We suggest that you examine the date on your paper and if behind with your subscription send in your renewal if you wish the Herald-Times to continue to come to you. You might take advantage of some of our clubbing offers if you like. These are for old and new subscribers. These clubbing offers are world beaters we think. Every business man knows that it is customery to If you get one of Kearn's new settle up on each first and it is the intention of this company to present it,s bills on or about the first of every month. We do this because that is the goods at Harris'. business way of doing things and and see things done in a business at Harris' way, and because we have obligations to meet on the first of each month and must have money to meet these obligations. But if conditions are such that you can not meet your obligations when these obligation fall due, just say so frankly and we will get along "gloriously."

The more we come to know the business men of Portales the better we appreciate them. They have their faults, the same as other mortals, but, take them up one side and down the other, and they are a mighty hard bunch to beat. There is room for improvement. This is true of every one. But, as a whole, they are alive to the best interests of Portales and Roosevelt county. When it comes to a show down, we believe the Portales merchants can be depended upon to do the square thing by every legitimate proposition.

We want to here and now express our hearty appreciation to the business men for the kindly and generous way in which they have received the "pesky bill collector" of the Herald Printing company this first. Every last hoof of ye have been just as 'sweet as pie" to the collector when your bill was presented. Thanks awfully gentlemen. You, perhaps, can never know how glad you have made the heart of the "unloved and unmourned bill collector."

The courteous manner in which the collector for the Herald Printing company has been received this first, and the generous way in which our business men have settled their accounts with us, is taken as evidence by ns that the business men of Portales appreciate the business-like way in which this concern is being conducted, and that they are getting value received for their money, and further that Portales merchants are just about the choicest bunch anywhere to be

RULE FOR PRUNING SHRUBS

Operation Should Be Performed After They Flower, Except in Case of Hydrangeas.

All flowering shrubs but hydrangeas should be pruned after they flower. Most people who spoil the flowering shrubs do so because they prune them as the wrong time of the year,

The expert gardener who really knows what he wants, and how to attain it, can prune at any time of the year, but for the inexperienced amaing the idea in the shortest terms, and in practice is the same as the rule flowering shrubs in the early summer, and the late flowering kinds, like the hydrangea, in the winter.

Pruning is done for three definite objects: First, to keep the bushes in proper shape; secondly, to keep them ture is sacrificed to the other two. The broad principle to observe is to remove all branches which have flowered. This causes other buds to push out and the new wood is made for the next crop of flowers. All dead wood course be removed in the ordinary course of events.

All the common or popular spring blooming shrubs flower from buds made on the shoots of the previous year; they have the buds all ready to develop as soon as there is sufficient warmth. By pruning as soon as flowering is done room is made for a full growth of the new shoot which will flower next season. These shoots are strengthened by this exposure to plenty of light and air, and are in every way better. Moreover, the amateur can see just what he is doing.

The expert horticulturist, who can tell the old wood from the new, will prune in winter or early spring, and be quite successful, and he will get a more profuse blooming.—Garden and Farm Almanac.

Three Out Of Many

Dr. C. R. Johnson, of Gainsville Texas, and one of the eminent practitioners of Texas, also one of the biggest land owners, in connection with his brother Carl and developers in the Portales Valley, writes when renewing his subscription to the Herald-Times: "Here is a check for another year as I want your valued paper to come weekly."

And here is another from Mr R. E. Johnson, of Manhatten Kansas: "As we have not been receiving our Portales Herald-Times I thought I would let you know as we miss it so much and look for it every week."

Mr Johnson had changed his address in Manhatten, hence his papers went astray.

And this from Mr. H. H. Beswick. "You may change my address from Fairfax Oklahoma to Newkirk. I think my subscription to your splendid paper is paid up until sometime in April, but I will enclose check for one dollar and you can extend it for another year.

Schuberts Complimented

Dalias Morning News, March 4 1909.-A meritorious program, excelent as to selection and pleasing as to rendition, was given last night at Bush Temple, where the Schubert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette appeared under the auspices of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church. A crowd of good size was present.

The program was comprehensive, embracing vocal and instrumental music, and readings selected competently. The audience manifested especially its appreciation of the Quartette members.

Henry G. Coors, assistant district federal attorney of Albuquerque, passed through Portales Tuesday on his return home from Roswell where he had been attending a session of the Federal Court. He said to the Herald-Times man: "This is a great valley of yours. With your central irrigation plant it ought to develop rapidly. I have just been over in the Mimbres Valley around Deming. That is fine, but actually I wouldn't give one acre of your land for three there. It is much deeper to water there and the cost of preparing that land is enormous as compared to the cost in this valley."

The Farmers Produce Associstion met at the Plainview School house Saturday night February Praises The Portales Valley 7. After quite an interesting program they went into a business session and the following officers were elected: H. L. Capps president, B. U. Victor, vice president, Arthur Littlejohn, Secretary-treasurer, and Walter Carter assistant secretary. After which they adjourned to meet again Saturday night Feb. 21. Everything pretty quite around here. Farmers all about done listing their land. Burning tumbling weeds and rabbit hunting is the order of the day. There is to be a big rabbit hunt pulled off in this section Thursday. Carter neighborhood is pitted against the Plaiview neighborhood.-Correspondent.
