A Smooth Scheme The Republican state organization, or so much of it as remained after Bursum's coup de etat, at Albuquerque, has given up all hope of putting its corporation controlled ticket across; it is even conceded that the state will give its electoral vote to the national Democratic nominees, unless-and therein lies their only hope. The scheme, in part, is to start an intense campaign for one or more Republican candidates in the eastern tier of counties, getting as many Democrats as possible to vote for one Republican, thereby getting the Democratic ticket scratched with the odds in favor of the chances that ninety per cent of the ballots scratched will be thrown out as mutilated ballots, the intention of the voter thwarted and several hundred votes in each county be diverted from the Democratic national and state candidates. It is pointed out that two years ago, with no scheme of this sort working, the Democrats lost in excess of eight hundred votes in mutilated ballots. The Australian ballot is a dangerous thing to monkey with, even when understood by the voter, but when, as in this state, it is a new system, has been vo'ed by the men once and the ladies never, it may be readily understood how so clever a scheme may prove successful and deliver Roosevelt and other eastern counties over to Harding and Bursum and not materially affect the county ticket, or any candidate on it. It is safe to assume that the same agencies that followed Governor Cox and party and brought pressure to bear on all Republican papers to get them to suppress the truth about the Cox meetings, and this is admitted by the Albuquerque Morning Journal, would soon grasp the possibilities of the Australian ballot in communities where its intricacies were not well understood. Whether or not the Democratic voters of Roosevelt and the other counties on the east side will fall for this Republican gold brick remains to be seen, The only - safe proposition is to vote your Democratic ticket straight, and to look with suspicion on any who approaches you with a design to encourage scratching. All indicalions are for Democratic success, in both the state and nation, but this advantage may easily be lost by indiscriminate ballot manglers. Roosevelt county Democracy owes to the state and nation its full Democratic vote and failure to deliver it may defeat the whole ticket. See that all legal voters are registered and then see to it that they vote. Lewis M. Tipton and William F, Hill have formed a partnership for selling real estate and Mr. Tipton will leave shortly for the east on a hunt for real home builders. Those who have places to sell should see them at once.

THE ONLY WAY

We trust that Senator Fall, Senator Catron, W. A. Hawkins, Percy Wilson, Holm O. Bursum and their associates feel pleased with the plight in which they have placed the Republican party in New Mexico. And having placed the party in that position, we hope they are pleased with themselves for having branded as good and free a man as Judge Mechem with their branding iron, even though we know he does not belong to them. Why they would not turn the Republican convention entirely loose when they found their control of it impossible, passes the comprehension of sensible Republicans. But to save their faces and to give an appearance of victory for the "gang," they defeated Governor Larrazolo and aided in nominating a man who deserved better treatment than to be compelled to carry a suspicion of their domination through a campaign. It shows only their utter ruthlessnes and their complete folly. Judge Mechem has our support, but he has not the slightest chance for an election unless he completely repudiates the bosses and all their works and frees himself of them as excess baggage in the race that he is undertaking to run. It will serve him no purpose with the rank and file of right thinking people in the party to avow that he owes them nothing if, at the same time, he keeps silent as to their misdeeds in managing New Mexico. If he allows his hands to be tied in order to get their support, he will lose the support of many times their number among decent people. Judge Mechem must openly charge them with their bad methods and repudiate them. He must show how they have retarded New Mexico with their mothods. He must tell them publicly that he is indifferent as to whom they support. He must tell them precisely where to "head in." If he fails to do this he is going down to the most ignominious defeat. -Albuquerque Morning Journal.

After a long and patient wait, and after having exhausted all the eloquence at its command, to say nothing of inches of first page space and oodles of perfectly good printing ink, in a vain attempt to jar one, Merritt C. Mechem loose from the diamond hitch tied onto him by H. O. Bursum, reigning potentate in "Darkest Socorro," being also the habitat of the said Mechem, the Albuquerque Morning Journal realized the hopelessness of its undertaking and has renounced allegiance to the dauphin of Socorro, Merritt C. Mechem, and it will support the state Democratic ticket. Thus endeth the first spasm.

Commencing Friday the county fair drew immense crowds, it being estimated that fully three thousand people were in attendance. The live stock and poultry exhibits were numerous and the grades good. Agriculture was, probably, better represented, both irrigated and and nonirrigated products, than ever before. Friday, children's day, the school children of the county paraded around the public square, some eleven hundred, and it was quite an interesting event. The program for Saturday is expected to draw even a larger crowd.

Passenger Rates Higher

Despite the ruling of the corporation commission railroad travel in New Mexico will cost twenty per cent more than formerly, or about five cents a mile. This advance is but one more of the many blessings we fell heir to with the return to private operation of railroads.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buchanan, who have recently returned from their summer's outing, say that they certainly enjoyed themselves. Harry says that they "Forded" all over Arizona, California, Utah, the Sound country, finished up with the Yosemite valley and Washington park. They saw all the sights that are worth seeing, including deer, elk and bear, crossed the famous desert and, in fact, just had the time of their lives, no car trouble and no worries, yet for all the pleacure, they say they were mighty glad to get home.

Mrs. Jack Wilcox returned last week from attending the national meeting of Woman's clubs, at Des Moines, Iowa, which she was an accredited delegate. While away Mrs. Wilcox visited the parents of her husband, Captain Jack, at Tama. Iowa, and relatives at Cedar Rapids. She enjoyed quite a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Golda na Cook, at Peoria, Illinois, who is general secretary of the national Y.W.C.A. Also visited in Chicago and Fairbury, Illinois.

Judson D. Osborn, a prominent attorney and Democratic leader of Roswell, was here Thursday.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

To know whether Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, try it! For advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

A Perfect Thirty-Six.

G. S. Wyckoff, the Vigo county scout executive, is both very tall and very slender. The other day one of his young friends said laughingly, "Since uniforms make a person so much more popular, I believe I'll have to get me one. Oh, by the way," she continued, "do you happen to have an old suit of khaki like this one. I thought I might get it and have it cut down for myself."

The executive nodded. "Sure," he agreed, "you can have it. But you won't need to have it cut down. Just roll it up instead."-Indianapolis News.

Type of Volunteer "Shock Troops" That Helped the Farmer Hold the Line in 1918.

With a shortage of farm labor, as touch with directors of agricultural exacute this year as in the critical war year of 1918, threatening a curtailment of food production on the farms, especially at the trying season of harvesting, the United States department of agriculture is endeavoring to stir up the interest of city men in spending in direct communication with the their vacations in the fields, particularly as harvest helpers.

Everyone remembers the now famous "shock troops" of the war years, who went into the harvest fields of Kansas and other large wheat-producing states and lent a hand at gathering in the nation's bread supply. They included men in many walks of life-college students and city men, including bankers, lawyers, doctors, clerks and state and city officials. These veterans, together with other volunteers to swell the ranks, are urged to mobilize again this year to help relieve the present shortage and so aid in combating high costs of food products.

SOME RECORD AIR FLIGHTS SPLENDID BATON FOR FOCH

Give Proof That Birds Are Still the Undisputed Champions in the Flying Game.

Most Costly Ever Presented Even to the Long Line of His Distinguished Predecessors.

Ferdinand Foch, marshal of France,

Long-distance flights by birdmen have long been anticipated by the birds themselves, says the Christian Science Monitor. Recent proof of their endurance and wanderlust comes in a report from Capetown, which says that five swallows have been traced recently from hangars in England to temporary homes in South Africa. These birds were ringed as nestlings and found by a happy chance at the other end of the world. One nestling ringed in Lancashire, was found in Cape and stars appears the inscription, Province in February of the next year; another, ringed in Ayrshire was reported next March in Orange Free State; another, ringed in Yorkshire, was recovered in East Griqualand the following February; a fourth swallow, this time an adult, ringed in Stafferdshire, was recovered in Natal 19 months afterward, the fifth bird, ringed on June 1, 1919 in Stirlingshire, was found in February, 1920, at Lake Ctrissie.

The ringing scheme was inaugurated by J. H. F. Witherby, editor of British

At the base of the baton, which is 201/2 inches long, are embossed in gold the names of Marshal Foch's capital victories-Metz, St. Gond, the second Marne, Strasburg, etc. Above this, in gold on red copper, appears the legend: "Terror belli, decus Pacis"-"Terrible in war, gentle in peace." Then beyond the field of blue "Marechal Ferdinand Foch, 1914-19," and this is surmounted by the golden arms of France, the United States, Lorraine's dual cross and the arms of the Knights of Columbus. The alloy of the metal parts of the baton is one from Pennsylvania. James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, will present the baton to Marshal Foch when the marshal unveils the statue of Lafayette which the Knights of Columbus will present to France.

secured in 1918, when city men in large numbers came to the aid of the farmers leave no doubt as to the success of the present canvass if the men respond.

The present labor shortage has arisen in spite of the fact that farm wages are 15 to 25 per cent higher than last year. The situation, unremedied, cannot fail to have an unfavorable effect on production, according to observers of the department, who are watching the condition closely. It will tend, they say, to prevent any reduction in the prices of farm products. While the total acreage undoubtedly has been reduced as a result of the present situation, it is not in so large proportion as the reduction in the labor supply, because the farmers with their families exerted themselves to the utmost to overcome the handicap. Cultivation this year was, less intensive than formerly. More land was put into grass and such crops as required a minimum of habor, and the tilled fields consequently suffered.

Grain States Need Help.

From many of the harvest centers are coming appeals for help. In some of the big grain-producing states of the West, such as Idaho and Nebraska, the demand for labor for planting the crops and tending them was fairly well met. Harvesting and thrashing, however, means more help, and it is this that the farmers in these areas are worrying about. Help must come from the cities, and it is to arouse the interest of city men and obtain their aid that the department and other agencies of the government and the states are directing their efforts.

Persons who are desirous of responding to the appeal should get in

The old system of basing the price at which wheat or other grain was bought from the farmer upon the average quality of the crop in any community or section was totally unfair to the producer of good grain. Under the "mine-run" basis of purchasing grain the producer of good grain received no more for his clean, heavy wheat than did the producer of light weight and otherwise inferior grain. Instead of a premium upon heavy grain, a premium was paid upon inferior products. The application of federal grain standards is calculated to prevent such inequality, and as experience is being had under the grading system growers are finding that the purpose sought is Under the direction of the Constantinople unit of the American committee for relief in the near East, an open-air hospital for tuberculous children has also been established on the shore of the Bosporus a few miles north of Constantinople. This hospital is under the direction of Dr. Elfie Richards Graff. It has 50 beds, and is designed as a model institution which the Americans hope to get the Turkish, Greek, Armenian and Jewish communities to duplicate.

Prisoner Gets 60 Days From His Mother

"Earthly Remains of Her Late Husband"

CAN FRANCISCO, CAL.-"Joey" D Foster, forty years old, is a naughty boy and is facing a 60-day term in the county jail, the punishment inflicted by his own mamma.

"Joey" appeared before Police Judge Fitzpatrick to answer a charge of being drunk in a public place. He was arrested and when "Joey's" case was called his mamma arose in the courtroom.

"Your honor," said Mrs. Celia Foster, "since the saloons have been closed Joey has been drinking wood alcohol. He goes to the fisheries in Alaska every year, but if he keeps on drinking this wood alcohol, I'm afraid there'll be no fisheries for him. He's making a fool of himself, and I've decided to give him sixty days in the county jail."

Judge Fitzpatrick raised his eyebrows at the emphatic announcement of the determined little gray-haired Woman.

"Yes, your honor, I have decided that sixty days will do him good." "Well," replied the judge with a smile, "if you have decided, then there apparently is nothing left for the court to do but concur in your decision." At this there was a wall from the dock, and an eager face pressed pleadingly forward.

"Aw, ma," said the pleader, "not sixty days—make it thirty." "No, Joey, you need a lesson, and you're going to get sixty days, so there's no use arguing." "Sixty days goes, your honor."

IOWA IS MADE A TARGET

Famous Battleship To Be Objective of Big Naval Guns.

Washington .--- The once famous battleship Iowa, which played no small part in the destruction of Cervera's fleet at Santiago, is being prepared at the Philadelphia navy yard for what naval officers say will be one of the most unique target experiments ever attempted.

Proceeding unmanned, but under her own steam and controlled by radio, probably from seaplanes, the old sea fighter will become the objective of used a moving craft for a target except in actual war.

Two of the Iowa's coal-burning boilers are being converted to burn oil so the ship may continue under way with no one aboard once its fires have been started burning and its engines placed in motion.

It is expected that the unique practice will give the gun pointers of the Atlantic fleet an opportunity to test their ability under conditions as nearly like those to be expected in battle as can be obtained. Smoke screens will be thrown around the Iowa during the runs and the course will be changed at will through the radio control system, necessitating a change in range on all the firing ships, exactly as would occur in action.

The Iowa has already been stripped the big guns of the Atlantic fleet super- of some of its guns and much valuable dreadnaughts in Chesapeake bay late | metal and the practice will be continthis summer. This will be the first used until the old vessel, a mass of

A HOT WEATHER LUNCHEON.

Even in warm weather a hot soup is enjoyed, especially those made of fresh-> green vegetables, such as peas, spinach, vegetable oysters or celery. Cucumber soup may not be so well known but it is a most appetizing one.

Cream of Cucumber Soup .-- Have ready one cupful of stewed cucumber, rubbed through a sleve. Take the liquor in which the cucumber was cooked, reduce it to half a cupful by boiling, and set aside. Put into a saucepan one tablespoonful of butter, season with salt, pepper and, when the butter is hissing hot, stir into It two tablespoonfuls of flour. Stir until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan. Add three cupfuls of cold milk and stir constantly until it boils. When the mixture is as thick as a this cream sauce add the cucumber and the half-cupful of liquor. Mix thoroughly, boil up once and serve.

Eggs a la Bourgeoise .--- Cut slices of bread half an inch thick and trim off the crust; lay on a buttered platter and sprinkle generously with grated cheese. Beat eggs enough to cover the bread; season with salt and pepper and grated nutmeg; pour over the bread and bake in a moderate oven until the eggs are set.

Creamed Fish With Potato .-- Prepare creamed salmon as usual and put a layer of the fish in a baking dish, cover with a layer of cold, mashed potato, then add another layer of fish until the dish is full and the potato on top. Dot with bits of butter, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake brown in a hot oven.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children ? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:- It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily

Easy to Get Strong

Everyone wants more pep and surely needs it this hot weather. Hot weather takes away the appetite and makes one feel listless, lifeless, miserable, even when you have a strong stomach, but for those who have weak stomachs, it is really a dangerous, trying time.

Be on the safe side this kind of weather and help nature all you can, by taking an eatonic tablet about half an hour before you eat and one or two an hour after you eat; it will be of wonderful benefit. Eatonic simply takes up the excess acids, poisons and gases, and carries them right out of the body. With the cause of the trouble removed, of course you will Tomato Hors d'Oeuvres-Arrange feel fit and fine-full of pep all the time. Eatonic will cool feverish mouth and stomach and give you a good appetite, even in hot weather. Get a big box at your druggist's for a triffing cost and let eatonic help you for a few days; then you will never be without it. Adv.

Notice of Pendency of Suit The state of New Mexico to H. S. Lewis and J. F. Hallwegon, defendants, greeting.

You and each of you are hereby noti-fied that a suit has been filed against you in the district court of the Fifth judicial district of the state of New Mexico, in and for Roosevelt county, wherein J. T. Wilcox is plaintiff and the Nu-Mex Oil Company, a corporation, and the Nu-Mex Off Company, a corporation, and the said H. S. Lewis and J. F. Hallwegen are de-fendants, said cause being numbered 1603 upon the civil docket of said court, The general objects of said action are

The general objects of said action are as follows; The plaintiff sues the defendants al-leging in his first cause of action that the defendants are indebted to him in the snm of $495.84, by virtue of a con-tract made between the plaintiff and de-fendants on the 3rd day of November, 1919, whereby the defendants employed the plaintiff as drilling superintendent, to superintend the construction of Nu-Mex oil well No. 1, in Roosevelt county New Mexico. New Mexico.

The plaintiff further alleges in his sec-ond cause of action that the defendants are indebted to him in the sum of $528.40 on account of valid claims of indebtedness due from the dofendants to Owen Summers, in the sum of $280, W. D. Kenyon in the sum of $192.50, Joel Fuller in the sum of $10.00, and the Portales Lumber Company in the sum of $55.90; that said claims in favor of said Owen Summers, Joel Fuller, W.D. Kenyon and the Portales Lumber Company were and are due for work and labor performed by all of said above named parties for the defendants under contracts with the defendants made during the month of July, 1920, except the claim of the Por-tales Lumber Company, which is for lumber and materials furnished the said defendants by the said !umber company, under contract with them dated the 9th day of January, 1920: and that all of said claims were; for a valuable consideration duly and legally assigned to the plaintiff, who is now the owner thereof; that plaintiff,s total claim under both causes of action amounts to the sum of one thousand thirty-four dollars and twenty cents, with legal interest. The plaintiff seeks judgment for said amount against said defendants, and each of them, together with costs of suit. You, the said H. S. Lewis and J. F. Hallwegen are further notified that the Security State bank of Portales, New been garnished and that your money and effects in said bank have been garnished and that unless yon appear in said cause on oa before the 24th day of September 1920, and plead or answer therein, judg-ment will be rendered against you and said garnishee in said cause and yonr money applied, and your effects will be judgment.

The latest mystery is the disappearance of the Republican slush fund raised in New Mexico. Hays hasn't got it, Craig that unless you appear and plead in this says he hasn't and Bursum-well Bursum said the same, but then he may have had his fingers crossed when he said it.

Will Hays, chairman of the national Republican committee, sent two of his henchmen ahead of the Cox party to see all the newspaper and get them to suppress all favorable news of the meeting. These "skulkers" intervied Carl Magee, but the best they got was a calling down.

At last the Republican state central committee has found a lamb for the sacrifice. They have passed the buck to Roswell which town has concealed within its corporate limits a young white hope with more faith than logic Barnum said one was born every second. Here's a story with action, action, action. "Out where the West begins" is still the land of romance, and this is the heart of the old-fashioned West in the days of the cowboy, the cattle rustler, the horsethief, the outlaw, the express robber, the sheriff's posse, the bloody and thrilling battles with the six-gun. There are some human and lovable people in whose fortunes we are interested, and some "bad men" who very properly die with their boots on. Quite a plot there is, too. But action, action, actionthe story moves with a rush.

He let out a the kitchen, cut into the alley, and running over the brow of the hill. A shout.

"Oh, you, Slats Davis!" "Hello, Curly! How are things a-comin'?"

"Fine. When did you blow in to Saguache? Ain't you off your run some?"

They had ridden the range together and had frolicked around on a dozen boyish larks. To put it mildly the meeting was likely to prove embarrassing.

"Came down to see about getting whole thing being a lark. some cows for the old man from the Fiddleback outfit," Davis explained. "You riding for the Bar Double M?" There was a momentary silence. Curly's vigilant eyes met those of his old side partner. What did Slats know? Were his suspicions already active?

The sun was shining in his face when Curly wakened. He sat up and "They inquired for you and your rubbed his eyes. Mac was nowhere in friend here down at the Legal Ten- sight. Probably he had gone to get the horses.

"Ah," said Queen Bee, "I do not work, but I lay the eggs, and so I am called the Queen Bee, for all the little eggs are my subjects and all around me do everything they can to help me and to wait on me.

"When I tell you how many eggs a day I lay during the time when I feel in the mood for laying, you will be surprised.

"You are used to hearing of a few eggs laid by hens and a few eggs laid once a year by birds or something like that. But when I'm laying I lay from two to three thousand eggs a day.

"You see, buzz, buzz, I don't like to do anything that is small. I don't care about doing little bits of work. I like to do a lot. That is why I'm a queen, I am an important creature, and not just like all the rest!

"And I am waited on by my helpers who digest the food, the pollen which I eat.

"I am the only queen working and ruling in my surroundings, and that is another reason why I am called a queen.

"I haven't a lot of other queens about me. I am the only one. I rule over this colony of bees and all the bees do as I wish.

"I am fed royal jelly, a most deliclously sweet food made only and served only to a queen bee who has been brought up in the Queen's royal chambers, or in the Queen bee cell, as it is usually known.

"But I never leave the hive, though I may live to be several years old. Sometimes it is true I go off upon a flight with my mate or with a swarm of bees, but Queen Bee is a homebedy.

of horses just about the time the town was settling itself to supper. From out of the heart of it cantered a rider, who swung his pony as on a half dollar, and deflected the remuda toward Chunn's corral.

The rider was in the broad-rimmed felt hat, the gray shirt, the plain leather chaps of a vaquero. Under other conditions he might have been a college freshman for age, but the competent confidence of manhood sat easily on his broad shoulders. Curly Flandrau had more than once looked into the chill eyes of death.

The leaders of the herd dribbled into the corral through the open gate, and the others crowded on their heels. Three more riders followed Curiy into too many telephone lines into this the inclosure. One of .hem, a redhaired young fellow of about the same age as Curly, swung stiffly from the like we were scared stiff of somesaddle.

"Me for a square meal first off," he gave out promptly.

"Not till we've finished this business, Curly agreed. Mac. We'll put a deal right through if Warren's here," decided a third mem- to dust ber of the party. He was a tough-looking customer of nearly fifty. "Bad Bill" Cranston he was called, and the man looked as if he had earned his sobriquet.

"And what if he ain't here?" snarled Lute Blackwell. "Are you aiming to sit down and wait for him?"

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," Bad Bill answered. "Curly, want to ride up to the hotel and ask if Mr. Dave Warren is there? Bring him right down if he is."

The young man cantered up tho dusty street toward the hotel.

"Thought you'd fixed it with this Warren to be right on the spot so's we could unload on him prompt," Blackwell grumbled at Cranston without looking toward the latter.

"I didn't promise he'd be hanging round your neck soon as you hit town, Cranston retorted coolly.

The owner of the corral sauntered from the stable and glanced over the bunch of horses milling around.

"Drive all the way from Bar Double M?" asked the keeper, his eyes on the brand stamped on the flank of a pony circling past.

"Yep."

Bad Bill turned away and began to unsaddle.

Mac cut in. "Shoulder of my bronc's chafed from the saddle. Got anything that'll heal it?"

"You bet I have." The man hurried into the stable and the red-headed cowpuncher winked across the back of his horse at Bill.

"Bully for you. That's great. All right, Mac, I'm coming. That's sure great, old hoss. Well, see you later, Slats."

Flandrau followed Mac, dissatisfied with himself for leaving his friend so cavallerly. He guessed Slats would be hurt, but he had to think of his partners in this enterprise.

After supper they took a room at the hotel and divided the money Warren had paid for the horses. None of them had slept for the last fifty hours and Mac proposed to tumble into bed at once.

Bad Bill shook his head. wouldn't, Mac. Let's hit the trail and do our sleeping in the bills. There's town to suit me."

"Sho! Our play isn't to hike out thing. What we want to do is to act as if we could look every darned citizen in the face. Mac's sure right,"

"Yoù kids make me tired. I'm going my pronto," Blackwell scarled.

"Sure. Whenever you like. You got to split up anyhow," Mac said. Bad Bill looked at Blackwell and nodded. "That's right. We don't all want to pull a blue streak. That would be a dead give away. Let the kids stay if they want to."

"So that they can round on us 'f they're nabbed," Blackwell sneered. Cranston called him down roughly. "That'll be enough along that line, Lute. I don't stand for any more cracks like it."

Blackwell, not three months out from the penitentiary, faced the other with an ugly look in his eyes. He was always ready to quarrel, but he did not like to fight unless he had a sure thing.

"Didn't mean any barm," the exconvict growled. "But I don't like this sticking around town.

"Then I wouldn't stay if I were you," Curly suggested promptly. "Mac and I have got a different notion. So we'll tie to Saguache for a day or two."

As soon as the older men had gone the others tumbled into bed and fell clean face of a wholesome girl smiled asleep at once. Daylight was sifting in through the open window before their eyes opened. Somebody was pounding on the bedroom door.

Mac was already out of bed when his partner's feet hit the floor. "What's up, Mac?"

The eyes of the redheaded puncher gun was in his hand. By the look of him he was about ready to whang loose through the door.

"Hold your horses, you chump," Curly sang out. "It's the hotel clerk. out for an amble to get the mo'ning had nipped him from the rear. air," Curly cautioned.

While they fed, watered and saddled they swapped gossip with the wrangler. It would not do to leave such a hurry to hit the trail that they could not wait to feed their bronchos. So they stuck it out while the animals ate. At that, they shaved it fine, for as they rode away two men were coming down the street,

"Kite Bonfils," Curly called to his partner.

No explanation was needed. Bonfils was the foreman of the Bar Double M. He let out a shout as he caught sight of them and began to run forward. Simultaneously his gun seemed to jump from its holster. Mac's quirt sang and his pony leaped to a canter in two strides. A bullet zipped between them. Another struck the dust at their heels. Faintly there came to the fugitives the sound of the foreman's impotent curses. They had escaped for the time.

Presently they passed the last barb wire fence and open country lay before them. It did not greatly matter which direction they followed, so long as they headed into the desert. Neither of them had ever been in serious trouble before and both regretted the folly that had turned their drunken spree into a crime. They were stretched in front of the fire that evening trying to make a smoke serve instead of supper. Macbroke a gloomy silence to grunt out jerkily a situation he could no longer keep to him-

Curly shot a slant glance at him. 'Meaning-the girl?"

Curly saw red. Surrender nothing! He would go down fighting. As fast as he could blaze he emptied Mac's gun. When the smoke cleared the boy with a story of two riders in the man who had ordered him to give up was slipping from his horse. Curly was surprised, but he knew he must have hit him by chance.

> "We got him. His gun's empty," some one shouted.

Cautiously they closed in, keeping him covered all the time. Of a sudden the plain tilted up to meet the sky. Flandrau felt himself swaying on his feet. Everything went black. The boy had fainted.

When he came to himself strange faces were all around him and there were no bodies to go with them. They seemed to float about in an odd, casual sort of way. Then things cleared.

"He's coming to all right," one said. "How is Cullison?"

This was said to another who had just come up.

"Hard hit. Looks about all in. Got him in the side."

The rage died out of Curly. In a flash he saw all that had come of this drunken spree: the rustling of the Bar Double M stock, the discovery, the death of his friend and maybe of Cullison, the certain punishment that would follow He was a horse thief caught almost in the act. Perhaps he was a murderer, too. And the whole thing had been entirely unpremeditøted.

"You've played h----," one of the men told the bey.

He was a sawed-off little fellow known as Dutch. Flandrau had seen him in the Map of Texas country a year or two before. The rest were strangers to the boy. All of them looked at him out of hard, hostile eyes. He was scarcely a human being to them; rather a wolf to be stamped out of existence as soon as it was convenient.

At a shift in the group Flandrau's eyes fell on his friend lying in the sand with face turned whitely to the sky he never would see again. A lump came into the boy's throat and he had to work it down before he spoke.

"He's only a kid!" (TO BE CONTINUED.) Woman's Ideas. "A plano is no good unless it has tope."

"Then I see about the laying of the eggs, and all of my workers wait on me, as I've said.

"And I am given special food which they cannot have, and neither do they look as perfect and finished as I look!

"But not only am I an interesting creature, but all bees are interesting and the honey we give is good-oh, so good.

"We are great workers and everyone has their special work to do.

"We don't go all about saying:

"'What shall I do next?' Everything like that is arranged and so it saves time and thought and waste of doing things which some one else could do better.

"We work whether we have enough honey on hand or not. We have the habit of work. We cannot stop. We must keep right on.

"When the day is over and the honey gathering is through for the day our workers attend and care for all that they have gathered throughout the day.

"There is never a wasted moment in a bee's life, and every bee has its purpose. A Queen Bee, I was told to be, and so a Queen Bee I am, I do the work of the Queen Bee, the work I can do best.

"And so do we all, all the bees of this hive and all the bees of every

Price Reduction in Ford Products

The war is over and war prices must go. Effective at once, Ford Cars, Trucks and Tractors will be sold F. O. B. Detroit, at the following prices.

Touring Car, Regular	Coupe, With Starter and Demountable Rims $745.00
Touring Car, With Starter $510.00	Serian, with Starter and Demountable mins
Runabout, Regular $395.00
Runabout, With Starter $465.00	Truck, Pneumatic Tires $545.00
Chassis,	Tractor,

The Ford Motor Company makes this reduction in the face of the fact that they have on hand immediate orders for 146,065 Cars and Tractors. The Company will suffer a temporary loss by using the material bought at high prices. They are willing to make this sacrifice in order to bring business back to a going condition as quickly as possible, and maintain the momentum of the buying power of the country.

Henry Ford says: "The war is over and it is time war prices were over. There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values. For the best interests of all it is time a real, practical effort was made to bring the business of the country down to regular pre-war standards."

We are at your command with regular Ford efficiency and service and eagerness to fill your orders.
