"Cleopatra"

When William Fox presents his epoch-making film version of "Cleopatra," with Theda Bara as "The Siren of the Nile," at the Cosy theatre, local amusement seekers will see the most sensational and magnificent photo-dramatic spectacle ever produced. The passions and pageants of Epypt's vampire queen, as portrayed by the screen's foremost interpreter of siren roles, aroused the entire theatre and picture-going public of New York, where "Cleopatra" enjoyed a phenomenaliy successful run at the Lyric theatre. William Fox is said to have set a new mark with his picturization of the famous loves of Cleopatra; it will be some time before there will be found a type into which the savage beauty and personality of Miss Bara fits more perfectly. "Cleopatra" represents the co-ordinated playing of 30,090 people and cost $500,000 to produce, most of this sum being spent for the erection of Egyptian and Roman cities. It portrays the world's first naval battle—the battle of Actium—for which eighty vessels were especially constructed and later burned to the water's edge. It shows the armies of Egypt and Rome engaged in titanic struggle, depicts the death of Caesar in forum, and introduces the fascinating Siren of the Nile working her wiles on the Roman conquerors.

Schools Closed

David R. Poyd, president of the state university, addressed the class of 1918 of the Portales High school at the M. E. church Sunday evening before a large audience. His baccalaureate address was very interesting and contained many points that the graduates will make use of.

The senior play was given at the Cosy Tuesday evening. The house was overflowing. The play staged by the Seniors was "The Vision of a Graduate," and the Seniors showed much latent possibilities in stage craft.

The "Merry Maids" will hold a reception in the Humphrey building Friday evening in honor of Miss Kenamore and the Seniors. The Maids will also give a Hoover lunch next Monday evening in the Humphrey building for benefit of Red Cross.

High school Commencement will be at the M.E. church Thursday night. State Superintendent J. H. Wagner will give the address of the evening.

The Portales schools close Thursday, May 24th. There are sixteen graduates this year to go out from the Portales High school. Their names are as follows: Forrest Bramlett, Heck Harris, George Reese, Sanford Fairly, Will Dunlap, Carl Owens, Burney Sturman, Andrew Humphrey, Virginia Stephenson, Gladys Stone, Vera Merrill, Eulalia Wollard, Hazel Mahan, Marie Phillips, Pearl Taylor and Bessie Warnica. The commencement exercises will be held Thursday evening at the Methodist church. State Superintendent Wagner, of Santa Fe, will deliver the address to the graduates.

Tells Story

The whole amazing story of Ambassador James W. Gerard's experiences during the four years in Germany have been made into a remarkable historical film, which will be shown in your city at early date. This film, which is called, like his book, "My Four Years in Germany," was made with the hearty co operation of Ambassador Gerard, is indorsed by the administration and is said to be a very marvelous dramatic picture. Incidents described in a few words by the ambassador have turned out to be extraordinary scenic subjects, and full advantage is taken of them on the screen. For example, one of the most dramatic moments in history occurred thirty days before the war at Kiel week. Mr. Gerard stood on the deck of the imperial yacht while the Kaiser stood beside him and watched the entrance of the British fleet for a friendly celebration. The Kaiser knew that within a month that fleet would be all that stood between him and world dominion. That evening there was a dinner to the Admirals of the British fleet. The kaiser could not bring himself to attend. It was his brother, Prince Henry, who closed with a toast to his visitors, in which he said, "We are sorry you are leaving and sorry you came." This untactful remark was put down by the British as a slip of the tongue. It was fraught with meaning. The photoplay was recently shown in Washington to members of the cabinet, foreign embassies and congressmen. It was greeted with the greatest enthusiasm. At the Cosy soon.

All teachers interested except the first examination, should apply to me which date you desire at least two weeks before hand. Very respectfully,

Letter from France

The following letter was received by Mrs. Robert Woods from her son, Robert E. White, who is now in France:

Dear Father and Mother: I have almost gave up hope of ever getting any more mail. Have not had a letter of any kind since I left Camp Merritt, almost two months ago. We have moved and had our address changed so many times, I guess it would be a task for the postal people to keep up with us. Think we are permanently located now and will get our mail Ok. soon.

Everything is going along as usual except we moved to another part of the camp, about two miles distance. From the paper reports we will soon have lots of company over here. We'll be glad, the sooner they get here the sooner we finish the job, for it seems that it will have to be done by force instead of starvation. I cannot see how the Germans hold out as they have.

You cannot realize what enormous amount of supplies and equipment it takes for a large army until you have actually been there.

I often wonder how they moved and provisioned the soldiers before railroads were built.

We are working with several different companies of engineers most of whom are enlisted men. There is quite a bit of animosity between the enlisted and conscripted soldiers, and I really believe the drafted men are doing the best work and I know they do less grumbling.

I am well satisfied here. We have splendid officers and are allowed to go about our duties as in civil life, which makes our work a pleasure.

I hope to hear from you in the next few days, then perhaps I will have something to write about.

Have been having some unusually cold weather last few days. Big frost this morning yet everything is green and the trees blossomed out, so guess there will be no fruit here this year.

We are all well and hope every one at home the same. Write often. Lovingly, Bob.

Committee Meeting Called

A meeting of the Roosevelt county Democratic committee is hereby called to meet at the court house in the town of Portales, New Mexico, at one o'clock p. m. Saturday, June 1st, 1918, for the purpose of canvassing the votes at the primary election held June 11, 1918, and declaring the results of said election, and for such other purpose, and for such other business, as may come before said committee.

All new committeemen are also called to meet at said time and place so that the new county committee may be organized, and the county convention for the electing of delegates to the state convention provided for, and for the transaction of such business as may come before said committee.

Witness our hands this the 23, day of May, 1918.

New Equipment Shipped

The town board is in receipt of a communication from the Fairbanks-Morse people which states that two of the engines and equipment were shipped Thursday of this week. There is one one hundred horse power engine directly connected to a seventy-five E. A. generator, and one thirty-seven and a half horse power engine. All the necessary fixtures for installation are in this shipment so that work of erection will commence immediately upon receipt here. Work on the well is progressing rapidly and will be completed before the engine get here. With the new equipment and new well, Portales will immediately go upon a twenty-four hours continuous service. Barring mishaps, we should receive this service sometime during the next three weeks. Vote the bonds and make it unanimous. Prove to the board of town trustees that you appreciate the service they are trying to give you.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

HURRY, MOTHER! REMOVE POLYSONS FROM LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

GIVE CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS AT ONCE IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

Cannot Be Done.

"An excess of efficiency merely defeats itself," said sage Professor Pate. "The happy medium lies in knowing not only what to do but what not to do. For instance, you cannot put a sneeze back after it has emerged, nor can a woman re-form a bow-legged man by marrying him. You cannot ignore the inevitable by refusing to bow to it. There is no such thing as convincing the average Hon. that the war will not be won by verbosity. You cannot accomplish the impossible, so why waste time and energy in trying?"—Kansas City Star.

COMMUNITY HOG HOUSE IS LIKED

Found to Be Preferable to the Small, Movable Type.

PERMANENCY IS ADVANTAGE

Design Shows Structure Containing Twelve Pens and Large Feed Room With Concrete Run Yards.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 187 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose three-cent stamp for reply.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

If you want to make money on hogs, you must give them a proper place to live in. The best profits are made only when a dry, sanitary, comfortable and convenient hog house is provided.

It is a mistake to think a hog does not need to be protected from the weather. Having been originally a native of warmer climates, nature has not provided a pig with much in the way of protective covering. He has no thick coat of hair or wool or feathers like other farm animals to protect him from the cold weather, or from being sunburnt in the hot sun.

So a warm house is needed in the winter, especially for the brood sows, and shade must be provided for summer.

Moreover, it is recognized that the best way to keep swine healthy and guard against the ravages of disease is to provide sanitary conditions—a hog house that is well lighted and ventilated and with a smooth, impervious floor that can be easily cleaned.

These considerations, plus that of the labor that is saved in feeding and caring for hogs in a well-planned building, have made country builders pay a good deal of attention to this class of work, and farmers are more and more putting up big modern hog houses.

Advantages Are Numerous.

The advantages of the community house as compared with the movable are numerous. The time and labor required are less because:

- (1) Facilities for warming, feeding, watering, dipping, ringing, castrating, marking, breeding, weighing and administering medicines are more convenient because they are under one roof.
- (2) The "sunning" of the quarters, the community hog-house alley, a number of litters being driven at the same time, this being in marked contrast to the more individualized effort necessarily practiced in the movable isolated house system.

(4) Ventilation is more readily controlled because but two or three, hardly more, ventilators within close range need to be visited.

(5) The exhibit to prospective buyers of promising pigs is more quickly made.

(6) The hitching of the horse to the feeding wagon twice or three times daily is dispensed with; it is a case of simply walking to the community house and "getting busy."

(7) With all the sows under one cover during the farrowing season, the efficiency of a unit of labor is increased.

(8) There is no moving of a number of houses to take up one's time.

(9) The repairs and maintenance are more easily kept up in one big house on a permanent foundation, and within relatively easy reach (near the farmstead buildings), than a number of small houses with somewhat unstable underfootings, and generally widely scattered. Those who use the community hog house appreciate its convenience.

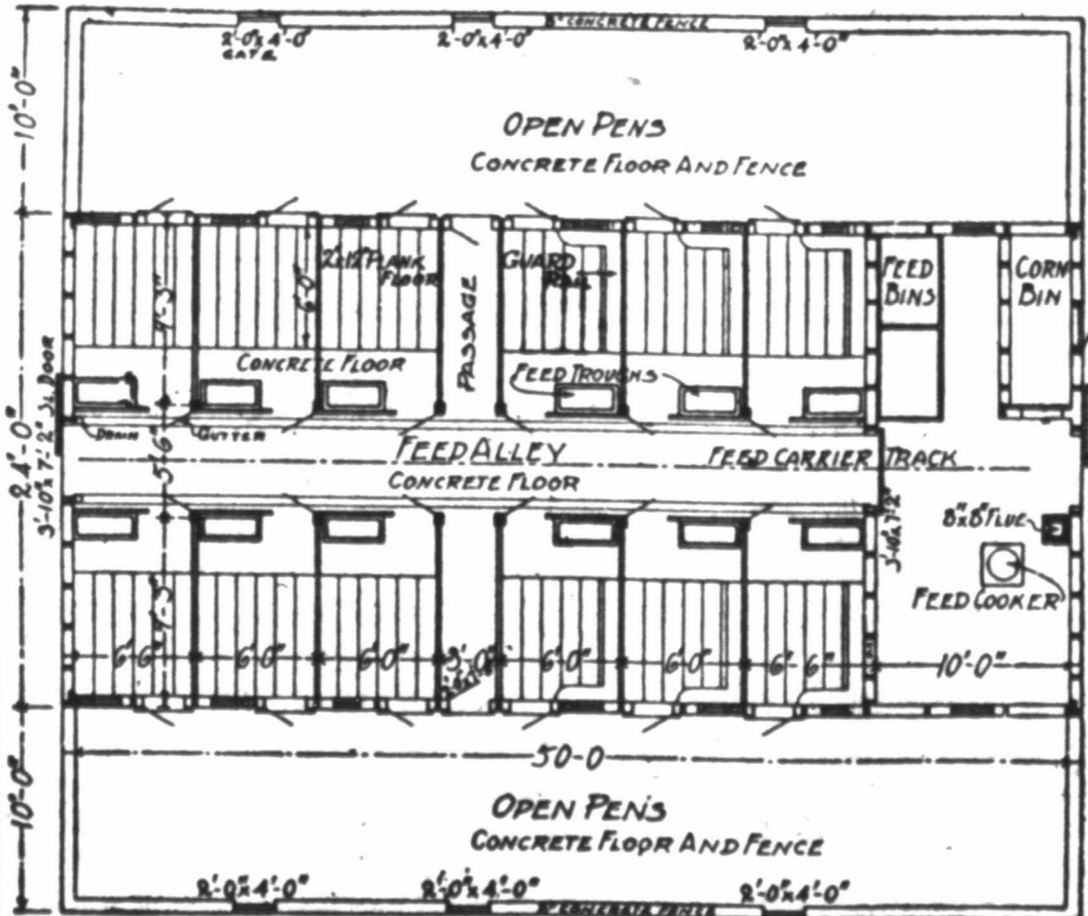

Permanency Adds to Value.

The permanent house has its evident advantages. Its years of service may be increased; it permits of masonry construction, so substantial and fireproof; its floor is practically unmovable; built in to stay; it has a solid foundation, absent in the movable type, all making for a greater substantiality. Heavy winds, soaking rains, driving hail, deep snows and extreme temperatures are more easily withstood in that the structure is naturally tighter and better built generally. The havoc-wrecking tornado is not so likely to tear the masonry, or even the wooden community permanent house from its foundation and supports as in the case of the more movable type of structure.

The direct sunshine is usually more practically secured in the large house because of the better natural advantages of greater height, wider and longer dimensions, and bigger roof. Greater provision can also be made for indirect lighting, inasmuch as the type of construction permits of this with comparative ease and safety. At best it is more difficult, because of the extra manipulation of doors and windows, to flood the small house with as much light in proportion to the interior as in the more ideal community type exemplified in the accompanying design.

These plans show a community hog house containing 12 pens and a large feed room. It is of the half-monitor or saw-tooth roof type to face south. The details of this building itself are exceptionally well handled, and the two concrete yards inclosed with monolithic concrete fences are quite a especially during the season of early litters, is done more quickly, inasmuch as a number of houses do not have to be visited to see that the windows are not covered with snow or sleet, or otherwise obstructed.

(3) The artificial exercising of young pigs that are subject to thumps and kindred troubles is easily done in striking feature. Movable fence panels of woven wire or of wool can be thrown across from building to fence at several points to separate any pens or group of pens.

Ugh! Calomel Sickens; Salivates! Please Try Dodson's Liver Tone

I am sincere! My medicine does not upset liver and bowels so you lose a day's work.

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad; stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick; you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver, which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.—Adv.

High Cattle Prices Accompany High Beef Prices

If consumers are to pay less for beef, live-stock raisers naturally will receive less for cattle.

If farmers are paid more for live stock, consumers will necessarily pay more for meat.

Swift & Company pays for cattle approximately 90 per cent of the price received for beef and by-products. The remaining 10 per cent pays for dressing, freight to market, operation of distributing houses, and in most cases, delivery to the retailer. Net profits also have to come out of this 10 per cent.

This margin cannot be squeezed arbitrarily without danger of crippling the only effective means of performing the complex service of converting cattle into meat and distributing this meat to the fighting forces and to consumers.

Swift & Company's net profit on beef during 1917 was only 1/4 of a cent per pound. On all products, it was a little less than four cents on each dollar of sales. Complete elimination of these profits would not affect appreciably retail prices of meat, or farm prices of live stock.

Swift & Company will be glad to co-operate in devising methods that will improve conditions in the meat and live stock industry.

A DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER

--- This paper has enlisted with the government in the cause of America for the period of the war ---

THINK IT OVER

Soon the qualified voters of the town of Portales will be called upon to vote upon the question of issuing bonds for the payment of the necessary repairs on our water and sewer system. To those who might not view this proposition with favor it is suggested that some little investigation should be made before disapproving the plan. As it stands now, the town would be entirely without water for either domestic or sewer purposes. With the sewer mains choked indefinitely, disease and death would inevitably follow. The sewer is just as much a protection to those who live outside the service district as it is to those living within it. Once get a typhoid epidemic started and who could confine it to a given space? It is a crude argument that only those who live contiguous to the lines get any benefit from the service; even were it true, it would simply be an argument of selfishness and greed; would be a case of "penny wise and pound selfish." Your outside property depends upon the inside property for its value; your garden and truck patch would bring in mighty few dollars if there was no inside town in which to peddle it. If you are desirous of exposing your family to unnecessary danger of disease and, possibly, death, rather than to pay the slight additional cost of these improvements and repairs, you should not be heard to complain when the time of disaster arrives. Your vote on election day will show which you give preference to, the health of yourself and family, or the few pennies that you might temporarily save, only to expend in dollars for medicine, doctor and undertaker bills. Think the matter over.

Teddy Roosevelt will never amount to a damn until he learns that he can't saw wood with a hammer.

SUPPRESS TEDDY

If there is one man in the United States who should be suppressed, who should have a sudden and permanent quietus put upon his mouth and his pencil, that man is Theodore Roosevelt. He is a menace to the country, a greater drawback than La Follette, Gronna, the defunct Stone or any one or more of the various knockers who have continuously exerted all their power in an effort to aid the kaiser and his minions. He is more dangerous than all the German spies that infest the nation. He is a monument of egotism and braggadocio, a rule or ruin maniac who should have no place in either heaven or hell. His one object in life is to ridicule those who are above him mentally, politically and morally, and to seek to keep his own "Dutch", name before the public. As president of the United States he was the worst "four flusher" and "wind jammer" known in American history. His only successful act was one that a wiser and saner executive later apologized for and, in some measure made restitution for. As one of the editors of the Kansas City Star, he is devoting his time and the space of that paper in continual fault finding and administration knocking. He is doing more to give aid and comfort to the enemy than the whole bunch of I. W. W.'s now on trial. Why is he permitted all this rope. No other man could follow in his footsteps, safely. He should be interned for the period of the war, or some other and more drastic punishment meted out to him.

It has been suggested to those who think they cannot eat corn pone or kaffir bread, that they will be supplied with wheat bread and bacon on the other side of the "frog pond." It is also suggested that they will continue to moan over the substitutes and not be in any particular hurry to get to the white bread on the other side.

Meat is Scarce.

Patrick J. Kennedy and Thomas Carr, farmers of Templeton, Ind., came to Indianapolis with three carloads of hogs and cattle, and after waiting all day at the stock yards were told that there was no demand for them, says the Indianapolis News. The price on hogs fell off from $17.00 to $17.10 while they were at the yards and finally they had to sell 12 of the choicest hogs from one car at $17. They were told that these hogs were too fat. After this experience the two went to a stock yards restaurant nearby and ordered steak. It was Tuesday and, therefore, a meatless day.

"We can't buy beef or pork," said the waitress. "All we have for you is fish and oysters. Meat is very scarce, you know."

"Yes, we know," said Kennedy, as he gave in and bought a substitute.

Businesslike and Efficient.

It is considered worthy of notice in the papers that a woman has "held down" a job as agent at a railroad station somewhere in the West and that a woman was agent at a Maine station for a few weeks. People must have short memories not to recall that the agent of the important Grand Trunk station at Lewiston a dozen years ago was a woman, who held the job for some time. And the writer can testify that she was businesslike and efficient, for she once kept him waiting at the ticket window for ten minutes by the clock while she finished the job she was doing on the books.—Oxford (Me.) GET THE RED CROSS HABIT

By EDWARD HUNGERFORD
Of the Vigilantes.

The United States has now been at war for more than a year. But up to the present time the Red Cross has made but one national appeal for help—its $100,000,000 drive in the summer of 1917. Now it is about to make another appeal—its second. And upon the heels of the Third Liberty Loan. For, great as are the responsibilities and the opportunities of the institution whose blazing symbol is recognized by civilized nations the world over as a symbol of peace and of comfort, its expenditures are but a small fraction of those required for our governmental expense for the conduct of the war.

Organization of Service.

The Red Cross has never permitted itself to encroach upon the functions or the necessities of the government, although there are many times when it might justify itself in so doing. In the single important instance of transportation it has refused to burden the army or navy with the carriage of its vast supplies of stores, even though these were destined for the relief and the lives of the soldiers and the sailors themselves. On the contrary, after it had bullded and fully equipped a great dispatching depot on the West Side of New York for the preparation of its stores for shipment overseas, and the war department found itself so pressed for warehouse facilities that it was compelled to take the Red Cross plant for army needs. Davison and his fellows of the Red Cross gladly moved out and quickly assembled and bullded another dispatching depot for their own needs. The spirit of the organization is that of service. And I have seen enough of its workings to convince me that it is something a little more than mere service—perhaps service plus efficiency would best describe it.

It seems to me that the time has come when there should be an even larger national appreciation of the Red Cross. Today it has only begun to touch the surface of the American people. Continued fighting and extended casualty lists will force it far beneath the skin. It cannot be embarrassed for lack of funds. You and I cannot afford to have it embarrassed, to be compelled to turn any of its energies from the saving of human life to mere grubbing for cold cash.

It is time that America formed a new habit. We have some big and fairly expensive national tastes already, movies and motoring, for instance, to say nothing of smoking and drinking. A little reduction on all of these and the proceeds turned to an entirely new habit would be a mighty good thing at this time. And for that fifth habit I am going to propose the Red Cross—the Red Cross habit, if you please. It will be a habit the gathered money of which will go to the credit, not of yourself, but of the greatest charity that America ever has known, which makes this new habit more than a habit—a real virtue—the virtue of self sacrifice.

Our Country the Richest.

Try being ready for the Red Cross collector—not merely the next time he comes, but on each subsequent call. Do not face him with the reproachful suggestion that he has seen you before. Our country is a big land, in many ways the biggest and richest in the world, but it is not big enough nor rich enough that folks with money can escape with but a single invitation to contribute.

That is why I suggest the Red Cross habit—the continuous setting aside of definite sums of money by patriotic Americans against the Red Cross drives. It is a habit which I cannot commend too heartily to you.

ONE HUNDRED MERCIFUL MILLIONS

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

ONE Hundred Millions for the Red Cross and not one penny of it for red tape.

The mightiest charity, the noblest and broadest volunteer movement of history.

The Red Cross shares no enmities, serves no flag but its own. It is God's agent, His healing, merciful will—the answer of twenty ever-gentler centuries to red barbarism.

Twelve million orphan children are wandering about Europe—twelve million frightened little boys and terrorized little girls, sent adrift to sob alone and perish in the wastes—to live like swine and die like curs, unless magnificent America ransoms them from death—and worse.

How many of your pitying dollars will search the desolations and save them for Tomorrow's works?

The Red Cross needs another Hundred Million, to glean the battle areas for this precious seed before it rots in mind and body—before grief and horror and disease and unrestraint irrevocably blight them.

One Hundred Millions to prevent famine and stifle pestilence, to stamp out hideous fevers, to check an earth-wide wave of tuberculosis, to destroy shuddering filths where verminous plagues feed and breed and threaten all the universe.

One Hundred Millions to found hospitals and build rest stations, to send nurses to the Front and refugees back, to forward surgical units and furnish artificial limbs, to buy medicines and operating instruments, to re-educate the mutilated and show the blind where Hope still shines.

One Hundred Millions to maintain communication with detention camps, to provide war prisoners with food and decencies, to take messages out and bring letters in, to negotiate comforts and privileges for the captured, to buy blankets for them and clothes and books and tobacco.

One Hundred Millions for No Man's Land—for stretchers and ambulances, for anesthesia and bandages and anti-septics; to train nurses and orderlies, to outfit and transport skilled specialists, to make sure that a dear one shall have a clean, sweet cot and a sweet, clean girl from home beside it.

One Hundred Millions to keep the world sound and wholesome, while the armies of Justice hold it safe.

PROSPERITY BUILT ON VICE

Portuguese City of Macao Has Long Been Known as the Monte Carlo of the Orient.

Macao is said to be the most prosperous bit of Portuguese territory in the world. It is the famous "Monte Carlo of the Orient," where gambling and a considerable opium traffic have their headquarters. Both these vices are ones to which the Chinese are particularly addicted, and Macao has become a great resort for the wealthier Chinese natives.

It lies on a sandy peninsula, half way on the trip between Hongkong and Canton. The Portuguese acquired it in the olden time when they were the most daring explorers and traders in the world. Their descendants live there still, but they have mingled and intermarried with the Chinese until what amounts to a new race has been produced in the native-born Portuguese colony in Macao.

Macao is a prosperous city, as most capitals of the god of chance are wont to be. Various gambling games are played, but the favorite is fan-tan, over which the Chinaman can develop an apparently disproportionate amount of excitement. In fan-tan, a number of coins or counters are hidden under a bowl, and the players bet on how many will be left when the coins have been counted off in fours. Simplicity can go no farther, but it is possible to lose as much money over this primitive form of gambling as over the most complicated variety known to the West.

Chinese are the greatest gamblers in the world. They will bet on anything from the weather to the weight of a horse, whether they can afford to lose or not. A wealthy Chinese merchant will win and lose fortunes with an air of philosophic nonchalance, while the poorest coolies will drop a week's pay in ten minutes without permitting the impressive gravity of his countenance to be marred by anything more than a pained frown.

UNABLE TO EXPLAIN HORNS

Scientists at a Loss to Account for Growth Which Sometimes Appears on Head of Horse.

One of the strangest freaks of nature is the horse with horns. Such horses are foaled occasionally, and have provided a rich field of speculation for scientists. Certainly the presence of the horns would seem to indicate that in some far-away period this animal was so provided by nature.

In most cases where horses have been foaled with horns, the horns were upon the forehead, and usually three or four inches long. But a colt near Rogersville, Tenn., the existence of which is on record, had a curved horn just below the aperture of the right eye. This is approximately the same position from which sprout the horns of many animals whose horns have a full growth.

Despite this evidence of a return to some earlier state of development, no trace of their presence can be found on any of the skulls of horses which belonged to other ages. Thousands of these skulls have been uncovered in many lands. The oldest goes back just 3,000,000 years, and is of a size

First Naval Battle.

The first naval battle recorded in the world's history was that between the Corinthians and the Corcyrans, fought 2,572 years ago. Corcyra, the island off the coast of Epirus, now called Corfu, had been settled by Corinthians, and for centuries owed allegiance to the mother city. In 684 B. C. the Corcyrans declared their independence, and the Corinthians immediately prepared a fleet to reclaim their colony. The Corcyrans sent out a squadron to meet their foes. After a furious contest the Corcyrans emerged as victors. From that time on sea battles were frequent, and all of the petty states of Greece built navies. The enmities engendered by that first sea struggle resulted over two centuries later in the Peloponnesian war.

WOMEN ASK FOR RATIONING PLAN

American Women Volunteer to Buy Fixed Amounts of Meat, Bread Flour, Sugar and Butter.

PLAN STARTED IN NEW YORK.

Idea Supplements U. S. Food Administration's New Home Card Now in 10,000,000 Homes.

The women of America, who are anxious to do their great part in the winning of the war, are now, as a whole, familiar with the most important aspects of food conservation. The Home Card, both in its original form, and in the revised edition for 1918, which provides for two wheatless days, one meatless day a week, in addition to a wheatless meal every day, has been placed by the Food Administration after a vigorous campaign in 10,000,000 American homes. An intelligent and conscientious observance of the Home Card's requirements is all the Food Administration asks of the housewives of the country.

The Food Administration has had a great many requests, however, particularly from the homes of the well-to-do, that it should issue a worked out plan for a voluntary system of rationing.

This desire for a voluntary ration springs from two causes—first, because it is far simpler for the housewife to save food when she has a concrete working plan by which to proceed, and, second, because the loyal women of America desire, unselfishly, to put themselves on the same basis as the women of the Allied countries. The ration proposed by the Food Administration is almost the same as that adopted in England for voluntary observance. All over the United Kingdom, in hundreds of houses there hangs in the front window a card with the stirring pledge, "IN HONOR BOUND WE ADOPT THE NATIONAL SCALE OF VOLUNTARY RATIONING."

The ration recommended by the Food Administration, and adopted first in New York city, whence the idea has spread through the entire country, is the following:

	Weekly Allowance Per Person.
Meat—Beef (fresh, salted, tinned and hashed); mutton, lamb and veal (mutton by preference)	2 1/2 lbs.
Butter	1/2 lb.
Cooking Fats (margarine, lard, lard substitutes, vegetable oils)	1/2 lb.
Wheat Flour (for use in cooking gravies, etc., where corn starch, cracker dust or bread crumbs cannot be substituted)	1/2 lb.
Victory Bread (containing at least 20 per cent. of a substitute for wheat flour)	1 1/4 lbs.
Sugar (including all sugar used on the table and in cooking and all sweetmeats and candies, but not that used for canning and preserving)	1/2 lb.

The items listed above are the only ones which are definitely limited. In the case of milk and cream, as much may be used as necessary, and children, of course, must have their full allowance of whole milk. Fish and poultry, any cereal other than wheat, vegetables and fruits and cheese may be used as freely as is desired.

The above ration is in no wise intended to supplant the Home Card, but rather to supplement it. It has been published with the idea that it will be a very real aid to the American woman in her splendid effort to carry out the great food conservation program.

Starting Traditions.

In ages which we call heroic, the saint works miracles, the warrior performs exploits beyond the strength of natural man. In ages less visionary, which are given to ease and enjoyment, the tendency is to bring the great man down to the common level and to discover or invent faults which shall show that he is or was but a little man after all. . . . The absurdity of a calumny may be as evident as the absurdity of a miracle, the ground for belief may be no more than a lightness of mind and a less pardonable wish that it may be true. But the idle tale floats in society, and by and by is written down in books and passes into the region of established realities.—Froude.

HELP IN 50-50 WHEAT PROGRAM

Thousands of Retail Grocers Support Food Administration Rules.

SIGN PLEDGE VOLUNTARILY.

New Wheat Saving Program Demanded — Allied Food Shortage Increases—America Must Feed Fighters.

Explaining the United States Food Administration's new 50-50 wheat regulations is a war time task the American grocer has gladly shouldered. Many stores are already displaying their Food Administration wheat saving pledge cards, that they have signed, agreeing to carry out the new wheat program.

Each flour customer is now required to buy one pound of cereal substitute for every pound of wheat flour. The substitute may be of one kind or assorted. This 50-50 sale is made by weight and not by value of the commodities. There is, of course, no regulation demanding the consumer to buy wheat flour at all.

A wide variety of substitutes has been provided: Cornmeal, corn flour, edible cornstarch, hominy, corn grits, barley flour, potato flour, sweet potato flour, soya bean flour, Feterita flour and meals, rice, rice flour, oatmeal, rolled oats and buckwheat flour.

Graham and whole wheat flour constitute an exception to the national regulation. Either of these commodities may be sold at the ratio of three pounds to five pounds of wheat flour—that is, five pounds of graham or wheat flour counts the same as three pounds of the usual wheat flour.

Mixed flours form another exception. Where any flour contains 50 per cent. or less of wheat it may be sold without any substitutes. Where the flour is mixed at the rate of 60 per cent. wheat and 40 per cent. of other ingredients an additional 20 per cent. of substitutes must be purchased by the consumer.

Where necessity is shown specially prepared infant's and invalid's food containing flour may be sold.

That the approved substitutes may be assorted is a fact many grocers and housewives overlooked for a time. For instance, if a customer wishes to buy a 24 pound sack of flour the necessary substitutes might be assorted as follows: Cornmeal, 8 pounds; corn grits, 4 pounds; rice, 4 pounds; buckwheat, 2 pounds; cornstarch, 1 pound; hominy, 2 pounds; rolled oats, 3 pounds.

None of the substitutes should be considered as a waste purchase. There are many household uses for each. The eight pounds of cornmeal can be made into cornbread, corn muffins or used in the baking of wheat bread.

Cornstarch is useful in making custard, thickening gravy or may be used in cake baking. Corn grits fried like mush forms a delicious dish, or it may be used in baking corn bread. Rolled oats are used largely as breakfast porridge or in oatmeal cookies or in making muffins.

Buckwheat flour may be used in bread making, forming an excellent substitute for one-quarter of the wheat flour, but is especially choice in the form of buckwheat cakes for breakfast.

With 11 wheatless meals needed each week in America to provide enough wheat for the allies, the Food Administration believes the substitutes will all be used to advantage.

Can't Afford 'Em Now.

"There goes a five-dollar hat," said a man on the back platform of a Pennsylvania street car recently, as his headpiece left him at Pennsylvania and Ohio streets, and went sailing over the post office. It cavorted around in the air, and finally came down, almost within his reach, as the car stopped at New York street, but suddenly took another swirl upward, and passed east over the Pennway building.

"It seemed a half-mile high," he says, "but I decided to follow it for a while on the run. It started downward again, and I legged it up Massachusetts avenue two squares from Ohio street, where some one had caught it and was looking around for a bareheaded man."

The loser of the hat was a newspaper man, and explained his ownership of a five-dollar hat by saying he got it while at college, when his dad was paying expenses.—Indianapolis News.

Will it bring the slacker to a realization of his true position, or will he grin and bear the contumely, satisfied if his few measly dollars have been exempted from the patriotic service so enthusiastically patronized by his neighbors? Men, are you going to let this kind of cattle off with contumely, alone?
