PROMINENT EDUCATOR HERE

Prof. Enloe, President Silver City Normal Addresses Students Here

MUCH APPRECIATED BY TEACHERS

Talks On Live Subjects Along Educational Lines

Prof. E. L. Enloe, president of the Silver City Normal school was here visiting the Roosevelt County Institute last week. He spoke to the teaching body for about thirty minutes. Mr. Enloe is a man who is giving his work for the benefit of the teachers, schools and help the development of our state.

His remarks were greatly appreciated by the teachers who were made to feel the great sympathy he had for them also to feel that he was anxious to help them in their work. Among the things discussed was the great progress made by the Roosevelt county schools under the direction of our able and efficient county superintendent, Mrs. S. F. Culberson.

He passed a compliment to the people of Portales for voting bonds in preparation for the erection of new school buildings. He then took up the questions that were of interest to the teachers in regard to the new laws and also new rulings of the State Board of Education.

He gave an interesting and very instructive lecture on the best method to proceed with the work in the school room. He demonstrated that he was conducting an institution that was doing its best for the teachers of the state. The normal students appreciated his work and efforts very much. They hope that he may be able to be with them this winter at some of their meetings.

The Silver City Normal school is doing a great work in helping students of moderate means get an education. Each year they make arrangements for a limited number of young men and women to work and help pay their way through school. If you are interested write Prof. Enloe at Silver City and he will gladly explain the proposition to you.

"Hard to Beat" Says White

Alvan N. White, state school superintendent, on his return to day from a whirlwind tour of several institutes declared that he felt much encouraged over the enthusiasm manifested and the efforts to carry out the slogan "Better Teachers in New Mexico Schools."

"I found 138 teachers attending the institute at Portales," he continued, "and for a range of activities that town is hard to beat. They are teaching physical culture, folk dancing, manual training, shop work, domestic science and other branches. Mrs. Culberson, the Roosevelt county superintendent, is to be congratulated. I also found strong institutes at Clovis and at Mountainair, 51 attending the former and 50 the latter.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

John Chensault and wife of Clovis, Texas, arrived the first of the week to visit Mrs. Chensault's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Smith.

LAST WEEK OF THE NORMAL

Roosevelt County Normal Favorably Known Over State

MOST SUCCESSFUL IN HISTORY

People of Portales Always Glad To Welcome Splendid Body

The last of this week will bring to a close the most successful and largely attended normal institutes in the history of Roosevelt county. This institute has been attended by about 135 students who have been hard at work making the best of their opportunities and trying hard to better equip themselves to be better able and more capable in their chosen line of work.

The people of Portales are always glad to welcome these students to our town because they comprise some of the best people of this and surrounding counties. The very successful normal institute which is held each year by our very capable county superintendent Mrs. S. F. Culberson is one of which we are all proud for it is well and favorably known over the state.

The business people and others of Portales are not unappreciative of the money spent by students while here. While most of them are rather conservative spenders still when you think of more than one hundred students from out of town most of whom were here for a month it can be readily seen that they must have spent considerable money here which they would not have otherwise.

Can You Beat It?

Bob Wood, one of our stock farmers west of town has a Hereford heifer which was two years old last March, which is the mother of two fine steer calves, the first of which was born when the mother was but seventeen months old. One of the big cowmen of the county was passing that way recently and offered Mr. Wood the handsome price of seventy dollars for the two young steers but was refused.

This young heifer will bring another calf next spring which is expected to be equally as good as the others, about the time she is three years old. This most extraordinary heifer was raised by Mr. Wood and was the calf of the family milch cow, so he is positive about her age.

Bob Wood is one of the pioneers and old time cowmen of this county and always keeps a nice herd of Herefords which are money makers for him.

Slaughter Dies

Geo. M. Slaughter, of Roswell, died at his ranch near Littlefield, Texas, suddenly last Thursday afternoon, of apoplexy. The deceased was well known in Portales, where he had many friends especially among the old timers.

The remains passed through here about noon Saturday on a special train to Roswell where the funeral was held Saturday afternoon. The deceased was a Free Mason of high degree and was buried with full Masonic honors.

MILCH COW FIRST LINK TURNING CREAM TO CASH

Creamery Must Be Built Here For the Producer To Derive Revenue Due Him For His Work

TIME TO BUILD A CREAMERY HERE AND KEEP THE PROFIT AT HOME

Local Creamery Will Be Surrounded By All Possible Safeguards Used In Older States. Must Start With Cash Working Capital

[By A. A. Rogers]

No success is achieved without effort, excepting of course that individual fortunate or unfortunate who may be born rich. He can't help it. No one is going to thrust a creamery on this community, neither is anyone going to volunteer to operate a creamery alone.

To win success in a new country requires good red blood, the "I will" of a people who will not take defeat. That is what has kept you farmers on these farms despite drouth, insect and fickle nature. You have learned to fight intelligently and how to succeed. And you know now that it is the milch cow as much as the production of meat that will make this a good country to live in. The milch cow will bring in a little real cash every week. But when you get your milch cow producing, then again the insect appears and starts robbing you of your profit. This time guised in human form he deliberately sets in the game and deliberately lowers the price of butter fat (TO YOU) that he might reap the richer reward himself. It has even been hinted that some are in the business profitably, doing nothing but buying and selling butter fat. Buying it from you farmers at 18 cents and selling it at 26 cents, to the distant creamery. You do not produce enough to enable you to find a market direct, and you are up for the tender picking.

A parasite is an insect or plant which gains a livelihood by robbing the life juices from the plants or insects. It does no production work, it does not sow, but reaps where the other has sown. HOW LONG ARE YOU PATIENT PEOPLE GOING TO STAND FOR THIS SORT OF THING?

The milch cow is but the first link in the turning of feed into money, the other link is the creamery. The butter fat must be converted into butter before it can be converted into money. When converting your butter fat into butter the creamery makes an over run of from 23 to 25 per cent. That means the creamery makes from 123 to 125 pounds of butter from every 100 pounds of butter fat you sell to the creamery. How long are you patient people going to quietly hand the outsider (a company who spends not one cent in your county outside of minimum purchases) this nice 25 percent profit? Aren't you about ready to take this profit unto yourselves? Haven't you just as much brains as the average farmers in Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and elsewhere? If these farmers can and do build creameries and successfully run them for 15 to 20 years, can't you?

Now stop and think. Get the fact that the creamery also makes another handsome profit, that you patient farmers are so regularly shipping to them—the buttermilk. This buttermilk is very valuable as feed, particularly for hogs, worth from 30 to 40¢ per hundred pounds. The creamery makes this profit in addition to the 23 to 25 percent over run. Shall it be YOUR own creamery and YOUR own profits, or the creamery of the man who has sweat not one drop of blood; who has cultivated not one acre of land in this county the man who has helped you not one cent. —The man who is taking your profits. Are you among those who say "we can't run a creamery?" Are you really willing to sit down and let the parasite eat you up? Certainly not!

You want to know that when this creamery is built it may be operated honestly and on strict business lines. We people of Roosevelt county who had the nerve to tackle this new country and carve success out of her plains, have the nerve and ability to make a creamery successful.

We will surround this creamery with all the safeguards we can find which had to be used in the older states. The United States Government through various precautions under the anti-discrimination acts has paved the way and shown the means whereby we can protect ourselves against the high bidder. No more raising the price locally to break the local creamery. That don't go. As to a local parasite you folks in spite of all your patience can't stand for it much longer. Now what is holding you back? Your creamery must start with all machinery paid for in cash. It must start with a good cash working capital on hand. It must start with every man a booster and every man milking as a stockholder. No one man can see every man. This is your creamery, to be built for your benefit, to conserve your profits, and now you get your coat off and get just one neighbor into the harness pulling with you. The more the patrons the stronger the creamery organization. Realize that this creamery, your creamery, shall be a big, healthy, strong financial institution, and get behind it and make it what it should be.

There should be an ice plant built in conjunction with the creamery. Enough ice is being sold in Portales alone each year to pay 25 to 30 per cent dividends on $3,000 invested in an ice plant. It should be built in conjunction with the creamery. The same building, the same labor, the same fixed charge will do for both. That means cheap ice, a well cooled creamery. The citizens of the town should be interested in this ice plant. It is to their interest and they should raise the money to build this department.

SUCCESS RAISING TURKEYS

Banks Continue To Boost Raising of All Kinds of Live Stock

MONEY IN RAISING POULTRY HERE

Small Capital and Plenty of Energy All That Is Needed

For some time the Portales banks, the First National and the Portales Bank and Trust Co., have been boosting the raising of live stock of all kinds. Even poultry has been included in the circulars which they have been sending out from time to time to their customers.

W. O. Oldham became personally interested in Ralph Jackson, a boy about twelve years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jackson who live west of town, and asked him to give him a statement of his experience raising turkeys last year. There are many boys in this county who have opportunities just as good as Ralph if they would only take advantage of them. The following is the boy's letter to Mr. Oldham:

Portales, N. M., July 6, 1915.
Dear Mr. Oldham:

You asked for a statement of my experience in turkey raising last year. I had one pair of turkeys that I had raised the year before, got one of Mr. Neer with the promise to give him two young turkeys for her in the fall and bought two for $8.15.

I lost four settings of eggs in that flood and hail storm we had in May. A coyote took my best hen off the nest while she was setting. In the fall I had 44 young turkeys. I sold 36 for $80.

Very respectfully,
J. Ralph Jackson.

The following is Mr. Oldham's reply to the above:
Mr. Ralph Jackson, City.

Dear Ralph: I have your letter giving your experience with turkeys, and I must say you have done well, much better than a great many grown people have done in the turkey business, and it only shows what can be done when people will try. The matter of making something depends upon common sense and plenty of energy, and you have demonstrated what can be done with turkeys on a small scale. Now, if you had had a dozen grown turkeys to start with, I wonder what the result might have been.

When you are in town sometime, drop in. I want to talk with you a little more concerning this matter.

Yours very truly,
W. O. Oldham,
July 20th, 1915. President.

Clovis Wins

Clovis defeated Portales by the score of five to three on the local grounds Sunday afternoon in a well played game. The batteries were McClosky and Bayless for Clovis and Killian and Patterson for Portales.

This should encourage Clovis as they have met defeat so many times at the hands of the local boys. The game was witnessed by a large crowd, many coming from Clovis.

WILL ORGANIZE MONDAY

Meeting of Creamery Stock Holders Called For That Day

AT COURT HOUSE IN PORTALES

Very Important That All Subscribers Be Present And On Time

Sufficient stock has been subscribed and the Roosevelt county creamery is now a certainty. Seventy-six farmers who are selling cream have bought stock to the amount of more than $8000 which is considered sufficient to start the project. More farmers are subscribing and it is thought the amount will be considerably larger when the organization is completed.

The machinery which will be bought will be large enough to handle the entire output of the county even should it get considerably larger than the present time. Mr. Blunt is desirous of getting as many interested as possible that the creamery may start off with a large number of patrons. There is enough cream produced in this county to make 1000 pounds of butter per day.

Mr. Blunt has sent out notices to the effect that the organization will be effected next Monday at the court house in Portales at 1 p. m. It is very important that every stockholder be present to assist in the organization work and pay for his stock.

This is a very important meeting for the reason that the different officers will be elected, a building committee appointed and arrangements made to actually start the construction work. The sooner organization is made and money paid in the sooner the creamery will be manufacturing butter and the producer will be benefitting.

Mr. Blunt expects a butter maker to arrive Saturday who will be present at the meeting Monday. The man he expects has been a successful butter maker for years and will be entirely capable of making a first-class article.

Richland Defeated

Portales defeated Richland here Saturday afternoon by the score of eleven to four. Cares pitched a fairly good game for Richland but at times was poorly supported. He showed himself effective at the critical stages but his teammates could not get enough runs to overcome the lead which Portales got early in the game. Stratton was substituted in the eighth inning. Frank Greathouse caught a good game for Richland.

Deacon Jones pitched a good game for Portales throughout. His support was not the best but was better than that given his opponent. The lead which the local boys got early in the game caused them to ease up and had it been a close game Richland's score would have been less. John Langston caught his usual good game and made several good throws to second.

The game put up by the Richland boys shows that they have the making of a good team and with some good practice would make it interesting for the fast Portales team. Roy W. Connally and Hance Arnold umpired the game.

MEASURED BY INCHES.

Tiny Things Sway Calamity or Success in Human Affairs.

Everybody knows what a little thing an inch is, but few realize what a big thing it is. Few stop to contemplate what the difference in an inch really means. A tailor knows when an inch too much or too little has cost him anywhere from $18 to $80. A dressmaker knows when an inch too little of the goods on hand may cause her, after an arduous day of planning, to abandon a chosen pattern for another. An engineer knows when his train, with its carload of human freight, has gone one inch off the track over a precipice.

Some men have minds one inch off the judgment track, and that causes all their schemes, gigantic and brilliant as they may be, to run amuck.

Every calamity and every success in life is controlled by inches.

Men rarely go to their doom in an hour. It is inch by inch.

All successes are won inch by inch.

As inch by inch the waters of life creep in to engulf us, so inch by inch the obstacles that impede our progress move aside.

The man who attempts to leap over the inches to reach his goal gets there with a broken leg.

The word inch has a forbidding sound. It is because it holds us in its clutches. We cannot ignore an inch or it immediately thwarts our intentions. Every simple thing is performed in an inch of his life.

All diseases move inch by inch. Before the scarlet fever breaks out in a child it has been developing inch by inch for nine days.

The overstepping of an inch in the properties of life brands us. If a girl in a theater laughs an inch too loud the audience looks around and puts upon her the stamp of "not a lady."

Department is measured by inches, and we unto the man who fails to observe its dictates. Even in the deepest grief if one goes too far in his ridiculing, and sympathy turned aside an inch too far in the poet's flight to imagination's realms and the world laughs at his best efforts.

A single inch in any direction may throw away a man's chances for the world's approval, and yet some men do not even consider the yards.

It is the man who considers life within an inch of every detail present, and who succeeds.—New York American.

Record Gales.

There have been terrific gales in various places all over the world. In many instances it is, of course, impossible to obtain any exact record of the velocity of the wind, but the highest ever recorded was reported from Cape Mendocino, Cal., in January, 1893, when the anemometer registered 144 miles an hour.

At Cape Lookout, on the Atlantic coast, there is no telling what the record force of the wind might have been had not the anemometer blown away after registering 138 miles an hour.

This fearful hurricane hit the middle Atlantic coast on Aug. 17, 1878.

In June, 1881, a wind of 112 miles was recorded on top of Pike's Peak, Colorado.—Chicago Herald.

Believe in yourself and in time others will have faith in you.

JUDGE OUTLINES DUTY OF PARENTS

Decides Questions Asked in Thousands of Novels.

A NEW LAW IS LAID DOWN.

In Alienation Suit, Brought by Coachman Who Married Daughter of a Millionaire, Justice Hough of New York Says Love and Mammon Are Not in Any Way Associated—His Decision.

New York.—The action of Judge Charles M. Hough in the federal district court in refusing to allow the jury to consider the suit brought by Max Frederick Kleist against Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Bretlung for $250,000 charging alienation of affections, is of great interest in itself, but in announcing his decision Justice Hough has answered questions that have been asked in tens of thousands of novels and movie plays—he has stated the relations of parents to children who are married without parental consent.

Max Kleist, the plaintiff, was once a coachman and gardener. Juliet, eight years old, is the daughter of the Bretlung. Mr. Bretlung is many times a millionaire and an extensive miner and ship owner. Kleist worked for a family in Michigan whose home adjoined the Bretlung's summer place. Juliet became infatuated with the good looking coachman, obtained an introduction married him without the knowledge of her parents, wrote many endearing love notes, finally tired of him and returned to her parents.

After Kleist had been sent to one of Mr. Bretlung's mines to make his way in the world he tired of the place. He turned to New York, he attempted to regain his wife. His offers were refused. Then followed his $250,000 suit charging alienation of affections.

After hearing the evidence Justice Hough dismissed the suit and pronounced what he said was a theory of law designed to cover such cases and to minimize the scandal and discourage the institution of "such sordid demands as have been here exhibited." He held that while parental authority may terminate with marriage, the parental relation continues and that no parent is bound at the peril of a successful suit for damages to approve of his child's marriage.

"There is a duty to pursue this course because litigations like this have been happily almost unknown in the national courts, and no decisions of binding authority at present control the action of this tribunal. A plaintiff who in plain language sought pecuniary consolation from a wealthy father-in-law who refused to show by payments of money or the furnishing of business opportunity his appreciation of that plaintiff as a son-in-law would be out of court upon his own statement."

"All suits such as this, whether promoted by or against the rich or the poor, rest on the same legal basis—namely, the alleged wrong of the defendants in depriving the plaintiff of the society, affection and services of a wife or the protection, support and affection of a husband, as the case may be."

"But when the defendants are not strangers, but parents, the family relation, which antedated matrimony, greatly modifies the law and has produced a considerable number of opinions in all parts of the English speaking world not capable of reconciliation and furnishing help to almost any contention related to what are commonly called 'alienation suits.'"

"The doctrines preferred by me and so far as I am concerned to be enforced are these: The parental authority may be admitted to terminate with the celebration of a lawful marriage by the child, and even parental power and influence (as distinguished from authority) must thereafter recognize the creation by marriage of a status protected and favored by laws quite as ancient as those enforcing the duties and responsibilities of children, fathers and mothers."

ELECTRIC SPARKING.

Light on a Puzzle That Has Worried Many Car Owners.

It is a sad and common experience to men in motorboats, automobiles, etc., to find that something is wrong with the spark. Often it is the case that when the spark plug is taken out and tested in air it shows up all right, and will ignite gasoline poured around it, but when put back into position it will not work. This is a puzzle to a great many people today.

The reason lies in the simple fact that the spark, when it takes place in the cylinder, has to spark in compressed gas, and when in the air it doesn't. It is a well known scientific fact that the pressure of the gas determines how far a spark will jump under a given voltage. If the spark jumped a quarter inch in the open air and was placed in a vessel with most of the air pumped out, it would jump several inches; and, on the other hand, if placed in compressed air it would not jump more than a fraction of the quarter inch. Of course the thing to do in the circumstances is to get new batteries, and if so situated that that is impossible the two little terminals of the spark plug should be pushed closer together. Then the spark will pass in the compressed gas inside the cylinder.

If explosion does not take place then the spark is probably so small that it is wholly immersed either in air or in the gasoline vapor, and to have an explosion it must be immersed in a mixture of the two. The carburetor should then be tinkered with. The probabilities are that a part of the time explosions will take place and will be sufficient to keep up a forward motion at reduced speed.—Chicago Herald.

Literary Inspiration.

It is enough to stun and scare anybody to have a hot thought come crashing into his brain and plowing up those parallel ruts where the wagon trains of common ideas were jogging along in their regular sequence of association. A lyric conception hits me like a bullet in the forehead. I have often had the blood drop from my cheeks when it struck and felt that I turned as white as death. Then comes a creeping as of centipedes running down the spine, then a sudden flush and a beating in the vessels of the head, then a long sigh and the poem is written.—Holmes

Bad Camels.

It is a well established fact that even young camels never play. They are born sad, and thereafter their life is one protest against being made to work, although work has been their portion since the beginning of the memory of man. How largely they have been domesticated from the earliest times we know from the statement that Job possessed 6,000 camels.—London Opinion.

The Clock Was All Right.

A man went into a clock store and handed out the pendulum of a clock which he wished to leave for repairs.

The clockman asked him why it didn't bring the whole clock.

"The clock is all right," was the reply. "It's the pendulum that won't go. As soon as I pulled that out the rest went like the very dickens."—Judge

Equal to the Occasion.

"Did you ever try to board a train?" asked the facetious man of the boarding house lady at breakfast.

"Oh, yes!" said the lady without a suggestion of a smile. "A man named Train stopped here at one time."—Yonkers Statesman.

Coming Back.

It was the beginning of their wedding trip.

"Dear," she inquired anxiously, "in the excitement of leaving did you say goodby to papa and mamma?"

"No," he replied, "I said au revoir."—Puck.

BETTER TIMES AHEAD.

The business world enters upon the last half of the calendar year with brighter prospects and a sounder foundation than it has known before in many months.

A glimpse beneath the surface of things revealed to men of affairs some time ago that improvements was sure to come and they laid plans accordingly.

MORE POULTRY.

It certainly is encouraging to observe the attention that the farmers of this country are giving to the raising of poultry.

The writer observed in traveling over the county recently many large flocks of poultry and was particularly impressed with the large number of turkeys.

It seems that there is nothing that will pay the farmer so well and take less of his time than a good sized bunch of chickens and turkeys.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY

The dry farmers of this county are not making the best of their opportunities when they pass up the wheat proposition.

The opportunities are just as good in Roosevelt county for wheat raising as in the adjoining county.

One of our republican subscribers recently took some exceptions to some articles which have appeared in this paper.

Community cooperation should be encouraged in every possible way with a view to promoting the highest educational, social, and economic development of farm life.—Reclamation Record.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

I—Introductory

Through the Press Service of Agriculture and Commerce, the master minds of this nation will be invited to the public forum and asked to deliver a message to civilization. Men who talk seldom achieve. There is no such thing as a noisy thinker, and brevity is always a close companion to truth.

It will be a great privilege to stand by the side of men who can roll in place the cornerstone of industry, to associate with men who can look at the world, and see to the bottom of it; to commune with men who can hear the roar of civilization a few centuries away.

Too often we listen to the rabble element of our day that cries out against every man who achieves, "Crucify him." Mankind never has and probably never will produce a generation that appreciates the genius of its day. There never will be a crown without a cross, progress without sacrifice or an achievement without a challenge.

This is an age of service, and that man is greatest who serves the largest number. The present generation has done more to improve the condition of mankind than any civilization since human motives began their upward flight. The Greeks gave human life inspiration, but while her orators were speaking with the tongues of angels, her farmers were plowing with forked sticks; while her philosophers were emancipating human thought from bondage, her traffic moved on two-wheeled carts driven, and oftentimes drawn, by slaves; while her artists were painting diving dreams on canvas, the streets of proud Athens were lighted by fire-brands dipped in tallow.

The genius of past ages sought to arouse the intellect and stir the soul but the master minds of today are seeking to serve. Civilization has assigned to America the greatest task of the greatest age, and the greatest men that ever trod the greatest planet are solving it. Their achievements have astounded the whole world and we challenge every age and nation to name men or products that can approach in creative genius or masterful skill in organization, the marvelous achievements of the tremendous men of the present day. Edison can press a button and turn a light on multiplied millions of homes; Vail can take down the receiver and talk with fifty millions of people; McCormick's reaper can harvest the world's crop, and Fulton's steam engine moves the commerce of land and sea.

The greatest thing a human being can do is to serve his fellow men; Christ did it; Kings decree it, and wise men teach it. It is the glory of this practical age that Edison could find no higher calling than to become the janitor to civilization; Vail the messenger to mankind; McCormick the hired hand to agriculture, and Fulton the teamster to industry, and blessed is the age that has such masters for its servants.

Arch Items.

The recent rains have put a smile on the farmers' faces. Their crops are growing and looking nice.

Bro. Jim Tollett filled his regular appointment here Sunday. He also brought his family with him. The congregation listened to another good sermon.

Prayer meeting every Sunday night. Everybody is invited to come and bring somebody with you.

J. P. Graham, who has been ill some time, died Sunday evening, July 11th, of paralysis. He is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter, and a host of relatives and friends who mourn his loss. He had lived here for several years and was one of the best liked men of this community. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and the services were conducted by the Portales lodge at the Elida cemetery.

J. W. Buckner and family left recently to visit Mrs. Buckner's brother.

Ben Townsend who has been ill with typhoid fever is improving.

Miss Marvel Duncan who has been taking music lessons at Portales is getting along nicely.

Carlos Townsend returned Saturday from near Elida where he had been helping his father take about 100 head of cattle to pasture.

Elida News

A runaway occurred at the home of Mr. Pendleton, eight miles east of Elida Sunday morning, in which Mr. Pendleton's two sons were painfully injured. Just as the boys got in the buggy the horses became frightened throwing them violently to the ground. Medical aid was obtained from Elida, their wounds dressed, and at last reports they were resting well.

Dr. A. J. Evans is over from Ft. Sumner this week on business.

J. R. Darnell and Judge J. A. Hall of Portales were in Elida Monday on business.

Mr. Jeffries of Columbia, Ky., is visiting this week with Fred Robison. Mr. Jeffries is an old time friend of the Robisons.

Dewey Burton came in Monday from Texas for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burton.

B. E. Pyron of Jenkins was in town on business Wednesday.

D. T. Cain was a Portales visitor Wednesday.

Another nice rain in the Elida vicinity this week.

No Money From County.

Last week the state supreme court of New Mexico ruled that the law permitting county commissioners to appropriate $500 for the fairs in the various counties is unconstitutional. The litigation was started in San Juan county to restrain the county commissioners from appropriating money to hold a fair at Aztec, the county seat. The complaint was brought by taxpayers of Farmington, in the same county, which also holds a fair.

This will prevent the Roosevelt County Fair Association from getting any aid from the county as has been the custom for several years past. It is not known what steps will be taken by the association, but we understand that they are anxious to hold the fair if the people so desire. Those who have been looking forward to the fair this fall should not take this as fully deciding the question and that we will have no fair, as some means may yet be devised to raise the money.

We believe that the money spent in this way has been well spent and yielded returns far beyond what most people suspect. All the money spent for prizes stays right in the county with our home people. The exhibits from our fair are taken to other fairs and have always made excellent showings. The county fair is an incentive for our farmers and stockmen to take more pride in their products and stock than they would perhaps do otherwise.

Evans Will Resign

One of the state papers this week reported that A. J. Evans had resigned his position as register of the Ft. Sumner land office. We are inclined to think that this report is premature although Dr. Evans has been considering the matter for some time and will perhaps resign about August first. He spent Saturday night in Portales and told the Herald-Times man that when he decided definitely he would notify the different papers in the district. Dr. Evans proposes to resume his medical practice at Elida where he has an office building under construction.

Bonds Defeated.

The voters of the Rogers district last Friday rejected the bond issue by the narrow margin of two votes. Much interest was shown by both sides, as the election was a live subject at Rogers for some time.

Governor McDonald Addresses Normal Institute

Governor Wm. A. McDonald arrived in Portales this morning coming from Santa Fe via Roswell, making a special trip here to address and visit the Roosevelt County Normal Institute. The Governor's early arrival was a surprise to many who thought he would come from the north.

At 10 o'clock he went to the school house where he was introduced by Judge G. L. Reese. When a young man the governor was a school teacher, and for that reason was able to address the teachers from an experienced standpoint. Those who are competent to know have said that the address was one of the best ever made in Portales.

The governor took occasion to compliment the Roosevelt County Institute on the fact that it is now and has been for some time the premier institute of the state. He spoke of the influence the teacher has on moulding the life of the child and the great responsibility which rests upon the teacher in care of the child, either moulding the life for right or wrong. He said that the precept and example of the teacher should be for the right that the child might safely emulate it and no one was qualified to be a teacher except one who leads an exemplary life, "for as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

He took occasion to speak on the great advancement made in education in the state during the last few years and spoke as one who sincerely desires to see New Mexico rank first in the cause of education. The governor was greeted with much applause.

At two o'clock the governor spoke to a large assembly of citizens at the court house.

He was introduced by Judge J. A. Hall, who had the pleasure of introducing the governor here four years ago when he was making his campaign. The speaker congratulated the people of this town and vicinity on the great progress and advancement they have made in the development of this community.

He urged co operation and said that this is one of the greatest needs of our great state today. He also touched on the tax and road building situation in the state. The audience listened to the Governor's remarks with great interest and a keen interest.

New Court House Porches

New concrete porches have been completed at the courthouse replacing the wooden ones which were getting in bad repair. The improvement makes a fine appearance and is up-to-date in every respect.

Buying Bear Grass

Large quantities of bear grass is being bought in the vicinity of Elida and Kenna. We understand that a buyer representing an eastern concern is paying $30 per section and has men at work preparing the grass for shipment.

Improves Building

Judge Reese has recently had the interior of the second floor of his office building painted making a very attractive appearance. Bill Adams done the work.

More Prospectors.

Some six or eight live prospectors were brought in by the Martin Hansen Investment Co. today from northern points to look over Portales Valley lands.

A. W. Baker and L. L. Peach, prominent farmers living east of Elida, came in Wednesday. They report most excellent conditions in that section.

W. O. Oldham and P. E. Jordan left Wednesday to attend the Panhandle bankers convention at Hereford, Texas. Mr. Jordan returned today.

Addresses Institute.

Rev. D. F. Fuller addressed the Normal Institute Wednesday morning on the subject of the conservation of nature is the preservation of nature. He led the teachers into the field of history, laid some facts before them and left them to draw their own conclusions as to the cause of the great world's war. He cited the war of the Turks, the enslaving of the Africans by the Belgians, the submission of the Dutch Boer by Great Britain and of the great war of 100 years ago ending with the battle of Waterloo.

The thing to notice as the cause of each of these wars is the lust of power or the greed for wealth whereby the nations were blinded to the divine law of civic liberty and to God's aim of human life.—Contributed.

Entertains Students.

T. E. Mears, Jr., was heartily received by the students and Faculty of the Normal Institute during the Chapel period Monday morning. His first number was a musical reading which he learned by attending the class in kindergarten instructions, after which he reasoned with "Tipperary." The perfection of melody and time with which he sang showed unusual musical ability in a child so young.

U.D.C. Meeting

U. D. C. met with Mrs. J. B. Sledge, Tuesday 20. The new officers were installed. A few of the old soldiers were with us and highly entertained the chapter and visitors. Rev. Fuller gave a very impressive talk on his life as a soldier. Altogether a delightful evening was spent.

Dainty refreshments were served. Reporter

Improving Hotel.

The Nash hotel is being improved this week by the addition of a porch on the front of the building. Ison and Tucker are doing the work and it is going to be an attractive improvement and a great convenience to the patrons of the hotel.

Ed Wall, chairman of the county road board, came up Wednesday to attend to business and hear Governor McDonald's address.

Encampment Called Off.

Adjutant General Harry T. Herring of the New Mexico National Guard has issued orders calling off the encampment which was to be held at Carlsbad on July 26th, because it is reported that none of the four companies have complied with the requirements with regards to the number of men.

Among the companies affected will be Co. M and it will be a keen disappointment to many of the faithful members of the company who look forth to the encampment with much pleasure. Co. M, like several of the other companies in eastern New Mexico, has many members who are away working.

Rev. W. E. Dawn and family left the first of the week for their ranch near Des Moines. The members of the Baptist church have granted their pastor a month's vacation and he decided to make this trip overland. A trip and vacation of this sort should give Rev. Dawn a fine rest and no doubt he will return and take up his work with renewed energy.

A Correction

We desire to correct a statement which appeared in last week's issue of this paper that the Sunday school rally at Redland was held at the school house. We should have stated that it was held in the Baptist church.

PARTY'S ONE HOPE

Republicans Forced to Pray for Crop Failure.

Have Banked on National Disaster to Secure Return to Power Through Howl of Calamity and a Return to High Tariff.

Republican leaders have got themselves and their party in such a position that their only logical course is to pray for drought.

After flitting with the question of national defense and rammering futilely about Mexico, the g. o. p. has finally pinned their faith to hard times, and settled down to the good old calamity howl. They notified the world that this country was on its way to the bow-wows, and that nothing less than the ancient tariff graft could bring it back. They intoned a regular devil's litany of blessings on disaster. Factories were closing—'whoopee! Railroads were busted—'whoopee!' The steel trust was passing its dividends—three cheers and a tiger! If only bad times got bad enough and lasted long enough, the Penrose-Cannon-Smoot combination saw itself restored to power for another half-generation.

But, alas and alack! hard times refused to last. The banking system devised by a Democratic administration carried the nation through the worst crisis of the last half-century without a sign of panic, and then came the turn. Foreign commerce, knocked out for a space by the war, has revived in splendid fashion. Factories are opening, men are going back to work, exports are increasing, railroads are buying equipment, shipyards are working day and night, independent steel companies are making money. In circumstances like these, a party which banked on national disaster to bring it back to power has just one hope left. The spring has been very dry. If the heavens withhold rain a few months longer, there may be a crop failure, which will make it somewhat easier to howl calamity, and call for a high tariff as a means of regulating the weather. Wherefore, it behooves the faithful from Danville even unto Salt Lake City to pray for drought.

A Poem.

Although George W. Perkins, Senator Penrose and other politically interested gloom spreaders deny it and refuse to be comforted by the joyously upward trend of trade statistics, still it is a fact that times are better. The truth of this has been proved by facts, figures, argument and observation. Letter times have passed the anticipatory stage and are here like spring and dandelion greens, and like them again they have permeated mise en scene, pervaded the minds of men and inspired the poets, including the regularly retained office poet of the New York Sun. In a lyric outburst of surpassing condemnation as to form but amazing inclusiveness of substance, entitled "Brief Poem on Prosperity," he sums up the whole matter and contends all those whose political joy is economic despair thus:

Bis
Ris

Always Unsound Policy.

The policy of gaining artificial advantage over another country by a tariff is unsound, no matter how scientifically the tariff may be devised. It is not trading, but exploiting, and leaves a trail of suspicion and hate. The editor of the Wall Street Journal holds that one of the fundamental causes of the present war was Germany's desire to renew the scientific tariff that she had in operation against Russia and by which she can exploit Russian commerce. However sound his judgment, it is certain, as our own American revolution shows, that unnatural and artificial privileges in trade, giving one nation the right to exploit another, lead to bloodshed. In any event, we can hope when our tariff is again revised that it will be on a still higher plane of commercial and political morality.

Manuals

Manuals for the Institute have not yet been received at the office of the County Superintendent, but are expected any day, and teachers desiring to get them may call at the office or have them mailed to address by sending six cents for postage. Only those who plan to attend the institute of this county need apply for manuals, as number to be furnished will be limited.

Directors and Patrons Day

July 22nd is a Rally Day for the directors and patrons of the several school districts of Roosevelt county; we extend an invitation to all to come and unite efforts to make this a successful educational day. It is only through the education of the children of the homes, that we, as patriots, may hope for the building of a better and greater nation, and the perpetuity of a republican form of government. School directors will have an opportunity to get acquainted with the teachers and make suitable selections for the school term of the scholastic year of 1915 and 1916
