RAILROADS POINTING TO TOWN OF PORTALES

The Tucumcari, Portales & Gulf; The Quanah, Acme & Pacific, and Stamford & Northwestern Railways Considering and Pointing Their Lines Toward the Empire of Portales Valley.

The Quanah Acme & Pacific railway not only proposes to build at once into Roswell from the present terminus of the road which is forty miles out this way from Quanah; but three surveying parties are already in the field, getting three routes into Roswell, and construction work began last Monday which looks to the immediate building of this important line as far as Roswell. Not only so, but at a directors meeting held in Quanah, April 19th the capital stock of this company was increased in the sum of $750,000, besides floating bonds on that part of the road already built in a sum exceeding a million dollars. This road is now financed and managed by some of the ablest and best known railroad men in the southwest. For example, take the following who were elected officers at the directors meeting in Quanah recently:

Sam Lazarus, St. Louis, president; C. H. Sommer, St. Louis, first vice-president; C. E. Ensminger, Quanah, second vice-president and general manager; R. D. Yoakum, St. Louis, third vice-president; George Henderson, New York, fourth vice-president; T. H. Hawkins, Quanah, secretary and treasurer; C. H. Dorchester of Sherman, S. B. Burnett of Ft. Worth and D. D. Swearinger of Kansas City.

Another point of especial interest about this road is the fact given out by the officials that—when completed the line will give in connection with the Frisco, terminating at Quanah, a direct line between Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago and the Pacific Coast via El Paso. It is said that it will be more than 200 miles shorter than any existing route, and will at the same time go through a rapidly developing section of west Texas and New Mexico, also making connection at El Paso with the Rio Grande, Sierra Madre and Pacific Railway now building to the Gulf of California.

It is further stated that one survey of this road is intended to include Portales. And it so happens that the topography of the country is decidedly in favor of putting Portales on the line of this road. For example, the line from Virginia City up the valley to Portales, thence southwest following the prong of the valley which loops around Delphos and Elida to Acme, would not lengthen the line five miles and would absolutely miss anything approximating grade and would steer clear of the sandhills which the surveys heretofore made encounter, besides traversing at least 50 miles of shallow water land every foot of which will be in a pumping irrigation plant inside of three years and where a ten thousand acre irrigation plant is now being rushed to completion. And think what will do for Portales when this line is completed to El Paso and are on a direct line between Chicago and the Pacific! Let us show them the Portales route and submit them a Portales proposition.

The Tucumcari Portales & Gulf Railway is another line of railroad which has put Portales on its map. This line is now under construction. It proposes to connect the Gulf with the coal fields Dawson, and from this we are supposing that it is a Rock Island proposition. At any rate, if Portales can tie into a road which has its terminus at the Gulf of Mexico and another in the coal fields of Texas and which has connections with the Harriman lines, nothing on earth should prevent that step from being taken at once. This line, like the other one mentioned in these columns, has two possible routes. One of these goes up the border of Texas county to Texico and crosses over there and includes Grady and runs the cap rock into Tucumcari northwest of Grady. The other line, which is not only shorter but at least 50% less expensive is the one which leaves Texas in the southwest corner of Bailey county, takes a northwesterly course passing Causey and runs on into the Portales Valley to Portales, thence up Portales valley to Melrose following out the draw west of Melrose in almost straight course to the north, through Roosevelt, Jordan, Quay and up the Arroyo Plaza past the cap rock into Moore and thence into Tucumcari. This route has the special advantage of being the best route up the cap rocks and it opens the Portales valley, almost from beginning to end—an area of shallow water country comprising 150,000 acres of land where water for pumping irrigation can be had between 10 and 30 feet. It would also be the road a broad area of country, perhaps 50 miles on either side of the line to its nearest competing line (except at the crossing of the Santa Fe lines at Portales and Melrose) and that too in a country as rich in agricultural possibilities as central Texas and as densely populated as the rural districts of Missouri.

Below we give our readers a letter from the General Manager of this road to Secretary T. J. Mollinari of the Commercial Club of Portales. He evidently means business. This is what he says:

Pyote, Texas, April 30, 1910.
Mr. T. J. Mollinari, Sec. Commercial Club,
Portales, New Mexico.

Dear Sir:—We will close the contract for construction of this railroad May 16, 1910. If your people are ready for a bona fide proposition to get this railroad we will be pleased to have your representative come prepared to act for your people. If satisfactory to your people, can put in a construction gang within 60 days. Awaiting your favor, I am,

Very truly,
M. J. Healey.

Mr. Mollinari replied asking for a detailed statement of what proposed to do, also as to what was expected of Portales, etc.

BUSTER BROWN CAME TO TOWN.

Buster Brown and his dog Tige were the all-star performers in a grand free entertainment on Tuesday of this week in two performances at the Wonderland Theatre. Buster was here on the invitation of Miller & Luikart and both the afternoon and evening performances were free to all, the youngsters being especially invited. There wasn't a shadow of a doubt that Buster would attract a full house for he began to draw the small boy from the time he stepped off the train until he took his final departure for his home in St. Louis. In both of these performances Buster made good as usual, putting on a high class program that was full of fun for all the boys and girls.

Buster is but nine years of age, but he and his mother, who accompanies him, have traveled extensively during the three years they have represented the Brown Shoe Co. They have visited every city of any consequence in the United States and Buster has made many friends as he has a pleasant disposition and is an exceedingly pleasant little fellow.

That every child attending the entertainment will hereafter buy Buster Brown shoes, if their contentions are sustained by their parents, was evidenced by all raising their hands when Buster asked if all would in the future wear shoes of that brand only. Souvenirs were given to all children at the door when they passed out.

NEW TOWN OFFICERS INSTALLED.

The newly elected town officers of Portales consisting of Judge C. M. Compton, mayor, W. G. Standridge, Joe Howard, C. Harvey and C. V. Harris, trustees, and Sterling Moody, clerk, met Monday, organized and elected J. D. Osborne and Ed Brown as marshalls who took the oath of office, filed their bonds and all the officers entered upon the discharge of their respective duties. The council rented the Sam Lowry office two doors north of the Portales hotel as a mayor's office and are meeting from time to time to consider important matters before them.

The outgoing clerk, W. B. Ryther, has begun a suit before Judge William H. Pope to restrain Sterling Moody from ousting or attempting to oust or from interfering or attempting to interfere with him in the discharge of his duties as town clerk. In the hearing of the matter before Judge Pope Tuesday last the newly elected clerk was represented by Judge Sam J. Nixon and the outgoing clerk by Nisbet & Nisbet of Roswell and G. L. Reese of Portales. A motion by Judge Nixon to make the complaint of Ryther definite and certain was sustained by the court and Ryther ordered to amend his complaint by showing the date of his election to the office which he claims. The plaintiff was given time to amend his petition, and Judge Pope having to go to Carizozo, the matter was passed until next Monday for further hearing. No injunction has been granted as yet.

TOWN BOARD MET WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The Council met on Wednesday night and after electing G. W. Williamson treasurer and attending to other important business, authorized the Mayor to give notice to the citizens of Portales through our county papers that it is the intention of every member of the board to strictly enforce the prohibitory ordinance of which there has been a great deal of criticism concerning the lack of its enforcement in Portales. We wish to warn all who should violate this ordinance that our town Marshalls are instructed to apprehend such and it is our intention to prosecute them to the fullest extent and, if possible, remove this evil from the town.

Signed, C. M. Compton,
Mayor.

HEAR BOB SMITH.

He comes to Portales the 10th and lectures at the armory. Ex-governor Bob Taylor says of him: Bob Smith is a delight and joy forever—a tear starter and a fun maker—a most charming entertainer. Few men get so closely into the heart of the audience. He is among the foremost humanity lovers who is chasing care and sorrow off the earth—an enemy to grumps and growlers. He richly adorns the platform.

Nature holds out her hands brimming with gifts, and we bazz about in the shadow of them, wondering why it is so dark.—V. M. Skinner.

If you are not getting all out of life that you think is yours remember that about the lowest salaried people in the world are those who get all they deserve. Put a little more in and you can take more out in an inflexible law of the universe.

Two-thirds of the joy in doing life's work is in having the knowledge that the thing you are doing is appreciated by the benefactor of your efforts. It is not necessarily the jingle of the eagle that holds the delight, but the word, the deed, the spirit, all these enter into consideration and smooth life's rugged pathway for the average wayfaring man. Speak the word, do the deed, not tomorrow, but the busy today.

Governor Marshall of Indiana won over Thos. Taggart, that all around dead game sport, who was once chairman of Democratic committee. John W. Kern, one of the cleanest men in political life in America today was endorsed as democratic candidate to succeed Beveridge. There is just one thing to keep Kern from being elected, his stand against whiskey will put not only republicans against him, but all the efforts of the great breweries of the country against him.

Here's a line of dope which may be applied to western towns that cannot date their antiquity from 100 years or more: "Give the glad hand to every stranger you meet. You were in the same class here yourself not so very long ago, and it takes a town at least 100 years to be entitled to an exclusive class. We were all high browed aristocrats where we came from, but we needn't tell everybody about it, and perhaps they won't hold it against us. Cultivate a spirit of cordiality. It is not a sign of ill breeding, anyhow. Many a prospector has become a permanent citizen of a place because the people were friendly and sociable.—Hale County Herald (Plainview)."

Granting that such a critter as a knocker exists in Portales, it is an open question if his hammer could be heard these busy days of building and enlarging. Fact of the matter is the atmosphere in Portales at present is not by any means an incubator for such pests. Some one has said that "nine times out of ten a knocker is a critic come to seed." We have long hoped that we would be able to reach this conclusion for then we could see some chance for making useful citizens of knockers. We have a way in the print shop of telling a chronic critic to either show that they can do it better or shut up. It usually has the desired effect. If this old town is not being run to suit you, show how it may be improved upon or shut up. Stand up to the rack, Dobbin, and eat your hay.

Neighbor Frank Thompkins says it is a pity that some one is not delegated with the charge of turning the waters which accumulate in the earthen tank at the court house grounds onto the trees that are beginning to be real ornaments to the site. The difference which this would make in the growth of the trees can readily be foreseen if one will but compare the healthy specimens which border the tank where they can take deep draughts without stint, to those out of touch with this zone. Little time and expense could soon effect a substantial means of watering these thirsty trees during their growing season and the effort would richly repay its promoter. If you have any doubts about the author of this suggestion possessing wisdom along this line, just ask him some time if it is not a fact that he has deeply studied irrigation possibilities for the past three months. The Herald says amen to the suggestion.

A HOPEFUL PORTALES ARE WE.

It is conducive to a good digestion and a cheerful countenance to stop occasionally and count our blessings—one by one—a sort of antidote to a disordered liver, so to speak. The people of Portales, as a whole, have much reason to swell with some degree of pride as they see the fruits of their labors multiplying. True, the mass of our people are now undergoing sacrifices untold in the accomplishment of greater undertakings and yet, barring individual misfortune and hardships which will obtain under the best conditions, there is probably as much comfort and happiness, and perhaps more, diffused among our people as a community, with as bright outlook to the future as ever existed in the town at any time in the past. We should expect to have our problems, for no task in life is freed from them. In this instance to which we refer, they are but the growing pains of our expansion to something greater. At each step upward toward greater purposes our horizon widens and we see many things that seem amiss that we did not see before. Things that suited us so well yesterday do not suit us so well today because of that wider horizon, because with our increased advantage and the higher standards of civilization which these bring with it, we become more exacting. Hence our discontent with the old ways of doing things is often the surest symptoms of progress. Far from this being a cause for pessimism, it should be the harbinger of the sanest kind of optimism. Our country with a fast growing population filled with ambition not to be satisfied with things as they are, with a territory of imperial extent literally filled with undeveloped resources which must necessarily compel railroad building and other enterprises of great moment, with broader intelligence characterizing each succeeding effort, who can prophesy anything but good of the future?

Verily, our real causes for discontent are as the waves of the sea compared to the persistent calm of the great mass of the ocean. Look up and see the proverbial "silver lining."

TEDDY STILL ON THE JOB.

Probably no character in American history, past or present, the indomitable William Jennings Bryan not excepted, has been able to fasten the undivided attention of the whole world upon all his acts and deeds as has Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. Whether his position was to fill the exalted chair of president of his nation or to pull off a bear hunt in the jungles of Africa, a gaping multitude stands ready to fill the bleachers to the grand stand play. No sooner had he thrown aside the toils of public life and announced the program for a great lion hunt in Africa than all the newspapers of the country began to mark the progress of his journey with sensational box-car headlines and full page half tone lay-outs. When he hits Egypt international situations begin to sizzle. When he descends on Rome and St. Peter's vibrates, the religious reformation of the 16th Century is dramatized. He is the unfailing and inevitable producer—of sensations. And now, to quote Col. Roosevelt's own words, he is experiencing the crowning of his career as a man of letters, in intellectual Paris, when some days ago participating as a member at a session of the French academy, delivering a lecture at the Sorbonne, which it is claimed was the foremost seat of learning in Europe before America was discovered. Before this notable assembly of savants and litterati this distinguished American, the entirely original, tireless, altruistic, on-the-job, milk-of-human-kindness benefactor of the spectacular, enraptured the vast throng of the amphitheater as he defined the duties of individual citizenship in a republic, scorning the sluggards, cynics and idle rich and preaching the gospel of work, character and strenuous life.

Being a constant and admiring reader of everything which the press is pleased to print about this man, stories about whom emanate and radiate like smiles from an insurance man or smoke from a smudge pot, the Herald cannot but relax occasionally in its Democratic policy and give place to some of the religious dissertations, scientific facts, fashion hints, advice to mothers, sporting features, war rumors, political upheavals and the various et ceteras which form the crux of what he says when he talks for publication. So, among many other good things which Mr. Roosevelt said in this lecture, we feel constrained to reproduce what was said under the caption: "The Man Who Does Things Counts," which is entirely characteristic of this illustrious American statesman: "It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, who errs, and comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcomings; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat. Shame on the man of cultivated taste who permits refinement so develop into a fastidiousness that unfits him for doing rough work of a workaday world. Among the free people who govern themselves, there is but a small field of usefulness open for the men of cloistered life who shrink from contact with their fellows. Still less room is there for those who deride or slight what is done by those who actually bear the brunt of the day; nor yet for those others who always profess that they would like to take action, if only the conditions of life were not what they actually are."

THAT BRICK HOTEL.

About the worst "knock" that Portales is constantly getting from every passer-through who stops over at Portales comes in the form of the question, "Why don't you tear away your old hotels and build a good modern brick hotel along with the other new things you are building in Portales?" Our answer has been, "Give us time." There is, however, a movement on foot at the present to build a magnificent hotel here. The proposition has not been worked out as yet, but at least $6000 has been subscribed and it is believed that the building will be definitely launched by the middle of this month. Coe Howard is taking the lead in this enterprise and believes it will "go." No definite site has been selected though one or two are under consideration either one of which will be a good location. Let the good work go on. Whoever builds here a good modern brick hotel will do Portales the best day's service she has received since the launching of the water works building and the irrigation plant.

NEWS OF WEEK IN BRIEF

The next session of the United Confederates will meet in Little Rock, Arkansas.

The striking coal miners gained an advance of wages amounting to 5.55 % and have returned to work.

And now Chicago is threatened with a bribery scandal. Think how many she would have if the grand jury should get busy.

Dr. Hyde is getting the worst of it in his several murder charges, and the trial judge has ordered his bail cancelled and the doctor to be sent to jail.

Secretary Ballinger held the witness stand several days in his own defense, giving open contradictions not a few and calling Glavis a malicious liar.

The old Confederate Veterans had a royal good time at Mobile last week. General G. W. Gordon of Tennessee was chosen to succeed General Clement A. Evans, resigned.

Mrs. Ruth Byron Leavitt is going to try the matrimonial sphere again, being married Tuesday of this week, to Reginald Owen, a British engineer, after having been divorced from Mr. Leavitt some time ago.

The favorite son of Cyrus W. Field, "father of the Atlantic cable," was discovered to the world last week, stowed away in one of the New York hospitals, a complete wreck morally, physically and financially, from strong drink.

Buffalo Bill, Col. Wm. F. Cody, is to quit the show called the "Wild West" in which for years he has captivated the youth of the land. He makes his last appearance in a performance in Madison Square Garden, New York City, about three weeks hence.

Representative Chas. White now comes forward with sworn statement that he got $1000 for his vote for senator Lorimer, which was paid him as a bribe. Gov. Deneen of Illinois has demanded an investigation.

Lous Paulhan won the $50,000 prize and the first airship Derby of England April 27th by his successful flight from London to Manchester, a distance which he covered in 12 hours. Graham White, an Englishman, attempted the same flight but was compelled to descend in 60 miles of Manchester.

Mayor Gaynor and William Randolph Hearst have the gloves on and are handing each other some rather heavy jolts. Mayor Gaynor at a recent banquet landed squarely on Hearst's wind. Then it came Hearst's time to strike and he landed an ugly hook to Gaynor's jaw. So the battle goes. Gaynor expects to drive Hearst out of public life and Hearst is sure that he will be able to send Gaynor to limbo.

The Clayton Womans' Club considers itself most fortunate in the success of the entertainment given Friday evening. "Bob" Smith is all he is represented to be and more. He held his audience which packed the opera house for two hours with wholesome, refined humor, clever delineations of the foibles and frailties of human nature and philosophy of life couched in homely truths. He made us forget the cares and worries of the day and better prepared us to take up the white man's burden on the morrow.
T. L. Keene and wife, also Mrs. Oval Keen and the daughter and son of Ursi Keen left Tuesday for Henrietta, Texas where Mr. Keen's sister is very ill with cancer.
Prof. Cardwell, who has been teaching here the past session of Portales Public Schools, returned to his home in Clovis last Friday.
J. P. Stone left for Kansas City last Friday. He will be gone for several days.
Mrs. Issac Corhn and sister Miss Ada Gilliam visited Clovis the latter part of last week.

IRRIGATION WORK PROGRESSING.

The irrigation plant at Portales is rapidly going forward. The second car load of wire is now on the track. The second monster engine for the power house is being unloaded today by the Santa Fe Railway's wrecker. The poles are being set up several of the lines being already complete. The wells are also complete for most part. The one hindrance has been to get material on the ground. The brick work was so much delayed that it has delayed the other work at the power house some thirty days. In the meantime we have had over three and one half inches of rain fall all over this section of country. Everything seems to be working out to the good of the Portales Valley farmers this year.

H. C. PIERCE BACK IN BUSINESS IN TEXAS.

Austin, Tex., April 30th.—That Henry Clay Pierce has quietly reentered the oil business in Texas was disclosed today when C. W. Cahoon as general manager, paid the gross receipts tax for the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association of which Pierce and S. W. Fordyce, of St. Louis, are the principal owners.

It is believed the partnership was formed while Pierce was in Texas recently en route to Mexico.

The tax paid was $8943 on a business of $307,139.

The headquarters of the concern are in Dallas, and they are styled "successors to the Waters-Pierce company."

M. J. Beck returned last Sunday from an extended visit to North Carolina and has resumed his duties as salesman with the Warren-Fooshee company.

KILLED IN A PRIZE FIGHT.

San Francisco, April 30th.—Owen Moran, the English light weight pugilist, was formerly charged with manslaughter today as a result of the death of Tommy McCarthy, his opponent in last night's fight. Five other men, the seconds and attendants of the two pugilists, are booked on the same charge.

In his cell today Moran mourned the death of his opponent. He said it was an accident but a terrible one. Then, wiping his eyes, the Englishman declared the fight was a frame-up, the agreement being that McCarthy would be allowed to stay fifteen rounds. In the sixteenth he crossed over his right and McCarthy went down unconscious.
