HAVE NEW FURNITURE FOR THE COURTHOUSE

New Furniture Which Was Ordered for the Courthouse Has Recently Arrived and is Being Installed

THE COMMISSIONERS EXERCISED EXCELLENT JUDGMENT

For Past Many Years the Accomodations Have Been Very Meagre and This Fills a Long Felt Need

The new furniture ordered by the county commissioners has arrived and is this week being installed in the courthouse by Ed J. Neer, who sold the furniture to the commissioners. Mr. Neer is very proud of the way in which the furniture is showing up, and the Herald is quite sure that those of our citizens who are so fortunate—or perhaps we should say unfortunate—as to be drawn on the petit jury for the coming term will also fully appreciate the added comfort which will be in store for them. The bill consists of thirteen heavy swivel jury chairs, twelve chairs for members of the bar, a large counsel table, an elegant upholstered chair for the judge, and several desks and tables, all being of the very best oak material and beautifully finished in golden oak. The commissioners exercised excellent judgment in buying this furniture, getting only the best that the market affords and buying it at bottom prices. Quite a number of bids were received from various furniture companies, each of which seemed very anxious to sell the county, and the prices submitted ranged very high to a very low one—that is compared with the price at which such furniture usually sells. Mr. Neer was the lowest bidder and the contract was awarded him at a figure which was about two hundred dollars lower than the highest bid.

The installation of this furniture fills a long felt need. For many years past the accommodations in our court house have been very meagre, and especially have the benches upon which the jurors been compelled to sit been very uncomfortable. The grand jury at the last term of court very urgently recommend that the commissioners make an expenditure sufficient to furnish these better accommodations, since there was sufficient money on hand to do so without additional taxation and since the need for the same was very great. The commissioners were glad to be able to furnish the better accommodations, and were even then already considering the same, and consequently the matter was gone into without any delay, and we now have it all here ready for the coming term of court. And in addition to the furniture, the arrangement in the courtroom is being greatly changed, and this will add still more to the convenience. The judge's stand and the jury box are being moved from the west end of the courtroom to the east end, and the railing will be so placed as to give room inside the bar, and also so that the door of the jury consultation room will be within the bar and just at the west end of jury box. This arrangement will permit the juries to retire to their room without the necessity of passing down the aisle, as heretofore.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. B. Priddy returned Sunday from St. Louis and other Missouri points where they have been for the past two weeks buying the fall stock of dry goods for the Warren-Fooshee company. Mr. Priddy reports that the merchants from all points in the western states are buying light on account of the dry weather, except those from the irrigated sections.

W. I. Heath, demonstrator for the Ford Automobile company out of Denver, Colo., was in Portales this week on business. Mr. Heath says that the people here are just waking up to the fact that the Ford is the car for this country and that he is going to sell a large number of them in the valley this year.

Florence Love and wife, of Lovington, are business visitors in Portales this week. Mr. Love is the popular representative of the plains people of Eddy county in the New Mexico legislature. Since he is an old timer of this country, and has a large acquaintance, he has a number of friends in Portales who are glad to see him visit our city.

Al L. Lovett and A. S. Wilson, of Elmer, Oklahoma, arrived here yesterday and will look over the valley for a few days. These men are looking for a place where they can stock farm and put in a dairy, and we are frank to say that there is no better country under the canopy of heaven in which to establish such a business.

Oscar Thacker moved here from Kenna yesterday and expects to make this his future home. Mr. Thacker moved to Kenna from West Virginia about six months ago and during his time in that part of Chavis county, studied the situation thoroughly and became convinced that the Portales Valley was the most prosperous of them all.

Ed Gardner, formerly the deputy sheriff at Taiban but now with the secret service department of the Santa Fe system with headquarters at Belen, was a business visitor at Portales this week. Ed was accompanied by his father who was enroute to his home at Gainesville, Texas.

Miss Willie Mae Culberson left Sunday to teach in the Taiban school for the next nine months.

Mrs. Hill of Dexter was the guest of her niece, Mrs. Frank Hill Bramlett.
Mrs. Bill Bates of Clovis, visited this week with her brother, J. G. Tyson and family.

The above is a good likeness of Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, Texas. The Judge is one of the prominent figures in Texas and New Mexico. He recently delivered an able address here in the interest of our commercial club and the development of the Portales Valley and Roosevelt county. Judge Hamlin has given his dollar and says "count me a member of your commercial club and here's hoping for the greatest success ever."

Prayer for Free Schools

There will be held in this city on September 14th, one of most unique and interesting services incident to the opening of the public schools.

Rev. J. Rush Goodloe, of the M. E. church, south, will join with clergymen in all parts of the world in a prayer for all free schools. These prayers will be uttered in all the tongues of men almost simultaneously. Special sermons on the subject of religious and moral education will be preached. The aim is to have the Bible made a text book in all schools.

This world-wide service has been arranged by the National Reform association which has its headquarters in Pittsburg, Pa. It is part of the program mapped out at the great second world's Christian Citizenship Conference held at Portland, Ore., this summer.

Mrs. C. E. Hall of Altus, Okla., is visiting this week with friends and relatives in Portales. Mr. and Mrs. Hall were formerly residents of this place and from here moved to Elida, from which place they moved to Altus. They were residents in this county for about ten years. Mrs. Hall is the daughter of Uncle Ed Tyson, one of the old timers in New Mexico, and her husband is a brother of James A. Hall.

Carl Turner, a prosperous merchant of Redland, was a business visitor in Portales last Saturday. Carl comes quite often, since this is his railroad point, and he has many friends here who are always glad to welcome him.

Burl Johnson, deputy tax assessor, was in Elida the latter part of last week interviewing the various merchants of that place and incidentally collecting the annual occupation tax.

Mrs. Clay Trammell arrived here last week from California and will visit her parents and friends for a few weeks.

Quite a large number of the Portales fight fans were in Clovis last Monday night to see the Sweeney-Anaya fight. It is reported that this was one of the best bouts ever pulled off in the Magic city. The fight was for full ten rounds and resulted in a draw.

Cash Austin came down from Clovis Sunday and is once more edging 'em up down the alley at the Herald. He has been on the Journal staff at Clovis for the past seven weeks, but Cash was raised here and nature called him back to the land of the most promising.

Mrs. Coke Witt, sister of J. R. Darnell, returned to her home in El Reno, Okla., Tuesday, after a short visit with her mother, sister and brothers before their departure to Stephenville, Texas. Mrs. Witt came in response to a message that her father was ill but arrived a day after he had departed for the old homestead.

Miss Rachael Smith arrived here yesterday from La Lande to spend a few days with friends. She is on her way to Roswell where she will teach in the public schools this term.

Prof. Pryor B. Timmons, principal of the high school here for this term, arrived here the latter part of last week from Las Vegas and is ready for the opening of school which begins Monday.

Miss Annie Bell Scott, sister of Mrs. Porter Deen, arrived yesterday from her home in Dallas, Texas, and will visit here for the next three months.

Mrs. T. C. Leatherman, grandmother of J. R. Darnell, returned to her home in Stephenville, Texas, Tuesday, after visiting here for the past three months.

Lee Percifull, deputy sheriff of this county, was a visitor from Elida between trains Wednesday.

Misses Ouida Mundy and Mabel Rogers visited in Roswell last week.

FIRE BUGS EVENTUALLY BROUGHT INTO CUSTODY

One of The Most Mysterious Fires Which Occurred At Elida Last Year Has Been Brought to Light

POSSIBLY HARDEST CASE OFFICIALS EVER UNCOVERED

One Party Was Secured Without Requisition Papers While the Other One Was Some Trouble

Sheriff George C. Deen and his deputies, Lee Percifull of Elida, and B. B. Clayton of Portales, have just completed the hardest case that has engaged the attention of the sheriff's office in Roosevelt county for some years. An arson case is always one of the hardest kind of cases for an officer to get hold of, owing to the fact that there are generally no witnesses to tell the tale of the evil deed which is done in the midst of the night's darkness. But diligent work and continued persistence will often yield results such as have been accomplished in this case.

Orsborn had been returned without difficulty, having submitted to arrest in Colorado and having waived the formality of requisition papers. On the 19th, he was arraigned before Judge McClure of the district court upon an information filed by Assistant District Attorney Hall charging arson, to which information he plead guilty. He was sentenced to a term of two years in the state penitentiary at Santa Fe. Sheriff Deen was not so fortunate with Reither as Percifull had been with Orsborn, for Mr. Reither resisted being returned to New Mexico, and as a result of this resistance Mr. Deen had an extended trip in Iowa of several days and much experience in the difficulties that beset an officer when trying to return a defendant from another state, when that defendant does not want to be returned. Mr. Deen was arrested three times at the instance of Reither's attorneys, and each time was discharged immediately by the Justice of the Peace before whom he was arraigned, but finally after many trials and tribulations he safely landed the prisoner in the jail at Portales on the 31st, of August. Mr. Reither was arraigned before Judge Henderson Tuesday morning for preliminary hearing, which he waived and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury under a twenty-five hundred dollar bond.

On the night of the 6th, day of March, 1912, in the town of Elida, the residence of A. C. Reither together with its contents was destroyed by fire. Deputy Sheriff Percifull immediately went to work on the case, and later the entire sheriff's force was engaged in the task of uncovering the crime, or rather to ascertain if indeed the fire was of incendiary origin. The agents of the Saint Paul Fire and Marine Insurance company which had adjusted and paid the loss were also at work. As a result of this persistent effort C. W. Orsborn was on the 10th, day of August arrested in Pueblo, Colorado, and was returned to Portales by Deputy Percifull, and on the 16th, Sheriff George C. Deen left for Winterset, Iowa, to arrest and apprehend A. C. Reither, both being charged with the crime of arson—that is with having burned the dwelling house for the purpose of defrauding the insurance company of the money for which the house was insured.

Orsborn and Reither have each been citizens of Roosevelt county for a long time having resided at Elida for about eight years, and are well known in this section.

J. G. Tyson and family journeyed this week to the mountains for a vacation of a few days. They are making the trip in the new Ford car which Mr. Tyson recently purchased.

Miss Fern Foglesong left Saturday for Idaho Falls, Idaho, where she has accepted a position in the city schools. Miss Fern and her sister Miss Grace were teachers in the schools here the past term, and will be together in the schools this year.

Louie Kirby has moved his barber shop from the old stand near Strickland's grocery to the Reese building which was recently vacated by Braloy & Son.

J. P. Stone visited with the Masonic lodge at Melrose Saturday last week, paying that lodge an official visit as deputy grand master.

E. J. Bilberry, who lives on the rural route and is one of the best farmers of the Bethel vicinity, will leave in a few days on a trip to the eastern states.

A. A. Beeman, cashier of the First National Bank of Elida, was a business visitor the early part of the week. Mr. Beeman reports that business is good in the Elida country.

Misses Pearl Leach and Irene Smith will leave Friday for Albuquerque where they will enter the state university.

The Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church will have their annual Christmas bargains, also Thanksgiving dinner on Thanksgiving day.

Misses Mattie Doss Hightower and Fannie Williamson will return to Wichita Falls, Texas, to take up their third year work at St. Marys Academy.

Will Tubbs, an old timer from near the state line, was a business visitor in the county seat this week.

Chester Garret left Monday for Mesilla Park where he will enter the state agricultural and mechanical college.

Uncle Ed Tyson was in this week from the ranch.

N. F. Rockey of Elida was a business visitor between trains Tuesday.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

The society will hold a public meeting at the Baptist church, Sunday the 6th, at 3 p. m. At this meeting a full report of the years work will be given.

This society is for the purpose of taking care of the charity needs of the town in a business like way. It has proven that it has met the issue during the past year. That the merchants and others who have subscribed to the funds of this society and have reported cases that come to their notice have in each and every case had the attention of this society. The great difficulty in getting such an organization on a firm and working basis is that so many people in town will respond to any request either verbal or typewritten for aid, without looking into the merits of the case, and in that way hundreds of dollars have been paid out promiscuously in Portales without knowing whether it went for the purpose intended and in some cases as much as fifty dollars have been paid in to charity case which was over and above the amount required. This organization is for the purpose of investigating each and every case then a committee of seven of the business men is called who having the report of the investigating committee before it, decides upon the merits of the case; in many instances help has been given within two or three hours from the time the report was sent in.

One instance was of a man and son making their way west and depending on the people for aid, stopping at towns on the way. This society at once bought a ticket and sent the party on their way rather than have the town support them indefinitely. Another case was of little girls in the country, whose mother was dead and whose father was off on a drinking carousal, they had lived on watermelons for three days when discovered by the society. About $60.00 has been paid out and there is now in the treasury about $10.00.

Every citizen is asked to co-operate in this meeting and society. You are urgently requested to come out to the meeting and listen to the reports and also to let this organization know if you are being benefitted by less calls for aid, during the past year.

There has been printed a good many posters calling attention to the fact that all cases should be reported and it is desired that these posters remain or be placed in conspicuous places.

It is very detrimental to the efficiency of such society when private aid is given on petitions papers.

Kindly come out and let us talk this matter over in a business like way and get the charity of the town on an economical and business like bases.

There will be speakers and the entertainment in hearing the reports will be well worth your time if nothing more.

Phone 21

GOOD telephone service depends largely upon mutual courtesy. The telephone is more useful to those who talk as if face to face, for civility removes difficulties and facilitates the promptest possible connection.

As is other intercourse, it often happens that two or more people wish to talk with the same person at the same time. Without courtesy confusion is inevitable, and the confusion is greater when the people cannot see each other.

The operators must be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet patience and politeness on the part of the telephone users.

The Bell Telephone Service enters intimately into the social and business life of each individual. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy

BIBLE STUDY ON GOD'S TEN COMMANDS.
Exodus 20:1-11—Sept. 7.
"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind."
—Luke 10:27.

GOD'S Covenant with Israel at Mt. Sinai was that if they should keep the Decalogue—the Ten Commandments—they would thereby demonstrate that they were perfect men, worthy of everlasting life. Then it would be possible for them to obtain the chief blessing under the Abrahamic Covenant—to become the Spiritual Seed of Abraham, through whom God promised to bless the world.
Bible students look in amazement at the simplicity of the Decalogue, and at first wonder which of its features the Jews and others were unable to perform satisfactorily. The matter seems very simple, just as it did to the Jews, until we perceive that God's Law, represented in the Ten Commandments, has a depth of meaning that cannot be seen on the surface.
Apparently the full meaning of this Law was seen by none until Jesus "magnified the Law and made it honorable." He says that hatred toward a brother is incipient murder, and that adulterous desire in the heart is a violation of the Seventh Commandment. This throws a light on the whole matter, and explains why no one has been able to keep this Law, except Jesus, since Adam's fall.
The great Teacher also explains that the first table of the Law, appertaining to man's duties toward his Creator, means much more than merely to avoid image worship and fanaticism. It means that the true God shall have the first place in the human heart. Any division of heart, strength, mind or soul violates this commandment.
God's Original Law to Man.
God's Law to man was not originally given at Mt. Sinai. Indeed, the Mt. Sinai statement of the Law was given to the Jewish nation alone as the terms upon which they might become God's Royal Priesthood for the blessing of all nations.
God's original Law to man was given in Eden, written upon Adam's heart, in that he was created in the Divine image—with attributes of mind and heart fully in accord with his Creator. He loved righteousness, and would have hated sin, had there been any to hate. But up to that time there was none.
After Adam's fall, the work of degeneracy progressed so rapidly that Adam's first born son became a murderer. Doubtless the charge of Murderer Eve in the loss of Eden and in falling with the thorns and the thistles of the earth under the curse embittered her mind, arousing anger and resentment, which marked her child. From then till now the course has been generally downward, with occasionally a well-born child less seriously marked by sin—less depraved. Still the Scriptures inform us that "There is none righteous, no, not one."
Hope For the Future.
Mankind's experience for six thousand years forbid us to expect that any could commend himself to God upon the terms of human perfection, ability and willingness to keep the Divine Law. Jesus alone has kept that Law, and He became begotten miraculously. He was "holy, harmless, undivided, separate from sinners."
God refuses to grant everlasting life to any except the perfect who will keep His Law willingly and gladly. What hope then is there for our race? There is one hope for the world, and still another for the Church, instituted at Pentecost. The world's hope is in the Messianic Kingdom of 1000 years, whose rulers and judges will be God's Royal Priesthood—the glorified Church Head and Body.
God's Messianic Kingdom will depose Satan, blinding him for a thousand years. Especially the Iniquities of earth will be set aside and the rule of the "rod of iron" will begin. Everything opposed to righteousness will be dashed to pieces. Everything sinful will be discouraged by chastenings, and every thing righteous will be encouraged by blessings.
Under that administration, the world will again reach the condition of perfection from which Adam fell. All wilfully rebellious, all lovers of sin will have been cut off in the Second Death—"everlasting destruction."
The Church and the Law.
The Church of Christ is selected from amongst mankind, who were born in sin. The members are not under the Law of Sinai in the sense of being required to keep it perfectly in order to get eternal life. (Romans 6:14.) Nevertheless, the Law is very precious to the Church; for its spirit reveals to her how far short of perfection she is in the flesh, and to what extent the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ covers her fleshly imperfections. Thus, the Apostle declares: "The righteousness of the Law is not fulfilled in us, who walk not after the Spirit."

How to Kill Rabbits

Dean Collinsworth announces a system by which rabbits can be killed, after years of observation and experimentation, on his farm, two miles southwest of Macy, New Mexico, to the southwest of Portales.

Mr. Collinsworth uses a combination of salt and strychnine, the former as bait and the latter as poison, following being the mode of procedure.

Having determined that rabbits frequent one or more places especially rather than the field or pasture as a whole, he selects such frequented places for his operations.

Dying the month of May, which is the mating season, bucks will follow the does or females in numbers, even when the trail made by the latter may be one to three days old, thus causing congregating in unusual numbers and making the animals easy prey for the poisoner. Another fact aiding in the destruction of the rabbits is that in the early spring time, they have a great craving for salt, they eat it when mixed with dirt. Salt is mixed one part to four or five parts of dirt, and placed on large lid or some similar retainer, which is put at the spots most frequented by the rabbits. This "salty" earth he puts out about May 1, with no poison in it. This is discovered by the rabbits, and soon they are coming in from various sections of the prairies, females being among the numbers. The males follow the trail of the females in increasing numbers from day to day and from week to week.

About the first of June a solution of strychnine made by dissolving powdered strychnine in boiling water and adding syrup, this mixture being readily eaten by the rabbits, and they will die within twenty to fifty yards of where the poison is taken. For the protection of livestock a pen must be put around the poison dish, especially if within a pasture, as cows, horses, mules and even dogs also manifest a liking for salt that would lure them to their death at the fatal rabbit meeting place. This pen should be constructed strongly with a sufficient number of wires to turn aside all animals except the rabbits.

It is advised to gather the dead rabbits as soon after poisoning as possible, for two reasons. First, that other rabbits be not turned away from the salt licks, and second for the safety of livestock. The dead bodies are carried to some out of the way place and buried or buried. Mr. Collinsworth showed at one time a collection of 180 rabbit skeletons, gathered as the result of his efforts, and there is a strong probability that many others got to more remote points before overtaken by death. So far as he is able to determine, Mr. Collinsworth's fields and pastures are free from rabbits, as his crops and grasses are not injured by the rodents.

The State Fair

Albuquerque, Sept. 4th.—In addition to the list of premiums already published by the fair management. Superintendent John Rueb, of the Annual Poultry show, announces that 42 special prizes have been offered and the entries are coming from all parts of the country, California, as usual, sending a fine delegation of blue ribbon fancy birds to be viewed by the fair crowds.
The show this year is held under the auspices of the American Poultry association, with a licensed and experienced judge in the box. The trophies offered are unusually handsome and the management expects almost twice as many birds as last year, when a highly successful show was held. Growing interest in the great American hen in New Mexico is largely responsible for the growth of the annual poultry exhibition. The farmers are finding out that there is money in chickens and better money in better chickens and the gratifying prospects for this year's exhibition are significant of the progress of the industry in the state.

J. R. DARNELL BUSINESS MANAGER

The Herald is a booster for the county fair—are you?

If you can't put up your hammer, then use it—commit suicide. There is no room in a progressive community for the chronic knocker, and we are glad to say that such specimens of human degradation are scarce around this burg.

Let it not be forgotten that the county fair will be held in Portales on the second and third of October. This is for the people of the entire county and the Herald trusts that every nook and corner will be well represented with splendid exhibits.

The time is now here when the prospectors from the eastern states begin their journeys westward in search of new investments. Portales is the logical place for these people to locate. We have the land, the water, the climate and everything that goes to make a country—but we need development of our natural resources. A united effort upon the part of our citizens will produce the results that we desire, so let us all do our very best.

The Herald this week printed a large number of notices of the compulsory school law. This is one of the very best laws on the statutes of New Mexico, because it requires that all parents and guardians shall see that their children attend school each year, which means that the younger generations of our new state will grow into manhood as an educated people. This law has been quite well complied with heretofore in Roosevelt county, there having been but few prosecutions under it, and it is the intention of those in authority to see that it is strictly enforced during the coming year, and hence the notices which will be posted in every school district of the county.

It is with much pleasure we note the actions of County School Superintendent Culberson in strictly complying with the letter of the law in reference to the health certificate which must be furnished by all teachers before their contract is approved. This western country is a mecca for health seekers, and while the Herald sympathizes deeply with any one who is afflicted, yet we firmly believe that it is right that no person suffering with tuberculosis should be hemmed up in a school room with children who are but in the formative period of life. If the examining physicians will exercise the proper care, and no doubt they will, the health of the children will be afforded a great protection, while on the other hand much evil would surely be the result.

It is now but a few days until the public schools of the county will begin the fall term. Roosevelt county has always had, and always will have, some of the very best schools that can be found in the state—or in any other state as for that matter. There is no reason, however, why every one should not strive to make the standard of efficiency much higher than it already is. Too much education cannot be had although it frequently happens that 'a little learning is a dangerous thing.' Every patron should endeavor to uphold the hands of the teacher and of the board of education, and one of the best ways to do this is to see that the child is in school on the first day and that the attendance thereafter is regular. By all means assist the child to become more deeply interested in the cause of education.

Nothing on New Mexico

Denver business men believe in the potency of intellect publicity. They have arranged to spend five hundred dollars to advertise Colorado's climate and resources to the world. Where you have a good thing let the people know it. People who read and think are buyers. They know what they want and have the money to pay for it.—Roswell Morning News.

Advertising produces results which cannot be obtained otherwise, but Colorado does not have anything on New Mexico.

We Should Have a Cannery

The Dayton cannery is putting up a thousand cans of tomatoes an hour, working a force of eighty-one people. Such an industry is worth much to any town, and there is room for one or more at every center in the valley. With canneries and creameries at available points, something like the beginning of the possible may be attained.—Roswell Morning News.

The cannery proposition has been talked here more or less for the past two years, at least every since there has been means of irrigation here in the valley. It can clearly be seen there is money in this proposition and should by all means be one here for the various kinds of produce that is raised. Not only is this an ideal spot in which to grow tomatoes, but potatoes and in fact everything that is ordinarily placed in cans in the vegetable line. The above clipping is self explanatory as to the worth of a cannery in this valley.

Wilson's Mexico Policy

The people of the United States and of the world, judging from the comments of the European newspapers, are just coming to understand that the vital principle of the American policy in Mexico, is the establishment of legal title before a government is recognized as having proper status among the respectable nations.

This was the spirit of the Lind mission to Mexico, as well as of the previous repudiation of Ambassador Wilson's support of the Huerta rule. This policy entered into the thought of no other government before our assertion of it. Now it is accepted by a majority of the powers. American, European and the empire of Japan. Notwithstanding newspaper denials, it has come to be recognized in Mexico its self, where the foreign minister, Senor Gamboa in an official note to the United States, says: "Huerta never authorized" any one even to suspect that it was his ultimate intention to become a candidate for the presidency of the republic. By virtue of President Wilson's policy, General Huerta has been compelled to announce to the world through the foreign minister, that he will not be a candidate because of his solemn promise and the fact that the Mexican constitution does not permit it.

The position taken by the Washington administration and the acceptance of it by Mexico is a fundamental achievement. It lies back of the minor details of financial strength and ability to protect the lives and the property of foreigners. That fact was not perceived by the other powers until it was emphasized by the United States.

For Huerta to succeed, it was necessary for him to be able to suppress rebellion and to control local administration. To accomplish these two things he must have money.

Europe was ready to recognize him and to furnish loans. The refusal of the United States to extend recognition caused bankers to hesitate. So long as this nation would not recognize the Huerta regime, loans were not safe. Should the constitutionalists triumph, the loans might be repudiated and the European bankers left holding an empty sack.

When the foreign ministers asked this country to define its attitude the bigger principle of legal and moral title was put before the world above the details of protection to life and property. That has inspired all the subsequent negotiations.

The policy of the United States has not yet been imposed on Mexico, but the powers, one by one, have ranged themselves behind it, because they had to join the moral position of the United States. It is only a question of time now when it will prevail. No party in Mexico can resist the American policy when it has gained the support of the great powers of the world. It has the compulsion of a moral idea.

The policy looks less to intervention and consequent war to restore order than to the isolation of the Huerta government through the power of moral sentiment. All parties in Mexico have been held responsible to for protection of foreigners while disorders last. But the only way to assure permanency of order and government is to insist upon a legal government before political financial recognition, necessary to it, are given. That will be brought about, it is to be hoped, with only moral interference in the domestic affairs of Mexico.

The very nature of the plan excludes war, unless there should be wanton outrages committed against Americans which would necessitate a punitive expedition, directed against certain individuals rather than against the Mexican nation. This is the advantage over the European plan.

By the policy outlined at Washington—a policy that has astonished Europe—the end of bloody revolutions and usurpations in Central and South American countries is near at hand. No Castro or Cabara can flourish in the future. Now and then such men may succeed to power, but he will not be there long. President Wilson has injected a new thought into international law, and because it is based on right and justice, it is bound to become recognized by all civilized powers. Before the great powers will recognize any government in the future, it must have legal title capable of justification before the world.

The cream stations at Longs and Floyd, two of the most prominent county points are doing a splendid business. The reports from these stations are now showing a steady increase in business, which proves that the farmers patronizing the stations are realizing some profit on their venture and they are therefore becoming deeply interested in the dairying business. Each of these stations are now running around $150.00 per week. This means $1200 into the pockets of the farmers every four weeks just from these two stations, and in a years time it will aggregate the grand total of $15,600. The idea of the Herald has been to ascertain the approximate income of our county from this one product, but since we have been unable to get data from the two larger stations, Elida and Portales each of which ships it is estimated from three to four thousand dollars worth every month and also have failed on a number of the smaller ones, we have been unable to get any correct idea as to the importance of the cream proposition to our farmers. However, that which we have been able to secure demonstrates beyond any possibility of a doubt that the income of our county from dairy products totals an immense sum of money.

Cantaloupe Feast

On Thursday night of last week W. E. Brown, of the Gem Cantaloupe association, furnished the I. O. O. F. lodge with several nice crates of those well known Gem cantaloupes, which are as good as the best. Many thanks to Mr. Brown for the treat and success to the association which he represents.

Dr. Bailey has purchased a new Ford car lately.

Charley Toombs, United States commissioner at Nobe, was in our city Friday of last week and reports that crop conditions, while not so good as at some times in the past, are splendid. Charley says that as a matter of fact the crops of this year will really be worth much more than heretofore since a number of the farmers in the Nobe country have taken to the silo idea and that the greater part of the feed crop will be put up as ensilage. The Herald is mighty glad to see the Roosevelt county farmers adopting this modern method of crop protection as it means many dollars to the county, and the Nobe community is to be congratulated upon the fact that so many are demonstrating their progressiveness. This is the first community we have heard of in which the silo idea is being put into use so generally.

S. F. Moore the popular manager of the dry goods department of the C. V. Harris store, returned from Saint Louis and Kansas City where he purchased the largest stock of dry goods that this firm has ever brought to Portales. Mr. Moore also visited with his brother and relatives at other Missouri points. He reports that dry weather has hit that country mighty hard and that the farmers of New Mexico are in excellent condition as compared with the farms he saw on this trip, and that the hot weather in the states he traversed is something terrific. Mr. Moore states that he is more infatuated with the New Mexico climate than ever before.

Ad Saylor and Joe Beasley returned Tuesday from Camp Perry, Ohio, where they attended the national encampment of the state national guards. Of the five hundred and more who were there Ad Saylor ranked as the 71st, in marksmanship, which is an excellent rank when one considers that the entire encampment was made up of the crack shots from every company in the United States, each having been chosen in a competitive way from the guards of his own state. They state that they were seriously hampered by the atmosphere there as it was much more difficult to see the target at long distance than in this high altitude where fog does not darken the view of the target. Ad and Joe say that they had an excellent time, taking several side trips and seeing much country and many points of interest. They were not under strict military control as they were each furnished with cards giving the place and the hour when the shooting was to be and only had to answer roll call when time came to do the shooting. The New Mexico team of this year raised our standing two points over what it has formerly been.

Edwin Neer left Sunday for Mesilla Park where he will enroll with the New Mexico agricultural college.

A cream report from our old friend H. C. Scruggs of Tolar, shows that there was shipped from that place last week cream to the amount of $63.36. Mr. Scruggs states that the cream business during the month of August was not as good as for the several weeks preceding owing to the fact that the dry weather cut the grass crop. We are very sorry that the former report sent from Tolar was not received, as the showing would have been much better than this report shows that the few farmers around Tolar who are interested are getting results and if they will supplant the range cow with the dairy cow Tolar will soon feel the financial gain.

Mrs. C. E. Darnell, mother of J. R. Darnell, and children returned to their home in Stephenville, Texas, Tuesday of this week. Mr. Darnell with his family came here about three weeks ago, bringing with them a large bunch of Jersey cows with the intention of putting in a dairy near Nobe, but owing to the fact that Mr. Darnell was in bad health and the sudden change making him worse, he was forced, as he thought, to return to the Lone Star State.

Tom White of Roswell, one of the Chaves county commissioners, was in Portales Saturday enroute to the Yellow House ranch. Mr. White states that out of 2000 head of cattle in Chaves county he branded 1900 calves and that he expects even better returns than this at the Texas ranch. If a man will stop and figure just a little he can readily see that the returns at present prices are enormous.

The Herald last week printed some nice posters announcing the annual picnic at Richland which will be held on the fifth of this month. The editor really expected to attend this gathering, since he entertains a fond recollection of a former occasion of a similar nature, but an unexpected call to Roswell has so disarranged plans that the pleasure of this trip must be foregone. Those who are so fortunate as to be able to attend will be royally entertained.

Rev. Seba Kirkpatrick has returned from Elida where he was engaged for several days in a revival meeting.

At a regular meeting of the Roosevelt County Fair association held at the office of the association at Portales on the 25th of last month, at which meeting there were present, W. E. There was appropriated for the various committees to use in making awards for prizes the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars for agriculture, seventy-five dollars for horticulture, seventy-five dollars for arts and one hundred and fifty dollars for live stock, and the various committees were requested to meet and make up their respective premium lists as soon as possible so that great publicity may be given to the lists.

The entertainment program for the last half of the first day will be under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World.

Ed Wall of Elida, chairman of the county road board, is in town this week attending to official duties.
