Contract is Let

The First National bank this week let the contract for their new bank building to Jaynes & Dyer, of Amarillo. These are the same gentlemen who had the contract on the new school buildings. The contract provides for one bank building 30x80 feet, one store building 20x80. Both to be of pressed brick with brown brick front, trimmed with white stone. The two new buildings and the post office will be steam heated and provided with electric fans for summer ure. The interior finishings of the bank will be of brown marble, imported, and tile floors. The contract price, outside of the interior finishings is twenty-five thousand dollars, the finishings and furniture will cost another ten thousand, which brings the whole cost up to thirty-five thousand dollars. This will easily be the finest banking house, in point of beauty and materials used between here and Albuquerque, and it is safe to say that there will not be another anywhere that will have any more elaborate or handsome fixtures than will this one. It is expected that actual work will begin the first of the week and that it will be completed within ninety days. Portales has made many thousands of dollars worth of improvements during the present summer, probably more in comparison than any other city or town in the state, and every one has been of the very best. This new structure will add greatly to the value of the town and particularly to the business block in which it will be erected. The old First National site is one of the best locations in the city.

Some Irish Lemons

Tom Taylor made some little record this year on Irish Potatoes. He has out about six acres of which he has harvested one acre. So far the yield has been six thousand pounds per acre, which at three cents would bring him one hundred and eighty dollars per acre in money. As to quality, they far surpass anything on the market that has been shipped in, Greeleys not excepted. They are large, smooth, free from blemishes and the flavor is the best in the world. Mr. Taylor also raised several other varieties of crop that have proved eye-openers to those who did not know what labor, water and seed would produce in this country. He brought a sack of these Irish lemons to the Journal office and the force is now living high as a consequence.

A Lucky Accident

On Wednesday of this week, at about one o'clock occurred one of the luckiest accidents the writer has ever witnessed. A car driven by a young lady, was headed south on the street that the Journal office fronts on; also there was another car towing a car behind. The young lady turned out to pass the car being towed, which put her on the wrong side of the road. At the same time two boys came from the south on this street riding a bicycle and, meeting these two cars, one on either side, attempted to steer their course between the

Walter O. Oldham Opened the Ball with a Three Thousand Dollar Call and the Portales Lumber Company Took on Another Thousand. Those Who Could Paid in Full While the Banks Furnished the Money for All Who were Shy. It is Believed the County Has Taken Up Its Full Apportionment of the Second Issue of Our Liberty Bonds

The drive for subscriptions to the second Liberty Bond issue was successful and brought in many dollars. The people of Portales, alone responded to the tune of fifteen thousand two hundred, the largest subscription being placed was that of W.O. Oldham, which was for three thousand, with the Portales Lumber company coming next with one thousand. Mr. Ribble, in placing this subscription, stated that Mr. Rockwall had written him that each of the lumber yards controlled by him had been authorized to take one thousand dollars in each town where his yards were situated, and in all cases these subscriptions were paid in full at the time of subscribing. Both of our banks did their whole duty in helping to swell the amount taken and burdened themselves with a lot of gratuitous bookkeeping in order to help those who could only take advantage of the two per cent a month proposition. This is no small job they have undertaken and both the government and the public should appreciate it at its full value. If the other towns in the county respond as liberally as did Portales the amount allotted us will have been more than taken. Following is the list of those who bought:

two and was ridden down by the car driven by the young lady. The boys were not seriously injured, but the bike was a total wreck. While the casualties are not serious, it was nothing short of a miracle that one, or both, of boys were not killed. This is the second accident to occur within the past week, and in both cases was the result of carelessness on the part of some. The Journal is not attempting to place the blame, but it does believe that cases of this character should be investigated and those to blame should have to pay some penalty, at least enough to make them more careful in future.

FARM FOR RENT—one mile from the city school, see Ed J. Neer.

A. J. Sullens and wife left the first of the week for Roswell, at which place they will make their future home. Mr. Sullens has accepted a position as mechanic and vulcanizer in a garage.

The Ladies Home mission society met at the Methodist church Thursday evening and an interesting program was rendered by various members.

Reed-Oldham Marriage

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Thenie McLemore Oldham to Mr. Ellis Baskette Reed, of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, on Thursday, October, 25th.

Mr. Reed, the groom is a merchant of Shelbyville, Tennessee, and has quite a few friends and acquaintances in Portales, made while visiting here. He is said to be a young man of many sterling habits, honest, intelligent, industrious and of a generous and genial disposition; one well calculated to make the lady of his choice a kind and loving helpmate through life.

Miss Thenie Mac is known by every citizen of Portales, both the young and the old. She is one of those young ladies who make and keep friends. Her life, for the most part, has been spent in this city, and her education and mode of life have been along lines best calculated to properly prepare her for the duties of true womanhood. There is not a citizen of the town who will not wish her all the happiness possible in her new life.

The young couple will make their home in Shelbyville, where they will be at home to their friends after November the 10th. Miss Thenie Mac has a host of friends in Portales who will miss her sadly but they will all join with the Journal in wishing her and the gentleman of her choice long life and happiness.

Elida Builds Road

Last week the people of Elida, raised within the town, one thousand dollars in cash, and the farmers and ranchmen raised another thousand to be used in building a good road to Jenkins, the junction of the Portales-Lovington road. There is now at work on this piece of highway two gangs of men, both under the general supervision of Highway Superintendent D. W. Jones. This is a piece of excavation work identical with that on the road between Portales and Delphos, one of the best, if not the best, dirt road in the state. The people of Elida have shown no little degree of progressiveness and good business judgement in taking to this road proposition. They appear to realize that trade will not pull heavy roads to get to any man's town, and that if they want the trade of any community it is up to them to make it possible for that trade to get to their place or business.

The Misses Grinstead, entertained with true royalty, at their home Wednesday evening October, 31st. The occasion was Halloween, "the night of spooks" and spooks there were between fifty and sixty. The pleasure of the guests cannot be described. It cannot even be imagined. Good things of all descriptions were ate, ate and ate. We cannot say more. The Misses Grinstead have the idea of a real entertainment down pat.

C. C. Mason, one of the sure enough old timers, was a visitor in Portales the first of the week. He is now living in King county, Texas, but was one of the very first settlers in this county.

Catarrh of Stomach

Mrs. Mary Fennell, R. F. D., Ponna, Missouri, writes:

"I wish to say a few words in the praise of Peruna. I have used it with good results for cramps in the stomach. Also found it the very thing for catarrh of the head. My sister was cured of catarrh of stomach by the use of Peruna."

Mrs. E. T. Chomer, 69 East 42nd St., Chicago, Ill., says: "Manalin best laxative on the market for liver and bowels, very good for indigestion and heart burn."

ANY CORN LIFTS OUT, DOESN'T HURT A BIT!

No foolishness! Lift your corns and calluses off with fingers—It's like magic!

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn, can harmlessly be lifted right out with the fingers if you apply upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority. For little cost one can get a small bottle of freezone at any drug store, which will positively rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain.

This simple drug dries the moment it is applied and does not even irritate the surrounding skin while applying it or afterwards.

This announcement will interest many of our readers. If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to surely get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house.—adv.

If there is any one point which in six thousand years of thinking about right or wrong, wise and good men have agreed upon, or successively by experience discovered, it is that God dislikes idle and cruel people more than any others.—Ruskin.

PALATABLE COLD THINGS.

These are always favorites at all times under most circumstances and conditions.

Oatmeal Beverage.—This is a drink which is especially cooling, and a great favorite on the farm. Take a quarter of a pound of oatmeal, one cupful of sugar and the strained juice of two lemons. Add a half cupful of boiling water to the oatmeal, mix the other ingredients and pour into a gallon of boiling water, stir well, put through a sieve and chill before serving.

Apple Water.—Core, pare and cut four apples in small pieces, then put them into a pitcher, adding the lemon rind from a small lemon, a quarter of a cupful of sugar and four cupfuls of water, boiling hot; cover the pitcher and let it stand aside to cool.

A tablespoonful of ginger mixed with three of sugar stirred into a pint of ficed water makes a fine drink.

Boston Cream.—Take three quarts of boiling water, one and a half pounds of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of lemon extract, two ounces of tartaric acid and the whites of two eggs. Boil the water and allow it to get cold, then stir in the other ingredients, beating the whites until stiff. Mix well and pour into bottles and keep in the ice chest. When serving, put a pinch of soda in a glass and half fill the tumbler with ice, pour in enough of the cream to fill the glass and drink immediately.

Chocolate Sirup.—Take three squares of chocolate, one ounce of cocoa, one and a half pounds of sugar and a pint of water, one and a half teaspoonfuls of vanilla. Boil the cocoa in a double boiler ten minutes with a half-cupful of water; grate the chocolate and mix it with one-third of its measure in sugar; add this to the boiling cocoa, stirring constantly, then add the remainder of the sugar and boil for ten minutes. Remove from the fire, strain, cool and add the vanilla. This will keep in the icechest until it is used. A tablespoonful of the sirup added to cold milk or icewater topped with a marshmallow or whipped cream makes a most inviting drink.

He is great who is what he is from nature, and who never reminds us of others.—Emerson.

LOW-COST DISHES.

While the corn season lasts there are many most appetizing dishes which may be made from it or in combination with other foods.

Fried Corn.—Cook bacon for the family, then into the hot bacon fat turn in corn cut from half a dozen ears, stir and mix well; then add a half-cupful of water, cover and cook slowly until tender. Season with pepper and more salt if needed.

Corn and Tomatoes.—Cut the corn from the cob and stew until nearly dry, add a third as much stewed tomatoes as corn, and season, using a teaspoonful of vinegar, a teaspoonful each of butter and sugar, and salt and pepper to taste, to one pint of tomatoes. Serve hot. This is a favorite combination with some cooks to put up in cans for winter.

Economical Cake.—Sift together one cupful of flour, two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of baking powder and a little salt. In a half pint measuring cup put a tablespoonful of melted butter, drop in one egg, and fill the cup with milk. Stir into the dry ingredients and beat rapidly two or three minutes. Flavor as desired. Bake in a loaf.

When baking cake, fruit juice may be used in place of milk, which will result in a moist, finely flavored cake. Corn for the table, if cooked over steam is much better flavored than that allowed to cook in water.

Add peanut butter when cooking fried potatoes, using a tablespoonful to the fat in the pan. It adds variety, and where the flavor is liked makes an appetizing dish.

Puree of Summer Squash.—Slice three onions and cover with two quarts of cold water; when boiling, add a large summer squash cut in thin slices. Let simmer slowly for two hours, then rub through a sieve. Mix one tablespoonful of ground rice or corn starch with a cupful of milk or tablespoonful of butter and seasonings; cook until smooth and add to the soup. Serve hot.

Help to Save Nation's Food Supply

In this time of high cost of living, everybody should use all possible means to prevent waste and to help save food. No one means can be more effective than a vigorous campaign to exterminate rats which destroy over two hundred million dollars worth of foodstuffs annually. Keep garbage in rat-proof cans, stop up their holes, and above all exterminate them with Stearns' Paste, which can be bought for a few cents at any store. A two ounce box will usually rid a house or barn of every rat. It destroys mice, cockroaches and waterbugs as well. Adv.

BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH

Woman Tells How $5 Worth of Pinkham's Compound Made Her Well.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."

A DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER

BLACKLEG SERUM

Owing to the fact that there has been much discussion as to the merits of different kinds of blackleg vaccine, the Journal has deemed it advisable to make some little investigation along these lines. This investigation has shown that last year, according to the report issued by the bureau of animal industry' the loss in the United States of animals from blackleg, amounted to $6,000,000.00. It also went into the matter of vaccination for this disease. There are many different preparations, all claiming some advantage over that of other makes, but after looking up the reports from all of them, the following extract appears to cover the case.

"The new Liquid Blackleg Vaccine is prepared under United States veterinary license No. 107, and it is always tested for potency and purity and carefully standeized before being offered on the market. The product can always be obtained fresh from the laboratories."

According to a letter published in the United States bureau of animal industry, practically, all experts agree that the duration of immunity from the use of any of the standard liquid vaccines is about the same, or for a period of twelve months. A recent proof of the efficiency of Liquid Blackleg Vaccine is furnished by the experience of Mr. Shafer, who lives eleven miles north of Elida. He has about one hundred and fifty calves, and they were dying at the rate of three or four per day. He vaccinated with this vaccine on the 18th of this month and has not had a loss since that date. Also Mr. P. E. Jordan will vaccinate about six hundred with this preparation. Before deciding to do this he had made as thorough an investigation as it was possible to do, and he believes that this preparation is in all ways the equal of any to be had.

Now the reason the Journal has gone into this matter is the fact that Roosevelt county is primarily a stock country; there will be thousands of calves to vaccinate every year. If the Liquid Blackleg Vaccine is the equal of any other, its use will save to the stock men we should pay twenty cents a dose more for one than the other. One material advantage of this preparation is the fact that it comes hermetically sealed, in exactly the same form as are those vaccines that are prepared for use in the human body, and one significant feature is that you are cautioned to get just so much in each receptacle as you intend to use on that day, plainly indicating that it will deteriorate if exposed for any length of time to the air. The Journal is not advertising any particular make of vaccine, nor is it getting paid for boosting one above the other. It simply believes that the stock men of Roosevelt county should know the truth about the matter. It believes that the real province of a newspaper is to give publicity to those things that are for the good of the community in which it circulates. It has taken pains to learn that no one may, with the facts at hand now, say with any degree of certainty, that any vaccine will give immunity for a period to exceed twelve months, and any preparation that will give twelve months immunity will carry calves over the danger period, and this may be had for thirty cents a dose administered.

In Memory of Our Brother

The call for our brother, Elmer Louis Kohl, came from the Supreme Architect of the Universe on the 18th day of October, 1917. We who knew him so well in our brotherhood, feel that in his departure from among us, something has gone out of our lives. He was not only a member of our brotherhood, but a true Mason and lived the life our brotherhood feels should be. Our brother could look out over the horizon with a profound sense of his own littleness in the vast scheme of things, and yet, have faith, hope and courage. He knew in his heart that every man as noble, as vile, as divine, as diabolical as his self, and how to forgive and love his fellow man. He knew how to sympathize with men in their sorrows, even in their sins, knowing that each had a hard fight against many odds. He knew how to make friends, and to keep them, and above all, to keep friends with himself. Our brother could feel a thrill of joy when he heard the laugh of a little child, and could be happy and high minded amid the meaner drudgeries of life. No voice of distress ever reached his ears in vain, and no hand ever sought his aid without response. He found good in every faith that helps man to lay hold of higher things. Could look into the wayside puddle and see something besides mud, and into the face of his fellow men and see something besides sin. He kept faith with himself, with his fellow man, and with God. He was glad to live and not afraid to die. In such men, no matter what station or condition of life, Masonry has wrought her sweet ministry. While we pay this tribute of respect and love to the memory of our late brother, let us not forget to extend our fraternal sympathy to the deeply afflicted and sorrowing family in their irreparable bereavement. As he for whom we are all mourners was true to us, and faithful to the ties of our brotherhood, so shall we be true to you in the practice of the principles of Free Masonry and in tender memory of our loved and lost. He gave his time to us in devotion to our cause. We owe a grateful acknowledgement to you for his social companionship and service, and mingle our sorrows at parting with yours, his near and dear relations.

HOW TO DECORATE THE SQUARE HOUSE

This Type of Dwelling Can Be Made Distinctive at Reasonable Cost.

SEVERAL METHODS ARE USED

Structure Described Here Possesses Many Features Attractive to Those Who Have Eye for Good Planning.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose two-cent stamp for reply.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Ordinarily, the square type of house with its plain hip roof is rather commonplace in its appearance, even though it is hardly ever beaten in the matter of space economy and convenience of room arrangement.

The question arises "Can the square-type house be treated in such a manner as to easily give it a distinctive appearance without excessive cost?" The question is most easily answered by reference to the several methods which may be followed in finishing the walls of the building. This subject covers a wide variety of effects which may be obtained in adjusting the color, texture and pattern of the wall surface to bring out just the character desired.

There is still the possibility of varying slightly from the plain rectangular outline of plan, such that the room arrangement is not disturbed, yet the appearance is altered to conform with the owner's ideas.

As an example, the perspective view accompanying shows a house of the room while the one in the living room is centered in the rear wall. French doors flank this fireplace in the living room, one set leading into the den and the other giving entrance to the dining room.

The front door is located at one end of the porch, this part of the porch being built with a roof above, while the remainder is in the nature of a terrace. Entrance is into a large reception hall. The open stairway to the second floor terminates in this hall and an ornamental colonnade is built between the hall and the living room. Directly opposite this colonnade is a pleasant win-down seat. The reception hall also communicates with the kitchen by way of a small hall in which a door is placed leading to the grade entry. The basement is handy to the kitchen through this small hall. The dining room is a pleasant room in which a harmonizing buffet has been built beneath the center window in the rear wall. The four bedrooms on the second floor are generous in size and are arranged so that the bedroom furniture will fit in to the best advantage. Each bedroom has a closet and there are two small closets on the hall, which extends from the stairs across the house and back to the bathroom.

The exterior of the house is finished in a very novel style. The first floor is finished with rough boards and battens, the main surface being finished with a stain and the trim being painted white. Above the second floor window sills, the walls are finished with stucco, timbered after the English style. The timbering is worked out to square type which has been treated in a novel way, both as regards wall finishing materials and also as regards plan outline. The plan shows that the rear corners of the building have been built, from foundation to roof, as square projections. The plan indicates what has been accomplished by building the corners in this way. On the first floor one of the rear corners is utilized as an entrance into the kitchen. An outside icing refrigerator is to be placed on one side of the passageway, on the other side of which there is a built-in case. The kitchen is made very handy, indeed, by the addition of this entrance feature. In the other rear corner, there is the most cozy little den imaginable. A seat is built into the corner, which is lighted on three sides. The fireplace is directly before the seat. On the second floor the corner bedrooms are made very pleasant by the bay windows.

In addition to this special construction, there are several other features which are interesting. The double fireplace is one of these. Its use calls for the utilization of one chimney having two flues to serve two fireplaces and the basement heater. The fireplace in the living room is built into the corner of the conform with the outline of the windows. The walls of the dormer are finished after the style of the second floor of the building. The foundation walls are of concrete, which is carried up to the sills of the house shown in the illustration. Some might prefer to build the basement wall above grade of brick. Usually the concrete is stopped at grade and the wall is continued to the sills with face brick on the outside and common brick for backing. A waterproofing membrane is carefully worked into the wall to prevent the entrance of moisture at the joint between the concrete and the brick. Occasionally we see the basement wall continued up in concrete to the sills of the building through the thickness of the wall except for about four inches at the front, which part of the wall is later built up with face brick. A third method is to follow the wall up above the concrete with face brick backed with hollow tile.

The hip roof of this house is built with wide cornices having the ends of the rafters exposed. The slope of the roof is broken, just above the cornices, into a more gentle slope, which gives the roof an appearance of gracefulness. The dormer roof is treated in the same way as the main roof. All of the double hung windows have a plain lower sash and the upper sash is broken up into a large number of small square lights. The effect is artistic and thoroughly in keeping with other details of exterior design. The front entrance consists of a simple but solidly built door stained in conformity with the rough siding, having a narrow window on each side.

The house has a basement under all parts except the porch. Grade windows are of sufficient size and in sufficient number to make this a useful part of the house. Separate rooms are provided for the heating plant, the laundry, the vegetable cellar and bins are built for the fuel.

STORING VEGETABLES IN BANKS OR PITS

STORAGE PIT CONTAINING IRISH POTATOES.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Outdoor banks or pits are used very generally for keeping vegetables. The conical pit is used commonly for such vegetables as potatoes, carrots, beets, turnips, salsify, parsnips, and heads of cabbage and is constructed as follows: A well-drained location should be chosen and the product piled on the surface of the ground; or a shallow excavation may be made of suitable size and six or eight inches deep, which may be lined with straw, leaves, or similar material and the vegetables placed on the litter in a conical pile. The vegetables should then be covered with straw or similar material and finally with earth to a depth of two or three inches. As winter approaches, the dirt covering should be increased until it is several inches thick. The depth of the earth covering is determined by the severity of the winters in the particular locality. It is well to cover the pits with straw, corn fodder, or manure during severely cold weather.

The amount of ventilation necessary will depend upon the size of the pit. Small pits containing but a few bushels of vegetables will receive sufficient ventilation if the straw between the vegetables and dirt is allowed to extend through the dirt at the apex of the pile. This should be covered with a board or piece of tin held in place by a stone to protect it from rain. In large pits ventilation may be secured by placing two or three pieces of rough boards or stakes up through the center of the pile of vegetables so that a flue is formed. This flue is capped by a trough formed of two pieces of board nailed together at right angles.

Vegetables keep very well in such pits, but it is difficult to get them out in cold weather, so that when a pit is opened it is desirable to remove its entire contents at once. For this reason it is advisable to construct several small pits rather than one larger one, and instead of storing each crop in a pit by itself, it is better to place a small quantity of several kinds of vegetables in the same pit, so that it will be necessary to open only one bank to get a supply of all of them. In storing several crops in the same bank it is a good plan to separate them with straw, leaves, or other material. The vegetables from the small pit may be placed temporarily in the storage room in the basement, where they will be easily accessible as needed for the table.

VARIETIES OF SWEET CLOVER

White Is Considered to Have Greatest Value for Hay and Pasture—Plant Is More Leafy.

(North Dakota Agricultural College Bulletin.)

Two kinds of sweet clover are commonly grown, the white and the yellow. The white is considered to have the greatest value both for hay and pasture. It grows larger than the yellow and is more leafy. The seed of the white sweet clover is of a bright olive green color and about the same size as alfalfa seed. The seed of the yellow sweet clover is much the same size, shape and color, except that under the microscope it has a mottled appearance not unlike a turkey egg.

WHEN VEGETABLES ARE HIGH

Surplus Truck in Home Gardens Comes in Handy Later on if Canned and Preserved.

Surplus fruits, beans, tomatoes and other vegetables produced in home gardens are allowed to spoil on the vines or rot on the ground. A morning's work would can and preserve such surplusage for use when fruits and vegetables are scarce and high in price.

ERADICATE ALL LATE WEEDS

Few Cockleburrs or Other Noxious Plants Left at Last Will Cause Trouble Next Year.

Weeds that are left in the corn are the ones that do the damage. A few cockleburrs or other weeds left at the last will grow up and, by going to seed, scatter over the whole field. This will make matters next year just as bad as before. Every effort to get out the late weeds from the corn ought to be made, even if it is necessary to use the hoe on the worst spots in the field.

MUCH MILK SPOILS QUICKLY

Reason is That It Is Kept Uncovered in Warm Kitchens—Keep Covered in Cool Place.

Much milk spoils quickly because it is kept uncovered in warm kitchens. Close observance of the doctrine, "Keep perishable food, especially milk, cool, clean and covered continuously," may make a striking difference in the food bills of many families.

INCREASE IN GRAIN YIELDS

Lull in Farm Operations After Harvesting Is Best Time to Prepare for Next Season.

(By W. M'FARLANE, Oklahoma Experiment Station.)

Just after harvesting the small grains there is generally a lull in the farm operations. Then is the time for the farmer to prepare for the next year.

Disking up the stubble as soon as possible after harvesting has been found by experiment and common experience to be profitable. It prepares the soil to absorb and retain a maximum amount of moisture and also kills many weeds. Just as soon as sufficient moisture is in the soil the farmer should plow the land at least six to seven inches deep.

Both the Oklahoma and the Kansas stations have found early and deep plowing give profitable increases in yield. The Oklahoma experiment station found as an average of five years with Fulcaster wheat, seeded September 15 to October 1, the following results:

Plowed 7 inches deep, July 15, yield	27.1 bu.
Plowed 7 inches deep, August 15, yield	24.2 bu.
Plowed 7 inches deep, September 15, yield	22.0 bu.

SWARM CONTROL BIG FACTOR

Swarming Is Not Desired by Beekeeper Who Is Keeping Bees for Production of Honey.

Swarm control is an important factor in beekeeping, asserts Dr. J. H. Merrill, assistant professor of entomology in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"The standard of successful beekeeping was formerly set by the number of swarms that issued during the year," said Doctor Merrill. "Now, however, it is known that one colony will produce more honey than will a colony which by swarming has been separated into two, or possibly more. Thus, while swarming may be the natural way for increasing the number of bees, it is not desired by the beekeeper who is keeping bees to produce honey.

"The exact cause for swarming is not known, although there are several conditions which are known to stimulate it. If these conditions are remedied, a large proportion of swarming will be controlled."

Roofing

CERTAIN-TEED is the best roof, not only because it costs less to manufacture, but also because it is weather-tight, light weight, clean, sanitary, fire-retardant, and costs practically nothing to maintain.

There are many roll roofings on the market, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. It pays to get the best. It costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED roof than it does to lay a poor roof, but there is a vast difference in the wear. You can't tell the quality of a roofing by looks or feel. Your only safety is the label. Be sure that it is CERTAIN-TEED—then you are certain of quality and guaranteed satisfaction.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply).

HERMIT SCULPTOR IS FOUND

Spends Time Modeling Little Masterpieces Which He Promptly Destroys Upon Completion.

There has been discovered at Cape Scott, one of the most solitary points in Vancouver island, by the chief engineer of the public works department of British Columbia, a sculptor who spends his time in modeling little masterpieces from lumps of clay and then destroying them, relates an exchange.

He is A. F. Whittier, and he calls himself a "prospector." Living entirely alone, he has for the past two years been carrying out lonely investigations of mineral claims in his neighborhood. His sculptor's tools are of the simplest kind, and it is his habit to work with the same piece of clay, which weighs scarcely five pounds, but with that he has modeled scores of objects.

The government engineer found him just as he had completed a bust of the martyred British nurse, Edith Cavell. Mr. Whittier was about to destroy the work in order that he might use the clay for a miniature statue of his son, who was recently killed. He was, however, persuaded to part with the bust, which is to be auctioned in aid of the Red Cross funds.
