THE WATER FLOWS

The Lindsey Well Is Now Under Test.
 No Lack of Water.

In the face of every hindrance, and especially that of not having the proper equipment to work with, Engineer Webber has pushed the work of testing the wells as best he could. By mismanagement the Lindsey well was not cased at the proper time and the water came in in a flood and quickened the sand, when it was found impossible to get the fourteen-inch casing down in place. Rather than wait for the sinking of another well, it was decided to put in eight-inch casing and later on sink another eight-inch well in the same pit. This was done and the well equipped with pump on Wednesday. A short run of thirty minutes pumping was had on Wednesday night. Then, after another delay for better equipment, the crew began pumping Thursday forenoon, at 10 o'clock, and continued the rest of the day. As we go to press the water flows in an unbroken stream, and over 500 gallons is passing over the weir every minute from an eight-inch well, which will be pumped at greater capacity tomorrow (Friday).

Wednesday's Fire.

Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock the household of Mr. W. E. Stewart, for many years a resident of this community, was discovered in the full blast of an all-devouring fire. Mr. Stewart was first to awaken and so far had the flames gained possession of the building that the family was left no time to save anything; indeed they had not time to dress.

The fire is thought to have originated by the leaving of a lamp burning next a window on the north side of the house. At any rate the fire came from this direction and driven on by the terrific wind storm which had arisen in the night, the fire was beyond all hope of control before discovered. There was some insurance on the property; but as we understand, there was also some indebtedness on the home. Mr. Stewart and family have made temporary home with Jim Turner, who is a son-in-law to

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart. The people of Portales extend their profound sympathy to Mr. Stewart and his family.

A New Member.

A new member of the firm of Adams & Crow has arrived and taken full possession of the Adams end of the business—she is a bright, sprightly little fellow and holds complete sway over the "daddy". Her name is Callista Myrtle Adams.

New Residence.

W. H. Snell, contractor, will begin the building of a splendid modern residence for S. A. Morrison on his place half mile west of town.

New Arrival.

As we are going to press it is learned that our genial agent of the Santa Fe, Mr. W. S. Merrill is rejoicing over the arrival of a son who discovered America early this morning.

Pecos Valley Hotel in Full Swing.

Three weeks ago almost, Mr. and Mrs. U. V. Dobbs took hold of the Pecos Valley Hotel and almost every inch of space in the hotel has been full ever since and yet no fuller than the busy hands of the proprietors who have not yet found a resting place. Few men possess the innate energy and capacity for work that "Buck" Dobbs has; and if there is a better cook and manager of a household than Mrs. Dobbs we have not made the discovery.

Annual Conference.

Pastor L. W. Carlton of the M. E. Church of this city left Tuesday for El Paso, Texas, where he will attend annual conference, returning Monday.

Deep Well at Elida.

The Santa Fe Ry. has unloaded a well drilling outfit at Elida, preparatory to sinking a deep well on the right-of-way. The well drill has a capacity of 3,000 feet; but it is hardly probable that it will be necessary to go anything near this depth for all the water needed.

The Fort-Brown Case.

There was something doing in Judge Seay's court Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning of this week, when the case of Mrs. M. J. Brown vs. J. C. Fort was heard on writ of replevin touching possession and ownership of two horses. Judge T. E. Mears and Judge C. M. Compton measured swords in one of the hardest fought legal battles ever witnessed in justice court at this place. The trial resulted in two hearings—one on Tuesday afternoon in which one horse was awarded to Mrs. M. J. Brown; and another hearing on Wednesday morning resulting in a compromise.

Jones Brothers Barn Burns.

Last Wednesday week, Jones Brothers' grain, feed and seed barn at Texico burned. Mr. K. W. Jones of this city, went to Texico to ascertain the extent of his and his brother, C. C. Jones's loss, which in hay, grain, seed, harness, vehicles, etc., amounted to $2,000, with $1,500 insurance.

This is the age of progress and the people want something new, so in accordance with the spirit of the times, Campbell Brothers have added to their big shows in every department until now they offer to the public the largest, finest and most complete show in the country.

Portales Chapter Meeting.

On Monday afternoon a night the Portales Chapter of Royal Arch Masons met in their new hall. John H. Jenkins, Robert Callahan, John Shaw, Luelius Dills, Bruno Tolzek and J. S. Lea, representatives of Roswell Chapter, assisted by several local members, did the degree work.

The following were in attendance upon the meetings, from a distance: A. A. Beeman, Dr. Murrell and E. O. Blackshier, of Elida.

At midnight all members and candidates repaired to the Pecos Valley Hotel, where the banquet was held. The tables were laden with good things to eat. All expressed themselves as pleased. Mr. Jenkins, of Roswell, in a few fitting words thanked the Portales Chapter and the ladies of the Pecos Valley for their royal entertainment, which was responded to by S. D. Williams in behalf of the home chapter.

Portales is always glad to welcome visitors from Roswell and sister towns and the Chapter holds out a welcome to visit us again.

Quartette Coming.

The first number of the Lyceum course for the coming winter will be on October 16th and one of the very best of the course. The Quaker Male Quartet. If you have not yet signed for this course, be ready to do so, as the full course of four numbers is offered under the auspices of the Woman's Club for $2.00, family tickets $4.00, single number, 75 cents. Every one of the numbers is of superlative talent, of the Dixie Lyceum Bureau. This Bureau has placed several numbers of the same course at Roswell, under the auspices of the Elks. Do not fail to see and hear them all.

FAGGARD'S FALL FLOUR SALE

OUR GOODS ARE

THE KINGMAN MILLING CO'S. "DIAMOND K"

PUREST AND CLEANEST FOOD PRODUCTS---The wheat that makes "Diamond K" is scoured three times, cleaned twice and washed six hours before it strikes the first set of rolls. After it passes through twenty-four sets of rolls and six purifiers it is sealed up in a "Diamond K" sack and sold under the strongest guarantee that ever covered a sack of flour. From the moment the wheat enters the cleaners until it is ready for the markets, no hand touches it; machinery does everything.

"DIAMOND K" IS CHEAPEST AND BEST

Owing to the dry, flinty nature of our wheat, "Diamond K" absorbs an unusual amount of moisture, estimated to be about ten pounds to the hundred more than ordinary (soft wheat) flour.

Hence it follows that "Diamond K" makes ten pounds, or ten loaves, or ten per cent more bread---and not only more bread but BETTER bread. It is sweeter and more nutritious, and the nicest rolls, delicious biscuits and light, healthful bread are sure to result from the use of "Diamond K" flour.

Good board and lodging with private families is furnished our students at from $2.50 to $3.00 per week. Students enroll daily throughout the year. Just as soon as their courses are finished, their diplomas are issued, and they are placed in good paying positions. Students upon arriving in our city should come directly to the college, where they will be given prompt attention and choice as to boarding place. If the reader is not familiar with our college, would advise the writing for our 188 page beautifully illustrated free catalog, which will describe in detail, America's largest commercial college. The average time required for completing our short hand course is three months, bookkeeping or telegraphy four months; bookkeeping and short hand combined five months. Remember we guarantee to give you a better and more thorough course, in half the time, at half the expense of any school teaching other than the Byrne systems or we refund your tuition and pay your railroad fare both ways. Some competitor may tell you we can't do what we claim. He is judging by the systems he has to use. When we used the same old systems he is using, we couldn't do it either; it is the famous Byrne systems that enabled us to reduce the time at least one-half. We will gladly pay $100 cash to any one pointing out an incorrect statement in our advertising matter.

Grand Jury Report.

In the District Court of the Fifth Judicial District of the Territory of New Mexico, within and for the county of Roosevelt, REPORT OF GRAND JURY FOR SEPTEMBER 1909.

To the Hon. Wm. H. Pope, Judge of said court:

The grand jury heretofore organized for the above term of court beg leave to submit their final report to the court as follows:

1. We have finished all the work before us, having returned four no bills, and fourteen true bills, and having returned indictments in all cases where in our judgement the evidence warranted and refusing to do so in cases not so warranting it, as we deemed this in accordance with our duty and the court's instructions.

2. We have made an examination of the court house and jail premises and find the same in as good condition as present circumstances will permit, but we attach hereto a report of our sub-committee which examined the jail and we adopt the recommendation made by said committee relative to changes which should be made in the jail so as to afford more privacy and security and better ventilation; otherwise we find the jail in good condition and well taken care of.

3. We recommend that the water closet of the court house be kept cleaner hereafter and in better sanitary condition; and we also recommend that the outside of the court house on the wood work be repainted and that the roof be repainted.

4. We made a hurried examination of the books in the various county offices and were unable to come to any conclusion not being experts or having the time to go over the books in a proper way.

5. We wish to extend our thanks to the court and all the court officers for the assistance as well as the courtesies which we have received at their hands; we feel that the work has been much facilitated and the expense reduced by the presence of the district attorney and the stenographer in the grand jury room and that the sheriff has been attentive in the discharge of his duties in serving our processes.

After submitting all of which we respectfully beg to be released from further duty in this behalf. (Signed) Wm. M. TWIGGS, Foreman.

Attest: N. C. HOWELL, Clerk.
We the committee appointed to investigate the jail find everything kept up by Sheriff Bain in as good a sanitary condition as he is able with the present construction of same. But we recommend that the present construction of the 2d story be changed to the plan as presented in this report.

As the jail is at the present, no one can keep it in a healthful and sanitary condition, on account of not having proper ventilation.

We also ask the changes to be made so as to get the cages farther from the windows so the prisoners can not receive help from the outside.

(Signed) WILL SMITH, Chrmn. com. to examine co. jail.
Report of the committee who investigated the books of the officers of Roosevelt county has the following to say:

So far as we could tell by a hurried examination, the books in the different county offices were apparently correct and kept in good order. The court house closets were in a very unsanitary condition.

(Signed) W. P. KILPATRICK, Foreman of com. to inspect books.

Last Wednesday week, Jones Brothers' grain, feed and seed barn, at Texico, burned. Mr. K. W. Jones, of this city, went to Texico to ascertain the extent of his and his brother, C. C. Jones's loss, which, in hay, grain, seed, harness, vehicles, etc., amounted to $2,000, with $1,500 insurance.

This is the age of progress and the people want something new, so in accordance with the spirit of the times, Campbell Brothers have added to their big shows in every department until now they offer to the public the largest, finest and most complete show in the country.

Portales Chapter Meeting.

On Monday afternoon a night the Portales Chapter of Royal Arch Masons met in their new hall. John H. Jenkins, Robert Callahan, John Shaw, Lucius Dills, Bruno Tolzek and J. S. Lea, representatives of Roswell Chapter, assisted by several local members, did the degree work.

The following were in attendance upon the meetings, from a distance: A. A. Beeman, Dr. Murrell and E. O. Blackshier, of Elida.

At midnight all members and candidates repaired to the Pecos Valley Hotel, where the banquet was held. The tables were laden with good things to eat. All expressed themselves as pleased. Mr. Jenkins, of Roswell, in a few fitting words thanked the Portales Chapter and the ladies of the Pecos Valley for their royal entertainment, which was responded to by S. D. Williams in behalf of the home chapter.

Portales is always glad to welcome visitors from Roswell and sister towns and the Chapter holds out a welcome to visit us again.

The minimum temperature during the thirty hours was 33 below, the maximum 12. We had reached the goal but the return was still before us. It was essential that we reach the land before the next spring tide, and we must strain every nerve to do so.—Dallas News.

E. H. HARRIMAN DEAD.
 The Great Railroad King Passes Away.
 Life Story.
 Arden, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Edward H. Harriman died at 3:35 this afternoon. At the bedside were members of his family, his physicians and a few of his trusted associates.
 Early this morning Dr. W. G. Gyle, Harriman's physician, gave out a bulletin in which he said: "Harriman's condition is no better." This was an indication that the family had decided to ed with him in his railroads. Lovett hurried to Arden.

Born of Poor Parents.
 Edward Henry Harriman was born Feb. 24, 1848, at Hampton, L. I. He was the second son in a family of six children. His father was Rev. Orlando H. Harriman, an Episcopal minister.
 The Harrimans were poor as church mice. The elder Harriman changed parishes every year, but not until Edward was nearly grown did he get one where he could earn a comfortable living. Always his meagre salary was in arrears and his pride prevented him from accepting help from his friends. The Harriman children were pressed even for food and clothing.
 Young Harriman's education was little and desultory. His father helped him some at home, and he attended some grade schools. Also he had a year at a denominational school where ministers' sons were educated free.
 While still in his teens young Harriman went into Wall street as a broker's clerk. He was an undersized, near-sighted, weak-looking young man, reticent, repelling confidence, one who made few friends.
 But he was keen as a polished steel blade. Despite his weak ap-

COOK'S AND PEARY'S NARRATIVES OF POLAR CONDITIONS PARALLELED.

(By Dr. F. A. Cook.)
 Announced to world from Lerwick, Shetland Islands, Sept. 1. Eighty-Six Degrees, 280 Miles from Pole.

Beyond the eighty-sixth parallel the ice became extensive and heavier, the crevices fewer and less troublesome, with little or no crushed ice thrown up as a barrier.
 Eighty-Seven Degrees, 210 Miles from Pole.

For two days we traveled over ice which resembled a glacial surface. The usual sea ice lines of demarcation were absent and there was no hummocks or deep crevices.
 Eighty-Eight Degrees, 140 Miles from Pole.

The pack was here more accurate, and the temperature remained below 40, cementing together quickly the new crevices. Young ice spread on the narrow spaces of open water so rapidly that little delay was caused in crossing from one field to another.
 Eighty-Nine Degrees, 70 Miles from Pole.

The ice steadily improved. But still there was the depressing monotony of scene, life had no pleasure, no spiritual recreation, nothing to relieve the steady physical drag of chronic fatigue.
 Ninety Degrees, the North Pole.
 The day was April 21, 1908. The sun indicated local noon, but time was a negative problem, for here all meridians meet. From the hour of midnight to that of midday the latitude was 90, the temperature 38 and the barometer 29.83.
 North, east, south and west had vanished. It was south in every direction, but the compass, pointing to the magnetic pole, was as useful as ever. What a cheerless spot to have aroused the ambition of man for so many ages. An endless field of purple snow, no life, no land, no spot to relieve the monotony of frosts. We were the only pulsing creatures in a dead world of ice. We turned our backs on the pole April 23, and began the long return march.

Tariff Commission Named by Taft.

Beverly, Mass.,—President Taft has announced the appointment of the tariff commission, authorized by the recent Congress, as follows: Prof. Henry C. Embry, of Yale, chairman; James B. Reynolds, of Boston; Alvin H. Sanders, of Chicago. A statement given out by the President says the board is authorized to employ experts in the investigation to be conducted in this and other countries. Albuquerque Citizen.

The ladies are invited to call and see the swan line of fall hats at Mrs. A. B. Seny's.

Adams & Crow are prepared to make 14-inch casing for irrigation wells. 42-43

(By Robert E. Peary.)
 As announced to the world Sept. 9 and 10. Eighty-Six Degrees, 280 Miles from Pole.

On the next two marches the going improved and we covered good distances. In one of the marches a lead delayed us a few hours. We finally ferried across on the ice cakes.
 Eighty-Seven Degrees, 210 Miles from Pole.

The weather and going were even better. The surface, except as interrupted by infrequent ridges, was as level as the glacial formation from Hecla to Columbia, and border.
 Eighty-Eight Degrees, 140 Miles from Pole.

The ice was grinding audibly in every direction, but no motion was visible. We marched something over ten hours, the dogs being off on the trot, and made 20 miles. Near the end of the march we rushed across the lead a hundred yards wide, which buckled under our sleighs and finally broke as the last sledge left it. We stopped in sight of the eighty-ninth parallel, in a temperature of forty degrees.
 Eighty-Nine Degrees, 70 Miles from Pole.

This march duplicated the previous one as to weather and going. The past few hours was on young ice and occasionally the dogs were galloping. We made twenty-five miles or more; the air the sky and the bitter wind turning the face until it cracked. It was like the great interior ice cap of Greenland. Even the natives complained of the bitter air. It was keen as frost on steel. A little longer sleep than the previous one had to be taken here; we all needed it. Then on again.
 Ninety Degrees, the North Pole.

Before I turned in I took an observation which indicated our position as 89.25. A dense, lifeless pall hung over head. The horizon was black and the ice beneath was a ghastly, white with no relief—a striking contrast to the glimmering, sunlit fields of that over which we had been traveling for the past four days. The going was even better and there was scarcely any snow on the hard, granular, last summer surface of the old floes, dotted with the sapphire ice of the previous summer's lakes.
 The first thirty hours at the pole were spent in taking observations; in going some ten miles beyond our camp and some eight miles to the right of it; in taking photographs, planting my flags, depositing my records, studying the horizon with my telescope for possible land and search for a practical place to make a sounding.
 Ten hours after our arrival the clouds cleared before a light keep the public informed officially, in order to dispel the various startling rumors that have been current during the past few days and was also an indication that Harriman was in a more serious condition than the public had been led to believe.

 Rev. J. H. McGuinness, Harriman's chaplain, was seen at 3:35, hurrying to the Harriman home at top speed. This helps confirm the story that death came to Harriman at 3:35, and not earlier in the day, as rumored.
 Positive assurance was received from the house at 1:45 that Harriman was alive, and this would indicate that the end came suddenly. Developments of the last three days indicate that death might have occurred at any time since Sunday and there is still doubt whether he died under the knife or from a crisis in his disease or from a combination and extreme weakness following his relapse of Sunday. It is possible an autopsy may be held and the world will learn the nature of the mysterious disease.
 Judge Lovett Hears News.
 New York, Sept. 9.—The first word of Harriman's death came to Judge Lovett, a close associate of Harriman and interested with him in his railroads. Lovett hurried to Arden.

 So young Harriman was soon riding on the floor—for his customers, for himself. If he was noticed at all by the giants of the exchange, it was as a shrewd young man, remarkably quick on his feet with every turn of the market, quick as a flash to change position, and protect himself.
 Within ten or fifteen years he had made good. He had made his million, had won the respect of W. K. Vanderbilt and Stuyvesant Fish. They were the only sort of friendships he allowed himself. He had established his own brokerage and banking house—E. H. Harriman & Co.

 Also he was studying railroad. Studying them as no man had ever done before. He wasn't a railroad wrecker like Jay Gould. He was no builder like Jim Hill. He saw an opportunity for wielding the power of Wall street, to build up and combine and control railroads. He saw himself bringing the power of Wall street to build up, to combine, to connect, to wrest vast profits from the carrying trade of the nation—of compelling the commerce of the United States to pour out tribute to him.

 Already he was looking westward, his eyes on the entrenched health as yet undeveloped.
 He became friendly—but not a friend—with Stuyvesant Fish who had admired his ability, and had him made a director of the Illinois Central, then a struggling road of 2,000 miles. Till 1887, when Fish became President and Harriman vice-president, the broker was completing his "education." He worked with Fish in building the I. C. to a powerful corporation operating nearly 3,000 miles of track.

Fish was content to build up the Illinois Central, but his vice-president was looking far beyond. He had his eyes on the west first. His opportunity came in 1889 in the purchase of the Chicago & Alton.
 The Alton, though in bad condition physically, was a great moneymaker. It was independent of a national traffic arrangement, and was the bugbear of all other railroads. It wouldn't play the game. T. B. Blackstone of Chicago, Standard Oil and other big interests wanted it. It remained for the yet unknown Harriman to snatch it from the paws of the big fellows.

HOW SALOONS KEEP LAW.

Is Prohibition in Mississippi a Failure?

"A unique scheme to evade prohibition laws has been devised by the incorporation of express companies which operate between states. Several such companies have been incorporated in various parts of the country. In every instance the companies do a business close to state lines. None of them has filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission its annual report, and it is understood an effort will shortly be made by the officials of prohibition states to prevent the operation of such companies.

The commission received an inquiry from the Mississippi state authorities some time ago, respecting the operations of an express company at Natchez. Mississippi is a prohibition state, yet it developed that an express company had been organized and incorporated at Natchez, the bulk of the business of which appeared to be transportation of beers and liquors from another state into Mississippi. The beverages are consigned to individuals in Mississippi and are delivered by wagons of the express company.

The curious part of the transaction is that the express company was incorporated by dealers in beers and liquors, with the evident intention, according to the Mississippi authorities, of evading the stringent state liquor law. A similar case has arisen in Massachusetts."—Les-

How the Saloon Handles Its Friends.

The Roswell Register-Tribune has been arguing against probi-tation and yet in its last issue it preaches the following temperance sermon in its editorial columns, says the Santa Fe New Mexican:

"Last week there died at Monument, Eddy county, Col. W. C.
Griffin, one of the best known newspaper men in the west. Griffin was 65 years old and in his time had probably started more newspapers than any other man in the dryness. Of good education and of more than average ability as a writer, twenty years ago he fell a slave to drink, and since that time he has never amounted to anything, his adventures being entirely parasitic in nature. Without a grain of malice or meanness in him, he preyed perpetually upon his friends, occasionally tracing up for a while. After a while he ceased to brace, and there were no up hill spots on the toboggan slide. He never harmed anybody, he was everybody's friend, except his own, and his death, alienated from his people and attended by the charity of the people was simply another tragedy by the wayside, another temperance lesson that may be read by all. The writer knew the colonel well, has many a time listened while his bow was sweeping the strings, and has submitted to his incomparable touch for purposes not best discussed, and he knows whereof he speaks when he says that it is such cases at this which speak louder to a thinking person than all the propagandic matter of the dry clubs that have ever been wielded."

J. J. Hagerman.

That J. J. Hagerman died this morning in Milan, Italy, was the sad news received this morning in a cable. Yesterday a cable was received saying that he was seriously ill having been taken with a hemorrhage, and the news of his death came today in a later cable.

This is all that is known at present and before deciding what will be done further news must be awaited.

Mr. and Mrs. Hagerman left this country last June for Europe in the hope that Mr. Hagerman's health might be benefited.
Word has come from them from time to time, and it seemed that Mr. Hagerman was improving slightly. They were to have sailed for home the latter part of this month.

With the departing of J. J.
Hagerman New Mexico loses one of its strongest citizens and a man who has done wonders in developing the Pecos Valley and Southeastern New Mexico, and the news of his death will be received with great regret by our citizens generally.

TAFT AT ALBUQUERQUE.

President Taft will be accompanied by a distinguished party of celebrities when he arrives in Albuquerque on "Taft Day" during the Twenty-Ninth New Mexico Fair and Resources Exposition, next month. In the party will be the postmaster general, the secretary of state, the secretary of the interior, John Hays Hammond, the noted millionaire mining engineer, Merritt Ford, of the New York Central Railway and other prominent men.

In the publicity party will be representatives of the associated press, the United press, the Hearst News service, the New York Herald, the New York Sun, the New York World, and other big newspapers. The presence of these latter means that the monster ovation given by the people of New Mexico to the president will be featured in big head lines in every leading newspaper of the country. There is no doubt that the Taft demonstration in Albuquerque will open the eyes of the people of the whole country to the true conditions in New Mexico and her fitness for immediate statehood! It behooves every booster in the territory to take part in this great outpouring.

Albuquerque, N. M. Never in the history of New Mexico has there been such wide spread interest in the annual fair as is being shown this year. Even last year when the National Irrigation Congress gathered here there was no such unanimous spirit of interest and co-operation as is now apparent in the flood of correspondence coming in to the secretary's office each

A Wonderful Growth.

As the Campbell Brothers great consolidated shows are to be in our city on October 7th.

A few words in regard to the start and enlargement of this show might be of interest to our many readers. Some twelve years ago they launched a small show with the motto attached: "Honorably conducted, truthfully advertised." This motto has made the show what it is today. Their shows have always been conducted on a high moral plan, they never having allowed any gambling, short changing or petty thieving in or around their shows. Being imbued with the spirit of progression, after 5 years of hard work, and strict economy, they became the proud possessors of their first elephant and camel. The opening of the show the next spring was to them the proudest day of their lives. From that time on, every dollar made has been invested to the bettering of their show; from one they have increased their elephants to a large herd, also their camels.

To those of our readers who have never had the pleasure of visiting a circus in its winter quarters, a description might be interesting. Campbell Brothers winter quarters are situated on a beautiful farm, one and one half miles from Fairbury, Neb., on the Little Blue River. The first building to attract your attention as you approach the farm, is the mammoth horse day. It comes from all sections of the territory. It tells of prosperous conditions and good crops and promises large exhibits and big crowds for the fair.

The coming of President Taft during the fair week has had its effect in arousing interest. It is not unlikely that the president will take the occasion to tell the people of New Mexico what he thinks of statehood and this possibility alone is enough to make this occasion of keenest interest.

But aside from this there has never been a more promising list of sports than is offered or a better outlook for extensive exhibits. The fair this year will have two full companies of United States Cavalry, brought as a special escort for President Taft, five full days of splendid racing with large purses and the fastest line of horses ever attracted to New Mexico. Pushball, the most exciting of latter day sports, will be introduced for the first time in New Mexico. There will be the usual baseball tournament, composed strictly of home teams, each team backed by its corps of faithful fans; and last but not least, the great old Nat Reiss Carnival Company, the biggest amusement institution of its kind in the world.

This list does not include such special attractions as the air ship which will make three flights over the city daily, the last being at night, when a huge search light traces the ship as it sails through the air. In a word the fair this year is going the old time successes several better. It is going to furnish amusement and entertainment for thousands and present indications are that the whole territory will be here.

bard, wherein during the winter months, are stabled their 250 head of horses which are used with the show. Next to the barn stands a large building made of concrete blocks, known as the cat building, which is the winter home of their lions, tigers, leopards, cougars, hyenas, monkeys birds and so on. Next to this comes a large frame building known as the elephant house, the home of their herd of performing elephants. Then comes the camel barn, the shed and pony barn and the ring barn. This latter building would be of special interest to any one, as it is where the cake walking horses, the dancing elephants and shed and ponies are taught their tricks and where the ladies and gentlemen riders who appear before you in their costly wardrobe and pleasing acts, practice during the winter months.

There are many different departments with a circus, each one having its manager and assistants. The business is conducted on a plan or system equal to that of our "Uncle Sam," else all would be confusion. Think of your family increasing to 800 people to feed three times a day; of moving your effects, which it takes 25 cars to hold, a mile, set up your house, entertain 5,000 people; tear it down again, move back to the train and railroad 100 miles to the next town, and do it every 24 hours; and you may have some idea of what it is to handle a circus.

NEXT DOOR TO OLD STAG SALOON BUILDING

First Spike on Tucumcari and Memphis Driven.

The first spike on this end of the Tucumcari and Memphis railroad was driven last Tuesday morning by the steel laying men employed on this crew which arrived Monday night. There are at least seventy-five men employed on this crew and the foreman stated to a Sun reporter that the force could easily lay a mile of track every day. At this rate it will only take about sixty days to complete the steel laying and get the new line ready for operation.

The road is now in operation fifty miles west from Amarillo, to the cap rock, where the line comes off the plains, and a large force of construction company of men are putting in their hardest work to complete the grade before the steel laying crew reaches that point from this end. There are three bridges which will have to be constructed between this place and the cap rock, but this work will not stop the steel laying crew very long at either place.

The business men of this city believe upon the completion of this road that a new era of prosperity will be begun in this city, and to the country that the road traverses between here and the Texas state line. The new road will not only mean many advantages for Tucumcari, but when it is put in operation, it will be one of the most important lines entering New Mexico. Tucumcari Sun.

HARRIMAN DEAD.

For Blackstone demanded a staggering price for his road. He wanted not only the market price for his holdings, but exacted that all the stockholders should be bought out at the same price, and that the transaction should be in cash. This meant a deal of $45,000,000 in cash—a thing unthinkable.

Harriman Got the Money.
But Harriman, "the great borrower," went down into Wall street, got the money and bought the Alton, paying $42,000,000 in cold cash for it. It was a staggering deal, an eyeopener to older financiers. But Harriman went farther. He issued millions in bonds to develop the road, sold the bonds to himself and his friends, cleared $30,000,000 on this deal, thus making the Alton cost him only about nine millions.

This transaction aroused Wall street's admiration. It was to be several years before the public heard much more about him. Poor old Union Pacific was Harriman's next venture. This road, built with government help, which to state it mildly, was most generous, had gone to seed. It owed the government $52,000,000 and couldn't pay. The government had foreclosed and was operating it under a receivership. Harriman the borrower, got $58,000,000 and bought the road.

Then Harriman began to make his dreams come true. He went over the road like a physician doctoring its physical and financial ills. One great handicap it had—no outlet to the coast. So it extended only from Kansas City on the east to Ogden in the west. Then Harriman went after the Oregon Railway & Navigation company and the Oregon Short Line and got them. This brought him into Portland and within striking distance of Puget sound.

After Southern Pacific
Now he turned south. Old Collis P. Huntington, builder and president of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific, was resting on his laurels. Harriman modestly wanted the Central Pacific, which ran from Ogden into Frisco. Huntington laughed at him, of course. So Harriman started another company to build a parallel line. Huntington died before this plan could be carried through, but the bluff worked with his estate, and Harriman immediately took over the S. P. and the C. P.

This added 9,600 miles to the Harriman ownership at one stroke and Harriman became a national figure.

Then came the Northern Pacific-Burlington-Great Northern merger. Harriman, modest as always, wanted in on this. Jim Hill waved him aside. So Harriman took the offensive by going after the Northern Pacific. The result was the greatest railroad fight Wall street ever saw. It was Morgan and Hill on one side—a combination to daunt anyone but Harriman—and the lone broker and his powerful backing which believed in him on the other.

Wall street saw the Northern Pacific stocks hammered up to 200, 300, 400, 800, 1,000 a share. Great fortunes were wiped out. In that pitiless struggle millionaires toppled and fell. It was Jacob H. Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Harriman's most effective backers, who on his knees begged the master raider to lay off.

Wanted Other Roads.
But before Harriman had stopped, he had 78 millions out of 155—one million better than control of stock. But part of this was preferred stock which might be retired. And Hill and Morgan held the power of retiring the stock. It was an alternative between a lawsuit and a compromise. Harriman compromised, getting representation on the board of directors of the Burlington. The Santa Fe was another rich road waiting for some one to grab it off. It was independent in policy, being run from the general offices instead of a stock ticker, and Hill, the Goulds and the Rock Island people all coveted it. But again Harriman got away with the prize, securing control in 1906.

It was in the same year that he got half interest in the San Pedro line, the road Senator Clark put in from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles.

Even such a keen judge of men as Stuyvesant Fish, ruling the Illinois Central, was yet to be deceived by Harriman's foxy tactics. Fish, a benefactor of the wizard, had put him in the practical end of the railroad game. Fish's pride was the Illinois Central. Harriman, though personally friendly to Fish, reached out for control, and of course got it. Fish was deposed after a stormy an internal fight as was ever waged in a road's inner circles.

Fighting to the last ditch, Fish quit game. Harriman's man, J. T. Harriman, Fish's former aide, was made president of the road.

When ex-President Roosevelt was writing voluminous things about malefactors of great wealth, Mr. Harriman had a "hunch" that the president was saying things about him.

Harriman had raised a large sum for the republican campaign in New York in 1904, the year Roosevelt ran for president himself. When the "rough-rider" was making his hardest cracks at rich malefactors, suddenly there appeared in publication a number of stolen letters, correspondence between Harriman and Roosevelt in 1904, in which the president put himself and Harriman in the ranks of practical "men."

Harriman's health began to fail in 1908. In the spring of 1909 he went to the southwest on a health trip and, returning in no better condition, soon left for Europe. There he experienced little relief, and returned to the United States late in August.—The New Mexican Review.

Naylor-Rutherford Wedding.

Monday morning at 10 o'clock, at the home of Mr. Joe Howard of this city, Mr. H. W. Naylor of the Kemp Lumber Company, of Fort Sumner, New Mexico, and Mrs. Nannie Rutherford of Portales were united in marriage by Pastor E. P. Alldredge of the Baptist church. The wedding was in the nature of a surprise to most of Portales people; they supposing that the bride who was the popular stenographer of the Citizens National bank was a fixture in Portales, if not in the bank at least in a home to be. But the matrimonial race is distinctly to the swift and other things being equal, the cyclonic kind courtship always wins the woman. And, at this Mr. Naylor certainly showed himself an adept; for we had scarcely known of his second visit to Portales before he came for his prize. Here is to hoping that Mr. Naylor will prove himself as capable in the business world and the domestic life as he has been in the social realm. The bride and groom left on 11:10 train Monday morning for their future home in Ft. Sumner. The wishes of all who knew Mrs. Rutherford now Mrs. Naylor go with them.

LA LANDE.

We expect a continual growth in our number until October 12th in attendance upon our camp-meeting, which began Saturday, September 18th. Our large tabernacle 60x50 feet, which the whole town turned out to build, is the place of service twice each day. Between the tabernacle and the depot there is a restaurant with sufficient capacity to accommodate the entire multitude. A commodious building has been erected on the campus for the benefit of our visiting sisters, will accommodate some two dozen. The leading preacher has been Brother Bud Robinson, who is one of the greatest preachers in America, and who has held meetings all over the United States, from Maine to California, and from Canada to Mexico. His work has ever been successful and many men have said that it was worth $50 to hear him preach. Rev. E. A. Ferguson will be over the latter part of the week and will be a great help in his mighty way. Splendid music has been one of the main features of the entire series of services, led by Brother Solomon Irick, whose talent is far famed.

Reduced rates of one and one-fifth fare round trip from all stations between Clovis and Albuquerque to La Lande have been secured, and we hope that hundreds of our friends will take advantage of this and come and be with us some during this time.

Campbell Brothers consolidated shows will appear October 7th. The performers are so numerous, the entertainment so varied, the horses and trained animals so wonderful and the wild beasts of the menagerie so strange and curious that one is kept busy to see all that is going on before them, so come early and take it all in.

Mrs. T. B. Weatherby and little daughter were down from Clovis last week.

Attorney Sam Nixon went to Clovis Saturday.

FAGGARD'S FALL FLOUR SALE

OUR GOODS ARE THE KINGMAN MILLING CO'S. "DIAMOND K"

PUREST AND CLEANEST FOOD PRODUCTS---The wheat that makes "Diamond K" is scoured three times, cleaned twice and washed six hours before it strikes the first set of rolls. After it passes through twenty-four sets of rolls and six purifiers it is sealed up in a "Diamond K" sack and sold under the strongest guarantee that ever covered a sack of flour. From the moment the wheat enters the cleaners until it is ready for the markets, no hand touches it; machinery does everything.

"DIAMOND K" IS CHEAPEST AND BEST

Owing to the dry, flinty nature of our wheat, "Diamond K" absorbs an unusual amount of moisture, estimated to be about ten pounds to the hundred more than ordinary (soft wheat) flour.

Hence it follows that "Diamond K" makes ten pounds, or ten loaves, or ten per cent more bread---and not only more bread but BETTER bread. It is sweeter and more nutritious, and the nicest rolls, delicious biscuits and light, healthful bread are sure to result from the use of "Diamond K" flour.

BUY WHAT YOU KNOW AND KNOW WHAT YOU BUY

Every Sack Guaranteed. Give It a Trial.
