PORTALES, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY JUNE 29, 1916.

Number 28

Boys' and Girls' Club Work

W. T. Conway, state leader of club work, spent two days recently with our County Superintendent, Mrs. S. F. Culberson, and Prof. John W. Russell visiting the several club organizations in Roosevelt county. They report some splendid work being done by the boys and girls raising chickens, pigs, garden and field crops, and doing cooking and sewing.

These clubs were organized and projects chosen early in the spring. The boys and girls are now working out these projects and keeping records on the cost. They receive lessons from the agricultural college every month and they meet monthly with their Local Leaders to study these lessons and discuss the best methods of doing their work. They also make reports to the State Leader on what has already been done.

The plan is to have local contests at Inez, Causey, Garrison, Bethel, Benson, Portales and other places and select the best in each project to represent these various clubs in a County Contest to be held at the County Fair. From six to ten winners among the boys and girls exhibiting in the county contest should have a free trip to the State Fair and represent the county in the state contest. It is expected that the State Fair will appropriate $1,000 for the support of the Boys' and Girls' Club Camp.

Other counties are already getting up their funds to send strong delegations to the Club Camp. Since Roosevelt county did so well last year she can not afford to be behind in the Boys' and Girls' club work. One hundred fifty dollars will pay the expenses of ten club winners to the State Encampment.

This will be money well spent to encourage better crops, better live stock, better homes and better boys and girls, the best crop that grows in Roosevelt or any other county.

Thus far, some of the best club work in the county is being done in the Benson community under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Russell, Mr. Conway, the State Leader, gave a canning demonstration Thursday at the Benson school house which was well attended and much appreciated by all who saw it.

Take Back that Book

Library Inventory—there is to be a clearance in the part of missing books.

The Womans Club Library issues a general call to all patrons to search the bookcase, the parlor table and the attic for chance volumes belonging to the library. The occasion is the inventory which the library is busy taking.

A library book is easily overlooked among other books and the library is anxious to draw in these overlooked books while the inventory is in progress. It will save many books from being reported as lost.

Road Work Progressing

Work on state highways under direction of State Engineer French is progressing rapidly. All obstructing sand beds between Clovis and Ft. Sumner on state road 19 has been removed and the road is now open as far as Ft. Sumner bridge. A small grading outfit is busy at Taiban and Tolar touching up some rough places, principally crossings at the Taiban and Almasso creek. Headquarter camp has been established at the west end of the Ft. Sumner bridge and work resumed toward Mountainair, near which is located the famous Abo Pass through the mountains, and from which this highway receives its name, the Abo Highway.

Work on state road 19 has been resumed at Kenna and will be rapidly pushed to Roswell by the way of a new bridge which will be erected at Acme. The contractors have most of the material for this bridge and all their tools assembled ready to start work as soon as some delayed material is delivered there.

Overland Car Burns

George C. Deen and Bracken Lawrence was driving Mr. Deen's new Overland car out about three miles west of town Monday when they discovered that the car was burning. The supposition was that it caught from a new clutch that had just been installed and was slipping while trying to pull a hill. We understand that George took out insurance when he bought the car about six months ago and the policy was still in effect.

Sweep Out the Filth

When a house floor is covered with filth all decent and self-respecting people get a broom and commence to sweep.

Mexico is the house floor today and the United States is the man with the broom. It is time to sweep.

For five years anarchy has been prevailing in that country, and for five years each day has seen the prevailing conditions just a little worse than the day before. It has been a retrograde movement since the day President Diaz fled to France.

Today we are witnessing the assembling of a new army of nearly a hundred thousand men called to the colors because the president deems it wise to sweep the dirty Mexican floor.

This movement of the troops to the Mexican border may be but the prelude to a general war with Mexico. If such it is to be, then the American army should not be withdrawn until every vestige of filth has been swept from the republic to our south and a land once fair shall have been made over into a place of habitation for rational human beings.

It is not a pleasant task to undertake, but it seems to be a burden placed upon the shoulders of the American people. It will be accomplished without fuss or feathers or blusters or blow—accomplished as the people perform their routine duties of life, for such is the American spirit. The Stars and Stripes should be respected wherever and whenever they are unfurled. Let us see that it is so.

Sweep Out the Filth
On the Other Pedal

This is the time when the national political campaign should be fought out on sane and gentlemanly lines—where brothers may remain brothers though they vote for different men.

With war confronting us in Mexico, and the possibility of the ultimate entry of Japan into the fray, we can not afford as a nation to have a party hatred and personal animosity injected into the campaign. We have need of every ounce of patriotism we can call into being if we are to escape even a portion of the horrors of the war across the water.

It is right that every American citizen should exercise his right to vote his own sentiments at the poles in November, but let us remain friends and brothers and united citizens while so doing.

For once at least in its history the people and candidates of the United States should conduct a national campaign without stooping to personal vilification and abuse.

While voting in accordance with our inalienable right to free thought and franchise, we should remember that our neighbor of the other political faith has the same right to his views, and they should be voiced at the polls without bias or prejudice from either source.

Make it a campaign of gentlemen, between gentlemen, and for gentlemen, and we will all be better gentlemen when the vote is announced.

Yellower Than Yellow

It gives an excruciating pain to the average country publisher to see the false and misleading statements that are sent out regarding national and military affairs by some of the yellow daily papers of the country.

They are so false and misleading that the devil himself would blush from shame if he were compelled to assume their authorship. And yet this aggregation of conglomerated bunk is swallowed by the public without a murmur of protest.

If this paper, or any other self-respecting country newspaper, were to disseminate such falsehoods, perversions and absurdities the editor would soon be invited to move on, for the public we have learned, looks for truthfulness in the country press.

Just why this double standard is countenanced and encouraged is more than we can say. But it is so.

Coming to the Front

No matter what our beliefs may be in the matter of woman's suffrage, candor compels the admission that the feminine cause is making strides toward the ultimate achievement of their goal.

A few years ago the mere idea of a woman voting met with ridicule upon every hand. It was considered a dream and a joke.

Today, however, every party has its strong and powerful defenders of woman's right to the franchise, and neither party cares to risk going radically on record against it.

Politicians everywhere concede a little and diplomatically slide over the rest. Many hundreds of them dread to be placed upon record as irrevocably opposed to suffrage for women.

Those who believe in the cause of woman should take heart. It is moving along, and the pace is by no means slow.

That bad little Mexican boy needs a spanking—and he is likely to get it.

Friends and Fellow Citizens

I take this means of thanking you for the honor you have conferred upon me and for the confidence imposed in me in making me your nominee for the office of Representative.

In making the race for the office I have run wholly upon my own merits and have tried to treat my opponents with due courtesy and respect, and so far as I know I have received like treatment from them. We entered the race friends and are friends still.

If elected in November I shall go to Santa Fe absolutely unpledged to any ring, clique or corporate interest, but as a servant of the common people.

It shall be my highest ambition to faithfully and impartially serve my constituents.

Should I fail in my efforts to secure such legislation as we need it will not be because those efforts were not earnest and untiring, that I may make enemies perhaps be misrepresented, and possibly slandered does not deter me in the least. All I ask is that you retain your confidence in me till you have proven me unworthy of it.

I shall immediately begin to prepare myself for the duties of the office and any suggestion you may offer will be kindly received and duly considered.

Thanking you for your loyal support I am yours in the interest of good government.

Roswell Road to be Opened

D. W. Jones, State Road Foreman, was in town Tuesday examining the records at the court house relative to road between Tolar and Taliban.

He reports the work progressing nicely on the state roads between Clovis and Mountainair and Kenna and Roswell, regardless of the continued dry weather. He thinks the road to Roswell will be opened for traffic in about thirty days.

Don't Forget

That the Ladies Band of Clovis composed of 25 pieces, will give an entertainment at the Baptist church Saturday at 8:30 p. m.

A free concert will be given on the courthouse lawn in the afternoon. This promises to be something that you will all enjoy.

Who will say now that a corporation has no patriotism or soul? Many of the large ones of the country are paying their National Guard employees their full salaries while they are on the border or in Mexico.

have to say about cream separators this week

Don't delay buying a De Laval Cream Separator a single day longer.

If you are selling cream or making butter and have no separator, or an inferior one, you are wasting cream every day you delay the purchase of a De Laval.

There can be only two real reasons for putting off buying a De Laval. Either you don't really appreciate how great your loss in dollars and cents actually is, or else you don't believe the De Laval Separator will make the savings we claim for it.

In either case, there is one sensible way to settle this matter. Let us set up a machine for you on your place and then you can see for yourself what the De Laval will do.

You have nothing to risk, and nearly two million other cow owners who have made this test have found they had much to gain. You can't afford to wait. Let the De Laval Separator start saving cream for you RIGHT NOW.

If you would really like to know just how much more cream you can get with a De Laval let us set up a machine for you on your place and have you try it out for yourself. Isn't this as fair a proposition as you ever heard of?

Just phone or drop us a postal and we will be glad to bring a machine out to your place any time you say.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

CARRANZA ASSUMES RESPONSIBILITY; WAR CLOUDS LOWER OMINOUSLY

QUICK REPLY FROM WASHINGTON DEMANDS THAT DICTATOR DEFINITELY DECLARE HIS ATTITUDE.

LARGE BODIES OF TROOPS RUSHING TO THE BORDER

Concentration of State Troops Proceeding Rapidly, and Soldiers Moving to the Border—Story of the Battle of Carrizal.

Washington.—A demand for the immediate release of the American troops taken prisoners at Carrizal, coupled with a stern notification that the United States expects an early statement of the purposes of the Carranza government, was telegraphed to Mexico City by Secretary Lansing.

The note discloses that the state department had received a communication from the de facto government stating that the Carrizal fight was the direct result of orders to attack American soldiers moving otherwise than toward the border, personally issued by General Carranza to General Trevino and by the latter communicated to General Pershing.

Definite Statement Asked. In reply Secretary Lansing requires that the de facto government transmit a definite statement "as to the course of action it has determined upon" through the usual diplomatic channels "and not through subordinate military officers."

The Mexican communication is construed, Secretary Lansing states, as a formal avowal of deliberately hostile action against the forces of the United States now in Mexico and of the purpose to attack without provocation whenever they move from their present position, despite the friendly mission on which they are engaged and which is reaffirmed in the American rejoinder.

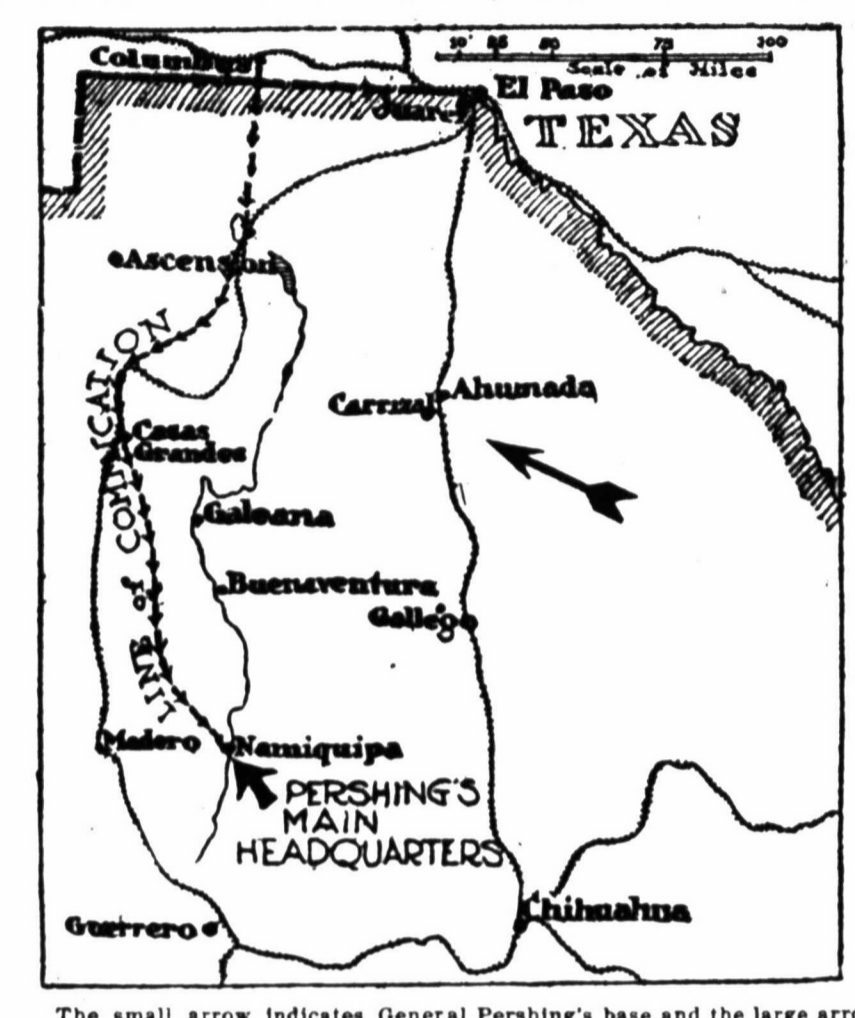

Force to Meet Force. General Carranza is required to place himself on record formally and the plain intimation lies behind the restrained language of Mr. Lansing's communication that force will be met with force. Apparently, however, the Washington government is determined the de facto government shall not evade responsibility before the world if war is forced upon the United States.

The text of the note to the Mexican de facto government, transmitted to James Linn Rodgers, special representative of the American government in Mexico City, says: "Message from Arredondo. 'Mr. Arredondo delivered to this government the following communication: 'I am directed by my government to inform you that the Carrizal incident, the chief executive, through the Mexican war department, has been made a result of the B. Trevino not to permit American forces from General Pershing's column to advance further toward the border, either east or west from the points where they are located and to oppose new incursions of American soldiers into Mexican territory.'

Engagement at Carrizal. There is no other construction upon the Carrizal incident, which was acknowledged by General Trevino, who acknowledged the receipt of the communication relative thereto. On the twenty-second instant, as your excellency knows, an American force moved eastward from its base, notwithstanding the above orders, and was engaged by Mexican troops at Carrizal, state of Chihuahua. As a result of the encounter several men on both sides were killed and wounded and seventeen American soldiers were made prisoners.

You are hereby instructed to hand to the minister of foreign relations of the de facto government the following: 'The government of the United States has not to other construction upon the Carrizal incident, which was acknowledged by General Trevino, who acknowledged the receipt of the communication relative thereto. On the twenty-second instant, as your excellency knows, an American force moved eastward from its base, notwithstanding the above orders, and was engaged by Mexican troops at Carrizal, state of Chihuahua. As a result of the encounter several men on both sides were killed and wounded and seventeen American soldiers were made prisoners.'

WHERE BATTLE WAS FOUGHT

The small arrow indicates General Pershing's base and the large arrow points to the location of the battle with Carranza forces.

The Battle of Carrizal

San Antonio.—American and Carranza troops fought a bloody battle only a few hours after President Wilson's 6,000-word rebuke to General Carranza had gone forward to Mexico City. The engagement took place on the Santa Inez, a ranch near the Mexican town of Carrizal, nine miles southwest of Villa Ahumada, the Mexican headquarters in Chihuahua.

The Americans lost twelve dead, including their commander, and seventeen prisoners, while fourteen Mexicans were killed and thirty wounded in the battle. The Mexicans captured twenty horses and twenty rifles at Carrizal. Among the American dead are: Capt. Chas. T. Boyd and Lieut. Henry R. Adair. The Mexican commander, Gen. Felix Gomez, was killed. The Americans were troops from the Tenth cavalry, the famous negro regiment that rescued Colonel T. Roosevelt from his desperate predicament on Little Round Top, near Santiago, Cuba, in 1898.

As very few of the troops have returned, it is believed that many of the wounded may never reach camp. Stragglers from the detachment that was in the fight have arrived at General Pershing's headquarters and told him that the fighting began with an unprovoked attack on the Americans at the conclusion of a parley with the Mexican commander, General Pershing transmitted this story to General Funston, who immediately referred it to the war department.

Oklahoma Mobilization at Ft. Sill

Fort Sill.—One thousand Oklahoma militiamen are camping on a plat 1,200,000 feet south of the old army post and west of the old stone corral built as a defense against the Indians. Bread, meat and coffee made up the first meal at mobilization quarters. The food was prepared by chefs from Company A of Clinton and Company G of Wewoka, the first companies to arrive.

Regulation army dog tents shelter the men. Shower baths have been installed in a frame building as one of the first moves for the comfort and health of the soldiers. Oklahoma City.—Oklahoma City, in a monster oration, shouted good-bye and wept good-bye to the state's own warriors, who left for the Fort Sill mobilization camp on four special transport trains after assembling at the capital.

The Attitude of Washington. Washington, D. C.—One fact stands out in the Mexican crisis. Apparently both the United States government and the de facto authorities of Mexico hope to treat the clash at Carrizal as an incident aggravating gravely strained relations, but not of itself likely to precipitate general hostilities. So far as the Washington administration is concerned no final decision can be reached until President Wilson has received a detailed report on the situation from American army officers.

CAVALRY CAPTAIN RETURNS TO CAMP

MOREY REACHES HEADQUARTERS AFTER BEING LEFT ON DESERT TO DIE.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BATTLE

Letter Says Mexicans Fired First After United States Troops Had Formed For Action.

San Antonio, Texas.—Left to die of loss of blood and thirst, two miles from the scene of the encounter between Mexican and American troops at Carrizal, Captain Lewis Morey of the Tenth cavalry has made his way back safe to the American lines.

A letter from Captain Morey, written while hiding in a hole near the scene of the fight at Carrizal after his men had been broken and scattered by the Mexican force reached Funston through General Pershing. In that letter Captain Morey had described how, fearing an ambush, the American troops, Captain Chas. T. Boyd commanding, had advanced in battle formation on the Mexicans who had come out from Carrizal during a parley over permission for the Americans to pass through the town; how the Mexicans had opened fire and how the remaining Americans after their first successful advance, had been forced to retreat and scatter each for himself.

How Captain Morey managed to make his way to the American main column, a distance of over eighty miles, is unknown here but it is inferred he was picked up by a detachment of the rescuing force sent out by General Pershing. No Food or Water. He was without food or water in a desert country and it is believed his sufferings must have been intense.

Nothing to confirm rumors of a clash between Pershing's men and Carranzistas was received by General Funston and all was reported quiet along the border. Four companies of engineers and four companies of coast artillery arrived at Fort Sam Houston within the last few days and two additional companies of engineers bringing with them the remainder of the pontoon equipment sent from Washington Barracks are here. Forty carloads of pontoon equipment already has been received here.

The armored motor truck which has been tested out here and found impervious to rifle fire has been assigned to the Nineteenth infantry, six companies of which are stationed here. It is reported in army circles that the order for aeroplanes given the eastern manufacturers comprised at least 200 machines. Text of Letter. Following is the text of Captain Morey's letter: "Carrizal, Mexico, June 21, 1915, 9 15 a. m. To Commanding Officer, Ojo Frenedrico: "My troop reached Ojo Santo Domingo at 5 30 p. m. June 20. Met Troop C under Captain Boyd. I came under Captain Boyd's command and marched my troop in rear for Carrizal at 4 15 a. m. Reached open field to southwest of town at 6 30 a. m. Going to Ahumada. "Captain Boyd sent in a note requesting permission to pass through the town. This refused. State: we could go to the north, but not east. Captain Boyd said he was going to Ahumada at this time. "He was talking with Carranza commander. General Gomez sent a written note to me that Captain Boyd was bringing force in town and have a conference. Captain Boyd feared an ambush. He was under the impression that the Mexicans would run as soon as we fired. "We formed for attack, his intention being to move up to the line of about 120 Mexicans on the edge of the town. We formed C troop on the left in line of skirmishers, on platoon of K troop right in line and another K troop platoon on extreme right echeloned a little to the rear. "Manner of Signing Correct. That, according to Mrs. Morey, was the manner in which Captain Morey signed all communications to her. "When we were within 30 yards the Mexicans opened fire and a straggler before we fired a shot; then we opened up. They did not run, but to make a long account short, after about an hour's fire, in which both troops had advanced, C troop to position of Mexican machine gun and K troop circling in slightly to the left. We were very busy on the right keeping off a flank attack. A group of Mexicans left town, went around our rear and led our horses away at a gallop. "At about 9 o'clock one platoon of Troop K, which was on our right, fell back. Sergeant said he could not stay here. Both platoons fell back about 1,000 yards to the west, and then, together with some men of Troop C who were there, these men scattered. "I was slightly wounded. Captain Boyd, a man told me, was killed. Nothing was seen of Lieutenant A. J. after fight started, so man I saw stated. "I am hiding in a hole 2,000 yards from field and have one other wounded man and three men with me. (Signed): "MOREY, Captain."

Flag for Old Vincennes. The city council of Vincennes, Ind., is considering the adoption of a flag for Vincennes to be used as the city's official emblem during the coming Indiana centennial celebration.

The suggested design is intended to set forth the British rule of Vincennes by an old English red "V" in the blue center and the French control by a white fleur-de-lis, which was the national emblem of France during the time this territory was under the French government.

Radiating from the center there are 18 white stripes, indicating that Indiana was the 18th state admitted to the Union. There also are 48 small white stripes, indicating the number of states now in the Union.

THE NOTE WHICH MAY PRECIPITATE A WAR

THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO THE FOREIGN RELATIONS OF THE DE FACTO GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO

Department of State, Washington, June 20, 1914. Sir: I have read your communication which was delivered to me on May 22, 1914, under the signature of the chief executive of the de facto government of Mexico, on the subject of the presence of American troops in Mexican territory.

The government of the United States has viewed with deep concern and increased disappointment the progress of the revolution in Mexico. Continuous bloodshed and disorders have marked its progress. For three years the Mexican republic has been torn with civil strife.

American garrisons have been attacked at night, American soldiers killed and their equipment and horses stolen, American ranches have been raided, property stolen and destroyed and American trains wrecked and attacks on American territory, Carranzista adherents and even Carranzista soldiers took part in the looting, burning and killing.

So far has the indifference of the de facto government to these atrocities gone that some of these leaders as I am advised, have received not only the protection of that government but encouragement and aid as well.

The government has repeatedly requested in the strongest terms that the de facto government safeguard the rights of the American citizens and furnish the protection, which international obligation imposes on the government of the United States.

In fact, as I am informed, while the American troops were moving toward the American frontier in the neighborhood of Columbus, N. M., a single Mexican soldier was seen in the vicinity. Yet the Mexican authorities were fully cognizant of the movement, for on March 4, as General Gaviña publicly announced he had advised the American military authorities of the outlaw's approach to the border so that they might be prepared to prevent him from crossing the border.

Villa's unhindered activity culminated in the unprovoked and cold-blooded attack upon American soldiers and citizens in the town of Columbus on the night of March 8, the details of which do not need repetition here in order to refresh your memory with the hideousness of the crime.

After murdering, burning and plundering, Villa and his band, fleeing south, passed within sight of the Carranzista military post at Casas Grandes and no effort was made to stop him by the officers and garrison of the de facto government stationed there.

In the face of these depredations, not only on American soil, but on American soldiers, citizens and homes on American territory, the preparation to apprehend and punish the guilty, or possibly considered inadvisable, to apprehend and punish the guilty, or possibly considered inadvisable, to apprehend and punish the guilty.

I have noted the fact that your communication is not limited to a discussion of the deplorable conditions existing along the border and the important bearing upon the peaceful relations of our governments but that an effort is made to connect it with other circumstances in order to support, if possible, a mistaken interpretation of the attitude of the government of the United States toward Mexico.

In reply to this sweeping charge I can truthfully affirm that the American government has given every possible encouragement to the de facto government in the pacification and rehabilitation of Mexico. From the moment of its recognition it has had the undivided support of this government.

Can the de facto government doubt that if the United States had turned covetous eyes on the Mexican territory, it would have found many pretents in the past for the gratification of its desires? Can that government doubt that months ago when the war between the revolutionary factions was in progress, a much better opportunity than the present was afforded for American intervention if such had been the purpose of the United States as the de facto government now insinuates.

In conclusion, the Mexican government invites the United States to support its assurance of friendship with real and effective acts, which can be no other than the immediate withdrawal of the American troops. For the reasons I have herein fully set forth this request of the de facto government cannot now be entertained.

His Celebration

MAN WHO MADE THE FOURTH

LIKE a firecracker that explodes quietly and finally explodes long after the rest of the bunch have banged and sizzled their way into oblivion, comes tardily the story of the man to whom we owe our Fourth of July.

The friends of a Declaration of Independence were afraid that they might not be in a majority by the time the Philadelphia gathering. It is affirmed that they counted noses and were fearful that they would fall short by one or two votes.

THE FLAG THEY LOVE. The revolution of liberty has no validity unless it is a continuing one. Carved into pallid marble and draped with a flag, it is chilled and dead.

EMBLEMS MUST NOT FADE. Duty of Americans to Hold High Forever the Glory Handed Down by Their Forefathers.

IT WAS the practice of Americans for many years to observe the Fourth of July patriotically. Their celebrations did not consist of noise alone.

Nation's Debt to Almighty God. Any celebration of Independence day which does not give the place of prominence to God is inadequate and unworthy.

A GIANT CRACKER. The revolution of liberty has no validity unless it is a continuing one. Carved into pallid marble and draped with a flag, it is chilled and dead.

What proportion of the rising generation knows or has accepted the "self-evident truths" upon which the republic rests?

That all men are created equal? That they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights?

That among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness? That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed?

Bumper Grain Crops

Good Markets—High Prices Prizes Awarded to Western Canada for Wheat, Oats, Barley, Alfalfa and Grasses

The winnings of Western Canada at the Soil Products Exposition at Denver were easily made. The list comprised Wheat, Oats, Barley and Grasses, the most important being the prizes for Wheat and Oats and sweep stake on Alfalfa.

No less important than the splendid quality of Western Canada's wheat and other grains, is the excellence of the cattle fed and fattened on the grasses of that country.

Western Canada produced in 1915 over three times as much wheat as all of the United States, or over 300,000,000 bushels.

Canada in proportion to population has a greater exportable surplus of wheat this year than any country in the world, and at present prices you can figure out the revenue for the producer.

"Bull" Durham is Pure all the Way from the Leaf to the Finished Flake

After the leaf for "Bull" Durham Has Passed Through the "Breaker"

After It Has Passed Through the Third Granulator.

After It Has Passed Through the Tenth and Last Granulator.

After It Has Passed Through the Sieves—the Finished Flake.

Where the Golden Virginia-Carolina Leaf for "Bull" Durham Starts on Its Journey

Only Pure Virginia-Carolina Leaf Goes Through the "Bull" Durham Manufacturing System—Only Pure Tobacco Comes Out as "Bull" Durham

Grouped about a moving belt on the top floor of the "Bull" Durham factory at Durham, N. C., are giant hogsheads of tobacco leaf—107 of them.

To the eye they show a mass of color—soft, rich, golden—the distinctive, individual, matchless shades that belong solely to famous bright Virginia-Carolina leaf.

Nothing else ever goes into that big room—nothing but this pure, ripe leaf.

From each of the 107 hogsheads a certain quantity is taken and placed on the moving belt.

The hogsheads differ slightly in character. They are of different crops, are raised in different sections, vary somewhat in body and aroma. All the 107 are required to make up the wonderful blend which has made "Bull" Durham the world's best known and best liked cigarette tobacco.

The freight of golden leaf moves forward on the belt to the "breaker," then on into a series of ten granulators, and finally into a system of sieves, coming out three floors below in fragrant flakes of uniform size—the finished "Bull" Durham.

The entire operation of making "Bull" Durham, from the first "breaking" of the leaf to the final sifting of the tiny flakes, is carried on automatically inside a continuous tight-closed wooden flume.

The pure leaf is kept pure. No foreign matter of any kind can get mixed with the tobacco at any stage of its manufacture.

And that's why "Bull" Durham stands every test for purity.

You can test it yourself. Pour some "Bull" Durham on your hand or on a piece of paper. Separate the grains—examine them closely. You will find only tiny flakes of pure tobacco—nothing else looks like the golden Virginia-Carolina leaf used in "Bull" Durham.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO

FREE An illustrated Booklet, showing correct way to "Roll Your Own" Cigarettes, and a package of cigarette papers, will be mailed, free, to any address in United States on request. Address "Bull" Durham, Durham, N. C.
