

Construction Drops in '68

Construction in Dimmitt in 1968 dropped to less than half the 1967 total.

AFTER compiling the past year's construction figures from building permit listings, Mrs. Dorothy Magness of the Chamber of Commerce reported a $347,500 total in the city for 1968. Most of this amount was spent on new homes.

The previous year, construction was $819,330 inside the city, with huge projects on the outskirts zooming the total beyond $2 million. Major projects that year were the agricultural housing project and the Dimmitt Airport, both outside the city.

Mrs. Magness reported that 20 new homes were built or started in 1968 at a total cost of $257,500, an average of $12,875 per home. Dimmitt residents also spent $17,000 on remodeling and additions during the year, bringing the residential construction total to $274,500.

ALTHOUGH residential construction was the big news in the building picture in 1968, it still didn't come close to the 1967 record, when $457,530 was spent on residential projects, including 29 new homes.

Commercial and institutional construction took a big plunge during the year, dropping to $73,000, compared with the 1967 total of $191,800.

The main commercial and institutional projects in the city in 1968, Mrs. Magness said, were a $31,000 addition to the Lee Street Baptist Church, a $24,000 addition to South Elementary School, a $15,000 addition to the First State Bank and a $3,000 remodeling of Staton Brothers Gulf Station.

Although the past year's construction dropped from the all-time high posted in 1967, Mrs. Magness said construction should take another sharp upturn this year with the start of the new Dimmitt Wheat Growers corn milling plant, Plains Memorial Hospital annex, First Baptist Church and other large projects. Construction in 1969 should break the all-time record set in 1967, Mrs. Magness said.

Young Farmers Get Stock Show

The Dimmitt Young Farmers, instead of the Chamber of Commerce, will sponsor the Castro County Junior Livestock Show this year.

THE YOUNG Farmers requested the sponsorship, and at Friday morning's board meeting, Chamber of Commerce directors agreed to it and offered their help in coordinating the show in the future.

Hart's junior livestock program sponsors and the county junior livestock show committee already had approved the Young Farmers' offer.

NEW BROCHURE — Mrs. Carolyn Pollard, receptionist and bookkeeper at Southwestern Public Service Co., shows the new brochure, "Dynamic Dimmitt," which her company has just completed to show all the vital statistics of the city. The Chamber of Commerce compiled information for the brochure and SWPS took the local pictures, designed the attractive cover and paid for printing 1,000 copies. The brochures are available at the city hall.

FRIDAY

Dimmitt to Host Vegetable Men

Vegetable men from throughout the Panhandle-Plains area will gather in Dimmitt Friday for the seventh annual West Texas Vegetable Growers Conference.

THE ALL-DAY conference will be held in Dimmitt High School auditorium, with registration to begin at 9:30 a.m. and adjournment scheduled for 3 p.m.

A full agenda is on tap, and the vegetable men have lined up five top scientists, specialists, professors and economists for the program.

Topics to be discussed will include irrigation efficiency, research, business ethics, marketing techniques, and ways to improve vegetable income for the producer.

ALSO on tap is a business meeting of the West Texas Vegetable Growers Council. Truman Touchstone of Dimmitt is vice-president of the council.

The $3 registration fee includes a noon luncheon in the high school cafeteria.

Vandals Break Into High School

Dimmitt High School students found the entrance hallway of the school scattered with broken glass Monday morning as the result of Sunday night vandalism.

POLICE Chief W. W. Jones said vandals broke a door glass in the hallway, smashed a beer bottle in the hall, broke out several ceiling tiles and stole some candy.

Ross Heads CofC

Jimmy Ross, 33-year-old attorney, is the new president of the Castro County Chamber of Commerce.

HE WAS elected by his fellow directors when the 1959 board held its first meeting Friday morning in Sally's Steak House.

Ross, a partner in the law firm of Burkett & Ross, succeeds Dr. J. D. Blackburn, who has served as the chamber's top officer for two years.

Elected first vice-president was Bo Bryant, manager of the Plainview Production Credit Association here. J. R. Brown, manager of Bruegel & Sons Elevator

Co., Inc., and a past president of the chamber, was elected second vice-president for the coming year. The new secretary-treasurer is Elvon DeVaney, manager of Western Vegetables.

ROSS, a native of Luling, has lived in Dimmitt since 1961. He is a graduate of the University of Texas School of Law, and is active in Lions Club, First Baptist Church and local, district and state bar associations. Last year he received the Dimmitt Jaycees' "Distinguished Service Award" for outstanding community service by a young man.

Dublin in 1919, at the age of 40, and bought a second-hand Dodge to make his calls in the town and along the unpaved country roads.

With his country doctor's dedication, he often would spend several days and nights in the home of a critically ill patient. During most of his years of practice here, the county had no hospital.

DR. MILLER became one of the county's best-known men, and was noted for his catholic memory of his patients' individual medical needs and of the county's developing history. In addition to fulfilling his physician's role, the 6-foot-3 doctor also was known as a humorist and a "walking history book" of the county.

Schools Taking Student Census

January is "school census month" in Texas, and administrators in the Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth school districts are trying to compile complete lists of all school-age children.

THEY NEED the names of all students who will be 6 through 17 years of age as of Sept. 1, 1969, and they need the cooperation of all local families in compiling the lists.

Distribution of state education funds to local school districts is based partially on the school census figures.

"We will be able to enumerate all students who are in school now," explained Weldon Skinner, census enumerator for the Dimmitt Independent School District. "Where the general public can be a great help to us is by contacting any school administrator with the name of any school-age youngster who is not now in school."

THIS INCLUDES children who are mentally retarded, deaf, physically handicapped, or who are not attending school for any reason, he said.

"We're charged with the responsibility of educating all our youngsters," Skinner explained. "This census is to include all children, including the handicapped and the dropouts. By knowing the number of these children, we can possibly set up more special education or homebound training programs."

He added, "This census also should include all young married persons of school age."

Pupils to Get Holiday Friday

Friday will be a holiday for Dimmitt's public school students — but not for the teachers.

IT WILL be pupil accounting day, the annual mid-year workday set aside for teachers to complete their grading of semester tests, marking of report cards and updating of permanent records. It marks the half-way point in the school year.

Mid-semester exams, underway since Monday in various schools in the city, will end Thursday afternoon.

Elcor Decides Not to Sell

Officials of Elcor Chemical Corp. announced this week that they have decided not to sell the firm's ammonia plant here.

INSTEAD, they said, they will seek to expand the Dimmitt plant's marketing facilities and boost its sales.

R. E. Campbell, president of the corporation, notified the local plant's managers of the decision by wire Monday. At the same time, E. E. Runyan, president of the agricultural chemicals division, relayed the information in a letter to all employees of the division.

HERE'S THE text of Campbell's wire and Runyan's letter:

"We wish to announce that we have withdrawn consideration of the sale of the production and marketing facilities of Western Ammonia.

"At the time we decided to consider a sale, it was only if a relatively high price could be received. In the event this level of price were not offered, we wished to not only continue in the business but to expand our marketing.

"UPON investigation of the possibilities of a sale with three companies, we have concluded that we will keep the facilities and will plan to consider means of expansion.

"We wish to express our thanks to you and all other personnel of Western Ammonia for bearing with us while this rather difficult decision was being considered, and we look forward to a continuation of the relationship we have enjoyed with you all as a part of Elcor Chemical Corporation."

Boys Admit Crime Rash

City police and sheriff's officers apparently have cleared up $2,500 worth of burglaries and vandalism with the arrest of seven teenage-age boys.

THE WHOLESALE roundup occurred last Thursday night and Friday morning as officers cracked a two-month rash of crimes that included burglaries, purse-snatching, window-breaking, petty thefts and a knifing.

The boys — six juveniles and a 17-year-old — have given a thick sheaf of voluntary statements admitting crimes that had plagued law officers for two months.

"With the arrest of these seven boys," one officer said, "we've cleared up more than a dozen crimes, including over $1,400 worth of burglaries and $790 in glass breakage around the business district."

IN ADDITION to admitting the crimes, all but one of the boys told officers they were regular glue-sniffers or had sniffed glue in the past. One said he and a buddy had also smoked marijuana. The six juveniles range from 13 to 16 years of age, and include five Mexican-Americans and one Anglo.

All but one of the boys had previous records, officers said. The boy with no previous record was probated to the custody of his father, while the six "repeaters" were jailed upon the order of Juvenile Court Judge Raymond Wilson.

THE SIX juveniles — all charged with burglary — face a juvenile hearing today (Thursday) at 9 a.m. Five of them are ordered to show cause why they should not be committed to the State Correctional School for Boys at Gatesville.

The 17-year-old, Joe Castillo, is in jail under $1,000 bond and will face burglary charges as an adult.

In their separate voluntary statements, the seven boys told officers they had committed the following crimes in the city, either individually or in teams of two or three:

—Burglarizing Frank's Highway Store in East Dimmitt, taking cigarette lighters and candy.

—Breaking into Henderson's TV & Appliance and stealing two knives, walkie-talkies and money.

—Breaking out plate-glass windows at Dimmitt Consumers Oil Co., Joe Benson Texaco plant and station, Community Grain (twice), Harley Gulf, and Soil Conservation Service office.

—STEALING cigarettes at Taylor & Sons Food Store, Foodway, Ben's Food and Parsons Drug.

—Stealing candy at TG&Y and Parsons Drug.

—Breaking into vending machines at the Castro County Agricultural Housing Project.

—Breaking into Higginbotham-Bartlett Co. and stealing $20 from the cash register and two hunting knives.

—BREAKING into Dimmitt Consumers Oil Co. and taking change from the cash register.

—Breaking into Choc's Mobil Service and stealing $7 in change.

—Breaking into C&S Equipment Co. and taking a portable radio.

—Knifing a boy at a Star Club dance in East Dimmitt.

—STEALING money from parents' and grandparents' purses and billfolds.

—Stealing Mrs. Truman Touchstone's purse from her car while it was parked in front of TG&Y, and taking the change from it.

Officers said most of the stolen merchandise has been recovered.

'VOCAL CORDS' — Reeford Burrous (left), manager of West Texas Telephone Co., and Bill Bunch, chief test boardman, proudly point to a communications map showing 40 miles of new cable criss-crossing Dimmitt, making 2,400 two-way conversations possible at the same time. The new cable is the main part of a $96,000 rebuilding program by the phone company.

New 4,800-Voice Cables Now Carry Local Chatter

Thanks to a massive rebuilding project by West Texas Telephone Co., Dimmitt residents could now tie up every telephone in the city at the same time and still have plenty of phone lines left over.

THE PHONE company is almost finished with a $96,000 project that is increasing the number of two-way circuits in Dimmitt from 600 to 2,400.

Although the city has only 2,279 phone stations, West Texas Telephone Co. now has the capability of carrying 4,800 voices at the same time within the city.

The key to this happy situation is in large new telephone feeder cables — 40 miles of them in Dimmitt alone. The company also added eight miles of new cable in Hart and two miles in Nazareth.

"WHAT THIS means to the individual customer," said Manager Reeford Burrous, "is that anyone in Dimmitt, Hart or Nazareth wanting a private line can now have one. In the past, two-party lines were the standard and private lines were available to only 30 percent of the city's residents."

Telephone construction men have already added 61 private lines in Dimmitt while building the new cable network.

The rebuilding project is now 95 percent complete, Burrous said. "WE'LL STILL be splicing lines for the next week or so, and private lines won't be available in a few areas until the splicing is completed," he explained. "But we're ready to take orders from all city residents wanting private lines."

Seventeen men have been working full-time for the past year to install the company's new electronic backbone in Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth. Ten of these men are employees of Levelland's Diamond G Construction Co., the prime contractor, and the other seven are telephone company "outside" men.

NEXT STEP in the phone company's upgrading plans, Burrous said, is to rebuild the rural telephone system in the county. This will take approximately three years to complete, he said.

"Most rural customers are still on 'open wire' 10-party lines," he explained, "and a few south of Nazareth have never had telephone service at all. Our next target is to provide phone service to those who haven't had it, then we'll start rebuilding our existing rural system."

The rural rebuilding will lead to a standard of a four-party rural line, with private lines and two-party lines available to any rural resident who wants them.

Then, by 1973, West Texas Telephone Co. will be ready to go to Direct Distance Dialing, making it possible for a local resident to dial any other telephone in the US directly from his home.

THE MASSIVE splicing job hasn't been without its problems. "We regret that many people had their phone service interrupted during the construction," Burrous said, "but it was something we couldn't avoid. Anyone who is still having trouble should notify our business office."

Did His Taping Help Jets Win?

'Junior Miss' Entry Scores

An exhausted Sharron Flynt returned to Dimmitt Friday night from a week of competition in the Texas Junior Miss Pageant in New Braunfels.

THE REIGNING Miss Dimmitt scored a personal triumph in the pageant by being named one of the two talent winners after performing a monologue scene from "Joan of Arc." Her prize was a $100 savings bond.

Thirty-four Texas girls competed in the pageant, sponsored by the New Braunfels Jaycees. Winner of the Texas Junior Miss title was Laura Jean Beard of Harlingen, who will compete in the National Junior Miss Pageant in Mobile, Ala., later this year.

"IT WAS an awfully busy week," the pretty Dimmitt High School senior said. "Usually we didn't get to bed until midnight and we had to get up at 6. It was a tremendous experience."

Miss Flynt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flynt, was sponsored in the state pageant by the Dimmitt Jaycees.

The Super Bowl game Sunday was a memorable event for a former Dimmitt man, who watched the historic upset from the New York Jets' sideline.

JACK COPELAND, 33, former head trainer of the old New York Titans, was invited by Jets Coach Weeb Ewbank to be in the team's dressing room and near the bench during the Super Bowl.

Ewbank had a sentimental reason for extending the invitation to Copeland, who is now a Dallas investment banker. Copeland had "taped" Jets fullback Bill Mathis for his first pro game as a New York Titan, and Ewbank wanted him to tape the big fullback for his final pro game as well. Mathis is retiring from professional football this year.

"It was a real homecoming for Jack," said his father, Floyd Copeland. "He had worked with Don Maynard (13) and Larry Grantham (60) while he was with the Titans, and he got to see them again. Also, he had worked with Matt Snell (41) and Johnny Sample (24) while he was at Ohio State, and he enjoyed seeing them again, too."

COPELAND made a name for himself as a football trainer all the way from Dimmitt High School to the professional football ranks. He was the Bobcats' trainer in the early 1950's, then served as a student trainer at Texas Western and Hardin-Simmons.

After his college graduation, Copeland became the first assistant trainer at Ohio State University, where he also was a graduate student in physical therapy. He became the head trainer of the New York Titans when the team was formed in 1959, and stayed with them until they went bankrupt and were reorganized as the New York Jets in 1962.

He left his successful career as a trainer and physical therapist three years ago to become an investment banker.

About his workout in the Jets' locker room Sunday, Copeland told his father, "It really brought back a lot of memories."

Couples En Route to Nixon's Inauguration parents Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stanford. Tuesday evening Donald and Norma Webb were honorees at a farwell party at the home of Bud and Laquita Hill out on Western Circle Drive.

There will be a Texas Governor's reception in Washington for the Texans. Many people in Dimmitt received invitations to the big Governor's reception in Austin for Preston Smith. I will try to find out "who goes."

SNOW SKIING is the fun thing now. I heard a few Dimmitt folks joined the crowds at Ruidoso. Ann and Truman Touchstone met Peggy and Jim Curtis of Hobbs there last weekend.

MR. AND MRS. Bob McLean, Jo Kirkpatrick and Steve Wesson went to Washington to attend the funeral of Bud Wesson who was killed in an accident on the job.

AROUND 40 ladies heard Mildred Bradford review Erma Bombeck's book "At Wit's End." The story about the happenings of a family, brought laughter to all of us who have families.

Oh Yes! And do you know another party is being planned? A Sweetheart Ball at Dimmitt's Country Club Feb. 14. You will hear more about this!

THE MORGAN Dennises were hosts recently to all of her sisters and a brother for a couple of days - what a good time they had. Guests were Mrs. Lester Day, Mrs. Owen Tyatt, Mrs. William Curtis, the brother was J. D. Morrison, all of Amarillo and Zo Garvin of Childress, a niece. Wanda called the group from Oregon and daughter Decimae, who teaches school in the Philippines, called from Hong Kong.

BUD AND Vaudine Giles were the honorees at a pretty party Thursday at the Allan Webbs to help celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Food was served buffet style with a big cake and punch to finish off. Peggy used silver things, dollies, cups, etc. We wish for you both 25 more good years.

Shannon, Allan and Muff Trulock visited their grandparents, the Trulocks in Portales recently. Their mother Wanda visited her aunt Mrs. Pete Duree and a friend Doris Armstrong Baker in Lubbock.

MOUNTAIN TOP

"MOUNTAIN TOP EXPERIENCES" ... It is not yet vacation time, however that time is approaching and we start remembering the wonderful feelings and experiences of our last trip to the mountains, and now we can start to plan new adventures. That closeness, and the exciting feeling when worshipping the Lord is often referred to as a "MOUNTAIN TOP EXPERIENCE." We invite you to come worship the Lord in his house, and receive the joys of being close to God. Attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Bible Thoughts
"ARE YOU READY?"
By Ronnie Parker
Every God-fearing man knows that the judgment of the Lord is coming. The word of God clearly teaches this meeting between God and man. Jesus spoke of the judgment when he was here on earth. He said, "every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment." In John 12:48 he said, "He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him; the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day." Paul teaches us, "For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad" (2 Cor. 5:10). The writer of Hebrews says, "And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment" (Heb. 9:27). Yes, the judgment is just as certain as death and just as real as the Lord Jesus. All people of all ages will be there. Your neighbor and your enemy will be there! Your friends and your relatives will be there. Your son and daughter will be there! Your wife will be there! You will be there! The judgment is an accounting day, a day of reckoning. Everyone will be judged by the words of Jesus and the will of the Lord. YOU ARE WELCOMED AT ALL OUR SERVICES

DEDICATION SET — Members of the Lee Street Baptist Church will hold a church-family dedication Sunday afternoon of their new $31,000 sanctuary addition at Southwest Second and Lee. The service will begin at 2:30 p.m. A public dedication of the new 40 x 70-ft. addition will be held at a later date, according to Don Cass, pastor.

The congregation will initiate its new church auditorium with a one-week revival Sunday through Jan. 26, with services scheduled at 7:30 each week night and 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sundays. The revival will be conducted by Jack Bailey, evangelist preacher and singer. Alvin Frazier will be the pianist.

FTA Lining Up Acts for Show

Acts are now being lined up for an area-wide talent show to be sponsored by Dimmitt's Future Teachers of America chapter later this month.

Only One-Fourth Of Texas Vehicles Inspected So Far

With the 1969 auto inspection deadline drawing near, less than one-fourth of all Texas vehicles have been inspected.

"SINCE THE beginning of the inspection period, Sept. 1, 1968, only 1 1/2 million vehicles have been inspected and approximately five million more remain to be inspected," said Sgt. Vernon Cavthon, Texas Highway Patrol supervisor for this area.

All Texas vehicles must be inspected before April 1. Texas law requires inspection of brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, steering wheels and rims, and front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment.

The inspection fee is $1.75. This does not include the cost of repairs and adjustments necessary to enable the vehicle to pass inspection.

Linda Langford, program chairman, said talent acts already have entered from Muleshoe, Bovina and Sudan, and added that more acts are needed from Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth.

Competition will be in two age divisions — 14 and under, and over 14. Dimmitt merchants will provide first, second and third place trophies in both divisions. Door prizes also will be given to those in the audience.

ANY amateur talent act is eligible. Those wanting to enter should call Miss Thelma McMinn, FTA sponsor, at 647-3104 during school hours or contact her at 801 Western Drive, or Miss Langford at 1016 Maple St., 647-4331.

Admission to the talent show will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

Research Foundation Resumes Corn Program

Reinstatement in 1968 of the corn research program at High Plains Research Foundation points to increasing interest in corn production in the area.

CORN RESEARCH undertaken by the foundation in 1968 was the first since 1963 and was reinstated due to expressed interest of area farmers. Dr. Tom Longnecker, research director, cites several reasons for the increased corn interest.

"The interest has been growing gradually," Dr. Longnecker states, "especially in Bailey and Lamb County and on the North Plains. The corn processing plant in Dimmitt should be credited for some of the interest in corn production. And farmers on the North Plains have looked to corn for possible use in a grain sorghum rotation program," Dr. Longnecker said.

Twenty-three corn hybrid varieties were used in research plots at the foundation in grain yield tests and 18 varieties were used in ensilage production tests.

According to Loyd Langford, research agronomist, the growing season was more favorable for corn than sorghum due to greenbug infestations in grain. Corn on the research station suffered only minimum Southwestern Corn Bore insect damage due to early plantings.

Varieties in the corn tests were planted April 16 and harvested September 20 and 27th. Each hybrid was hand thinned to approximate populations recommended by seed companies. Atrazine was banded at two pounds per sprayed acre for weed control.

"Test data was gathered from four replications of each variety. Yields in the seed corn tests ranged from 158.2 bushels per acre to 95.3 bushels per acre. Later maturing corn hybrids produced highest yields in the test and taller stalks," Langford said.

Plant populations ranged from 28,000 plants per acre to 18,000 plants.

IN THE ensilage study, high yield was 30.05 tons per acre contrasting with low yield of 20.51 tons per acre. Plant populations ranged from 28,000 to 20,000 per acre.

"Total ear corn production per yield ranged from 36 percent to 15.85 percent," Langford said.

Research data on the tests will be included in the 1969 High Plains Research Foundation Annual Research Report to be distributed to Foundation members in February.

An expanded corn research program is being planned at the Foundation this year," Dr. Longnecker said.

Sugar Beet Growers to Hold Annual Banquet in Hereford

The Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, Inc., will hold its annual banquet at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Bull Barn in Hereford.

MAIN SPEAKER at the banquet will be Dr. Charles W. Jarvis of San Marcos, dentist and humorist, who has been described as "one of the best after-dinner speakers in Texas."

Among the guests will be John Bunker, new president of Holly Sugar Corp., and several other Holly officials.

The banquet is for all association members and their wives, as well as invited guests from throughout the area.

A business meeting of the association will be held Friday at 2:30 p.m. in Hereford's Jim Hill Hotel, so no conflict will arise between the business session and the annual banquet.

AT THE business meeting, members will hear a report on the association's Washington office, which was established recently by sugar beet growers in all 24 beet-growing states; a report presented recently to the USDA by the Sugar Beet Task Force; reports on contract negotiations for 1969; and a discussion of the Sugar Act.

Jay Boston, president of the association, said awards will be presented at the banquet to producers of the most sugar per acre, and persons connected with the sugar beet industry will receive special recognition.

DeKalb Cites Anthony Acker

Anthony Acker of Nazareth, with an outstanding irrigated yield of 8,417.81 pounds of sorghum per acre, has been entered in the 1968 DeKalb Sorghum Masters Club.

ACKER'S yield came from a field of DeKalb F-65. His entry was mechanically harvested and verified by an impartial third party.

To attain his yield, Acker used such management practices as fertilizing according to yield goal, planting in narrow rows and controlling weeds and insects.

He planted twin 10-inch rows on 40-inch beds at a seeding rate of nine pounds per acre. His fertilizer application included 200 pounds of nitrogen and 92 pounds of phosphate. Weeds were controlled with Atrazine and oil.

THE DEKALB Sorghum Masters Club was begun in 1963 to promote friendly competition as well as discussion and idea exchange among the nation's leading sorghum producers. The program attempts to encourage practices which will help growers gain the maximum amount of net profit from each acre of sorghum.

Social Security Man to Visit

A field representative of the Social Security Administration district office in Amarillo will be in Dimmitt Wednesday to help local residents with matters relating to social security.

HE WILL be in the courthouse from 9:15 to 11:15 Wednesday morning.

Those not able to see the field representative here may visit the district office at 1006 Adams St. in Amarillo from 8:15 to 4:30 Monday through Friday or until 6:30 p.m. every Thursday.

Dallas to Host Weed Conference

A long-time thorn in the side of agricultural producers is due to receive much attention this month at the 22nd annual Southern Weed Conference in Dallas.

The Jan. 21-23 weed control session will bring together approximately 1000 research and education specialists representing universities, chemical companies, public health and regulatory agencies, public service organizations, equipment manufacturers and others from 14 Southern states.

CONFERENCE President Leonard Lett of Colloidal Products Corp., Memphis, Tenn., said that most aspects of weed control relating to agriculture, industry and public utilities will be discussed at the meeting at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

"Production Economy Through Weed Science" is the theme. The program committee has lined up programs for nine sections to cover the wide range of subjects and interests. These nine sections are: Weed Control in Agronomic Crops, including turf and pastures; Weed Control in Horticultural Crops; Control of Weeds and Woody Plants in Forests and Rangelands; Weed Control on Utility, Railroad and Highway Rights-of-Ways and in Industrial Sites; Aquatic Weeds and Special Weed Problems; Ecological, Physiological and Edaphic Aspects of Weed Control; Extension, Teaching Regulatory and Public Health Aspects of Weed Control; Developments from Industry and Application of Herbicides.

You'll Have Better Pasture If You Permit Less Grazing

Winter pastures can be better utilized if they are grazed less, Dr. J. Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist at Texas A&M University, reminds livestock producers.

MOST winter pastures such as small grains contain high amounts of protein and other nutrients and continuous grazing is usually unnecessary for beef cattle. Approximately one or two hours of grazing per day is sufficient for a beef held on medium growth pastures, he adds.

"Grazing every third or fourth day is also a good practice to follow. Research has shown that limiting the amount of grazing for beef cattle can more than double the profits to livestock producers," Pratt says.

The agronomist points out that it is a different story for dairy men and in many cases stocker producers. In such enterprises where most of the animal product is marketed, winter pastures can be used to a greater extent.

FREE CHOICE feeding of high-quality hay is usually recommended and can mean extra days of grazing and profits from winter pastures.

Ample fertilization can help raise the usefulness of winter grazing land. Pratt advises producers to start thinking now of topdressing if additional grazing is on the slate for the early spring. A soil test is the best way to determine fertilization and limestone needs, he concludes.

"PUBLIC sentiment is everything. With public sentiment nothing can fail. Without it nothing can succeed. Consequently, he who moulds public sentiment goes deeper than he who enacts statutes or pronounces decisions. He makes statutes and decisions possible or impossible to execute."

Here Are the Major Provisions Of Water-Import Plan for Texas

A sweeping plan to provide Texas with water for the next 50 years has been unveiled by the Texas Water Development Board, architects of the Texas Water Plan.

THE PLAN, described by Howard B. Boswell, executive director of the board, as "a flexible guide for the development, conservation, management and use of the state's water resources to the year 2020 and beyond," calls for the importation of surplus water from the lower Mississippi River into Texas to augment the state's water resources.

to provide the water our growing cities, our expanding industry, and our thriving irrigated agriculture will need beyond the end of this century," Boswell said. The state will pass from water surplus to water shortage in the 1990-2000 decade, he added.

THE TEXAS Water Plan provides for 67 proposed or potential dams and reservoirs, having a total storage capacity of 52,123,900 million acre-feet of water (an acre-foot is 325,851 gallons and will cover an acre of land with 12 inches of water), transmission canals and pipelines, pumping stations and power facilities for the movement of 16 million to 17 million acre-feet of intrastate and interstate water annually to water-deficient areas in Texas and New Mexico to serve municipal, industrial, agricultural, and other beneficial requirements. The estimated cost of the plan, in today's dollars, is $10 billion.

Boswell said that Texas would need to import 12 million to 13 million acre-feet of water annually "if we are to prevent economic loss to the state of major geographic areas where water supplies are being depleted and where sources are limited."

THE WATER Development Board, in its search for water for import into Texas, investigated the possibilities of securing water from the Columbia and Missouri rivers, the Canadian Northwest, Alaska, and the Mississippi River. The Columbia and Missouri rivers and not how considered as possible sources of surplus water. The most likely and earliest source appears to be surplus water from the lower Mississippi River.

The board, however, is actively interested in the future possibilities of water being brought into Texas and other southwestern and western states from Canada and Alaska.

The major difference between the plan presented in Austin in December and the preliminary Texas Water Plan presented in mid-1966, Boswell said, is that the Texas Water Plan "serves more people" than did the preliminary Texas Water Plan.

THE KEY to the Texas Water Plan is the Texas Water System, a complex of dams and reservoirs, pipelines and canals, pumpings stations and power facilities necessary to manage an imported water supply and the water resources of Texas basins with an interim or long-range surplus to meet intrabasin needs and to make surplus waters available for movement to areas of deficiency in Texas.

Three divisions — Trans-Texas, Coastal, and Eastern — form the system.

THE TRANS-TEXAS Division will supply all municipal, industrial and irrigation requirements in the northeast Texas basins, the Dallas-Fort Worth area and west to meet the water needs of North Central Texas, the High Plains Trans-Pecos area, El Paso, and eastern New Mexico. Municipal requirements will receive 600,000 acre-feet of water annually, irrigation 7,584,000 acre-feet, and New Mexico will receive 1,500,000 acre-feet of imported water.

MOVEMENT of water through the Trans-Texas Canal will begin in the upper Sulphur River Basin in East Texas and end at terminal storage reservoirs at the Caprock Reservoir and the Bull Lake complex near Lubbock. Water will be lifted approximately 2,700 feet through the canal from Cooper Reservoir in the Sulphur River Basin to Caprock Reservoir, a distance of almost 500 miles.

Southwest of Wichita Falls, a pipeline can divert water from the canal to supply 95,000 acre-feet of water annually for Abilene, Sweetwater, Snyder, San Angelo and Colorado City as it is needed, and if these cities elect to contract for delivery of the water. Diversions from the canal will also be made to supply irrigation in North Central Texas by contracting entities are formed.

Water will be moved through storage on the High Plains to supply 1.5 million acre-feet of water from the Mississippi River annually to eastern New Mexico from Bull Lake Reservoir. Water will be moved south from storage in Caprock and Bull Lake reservoirs by canal to supply 505,000 acre-feet of water annually for municipal use in the Lubbock, Midland-Odessa, Big Spring and Pecos areas, and by pipeline from Pecos to El Paso, and 933,000 acre-feet annually for irrigation in the Trans-Pecos area. Additional water can be supplied in the El Paso area and Hudspeth County for irrigation by enlargement of the capacity of the system.

PLANNING for additional water for the North High Plains after the year 2020 will be continued. Distribution systems will be needed in North Central Texas, the South High Plains, and the Trans-Pecos for irrigation water. The canal conveying water from a point near Lubbock to the Trans-Pecos will be a main artery of the system on the High Plains.

THE COASTAL Division will supply water for municipal and industrial uses, irrigation, bay and estuary augmentation, and wildlife refuge requirements from the Sabine River along the Gulf Coast to the Lower Rio Grande Valley. It is estimated that 4.8 million acre-feet of water annually will be required west and south of the Brazos River — 1.8 million acre-feet for irrigation, 433,100 acre-feet for municipal and industrial uses, 2.45 million for the bays and estuaries, 60,000 acre-feet for fish and wildlife, and 85,000 acre-feet replacement water to the Lower Colorado River — from the division by the year 2020.

Water supply for the Houston area can be met by several alternatives. This includes combinations of supply from the Trinity, San Jacinto, and Neches River basins, ground water, and water from the Coastal Canal.

Fresh water inflows needed for Galveston Bay, now estimated at 1.5 million acre-feet annually, may be revised by studies now underway. The needs of the Bay, however, can be supplied from the Trinity River surplus or the Coastal Canal. Other Gulf Coast bays and estuaries will be supplied from the canal.

CUERO, Cibolo and Goliad reservoirs and a pipeline conveyance system are part of the Coastal Division.

Through systems operation, San Antonio can be supplied from this source and the Guadalupe with 200,000 acre-feet of water annually to supplement available ground water from the Edwards Aquifer. Development of Cuero, Cibolo and Goliad reservoirs will allow early use of interim basin surpluses in the lower coastal areas.

Release of water out of Amistad Reservoir on the Rio Grande to the Winter Garden area will be down the river channel, then through canal and pump station across the divide to terminal regulating storage. Delivery point in the Winter Garden area will be determined by studies coordinated with local interests.

Water supplied from Amistad to irrigators in the Winter Garden and in Webb and Maverick counties will be replaced in the lower Rio Grande Valley by deliveries through the Coastal Canal.

THE EASTERN Division includes facilities required to move water imported from out-of-state sources to the Trans-Texas and Coastal divisions.

Points of entry of imported water into the Eastern Division will be determined by the results of studies by the Corps of Engineers, the Mississippi River Commission, and by the future water needs of Louisiana, which might also be served by works carrying water to Texas and for New Mexico.

Once an import of water from the Mississippi River has been assured through appropriate agreements and Congressional authorization and funding, maximum efficiency at minimum cost can be achieved by staging construction of storage, conveyance and distribution facilities over time as water needs increase.

THE Texas Water Development Board proposes to phase design and construct the Texas Water System in a sequential manner and proceed concurrently, beginning first with storage facilities in Southwest Texas and the Coastal Canal from the Lower Rio Grande Valley and build eastward as intrabasin demands and requirements of service areas absorb temporary water surpluses.

Construction of the Coastal Canal will continue progressively eastward from the Guadalupe River as rapidly as possible, to assure delivery of water from the east by the time interim surpluses are required for in-basin users and as additional supplies are needed as supplement to meet total water requirements within the basins and their service areas.

Concurrently, construction of storage and conveyance facilities in the Northeast Texas basins would begin. As construction of the Trans-Texas Canal to the High Plains is completed and construction begins on the Canal southward toward Pecos, construction should begin on the distribution system in the Trans-Pecos and on the pipeline to El Paso.

AT THE same time, construction of the conveyance facility to transport water from the Mississippi River to the Texas state line would begin for the timely delivery of water to the Texas Water System.

Water available as surplus from the Northeast Texas basins would move westward first, supplying the requirements in Fort Worth-Dallas area as needed. As facilities from the Mississippi River to Texas are completed, additional water for West Texas, plus water for New Mexico, would be moved through the Trans-Texas Division facilities as rapidly as municipal demands increase and as irrigation distribution facilities are constructed to serve the land.

WHEN THE Coastal Canal is completed east to the Sabine River, Mississippi River water can be brought into the Coastal Division to supplement intrabasin surplus water providing 2020 projected requirements in the area supplied by the Coastal Division. At this phase, the Texas Water System would be fully operational.

The Texas Water Plan will serve other purposes than supplying water for municipal, industrial and agricultural needs. Navigation, projects for flood control, hurricane protection, upstream watershed protection, drainage of wetlands, the alleviation of natural salinity and the control of phreatophytes are included in the long-range program.

The Water Development Board hopes to secure Congressional authorization of Cibolo, Cuero and Goliad projects by 1972, and authorization by the Congress of the Coastal Canal, the Eastern Division, and the Trans-Texas Canal by 1973, with appropriation of funds for these projects in 1974.

The timetable points to authorization of design and construction of the Interstate System beginning by 1977. These schedules must be met if the first delivery of water to areas of need is to be met not later than 1981.

THE BOARD also proposes to recommend to the Texas Legislature, convening this month that the state adopt a plan for financing the state's share of the costs of the Texas Water Plan, a joint local, state and federal partnership undertaking and to provide additional financial assistance to local political subdivisions for water supply projects.

The board will also request the amendment of the Texas Water Development Fund Act to eliminate the present provision for termination of the Texas Water Development Fund investments in 1982; the removal of present limitations on the total amount of the Water Development Fund ($400 million), and removal of the limitation on the permissible investment in a single project ($25 million). Removal of the limitation of 4 percent coupon interest rate for Water Development Fund bonds will also be sought.

The Board will have other recommendations to make to the legislature, but it feels that these are among the most important.

★ SQUARE DANCE TIPS By BILL HARMAN The new year has started off good for the Promenaders. Tuesday night 17 students showed up for lessons with the prospect of several others interested in taking square dance lessons. The lessons will be held open for a lesson or two for any late students.

The Promenaders are now dancing every Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Building in Dimmitt. The last dance was hosted by Wes and Helen Brown, and as usual, a nice table of refreshments was enjoyed by all. Raymond Crum won the door prize. The Promenaders enjoyed the fine calling of Sid Perkins who is the club's caller and teacher.

Now would be a good time for those who have square danced in the past to brush up and learn the new calls.

LEARN to square dance, be a Promenader! Remember, square dancing is fun!

State Survey Planned Here

A state survey team this summer will launch a complete, comprehensive survey of Dimmitt and its trade area to help the community evaluate its potential and attract new industry.

Dr. J. D. Blackburn, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said the survey will be conducted under the provisions of the Texas Employment Commission's Small Communities Program.

DR. BLACKBURN and other chamber and city officials have been pushing for the state survey for more than a year. Dr. Blackburn explained that the state program has only one survey team available, and that demands for its time are great.

The survey, expected to be completed by the end of the year, will take in all phases of the city's and area's economic structure, populations, income level, recreational and service facilities, the strength of its agricultural, industrial and retail trade volume, and its economic and geographical advantages and drawbacks.

STATE officials will work with local people after the survey to interpret the statistics and evaluate the state's potential, Dr. Blackburn said.

★ PHEASANTS Prove Plentiful, Wary Wildlife personnel of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department checked 354 hunters in five counties during the first two days of the pheasant season in the harvest, and examined their harvest of 245 birds.

IN DALLAM, Deaf Smith, Hartley, Moore and Sherman Counties, Project Leader Richard DeArment said these hunters, the only ones checked out of the many participating, spent 1,606 man-hours seeking pheasant, and fired 1,350 shells. Each hunter averaged almost five hours of hunting. Young birds outnumbered old ones by a ratio of about six young to four adults. "A MAN is known by the soil he keeps." —Anonymous "NO one can afford soil erosion." —Anonymous

GET 20% MORE WORKPOWER PER HOUR FROM YOUR DIESEL TRACTOR

The Algas Powermizer LP-Gas injection system adds LP-Gas vapor to the diesel airstream to boost horsepower up to 20%, yet costs less than half as much as a turbocharger. Saves fuel, reduces oil dilution, extends engine life! Speeds work and reduces farming costs.

Jerry Frelich, Milford, Ill., says "I've had a Powermizer on my John Deere 4020 nearly 3 years and it increased horsepower by 20%. Performance is excellent."

Powermizer can be installed — without alteration of original equipment — in less than 2 hours. Pre-set at the factory for your tractor model, the system requires no adjustment, can't fail to perform properly. LP-Gas injection begins at 200 rpm above idle, continues through full power, controlled by the original throttle action. Lets you do every job in one higher gear than with diesel alone... adds an extra hour of productivity for every five hours your tractor works.

Tom Montgomery, Princeton, Texas, says "The Powermizer on my 806 International convinced me in just 2 months, I'm adding it to my other tractors and I recommend it to my neighbors."

You can have a Powermizer system installed, complete with fuel tank, for approximately $285.
