Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wags problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employes, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employes for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railways be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods: 1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to obtained and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or 2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employes are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.

The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Governployes as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would pro-tect the interests of the railroad employes, the owners

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employes, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employes, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.

When you use a De Laval Separator you not only get more cream but better cream as well

THE best evidence of this is that during the last twenty-five years butter made from De Laval separated cream has invariably scored the highest at all important contests and state fairs. Practically all the cream entered in the International Milk and Cream Show held in connection with the Panama-Pacific Exposition, was separated by De Lavals, and every first prize, and most all the other prizes, were won by De Laval separated creama

These facts are simply further proof of De Laval supremacy in everything that goes to make a good cream separator. Don't buy any separator until you give us an opportunity to let you see and try a De Laval. We will be glad to send one out to your farm on trial any time you say. Just phone, send a post card, or call and we will be glad to give you all the information you wish.

"We are very glad you have come and you are truly welcome, Mr. Warden, or shall I call you Albert? You know your mother is the dearest friend of mine. Yours brought my father and mother together years ago, and if it hadn't been for that you would not be here today, nor I either." The young man gazed studiously into the friendly, intelligent eyes of the speaker. She was not pretty, in fact any of the girls scattered about the lawn excelled her in loveliness, but there was something genuine and charming in all that she said and did.

This funny looking wagon with an engine on it is the first "Made in America" locomotive. Don't look much like the way we make 'em nowadays, does it?

Peter Cooper made it about eight-five years ago for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. It was small, but could pull 40 people 18 miles an hour. However, the real beginning of the manufacture of locomotives was in 1832 when Mathias Baldwin of Philadelphia built the Ironsides, and the business which he began has grown until it is the largest in the world. The engines also have grown.

The first ones made weighed from four to six tons, while now many weigh 100 tons and can pull a load of 5,000 tons at a good rate of speed. Kansas City Post.

In the sixtles the Union Pacific railroad was built west from Omaha and seek to forget her in some distant the Central Pacific (now part of the place. When the builders came to the Great Salt Lake basin at Ogden they veered the road to the north and went around the lake to "Mary," he began, "I have something Lucien, a distance of 147 miles. In a third of a century engines grew five times as powerful. Freight trains Where once one train a day ran each way a dozen now puff around the lake, "I love you. Mary, is it the the aeroplane flies, the distance was about 103 miles, 30 miles of which was covered by the waters of Great Salt against the water was a level roadway 103 miles long, with no mountains to climb. But there washed the salt waters of the great lakes.

So of the 271/2 miles through water nearly 16 miles were to be a solid ridge of earth 16 feet wide at the top and 17 feet above the water. The engineers decided to build a mile and a quarter of trestle a week, over 1,000 feet for each work day.

In June, 1902, trainloads of steel rails reached the lake. In July came the first piles. Many of them were so embodied in both the old and the new. long that three cars had to be used to carry them. Three thousand men went to work. At night men worked in the gravel pits by electric light. In the cold of winter and the heat of summer there was no stopping.

Sixteen hundred and eighty tons of fresh water were used each day, all of offered by the Liverpool & Manchesit brought by train-some 80 miles, some 130 miles. Over 38,000 trees cal machine capable of carrying paswere cut down to make piles. On No- sengers. vember 13, 1903, the track from the east and the track from the west were joined. The great bridge across the lake is now a solid path, except for 12 miles, which is a trestle.

Every 15 feet 5 piles are driven in a row crosswise to the track. They oader away and gathered about a are fastened together on their sides with heavy timbers, four inches and eight inches thick. Across their tops and joining them together is a heavy beam 18 feet long and a foot square. Connecting this beam with the next set of piles 15 feet away are 11 heavy timbers laid lengthwise with the track, three inches thick. Above that is a coat of asphalt, then a foot or more of rock ballast on which the track and rails are laid. The floor of the trestle is 16 feet wide. The cut-off from Lucien to Ogden is almost as level as a table. For 36 miles there is no grade. For 30 miles more the grade is so slight that an average person would need to travel a half mile to rise his own height. Nowhere is the grade over five inches to the hundred feet. The track is above the water 19 feet. The solid way has cut off one north arm of the lake into which the Bear river flows. This has made that part of the lake so fresh that it has frezen over in winter, though the more salty water on the other side of the track never freezes. Four and a half million dollars has been spent to make this highway.-Indianapolis News.

CENTENARY OF LOCOMOTIVE

Progress Made in 100 Years Shown by Comparison of the Billy No. 1 and the Matt H. Shay.

In connection with the completion of the Matt E. Shay, the largest locomotive ever put into service, the Erie railroad has issued a pamphlet describing the development of the locomotive since the Billy No. 1, the first locomotive with direct transmission of power to the wheels, was put into service in 1815. Something of the change made in locomotive construction during the last 100 years may be realized by a comparison of the Billy No. 1 and the Matt H. Shay. The Billy No. 1 was nine feet long, weighed 8,000 pounds and had a haufing capacity of 8,000 pounds, distributed on ten wagons. It had four driving wheels two feet in diameter. The Matt H. Shay has a length of 105 feet, a weight of 410 tons, and its hauling capacity is 640 gondola cars with a total weight of 90,000,000 pounds. It has 24 driving wheels of 63-inch diameter. If the Shay were placed at the head of a train of its maximum hauling capacity of 640 cars, the length of engine and train would be four and three-quarters miles. In actual service it has pulled a train two miles long, weighing 35,284,000

Other large locomotives are in service in this country. The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe uses one with 16 driving wheels. Its weight is 616,000 pounds, and it can draw a train weighing 60,000,000 pounds. The Missouri Pacific owns a mountain type locomotive weighing 296,000 pounds which can take a train of 1,640,000 pounds up a grade of more than 100 feet to the mile. The Chemin de Fer du Nord, a French railroad, operates a locomotive which weighs 225,000 pounds. These engines make a long step from the primitive Billy No. 1. but the principle of direct drive is There were locomotives before the Billy No. 1, but it was this engine upon which, in 1815, the British government issued the basic direct drive patents. The Billy No. 1 was the invention of the Stephensons, George and Robert, who in 1829 won the prize ter railroad for a thoroughly practi-

SHORT CUT IS OFTEN FATAL

From 5,000 to 7,000 Trespassers on the Railroad Tracks of Country Are Killed Each Year.

Taking a short cut through the railroad yards to get home, John Jones was struck by a switch engine and killed.-News Item.

John Jones was a free American citizen and counted walking on the railroad tracks as among his rights under the Constitution. It was his custom when he got home at night by cutting through the yards to take up his newspaper, settle himself deeply into his chair and read until, speaking for the third time, and sharply, his wife called him to his meat and potatoes. Once in a while Jones would come upon accounts of railroad wrecks. They always aroused the deepest indignation in him. "'Tis nothing but criminal negligence causes 'em," he'd say.

It is a way with us Americans to see things criminal in our neighbors. none of them in ourselves. Take John Jones. He thought of railway wrecks as forms of depravity. But there was nothing wrong in cutting through the railway yards and running the risk of making his wife a widow, his children a chance to take the best exercise in orphans. If you told him that about 80 or 90 people were killed in train accidents last year, he'd suggest hang ing a few railroad presidents. But if you said that the number of trespassers killed varied from five thousand to seven thousand persons a year, he had no comment to make. The subject didn't interest him much.

Well, John Jones is gone now. His wife is in black. His children have for the cottage. Jones' neighbors still use the tracks as their highway.

Corporations have been taught a good deal of recent years as to their idea to take up the case of John Jones now !- Toledo Blade.

NORTH AND SOUTH HIGHWAY

Memorial to Character and Achievement of Andrew Jackson-Road Born in Sunny South.

(By P. L. ATHERTON, President of Jackson Highway Association.) The idea of a great North and South highway, as a memorial to the character and achievement of Andrew Jackson was first conceived about 1910 by the Daughters of 1812, an organization of patriotic representative southern women. As first outlined, the scheme was to perfect a highway leading from Chicago to New Orleans. More or .less missionary work was done along the proposed line of the road by the Jackson highway committee of the Daughters of 1812, of which committee Miss Alma Rittenberry of Birmingham, Ala., was chairman, but no definite form was given to the organization until in July, 1915, at a meeting in Birmingham, Ala. At this meeting a temporary organization was formed, consisting of men interested in good roads from Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. It was further determined at this meeting that the Jackson highway should run from Chicago on the northwest to Louisville. Ky., and from Niagara Falls on the northeast to the same point, the two divisions here joining and consinuing southward through Nashville to New Orleans. A few weeks later the Jackson Highway association convention, for the purpose of forming a permanent organization and of formally launching the whole movement, was held in Nashville, Tenn. The permanent organization was effected at this conven-

In the rapid development of the good roads movement in the last five years various local road organizations have been formed in the states through which the Jackson highway runs, and a great deal of valuable work done in improving roads controlled by these organizations. The Jackson highway completed, will be largely the welding together of road systems developed by these smaller associations, making a continuous north and south highway between Chicago on the northwest. Buffalo on the northeast, and New Orleans on the south.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest coses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Excuses for Not

Being Saved

TEXT-Lord I will follow thee, but-"-This is what a good many people are saying in their hearts if not with plan of salvation. They know they must believe on the Lord Jesus Christ in order to be saved, and they know that when they do believe on him with their hearts they will follow him in their life and con-

The latter is something they do not wish to do because it means a turning away from things in which they now find profit or pleasure. They do not reckon on the fact that when they truly believe on the Lord Jesus Christ they will receive a clean heart and have renewed within them a right spirit. When a man is thus regenerated he no longer wishes to do the things he used to do and finds it easy to follow Christ.

In their struggle to put off the day of decision they frame various excuses, like the man of the text who, when our Lord said unto him: "Follow me," replied: "Lord I will follow thee, but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at my home." Ordinarily there could be no objection to a man's doing that, but on this occasion the command of Christ was peremptory, and the man's action would determine at once whether he preferred his family to Christ. There comes a time in every man's life when he must decide this question, and determine in the presence of his own soul and in the presence of God whether God comes first or not.

Hypocrites in the Church. 1. Some say there are so many hyp ocrites in the church, forgetting that there are many hypocrites in the business or profession by which they earn their livelihood, and yet they do not renounce that business or pro-

A good way to meet this objection is to ask whether they think hypocrites will go to heaven? As they will certainly answer, no, then it might be asked whether they themselves can go to heaven without Christ. As they must reply to this question, as well as to the other, in the negative, they will be brought to see that they must dwell with hypocrites throughout eternity unless they become saved. The inquiry brings to mind the case of a certain man who was always giving this reason for not accepting Christ. And yet his faithful wife heard him cry in the night more than "God, be merciful to me, a once: sinner." It is a sad thing for a soul under conviction of sin, to cast away the hope of salvation for so flimsy a reason as the presence of hypocrites in the visible church.

Giving Up or Taking On, Which? 2. Others hesitate to accept Christ because they think they will have so 11 Backerlint still joes a thriving much to give up. But they are ignorant of the fact that the Christian life is from every point of view a gain rather than a loss. You give up sin, but you take holiness. You give up sorrow, but you take joy. You give up death, but you take life. You give up self, but you take God.

D. L. Moody used to tell of a soap manufacturer who was under conviction of sin, but hesitated to accept Christ. He pressed him for a reason, and at last he said it was his business that kept him back. "That soap," said he, "will do everything I claim for it, but the fact is it will destroy the clothes. Now if I accept Christ, I must give it up."

Here was a plain issue which many another man has had to face, but what folly it is to hesitate a moment which way to decide! Moreover, many a man has given up his business for Christ and found afterward that Christ had a great deal better business to give him than he had ever dreamed of; for, as the Bible says, "Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come."

3, "I am afraid I won't hold out," is another very common excuse. But the mistake here lies in the fact that the man is thinking of his own strength instead of the strength of

There is a Latin motto on the facade of a Y. M. C. A. building in New England that sets this truth before us very tersely and beautifully. The words are "Teneo et teneor," which means, "I hold and am held." It suggests the picture of a strong man with a child in his arm ascending a dangerous cliff. The child is clinging to the man, but it is because the man is holding the child that the latter makes the ascent with safety. In like manner the faith of the believer causes him to cling to Jesus Christ. but it is Jesus Christ that keeps and

Unlike common corn flakes, the New Post Toasties don't mush down when milk or cream is added.

And they have a charming new flavour-delicious, different, the true essence of the corn-not found in corn flakes heretofore.

The intense heat of the new process of manufacture raises tiny bubbles on each delicious brown flake and these little puffs are the identifying feature.

These new flakes are firmer, crisper, and don't crumble in the package—in comparison, ordinary corn flakes are as "chaff."

Capital Has the Power to Prevent Growth of Discontent

By JOHN SKELTON WILLIAMS

In almost exact ratio when wealth and capital increase, the bitterness against wealth and capital also increases. Not socialism, but united action among financial forces to distribute their working capital can prevent growth of this discontent.

The building up of small local industries undertaken by capable and villing hands, the development of the great fundamental agricultural industry, helping of the little business man who has character, ability and ambition, offers tremendous opportunities not only for the increase of an aggregate wealth and power, but for distribution of them, so that no worthy man may be hopeless.

Yellow Decorations in Home Will Help Dispel Pessimism

By MISS ARMINTA HOLMAN Instructor in color in Kansas Agricultural College

If you are a pessimist, yellow decorations in your home will help dispel the grouch. If you have a small room and want to make it appear more roomy, furnish it in blue. Blue is a receding, cool color. A bit of yellow used in decorating a room finished in blue adds cheeriness, making the room appear cool, bright and pleasant. Green, a combination of blue and yellow, is a soothing, restful color, and may well be used on the walls and floor if graved.

Red is a warm, exciting and advancing color. A room furnished in ed appears smaller than its actual size. When combined with yellow it gives both warmth and cheer, and is the basis for the rich tones of brown and tan. Light tones suggest youth, frivolity, informality and femininity, while dark tones suggest strength, dignity, repose and masculinity.

Unwelcome Task May Be Met Either by Fighting or Wooing It

There are 'wo ways by which it can be annihilated. One is by arraying ourselves in our armor, so to speak, as they picture the Christians of and the environment and that he did old, and going out to conquer as they fought sin. The other is to woo it, not care a great deal whether school as a girl a refractory lover, studying its possibilities until a real interest | kept or not. Working Men of United States Not Getting Square Deal

By HENRY FORD of Detroit, Mich.

The working men of the United States are not getting a square deal. If the employers of this country don't squeeze the water out of their securities and begin dividing up with the working men right away, we are going to have serious trouble-very serious trouble.

Union labor doesn't mean anything to me. About the only ones who profit by organized labor are the business agent and the walking delegateand now and then they happen to be grafters. But the laboring classes of this country deserve better wages. It is their right. We don't know such a thing as a union labor man in our plant, but we recognize human beings and their right to just wages.

Ideal Americanism Not Complete Without Woman Suffrage

By JOHN NICHOL

I do not believe we can become ideal Americans as long as we withhold woman suffrage. The practical outcome of granting it is less vital and important than the individual and national belief in the principle.

Our position today has been reached with the Declaration of Independence as a stepping-stone, and is the result of our wishes and belief made active. Our fancied government of the people, by the people, and for the people, is a myth. It is a masculine rule. The women, half of the people, are simply wards. Equal suffrage is a basic principle of Americanism. Liberty and equality is impossible without this belief.

Marriage Laws Rather Than Divorce Statutes Need Reforming

By REV. F. R. MARGETTS of Spokane, Wash.

How frequently the phrase, "What God hath joined together," is quoted. I want to say that I believe God has nothing to do with a large percentage of marriages, especially those that lead to the divorce court. God is not a party to marriages for title nor marriages for money. In seeking to reform the divorce laws we are beginning at the wrong end to correct this evil. We should work for stricter marriage laws and more thought by marrying couples.

The general impression seems to be | the opening of the season Leslie Mann that ball players have outlived their usefulness when they pass the age of thirty. This, of course, is disproved by the baseball Hans Wagner has been playing for the Pirates this year and for the past 12 years.

Frank Schulte of the Cubs also denies that a player's ability begins to deteriorate when he passes the age of thirty, and is proving it by the game he has been playing this year. There are others of the same opinion. Gavvy Cravath of the Phillies says a man should play satisfactorily until he is forty, if he takes care of himself. Last season and the year before

Manager Tinker was somewhat disturbed over Schulte when President run-making this season.
