Arapaho's Reunion.

We had the pleasure of attending the Old Soldier's and Old Settler's reunion at Arapaho, Custer county, Okla on Aug. 25th to 27th, and the entire trip was one round of pleasure, even on the slow train from Amarillo to Sayre, where the train stops going and RAPTIST: Services every Sunday coming at the watermelon patch. We arrived in Arapabo at 8:30 p. m. on the 25th and from that time until we left, there was always something doing, and we can truthfully say that we never spent a more pleasant time than from our arrival on eve of 25th, until our departure on the morning of the 29th. To give our readers some ides of their manner of conducting it.

Oscar Scurlock left for Texas Sun- we will give a synopsis: There were eighty-six of the blue and the gray registered the first day, others came later.

The Rappahannock band of Chicago, with national reputation, was engaged, George Ragland left Friday for Gra- and Maj. Hendershot, the manager, at their departure, said they had never attended a nicer, more entirely satisfactory entertainment, no hitch, no disappointment, no trouble whatever, notwithstanding there were from five to seven thousand people present.

The flower parade was certainly credit to a much larger place than Arapaho, as a Kansas City drummer remarked that he had seen worse in Kansas City.

There were numerous features such as burying the hypnotized man for two days, horse racing, old man's race, the boy's race on all-fours, the ladies' nail driving contest, batchelor's button sewing contest, old fiddler's contest, Indian dances, Odd Fellow's parade, match game of tennis, baseball, town lot run on foot and including men and women, the lots being won by a farmer by the name of Leach.

All parades were headed by the local band in their new uniforms and it is recognized as one of the best bands in Oklahoma Territory today. The Choral Society and Double Male Quartet were drawing cards for music lovers, as the handle the up-to-now Huntington, fruit, etc., all of which was extra fine, also alfalfa; the fruit is not up to the Pecos Valley, but other things are a credit to any country. Their wheat and oats were a failure this year.

The citizens of Arapaho deserve much credit for their manner and mode of entertainment, and when we say they were entirely harmonious, working as one man, contributing $1,000 in cash, their united efforts and influence its no wonder they succeeded. They employed a professional advertiser for several weeks, who did well his work having 33,000 circulars printed and distributed, tags, posters and other matter and that's one reason why it was a howling success, and so it was, for the town is but little larger than Portales, but it was 7,000 strong at the reunion

Smoke Heals Wounds.

We sometimes hear of lockjaw resulting from running a pin or a rusty nail into the hand or foot. If every person were aware of a perfect remedy for such wounds, and would apply it, then such reports would cease. The remedy is simple, always at hand, can be applied by anyone, and, what is better, is infallible. It is simply to smoke the wound, or any wound that is bruised or inflamed, with a woollen cloth. Twenty minutes in the smoke will take the pain out of the worst case of imammation arising from suck a wound.-London An-

In the Wilds of Mexico. There are very curious races of men in the more inaccessible portions of Mexico. Most of the people are cave-dwellers, but there is rarely more than one family in a cave. The curious thing about them, according to Dr. Carl Lumboltz, is that they do not feel pain in the same degree as we do. They have a delightful habit of pulling hairs out of one another's heads, but this gives them scarcely any pain at all. They tear out the hairs exactly as we should tear them out of the tail of a horse. These inferior races feel pain to a far less extent than in the case of civilized man. Dr. Carl Lumholtz once pulled six hairs at one time from the head of a sleeping child, and it had no ffect upon it at all. Then he asked for more, but without effect. At last when twenty-three hairs were pulled out at one stroke, the child scratched its head a little and slept on

In regard to the wives of army offiers in the pioneer days a writer says: They attended their husbands when fighting the Indians, living on flat oats on the turbulent Missouri and Mississippi river. One patriotic woman, the great-grandmother of Mrs. Fred Grant, had one daughter named Missouri, who was born on the river of that name; another called Louisi ana, from the then distant region; one son named after Tippecanoe Harrison another called Anthony Wayne, and still another called Americus after the whole country. Mrs. Margaret Thompson of London. England, who died many years ago, by her will directed that in her coffin should be buried all her handkerchiefs and sufficient of the best Scotch snuff to cover her body. This she preferred o flowers, as "nothing could be more ragrant and so refreshing to me as that precious powder." Further, the six greatest snufftakers in the parish St. James, Westminster, were to be her bearers. Six old maids, each bearing in her hand a box filled with the best Scotch snuff to take for their refreshment as they walked, were to carry the pall. Before the corpse the minister was to walk, carrying and partaking of a pound of snuff. At every twenty yards a large handful of snuff was to be delivered to the bystanders, while at the door of the testator's house were to be placed for gratuitous distribution two bushels of the same quality of snuff.

We Are All in the Apprentice Class. When a simple change of diet brings back health and happiness the story is briefly told. A lady of Epringfield, Ill., says: "After being afflicted for years with nervousness and heart trouble, I received a shock four years ago that left me in such a condition that my life was despaired of. . Many Centuries Ago.
As a natural weather prophet, and infallible at that, the volcano on the island of Vulcano, twelve miles north of Sicilly in the Mediteranean, is belives to hold the record. The following is from an account of a dinner given by the Geographical Council club of England in 1893; "Capt. Wharton, the hydrographer to the admiralty, told how he had once anchored in very deep water on the east side of Vulcano, the southernmost of the Lipari isies, but that he had kept up stream, with the intention of being off immediately if the wind changed to the east. He mentioned this to an Englishman who lived on the island and was in charge of some borax works. 'But' said the man. 'there is not the remotest chance of the wind going round to the east without the full warning.' 'What warning?' asked the other. 'Oh!' was the rejoinder, the volcano always warns us.' 'The volcano!' said Wharton. 'Yes, the volcano; a fumarone' always emits a whistling sound before the east wind begins to blow.' Shortly after this Wharton was looking at Strabo and, to his astonishment, found that that writer mentions the fact. The Englishman had never heard of Strabo in his life. The early traditions concerning the city of Damascus are curious and in teresting, even though untrustworthy and contradictory. By some of the ancient writers it was maintained that It is the man with the most nerve the city stands on or near the site of who must often gets on a woman's the garden of Eden, and just opposite there is a beautiful meadow of red earth from which, it is said, God took the material from which he created Adam. This field is called Ager Da mascus, and near its center there for merly stood a pillar which was said to mark the precise spot where our first parent was created. A few miles first to complain if they don't get out there is an eminence called the Mountain of Abel, supposed by some to be the place where the first two brothers offered their sacrifices, also the spot where the first murder was committed. The most interesting spot pointed out, however, is about three leagues from the city, where an old ruin is shown which all the orient believes to be the tomb of Cain. The traditions respecting this famous spot are known to antedate the Christian era by several hundred years. Up to the time of Vespasian the interior of the tomb is said to have been lighted and warmed by one of the "ever burn

THE BIG STRIKE ENDS.

Leaders Want a Way to Get Out Gracefully.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 29.-Unconditional surrender is the only thing left for the stock yards strikers, according to the ultimatum the packers have decided upon. This information was obtained from a source which can not be questioned. Having won a complete victory over the strikers, the packers feel that it is Fort Antszhan, which is a strong their right to dictate the terms of reconciliation to those of their former employes who realize their defeat and are now anxious to capitulate. Indications of a break in the ranks of the strikers came early. when delegations of the locked-out men began to swarm around the different labor headquarters in the stock yards district and expressed their dissatisfaction with the way things were going.

"We either want an immediate settlement or we will go back to leaders. The labor leaders themselves begin to realize that the end tinue to fall in Port Arthur and the of the struggle is at hand. They egy to hold the men in line until cotton pickers seen in Corsicana as tempts to protect themselves from the executive board of the Amalgamated Meet Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America can meet to devise a graceful means of surrender that can be construed as a "settlement." The members of the executive board began to reach Chicago on Saturday. They are expected to assemble to-day.

> Making It Emphatic. Concerning a certain archdeacon in the English church a tale of modesty is told. He forbade one of his friends to call him "doctor," saying, "If you call me doctor I will do the same for you." "Oh, but you can't," replied the other. "I am not a doctor." "You soon will be," was the answer. "I'll he --- if I am," came the retort.

> Smoke Heals Wounds. We sometimes hear of lockiaw resulting from running a pin or a rusty nail into the hand or foot. VOLCANO A WEATHER PROPHET.

Its Warning Known to the Ancients Many Centuries Ago.

As a natural weather prophet, and infallible at that, the volcano on the island of Vulcano, twelve miles north of Sicilly in the Mediteranean, is belived to hold the record. The following is from an account of a dinner given by the Geographical Council club of England in 1893: "Capt. Wharton, the hydrographer to the admiralty, told how he had once anchored in very deep water on the east side of Vulcano, the southernrost of the Lipari isles, but that he had kept up stream, with the intention of being off immediately if the wind changed to the east. He mentioned this to an Englishman who lived on the island and was in charge of some borax works. 'But' said the man, there is not the remotest chance of the wind going round to the east without the full warning.' 'What warning?' asked the other. 'Oh!' was the rejoinder, 'the volcano always warns us.' 'The volcano!' said Wharton. 'Yes, the volcano; a fumarone" always emits a whistling sound before the east wind begins to blow.' Shortly after this Wharton was looking at Strabo and, to his astonishment, found that that writer mentions the fact. The Englishman had never heard of Strabo in his life. Strabo died as an old man about A. D. 25, so that this excellent 'furmarone' must have been giving its warnings well-nigh 2,000 years at least."

Juneau Beautifully Situated.

Reward will be paid to any person who can find one atom of opium, chloral, morphine, cocaine, ether or chloroform in any form in any of Dr. Miles' Remedies.

This reward is offered because certain unscrupulous persons make false statements about these remedies. It is understood that this reward applies only to goods purchased in the open market, which have not been tampered with in any way. Dr. Miles' remedies cure by their soothing, nourishing, strengthening and invigorating effects upon the nervous system, and not by paralyzing and weakening the nerves as would be the case if these drugs were used. For this reason Dr. Miles'

Anti-Pain Pills are universally "I have suffered for 25 years with severe pains in my head, heart and back, and have tried everything I could get and could not find any relief until I got a box of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I suffered as long as 12 hours at a time with such severe pains that I feared I would lose my mind. The Anti-Pain Pills gave me relief in from 10 to 20 minutes. I do not have to use Morphine any more. I wish you would publish this so that other sufferers may find relief."
