ROOSEVELT COUNTY CREAMERY BURNS

The Most Unfortunate Thing that Has Happened to Roosevelt County In Many Years.

FIRE BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN INCENDIARY

Due to the Splendid Management and the Loyal Support of the Stockholders and Farmers of the County It Had Grown to Be One of the Greatest Industries of Eastern New Mexico.

At one o'clock Saturday morning the town was aroused by several shots, upon investigation it was found that the Roosevelt County Creamery was burning. The fire seemed to have originated in the northwest corner of the building and had gained considerable headway when discovered. When the Portales Fire Department reached the fire it was found to be uncontrolable, and despite a strong wind blowing from the southeast, it quickly consumed the entire building and was a complete loss. This loss of the creamery is the greatest loss that Roosevelt county has suffered for some time. The fire is believed to be incendiary, and one suspect was arrested that day, but due to the lack of evidence he was released the same day. Due to the splendid management and the loyal support of stockholders and farmers of the county it had grown to be one of the greatest industries of eastern New Mexico. The increases of business during the last week while the creamery was in operation was about one thousand pounds over the previous week, and some 1800 dollars worth of butter was shipped the day before the fire. A call meeting of the stockholders and farmers of the county was called for the afternoon of Saturday, last, to decide whether it should be built back or not. The spirit and enthusiasm that was shown there would readily convince a spectator that it was to be placed back, and not like it was before, but larger, stronger and this time fire proof. The creamery had a valuation of about $15000, and carried insurance amounting to some $9600.

Commencement Week

Last Friday dated the close of the Portales schools. Sunday evening, May 14th the baccalaureate address was delivered at the Methodist church by Rev. Reece, of Clovis. Wednesday evening at the Co. y the contests in music and oratory were held. The medal for the best in music, given by W. O. Oldham, was won by Viah Sanders; the medal in declamation for the older students, given by Geo. Williamson, was won by Etye Stovall; the medal for the younger declamers, given by Joyce-Fruit Co., was won by Moraine Priddy. Those that carried off medals did excellent work as did also the other contestants. Thursday morning an exercise was given by and in honor of that excellent Eighth Grade, which Prof. Brown is turning over to the High school. There are twenty of this class, they have taken the state grades. But the hour of greatest importance was Thursday evening when fifteen young people received diplomas from the Portales High school. On this occasion the stage of the church was artistically decorated with flowers and the class colors, red and white. Two members of the class, Archie Williams and O'Dwyer Dunaway, being absent having answered their country's call to arms, there were two vacant chairs in the class. These were placed in the front row and tastefully decorated with wreaths of roses. The parts of the program were well prepared. Miss Alta Potes read the history of the class, Miss Willie Bell Blakey read the class will. Misses Irene Molinari and Irma Bell Smith gave an excellent rendition of a piano duet. Miss Mattie Belle Hawkins read the class poem, Miss Irma Bell Smith also gave a piano solo. Miss Ora Crawford, receiving the highest grade in the class delivered the valedictory address. Rev. A. D. Crile of Roswell, delivered the commencement address to the class. He used the opportunity to administer wholesome, common sense suggestions which followed out closely would bring a large success to each of these young people. Departing from the usual method and by request of the class Supt. Long delivered the diplomas. He also used this occasion to deliver the medal, which he has given for years to the pupil making the highest average in high school. This year Miss Ester Marrs won the medal, making the excellent high average of 98 3-4 per cent. As this commencement closes for Mr. Long, three years of service in the Portales school, he spoke briefly of his work here, expressing his thanks and appreciation to the people, the school board and students for the excellent co-operation they have given him in building the Portales school to the highest standard they now hold in the New Mexico school system. At the close of this address Miss Irene Molinari in a few beautifully chosen words presented to Mr. Long a handsome watch fob engraved P. H. S. the high school students gave this as an expression of the high esteem in which they hold him and the work that he has done.

Prof. W. M. Wilson, of Columbia, Ky. who has been elected Superintendent of the school for the next term comes to us with the very best recommendations and the patrons of the school may expect a progressive administration under his supervision.

Base Ball Team?

Does Portales want and need a good base ball team? Yes she does, and with a little energy upon the part of a few of the right kind she can and will have one. What better advertisement could a town have than to have a good base ball team? Portales has as good material as any town for its size, and material that is willing to work with a little encouragement and support from the business men and supporters of the national game. Lets get together and boost for a good base ball club. What do you say?

Lawn Spread

The members of the domestic department of the Women's club demonstrated their ability as cooks, efficiency as team workers, and a lovely consideration of their husbands by coming together Tuesday evening on the court house lawn and having a picnic spread. Some twenty of the members with their husbands and children enjoyed the splendid occasion. The new silver which this department, has bought with its earnings this year was put to good use for the first time.

Chester Garrett Returns

Chester Garrett returned home Friday after an absence of some three years. Chester has been attending the state agricultural college, and has made good as an A1 student. He came home to accept a position in the Roosevelt county creamery and arrived in time to see it burn on Saturday morning.

Miss Gertrude Thompson left for her home in Ada, Oklahoma, Sunday morning. Miss Gertrude taught in the Portales schools this past year, and has made many friends who will be glad to see her return in the fall to take charge of the work assigned her in the school for next term.

Thanks to Dr. J. L. Reid, proprietor of the Red Feather farm, for a couple of crates of delicious strawberries, which were grown on the farm. They were of the most excellent quality and it goes without saying that they were enjoyed by the force.

Mrs. Jeff Hightower and daughter, Miss Mattie Doss, and Miss Hazlewood Moore returned home from Taiban, Friday morning, where Miss Hightower and Miss Moore acted in the capacity of pedagogues the past year.

Hubert Yates, a graduate of the Portales High school, came home Tuesday from Clarendon Texas where he attended the Clarendon college of that place the past year.

COMMITTEES ARE BUSY OVER THE COUNTY

Meetings Being Held and Instead of Being Skeptical, as Was the Experience of the First Creamery, the People are Taking the Matter Up With Enthusiasm and Pushing It to An Early Completion

Last Monday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock the following gentlemen left in cars for a trip in the interest of the creamery. W. O. Oldham, president of the First National bank; G. W. Carr, manager Portales Lumber company; J. L. Blunt, manager Roosevelt County creamery; M. H. Campbell, manager Kemp Lumber company; S. E. Ward, manager Portales Power and Irrigation company; Prof. J. S. Long, proprietor Portales Drug store; G. M. Williamson, president Portales Bank and Trust company; Paul Royer, bookkeeper Portales Power and Irrigation company; E. E. Hoagland, manager Joyce-Fruit company; Mayor J. P. Deen, of Deen-Neer company; F. G. Galloway, progressive farmer; Inda Humphrey, hardware; J. K. Bland, groceryman; Guy P. Mitchell, deputy county clerk; S. N. Hancock, manager Portales Herald-Times

The first stop was made at Rogers at which place the meeting was called to order by Henry Kachel, a progressive farmer of that community, and after several appropriate talks a call was made for subscription to stock, which was responded to liberally according to the number present.

On account of not having the meeting advertised there were but few of the farmers in attendance but a committee, composed of Henry Kachel, J. S. Fraser and W. W. Van Winkle were appointed to see the farmers of that community and give them a chance to help replace the creamery.

After the adjournment of this meeting the party proceeded to Elida, where, after supper a meeting was called to order in the Dixie Theatre by James A. Hall, who accompanied by C. M. Dobbs had gone to Elida to meet the party from Rogers.

Mr. Hall explained, in a brief talk the situation in regard to the rebuilding of the creamery, after which a few talks were made by citizens of the Elida

John Tyson and family of Taiban were Portales visitors the first part of this week. Mr. Tyson came over in the interest of his campaign for commissioner of precinct No. 8.

Rev. Fifield arrived Tuesday morning from Melrose where he and Evangelist Barnett have held a very successful two weeks meeting.

community and members of the party, then, the call for those who wanted to take stock was made and the response was very satisfactory. Ben Pendleton, R. H. Morrow, C. A. Coffey and C. J. Mackey were appointed committee to see the citizens of that community and give them an opportunity to get in on this proposition.

We realize that this is a busy time with our farmers and it is a little difficult to get a good representation of them at these meetings, but gentlemen this is a farmer's institution and he is the direct beneficiary of the same, and do not wait for your neighbor to influence you to take some stock in this enterprise but wake up and every one of you try to be the first man to respond and help to replace a business which has and will come nearer being a benefit to more men, women and children than anything that was ever established in the county.

The purpose in giving you the above list, and their business, is to show that the most of those who are taking an active interest and giving their time and money to help replace this enterprise are men who are indirectly interested, and how much more the farmers should be interested, knowing the direct benefit it has been to them in the past. This business is no longer an experiment but has been tried out and found to be a certainty.

The men of the county who were the most skeptical in the beginning are now the most interested and anxious to see the creamery in operation.

The promoters of this enterprise are receiving the right kind of encouragement from the farmers all over the county and it is expected within a very few days the work will be commenced on the new building and it is hoped that in about forty-five days the Roosevelt County creamery will be in full operation again.

A. D. Crile, of Carlsbad was in Portales Thursday and delivered the commencement address to the P.H.S. graduates that night

Art Hall of Canton and Arch Gregg of Delphos, each, bought a Ford touring car this week from Highway garage.

Ursi Keen made a business trip to Roswell Monday.

Average Jones Big Print SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

In the Cosmic club Mr. Algernon Spofford was a figure of distinction.

RANSOM—LOST LAD FROM HARWICK not drowned nor harmed. Retained for ransom.

"Alky, who sent this to you?" "Cousin of mine up in Harwick.

Spofford produced a letter which gave the outlines of the case.

"The ground is now frozen hard," he said presently.

"Very," agreed the clergyman.

"There had been a three-day down-pour, up to the evening of Bailey's disappearance.

"You seem very clear on these points, Mr. Prentice."

"I noted them specially, having in mind to write a paper on the meteorite for the Congregationalist."

"Almost instantly. It was in full blaze within a very short time after."

"How short? Five minutes or so?" "Not so much. Certainly not more than two."

"H'm! Peculiar! Ra—a—a—rather peculiar," drawled Average Jones.

"Particularly in view of the weather."

"In what respect?" "In respect to a barn, water-soaked by a three-day rain bursting into flame like tinder."

"It had not occurred to me. But the friction and heat of the meteorite must have been extremely great."

"And extremely momentary except as to the lower floor, and the fire should have taken some time to spread, from that. However, to turn to other matters—"

"Back in the study, Average Jones sat meditating a few moments. Presently he asked:

"Did you go to the spot where your son's clothes were found?" "Yes. Some time after."

"Where was it?" "On the seashore, some half a mile to the east of the Tuxall place, and a little beyond."

"It seems far-fetched to me," said Rev. Mr. Prentice doubtfully.

"That is what we have to find out. What time did your son go to his room the night of his disappearance?"

"Earlier than usual, as I remember. A little before nine o'clock.

"I see. Will you take me to his room?" They mounted to the boy's quarters, which overlooked the roof of the side porch from a window facing north.

"The barn which the meteor destroyed," said Rev. Mr. Prentice, pointing it out.

One glance was all that Average Jones bestowed upon a spot which, for a few days, had been of national interest.

"Then—er—when Bailey left here he hadn't any idea—of—er—running away."

"I don't follow you, Mr. Jones."

"Psychology," said Average Jones.

"Elementary psychology. Here's your son's new reel. A normal boy doesn't abandon a brand-new fad when he runs away.

"The meteor?" "I made some inquiries in the village on my way up.

"That is true."

"The meteor fell at ten-fifteen. Bailey, it's probable, was out of the house before the meteor fell."

"I should have heard him go out of the front door."

"That is, perhaps, why he went out of the window," observed Average Jones.

"For a moment he stood meditating. The ground is now frozen hard," he said presently.

"Very," agreed the clergyman.

"There had been a three-day down-pour, up to the evening of Bailey's disappearance.

"You seem very clear on these points, Mr. Prentice."

"I noted them specially, having in mind to write a paper on the meteorite for the Congregationalist."

"Almost instantly. It was in full blaze within a very short time after."

"How short? Five minutes or so?" "Not so much. Certainly not more than two."

"H'm! Peculiar! Ra—a—a—rather peculiar," drawled Average Jones.

"Particularly in view of the weather."

"In what respect?" "In respect to a barn, water-soaked by a three-day rain bursting into flame like tinder."

"It had not occurred to me. But the friction and heat of the meteorite must have been extremely great."

"How far down the road, in this direction, did the tracks run?"

"Not beyond the fence-bar opening from the Tuxall field, if that is what you mean."

"It is, exactly. Do you know this Tuxall?"

"Hardly at all. He is very jealous of his precious meteor, and guards the ruins of the barn, where it lies, with a shotgun."

"Indeed? He promises to be an interesting study. Meantime, I'd like to look at your son's clothes."

"From a closet Mr. Prentice brought out a coat and waistcoat of the 'pepper-and-salt' pattern which is sold by the hundreds of thousands the whole country over.

"It would be from lying wet on the shore," said Rev. Mr. Prentice.

"Not at all. This is mud, not sand. And it's ground or pressed in. Has anyone tampered with these since they were found?"

"I went through the pockets."

"Nothing of importance. A handkerchief, some odds and ends of string—oh, and a paper with some gibberish on it."

"What was the nature of this gibberish?"

"Why, it might have been some sort of boyish secret code, though it was hardly decipherable enough to judge from.

"Turning that receptacle out on the table, Average Jones discovered in the debris a sheet of cheap, ruled paper, covered with penciled words in print characters.

"Below this was a huddle and smudge of words, from which adjectives darted out like dim flames amidst smoke."

"Gigantic" showed in its entirety, followed by an unintelligible erasure.

"The end of this line was the legend '3 Feet High.'"

"Veritable Visitor," appeared below, and beyond it, what seemed to be the word 'Void.'

"Near the foot of the sheet the student of all this chaos could make out, faintly but unmistakably, 'Marvelous Man!—the rest of the word being cut off by a broad smear of black) Monster 3 Feet.'"

"You—er—threw this in the—er—waste basket," he drawled.

"After some hesitation, the other agreed. Average Jones sat down to the composition of an epistle which should be sufficiently imperative without being too alarming.

"If you haven't already struck off a proof of that line, you might do so," he suggested.

"Leaving the shop he went directly to a telegraph office, where he dispatched two messages to Harwick. One to Rev. Peter Prentice. The other was to the local chief of police.

"On the following afternoon Mr. Prentice stood trembling in the anteroom of the Ad-Visor's suite.

"The woman was plumply muscular. Her attractive face was both defiant and uneasy.

"I know what became of him."

"Bailey has been carried away by two people in a buggy. They were strangers to the town.

"The strangers in the wagon?" asked the clergyman quickly.

"The same," admitted the woman briefly.

"Let's do this in order," suggested Average Jones.

"That's what!" corroborated the boy.

"Mr. Tuxall, I regret to say," remarked Average Jones,

"Quite providential, Mr. Jones," he said.

"He held up an enormous M to the admiration of his visitor."

"Excellent!" approved Average Jones.

"And now, an R, if you please; and perhaps a V."

"Mr. Hollis looked at his visitor with suspicion.

"Those which—er—would make up the—er—legend, 'Marvelous Manlike Monster,'" drawled Average Jones.

"The Flying Farleys," said Average Jones.

"No; I don't exactly know them. But I'd like to."

"That's another matter," retorted Mr. Hollis, annoyed at having betrayed himself.

"One of the limbs was shakin' and thrashin'." I crawled out on it. I guess it was kind o' crazy in me, but I was goin' to find out what was what if I broke my neck.

"How so?" asked Rev. Mr. Prentice.

"Why, you see," explained Average Jones,

"That comes later. They took off Bailey's coat and waistcoat, perhaps to see if his back was broken.

"Well, I don't see it at all," said Farley glumly.

"New waistcoat?" he asked.

"Just so. Your waistcoat got mixed with the boy's clothes, which are of the same common pattern, and was tossed out on the beach with his coat."

"That's right, too," he said.

"Then, that," put in Rev. Peter Prentice,

"But what does all this talk of people at work in the dark, and arson, and a mysterious creature tied in a tree lead to?"

"It leads," said Average Jones, "to a very large rock, much scorched, and with a peculiar carving on it, which now lies imbedded in the earth he meant Tuxall's barn."

A Sheet of Ruled Paper, Covered With Penciled Words.

"I Shinned Up the Tree."

About the time the 'dropper' reached the earth Tuxall lighted up his well-oiled barn. All Harwick, having had its attention attracted by the explosion, and seen the portent with its own eyes, believed that a huge meteor had fired the building.

"I've heard nothing about big prints," said the puzzled clergyman.

"Pardon me, you've heard but you haven't understood. However, to go on, Tuxall and our friends here fixed up a plan on the prospects of a rich harvest from public curiosity and credulity.

"And that there were two of them?" pursued the minister.

"I surmised two minds: One that schemed out the 'planting' of the clothes on the shore; the other, more compassionate, that promulgated the advertisement."

TO KEEP HER FROM FALLING

Would Have to Catch Hold of Things. Lost Strength and Flesh. Doctor Recommended Cardui. Results Gratifying.

Brookhaven, Miss.—"I am in fine health now," writes Mrs. H. M. Russell, of R. F. D. 5, of this place, "and have been for some time. I owe this good health to Cardui, I am certain. I think I would have been dead before this if I had not taken that medicine. I was down in bed five months last summer. I had chronic inflammation . . . so the doctor said. . . I suffered untold misery, mostly in my right side, but both sides hurt me—aching constantly. I got to the place where I couldn't even eat without severe pain. I had much headache and would often be quite blind from dizziness. I would have to catch hold of things to keep from falling. I lost all my strength and flesh. I became so poor that I was just bones covered with skin.

"The doctor, on his visit told me to get Cardui and go to taking it. . . I took eight bottles in 3 months. In just a few days after starting with it, I began to improve and kept on until I got completely well. Today I am in really good health. I can do anything in the world in the shape of work. I am sure that I owe this all to Cardui. I would like to tell all women so."

Try Cardui for your troubles. For sale by all druggists.

Not Altogether a Success. "Yes," the young medico sighed, "the healing profession is full of difficulties. The other day, for instance, I had a patient who ought to have gone to a warmer climate. Couldn't afford it. I decided to try hypnosis. I painted a large sun on the ceiling and by suggestion induced him to think it was the sun."

"And how did it work?" inquired the listener.

The doctor passed a hand wearily over his brow.

"He's down with sunstroke," he said, sadly.

KIDNEY TROUBLE WEARS YOU OUT

I had Kidney and Stomach trouble for several years and lost over 40 pounds in weight; tried every remedy that I could get and got no relief until I took Swamp-Root. It gave me quicker relief than anything that I ever used. Highway Improvement

INCREASING VALUE OF LANDS
Immense Unutilized Area Cannot Be Developed Until Improved Highways Are Constructed.

Good Road in Nebraska.

There are over 400,000,000 acres of unutilized land in the United States awaiting development that cannot be developed without improved highways. It has been shown that the value of land is increased evenly with the improvement for the roads, the increase running from $3 to $9 the acre. As the roads are improved, there is a corresponding increase in population. In twenty-five counties, taken at random, which have contained on an average only 1 1/2 per cent of improved roads in the decade 1890 to 1900, there was a falling off in population of 5,000 in each county. In twenty-five other counties, taken at random, in which there was an average of 40 per cent of improved roads, the increase of population in each county was $1,000. The "back-to-the-farm" movement will progress just in proportion to the improvement of the highways, and the improvement of the highways is dependent upon administration not less than upon construction.

There must be skill in the supervision as well as in the building of the roads. Heretofore at least nine-tenths of the work on the roads has been done under the direction of men without any knowledge of roadbuilding, which is an art based upon a science. There are today more than 100,000 petty road officials in the United States who have no practical knowledge of the simplest engineering problems that must be solved in the location of the roads, in their relation to a general system, or to related systems; but who are supposed to have great influence in neighborhood politics and are mighty at the polls. It is from this incubus that the problem must be relieved if the country is to enjoy the benefits of a well ordered system of highways.

Good roads not only cost a great deal of money in their construction, but also in their maintenance or administration. It has been the habit in this country to "work on the roads" when all other work was done, and this has meant that the roads have had attention only once or twice a year. Macadam roads do not take care of themselves, concrete roads should have constant attention, sand-clay roads require daily supervision if they are to give service for which they were designed and built. In France every mile of road is inspected daily, and it is the constant vigilance of trained supervision that enables the railroads of the country to take care of the business of the country. There ought to be the same sort and degree of supervision of the roads of the United States if they are to give the service for which they are built. To make a mile of macadam road eight feet wide and eight inches thick, 1,750 tons of stone are required, and to build a mile of gravel road eight feet wide and eight inches thick, 1,142.93 cubic yards of compacted, or 1,584 cubic yards of loose gravel are required, and in order that the best results may be obtained, there must be competent supervision not only in the mixing of the materials employed in the building of the roads of the several types, but in the placing of materials.

There are 3,000,000 miles of what are commonly called "dirt roads" in the United States, and to make them effective there must be proper drainage, such grading and alignment as will make them fit for the traffic and constant surface betterment, and it is nothing short of criminal waste to build roads of macadam and expect them to take care of themselves. Undoubtedly the best system of maintenance for all roads is that which provides for the permanent and sometimes continuous employment of skilled laborers who have charge of particular sections of road, or who may be assigned to any part of the county or other road unit where there is work most needed.

Canadian Stone Highway. A stone highway, to cost $400,000, is to be built from Ottawa, Canada, 60 miles south to the St. Lawrence river international boundary. It is stated that the road is to be built as a memorial to the late J. P. Whitney, premier of Ontario.

All-Year-Round Roads. Good roads help small towns; railroads build up the great cities, but all-year-round roads turn the stream of wealth, travel and business back towards the rural centers.

RECIPES WORTH WHILE

FIVE DELICIOUS DISHES THAT ARE EASY TO PREPARE.

Egg Noodles With Anchovies May Be Recommended—Vermicelli Sweet Custard Excellent—Proper Preparation of Macaroni Soup.

Egg Noodles With Anchovies.—Put a small onion, sliced, in butter with a teaspoonful of chopped parsley; add six boned anchovies, cut in four pieces each; stir in three-quarters of a cupful of white wine and a cupful of cooked egg noodles and simmer gently for 20 minutes. Serve with grated cheese.

Egg Noodle Sweet Souffle.—Add half a package of cooked egg noodles to two cupfuls of hot milk, and let stand on back of stove until milk is mostly absorbed, then let it cool and add a teaspoonful of salt, half a cupful of sugar, the beaten yolks of two eggs, and whites beaten to a stiff froth. Turn into a buttered souffle mold, set it in a pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven 25 minutes. Serve immediately alone or with sweetened cream.

Vermicelli Sweet Custard.—To half a package of cooked vermicelli add two cupfuls hot milk, a teaspoonful of salt, half a cupful of sugar, two eggs well beaten and half a teaspoonful of vanilla. Turn into a buttered baking dish, set dish in a pan of hot water in oven and bake until the custard is set.

Macaroni Soup.—To one quart of boiling water, sauté, add a large handful of macaroni, boil 20 minutes, drain and blanch. Add two cupfuls of strained stewed tomatoes, season slightly and just before serving add a cupful of cream.

Soup Spanish With Rings.—Simmer in three quarts of water two pounds of lean meat for two hours. Skim well as it boils, then add one cupful of cooked white beans, four onions chopped fine, two cloves of garlic, four red peppers chopped, and two slices of lemon, salt to taste; allow this to cook thoroughly until soft, strain through a colander, rub through the pulp, place on the fire again and boil; add lastly one-fourth package of soup rings, one tablespoonful of butter and one of milk rubbed in two ounces of flour. When rings are tender the soup is ready.

New Apple Salad. Beat half a cupful of double cream, a tablespoonful of lemon juice and a quarter teaspoonful of salt until firm throughout. Cook two apples, cored and pared, in a sirup of equal measure of sugar and water (two or three cloves or an inch of cinnamon bark may be added) and set them aside to become thoroughly chilled. Chop fine four maraschino or candied cherries and eight or ten pecan nuts or blanched almonds. Carefully wash three small heads of tender lettuce, first removing the ragged outer leaves and cutting the stalks that the heads may stand. Dispose the heads on individual plates with an apple in the center of each. Mix the cherries and put through the prepared cream and turn it over the apples.

Rhubarb Jelly. Allow one pound of sugar to a pound of rhubarb. Peel and cut up rhubarb into small pieces, put into a dish a layer of rhubarb and a layer of sugar until all is used. Do this in the evening, then in the morning pour off all the liquid you can into a saucepan and boil hard for 30 minutes. Then add the rhubarb, let come to the boiling point and simmer for ten minutes. Do not stir at all. Stand your jars in boiling water to prevent breaking, and then pour jelly into them while hot. After jars are secured turn them upside down to cool, and when cool keep in a dark place. Strawberries may be put away in the same way, using less sugar.

To Launder Fringed Cloths. Fringed cloths are often quite ruined in appearance at the laundry. They may be made to look like new for an indefinite period if when they are starched a little care is taken not to starch the fringes. Fold each cloth in four, like a handkerchief, and then gather the fringe of each part into the hand and hold it firmly while you dip the middle into the starch. When the cloth is dry shake the fringe well and comb it with a comb and it will fall as softly and prettily as when new.

Cauliflower and Cabbage. To keep cauliflower white and free from scum when cooking; before placing the cauliflower in the saucepan tie it up in a piece of clean muslin. When ready, it can be easily lifted from the pot into the colander to drain. Untie the muslin and you will find the vegetable beautifully white.

When boiling cabbage, to prevent the unpleasant smell that it always makes, it will be found very good to place a small piece of bread tied up in muslin in the saucepan.

Delicious Pie. Take one cupful seeded raisins, one cupful cranberries (raw), chopped together; one-third cupful water, two-thirds of a cupful of sugar with one heaping teaspoonful of flour mixed with the sugar; mix all together and bake between two crusts.

Mashed Turnip With Onion. Cut up turnip and put in salted water with an onion. When tender drain off water, mash turnip and onion together, add butter and a little pepper. Serve hot.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeding just right, begin drinking phosphated hot water. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your druggist or storekeeper a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish tinge which is not unpleasant. Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.—Adv.

Much Faster. "Which is the quickest way to send a message—telephone or telegraph?" "Tell a woman."

SAVE A DOCTOR'S BILL by keeping Mississippi Diarrhoea Cordial handy for all stomach complaints. Price 25c and 50c.—Adv.

Enough. "Are there any improvements on that property of yours out in Comuterville?" "Nothing but a mortgage."

In Doubt. "Could you lend me a dollar till Tuesday?" "I could, only there are so many Tuesdays, and I'm afraid you may be thinking of one about ten years from now."

Hereditary. "Van Smythe claims that his great-grandfather was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence." "I don't doubt it. Van Smythe is something of a signer himself. I've got his name on a whole bunch of I. O. U.'s."

Nonsensical. A naval officer said in a naval argument at a Washington reception: "Some of these naval critics show such appalling ignorance of the simplest sea terms—their criticisms become in consequence such arrant nonsense—really, it reminds me of the recipe for shirred eggs: 'The shirred recipe for shirred eggs runs: "Shirred eggs: Take six eggs, peel carefully, remove the yolks and baste the whites with No. 40 cotton. Cut yolks into quarter sections and sew them to the white at regular intervals, fastening with knots of orange silk. Gather top edge with pink twine and draw to a circle. Roast before open gas jet.'"

EXPERIMENTS Teach Things of Value. Where one has never made the experiment of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum, it is still easy to learn something about it by reading the experiences of others. Drinking Postum is a pleasant way out of coffee troubles. A Penn. man says: "My wife was a victim of nervousness, weak stomach and loss of appetite for years; and although we resorted to numerous methods for relief, one of which was a change from coffee to tea, it was all to no purpose. "We knew coffee was causing the trouble but could not find anything to take its place until we tried Postum. Within two weeks after she quit coffee and began using Postum almost all of her troubles had disappeared as if by magic. It was truly wonderful. Her nervousness was gone, stomach trouble relieved, appetite improved and, above all, a night's rest was complete and refreshing. "This sounds like an exaggeration, as it all happened so quickly. Each day there was improvement, for the Postum was undoubtedly strengthening her. Every particle of this good work is due to drinking Postum in place of coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Postum comes in two forms: Postum-Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled, 15c and 25c pkgs. Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins. Both forms are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup. "There's a Reason" for Postum. —sold by Grocers

CHICKENS DUCKS and TURKEYS

PROFIT IN RAISING TURKEYS

Farmers Are Cautioned to Give Marketing Problems More Attention—Best Birds for Breeding.

For those who conduct the business carefully turkey raising is likely to be very profitable. The demand in this country continues to increase, apparently, faster than the supply. Farmers who go into the business, however, are cautioned to give the marketing problem considerable attention in advance.

In the turkey publications of the United States department of agriculture, which is Farmers' Bulletin No. 200, the following rules for selecting turkeys for breeding are given: First—Always use as breeders turkey hens over one year old. Be sure they are strong, healthy, and vigorous, and of good medium size. In no instance select the smaller ones. Do not strive to have them unnaturally large.

Second—The male may be a yearling or older. Do not imagine that large, overgrown males are best. Strength, health, and vigor, with well-proportioned, medium size, are the main points of excellence.

Third—Avoid close breeding. New blood is of vital importance to turkey.

The Great American Bird.

Better send a thousand miles for a new male than to risk the chances of inbreeding. Secure one in fall so as to be assured of his health and vigor prior to the breeding season.

BETTER ATTENTION TO EGGS

They Should Be Uniform in Color and Shape, and Regular in Size as Far as Possible.

More attention should be paid to eggs at all times and under all circumstances. This means that they should be uniform in color and shape and regular in size as far as possible. If they had more attention paid to them at our fairs and were brought to the notice of the public and the farmers in particular, much good would come from it. Let us offer good prizes for a display of eggs, say not less than three dozen, and have it stipulated that they be strictly fresh; that no cold storage stock need apply for the sake of selecting for size. If such a plan were carried out at a number of our fairs for a few years the selection of good eggs would get to be a science and would interest the poultry public to a great degree, and be of untold benefit to all of us, whether as producers or consumers of eggs.

GOOD POULTRY FEED ADVICE

Poor Economy to Give Fowls but One Kind of Grain—Make Them Excitable by Scratching.

There is no economy in feeding fowls one kind of grain, for that compels them to eat more than they ought in order to get a sufficient quantity of food elements.

A large part of the egg is water, which shows the necessity of providing layers with an ample supply of pure clear water in fountains or dishes which are frequently disinfected.

A sluggish hen is never a good layer. The flock should be made to exercise by scratching for whole and cracked grains in a deep litter of clean material and jumping for green food, such as a cabbage or mangels.

Fattening Water Fowls. By putting some care into the fattening of water fowls the farmer's wife will be able to realize more out of them. She will be in shape to solicit orders for fine table water fowl; and once her name is established she will have more orders for them than she can fill.

Drafts Mean Ruin. A draft in the poultry house means ruin in the flock. Prevention is the best method and much cheaper than the cure.

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use, therefore, results in an actual saving.

have to say about cream separators this week

YOU will find the De Laval is the easiest and most satisfactory to use and keep in good running order. There is nothing about the operation, cleaning, adjustment or care of a modern De Laval which requires expert knowledge or special tools.

There are no parts which require frequent adjustment in order to keep the machine running smoothly or to conform to varying conditions in the every day use of a cream separator.

There is nothing about this machine that cannot be taken apart, removed or replaced by any one who can use a wrench or screw driver. In fact, the only tool which is needed for the operation of a De Laval Cream Separator is the combination wrench and screw driver illustrated above, furnished free with the machine.

We will be glad to have you examine a De Laval and see for yourself the simplicity and convenience of its construction.

• Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1634 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely. It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A LAND PROBLEM AHEAD

(FROM THE PEORIA JOURNAL.)

The Nebraska State Journal calls attention to the fact that Uncle Sam's opening of a 4,000-acre tract in the North Platte irrigation district for settlement practically winds up the "free land distribution" of the nation. It adds:

"Free or cheap land has been the American safety valve. A population straining for self-betterment has had its own remedy—to go west and grow up with the country. With the government reduced to advertising an opening of forty-three farms, the safety valve may be considered forever closed. The expansive energy formerly exerted outward, must hereafter work itself out intensively. Increasing land speculation, with rapidly rising prices of land and proportionately increasing dissatisfaction among the landless would seem inevitable. The tone of our politics and the intensity of our social problems cannot but be vitally changed under the strain of dealing internally with a social pressure which hitherto has had the wilderness to vent itself upon.

"Land hunger" will soon become a reality in this rapidly growing country and the constant pressure of population, increasingly higher than the ratio of production, is bound to bring us face to face with economic problems that we have heretofore considered remote. The far-sighted statesman and publicist must devote his thought earnestly to the consideration of these questions if we are to escape the extremes which curse the older nations of the world."

In the above will be found one of the reasons that the Canadian Government is offering 160 acres of land free to the actual settler. There is no dearth of homesteads of this size, and the land is of the highest quality, being such as produces yields of from 30 to 60 bushels of wheat per acre, while oats run from fifty to over hundred bushels per acre. It is not only a matter of free grants, but in Western Canada are also to be had other lands at prices ranging from $12 to $30 per acre, the difference in price being largely a matter of location and distance from railway. If one takes into consideration the scarcity of free grant lands in the United States it is not difficult to understand why there has been most material advances in the price of farm lands.

A few years ago, land that now sells for two hundred dollars an acre in Iowa, could have been bought for seventy-five dollars an acre or less. The increased price is warranted by the increased value of the product raised on these farms. The lands that today can be had in Western Canada at the low prices quoted will in a less time than that taken for the Iowa lands to increase, have a proportionate increase. In Nebraska the lands that sold for sixteen to twenty dollars per acre seven years ago, find a market at one hundred and seventy-five dollars an acre, for the same reason given for the increase in Iowa lands. Values in these two States, as well as in others that might be mentioned, show that Western Canada lands are going at a song at their present prices. In many cases in Western Canada today, there are American settlers, who realize this, and are placing a value of sixty and seventy dollars an acre on their improved farms, but would sell only because they can purchase unimproved land at such a low price that in another few years they would have equally as good farms as they left or such as their friends have in the United States.

The worth of the crops grown in Western Canada is of higher value than those of the States named, so why should the land not be worth fully as much. Any Canadian Government Agent will be glad to give you information as to homestead lands or where you can buy.—Advertisement.

PORTALES, NEW MEXICO

A Letter

Portales, N. M.
May, 24th 1916.

Cream producers, farmers and business men of Roosevelt county because of the unfortunate burning of your creamery, it has become necessary for the officers of the Roosevelt Creamery to recommend to you some responsible company, upon whom you could depend to handle your cream in your county till such a time as your local plant could be rebuilt. We have been fortunate enough to be favored with a recommendation, and we wish to make a plain statement of facts with reference to the policy which we will pursue now and in the future.

As you are well aware when your creamery was organized, and started we withdrew completely from your territory. During the last thirty days we have established a produce house in Portales for the purpose of buying poultry and eggs, but we do not believe you have ever heard our local representative Mr. Crow utter one word of criticism toward your local enterprise in fact our intention and desire has been to cooperate with them whenever possible. Plans are now under way to rebuild your creamery and we wish to state plainly that upon its completion, we will withdraw entirely from Portales and Elida. We will, of course, expect to continue our produce house in Portales, but not for the purpose of buying cream.

Albuquerque Creamery.
