New and Complete

Our line of shelf and heavy hardware is now complete. Our stock is new and first-class. Come in and let us show you what we have, and get our prices.

PAINT PAINT PAINT Implements

Along with our extensive line of hardware and implements, we are making a specialty of PAINT. In IMPLEMENTS we can furnish you just what you want at just the price you expect to pay for them.

To Hunters

We carry a full line of Hunters' Supplies. The best shot gun and rifle shells on the market can be had at our store.

SINCE the Painter's services cost more than the paint, you can't afford to save a dollar or two by getting a cheap paint, can you? Nor can you afford to pay the painter for putting on Water, Benzine, Gypsum or other worthless materials often found in Secret Mixed Paints. To be safe, buy a House Paint which you KNOW is Good Paint with no adulterations. To be sure, you must buy a paint which is sold openly and frankly, about which you can know EVERYTHING.

INSPECTED HOUSE PAINT has the formula printed on each can, and is twice inspected to be sure it is according to the formula. Step in and see the samples of liquids and pigments used in W.B. Inspected House Paint. No secrets about it.

Rainfall for August 6 1-2 Inches.

According to Ben Woods, volunteer weather observer at Portales, we had six and one-half inches of rain during the month of August. How does that sound to you people who call this a dry country? No wonder the farmers are bragging about fine crops. Even the sod crops are making big yields here this year.

Rev. Wilson to Leave Portales.

We will expect our regular preaching service at Methodist church next Sunday morning and night. At the morning service we must hold our last quarterly conference, as the presiding elder was rained out when he was here. We hope that not only the officers of the church will be present, but the entire membership. On the following Sunday, September 15th, will be our last service for the conference year and we may safely say for all time. The discipline of the church provides that a pastor may remain on a charge four years when conditions demand it, but in my own experience I have felt that two years is as long as I can serve a congregation, with benefit to the church, hence, I shall expect to go to some new field and begin a new work. This is not with the expectation of finding a better place or a better people, but to meet the conditions of the itinerant system, which has thus far been a most successful one, giving each place a preacher and each preacher a place. The Methodist people here have cause to be grateful, for I have never served a congregation within my thirteen years ministry more loyal and responsive to the calls of the church. Their liberality has been almost unparalleled.

Beginning five years ago the erection of a large commodious church, the little hand worked faithfully and heroically until now we have a nicely finished church, a neat, well furnished parsonage, with only a little indebtedness, and that provided for.

As I shall not expect to meet the congregation again as their pastor, I take this opportunity of thanking the people for their uniform kindness, the newspapers for giving us their space and for all the good things that have come our way. And as I now recall my years of itinerant service and think of the faithful friends of the days gone by, our hopes are confirmed, our faith is strengthened as we look forward to that glorified life awaiting us in the sweet beyond. S. E. WILSON.

Moore Brothers Locate Here.

D. B. and H. B. Moore, two young men from Oklahoma, returned to their home the first of the week, after being here several days looking at the country and filed on land. They expressed their opinion of this country as follows:

We wish to say that we have just arrived from Wilmoth, Oklahoma, and after hearing a great deal for and against this country, we wish to say that we have been in several states, and to us New Mexico is almost the garden spot of the world. We are greatly encouraged with this country and we will locate near Carter, New Mexico, in what we think is the best farming country any ways near Portales. We believe that this will be the greatest farming country in the southwest.

Many thanks to the many kindnesses shown us while in and around Portales, and especially to the good people of Carter.

D. B. and H. B. MOORE.

A Good Industry.

G. W. Harris, who lives near Portales, has a scheme for making money on a farm which promises to be a remarkably good and profitable one if pushed, and Mr. Harris surely has the ability to do it. He is making sweet pickles from cucumbers of his own raising and the pickles are of a quality equal to the best that can be bought in the stores. He has put up about two hundred gallons of these pickles this year and finds no difficulty in selling them at $1.00 a gallon.

Mr. Harris states that an acre of cucumbers will make five thousand gallons of pickles. It can be readily seen that this is a business which will pay a person who understands it. Cucumbers produce prolifically here and we believe it is possible for Mr. Harris to develop this into an extensive business, which he expects to do. He thinks he will put out at least half an acre of cucumbers next year.

H. B. Ryther's Father Arrives.

James Ryther, father of H. B. Ryther, an employe of the Times and formerly editor of this paper, arrived here Thursday night from Hutchinson, Kansas, to make this his home. James Ryther is in his seventieth year but is still quite hale and hearty for a man of his age. He has lived since 1874 at Hutchinson, Kansas, a period of 33 years. He says he has seen that town develop from nothing into a good sized city and dont see any reason why this place should not do as well.

Another New Building.

The Hardy Hardware company are going to commence the erection of a store building 40x80 feet, to be built of cement blocks. They have been having their old iron building moved this week to make room for the new store. Mr. Carter has been doing the moving and being such a large building it has been quite a job. The new cement building will make a great improvement to the looks of the square and an ornament to the town. One wall of the new building is already up, it having been put up a few weeks ago, as it could be built before the old building was moved. The Hardy Hardware company is a strong firm and is building up a good business in Portales.

Walton Boys go off to College.

Mrs G. T. Walton and sons, Earl and Julian, were expecting to leave the latter part of this week or the first of next week for Atlanta, Georgia, where the two boys will enter college. Earl graduated last spring from the Portales schools and Julian graduated the same time from the Peacock school at San Antonio, Texas. These are both bright young men and a college education will be a great thing for them. However, Dr. Walton will greatly miss their help on the farm, and that is what is delaying them getting started, as Dr. Walton is busy with his crops and had to find some help before they could get away.

New School House Being Built.

Actual work began this week on laying the walls of the new stone school house. Mr. Harvey, who has been doing the brick work on the bank building for the Portales Bank and Trust company, has the contract and has a force of men at work laying the walls. Carpenter Harris has the contract for doing the wood work.

Some changes in the plans have been made which will make the building cost less money, but not make it any smaller. A twelve inch wall is being laid for the first story. The school board thinks they will have enough money to put up the walls and enclose the building. Anyway, they are going ahead and getting as much done as they can. We are glad to see the work being done.

A Good Cement Deposit Found

J. W. George, who lives near Floyd, has been working for some time on a deposit of material he has discovered which will make

Forty-three Pumpkins on a Vine.

When it comes to raising watermelons, cucumbers, pumpkins, etc., we will put Roosevelt county against the world. Those who came from Missouri or any other place can be shown a pumpkin vine on the farm of Jake Beckman, twenty-two miles southeast of Portales, on which there are growing forty-three well developed pumpkins.

very fine cement. He had a sample of the rock in town the first of the week. It has already been analyzed and tested and has proven to be good. A company of Portales people has been formed and the ground is being taken up under the mineral act.

Some parties from the east who have been corresponded with relative to taking hold of the matter and putting in a cement plant, were expected to arrive the latter part of this week. If they don't come and a deal be made with them, the people here will go ahead and develop the industry by putting in an extensive cement plant.

It has not been made public yet just where this deposit of material is, but it is said to be within two miles of a railroad.

Prices to Move Goods

We are now building a new brick store house, which will be completed in about sixty days, and we are going to sell goods cheaper than the cheapest until we move, as we want to reduce the stock as low as possible before moving. We Don't Care What Prices Others Make You, we will meet it and go them one better. All goods sold at a reduced price will be Spot Cash. If you don't believe that we will do what we say, come and see and be convinced. We could give you a lot of prices, but we could not give you all of them, so come and get our prices before buying elsewhere.

G. W. Woods and family have lately moved into their new five room cottage near the school house.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stone visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hicks, north of town, Monday.

Miss Byrd Carter left last Saturday for Texico to assume her duties as teacher in the Texico schools.

Oscar Shaw arrived Wednesday from Texas to make settlement on his claim, twenty-two miles south of Portales.

Try Rippy-Jordan Lumber company for lumber just one time. They will take chances on your trade after that.

Stephen Beck, who is employed in Schweining's tin shop, has had a two room house built near the school house.

Have you asked about the best place to buy lumber? Ask someone and see what he says.—Rippy-Jordan Lumber company.

If you are from Missouri you don't have to go far nowadays to be shown that Roosevelt county is the land of big water melons.

The Portales broom factory will buy all the broom corn produced in this county and pay the highest price the market will afford.

E. J. Slaten, who lives southwest of town, returned Wednesday from Amarillo, where he has been working the past two months.

Claude Anderson, who is clerking in Pearce & Dobbs' drug store, has just lately completed a three room house near the school house.

Oscar Preusser moved out on his farm the first of the week. Robert Byrnes, the restaurant man, has rented Mr. Preusser's house in town.

Miss Ethel Crawford, daughter of J. B. Crawford, of the Unity neighborhood, is stopping in Portales and will attend school here this winter.

Miss Maxwell, an aunt of Ben Woods, and T. G. Wood, his cousin, arrived last week from Eastman county, Texas, to visit with him and his family.

S. H. Stinnett brought in a water melon last week that weighed sixty pounds. Mr. Faggard bought it and sent it to his son down in Texas.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Cole, who live five miles west of town, a boy, Monday, September 2. This is their first boy and they are quite proud of their son.

J. C. Lott, of near Arch, brought to this office this week a very fine sample of Kafir corn. Mr. Lott says that he has about fifty acres of this kind of grain.

Travis Reese and family, of Mulberry, Arkansas, arrived Sunday and will make Portales their future home. Mr. Reese is a brother of Judge G. L. Reese.

A. B. Austin is now receiving fresh California fruit, including apples, plums, prunes and grapes, as fine as ever seen. He receives fresh fruit every day.

Earl Landers has just completed a neat four room cottage near the school house. We hear that he and his brother will live in town and attend business college this winter.

Uncle Pete McDaniel, of Blacktower, was in Portales Wednesday. Uncle Pete says that he never saw better crops in his life than there are in his part of the county.

Fred Whitehead, formerly of Portales, but now a real estate man at Texico, was a county seat visitor Saturday and Sunday. Fred says Portales certainly do grow some.

Mrs. Land, who lives in the country, has just completed a two room house near the school house, which will be occupied by her daughters who will attend school here this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rindchen, who have been here visiting their son, Amos Rindchen and family, who live south-east of town, left last Thursday for their home at Hewins, Kansas.

R. R. Herbert arrived Wednesday from Franklin county, Texas, to make settlement on his claim, about twenty miles south of town. He took out lumber Thursday to build him a house.

Mr. and Mrs. Polk Williams moved Monday from the Daniels house to a house in the Leach Addition. Mr. Daniels' daughters have come in from the farm to stay and go to school.

F. H. Thomason returned Friday from a business trip to Arkansas. He was glad to get back to New Mexico, where the air is fresh and pure and the nights are cool enough so one can sleep.

Mrs. Ollie Walton and children, who have been here a couple months visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Smith, who live east of town, left Sunday for their home in Abilene, Texas.

Dr. J. E. Camp returned last Saturday from Tennessee, where he had been called on account of the serious illness of his mother. When the doctor left his mother was much improved.

Judge W. E. Lindsey left Saturday for a visit to his old Ohio home. This will be his first visit to his mother in twelve years. He hopes to be able to induce her to return with him and spend the winter in Portales. The judge will return home Sunday.

Mr. William Crisp, of near Macy, and Miss Leona Snell, daughter of W. H. Snell, of Portales, were married Sunday, September 1, at the residence of the bride's parents, Judge C. M. Compton officiating. The young couple will make their home near Macy.

Henry Gates, formerly deputy grand master workman of the A. O. U. W. lodge for the territories of New Mexico and Arizona, has been here this week on business. He is now connected with the Court of Honor, an insurance order, with headquarters at Wichita, Kansas.

W. J. McIntosh and family and R. G. Coffee, father of Mrs. McIntosh, of Lexington, Oklahoma, arrived this week and will make Portales their future home. Mr. McIntosh brought with him an up-to-date well drill, run by gasoline engine, and will engage in the business of drilling wells.

J. P. White arrived Sunday from Roswell. He had expected to receive his new automobile, ordered some time ago, but as it had not arrived, he armed himself with three cans of bi-sulphide of carbon and started for his ranch, with a fixed determination to put in his spare time making war on the ants.

Bedford Forrest Camp No. 1606, U. C. V., are making up the funds to purchase a forty acre tract of land for the purpose of erecting a confederate soldier's home. This is a worthy enterprise and should receive the loyal support and hearty co-operation of not only the old veterans themselves, but every citizen of Roosevelt county.

Macy is about the latest post office established in Roosevelt county. It is fifteen miles southwest of Portales and seven miles north of Delphos. W. F. Edmiston is postmaster and he has also established a general store there. The new town has a blacksmith shop and has a school house. Mrs. Agnes Chambers will teach the school this winter.

Jack Heffin and wife, of Hale Center, Texas, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Baker, arrived this week for a short visit with the family of the latter. Mr. and Mrs. Heffin made the trip here in their automobile. "Uncle" George Baker says his son-in-law is much taken with this country and will, in all probability, buy something before leaving.

W. W. Odom, in company with S. F. Wooding, made a trip through the northern and eastern part of the county this week. Mr. Odom says he never seen better corn anywhere on earth than he saw on this trip. He mentioned one place in particular, that of a man from the Indian Territory, who had seventy acres of corn, planted in the sod, which will yield thirty-five bushels per acre. This man plowed his land and tilled his crop with one team of burros.

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and malow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

Rain, rain, rain, and how lovely the things do look.

The father and mother of Allie and Bud Boulter are here visiting them.

Our school begins next Monday.
Professor Burke will be our teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. George Byers left this week for the —N— ranch, where they will work for awhile.

Henry Williams has had a new addition built to his dwelling, which adds to the appearance of his place.

Eugene Trammell and Mr. Buchanan left this week for Oklahoma with a bunch of horses which they bought from the DZ.

Everybody is putting out shade trees and orchards in our vicinity. Now, if they will only kill out the rabbits that gnaw them so.

Will Turner and Mrs. Anna Duncan and children returned last week from an extended trip in Texas, where they went to visit relatives.

E. A. Vaughn and family returned to Texas last week after a short stay on their claim southwest of Portales.
They will be back as soon as they can gather and dispose of their crops down there.

From the looks of the dinner that was spread the last Sunday of our protracted meeting, one would think that the people of our valley were prosperous, as they had everything that was good to eat.

Will Dunigan, of Post City, Texas,
was here this week looking at our valley. He was more than pleased with our prospect for crops and was here looking for him a claim. Girls, he is a good looking bachelor.

The Methodist protracted meeting was a success, but closed just as the people began to enjoy it. Brother Law came down and preached for us Saturday night and Sunday. There were five conversions and eight additions to the church.

To check a cold quickly, get from your druggist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventics, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventics contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will prevent pneumonia, bronchitis, la grippe, etc. Hence the name, Preventics. Good for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25 cents. Trial boxes 5 cents. Sold by Pearce & Dobb.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Phillips and children visited W. S. Hamby Sunday.

It continues to shower, which is greatly needed to the growing crops.

Mrs. Southall and children and Mrs.
Clem went to Portales, Wednesday of last week.

Rev. Maxwell has purchased a new one row binder and has begun to harvest his crop.

Miss Dora Kimmons and mother, of Lowell, Arkansas, are here visiting relatives and friends for awhile.

Henry Holland has a fine well at ninety feet and has moved the drill to his father's place and is drilling.

W. W. Van Winkle, after spending Sunday with home folks, returned Monday to his place of business at Portales.

Uncle Milton Pace is hauling lumber for Mr. Van Winkle, who will soon begin the erection of a store on his place.

Mrs. L. D. Petross and children left Monday, August 26, for Springdale, Arkansas, to join her husband for the winter.

Misses Cora Nail and Gertie Thomson and Will Hamby attended the singing at Mr. Thurman's Sunday afternoon of last week.

Fred and Charlie Maxwell and Joe Phillips have been preparing land since the rain for L. P. Davis, who will put

FARMERS' EDUCATIONAL AND
CO-OPERATIVE UNION
OF AMERICA

We are hearing all over the country of Farmers' Union picnics, and all of 'em a e fine ones, too. The crowds are limited to the ability of the picnic grounds to hold the people, or the ability of the speakers to reach the crowds. This is good work; keep it up.

Don't kick about your taxes. It takes money to run a government, and it makes no difference about who is running it. This does not mean that you are to have no backbone, and that you are to stand for any sort of foolishness. When you put up a good American dollar, you are entitled to a dollar's worth of service, and you have a right to demand that service.

This is a season of the year when it behooves us, every man and woman to give care to our fellow creatures, whether biped or quadruped, covered with hair or feather. Fresh water during these sizzling days should be accessible to beast and fowl. It is impossible for them to ask for a cup or bucket of water, and they are entirely dependent on the thoughtfulness of woman and man. It is distressing to go about the market places and see crates crowded with fowls frequently so densely packed that they are two deep in the crate; their mouths open, panting for breath. They do not so much need food as water.
It is not, as one might suppose, that the market men or the shippers are cruel. They are simply thoughtless.
Habitude has made them forgetful that all domestic animals are highly organized vertebrates like ourselves, possessing with us the mysterious principles of life, and enjoying and suffering everything similarly with ourselves. "The hand of less employment hath the daintier sense," and it becomes the duty of all humane people, those who have not become callous by long habitude, to insist upon the promotion of kindness and comfort toward animals.

There are between three and four hundred societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals throughout the United States, but there are many hundred thousands of people not belonging to these societies, who are humane both by nature and education.
There is a wider scope for altruism than benevolence to our own kind, merely, there can never be the highest benevolence in and to the human race until the humane sentiment begins at the formation and embraces all life.—The Living Truth.

By LEON ANSTINE SUTTER

(Copyright, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

It was the evening of my return from India and I was sitting by Haslam's fire, toasting my feet, for there was a slight drizzle and I had come in, chilled and damp.

I had been away for five years and news of the fellows had a flavor, excelling anything I had found in my wanderings.

Finally, I said, lazily blowing a ring of smoke over my head, "It's strange Jack Bardon has never married. He's the sort one involuntarily associates with wife and children."

Haslam closed his eyes dreamily. I knew that a story was forth-coming. At last he spoke. "The right woman came into Jack's life too late," he said. "It happened last winter and Jack is worse than cut up yet. In fact, he never will get over it. It's a case of misery with no time limit. I do not know who the woman was, but I have an inkling, and if I'm right, I can't say I blame Jack much. The woman was married, Jack told me, and to an old codger, who was a good enough sort in his way, but capable of inspiring about as much feeling in a romantic woman as a mushroom. She was very young and her family had arranged the match.

"Jack only gave me a few facts and mentioned no names. I never saw a man's face as white as his was when he told me. 'The Girl,'—he called her 'the girl'—and he met first at a luncheon in his rooms, where there were plates laid for four. It was the usual sort. You know the kind I mean, the luncheon of Bohemia.

"The other two, I'm almost sure were Nell Eastman and Clarence Wild. Society has almost ceased to gossip about them now, but you remember that even when you were here, they used to meet often in Jack's rooms. He always felt sorry for Nell and excused her for her defiant way of taking what she wanted in life. Jack would forgive a clever woman anything. 'Life's been rough to Nell,' he always said. "I think the woman was a friend of Nell's although that part of my story is mere guessing, and we'll take his word for it that God never made a more beautiful woman.

"She came into my rooms, Haslam," he said, "like some radiant angel and with only the bright red spot burning in either cheek to tell me that she did not lunch every day like that." He said it was the shortest luncheon he ever sat at, that she interested him as no woman had ever interested him before, and that he was mad for the moment when they should be left alone.

"But when the other two left them, ostensibly to see a picture in another room, and he would have drawn her into his arms, she shamed him with the innocent horror of her protest, sent him to his knees, in contrition that his passion had profaned her.

"He talked to her and found her innocent, so innocent, he marveled, told her sternly that she must never trust herself in such a situation again, and she wept and promised. But before she left his rooms, because he could not give her up, he asked her to come again, and she, fighting with all her young strength against the temptation, refused, yet came.

"They met often after that. She was only a slip of a girl when life threw them together and it seemed to him that he had been waiting for her always. The inevitable happened. They loved each other with a love that counted all remembrance of the barriers between them, tyrannous. The very air ached with their love. They reached the state of mind where they counted the world well lost for each other. They longed to sacrifice themselves on the altar of the world's disdain and so they gave themselves to each other, to love each other unchangingly, with a love, they said, that should grow closer and sweeter and holier every day, until that dark, desolate, shadow-burdened day when one of them should die, had she not told him that which separated them.

"He learned from her own lips, in a moment of careless confidence, that her husband was his brother in an order, which he regarded as a priest regards the church. In that order, never dreaming how they would one day manacle him, he had taken vows which separated her from him as surely as the vows of a priest separate him from all women.

"They say that passion knows no vows, that a man's sacred word, given in the presence of his fellows and sworn to before God will snap like the over-wrought string of a violin, in the hour when the woman of his love tempt him. I never was tempted enough to know, but I belong to the same order Jack does and it seems to me, we take an oath in that no man would break to win a paradise.

"It is certain that from the moment she told Jack this, he never told her that he loved her, could not even tell her why. He had to hear her broken pleading that he tell her of his love, had to tear her tender arms from around his neck.

"They had met that day to perfect their plans for the future, but he had to say to her that they must give them up, must each go their way and forget.

"When she cried that she could not forget, that she could never get

He Said Those Words to Her Which Broke Her Heart.

over it, never, he said those words to her which broke her heart. "But you must get over it! You must! Little girl, think what it means! You are the wife of my brother!"

"She could not understand him and she kept pleading with him to take her away with him and he could only repeat, 'You are the wife of my brother—the wife of my brother.'

"We'll draw the merciful curtain of silence over their parting, Ned. The sun grew dark at Calvary. Jack told me between sobs and groans, that he took her in his arms and kissed her—

"He will never marry now. He's a castaway haunted by the old, irremediable days and he'll go lonely all his years unless the merciful God widows her. Just as he was the kind to count no cost when he loved her, so he'll keep himself virgin for his love."
