

Glover Again

Charley Glover completed his sentence in the federal penitentiary December 7th, this year and was met at the doors of the prison by Milton Kornegay and re-arrested on a state warrant charging him with assault with intent to kill. He was brought to Portales Sunday morning where he gave bond. Glover, it will be remembered is the man who was charged with evading the draft, and a slacker warrant issued by Judge James A. Hall, United States commissioner. When Sheriff A. L. Gregg and deputy, Milton J. Kornegay attempted to serve the warrant, Glover held them up with a colts 45 automatic. After some parley, he agreed to go to Elida the next morning and give himself up. Next morning he went to Elida and agreed to surrender provided that the charge would be dismissed. Upon the refusal of the United States commissioner to agree to his terms he declared that he would never surrender, and started after his gun. The sheriff and deputy beat him to their guns and opened fire, hitting him two or three times. In the melee that followed, Glover shot Sheriff Gregg from behind the door of a building close by where the shooting started. Eventually Glover was captured and it was given out that his wounds were fatal. This proved not to be the case. He recovered, was tried in federal court on two charges, plead guilty and was fined $25.00 and costs in each case and given a sentence of six months in the federal jail at Santa Fe, the jail sentence to run concurrently. He now has to face a jury of Roosevelt county citizens charged with assault with intent to kill. The case will, probably, come up at the spring term of court.

A recent letter from W. O. Oldham who is now in Dallas, to the effect that he still entertains some hope of remaining down there in the land of the living for a while yet. He reports that he is under nerve treatment of three or four specialists in the line of athletics, the latest of which is golf. Well, that's good W. O. when you get a little more practice you may want to challenge you, however, we don't claim to be champions of any sport except "plumping the middler" in a good marble game; we will try you on any how. We are glad to see this indication of improvement in health and hope you will soon be at your self again. Mr. Oldham says that he has no plans for the future, but we can guess it is pretty certain when he is able to hit 'em up again it will be somewhere in the west, let us hope it will be right back here at home when that time comes.

"Uncle" Polk Williams, chief justice of the Inez precinct, was in town Thursday. "Uncle" Polk says that he has about seventy acres of the finest wheat the sun ever shone on, and "Uncle" Polk is a good judge of a wheat crop.

Soliciting Funds

Friday of this week Rev. J. T. Redmond, pastor of the Methodist church at Clovis, was here soliciting funds for the children's home and hospital at Albuquerque. He met with very liberal success, considering the many other institutions to which our people have been called upon to support. It is a mighty discouraging proposition that New Mexico must each year contribute many thousands of dollars to strictly Catholic institutions and yet may not contribute any funds to our own orphans who do not happen to be covered with the mantle of Catholicism. It is little wonder that we have but a poor standing among other states of the union. Until there is some radical change made in these matters we cannot hope to be looked upon as a state with an enlightened citizenship. So long as our legislators are afraid to put the seal of their disapproval on this misapplication of the public funds so long will we occupy our present unenviable position among the other and more progressive states. This yoke must be thrown off but just when our law makers will develop the nerve necessary for the operation is a matter purely speculative, in the meantime we will continue to squander the public funds and depend wholly upon individual charity for our orphans who happen to be born of protestant parents.

Married

On last Sunday evening at the residence of the bride occurred the marriage of Mr. James F. Gardner and Mrs. Mary E. Spurlock, Rev. W. W. Turner officiating.

The groom is one of the old land marks of Portales, one of our permanent institutions. For the past nearly twenty years he has been identified with Portales, has fed our people and is known by every resident of the county. He is a hard worker and a money maker and will make the lady of his choice an agreeable and loving provider.

The bride has for the past few months been the proprietor of the Model grocery and has made a success of the business. She is capable and industrious and will prove a willing and competent helpmate through life.

The Journal joins with the many friends of the newly wedded in wishing them success, and happiness through life.

U. N. Hall returned this week from the powder works at Jacksonville, Tennessee, where he had been "doing his bit" for the boys across the water. Mr. Hall was one of those that left with the first bunch for this work and he stayed until discharged for lack of work. He has one boy in the service in France and he said that he was going to do his part in seeing that "Uncle Sam's" men did not lack for powder while on the front. He also says that the pay was good, in fact, better than anything he knew of for the same number of hours. He was one of the last to be let out, consequently, his services must have been satisfactory.

U. S. Food Administration Press Bulletin No. 145.

For the information of the New Mexico stockmen the federal food administration for New Mexico has compiled a summary of regulations, prices and bargains of dealers profits on a number of important feeding stuffs.

Cottonseed meal and screened cracked cake, 43 per cent protein, sells at $57.00 a ton in sacks F.O.B. mills in Texas and $54.00 40 per cent protein, in Oklahoma. Bulk, loose or slab cottonseed cake shall not be less than $5.00 per ton and bulk or loose cottonseed meal or screened cracked cake less than $4.00 a ton than above prices. Loose or bulk cottonseed hulls sell at $20.00 a ton at mills. These prices are for cash.

The margins of profits on all wheat mill feeds, cottonseed and rice products, and dried beef pulp have been fixed by the food administration. Only one brokerage of 25 cents a ton and one commission of 50 cents a ton and one commission of 50 cents a ton are permitted.

The wholesaler or jobber, buying and selling the above feeds, shall not charge more than a reasonable advance over the bulk price at the mill of the particular feed sold. (plus freight and sacks) not to exceed $1.00 to $1.50 a ton on shipment from mill or in transit and $2.50 to $3.00 ex-warehouse, all on cash basis. $1.00 a ton may be added on credit sales.

The retailer shall not charge more than a reasonable advance over the delivered price of the particular feed sold: in car lots car delivery $1.00 to $1.50 a ton plus demurrage if any: in less than car lots car delivery $2.00 a ton, in less than ton lots car delivery $2.00 a ton; in ton or more lots warehouse delivery $4.00 a ton; and in less than ton lots warehouse delivery $5.00 a ton. This on a cash basis, while $1.00 a ton may be added on credit sales or legal interest charged.

In the sale of feeding stuffs generally at retail the food administration considers that the advance on any individual sale should in no case exceed the purchase price delivered at the warehouse plus 15 per cent. This margin applies to the sale of corn, oats, rye and barley at retail for feed, but not to wheat mill feeds, cottonseed and rice products, daied beet pulp, for which special margins have been fixed. The margin applies to all other feeds sold at retail.

To aid in relieving conditions in the drouth stricken sections of New Mexico and Arizona the following commodities will be handled at one-half regular tariff rates between points in the states New Mexico or Arizona or from points in other states to points in either New Mexico or Arizona;

Cotton seed cake, cotton seed meal, cotton seed hulls, hay, alfalfa feed, alfalfa meal, chopped feed, molasses feed, corn chops, bran shorts, sugar food, prepared stock feed (exclusive medicated feed), corn, oats, barley, rye, kafir corn, milo maize, hominy feed.

"Shipments will be billed at full tariff rates and in order to secure the benefit of this concession, such shipments must be consigned either to the state board of agriculture or the United States Department of Agriculture or in case they are contigned to neither, a certificate must be filed with the railroad agent by an authorized representative or either of these bodies showing that shipments are entitled to the reduced rates."

"Instructions to your agents, should be issued in substantially the following form:

This will be your authority to deliver shipments of (repeat here the above list of commodities) in carloads of one-half rates in effect from points of origin to destination. Inter-state or intra-state, as published in regular tariffs provided shipments are consigned to state board of agriculture of the state of New Mexico and Arizona, or the United States department of agriculture at a destination in the state of New Mexico or Arizona.

In case shipments are consigned to other parties, you are authorized to deliver shipments at one half regular rates provided certificates is filed with you in the following form. Signed by the representative of the state board of agriculture, or the United States department of agriculture, designated to represent your county.

Soldiers May File

Any person, under the age of twenty-one, who has served or shall serve in the army of the United States during the present war, shall be entitled to the same rights under the homestead and other land and mineral entry laws, general or special, as those over twenty-one years of age now possess under said laws.

A person who files under the above provisions of law is not required to establish residence until six months after his discharge from military service. If the applicant is not acquainted with the land he wishes to enter that portion of the affidavit relative thereto may be erased and some friend who is acquainted can make the necessary affidavit relative to the character of the land, which affidavit must show that same is made at the request of the entryman and that affidavit makes same without consideration of any kind.

Church Services

We shall have services at the Baptist church next Sunday and on as long as there is no ban on meetings. The church will be ventilated before time for services and will be ventilated so that there need be no fear in attending. We invite all to worship with us. The subjects for next Sunday will be, at 11 a. m., The Expectant Christ, and at 7 p. m., What Portales Needs. LEON M. GAMBRELL, Pastor.

James F. McInturff is reported in the New Mexican as having died in service. There appears to be a conflict in this report and also some questions as to its truth. It is hoped that a mistake has been made and that "Red" is still alive and well.

Sheriff A. L. Gregg returned last Friday from Kansas where he had been to take a Mexican wanted there by the authorities for larceny, and whom Mr. Gregg had arrested here.

Reported as Delinquent

The following is a list of registrants, their order and serial numbers and last known address, who have been reported by local board Roosevelt county, N. M., to the adjutant general of New Mexico as delinquent for failure to return questionnaire. It therefore behooves all persons who have any interest in such men to inform this local board as to their whereabouts.

A-77 Sidney M. Billington, 867, Hog Island, Pa.

A-195 Marion Opal Beeman, 860, Birmingham, Ala., care of F. L. Erwin, Rev. Board.

A-314 Liddon Wicklif Cowden, 490, Elida, N. M.

A-414 Byron Benjamin Hill, 291, Pampa, Texas.

These are all registrants of the eighteen year old class who registered September 12th, 1918.

The New Mexican this week published an alleged list of Roosevelt county men in the service of the United States. The list contained many inaccuracies and comprised about two thirds of our actual number. Some were reported dead who were not, some reported in the service who were not; many in the service not listed at all. The Journal will publish the correct report just as soon as it may be had.

You are either an American or a slacker; you are either a member of the American Red Cross or a tightwad. Hand in that dollar before Christmas and get on the honor roll.

Clyde Knapp is now driving a new Overland six. He says that it sure takes some car to stand up to his work. He operates the auto line between this place and Clovis.

County Agent J. B. Peterson visited Elida and Kenna this week for the purpose assisting the stock men of those places in getting the reduced rates on stock feed.

Roy Connolly will leave the latter part of the week for Santa Fe to serve on the federal petit jury. He will, probably, be absent about two months.

Miss Renda Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cunningham, returned Monday from a visit with friends at Greenfield, this state.

J. R. Petersen, county agent, has rented the old Dr. Patterson property from Ed J. Neer and will move his family there at once.

Mrs. Monroe Honea, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Hatch, at Tulia, Texas, returned Tuesday of this week.

Rich Grissom, United States commissioner at Elida, was in Portales Wednesday transacting business.

Miss Bessie Warnica, who has been attending college at Clarendon, Texas, is home for the holidays.

It costs just one dollar to be an American. Give that dollar to the American Red Cross.

Also, by this time some of the men had lost their heads completely; in fact, had gone violently crazy, and the rest of us were afraid of them. We were all thinking of the fight that might occur any moment between the Yarrowdale and some other vessel and we knew we were in the likeliest place for the vessel to be struck. Even though we were not hit amidships, if the ship were sinking we did not think the Germans would give us a chance to escape. We figured from what they had said that we would go down with the ship. And going down on a ship in which you are a prisoner is quite different from going down with one for which you have been fighting. You arrive at the same place, but the feeling is different.

Some of us thought of overpowering the crew and taking the vessel into our own hands, and we got the rest of the sane or nearly sane men together and tried to get up a scheme for doing it. I was strong for the plan and so were several others, but the Limey officers who were with us advised against it. They said the Germans were taking us to a neutral country, where we would be interned, which was just what the Germans had told us, but what few of us believed.

Then some others said that if we started anything the Germans would fire the time bombs. We replied that at least the Germans would go west with us, but they could not see that there was any glory in that. For myself, I thought the Germans would not fire the bombs until the last minute, and that we would have a chance at the boats before they got all of us anyway. There were only thirteen German sailors on board, besides their commander. This last Hun was named Badewitz.

So the pacifists ruled, because we could not do anything unless we were all together, and there was no mutiny. They said we were hotheads, the rest of us, but I still think we could have made a dash for it and overpowered our sentries, and either gone over the side with the lifeboats, or taken over the whole ship. It would have been better for us if we had tried, and if the pacifists had known what was coming to us they would have fired the time bombs themselves rather than go on into that future. However, that is spilt milk.

We were not allowed to open the portholes while we were in the bunkers, under penalty of death, and there in the dark, in that stinking air, it is no wonder many of us went crazy. Among us was a fellow named Harrington, about six feet tall and weighing 250 pounds. He seemed to be all right mentally, but some of us thought afterwards he was crazy. Anyway, I do not blame him for what he did. Harrington rushed up the fiddley and opened the door. There was a German sentry there, and Harrington made a swing at him and then grabbed his bayonet. The sentry yelled and some others came down from the bridge and shot Harrington through the hand. After they had beaten Harrington pretty badly, the bull of the bunch, Badewitz himself, came over and hammered Harrington all around the deck. Then they put him in irons and took him to the chart room.

The next day we were sitting in the fiddley getting warm when the door opened and there was Badewitz. He yelled "Heraus!" and began firing at us with a revolver, so we beat it back onto the coal. Pretty soon the door opened again. But it was only a German sentry. He threw down a note. It was written in English and read, "Pick out eight men for cooks." So we picked out eight men from the various vessels and they went on deck and rigged up a galley aft.

But we did not receive any knives, forks, spoons or plates. The first meal we got was nothing but macaroni, piled up on pieces of cardboard boxes. Then we appointed four men to serve the macaroni, and they got four pieces of wood, the cleanest we could find, which was not very clean at that, and they dug around in the macaroni and divided it up and put it in our hands. We had to eat it after that from our grimy fingers. Those who were helped first had to go farthest back on the coal to eat it, and those who were helped last got less, because the dividers got more careful toward the end and gave smaller portions.

But we did not get macaroni very long. A cook from the Voltaire was cleaning a copper dixie that the macaroni had been cooked in, and he was holding it over the side when the vessel rolled heavily, and dropped the dixie into the briny. A sentry who saw him drop it forced him up to Badewitz, who began mauling him before the sentry even had told his story. After a while Badewitz quit pounding the cook, and listened to the sentry. Then Badewitz said the cook had put a note in the dixie before he dropped it, so they beat him up again and put him in irons. After that they sent the rest of the cooks back, and would not let them on deck again. They had plenty of canned goods and meat aboard, but they would not give us any.

Five of the men were buried at sea that day. More men were going mad every minute, and it was a terrible place; pitch dark, grimy, loose coal underfoot, coal-dusty air to breathe, body-filth everywhere. Some of the crazy men howled like dogs. But we were not as much afraid of these as we were of the others who kept still, but slipped around in the dark with lumps of coal in their hands. We got so we would not go near each other for fear we were running into a crazy man. Those of us who were sane collected as near the fiddley as we could, and we would not let the others get near us, but shoved them back or shied lumps of coal at them. And every once in a while some one of us would begin to act queer. Maybe he would let out a howl suddenly, without any warning. Or he would just quit talking and begin to sneak around. Or he would squat down and begin to mumble. We could not tell just when a man had begun to lose his mind. He would seem just like the rest of us, because none of us was much better than a beast.

We could not take turns sleeping and standing watch against the crazy men, because when we talked about it, we agreed that none of us could tell whether or not the sentries would go crazy while on watch and have the rest of us at their mercy. It was awful to talk about going crazy in this way, and to figure that you yourself might be the next, and that it was almost sure to happen if you did not get some sleep soon. But it was worse to find a man near you going, and have to boot him out with the other insane men.

The days passed like that, with nothing to do but suffer, and starve and freeze. It got colder and colder, and all we could wrap ourselves in was the coal. We began to speculate on where we were. It was not till later than an old skipper in our bunch told us that we had rounded the northern coast of Iceland.

Finally, one day, a lad yelled down "Land!" and we all dove for the fiddley like wild men, and those who could get near enough looked out, and sure enough! There was the coast of Norway, very rugged and rocky and covered with snow. We thought it was all over then, and that we would be landed at Bergen sure. Then there was the usual running around and yelling on deck, and we were not so sure we would be landed, and very suddenly it got colder than ever.

I was in the fiddley, aching to get out, and ready for anything that might happen, when the door opened suddenly and Badewitz grabbed me, and asked me in English if I was a quartermaster. I said yes, and he pulled me by the arm to a cabin. I did not know what was going to happen, but he took an oilskin from the wall and told me to put it on.

There were two sailors there also, and they put life belts on, and then I was more puzzled than ever, and scared, too, because I thought maybe they were going to throw me overboard, though what that had to do with being a quartermaster I could not see.

But they drilled me up onto the bridge and told me to take the wheel. What their idea was I do not know. Possibly they wanted a noncombatant at the wheel in case they were overhauled by a neutral vessel. We were going full speed at the time, but as soon as I took the wheel she cut down to half speed, and stayed that way for half an hour. Then up to full speed again.

Pretty soon there was a tramp steamer on the starboard bow, and almost before I saw it, there were two more sentries on each side of me, prodding me with their revolvers and warning me to keep on the course. They had civilian clothes on.

Then we went through the Skager Rack and Cattegat, which are narrow strips of water leading to the Baltic, and we were only a mile from shore with vessels all about us. It would have been an easy thing for me to signal what our ship was and who were aboard, but they had six sentries on my neck all the time to keep me from it. I never wanted to do anything worse in my life than jump overboard or signal. But I would have been shot down before I had more than started to do either, so I just stayed with the wheel.

We were nearing one of the Danish islands in the Baltic when we sighted a tug. She began to smoke up and blow her siren. The sailors got very excited and ran around in crazy style, and Badewitz began shouting more orders than they could get away with. The sentries left me and ran with the rest of the Fritziels to the boat deck and started to lower one of the lifeboats. But Badewitz was right on their heels and kicked the whole bunch around in great shape, roaring like a bull all the time.

I left the wheel and ran to the end of the bridge, to jump overboard. But the minute I let go of the wheel the vessel fell off of the course, and they noticed it, and Badewitz sent five of them up on the bridge and three others to the side with their revolvers to shoot me if I should reach the water. I think if I had had any rope to lash the wheel with I could have got away and they would not have known it.

When the five sailors reached the bridge one of them jumped for the cord and gave our siren five long blasts in answer to the tug. The tug was about to launch a torpedo, and we whistled just in time. One of our men was looking from the fiddley, and he saw the Huns making for the lifeboats, so he got two or three others and they all yelled together, "Don't let them get away!" thinking that they would get the boat over and leave the ship, and trying to yell loud enough for the tug to hear them. Badewitz took this man and two or three others, whether they were the ones who yelled or not, and beat them up and put them in irons. I thought there was going to be a mutiny aboard, but it did not come off, and I am not sure what the Huns were so excited about.

The other four sailors who came up on the bridge did not touch me, but just kept me covered with their revolvers. That was the way with them—they would not touch us unless Badewitz was there or they had bayonets. The old bull himself came up on the bridge after he had beaten up a few men, threw me around quite a bit and kicked me down from the bridge and slammed me into the coal bunkers. I felt pretty sore, as you can imagine, and disappointed and pretty low generally.

After a while we heard the anchor chains rattling through on their way to get wet, and we pulled up. Then every German ship in the Baltic came up to look us over, I guess. They opened up the hatch covers, and the Hun garbles and gold-stripes came aboard and looked down at us, and spit all they could on us, and called us all the different kinds of swine in creation. They had them lined up and filling past the hatchways—all of them giving us the once over in turn. Maybe they sold tickets for this show—it would be like the Huns.

At first we were milling around trying to get out from under the hatch openings and the shower of spit, but some Limey officer sang out, "Brits! Don't give away!" and we stood still and let them spit their damned German lungs out before we would move for them, and some Cornishmen began singing their song about Trellawney. So we made out that we did not know such a thing as a German ever lived.

We got better acquainted with German spitting later on, and believe me, they are great little spitters, not much on distance or accuracy, but quick in action and well supplied with ammunition. Spitting on prisoners is the favorite indoor and outdoor sport for Germans, men and women alike.

When the show was over, they roused us up on deck and put us to work throwing the salt pork and canned goods into two German mine-layers. While we were at it, a Danish patrol boat came out and tied alongside us, and some of her officers came aboard and saw us. They knew we were prisoners-of-war, and they knew that a vessel carrying prisoners-of-war must not remain in neutral waters for over twenty-four hours, but they did not say anything about it.

That night two men named Barney Hill and Joyce, the latter a gunner from the Mount Temple, sneaked up on deck and aft to the poop deck.

There was a pair of wooden stairs leading to the top of the poop deck, and Joyce and Hill lifted it and got it over the side with a rope to it. The two of them got down into the water all right, but Joyce let out a yell because the water was so cold, and a German patrol boat heard him and flashed a searchlight. They picked up Joyce right away, but Barney was making good headway and was almost free when they dragged him in. They beat them up on the patrol boat, and when they put them back on the Yarrowdale Badewitz beat them up some more and put them in irons. Then he began to shoot at their feet with his revolver, and he had a sailor stand by to hand him another revolver when the first one was empty. Then he would gash their faces with the barrel of the revolver and shout, "I'm Badewitz. I'm the man who fooled the English," and shoot at them some more.

All the while the sailors were celebrating, drinking and eating, and yelling, as usual, and the whistles on all the German ships were blowing, and they were having a great fest. After about thirty hours we left, being escorted by a mine-layer and a minesweeper. I asked a German garby if that was the whole German navy, and he looked surprised and did not know I was kidding him, and said no. Then I said, "So the English got all the rest, did they?" and he handed me one in the mouth with his bayonet hilt, so I quit kidding him.

We saw rows and rows of mines, and the German sailors pointed out what they said were H. M. SS. Lion and Nomad, but I do not know whether they were the same ones that were in the Jutland battle or not. Finally we landed at Swinemunde just as the bells were ringing the old year out and the new year in. We were a fine bunch of blackbirds to hand the kaiser for a New Year's present, believe me.

They mustered us up on deck, and each of us got a cup of water for our New Year's spree. Then we saw we were in for it, and all hope gone, but we were glad to be released from our hole, because we had been prisoners since December 10—three days on the Moewe and eighteen on the Yarrowdale—and the coal was not any softer than when we first sat on it.

So we began singing, "Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag and smile, boys, smile. What's the use of worrying? It's never worth while," and so forth. They made us shut up, but not before we asked ourselves if we were downhearted, and everybody yelled "No!"

And that is how we gave our regards to Swinemunde.

CHAPTER XVIII,

"Pack Up Your Troubles."

We arrived at Swinemunde, on the east bank, and after we had had our drink of water and had been rousted back into the bunkers, Badewitz went across to the west side in a launch with Joyce and Hill and a guard of sailors. They were to be shot the next morning, with some others, at a public shooting-fest. The rest of us wrapped ourselves in lumps of coal as best we could and tried to sleep.

In the morning crowds of Germans came aboard us and were turned loose on the boxes in the hold. It was a sight to see them rip off the covers and gobble the salami and other stuff that we carried. Table manners are not needed when there is no table, I guess, but if you had seen them, you would say these Germans did not even have trough manners. I have seen hogs that were more finicky.

While they were at it, hand to hand with the chow, giving and receiving terrible punishment, we prisoners were mustered on deck, counted, kicked onto tugs and transferred to the west bank, where the mob was waiting for us. My wounds, as you can imagine, were in a pretty bad state by this time, and were getting more painful every minute, so that I found I was getting ugly and anxious for an argument. I knew that if I stayed this way I would probably never come out alive, for there is every chance you could want to pick a quarrel while you are a prisoner that will mean freedom for you—but only the freedom of going west, which I was not anxious to try.

When we got near the west bank, on the tugs, we could see that we were up against a battle with our arms tied. Over half the crowd was women and children, I should say, and the rest were laborers and old civvies, and reserve soldiers, and roughnecks generally. We could see the spit experts—the spit snipers, deployed to the front, almost.

In a False Position.

Francis disliked his name because he said it sounded like a girl's name. "But what is the difference?" asked his mother.

"I am afraid," answered the child, "that people will think I am pretending I am a girl so I will not have to go to the war."

A CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

LOOK AT TONGUE! THEN GIVE FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

"CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS" CAN'T HARM CHILDREN AND THEY LOVE IT.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

Compliments.

"You're a fine-looking soldier," Brown declared. "Your face is so thin it would hold a week's rain." "Never mind," Smith retorted. "If the Germans ever caught you they could amputate your nose and use it for a powder horn."—Trench and Camp.

Trust, and Fear Not.

"He saith, 'A whole I planned. Youth shows but half; trust God—see all, nor be afraid.'"—Browning.

HEALTH TALK

Spanish Influenza or Grip BY DR. LEE H. SMITH.

An old enemy is with us again, and whether we fight a German or a germ, we must put up a good fight, and not be afraid. The influenza runs a very brief course when the patient is careful, and if we keep the system in good condition and throw off the poisons which tend to accumulate within our bodies, we can escape the disease. Remember these three C's—a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels. To carry off poisons from the system and keep the bowels loose, daily doses of a pleasant laxative should be taken. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloë, root of jalap, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Hot lemonade should be used freely if attacked by a cold, and the patient should be put to bed after a hot-mustard foot-bath.

To prevent the attack of bronchitis or pneumonia and to control the pain, Anuric tablets should be obtained at the drug store, and one given every two hours, with lemonade. The Anuric tablets were first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and, as they flush the bladder and cleanse the kidneys, they carry away much of the poisons and the uric acid.

It is important that broths, milk, buttermilk, ice-cream and simple diet be given regularly to strengthen the system and increase the vital resistance. The fever is diminished by the use of the Anuric tablets, but in addition, the forehead, arms and hands may be bathed with water (tepid) in which a tablespoonful of salaratus has been dissolved in a quart. After an attack of grip or pneumonia to build up and strengthen the system, obtain at the drug store a good iron tonic, called "Ironic" Tablets, or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

A small bottle of "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy.

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—it costs but a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this. Adv.

The KITCHEN CABINET

Your part in the war is to produce as much as possible, consume as little as necessary, and loan your savings to the government. Are you facing your task as cheerfully as our fighting men face theirs? Are we worth the sacrifice they are making for us?

GOOD AND ECONOMICAL DISHES.

PAGHETTI or ravioli paste may be prepared at home, making an economical and tasty dish at small cost. Prepare the paste by mixing together two-thirds of a cupful each of wheat flour, rye and barley, add two unbeaten eggs and one-fourth of a cupful of cold water, or sufficient to make a very stiff paste. Turn out on a floured board and knead thoroughly, until even in color, then if used for spaghetti or noodles, cut in strips and let them dry for a while. The paste may be cut in squares and filled with a mixture of chopped cooked spinach, chard and parboiled calf's brains. Cover each square with another piece of the paste, pinch the edges together and drop them into boiling salted water, cook 15 minutes and serve with a tomato sauce.

Rice Pudding.—Wash one and a third cupfuls of rice and cook until tender in boiling salted water. Drain and add three tablespoonfuls of sugar and four tablespoonfuls of corn sirup. Butter a pudding dish and put in a layer of rice. Peel three apples and spread a layer of sliced apples over the rice. Alternate the rice and apples until all are used. Bake in a moderate oven until the apples are tender.

Oatmeal-Graham Bread.—Take four cupfuls of ground oatmeal or oat flour, four cupfuls of wheat flour, three cupfuls of liquid, one yeast cake, two cupfuls of mashed potatoes, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of salt, and two tablespoonfuls of shortening. Mix and prepare as usual.

Onion en Casserole.—Peel and cook a half-dozen medium-sized onions in boiling salted water until tender. Then place in a well-greased casserole. Cover with a white sauce, using a fourth of a cupful of chicken fat, and the same amount of flour cooked together; add two cupfuls of milk, salt and pepper to season, add a beaten egg and pour over the onions; let cook well covered until the egg is set. Serve from the casserole.

A really good memory is one that remembers good rather than evil, kindness instead of injuries. A good memory is stored with useful things. It recalls life's pleasures rather than its hardships, and so is a storehouse of treasures.

HELPFUL HINTS AND DISHES.

Break stale bread in small pieces and cover with cold water; never use hot water unless you like it soggy and heavy. Drain and squeeze the water out with your hands. If it still seems wet, add dry crumbs to absorb the extra moisture. Now season well with salt, pepper, finely minced parsley and sweet marjoram; the kind and amount of seasoning depends upon your own taste. For a quart of stuffing take three good-sized onions, chop fine and fry in butter until they are cooked through; butter means any sweet fat, though of course the butter gives a most delicious flavor. Turn the onions when a light yellow into the bread and mix all together. Then add a little more fat to the frying pan and turn in the stuffing; when it begins to brown, stir often; cook a half-hour if care is taken not to overbrown it, then put it piping hot into the fowl or neat of any kind; the flavor goes into the meat and the result is a better-flavored breast of veal or turkey.

If one has a small amount of meat left, chop it and use this same stuffing in alternate layers with it with plenty of gravy, making a most economical and good-flavored dish.

Economical Cake.—Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter, add a cupful of sugar, one and three-fourths cupfuls of pastry flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, the yolk of an egg unbeaten. Dissolve one and one-half squares of chocolate in the milk over hot water. Sift the flour and baking powder together; if a butter substitute is used, be sure to add salt. Mix and bake as a layer of loaf cake. The egg white may be used for frosting, if desired.

VILE TASTE BLISTERED MOUTH

Oklahoma Lady Had Dreadful Time Before Finding the Right Remedy—Black-Draught.

Seward, Okla.—Mrs. Annie Bowlby, of this place, says in a letter written for publication: "I have used Black-Draught for two years, or more, and will never cease to be grateful for what it did for me and mine.

Some time ago, my mouth broke out with blisters. I had a vile taste in my mouth, all slick and disagreeable. I seemed to have a great deal of inward fever. I suffered with my back and kidneys. . . .

I was so nervous, it was dreadful. I would almost cry—I suffered so. I had gas on the stomach and pains but, as I said, the pain and . . . trouble was most severe. I had the doctor and used several medicines without result.

Still hurting and suffering, I began to use Theford's Black-Draught, making it into a tea, and using a teaspoonful dose at a time in hot water. I gradually got better, my liver began to act, the fever went down and I have never had any more trouble of this kind.

There is no other medicine so good as Black-Draught."

You will say that, too, when you have given Theford's Black-Draught a trial.

It is a good medicine. Buy a package today. All druggists sell Black-Draught.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Womens' complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and maybe dependent; it makes anyone so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney liver and bladder medicine will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the medium and large size bottles at all drug stores. Adv.

Is a Soldier Necessarily Immoral and Irreligious?

By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D. D. Secretary of Correspondence Department, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Cornelius, the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God.—Acts 10:22.

What will be the character of the several million young men who will come back to the United States from the great world war? Will they be cruel, barbarous, immoral and irreligious? Some seem to think that they will, reasoning that the business of the soldier in slaying his enemy will produce this result. They say that men in certain occupations, for instance that of slaughtering animals in the stock yards, are not permitted to serve on juries. It is reasoned that the constant sight of blood blunts their sensibilities so that they would not be slow to doom a fellow man to death on slight evidence.

It must be admitted that the terrible business of warfare develops in some men the spirit of cruelty and brutality.

It is claimed, also, that the life of the soldier cannot but result in the lowering of his morals, and that it will almost certainly utterly destroy anything like religious principles. Doubtless some will come back more immoral than they went away, and some who went away moral will come back immoral. We believe, nevertheless, that there is no necessary peril in the occupation of a soldier, when the issues of the war in which his country is engaged are righteous and just. Indeed, we believe the contrary result will be far more likely.

Take Bible soldiers, those that belonged to Israel, God's people. There was Joshua, a redoubtable soldier, a great commander-in-chief of the military establishment of Israel in the days of Moses. He was a great fighter, but could say, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Gideon did not disdain to fight manfully against his enemy, and he was one whose sword was wielded as with the sword of the Lord. There was David, the greatest fighter of his day, fighting from a mere boy to his old age, yet David was a man after God's own heart, and wrote, "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." "Who have I in heaven but thee, and there is none on earth that I desire beside thee."

Coming to New Testament times we find several soldiers mentioned, all of the Roman or pagan army. Centurions are mentioned several times, and in every case with commendation. One centurion was a faithful friend of Paul on his journey to Rome. Another went to Jesus and besought him to come and save his child. He was a nobleman, and had built a synagogue for the Jews; and Jesus said his faith was greater than any he had found in Israel. Another centurion said of Christ on the cross, "Truly this was the Son of God." Cornelius was a centurion, "a just man who feared God," and a man of prayer. It is also recorded that the had a servant, a devoted soldier, probably an ignorant barbarian, but one whom the Spirit of God had touched. And it is to be remembered that in those days battles were hand-to-hand and usually resulted in the death of the defeated party.

All through the centuries many great soldiers have been great Christians; and unquestionably a large number of officers and men in the present war are also decided Christians.

Never were soldiers of any army so guarded as to morals and religion. The Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations, the Salvation Army, the church organizations, the camp pastors and chaplains, with hundreds of ministers visiting the camps are giving splendid service in this direction.

The government of the United States has made provision for the protection of the camps at home and abroad from immoral influences to an extent never before attempted, and never before were the prayers of Christian people so earnestly offered for the soldiers as now.

With these considerations and others that might be set forth, it is our belief that men will return more chivalrous, gentle, moral and religious than when they went away. They will come back to be leaders in our churches and in all kinds of religious service like the soldiers who came back after the Civil war, both in the North and in the South, to be the leaders in the churches.

What will be the character of the several million young men who will come back to the United States from the great world war? Will they be cruel, barbarous, immoral and irreligious? Some seem to think that they will, reasoning that the business of the soldier in slaying his enemy will produce this result. They say that men in certain occupations, for instance that of slaughtering animals in the stock yards, are not permitted to serve on juries. ## THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHELINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

The key of the kitchen clock was lost, and as Mr. and Mrs. Subub were going into town they decided to get another.

Mr. Subub waited across the road while his wife went into the jeweler's. Presently she came out again.

"Got it?" said Mr. Subub.

"No," she said.

"Why not?"

"Well, Mrs. Swagger was in there buying pearls, so I couldn't ask for a key for the kitchen clock!"

"What did you do, then?"

"Oh, I just inquired how long it would take to clean a diamond tiara."

A DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER

NEAR DISLOYALTY

The Republican press of the nation is resorting to every means known to the shyster politician to discredit President Wilson at the coming peace conference. Neither the kaiser nor his emissaries could be more rapid, more malicious or more un-American. In their partisan zeal to minimize the achievements of Mr. Wilson they are, in supposition at least, Americans. They seem to be afraid that he will be an imposing figure in the most important and potent gathering of international diplomats since the foundation of governments among men. In their partisan mania to weaken the influence of Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, they are, in reality, attempting to nullify the influence of the government, itself. Especially is this true of the Republican press of New Mexico. These papers seem to have forgotten that there is any such thing as veracity; appear to forget that there are Americans who are more than American by accident of birth. In their vicious attacks on President Wilson, and the administration of the war they are in reality, casting undeserved aspersion on the boys who went to the front and bared their breasts to the enemy. While too yellow and cowardly to face the Hun, themselves, they yet, for party advantage, libel every fighting American who occupied a trench or went to training camp. These yellow journals would repudiate every principle and every American ideal if by so doing they could break down the world influence of the greatest president America has ever known. They seem to forget that while these boys were daily facing death and privation, they were safely lodged at home, enjoying warm beds, hot meals and all the other comforts of life. If they have ever contributed anything toward the winning of the war, aside from hot air, it is not recorded. It is true they may have bought a few bonds, but the buying of these bonds was more of an investment than a patriotic duty patriotically performed. The whole scope of their activities have been calculated to hinder and harass the president and the soldiers at the front. Their attitude has been grossly un-American and insolently unpatriotic. They are neither American nor Hun, but some sort of a monstrosity that comprehends nothing beyond the political advantage that might accrue to them through the success of the party they misrepresent. They howl and growl against Hearst, yet they are not even as patriotic as Hearst. They are afraid that President Wilson will make good at this conference, nay, they know he will and sooner than have this happen they would rather that America should be sent home discredited and dishonored. They appear to forget that President Wilson is in a position to demand what his country believes is for the best interests of all the nations. Europe must be fed and financed and America is the only nation on earth that can feed and finance it, consequently, America is in the position of the money lender that holds the mortgage on your home. In the meantime the boys are coming home from the front and these yellow journals will then learn first hand the contempt in which they are held by the men who did the real fighting. It is the one best bet that every one of them will be for America and the president.

If the state game warden really wants to conserve the deer in New Mexico he should take some steps looking toward putting a stop to the killing in season and out of these animals by parties living in the range. These people kill more deer every year than all the lawful hunters in the state. A fair estimate of this unlawful killing would be something like twenty-five for each male citizen living in the national reserve each year. Also the legislature should be asked to raise the price of non-resident license to one hundred dollars per year. This in connection with a five hundred dollar penalty for unlawful killing, with a hundred dollar bonus added to the cost of prosecution, together with an adequate policing of these reserves, would do more toward conserving the state game than would a closed season for a hundred years. Closing the season absolutely would only have the effect of exterminating the deer entirely.

New Mexico newspapers which prefer to play the hand of European statesmen as against that of the United States should be compelled to get their support in Europe and, incidentally, have their junk shops removed to the particular country whose cause they espouse.

The New Mexico Republican press carries its personal hatred for President Wilson to the extent of a personal hatred for America and Americans.

NOTICE OF PENDENCY OF SUIT
The state of New Mexico, To A. N. Halford, Elizabeth Cochran, Marietta Ferrill, Charles Halford, Daniel Halford, Benjamin F. Halford, Silas B. Halford, Lizzie Halford, Nannie May Halford, Eddie Halford, Pearl Billingsly, John B. Halford, Myrtle Halford, Willis May Halford, Mond Halford, all unknown heirs at law of James B. Halford, deceased, and all other persons having any interest in the premises. Defendants, greeting.
You are hereby notified that suit has been filed against you, and each of you, in the district court of the Fifth judicial district of the state of New Mexico, in and for Roosevelt county, wherein the above named parties, and Mary J. Halford and James B. Halford, Jr. are defendants, and J. N. Halford is plaintiff said cause being numbered 1439 upon the civil docket of said court. The general objects of said action are as follows: The plaintiff, J. N. Halford, as administrator of the estate of James B. Halford deceased, alleges that James B. Halford died on the twenty-second day of February, 1918, and that he, the said J. N. Halford, is the duly appointed qualified and acting administrator of the partnership estate of the said deceased, that he and the deceased were partners at the time of the death of the deceased and for some time prior thereto, that he as said administrator has sold all the personal estate of said deceased belonging to said partnership, which said personal estate brought the sum of $405.00, that the claims and accounts against said estate allowed by the probate court of said county amount to the sum of $39.33; and that the outstanding accounts not allowed, and the expenses of administration will amount to the sum of approximately $377.00, that said deceased, at the time of his death, owned an undivided one-half interest, and title in and to the west half of section thirty-six in township six south of range thirty-five east of the New Mexico meridian, New Mexico, that said real estate is incumbered by a mortgage for the sum of $1000.00, that the personal estate, and the proceeds thereof are wholly insufficient to pay off and discharge the debts allowed, and to be paid against said estate, and the plaintiff prays that the court order the interest of the said deceased in and to said real estate sold for the purpose of paying off and settling of said debts against his estate, and that the partnership estate of the deceased be settled and closed, and for general relief. You are further notified that on or before the said defendants enter your appearance in said cause on or before the 27th day of January, 1919, the plaintiff will take judgment against you and each of you, by default, and will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint. You are further notified that George L. Reese is attorney for the plaintiff and that his post office address is Portales, N. M. Witness my hand and the seal of said court on this third day of December, 1918.
SETH A. MORRISON,
County Clerk.

NOTICE OF ATTACHMENT SALE
Whereas, on the 15th day of October, 1918, in cause number 1403 pending in the district court of Roosevelt county, New Mexico, wherein Rowells and Reese is plaintiffs and M. F. Hancock is defendant, the plaintiffs recovered a judgment against defendant in the sum of $116.11, which said judgment draws ten per cent per annum, interest from the date thereof, and also at the same recovered in said cause a decree foreclosing an attachment lien in favor of the plaintiffs and against the defendant, pursuant to a writ of attachment theretofore caused in said cause and levied upon the following described property, to-wit: The northeast half of lots one and two in block numbered twenty-five in the town of Portales, New Mexico, according to the plat of said town in the office of the county clerk of said county; the said court ordering and directing the undersigned, sheriff of Roosevelt county, New Mexico, to advertise and sell said described property upon which said attachment lien was foreclosed to satisfy said judgment, interest and costs of suit; the amount of said judgment at the date of the said hereinafter specified will be $118.57, together with all costs of said action, and accruing costs of sale. Therefore, by virtue of said judgment and decree and order of sale, I, the undersigned, A. L. Gregg, sheriff of Roosevelt county, New Mexico, will on the 31st day of December, 1918, at the hour of two o'clock, p. m. of said day, sell said above described property, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, with all improvements thereon, for the purpose of satisfying said judgment, interest and costs of suit.
Witness my hand this 4th day of Dec. 1919.
A. L. GREGG, Sheriff.

SEVEN LOAVES OF BREAD FOR EVERY PERSON IN
U. S. SAVED FROM WASTE

Farmers and Threshermen Patriotically Respond to Call of Food Administration.

From information received by the U. S. Food Administration from the principal grain growing states, it is now possible to announce with fair accuracy the amount of wheat saved last harvest by improved methods of handling. According to official calculations, efforts toward cleaner threshing saved fully 16,000,000 bushels of wheat with corresponding savings of other small grain harvested and threshed in a similar manner. In addition, other states, though unable to furnish figures, reported greatly reduced harvest losses.

The figure for wheat alone is equivalent to seven one-pound loaves of bread for every person in the United States and represents food that formerly was either an absolute loss or was recovered to only a slight extent by poultry and livestock. While opportunities in this branch of conservation were large, the quantity of grain recovered surpasses early expectations. It is noteworthy also that results were secured principally through voluntary co-operation.

No conservation measure of the Food Administration, it is declared, has received more wholehearted support than that pledged and rendered by farmers and threshermen toward reducing grain waste at its source.

Calomel Loses You a Day's Work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone Instead

Read my guarantee! If bilious, constipated or headachy you need not take nasty, sickening, dangerous calomel to get straightened up.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much, but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.—Adv.

DRUGGISTS!! PLEASE NOTE VICK'S VAPORUB OVERSOLD DUE TO PRESENT EPIDEMIC

Tremendous Demand Last Few Days Has Wiped Out Excess Stocks That We Had Estimated Would Last Until Next January. Last Week's Orders Called For One and Three Quarter Million Jars—Today's Orders Alone Amount to 932,459 Jars.

Big Shipments Are En Route to Jobbers. Until These Arrive There May Be a Temporary Shortage. All Deals Postponed—Buy in Small Lots Only.

RETAILERS CAN GET IMMEDIATE SHIPMENTS DIRECT BY PARCEL POST.

This advertisement is written on Monday, October 21st. It is directed to the attention of all distributors of Vick's VapoRub, both wholesale and retail. In an emergency such as the present epidemic—our duty—and your duty—is to distribute VapoRub in the quickest possible manner to those sections stricken by Influenza. We, therefore, call your careful attention to the following:

DANGER OF SHORTAGE IF SUPPLY IS NOT CONSERVED

On October 1st we had on hand, at our factory and in twenty warehouses scattered over the country, sufficient VapoRub to last us, we thought, until January 1st, allowing for a 50 per cent increase over last year's sales, and not counting our daily output. This big excess stock had been accumulated during the summer months.

Then this epidemic of Spanish Influenza hit us—and in the last ten days this stock has vanished. At first we thought this tremendous demand would last only a few days, but the orders have run:

Wed., Oct. 16.....18,504 doz.
Thur., Oct. 17.....25,323 doz.
Fri., Oct. 18.....39,256 doz.
Sat., Oct. 19.....45,833 doz.
Mon., Oct. 21.....77,705 doz.

Up to Saturday, October 19th, we have actually shipped for this month $400,284.10, or over two million jars of VapoRub.

THE PROBLEM NOW IS TO DISTRIBUTE VAPORUB QUICKLY.

Most of this tremendous quantity is still en route to the jobbers, but freight and express are both congested nowadays, and it may be some time before this supply reaches the jobbers. In the meantime, therefore, it is necessary that we distribute, as widely as possible, the stock that we are manufacturing daily, together with that now on the jobbers' and retailers' shelves, in order that it may get to the Influenza districts quickly. Our normal output is about 4,000 dozen per day. We are putting on a night shift, but it will be a little while before that is producing.

WHAT WE ASK THE WHOLESALE DRUGGIST TO DO.

Last Saturday we notified all of our jobbers, by Special Delivery, as follows:

1st—Deals and quantity shipments of all kinds are cancelled. Fill no quantity orders of any kind, whether taken by our salesman or by your own. Sell in small lots only.

2nd—Order from us in as small quantities as possible. If you are out, we will try to ship a limited amount by Parcel Post or express, and pay the charges ourselves.

3rd—In order to make distribution still quicker, we will ship direct to your retail customers quantities not more than three (3) dozen 30c size at any one shipment.

4th—We are now out of the 60c size and will be for the next ten days.

WHAT WE ASK THE RETAIL DRUGGIST TO DO.

Buy in as small quantities as possible. If you have any quantity orders, given the jobber's salesmen or given to our salesmen, don't bother about them—no need to write us—it is absolutely impossible to fill these orders at this time. If the jobbers in your territory are out of Vick's VapoRub, we will ship you by Parcel Post, prepaid, quantities not more than three (3) dozen 30c size in any one order. Naturally, we can't open accounts at this time, so your check or money order for this amount must accompany order. Don't write us stating to ship thru your jobber, as we then have to wait until we write this jobber and get his O. K. If you wish the goods to come thru your jobber, have him order them for you.

SNOWED UNDER WITH CORRESPONDENCE.

Our force has already been "shot to pieces"—twenty-four of our men are wearing Uncle Sam's khaki—and this recent rush has simply buried us. All our sales force has been called in to help in the office and factory. We just mention this so you won't hold it against us if your wires and letters aren't answered promptly.

SPECIAL BOOKLETS ON SPANISH INFLUENZA.

We will send, on request, to any retail druggist, 100 or more little booklets, just issued, on Spanish Influenza, giving the latest information about this disease—its history—the symptoms—the treatment, and particularly the use of Vick's VapoRub as an external application to supplement the physician's treatment.

NEW WAYS TO USE VAPORUB.

In addition to the usual method of using VapoRub—that is, applied over the throat and chest and covered with hot flannel cloths—our customers are writing us daily telling of their success in using VapoRub in other ways, particularly as a preventive. They melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors arising, or melt it in a benzoin steam kettle. Where the steam kettle is not available, VapoRub can be used in an ordinary teakettle. Fill the teakettle half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

According to a Bulletin just issued by the Public Health Service, Dr. Stiles recommends that the nose and throat be kept coated with some oily substance. For this purpose VapoRub is excellent—just put a little up the nostrils from time to time and sniff well back into the air passages.

IOWA DOES GOOD ROAD WORK

Lincoln Highway Official Is Pleased With Progress—Each County Preparing to Aid.

That good work is being done in the improvement of the Lincoln highway through Iowa is the assertion of H. C. Ostermann, field secretary of the Lincoln Highway association. Mr. Ostermann recently made a trip of inspection through the Hawkeye state and the results were more than satisfactory to him.

On his journey across the state the Lincoln highway official was accompanied by D. E. Goodell of Tama, Ia., state consul of the Lincoln Highway association, and Thomas H. MacDonald, J. W. Holden and H. C. Beard of the Iowa state highway commission.

Enthusiastic and well-attended Lincoln highway meetings were held at numerous points across the state; a splendid program of Lincoln highway improvement was revealed by the reports submitted at these meetings. Covering the most important developments, Mr. Ostermann states:

"Seventeen miles of the Lincoln highway in Clinton county have already been graveled with federal aid funds; applications for federal aid funds have also been made by Cedar and Pottawattamie counties, and similar applications will be filed in the immediate future by Linn, Tama, Benton and probably Crawford counties."

A Lincoln highway seedling mile is now under way in Linn county, and existing arrangements call for the complete graveled of all the rest of the Lincoln highway in the county. In a similar fashion the plans in Marshall county call for the graveled of every foot of the Lincoln highway from county line to county line. Story, Boone and Greene counties are practically all graveled at the present time and an all-weather road is reported.

The visiting officials found that Crawford county had spent more money than any other county in the state in grading the Lincoln highway. Field Secretary Ostermann and State Consul Goodell expect that by the end of 1918 there will be 1,000 sustaining members of the Lincoln Highway association in Iowa.

Plans for the permanent marking of the route across the state were discussed with the various local officials, and consuls of the national association, and each county in the state is preparing to aid in financing this project to the extent of $300. A start has been made in this direction, following the action of Pottawattamie county in voting $200 for this purpose, to which the city of Council Bluffs has added $100.

The importance of the Lincoln highway improvement in Iowa was attested by the presence and interest of State Engineer MacDonald and his associates at the various meetings.

REPAIRS NEEDED FOR ROADS

Necessity and Desirability of Eliminating Holes and Ruts Should Be Brought Out.

In order that the roads may not be entirely destroyed or put into a condition requiring complete rehabilitation, the government ought to impress upon states, counties, cities, villages and townships the necessity and desirability of eliminating every mudhole, every depression, by filling in; it should ask that culverts and bridges be kept in a reasonable state of repair and it should command that every highway should regularly and systematically be dragged after every rain, that high spots may be eliminated, low spots filled and the roads made as smooth and safe as possible with this temporary scheme to aid, as far as possible, transportation over public highways.—Pitt and Quarry.

Dealer Should Not Hold or Contract for More Than Reasonable Requirements of Trade.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

To sell farm equipment on the basis of what it would cost the dealer to replace it may be considered profiteering, according to a statement issued recently by the office of farm equipment control of the United States department of agriculture.

Persons who have sold equipment at replacement values when costs were high must continue to do so if prices go down, even though such sales bring less than the original cost price of the stock. Moreover, those whose selling price is fixed in relation to high replacement prices must restock immediately and carry the same quantity of equipment throughout the high-price period as they had at its beginning, in order not to profiteer. Those who desire to sell out without replacing their stock should not sell at a prevailing high price, but at cost plus a fair usual profit.

It will be considered hoarding if manufacturer or dealer holds, contracts for, or arranges for more equipment than the reasonable demands of his business require. Dealers finding themselves with excess stock on hand through inadvertence should sell their excess holdings at cost plus a fair usual profit.

The hoarding of farm equipment is defined by the act of congress of August 10, 1917. Manufacturers or dealers who hoard will be dealt with under the terms of this act of congress and not under the ruling as to replacement values just issued by the equipment control office.

BENEFITS OF MOTOR TRUCKS

Cross-Country Hauling Again Has Become Widely Used for Inter-City Transportation.

An even century ago transportation interests centered on Wheeling, W. Va. That year saw the Cumberland road—the wagon highway planned as a dominating factor in leading settlers to the great West—completed as far as the outlying town on the Ohio. Fifteen years later the road had been extended to Columbus; in another decade it crossed the Indiana state line.

Then came the steam railway. With the arrival of this new transportation colossus, interest in the Cumberland and other highways waned rapidly. Road building all but stopped, long distance hauling by highway stopped, too.

And now, after three-quarters of a century, cross-country hauling again has become a widely recognized form of inter-city transportation. The powerful, big load motor truck again has ushered in the highway as an important part of our national transportation system.

Proof of Close Relationship of Disease on Common Shrub and Cereals Seen in Indiana.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Further proof that there is a close relationship between the rust of barberries and of wheat and other cereals has resulted in active campaigns to eradicate the shrub in many communities. Two rather striking cases of this close relationship were observed recently in Indiana. In one locality a field of wheat, along one side of which grew a barberry hedge, was practically destroyed by the black stem rust. The case was so clear that 17 farmers held a field observation day under the guidance of the county agent and immediately drew up resolutions, in which they stated that the relation was so clear that they wished to go on record as favoring legislation to eradicate all barberry bushes from the state. In another case a hedge of barberry and two deep plantings were found on a farm upon which a wheat field was so badly affected that the crop was a partial failure. A second field near by was very seriously affected also, as well as a number of fields in the vicinity. Similar cases have been observed in a number of other states, and public sentiment favoring the eradication of the common barberry is growing rapidly. It is said that Japanese barberry does not harbor the wheat rust.

PLACE MACHINERY IN HOUSE

Protect Valuable Implements From Exposure in Winter—Paint All Iron or Steel Parts.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The cost of machinery and implements is constantly increasing. Prepare now to protect implements and machinery from exposure during the coming winter. As far as possible all implements should be placed under a dry shed. Woodwork should be painted and all exposed iron and steel parts should be either painted or covered with grease or oil to prevent rusting.

LESSEN STRAIN ON BRIDGES

Runways of Plank Laid Lengthwise Enable Automobiles to Pass Over Without Vibration.

A majority of the highway bridges in a region in the Southwest have been provided with runways of planks laid lengthwise, says Popular Mechanics. In passing over them automobiles make practically no noise, and because the resulting vibration is very much less than when running on the bridge floor itself, made of planks placed crosswise, the wear and tear on the structure is reduced. The improvement makes it unnecessary for cars to slow down.

Acid-Stomach Makes Millions Old Before Their Time

What is it that robs so many people of their vitality, youth and good looks—makes them all in and decrepit, years before their time? Some say it's rheumatism that is ailing them. Others complain of chronic stomach or liver trouble. Others are bilious. Life is a burden to multitudes of dyspeptics. Severe headache, extreme nervousness, insomnia, mental depression, melancholia, anemia, dizziness, vertigo, heart and chest pains, constipation, etc., claim other multitudes. Sometimes these people are downright sick. More frequently they are just weak, sickly and unattractive. Not knowing exactly what is the matter with them. Nearly always they resort to medicines of one kind or another in the hope of getting back their health and strength. And nearly always they are disappointed, because medicines don't build strength unless they set the stomach free from acidity, allowing it to take full strength out of the food eaten.

What is it that causes teeth to decay? Dentists say—acid mouth—that the acid formed by the fermentation of small particles of food lodged in the teeth is powerful enough to eat right through the hard enamel. An acid-stomach presents a similar condition. Excess acid retards digestion. Food in the stomach sours and ferments, causing pain. Gases affect the heart action. The intestines become the breeding place for countless millions of deadly germs or toxic poisons. These poisons are carried by the blood into every part of the system. The famous scientist, Metchnikoff, said—If the system could be kept free from these toxic germs, people might easily live a hundred years or more.

The only safe thing to do is to rid the stomach of its excess acid at once. A way has been found in the wonderful preparation, called EATONIC—a compressed compound that absorbs the excess acid and carries it away through the bowels. Thousands upon thousands now know of EATONIC and its amazing power to clean out the excess acid and leave the stomach sweet, cool and strong—giving it a chance to properly digest food so that you get full strength of what you eat and in this way help Nature build up vigorous health, strength and vitality to take the place in a few days, of sickness, lassitude, weakness.

EATONIC is worth your trial. Its possibilities for restoring health, vigor, energy and vitality are beyond telling you in mere words—you must "just try it."

EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed, so get a big 50c box from your druggist. If it does not help you your money will be refunded. If your druggist does not keep EATONIC, send your name and address to the Eaton Remedial Company, 1018 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., and they will at once mail you a 50c box and you can send them the money for it after you receive it.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

GRANDPA TURKEY EXPLAINS.

"Ah, what a fine succession of meals we've been having lately," said young Master Turkey.

"Yes," said young John Turkey, "it is most certainly true. We have been having one good meal right after the other, day after day, after day."

"The farmer appreciates us," said young Master Turkey. "He knows we should be well fed and well looked after, for just see who we are!"

"Who are we?" inquired young George Turkey.

"Well, did I ever," said young Master Turkey. "Don't you know what sort of animals we are?"

"Gobble, gobble, gobble, ha, ha, ha," chuckled young John Turkey. "That's the best joke I have ever heard."

"Maybe you haven't heard many jokes," said young George Turkey.

"But don't you really know our family name?" asked young Master Turkey.

"Of course I do, gobble, gobble, gobble, of course I do," said young George Turkey. "Our family name is the noble name of Turkey."

"That's right," said young Master Turkey. "Then how could you have asked such a question as 'Who are we?'"

"Well, I know we're turkeys," said young George Turkey, "but I don't know why you should strut around with your chest 'way out, saying, 'Just see who we are.'"

"And why shouldn't I?" asked young Master Turkey.

"Because," said young George Turkey, "there is no special reason I know of that should make turkeys the favored ones of the barnyard. I think it's most extremely nice that we are, but I really, for the life of me, can't see any special reason for it."

"Well, did I ever," said young Master Turkey. "It was his favorite expression. 'A modest turkey, a turkey with no conceit, a turkey who doesn't see a good reason for being well fed.'"

"I do see a good reason," said young George Turkey, "because I see that we grow fat and that we feel well when we are well fed. In fact I see two good reasons."

"You're a most peculiar turkey," said young Master Turkey.

"He is a most peculiar turkey," chimed in young John Turkey.

"I am glad I give you all such interest," said young George Turkey.

"You surprise us," said young Master Turkey. "That is what you do.

"We're to Be Eaten!" Exclaimed the Turkey Brothers.

You surprise us mightily. We cannot understand a turkey being so modest. How you ever came into our family is beyond my understanding.

"There are some things none of you understand," said Grandfather Turkey who had been walking about and who now joined the three Turkey brothers.

"Gobble, gobble, gobble," they all chuckled softly. "What don't we understand, Grandpa, dear?"

"You don't understand why you are being fed so much. There is always such delight at this time of the year among the turkeys when they are being fed more and more every day and when they are being fed the most delicious food.

"And some of we old turkey folks," he continued, "have to tell the younger ones what it means."

"Tell us," said the three Turkey brothers.

"It means," said Grandfather Turkey, "that we are being fed for a day known as Thanksgiving Day. I'm too old for them to use, I know, but they'll have all the younger members of the family fine and plump and good to eat."

"We're to be eaten!" exclaimed all the Turkey brothers.

"Yes," said Grandfather Turkey. "But cheer up, for you are to be eaten on a fine and splendid day, and while you're in the barnyard your lives are very sweet and full of food."

And the three Turkey brothers tried to cheer up.

Trench Expert.
Senator Sheppard of Texas sat on the veranda of the Chevy Chase Golf club discussing prohibition and watching a poor player endeavoring to tee off.

After the poor player had made a half a dozen ineffectual swipes at the ball the senator's companion said:
"What the dickens is that fellow trying to do?"

"It looks to me," said Senator Sheppard, "as if he were trying to dig himself in."

"She says she is five years younger than her husband."
"That may be, but I understand that her husband isn't compelled to register for war service."

WHAT CONSTIPATION MEANS

It means a miserable condition of ill health that leads to all sorts of special ailments such as headache, backache, dyspepsia, dizziness, indigestion, pains of various kinds, piles and numerous other disorders—CONSTIPATION is a crime against nature. Take DR. TUTT'S LIVER PILLS and have your liver and bowels resume their health-giving natural functions. At all druggists.

Insidious Persistence.
"You don't seem to pay any attention to these germs."
"I don't talk about 'em any more than is necessary," answered Doc Braney. "I take all possible precautions and then try to ignore 'em. The meanest thing about a germ is that if he can't attack you anywhere else, he tries to get on your mind."

Generosity.
"You should not disdain to feed the stranger at your gates."
"I don't," replied Mr. Cumrox; "my wife feeds one stranger after another at luncheons and teas and things."

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROW'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 50c per bottle.

He Knew.
Mrs. Oldwed—"Am I dearer to you than ever?" Mr. Oldwed—"Sure thing. Everything is dearer nowadays."

Keep your liver active, your bowels clean by taking Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and you'll keep healthy, wealthy and wise. Adv.

Priddy & Fooshee Co's

This Epoch Making Sale Will Last for Ten Days Only

This entire stock of Dry Goods, Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Garments, Men's and Boys' Clothing, Shoes and Furnishings, in fact, everything, without reserve, will be sacrificed, for cash, in this unprecedented sale. It means ten days of the most stupendous and unparalleled bargains on dependable and seasonable merchandise ever offered by any house in the middle of a winter buying season. It will be the most merciless butchery of prices and massacre of values New Mexico has seen this year. When this store, which has been the creator of low prices, makes a statement like this, the people of Portales and adjacent towns and country, who are our patrons, know that we don't do things half way. Many items in this big sale are considerably less than wholesale cost on to-day's market. While we might not refuse to sell to Merchants at the prices advertised, we reserve the right to sell to them in limited quantities only. Remember the dates, starts Sat. Dec. 14, ends Dec. 24.
