Went to Plainview

D. W. Jones, Frank Jones, Ed J. Neer, G. W. Carr and W. H. Ball motored to Plainview Tuesday for the purpose of stirring up a little enthusiasm over the proposed military trail to El Paso. They were given a warm reception by the citizens and business men of the Texas pump city, and arrangements immediately made to send another delegation to Lawton to assist the one that had already gone. Our committee also learned that a state appropriation had already been made for the purpose of building a state highway along the identical route proposed by the military trail, as far as Farwell, from which point it is up to us to complete it. Each county through which it passes does its part. The gentlemen who went to Plainview did good work and, it appears, that real progress is being made in this matter.

Fresh Bread Every Day

We guarantee you fresh bread every day, a 15 ounce loaf. Should you get a stale loaf from us, if you will send it back we will exchange two fresh loaves for the stale loaf.

Mrs. Strickland is on the ground most of the time and we invite the ladies in to our place of business to investigate the sanitary conditions of our bread in its preparation.

The people of the town and community are helping us to stand shoulder to shoulder and above Clovis in her attempt to put us out of business. We may finally have to shut our doors, we may finally have to give up to Germany and let the Kaiser have the strings on us, but we are not yet ready to make the surrender to Germany or Clovis.

Let us furnish you your bread and we will assure you that we will appreciate your business and will give you our very best.

Pastries will be cooked for you if you will leave your order.

Auto Wreck

An accident, that might have been serious, happened to the car of a Mr. Cummings, traveling salesman for the Underwood Typewriter company. He was driving a Dodge car across a bad crossing some five or six miles south of town.

The train was close when he started and in some mysterious way he killed the engine. Mr. Cummings barely escaped death by quickly climbing out on the right side toward the approaching engine. The train struck the car square and carried it some two hundred and fifty feet on the pilot. The car was almost a wreck, however Mr. Cummings says he was mighty lucky at that.

Mrs. Hoagland Entertains

Mrs. E. E. Hoagland entertained the Red Cross knitters last Wednesday. Red Cross work, the progress of the war and many other interesting topics were discussed. The guests also enjoyed a dainty luncheon, which was served in Mrs. Hoagland's own perfect way. And all the time the knitters were knitting.

SHERIFF ARCH L. GREGG SHOT AT ELIDA BY A SLACKER, TUESDAY

Charles Glover, Slacker and Draft Resister, Traitor, Deserter and Near Murderer, Opens Fire on Officers When They Attempt to Serve a Federal Warrant on Him

After Having Taken a Treacherous Advantage of Officers' Humanity the Night Before, and After Having Promised to Come in and Surrender, He Went to Elida Armed and With His Mind Made Up to Murder Those Who Had Shown Him Only Kindness

Charles Glover bought a .45 Colts, new army model, automatic revolver June 2d, this year, just three days before the draft law went into effect. He bought that weapon for a murderous purpose, in fact, for the very purpose for which he used it Tuesday morning, the murder of any officer who attempted to arrest him. He had hurled his defiance at the nation, that "He might die in his 'shack' but never in a trench." He was not afraid, consequently, he must have been a traitor, just a common, vulgar, despicable traitor. No sympathy should be wasted on him, his only desert is a traitor's death and a dishonored grave, both of which he'll meet in time.

Monday of this week a federal warrant was issued by United States Commissioner James A. Hall for the arrest of one, Charles Glover, of near New Judson, this county. He was charged with having failed to register as required by law under the provisions of the selective draft act. The warrant was placed in the hands of Arch L. Gregg, to serve. Monday afternoon the sheriff left for Elida and in the evening in company with Milton Kornegay and a young man by the name of Shack went out to Glover's place, about twelve miles south of Elida. They found their man at the barn and informed him that they had a federal warrant for him. He told them that he wanted to take care of his stock and that then he would go to town with them and arrange his bond. After the stock had been cared for he stated that he would go in the house, change his clothes and be ready in a few minutes. Sheriff Gregg accompanied him inside. Upon getting into the house he walked over by the bed and secured his pistol, which was concealed there, threw it down on the sheriff and informed him he was not going to town with him. While the sheriff was arguing the matter with him, the deputy sheriff for Elida, Milton Kornegay, came into the house, as did Slack, these men were promptly covered and ordered to hands up. For something more than an hour, the officers reasoned with the man but to no effect. Finally he agreed to come to Elida the next morning and give up, upon which promise, the officers left. The next morning Glover, as per promise, went to Elida and put up at Morrow's wagon yard. He had Rich Grissom, the United States Commissioner, come to him in the wagon yard to talk matters over. Mr. Grissom reasoned with him for about an hour and a half, but the only proposition that Glover had to make was that he would surrender if Grissom would agree to conduct his preliminary and turn him loose. Of course Mr. Grissom could not agree to this but, on the contrary, he would be compelled to bind him over. Upon being told this he said "Then I'll never give up." About this time Sheriff Gregg and Deputy Kornegay appeared on the scene, threw their guns down on him and told him to put up his hands. This he failed to do and, upon Kornegay's attempt to get hold of his arm, he went for his gun. As he made for his pistol Gregg fired, following almost immediately after Kornegay did likewise. Glover was hit on the left side above the heart, the bullet failing to go through the body; another shot hit him exactly over the center of the heart but ranged downwards and missed the heart, coming out in the back; he was also shot through the arm. As soon as he was shot he got up and made to go around the camp house from the inside of the lot, passing a short fence, he turned and opened fire on the officers, shooting at Kornegay twice, but missing. He succeeded in getting around the camp house, the officers thinking that he could not get away would not shoot him in the back. After getting around the camp house he came inside and went to the door that opens into the yard. Gregg started to go through this door to head him off on the other side. Upon getting to the door he was shot in the right side, Glover having reached the door, hidden behind it and shot through the crack between the door and the jam. The bullet entered Gregg's side at the sixth rib, running downward and coming out at the back at the eighth rib, and is supposed to have missed the cavity, probably following around the surface to point of exit. After the shooting of the sheriff, Glover started back to the front of the room, and came outside and entered another room where he fell beside the bed. He was picked up and placed in bed, his pistol still in his possession and at full cock. Gregg, after being shot, shortly went down, but almost immediately rose and followed his assailant until notified that he was down, whereupon he went to the First National bank building, just across the street, and went to bed. Drs. Wollard, Williams and Garmany, of Portales were summoned, as was also, Dr. Miller, of Clovis, and the wounded men were given every attention. Gregg used a forty-five Colts old style gun; Kornegay a thirty-two Colts automatic, and Glover had a forty-five Colts automatic, new army model. Glover was hit once by Sheriff Gregg and twice by Deputy Kornegay. All the evidence obtainable is to the effect that Glover had been preparing for this for some time. It is a significant fact that he purchased the gun and shells on June the second, just three days before the draft law went into effect. He is also known to have said that he might die in his shack but never in a trench. He is a man twenty-eight years old and possessed of some property, having cattle, horses and hogs as well as his homestead. He was a frugal liver and saved his money. He is unmarried and has a brother living west of Portales.

After the shooting, he began to tell his version of the trouble, and it was decided, in view of the fact that but little hope was at that time held out for his recovery, to permit him to make ante-mortem statement, and pursuant to this plan John W. Ballow took down his answers while A. A. Beeman, cashier of the First National bank, of Elida, propounded the questions. After the statement was finished it was formally witnessed and put in a place of safe keeping.

But little sympathy was expressed for the man, Glover, though two men, Butler and a grown son, did attempt to somewhat palliate his offense, however, finding that their remarks did not meet with a very cordial reception, they soon left town for home.

The trouble came up about eight-thirty Tuesday morning and before ten o'clock there were cars from Portales, Clovis and surrounding country at the scene of action. Mrs. Gregg, the wife of the sheriff, Dr. Wollard and a nurse, were hurried into E. B. Neal's Buick six and a record drive made for Elida, the trip, twenty-five miles, being made in thirty-five minutes. Jess McCormick, deputy sheriff for Portales, was but a few minutes behind him.

The physicians in charge think the chances for the recovery of the sheriff are good, in fact, there is but one danger to be apprehended, that from blood poisoning, and he is receiving every care and attention possible. Glover has some slight chance for recovery.

The officers made but one mistake and that was on the side of humanity. They could easily have shot this slacker and been well within the law, but they exhausted every resource and used every inducement compatible with the discharge of their duty to make this arrest without bloodshed. They had various opportunities to kill him, and to kill him justifiably, but they believed that he would, in the end, listen to reason and surrender, but this was no part of his program. He had decided to resist the draft law and to resist arrest until death, and he fulfilled his intentions.

The officers have demonstrated that they are not afraid, that they will go after any man when given the papers to get him. That they will treat fairly and humanely those who come under their authority, but submit to arrest they must, or take the consequences. As a matter of fact, they lean just a little too much to the side of humanity and not quite enough to that cold blooded, take no chances, policy so characteristic to the professional man hunter. The county commissioners have issued instructions to see that the slacker does not want for any comfort.

Red Cross Needs Your Help

We have appealed to the citizenship of Roosevelt county to come to the aid of the Red Cross chapter. We need funds badly, if the work of alleviating the suffering of the boys at the front is continued. We know you are interested in this work and think you will help, but you don't think of it at the time you can do what you intend to do. Take the time and see or write Mrs. Arthur Jones, who will be glad to receive any amount you can afford to give. But give if it is only a small amount, so you can have a part in this great work.

Let us hear from you with as liberal donations as possible.

J.S. Long, chairman, Roosevelt county, Red Cross chapter.

A DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER

SATIRE ON KAISER

Louis Syberkrop, of Creston, Iowa has acquired much fame in recent weeks as author of a satire on Kaiser Wilhelm. Requests have come to him from Tumulty, Secretary Daniels, Roosevelt and people in every state of the Union and in Canada for copies of his article. It is:

"The Infernal Region,
June 28, 1917,

"To Wilhelm von Hohenzollern, King of Prussia, Emperor of all Germany and Envoy Extraordinary of Almighty God:

"My Dear Wilhelm:
"I can call you by that familiar name, for I have always been very close to you, much closer than you could ever know.

"From the time that you were yet an undeveloped being in your mother's womb I have shaped your destiny for my own purpose.

"In the days of Rome, I created a roughneck known in history as Nero; he was a vulgar character and suited my purpose at that particular time. In these modern days a classic demon and efficient supercriminal was needed and as I know the Hohenzollern blood I picked you as my special instrument to place on earth an annex to hell. I gave you abnormal ambition, likewise an over supply of egotism, that you might not discover your own failures; I twisted your mind to that of a mad man with certain normal tendencies to carry you by, a most dangerous character placed in power. I gave you the power of a hypnotist and a certain magnetic force that you might sway your people. I am responsible for the deformed arm that hangs helpless on your left, for your crippled condition embitters your life and destroys all noble impulses that might otherwise cause me anxiety, but your strong arm is driven by your ambition that squelches all sentiment and pity; I placed in your mind a deep hatred of all things English, for all nations on earth I hate England most: wherever England plants her flag she brings order out of chaos and the hated cross follows the Union Jack; under her rule wild tribes become tillers of the soil and in due time practical citizens; she is the great civilizer of the globe and I HATE HER. I planted in your soul a cruel hatred for your mother because SHE was English, and left my good friend Bismark to fan the flame I had kindled. Recent history proves how well our work was done. It broke your royal mother's heart, but I have gained my purpose.

"The inherited disease of the Hohenzollerns killed your father just as it will kill you, and you became the ruler of Germany and tool of mine sooner than I expected.

"To assist you and further hasten my work I sent you three evil spirits, Neitzsche, Treitschke and later Bernhardt, whose teachings inflamed the youth of Germany, who in good time would be willing and loyal subjects and eager to spill their blood and pull your chestnuts, yours and mine; the spell has been perfect—you cast your ambitious eyes toward the Mediterranean, Egypt, India and the Dardanelles and you began your great railway to Bagdad, but the ambitious archduke and his more ambitious wife stood in your way. It was then that I sowed the seed in your heart that blossomed into the assassination of the duke and his wife and all hell smiled when we saw how cleverly you saddled the crime on to Servia. I saw you set sail for the fjords of Norway and I knew you would prove an alibi. How cleverly done—so much like your noble grandfather who also secured a assassin to remove the old King Frederick of Denmark, and later robbed that country of two provinces that gave Germany an opportunity to become a naval power. Murder is a dirty work, but it takes a Hohenzollern to make a way and get by.

"Your opportunity was at hand; you set the world on fire and bells of hell were ringing; your rape of Belgium caused much joy. It was the beginning, a perfect foundation of a perfect hell on earth, the destruction of noble cathedrals and other infinite works of art was hailed with joy in the infernal regions. You made war on friends and foe alike and the murder of civilians showed my teachings had borne fruit. Your treachery toward neutral nations hastened a universal upheaval, the thing I most desired. Your under-sea warfare is a master stroke, from the smallest mackerel put to the great Lusitania you show no favorites; as a war lord you stand supreme, for you have no mercy; you have no consideration for the baby clinging to its mother's breast as they both go down into the deep together, only to be torn apart and leisuerly devoured by sharks down among the corals.

"I have strolled over the battlefields of Belgium and France. I have seen your hand of destruction everywhere; it's all your work, super-fiend that I made you. I have seen the fields of Poland, now a wilderness fit for prowling beasts only, no merry children in Poland now, they all succumbed to frost and starvation—I drifted down into Galicia where formerly Jews and Gentiles lived happily together; I found but ruins and ashes. I felt a curious pride in my pupil, for it was all above my expectations. I was in Belgium when you drove the peaceful population before you like cattle into slavery; you separated man and wife and forced them to hard labor in trenches. I have seen the most fiendish rape committed upon young women and those who were forced into maternity were cursing the father of their offspring, and I begun to wonder if my own inferno was really up to date.

"You have taken millions of dollars from innocent victims and called it indemnity; you have lived fat on the land you usurped and sent the real owners away to starvation. You have stayed away from legalized war methods and introduced a code of your own. You have killed and robbed the people of friendly nations and destroyed their property. You are a liar, hypocrite and a bluffer of the highest magnitude. You are a part of mine and yet you pose as the personal friend of God! Ah, Wilhelm, you are a wonder! You wantonly destroy all things in your path and leave nothing for coming generations. "I was amazed when I saw you form a partnership with the impossible Turk, the chronic killer of Christians and you a devout worshipper in the Lutheran church. I confess Wilhelm, you are a puzzle at times. A Mohammedan army, commanded by German officers, assisting one another in massacring Christians in a new line of warfare. When a Prussian officer can witness a nude woman being disemboweled by a swarthy Turk, committing a double murder by one cut of sabre, and calmly stand by and see a houseful of innocent Armenians locked up, the house saturated oil and fired, then my teachings did not stop with you, but have been extended to the WHOLE GERMAN nation, I confess my Satanic soul grew sick and then and there I knew the pupil had become the master. I am a back number, and, my dear Wilhelm, I abdicate in your favor. The great key of hell will be turned ever to you. The gavel that has struck the doom of damned souls since time began is yours, I am satisfied with what I have done; that my abdication in your favor is for the very best interests of hell—in the future I am at your majesty's service. Affectionately and sincerely,

"LUCIFER H. SATAN."

When a snail gets excited, opens up the high speed lever, steps on the gas and uses every atom of power he's got, he makes a speed of ten feet a day and thinks he's breaking all records. He doesn't realize that a dozen other creeping, crawling, walking things are getting farther in an hour than he does in a week. Likewise, some men don't realize how slow they're going, or the amount of valuable time they're wasting, or that now is the time to get busy and do things worth while. With the war and dry weather on our hands, we have all got real troubles enough without "hatching up" a lot that don't exist. Conditions are bad, no one can deny that, but talking about it doesn't help the matter any.

You know that the man worth while is the man who can brave the disturbing elements of bad business, can smile in the face of adversity and goes right ahead and does the best he can. So stop grumbling and get out and prepare to take care of cattle during the winter and, if we can assist you in any way, don't hesitate to call on us. We are going to stand by you, that is what we are here for. We have the largest service that is enjoyed by the great business interests of the large cities and older settled countries. SATISFACTORY SERVICE is what counts in the banking business, and that is the kind of service we endeavor to give our customers.

Thanksgiving ...DAY...

Will find many vacant chairs in many American homes, but we are thankful that the noble men of America still have the spirit and courage of our fathers, and are willing, if necessary, to lose their lives that freedom and civilization may be saved from the ruthless hand of the Hun. We are thankful for our great nation and our matchless leader; for the wonderful resources of our country and for a most loyal citizenship.

We Are Thankful to our many friends for their loyal patronage during the past year. We have had the most prosperous year in the history of the business. We appreciate this more than we can express. We shall continue to add new features and increase the stock 'till your every want can be supplied in our line. If we hav'nt it, we'll get it for you.

Mr. Farmer

Don't use high priced grain for fuel. Build a warm stable and hog house and the stock won't have to eat to keep warm.

Building costs are really moderate by comparison. Ask for our hundred and sixty page Farm and Building Book.
