BUCHANAN BROTHER'S FARM

Keep Cattle and Hogs to Consume Feed Crop at Home

TO BUILD LARGE SILO SOON

Orchard Has Made Remarkable Growth and Crop Looks Good

The Buchanan Brothers farm two miles west of town, owned by William and Harry Buchanan is one of the show places of the valley. Two years ago they traded for this place on which practically nothing had been done and began to improve it and now they have one of the most beautiful and desirable places to be found here.

These young men give their undivided attention to their work and Harry acquired his agricultural training at the Texas A. and M. College.

One of the first things to attract the eye is the orchard which covers 14 acres and is in rows different ways. It consists of 800 apple trees, 75 peach trees, a like number of plum and pear trees and 150 cherry trees, which were planted last spring and have made a remarkable growth. On the south side of the orchard is a vineyard consisting of 300 grape vines.

On this farm they realize that there is money in hogs and alfalfa. Commencing a year ago with two Duroc Jersey brood sows their increase now number 74 head. A dipping vat has been provided on the farm and the hogs are dipped to keep them in good condition. An alfalfa patch consisting of three and one-half acres has been fenced for a hog pasture.

The cattle proposition is not being overlooked for they own five milk cows and 50 fine Hereford heifers, imported from Texas, which are coming two-year-olds and will bring calves next spring. The idea is not to sell feed but to keep plenty of stock and hogs and consume it at home.

We find eight acres of corn, 25 acres of maize and feterita, and 15 acres of kafir corn which can be irrigated if necessary but at this time it could not look better and the prospects are that irrigation will be unnecessary. Next month a silo of 200 tons capacity will be built to keep part of this immense feed crop in good shape for winter feeding.

Most of orchard is planted in truck. Here is four acres in cantaloupes, two acres in sweet potatoes, one-half acre in Denis onions also strawberries, blackberries and many other things one would expect to find in a first class garden.

The chickens on this farm, the rose combed White Leghorns, are the finest of their kind in the valley, 270 of which have been hatched this year. Incubators are used exclusively for hatching purposes and chicks hatched in February are now laying, this being the earliest they can be hatched and still not molt this year.

The former owner used a gasoline engine for pumping water but a 15 h. p. electric motor has

COMPANY M RETURNS

Boys Are Well Pleased and Make Credible Showing at Encampment

GOVERNOR PRAISES THE MILITIA

Home Company Takes Prize For the Best Field Shooting

Company M returned Wednesday afternoon from the encampment at Deming and the boys report an enjoyable time. They learned more under the regular army drill master in 12 days than they would have in so many months at home.

Capt. Molinari expressed himself as being well pleased with the conduct of the boys and the showing they made. The $50.00 prize money is to be used to install a gymnasium in the armory.

A bill has been drafted by the National Association of National Guards to pay the men for every drill; this with the army bill now before congress, will give them ample pay for their services.

"Both in number of militia men in uniform and in the character of work being done, the present state encampment of the National Guard at Camp Brooks near Deming is the most successful in the record of the New Mexico militia."

This was the comprehensive statement of Governor Wm. C. McDonald who was in the city for an hour this morning returning from Deming to Santa Fe after a day at Camp Brooks, where a special program was given in his honor.—Albuquerque Herald

Deming, N. M., July 20.—Company M of Portales, with 42 per cent, won the first prize of fifty dollars for the best score in field firing. Company K of Clovis with 32 per cent, taking second place.

May-Anderson

The Herald-Times has received the announcement of the marriage of James L. May and Miss Lola Anderson. They were quietly married Sunday morning by Rev. O. W. Carter, and left immediately for Roswell on their honeymoon. Both are prominent socially and the bride is a former teacher in the Portales school. They will be at home after August 1 in Portales. The Herald-Times extends congratulations.

since been added and either can be used. The motor requires no attention whereas the engine requires practically the time of one man when running. The well is getting stronger all the time and the water stands at 19 feet which is two feet higher than one year ago.

A visit to this farm inspires one with the possibilities of this valley and shows what is being done and what can be done. Success will surely come to those who try.

DEMONSTRATE MACHINERY

Good Roads Meeting at Santa Fe to be Great Event

RAILROADS GRANT REDUCED FARES

Exhibition Trot Between Fastest Horses in the State

Santa Fe, N. M., July 1914.

It is very likely that the annual meeting of the Good Roads Association will be featured by a display of modern road making machinery. President Francis E. Lester of the State Highways officials association has requested about twenty of the prominent manufacturers of road making machinery to send exhibits to the annual meeting of his organization, an event which takes place the second day of the meeting, and some promising replies have been received.

Those manufacturers who do not care to send exhibits are being urged to send representatives to discuss road building with the members of the Association, as this organization comprises all the possible buyers of road machinery in New Mexico. It is likely that the requests will be acceded to.

A number of prominent railroad officials will attend the coming meeting of the Good Roads Association. A hearty response having been received to invitations sent out to them a few days ago. It is yet too early for all the replies to be in but among those who have promised to attend if nothing unforeseen arises before the date of the meeting are C. H. Bristol, General Superintendent, and Fred C. Fox, Gen'l Mngr., both of the Santa Fe system. Prominent officials of all the other systems having lines in New Mexico have been asked to attend the meeting.

J. J. Byrne, the Santa Fe coast lines passenger traffic agent, has notified the Good Roads headquarters here that a rate of one and a third fares for the good roads convention. The tickets on this occasion will be on sale July 29, 30 and 31, and will be good returning until August 2d. This gives a rate of a fare and a third on all parts of the Santa Fe system.

Work has been commenced in putting the Federal Building oval in proper condition for the Gasoline Gymkhana, which will be a feature of the second day's events at the coming Good Roads meeting.

The city authorities are at work dragging this road and cutting down all obstructions so that it will be practically a model race track by the date of the meeting.

A pony race and an exhibition trot between two of the fastest horses in the state have been arranged as an added attraction for this gymkhana, and are attracting a good deal of attention.

All the cups and prizes for this series of events have been ordered and will be here within a short time. When they arrive they will be placed on exhibition in some local window.

PROSPERITY AT FLOYD

Number of Cattle Has Increased Four Times in Two Years

STOCK FARMERS SELLING CREAM

Everybody Has Some Money and Credit is Thing of the Past

There is no place in the country where the benefits derived from stock farming and the selling of cream have been greater than in the Floyd community.

Experience has taught the people of this community that farming without the raising of stock in addition, could not be carried on successfully.

This part of the country was settled for the most part, with a man on every quarter, which left room for very few stock, but this condition did not long survive.

The writer was acquainted in a business way with these people when they were practically without stock and can appreciate the change.

Two years ago J. P. Nash the merchant and postmaster began to buy and ship cream. The first month he shipped ten cans, now he ships about 125 cans per month which averages about $5.50 per can. Now just think of it, a merchant in a country store paying out to his customers practically $700. per month for cream.

His business has grown in such proportions that the store building is too small to carry sufficient stock to meet the requirements of the trade and must be enlarged. He is the largest buyer of cream in the county outside of Portales and Elida.

There are now four times as many cattle in this section as there were two years ago and they are of a much higher grade. Under the old condition a range cow that would raise a good calf was all that was desired but now she must not only be able to produce a good calf but she must have the milking qualities as well.

The farmers of this section raise feed, and they have fine crops this year, but they do not raise it to sell. They have found out that there is more money to be made feeding it to stock and hogs than in selling it.

Truly there is an era of prosperity in this community; they are making money and have it to spend. Credit is a thing of the past. It is derived for the most part from the selling of cream and calves. Everybody has some hogs which are fed now on separated milk and most of them will have a few to sell.

A visit to Floyd on cream days shows what a wonderful change has taken place.

INDEPENDENT STOCK FARMER

Mit Price Has One of the Finest Herds in the County

COMMENCED WITH SMALL CAPITAL

Farsighted Man Who Early Saw Money in Stock Farming

One of our stock farmers who came here a few years ago with limited means and is now independent is Mit Price, of the Benson community. He is a far sighted man who caught the idea early that the dry land farmer here must raise some stock to be successful. Starting with a small bunch it has developed into one of the finest herds in the country. The steer calves are sold each year and this year's crop is already contracted for fall delivery.

Mr. Price filed on a quarter section, bought another and now has under his control a pasture of almost eight sections. The grass in this pasture is fine, being knee high in many places and sufficient to maintain a herd much larger than the present one but the owner is conservative and prefers to enlarge his herd with the increase.

We find here 75 acres under cultivation and at this time could not look better. Plenty of feed is raised for home use, sufficient to feed the cattle at times when they require it.

These cattle are of the short horn Durham breed and are better milk producers than the average range cow. The best of these are milked and enough cream is sold to provide for the household.

A beautiful grove and orchard surround the ranch house and its appearance is otherwise attractive showing that the owner is an untiring worker. He is ably assisted by his good wife who looks after the garden and who has a fine flock of Wyandotte chickens.

Exposition Exhibit

A. A. Rogers has received a letter from the New Mexico board of exposition managers for the Panama-California exposition regarding the Mens Auxilliary commission formulating a plan to get moving pictures of the county also photographs for the purpose of making colored lantern slides. It is up to this commission to see that Roosevelt county is properly represented at the exposition so that we may get value received for the money that has been appropriated. The county commissioners at their last meeting appropriated $500. and may appropriate a like amount later.

In pursuance of the above the Mens Auxilliary commission will meet at Portales Saturday Aug. 1st. All members are earnestly requested to be present. By order of Dr. R. H. Bailey, Secretary.

Miss Magdaline Humphrey, of Clovis, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. C. O. Leach, returned home Wednesday.

SUCCESSFUL STOCK FARMER

S. F. Lane Has Ranch of Three Sections and Farms Sixty Five Acres

RAISES SHORT HORN DURHAMS

Attractive Ranch House and Fine Garden Also Nice Bunch of Chickens

In the Floyd community S. F. Lane is one of the many successful stock farmers. Having been in the cow business nearly all his life, he pays more attention to raising good calves to sell than to the cream. He is in the cream business however on a small scale.

The Lane ranch consists of about three sections of fine land about 65 acres of which are under cultivation. Mr. Lane's crop is in fine shape, but he farms only to produce enough feed to winter the stock.

The herd consists of graded short horn Durhams. The steer calves are sold each year and nothing but the best are kept; in this way the herd is being improved.

In this vicinity is some of the best grass land in Roosevelt county and in many places is more than knee high, keeping the cattle fat and in fine shape.

The ranch house and its surroundings are very attractive. Surrounding the tank are tall cottonwoods more than a foot in diameter. The garden which can be irrigated contains vegetables enough to supply several families. In the chicken yard is a fine flock of Rhode Island Reds. Mrs. Lane has raised some 400 of these this year which shows the possibilities of chicken raising in this country.

We expect to follow this and tell more of successful stock farming and show that we have the best opportunities and natural advantages for this business of any place in the great south west.

Guarding Our Rural Maids

A movement is on foot among club women of the United States to have railroads trains supplied with chaperones, whose duties will be to safeguard our rural maids and youthful matrons from the attentions and blandishments of strange men while traveling alone.

The move is a wise one and should be fostered and encouraged. It is indeed a good move and we are for it.

And we bow down in gratitude to these noble and high minded club women for their serious attitude toward our winsome country lassies.

But there is seldom an ointment without its fly.

From a casual reading of the movement as exploited in the daily press it would appear that young women from the country are the only ones who are sufficiently unsophisticated as to be unable to care for themselves while separated from the maternal arms, while the wisdom of the city bred girl makes her immune from insult.

Or at least that appears to be the opinion of the wise one of cloddom.

Now in order that we may not be outdone in generosity, and that our puritanism may shed its rays afar, we humbly suggest that our good women of the country inaugurate a movement for the protection of young girls of the city from the polished human vampires who make a practice of preying upon young innocence abroad.

Surely our sisters of the city are worthy of some measure of protection, though it may be.

There's a Remedy

How many merchants who see their business gradually slipping away from them realize the underlying cause of this condition of affairs?

Of course there may be a number of reasons, but generally the principal one is that the people are losing interest because they never see the merchant's advertisements in print.

The business man who never advertises can hardly expect to successfully compete with the one who makes his advertising an important feature of his business.

Advertising of the right kind will always bring results, and the busy public reads the advertisements of a live paper as religiously as it does the news columns.

The readers of this paper want to know something of the wares the merchants of this town have for sale. If your ad is missing they will probably turn to the other fellow—the man that goes after business, and gets it.

Is Relief In Sight?

Is something of practical benefit to country people about to come out of Washington, or is it another pipe dream? Congress is taking up the matter of good roads and a bill has been practically agreed upon which provides for the raising of a highway fund for the issue of 3 per cent government bonds.

This money is to be loaned to the states, which are to deposit in the United States treasury their own bonds bearing 4 per cent interest as security. The states would use the money thus obtained in the building of better roads throughout the country.

If there is anything on earth that is needed in this country it is better roads. Our public highways are a disgrace to civilization. They are the worst of any on earth that makes any pretensions to advancement.

Congress has legislated for years in behalf of almost every one it could think, except the man from the country. Billions of the public money has been spent and millions of that have been more or less a useless extravagance. The pork barrel has always been open to the politicians.

If they afford us the means of obtaining better country roads we will cheerfully accord them the credit of earning at least a portion of their salaries.

It is quite time for the man from the country to have his opinion.

HOW TO GET STRENGTH

After any sickness is purely a matter of nourishment, whether the attack was an ordinary cold or severe illness; the weakened forces cannot repulse disease germs, and this is why a relapse is so often fatal or why chronic weakness often follows sickness.

Restoring strength to millions of people for forty years has proven the real need for taking Scott's Emulsion after any sickness; nothing equals it—nothing compares with it. Its pure, medicinal nourishment, free from alcohol or opiates, promptly creates rich blood, strengthens the nerves and lungs to avert tuberculosis.

Dr. D. D. Swearingin, of the firm of Presley and Swearingin, eye ear and nose specialists of Roswell, New Mexico will be in Portales, at Neer's Drug Store 20-21-22 of each month.

Homesteaders May Marry

A circular recently sent out by the Land Office contains the glad tidings to many lone bachelors and maids that are now living alone on their homesteads, and no doubt will affect many marriages that have not been consummated on the account of each of the parties holding down a claim.

This circular is to the effect that the marriage of a homestead entryman to a homestead entrywoman, after each shall have fulfilled the requirements of the law for one year next preceding such marriage shall not impair the right of either to a patent but the husband shall elect, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior, on which of the two entries the home shall thereafter be made, and residence thereon by the husband and wife shall constitute a compliance with the residence requirements upon such entry. Provided, that the provisions hereof shall apply to existing entries. The local officers will make due notation of the election of the husband, and forward such notice of election to the general land office. It is further provided, though the election be accepted, proofs on the entries will be necessary to show residence on the selected homestead from approximately the date of the selection, and on the entries of the respective parties before said. The act makes no change whatever in the requirements as to cultivation and compliance with the homestead law in this regard must be shown as to each entry, precisely as though marriage had not taken place. If proof is made on the entry selected as the home before title to the other is earned residence may nevertheless be continued on the perfected entry and credited to the other. However, this act has no application to cases where the requirements of law have been fulfilled as to one entry prior to the marriage or to the filing of the election.—Willard Record.

DISAPPEARANCE OF HUMAN LIFE

At the American Academy of Medicine, at South Bethlehem, Professor White of the University of Pittsburgh said "I confess it seems to me the human race will gradually extinguish itself." This is in direct conflict with late statistics to the effect that the length of life is increasing, owing to people obeying the laws of health more than ever before, says the Ohio State Journal. They are better prepared to fight the elements and disease. Every advance in everyday life presents new forms of disease, and new kinds of remedies for their cure. But still out of a hundred people born a hundred people die, and yet the increase of population goes on because there is an extra one born now and then. No doubt, finally, the human race will disappear from the planet, perhaps in a million years or less. What appeared in 100,000 years is likely to disappear in a million, not on account of indifference to pure food, pure air and the divers conditions of health, but for comical reasons. Terrestrial conditions will change, much like conditions on the moon where no doubt, something akin to human life once existed, or on Venus, which was one time, no doubt, the abode of some kind of mankind. But the earth is sure to be a reminiscence like its two lovely neighbors in the skies, Venus and the moon.

NATIONS OF FAR EAST TO EXHIBIT IN 1915.

The commission sent by the United States government to the nations of the far east to request their participation in the Panama Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco next year returned to New York May 12, bringing news that eight of those governments will be represented.

The commissioners, including ex-Governor Alva Adams of Colorado, Thomas G. Stalksmith, chief of the agricultural department of the Exposition, and Weston Stalksmith, secretary, gave out the following list of countries, with the appropriations made by each:

China	2,000,000
Philippine Islands	500,000
Japan	500,000
Australia	500,000
Siam	500,000
Dutch East Indies	500,000
New Zealand	500,000
Cochin China	500,000

This brings the total number of foreign countries which have decided to participate officially up to thirty-six, Austria being the latest to swing into line, with an appropriation of $200,000, half of which is contributed by commercial organizations.

Splendors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Forecasted In Marvels of Art and Architecture

GREATEST AND MOST BRILLIANT OF WORLD'S EXPOSITIONS WILL BE COMPLETED TO LAST DETAIL ON OPENING DAY.

PANORAMA of about one-fourth of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, showing nine of the great exhibit palaces which are now within 5 per cent of being complete, lacking only the towers, arches and festival courts. Each of these palaces covers from five to nine acres. The setting in a series of subtropical gardens, extending for two and one-half miles along the San Francisco bay front adjacent to the Golden Gate, is the most beautiful and inspiring ever given an exposition. The recent space in the center will contain the wonderful ten acre Court of the Universe, dominated by the scintillating Tower of Jewels, 435 feet high. To the right, not shown in the picture, is the commission area, named "El Camino" (The Highway), while to the left, outside the picture, are foreign and state buildings, fire stock pavilions, race track, military and aviation fields and Palace of Fine Arts.

This photograph was taken in May.
