, but should communicate with the home frequently, and particularly when there is bad weather, transportation delay, disturbance of public order, or any other unusual condition where the telephone happens to be. Bad weather flies fast, and is magnified by distance. These things cause apprehension at home.

No other medium conveys the personal assurance and causes such peace of mind as the long distance telephone talk can give.

We will have our library finished by next Sunday, and we will meet next Saturday afternoon at Mrs. W. O. Oldham's home to cover the books.

Next Sunday we will have a "Mite Box" meeting and we would be glad to have as many old members present as possible, as well as a good many new members.

The Pension Bill

Congressmen Curry and Ferguson have forwarded the New Mexico Bureau of Immigration of Albuquerque a good supply of pension blanks which it is necessary for those entitled to pensions to fill out and return to the pension department at Washington in order to receive the increase recently granted by congress. These blanks have been sent to the Immigration Bureau for distribution to those who have been overlooked by the different grand army posts throughout the state and to old soldiers living in remote sections and having no opportunity to procure the proper form of application for this increase. The application blank will of course in time be sent to all persons drawing pensions, but this will be rather slow and as the increase starts at the time the application is filled out, old soldiers and grand army posts desiring these application blanks will do well to write or call for a supply at once.

The Immigration Bureau is also in receipt of agriculture year books for 1911, which contains very valuable information and a copy of which every farmer in the state should have. One of these books will be sent to every applicant as long as they last and as the supply is limited, those desiring the publication will do well to give the matter immediate attention.

Any farmer in the state desiring a list of the bulletins published by the agricultural department can procure same by addressing his representative in congress or the Immigration Bureau. This list contains the names and numbers of several hundred bulletins, many of which are very valuable to New Mexico farmers and which may be had upon written request to any congressman or senator.
