CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM FOR 1919

To Be at Portales for Three Days
Beginning Next Tuesday.

Final Preparations are under way for the opening of our Chautauqua. The dates for Portales' three-day inspirational community meet are July 22, 23 and 24.

Co-operating with the Radcliffe Chautauqua system, the local organizers of this annual getting-together are arranging for a rousing time with twelve gripping events on the program. Entertainment numbers of the first quality are to be combined with features illustrative of the great central theme of this year's program—Education for the American Child.

The quickened spirit of Democracy preparing for the dawn of a new era embraces education as the only road to future progress. Embarking on a crusade for real education and staking its success on the finer and more joyous things of life, the Radcliffe Chautauqua, and its local co-operators invite the whole community to make the town the dynamic center of the United States for three days.

The local Chautauqua promoters are building for an ideal—a raised standard of living for everybody. And they are building with ideas. The program is loaded with material.

THE FIGHTING YANKS, a group of military boys in the uniforms they wore in France, will make the Chautauqua atmosphere vibrate with the speed of their rapid-fire entertainment on the afternoon and night of the first day. This organization of instrumentalists, vocalists and dramatic entertainers will give the opening program its humorous and rollicking touch, with their colorful "trench" repertory.

THE COLUMBIANS, rollicking youthful spirits, all of them, but artists of the highest order, will offer two concerts on the second day. These are skilled instrumental vocalists, and their instrumental numbers as well as highly dramatic musical numbers are offered in combination with colorful costume effects.

THE BELLINO-TAYLOR CO. has been reserved as the concert offering of the closing day and the assurance is given that its offering will be of the first quality in artistic effect. Sam Bellino the accordion king, will bring with him his big instrument with the pipe organ tone and will demonstrate not only its complex technique and its dignity as a musical instrument, but also his mastery of it in both lighter and symphonic effects. Lloyd Taylor will contribute a group of readings and impersonations to the concert program. Mr. Taylor is a rapid-fire artist, a dramatic dynamo.

The six lecturers are not less entertaining, witty, snappy and radiant, one is assured, but they have a very serious purpose. The big robbing question of the hour is Education. The Chautauqua orators and demonstrators will make this subject ring.

Dr. W. T. S. Culp, broad, eloquent, keen, analytical, constructive, the master of 5,000 audiences, will give the opening afternoon lecture on "The Lamp of Aladdin." This lecture will be remembered long after the khaki tent has departed. His evening subject, "The Greatest Thing That Men May Know," will promote ideals of true education, not of the hands alone, nor yet of the head only, but also of the heart.

The marshal of this educational crusade will be the Chautauqua Director, Dr. D. D. Harmon, who, on the night of the second day will carry the central theme to a practical level under the topic "The Problem of the Unprepared." His third night topic will be "Pushing back the Horizon—Individual, Home, Community."

Of particular significance will be the lecture on "Home Making" and the conference on "The House Around the Corner" by the Radcliffe Woman Specialist in Home Engineering, on the afternoon of the second day.

Miss Florence Besley, a graduate nurse, especially assigned to this educational work, by the American Red Cross, will lecture on the afternoon of the third day on "The Red Cross—A Record and a Prophecy," and will hold an instruction conference on "Home Care of the Sick."

The whole inspiring, educative program is symmetrically arranged. There is something worth while for everyone and none need go fifty miles from home to get lively entertainment and fresh cultural impulses, when these are brought in such rich measure right to the community. The success of our Chautauqua can be read in the striking features outlined and in the sincerity of the community's purpose in arranging for it.

PRESIDENT CHOSEN FOR NEW MEXICO UNIVERSITY

Albuquerque, N. M., July 16.—Dr. David Spence Hill, of the University of Illinois, was unanimously elected president of the University of New Mexico by the board of regents last night and will assume active direction of the University's affairs on August 1st. Dr. Hill was chosen from more than twenty-five applicants for the position, including a number of widely known educators and college executives. At the request of the regents he came to Albuquerque for a conference and accepted the election before leaving last night for Chicago to arrange his personal affairs for immediate return to New Mexico. He is a graduate of Harvard, Washington Law School with P. H. D. from Clark's University and L.L.D. from University of Kentucky. Dr. Hill has, in addition to his broad college training, an experience of twenty years in teaching and college executive work in a number of the foremost institutions of the United States. He is a member of a number of important scientific societies and the author of several well known books upon educational lines. His selection is regarded here as fortunate for the university and the state. He is 46 years old and a vigorous constructive educator and has had an especially broad experience in vocational, education and head of schools.

Mrs. G. L. Reese entertained the officers of the Nu-Mex Oil Co. and Mrs. Nolan of St. Louis, last Sunday evening at dinner. The Nu-Mex Oil Company men are a grateful bunch and expressed themselves in a manner that leaves no doubt to the ability of the Judge and his wife as entertainers.

W. P. Pitts brought the News a fine bouquet of dahlias last Saturday for which we extend our thanks. We asked him how he sold them and he said he had been selling them by the bushel lately. We didn't argue with him because a look at his flower garden would convince anyone that it was possible that he could sell many more bushels and then have a nice bouquet left.

F. C. Hack, inspector for the Ford Motor people of Denver, was in town yesterday and today transacting business and shaking hands with friends. Mr. Hack was formerly connected with the Universal Garage at this place.

Mrs. Orma Johnson went down to Elida today to visit with friends for a few days.

PORTALES VS. FT. SUMNER

There isn't very much to be said about the ball game last Sunday afternoon between the home team and the boys from Ft. Sumner, only the final score was 4 to 1 in favor of the home team. The game was interspersed with some good playing on both sides but without a doubt the feature of the main feature of the game was the excellent work of J. N. Gryder who, the boys all admit, played a big part in the winning of the game.

The local team expects to go to Fort Sumner next Sunday for a return game and it is hoped that a good crowd will go along and help them win.

APPRECIATED GIFT AT THE ORPHAN'S HOME

To think of fifty-five male citizens of the town caring enough for our babies to provide a beautiful buggy for our use is to me one of the most touching things that has happened since the children came to us and to each donor the babies and I give our heartiest thanks and best wishes and feel sure it will help each and all of us to pass many more peaceful, happy moments because of the outings in it.

Gratefully,

GENERAL DIPPING ORDER

Issued By the Cattle Sanitary Board of New Mexico.

To All Whom It May Concern:

Under authority conferred upon the Cattle Sanitary Board of New Mexico by the provisions of chapter 31 of the Laws of New Mexico notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Cattle Sanitary Board held at Albuquerque on the 7th day of June, 1919, in consequence of scabbe having been found in range inspection conducted by the Cattle Sanitary Board in co-operation with the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, general leattle scabbe dipping orders were issued and made effective the first day of August, 1919, and the following areas are hereby declared infected territory:

All of that part of DeBaca county lying east of a north and south line running twelve (12) miles west of Yeso on the Belen Cut Off railway.

All that part of the county of Roosevelt lying south of the Belen Cut-Off railway.

All of Chaves county lying east of the crest of the Guadalupe mountains.

Now, therefore, persons, firms or corporations owning or having control of any neat cattle within the above described infected cattle scabbe district, are hereby ordered to dip all of said cattle which may be owned or which are under their direction or control, on or before the 40th day after the first day of August, 1919.

It is further specifically directed that during the quarantine of these infected districts that it shall be unlawful for any cattle belonging to or under control of any person, firm or corporation within said infected districts to be removed therefrom except for the purpose of being dipped, and then only by written permission of a proper authorized agent of the Cattle Sanitary Board or the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry.

Provided, further, however, that cattle which have been properly dipped and certified to by an inspector of the Cattle Sanitary Board or the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, shall be entitled to free and unrestricted movement therefrom.

All dipping must be done under the immediate and direct supervision of inspectors of the Cattle Sanitary Board of New Mexico and the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture, and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture. All exposed animals to be dipped once and diseased animals twice.

Only those dips recognized by the United States Department of Agriculture can be used, the formula of which will be furnished to all those concerned upon application to Board of Government Inspectors.

That dipping may be expedited and its final completion hastened it is suggested that each group of community cattlemen thoroughly organize their work and dipping and arrange in such a manner that each dipping vat is kept properly rotated and in constant use until all dipping is finished.

The cattle scabbies disease is a very serious menace to the cattle herd of New Mexico, and its control and suppression imperative. This can only be successfully accomplished by complete and thorough dipping of all cattle in the infected area.

The Cattle Sanitary Board is deeply interested in having the disease eradicated and all infected areas released from quarantine, and to this end wishes to cooperate with all cattlemen and request all assistance within its power.

Cattle Sanitary Board of New Mexico.
(Signed) W. J. LINWOOD,
Secretary.

GREAT ACTIVITY IN OIL MATTERS

Nu-Mex Oil Co. Make Record Time In Erection of Derrick.

Last Thursday the oil rig of the Nu-Mex Oil Co., arrived. James E. Webb, superintendent of construction for the company began unloading, teams were engaged and hauling began. Material was hauled nine miles south of Portales to the Wilcox ranch the location of the company's No. 1 well. J. I. Mattison, a well known rig builder of Oklahoma and Texas, and his crew of men began the erection of the derrick, which is now completed.

The derrick is a standard derrick and is one of the most substantial derricks ever erected in any oil field. Great care was exercised in guarding against high winds, as the derrick was well sway-braced and two sets of guy wires were run. The extra bracing makes it the heaviest wood rig ever erected in a new field.

Since the arrival of the company's officers, J. D. Lasater, president; J. W. Brown, vice-president; C. F. Burden, treasurer; and C. G. Anderson, secretary, these men have acquitted themselves in fine style. The officers of the company are in keeping with the most successful oil companies now operating. The fact that the rig was delivered and erected within one week's time and that James E. Webb left to trace the drilling outfit and casing, shows that the company is thoroughly capable of carrying out the development of the oil resources of Roosevelt county.

Harry B. Uches, general manager of the company, just returned from a trip through Oklahoma and Texas and reports that the big oil interests are turning their eyes to the gas and oil possibilities of Eastern New Mexico, due to the U. S. Government survey.

Several scouts of the big oil companies are now at work in Roosevelt county and a number of new wells are sure to result. Acreage and leases are changing hands, business men report bigger enthusiasm over the development work now being carried on and even the chronic skeptics are beginning to take a new elase on life and have begun boosting and believing that at last mother earth is going to yield up her liquid gold and that this county will be the beginning of the world's new oil field.

ENJOYING THEIR OUTING

A letter from George Henderson states that himself, C. M. Dobbs and F. T. McDonald are enjoying the outing at Hot Springs, this state, and also that the baths there are doing them lots of good. In part he says: "We are having lots of fish to eat. Mr. Dobbs has eat so many fish since we got here that he tries to swim in his sleep. I am the cook and Mr. McDonald is the dishwasher and housemaid. We have rooms with a Mr. Price who built and run the old Portales Hotel. I have lost 10 pounds and Mr. Dobbs 7 pounds and Mr. McDonald is about normal. For pastime, outside of fishing, Mr. Dobbs loaf around the cold drink stand, and Mr. McDonald has thrown in with the preachers and helps them hold meetings on the streets, and as for myself, I go rabbit hunting and swimming. "We expect to be here about ten days longer and will be home by the first."

R. H. Grisson, United States Commissioner at Elida, was in town yesterday on business.

ITALIANS AND FRENCH CLASH

SERIOUS DISORDERS BETWEEN SOLDIERS IS REPORTED FROM FIUME.

$300,000,000 FROM AUSTRIA

Of Which Czech-Slovakia Is to Contribute Half and Poles and Jugoslavs One-Third—Treaty Ready Soon.

Rome.—New clashes between the French and Italians at Fiume are reported in advices from that city. The casualties, so far reported number six killed and twenty wounded.

According to dispatches to Giornale d'Italia, serious incidents have occurred within the last day or two. Two French soldiers are charged with maltreating Italian children. French soldiers are accused of insulting Italian grenadiers, who remonstrated. The French fired on the grenadiers, and then fled to their barracks, from which they fired into the crowds that gathered.

In a cafe, where many French congresses and a Jugoslav beer garden, one Italian officer, two French soldiers and several civilians have been wounded. General Graziosi, into whose hands the national council of Fiume, placed the control of the city, has arrived and temporarily re-established order. There are repeated cries by the crowds of "down with France! Away with the provocator!"

The national council of Fiume has passed a resolution enumerating the incidents caused by the attitude of French soldiers there, an attitude considered offensive to the feelings of the population. The resolution asks withdrawal of the French troops, as their presence endangers friendly Franco-Italian relations.

Reds in Plot to Destroy Rome.
Rome.—An anarchist plot to attack the central part of Rome by means of hand grenades and other explosives has been exposed by the arrest of 16 of the conspirators, four hours before the time fixed for carrying out the plans.

Muns Ready to Ratify.
Berlin.—The federal committee has approved ratification of the treaty.

Austria to Pay Gold Indemnity.
Paris.—Austria must pay $300,000,000 in gold, the reparational clauses, now completed, provide, according to L'Intransigent.

Czecho-Slovakia, by the treaty with Austria, is required to meet one-half of this total, and the Poles and Jugoslavs, who belong to the former Hapsburg empire, also will have to pay a certain percentage of the total, it is learned.

The allied and associated powers, it is further stated, will advance money to Austria to enable her to exploit her national railroads and the ex-imperial properties for the benefit of her creditors.

The revised Austrian peace treaty probably will be delivered to the Austrian delegation by the end of the week.

Idea of German Union Abandoned.
Paris.—The Austrian government has given up, at least for the time being, the idea of a union with Germany Dr. Bauer, secretary for foreign affairs, declared in an address delivered last week at the congress held by the councils of workers.

"Austria, maul and ruined, can only exist with the permission of the entente," Dr. Bauer declared. It is for this reason, Bauer added, that Austria has abandoned "for the present at least the idea of joining Germany since she is not powerful enough to accomplish the union without the entente's consent. Bauer emphasized the "essential necessity of maintaining the unity of the proletarian front."

Paderborn Under State of Siege.
Berlin.—An intensified state of siege has been proclaimed in Paderborn and Oeynhausen, Westphalia. The proclamation was issued after riots over the high cost of food had occurred in the towns.

Peru Revolt Quick Success.
Lima, Peru.—Augusto B. Leguia assumed office as provisional president of Peru and took up his residence in the government palace as a result of the successful overthrow of President Pardo. Senor Pardo, his ministers and a number of officials of the army already are in prison. Virtually no fighting and no casualties marked the overthrow of the Pardo government. Senor Leguia is supported by virtually all of the army and naval forces and public opinion here apparently is behind him.

Another Mexican Atrocity.
Washington.—Leroy Moya, an American citizen employed by the Mexican Gulf Oil Company, was murdered by Mexicans in the Tampico oil fields, according to dispatches to the state department. Acting Secretary Phillips immediately cabled the American embassy at Mexico City to make urgent representations to the Mexican government for the apprehension and punishment of the murderers and the protection of Americans in the Tampico district. Moya's home was in Livingston, Texas.

BURLESON FORCED TO QUIT

Postmaster-general Burleson, who has for a year withstood determined opposition of most of the newspapers, public men, labor organizations and financial organizations, and who is charged with wrecking the postal and wire systems, has finally, according to Washington news, resigned.

TO TRY KAISER IN LONDON

William Hohenzollern To Be Arraigned Like Common Murderer.

London.—The only surprise of the report by Premier Lloyd George on the work of the peace conference to the house of commons was the news that the former German emperor would be tried in London.

Great state trials in England, of which there have been none for many years, have been held in Westminster hall, but it is not believed that William Hohenzollern will be given that honor. The procedure for his trial will be laid down by a commission which will be appointed by a committee which the allies will soon set up to execute the provisions of the peace treaty.

John Andrew Hamilton, Lord Sumner, will preside over the five judges representing the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan at the trial of the former German emperor.

Sir Gordon Hewart, solicitor general of Great Britain, will lead for the prosecution. William Hohenzollern will be defended by German counsel assisted by British lawyers if he wishes them.

The chief count in the former kaiser's indictment, for various high crimes, will be his action in causing violation of Belgium and Luxembourg. The proceeding will be conducted in English, but a translation will be made into several languages simultaneously.

The general opinion here is that while the Dutch government may not immediately yield to an allied demand for the defendant's extradition, it will eventually deliver him after futile negotiations, which may take up some weeks. Meanwhile the Netherlands government will, however, be held responsible for the ex-kaiser's person.

A committee of the British cabinet is considering a list of Germans to be tried for war crimes on land and sea.

Seventy German submarine commanders whose names and present whereabouts are known to the allies face trial before the proposed international tribunal in London.

Forty Students Killed by Bela Kun.
Vienna.—Forty students in the military college at Budapest have been executed by order of the Hungarian communist government.

Bigger Blimp Building.
London.—The gliders of the R-36, the new giant dirigible which will be larger than the R-34 have already been laid by the Inchinnan engineering company, which built the airship now at Mineola. The R-36 is the first of six new dirigibles to be built immediately and contain many improvements on the R-34 type. The R-34 type, it is officially reported, will not be produced further. Whether this is the result of disappointment at the slow speed of the airship on her trans-Atlantic flight is not announced.

Lynchings Falling Off.
Mobile, Ala.—Twenty-eight lynchings have taken place in the first six months of 1919, according to statistics compiled by Tuskegee institute. This is seven fewer than listed in the first six months of 1918, and 14 more than recorded in the same period in 1917 he said. Of those lynched, 25 were negroes and three white persons. One of the 25 was a woman. Seven were accused of assault. There was one in Texas, none in Oklahoma. Mississipp led with seven, all of whom were negroes.

England Honors Fryett's Memory.
Dover.—The body of Captain Fryett executed in 1814, by the Germans for attempting to ram a submarine, was brought to Dover aboard a British destroyer escorted by vessels of the Dover patrol. The casket on a gun carriage was drawn slowly from the destroyer to the railway station accompanied by a naval escort and civil authorities. The casket was placed in the station and later taken to London, where national memorial services were held at St. Paul's cathedral.

WILSON TOLD THE SENATE:

The treaty would be a scrap of paper without the league of nations. He also demanded league and would break no denial. America's material aid to Europe will be indispensable in days to come. If league of nations was rejected the world's heart would be broken. America is friend of all nations. America has just reached her majority as a world power. America's isolation ended 20 years ago. Moral leadership of the world is offered America; question is whether we accept or reject it. America shall in truth show the way to the world. The treaty squares with the 14 points as well as with the practical needs of the situation. It is not exactly the sort of treaty the U. S. would have written. "We have sought no special reparation for ourselves but only the restoration of right and the assurance of liberty everywhere." "America's fighting made victory certain." "A league of free nations is a practical necessity."

WILSON LAYS DOWN THE GAUNTLET

DEFIES SENATORS TO ATTEMPT TO REJECT THE GERMANY TREATY.

THE WORLD IS BLEED WHITE

And is Looking to America, the President Says, for Leadership Out of the Wilderness of War.

Washington.—The United States senate was given complete power to finish the task of ending the war with Germany. President Wilson, fresh from the peace conference at Paris, laid before the senate—authorized under the constitution, to ratify all treaties—the complete text of the document signed by the German delegates and the representatives of the allied and associated powers at Versailles. Until that document is ratified or rejected, the technical state of war must continue.

The president raised the issue of the league of nations in clear and unmistakable terms. He told the senate that the peoples of the world "bled white" wanted a permanent peace. He warned that if the league of nations was not created and its future assured, "there must be another and final war and the world must be swept clean of every power that could renew the terror." The president reviewed the changed attitude of the European statesmen toward the league and then demanded: "They saw it as the hope of the world and that hope they did not dare to disappoint. Shall we or any other free people hesitate to accept this great duty? Dare we reject it and break the heart of the world?"

What Rejection Means
Rejection of the league of nations, Wilson said, would be a rejection of the world's confidence. More than that, he declared, that without the league the peace treaty became but a scrap of paper.

The president began his speech by outlining how American troops, to whom he paid a warm tribute as men "terrible in battle but gentle and helpful out of it" turned the tide of the war.

Coming to the making of peace Wilson reviewed in detail the many complex questions presented and the difficulties growing out of a disposition in some quarters to cling to the old order.

"Old entanglements," he said "stood in the way of peace. Fruits May Be Bitter. "It was not easy," he added, "to graft the new order of ideas on the old and some of the fruits of the

PRESIDENT WILSON IS HOME

Great Reception Accorded Chief Executive by New York City.

New York.—President Wilson has returned to the United States, and in his first speech delivered on American soil since the peace treaty was signed declared that the peace concluded at Paris was "a just peace, which, if it can be preserved will safeguard the world from unnecessary bloodshed."

The only reference the president made to his political opponents was made, when, in referring to the negotiations at Paris, he said: "I am afraid some people, some persons, do not understand that vision. They do not see it. They have looked too much upon the ground. They have thought too much of the interests that were near them and they have listened to the voices of their neighbors. I have never had a moment's doubt as to where the heart and purpose of this people lay."

The president arrived at the Hoboken army pier, formerly the dock of the Hamburg-American line. The army transport George Washington, on which he sailed from Brest, was escorted by the bay by the battleship Pennsylvania and more than a score of destroyers and smaller naval craft.

On the New Jersey shore, the state which first honored Mr. Wilson with a political office, were massed 10,000 school children who welcomed the chief executive of the nation with the strains of the national anthem. Through the lines of children, all dressed in white, the president passed to the ferry which carried him to the Manhattan side of the river, where he was greeted by the official reception committee, headed by Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan. From the ferry terminal to Carnegie Hall, where he spoke, a distance of about three miles, the presidential party passed through streets lined with cheering thousands of men, women and children, who thronged the sidewalks and filled every available window and roof top.

"OF ALL SAD WORDS!"

Weimar.—Immediately upon ratification of the peace terms by the German assembly, President Ebert informed President Clemenceau of the peace conference by telegraph of the action taken. The bill ratifying the treaty is the briefest document of its kind in history. It reads:

"Article 1.—The peace treaty between Germany and the allied and associated powers signed on June 28 and the protocol belonging thereto as well as the agreement concerning the military occupation of the Rhineland, are hereby approved.

"Article 2.—This law becomes effective on the date of publication."

When the degree of doctor of laws, "honoris causa," was conferred upon Dr. R. B. von Kleinsmid president of the University of Arizona by the National University of Mexico, it was the first time in the history of the university that a foreigner had been so honored.

Service was made against seven of the city aldermen, and Mayor Stone, representing the city of Clovis, New Mexico, citing that the officials must answer a suit for $352.70, filed against the city by Mosman, Gano & Sipple, an auditing firm of Albuquerque. The suit claims the city owes the auditors $352.70 for services rendered when the city's books were untangled several months ago.

A sundry civil bill which has passed the House carried several items for New Mexico. One item for the purpose of dredging and draining in the Rio Grande irrigation project, called the Elephant Butte dam, carries $1,250,000. It also carries an appropriation of $150,000 to commence the construction of the court house and postoffice building in Santa Fe and one item of $80,000 for the same purpose for the postoffice building at Las Vegas.

Notable increase in the valuation of telephone properties in Arizona is shown in a compilation of figures on which the 1919 assessments will be based. This report has just been released by the state tax commission. It shows that there are now 54,298 miles of telephone wires as compared to 50,447 a year ago, and during this time the valuation of all telephone properties has increased from $3,212,864 to $3,442,570. The largest valuation is for Maricopa county which has 19,155 miles of lines valued at $1,172,680; the smallest is for Santa Cruz county, which has 733 miles valued at $47,148.

A party of tourists en route to Los Angeles in a car met with hard luck near Las Cruces, New Mexico. A lot of grips and bags of clothing were in the back of the car and in some way caught fire, completely destroying the baggage and ruining the cushions of the car. The owner stated that in one of the grips was over $2,500 in currency which was a total loss as all the bills were burned up. After the fire was out the owner drove the car back to Las Cruces on its own power as the engine was not damaged. Beside the money in one of the grips the loss of baggage will amount to about $2,000.

Clovis, New Mexico, is soon to have a new gas plant. A corporation known as the City Gas company presented a proposed ordinance to the city council to grant a franchise for the manufacture and distribution of gas within the city limits.

Magma Chief now operating in the Copper Creek country, near Jerome, Ariz., has considerable high grade ore blocked out, much glancing being on the dump sorted and ready for shipment. Good progress has been made at the mine in the shape of development work during the past few weeks, and a few more days of work will put the mine where it can conveniently output and go to shipping regularly.

What is thought to be an attempt to wreck the C. & S. passenger train near Raton, N. M., was frustrated by the crew of a freight train which was running about two hours ahead of the passenger. The crew of the freight found a steel rail on the track and fortunately the engineer saw it in time to stop his train before any damage was done. The rail was a heavy one and would have undoubtedly have ditched the passenger train.

A large machine company of New Mexico has just completed a new elevator for the C. & S. railroad at Folsom which is the tallest building in Union county and is said to be largest elevator in the state of New Mexico. The new building is eighty-five feet above the ground and twenty-five feet below the ground. Over ten car loads of material were used in its construction and four months' time was required by a large force of workmen to complete this work. The new elevator cost something over $17,000 and is already for operation.

(By REV. P. D. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR JULY 20

THE LORD'S SUPPER.

LESSON TEXTS.—Mat. 26:26-30; I Cor. 11:23-24.
GOLDEN TEXT.—For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.—I Cor. 11:26.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL.—Mark 14:22-25; Luke 22:14-20; I Cor. 10:16-17.
PRIMARY TOPIC.—Remembering Jesus (Luke 22:19).

JUNIOR TOPIC.—The Lord's Supper reminds us of Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC.—The meaning of the Lord's Supper.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC.—Communion with Christ and with one another.

1. The institution of the Lord's Supper (Matt. 26:26; I Cor. 11:23).

1. Time: It was on the night of the betrayal of Jesus, just after the betrayer had been announced.
2. The circumstances: In connection with the eating of the Passover. At the command of Jesus the disciples made ready the Passover, and while they were eating, Jesus took bread, blessed it and gave it to the disciples.
3. Elements: (1) The bread. This doubtless was the common bread of the Passover feast. (2) The cup. This cup consisted of the fruit of the vine.
II. The Significance of the Lord's Supper (Matt. 26:28-29; I Co. 11:24-26).

Jesus took natural and literal elements and made them to be symbols of his own body and blood. Just as our bread and drink are assimilated into brain and brawn, becoming an integral part of our body, so by means of these symbols the communicant partakes of Christ. He becomes a part of us and we are in him. It is both a memorial and a prophecy.

1. A memorial of the Lord (Luke 22:19). When he went away he left the bread and the cup for the disciples by which to remember him. Those who love him will desire to keep sacred this memorial.

2. To show the Lord's sacrificial death (I Cor. 11:26). He did not die as a hero or as an example of unselfish devotion, but as a substitutionary ransom. On the cross he made expiation for our sins.

3. It is a guaranty that our sins are forgiven (Rom. 4:25). When the believer partakes of these elements his faith is confirmed. "It is a signet of the Son of God attached to redemption."

4. Through them the believer receives Christ (I Cor. 10:16). He therefore participates in the body and blood of Christ, becoming a member of his body. Christ liveth in the believer (Gal. 2:20). The Holy Spirit communicates the life of Christ to believers, making them one body, joined together (Eph. 4:16). This union is illustrated by the figure of the human organism (I Cor. 12:12-27); the vine and branches (John 15:1-8); the husband and wife (Eph. 5:25, 26); we are one bread and one body (I Cor. 10:17).

5. A forward look to a completed redemption (I Cor. 10:26). When faith is exercised in Christ, redemption begins, and its completion will take place at the coming of Jesus Christ (I Thess. 4:16, 17). The bread and the cup constitute the keeprake of the Lord until he returns. These elements possess an immense psychological value both as a memorial and a prospect.

III. Qualifications for Participation in the Lord's Supper (I Cor. 11:27-34).

1. A proper apprehension of its meaning (v. 27). Eating and drinking "unworthily" does not refer to the demeanor of the communicant, but to the failure of the communicant to grasp its meaning and importance. Therefore, to thoughtlessly engage in this service is to do it "unworthily." Only a regenerated person can discern the Lord's body (v. 29, cf. 2:14). Faith in the integrity of Christ's person and work is essential. Anyone who does not believe in the absolute deity of Christ and his vicarious atonement is an unworthy communicant.

2. Church membership (I Cor. 11:18-22). The Lord's body is the church which is composed of regenerated men and women, united to Jesus Christ as head and to each other as members of that body by the Holy Spirit.

3. Orderly walk. The disorderly should be debarred from the Lord's table, examples of which are the following: (1) Immoral conduct (I Cor. 5:1-13). It is perilous to the individual who is guilty of immorality to approach the Lord's table (v. 30). Sickness and death are oftentimes visited upon such. This explains why some are mysteriously taken away in death. (2) Heresy (Titus 3:10; John 4:2, 3). (3) Schismatics (Rom. 16:17). Those who are causing divisions in the church should be debarred.

GRAIN GROWERS ORGANIZE CO-OPERATIVE THRASHING RINGS FOR EFFICIENT WORK

Teamwork Helps at Thrashing Time.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When a farmer plans to thrash from the field, engages a custom thrashing crew to do the work on a certain day and the outfit does not appear until three weeks after the specified time, is it any wonder that the countryman makes a few pointed remarks concerning custom thrashers in general and this one in particular?

Unreliability of custom thrashers, labor complications which often arise when two outfits reach a neighborhood the same day, the expense of custom thrashing, the careless and extravagant work of some hired machines, and similar factors have caused grain growers in the corn belt to organize co-operative thrashing rings for the purchase, maintenance and efficient operation of thrashing machinery.

Benefits of the thrashing ring are shown in an instance reported by the United States department of agriculture. One large thrashing ring which has been particularly successful and which has met all expenses and paid for itself in four years out of the money ordinarily paid by the members for custom thrashing is the Up-to-Date Thrashing company of Livingston county, Illinois, which is composed of ten members who own 15 farms. The partnership capital originally totaled $3,275, and the equipment included a 20-horsepower steam engine, a water tank, a separator, with a 34-inch cylinder, a corn sheller and a second-hand silage cutter, which has been replaced by a new one. The total thrashing force usually employed in this ring for field work consists of ten men with teams to haul bundles; five pitchers in the field; three men with teams to haul the thrashed grain; two men to help unload the grain at the barn; one man on the stack; one man to operate the stacker; one man to clean up about the machinery; one water boy; and three men with the thrashing outfit. This involves a force of 27 men. A ring of this size demands capable management to insure success.

On Smaller Scale.
A smaller thrashing ring, organized last year in Fayette county, Ohio, consists of three landowners, whose partnership capital consists of $1,000, which represents the cost of a small 22-inch separator, with a clover-seed attachment, the power being furnished by a 12-24 farm tractor. These farms aggregate 400 acres of small grain, a little outside thrashing for hire being done each year. Last year 2,800 bushels of oats, 9,000 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of clover seed were thrashed. The ordinary crew was made up of five men, with teams and wagons to haul bundles; two men with 125-bushel wagon beds to haul grain three miles; one man to manage the outfit, and a boy to help. Bundle wagons were used to replace two or three field pitchers, while the use of a gas engine also dispenses with the water boy. The engineer has time to help considerably about the separator. With this small force this outfit was able to thrash and deliver to the elevator, three miles distant, an average of approximately 750 bushels of wheat a day.

Smaller Units Favored.
During the last two or three years the number of thrashing outfits sold to farm organizations has greatly increased, and the tendency at present is toward the formation of smaller co-operative units and the purchase of small outfits. This comes from the necessity for more economical use of labor and the advent of the farm tractor, the power of which can be well utilized to run a small thrasher, which, complete with a wind stacker, self-feeder and weigher, costs about $1,200. Most of the farmers' clubs are small, so that all members may get their thrashing finished in about fifteen days. All thrashing is completed in reasonable time, so that the grain may be saved to best advantage.

Advantage of Rings.
There are two general methods of ring co-operation, the most common involving the hiring of a thrashing outfit, the other its purchase. Thrashing rings are beneficial inasmuch as the thrashing calendar in a neighborhood may be so arranged that the work can be carried out with the least possible loss of time in moving from farm to farm. As a job nears completion the first men through, knowing their assignments in the next place, may go there immediately and have the grain ready to thrash by the time the outfit arrives and is set up. No time is lost either in contracting for an outfit or in securing a thrashing crew. Certain men may be used to best advantage by assigning them to one kind of work for the season. Unless the weather man prevents thrashing continues until all the jobs are completed in the circle, and thus little extra work is required in shifting wagon boxes or hay loaders. Usually the thrashing season is greatly shortened and this favors the timely completion of the subsequent fall work, such as plowing, seeding, distributing manure, and so on. The thrashing ring reduces the work of the housewife, as there are less men to feed during the harvest season.

Practically all the thrashing rings perform some outside work as accommodation at the customary rates, or to enlarge the ring in order to secure all the necessary help.

When a ring buys all the machinery new—separator, power, clover huller, and possibly a grain sheller or a silage cutter—and builds a shed to house the implements, the total capital under prewar prices required usually amounts to $3,000 or $4,000. When it is possible for the company to hire a good engine or some other part of the equipment, it may not be advisable to buy.

Thrashing for the various members of the ring is performed on a business basis, an average day's work being regarded as 2,000 bushels of oats, or about 1,000 bushels of wheat or rye. Record is kept of the time put in by each laborer and the costs of the work are distributed among the members on the basis of the amount of grain thrashed. Farmers interested in the organization and promotion of thrashing rings may obtain copies of the publication describing them by writing to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

DEHORNING IS NOT PAINFUL

Shrinkage in Yield of Milk Following Operation is Very Temporary and Insignificant.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Inquiries are frequently received as to whether the operation of dehorning is very painful, and whether it may not be classed as cruelty to animals. Those who have an extensive experience in dehorning appear to agree that the pain induced by the operation has been greatly overestimated, as careful observation has shown that shrinkage in the yield of milk as well as of butterfat following the dehorning of cows is very temporary and insignificant. On the other hand, the worry, pain and cruelty often inflicted by cattle upon their mates before being deprived of their horns is much more to be considered, and not infrequently results in the death of a valuable animal. A neighbor on an adjoining farm to that owned by the writer a few years ago lost two good milch cows in one winter through their being disemboweled by the horns of barnyard mates while out for exercise. He dehorned his entire herd almost immediately afterward. The increased safety of the animals much more than compensates for any loss of beauty resulting from the removal of horns.

WOOL POOL IS REORGANIZED

Members of Idaho Farm Bureau Save $25,000 on Year's Clip—Will Try Experiment Again.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Members of the Gooding County (Idaho) Farm Bureau last year pooled 128,000 pounds of wool, which sold for an average of 60 cents a pound. They had been offered locally an average of 40 cents a pound, and by means of the wool pool they received $25,000 over the local price. Members have met again this year and reorganized for the pooling of the season's clip, and have agreed to deliver wool in good condition to the warehouse.

STUDY DEMANDS OF MARKET

Important Lesson for Poultry Raiser—Uniform Color of Eggs is Most Desirable.

His Fatal Error.

"Poor old fellow!" sympathetically said the landlord of the Petunia tavern, as a funeral procession trailed by. "He was our last lingering horse doctor. For years he went around hauling open horses' mouths and wagging his head as if he had discovered something absolutely unheard of in the annals of horse history. Probably he didn't really know much about horses, but he loved to associate with them. After he had outlived his usefulness and almost outlived horses he would go poking around among the autos and muttering. And day before yesterday, when he found one standing alone and unhitched, he went in front of it and tried to open its mouth, or something; anyhow, it gave a snort and ran over him, and fetched his checkered career to an end. Well, Doc was a pretty good sort of a feller, and he didn't owe me but $3 that I remember of."—Kansas City Star.

Beet and Cane Sugar Crops.

Beet and cane sugar combine to make nearly an average production of sugar in this country for the season beginning in 1918. A little over a million short tons, or 1,007,050, is the total of the two crops, according to estimates, subject to revision, made by the bureau of crop estimates. The average of the preceding five years is 1,031,003 tons, or somewhat greater than the production of 1918. The cane-sugar crop of 1918, however, is estimated to be 266,050 tons, or considerably above the average of the preceding five years, 248,496 tons, while the beet-sugar crop of 740,100 tons is below the five-year average of 758,106 tons.

SAVED BY FAITHFUL WIFE

Suffered Thirty Years With Stomach Trouble and Hemorrhages of the Bowels.

The Story of a Wonderful Recovery

There is hardly any one who does not experience some trouble with the stomach. It is so common that we frequently pay little or no attention to it. Yet, the stomach is very easily upset, and catarrhal inflammation of the mucous lining develops, grows worse—the pain and distress is incessant and the truth dawns that we have chronic stomach trouble.

The case of Mr. Louis Young, 205 Merrimac St., Rochester, N. Y., is typical. He writes: "I suffered for thirty years with chronic bowel trouble, stomach trouble and hemorrhages of the bowels. We bought a bottle of Peruna and I took it faithfully. I began to feel better. My wife persuaded me to continue and I did for some time as directed. Now I am a well man." Mr. Young's experience is not unusual.

If you suffer from catarrh in any form, whether of the head, stomach, bowels or any other part of the body, try Peruna. It may be just what you need. Peruna comes in either liquid or tablet form and is sold everywhere. Your dealer has it or will get it for you. Ask for Dr. Hartman's World-Famous Peruna Tonic and insist upon having it. If you want your health accept nothing else.

All the sick and suffering are invited to write The Peruna Company, Dept. 78, Columbus, Ohio, for Dr. Hartman's Health Book. The book is free and may help you. Ask your dealer for a Peruna Almanac.

Straw-Hat Season.

The exact date upon which a man may appear each year wearing a straw hat has ever been the subject of controversy and considerable personal daring. Generally in the Pacific coast states the early days of May bring out a few of the summery head pieces, but Alaska—popularly believed to be a frigid zone the year round—this year set the record. It is thought, in the wearing of the first straw hat. On April 20, considerably before straws appeared in Seattle, Road Commissioner Robert Sheldon started the straw brigade.

(From the Kansas City Star)
 The Democratic party of New Mexico is determined to put its state on the band wagon for ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, according to information received at the National Woman Suffrage association. To begin with two Democratic members of the state legislature Senator R. G. Bryant and Representative Coe Howard, telegraphed the state Democratic chairman, offering their services free for a special session. The chairman advised all the Democratic members of the New Mexico legislature that he was heartily in favor of following the suggestion of Bryant and Howard. It seems certain that the replies will be favorable. New Mexico was solid for the federal suffrage amendment in both houses of congress.

THE RANGE GRASS

All the cow and sheep men smile now. There is a peculiar happiness in the smile that has not been seen for two or three years. It is the green grass that makes it. So far as I am able to learn, there has never been in New Mexico a better year for grass than this year; and when old timers speak about the good old days of green grass, if pinned down to it and questioned carefully they admit they have never seen a better year than this one.

Unfortunately, New Mexico is short a great many cattle and a good many sheep, by reason of the long drouth and severe winter. This is both unfortunate and fortunate; because the shortage of cattle will permit a great deal of grass to go to seed, and with our usual July and August rains, the range ought to reseed itself. I saw, on the first day of June, grama grass in head; and I think I should not worry if the grass is not eaten down to the ground this year, because it needs a little rest and some little reseeded, and I am satisfied that it will have it this year.

In spite of the good grass and the splendid prospects for a good year, I hope that many ranchmen have taken advantage of this good rain to grow a lot of ensilage, as well, and put it away; and if next year you do not need it, just leave it corked up and wait until the next year. Just remember there will be a year coming when you will need it.

But to those who have not observed it heretofore, the green mountains and valleys teach one thing, and that is that New Mexico grass won't die. I saw grass a year ago—or rather, places where grass was; and you could find nothing that was green or that seemed to be green; and in the same places I have seen grass this year four to six inches high. Where before you could see nothing green, you can see nothing now but green. The cattle are shedding off and getting fat. New Mexico has the staying qualities.—A. D. Crile, President A. & M. College.

BRACE UP!

Do you feel old before your time? Is your back bent and stiff? Do you suffer urinary disorders? Don't despair—profit by Portales experiences. Portales people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's a Portales resident's statement:

Mrs. C. M. Dobbs, Box 8, says: "I was troubled a great deal with my kidneys about four years ago. I had headaches and dizzy nervous spells bothered me frequently. Every time I tried to bend over, sharp pains caught me in my back and I could hardly straighten up. I felt miserable when I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at the Portales Drug Store and used them. This medicine removed the complaint quickly and I soon felt like a different person. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills since as a kidney regulator and they have kept my kidneys in good condition."

Railway Superintendent Says Tanlac Helped Him To Hold His Job.

"I would give five dollars a bottle for Tanlac before I would be without it," said Joe Owens, division superintendent of the Memphis Street Railway, whose address is Box 131, Memphis, Tenn.

"I was getting in mighty bad shape with stomach trouble," he continued, "and was all broken down and tired out. I was so nervous and had such awful headaches that I could hardly sleep or rest; I could eat but little of anything for nothing agreed with me; I was simply down and out and don't believe I could have kept my job much longer if I hadn't got hold of Tanlac.

"Since starting on Tanlac I have gained five pounds. I eat and sleep just fine and it has strengthened me up and made me feel so much better every way that I can't say enough in its praise."

Tanlac is sold in Portales by Ed J. Neer. adv.

The Namur of Rotterdam—Ship of Mystery.

Synopsis—Geoffrey Carlyle, master of sailing ships at twenty-six, is sentenced to 20 years' servitude in the American colonies for participation in the Monmouth rebellion in England. Among the passengers on board the ship on which he is sent across are Roger Fairfax, wealthy Maryland planter; his niece, Dorothy Fairfax, and Lieutenant Sanchez, a Spaniard, who became acquainted with the Fairfaxes in London. Carlyle meets Dorothy, who informs him her uncle has bought his services. Sanchez shows himself an enemy of Carlyle.

CHAPTER IV—Continued.

In the intensity of my feelings I must have unconsciously spoken aloud, for a shaggy head suddenly popped out from the berth beneath where I lay, and Haley's interested voice asked solicitously:

"Iy, thar; what's up, mate? Ye was mutterin' 'way thar an' not disturbin' me none, till ye got ter talkin' bout sum feller called Sanchez. Then I sorter got a bit interested. I know'd that cuss onct," and he spat, as though to thus better express his feelings. "The d—d ornary pirate."

I laughed, my whole mental mood changed by this remark.

"Do you refer to 'Black Sanchez'?" I've heard of him; were you ever in his hands?"

"Was I!" he laughed grimly. "I had eight months of it, mate, and a greater demon never sailed. The things I saw done ye'd never believe no human bein' could do. If ever thar was two people in one skin, sir, it's that Black Sanchez. When he's playin' off fer good he's as soft an' sweet as a dandy in Piccadilly, an' when he's real he's like a devil in hell."

"Were you a prisoner—or did you sell under him?"

"Both, fer the matter o' that. He give me the choice ter serve or walk the plank. I was eighteen, an' hed an o' mother at Deal."

"I see; but later got away?"

"Ay, I did that," chuckling over the recollection. "But I hed ter wait eight months fer the luck."

"I had a shipmate once," I observed, interested in his story, "who claimed to have seen the fellow; he described him as being a very large man, with intensely black, hawklike eyes and a heavy black beard almost hiding his face."

"Maybe he looked like that when he saw him, but he ain't no bigger man than I am; he won't weigh as much by fifteen pound. Fact is he mighty seldom looks the same, fer thet's part o' his game. I've seen him in all sorts o' disguises. It's only his eyes he can't hide, an' thar's been times when I thought they was the ugliest eyes ever I saw. He's sure an ornary devil, an' when he gets mad, I'd rather be affront of a tiger. Besides fightin' his trade, an' no weaklin' ain't goin' ter control the sort o' chaps he's got ter handle. Most of 'em would murder him in a minute if they dared. Oh, he's bad all right, but yer wouldn't exactly think so, just ter look at him."

"What, then, does he really look like?"

"Oh, a sorter swashbucklin' Spanish don—the kind what likes ter dress up an' play the dandy. He's got a pink an' white complexion, the Castilian kind, yer know, an' wears a little mustache, waxed up at the ends. I heard he was about forty-five; I reckon he must be that, but he didn't look older than thirty."

Haley dropped off to sleep, but my mind continued to wander until it conjured up once again this West Indian pirate. His name and the story of his exploits had been familiar to me ever since I first went to sea. While only one among many operating in those haunted waters his resourcefulness, daring and cruelty had won him an infamous reputation, a name of horror. In those days, when the curse of piracy made the sea a terror, no ordinary man could ever have succeeded in attaining such supremacy in crime.

Black Sanchez—and Haley pictured him as a dandified, ordinary appearing individual, with white and red complexion, a small mustache and flashing dark eyes—a mere Spanish gallant, without special distinction. Why, that description, strangely enough, fitted almost exactly this fellow on board, this other Sanchez.

The suspicion which had crept into my mind was so absurd, so unspeakably silly and impossible that I laughed at myself and dismissed the crazy thought. Chuckling over it I finally fell asleep.

CHAPTER V.

The Namur of Rotterdam. The brig, with all sails set and favored by a strong wind, drove rapidly in toward the point of landing. The great majority of the prisoners remained on deck, chained together and helpless, yet surrounded by armed guards, while the few who had already been purchased by passengers humbly followed their new masters ashore the moment the gangplank touched the soil of Virginia. There were five of us altogether thus favored, but I was the only one owing allegiance to Roger Fairfax. The rude landing wharf along which we lay was already densely crowded. Altogether it was a bustling scene, full of change and color, the air noisy with shouting voices, the line of wharves filled, with a number of vessels, either newly arrived or preparing to depart. It was with no small difficulty we succeeded in forcing our way through this jostling throng until we attained to an open space ashore. I followed closely behind the three composing our party, Roger Fairfax and Sanchez, with the laughing girl between them for protection. Fairfax was evidently well known to a number present, for he was being greeted on all sides with hearty handshakes and words of welcome.

We boarded the Fairfax sloop. The baggage was transferred. I worked with the Fairfax servants and it cut my pride to the quick. Out in the bay I was sent to the wheel.

Not another sail appeared across that surface of waters, not even a fisherman's boat, the only other vessel visible along our course being a dim outline close in against that far-away headland toward which I had been instructed to steer. I stared at this object, at first believing it a wreck, but finally distinguishing the bare masts of a medium-sized bark, evidently riding at anchor only a few hundred yards off shore.

The Spaniard presently pointed out to Fairfax the position of the bark. "Surely a strange place in which to anchor, Lieutenant," said Fairfax. "Bark rigged and very heavily sparred. Seems to be all right. What do you make of the vessel?"

The Spaniard twisted his mustache but exhibited little interest, although his gaze was upon the craft. "Decidedly Dutch, I should say," he answered slowly. "The beggars seem quite at home there, with all their washing out. Not a usual anchorage?"

"No, nor a particularly safe one. Travers' place is beyond the bend."

"I Had Eight Months of It, Mate."

We'll put up with him tonight. D—n me, Sanchez, I believe I'll hall the fellow and find out what he is doing in there."

Sanchez nodded, carelessly striking flint and steel in an effort to relight a cheroot.

We came about slowly. The distance to be covered was not great, and in less than ten minutes we were drawing in toward the high stern of the anchored vessel.

No evidence of life appeared on board, although everything looked shipshape afloat, and a rather extensive wash flapped in the wind forward, bespeaking a generous crew. A moment later my eyes made out the name painted across the stern—Namur of Rotterdam.

Fairfax leaned far out across the rail as we swept in closer, but the Spaniard exhibited no particular interest in the proceedings. A hundred feet distant I held the dancing sloop to mere steerage-way, while Fairfax halted.

A red-faced man with a black beard thrust his head up above the after rail and answered, using English, yet with a faint accent which was not Dutch.

"We ran down to see if you were in any trouble. This is a strange place to anchor. What are you—Dutch?"

The fellow waved his hands in a gesture indicating disgust. "Dat's eet. Ye're ov Rotterdam—" you see ze name ov ze sheep. But ye not sail from thar dis time—no. Ye cum here from ze Barbadoes," he explained brokenly, "wiz came sugar an' hides. Ye wait here for our agent."

"But why anchor in a place like this? Why not go on up to the wharves?"

"Ye not? For ziz—I no trust my crew ashore. Zay Vest Indy niggers, an' vud run away, ven ze chance cum. I know vat zay do."

In spite of my efforts the two vessels were drifting rapidly apart. Dorothy appeared at the door of the cabin and stood there gazing in surprise at the bark, while the moment he caught sight of her Sanchez went hastily forward, removing his hat with so peculiar a flourish as he approached as to cause me to notice the gesture.

Fairfax waved his hand to me to resume our course. Shortly after he crossed the deck to the wheel. There he stood watching the bark for some time.

"What do you make of her, Carlyle?" he asked finally. "I believe that fellow lied."

"So do I, sir," I answered promptly. "Whatever else he may be, he's no peaceful Dutch trader. That fellow got his accent from south Europe. If he was loaded with cane sugar and hides for market he wouldn't be nearly so high out of water. That bark was in ballast or I miss my guess. Besides if he was a trader where was his crew? I tell you the men on board that hooker had orders to keep down."

"I believe you are right," he admitted frankly. "There is something wrong here. I'll tell Travers and have him send a runner overland to give warning below."

CHAPTER VI.

The Mysterious Sail.

Where I leaned alone against the rail my eyes followed the Spaniard in doubt and questioning, nor could I entirely banish from mind Haley's description of that buccaner bearing a similar name. Yet, in spite of my unconscious desire to connect these two together, I found it simply impossible to associate this rather soft-spoken, effeminate dandy with that bloody villain.

It was already quite dusk when we finally drew in beside Travers' wharf and made fast. Our approach had been noted and Travers himself—a white-haired, white-bearded man, yet still hearty and vigorous, attired in white duck—was on the end of the dock to greet us, together with numerous servants of every shade of color, who immediately busied themselves toting luggage up the steep path leading toward the house, standing conspicuously amid a grove of trees on the summit of the bank. The others followed, four fellows luging with difficulty an iron-bound chest, the two older men engaged in earnest conversation, thus leaving Sanchez apparently well satisfied with the opportunity alone to assist the girl.

Except to render the sloop completely secure for the night, there remained little work for us to perform on board. The four of us passed the early evening undisturbed smoking and talking together. So the time passed quickly, and it must have been nearly midnight before we brought out blankets from the forecastle and lay down in any spot we chose on deck.

It was a fair, calm night, but moonless, with but little wind stirring, and a slight haze in the air, obscuring the vision. The others must have fallen asleep immediately. At last, despairing of slumber, and perchance urged by some premonition of danger, I arose to my feet and moved silently aft.

My startled eyes caught a glimpse of a speck of white emerging from the black shadows—the spectral glimmer of a small sail. The strange craft swept past, so far out that those on board no doubt believed themselves beyond sight from the shore, heading apparently for a point of land, which I vaguely remembered as jutting out to the northward.

Alone in the darkness, Carlyle battles against tremendous odds. He gains the upper hand, victory seems assured, and then—but read about it for yourself in the next installment of this unusual story.

Bad for Discipline.
"I understand there's a tendency to drop 'Aye, aye, sir,' in the navy." "That would never do." "Of course not. It's one of the traditions of the service. If that sort of thing were encouraged it wouldn't be long before a 'job' would be saying 'Yep' to an admiral."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Use for Broken Glass.
There is a use even for broken glass. Some of it is ground into fine powderlike particles and used for various purposes. Some is melted and made into new glass objects.

Volcanic War Rifle.
A shotgun used in the battle of Banker Hill in 1776 and the battle of New Orleans in 1815 has been presented to the State Historical society at Columbia by F. J. Hainey of Bernard, Mo. It is an old model muzzle-loader 50 inches long with a 43-inch barrel. It has the same lock, stock and barrel used at Banker Hill, and though much worn can still shoot. On the stock is attached a tallow and patch box which was used to grease the balls when loaded in the gun.

Did you ever console yourself with the thought that some people look happy because ignorance is bliss?

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots
There's no longer the slightest need of flogging yourself to get rid of your freckles, so Othello-strength—is guaranteed to remove these lovable spots.
Simply get an ounce of Othello—double strength—from your druggist, and apply a touch of it eight and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished so quickly. It is evident that more than one ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and give a beautiful clear complexion.
Be sure to ask for the double strength Othello as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

Nothing—Something the rich man wants, the poor man has, the miser spends and the spendthrift saves.

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Many Motors Use Coal Gas.
Evidence laid before the English gas traction committee by manufacturers of flexible gas containers shows that about 4,500 commercial motor vehicles have been converted to the use of coal gas.

His Experience.
"Had any railroad experience?" "Sure," said he. "I've run a pump at a gasoline station."

Add Revised Songs.
For the Moonshiner—"Oft in Distilly Night."—Boston Transcript.

Hard to Learn Golf.
"How long have you played golf?" "About 15 years." "You must play it mighty well by now." "Not at all. But after I've played it 15 or 20 years more if I keep on improving at the same rate as I have been in the past, I expect to be able to shoot a fairly decent game."

One druggist doesn't make a summer, but his soda fountain enabled him to turn out a good many swab lows.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Hairien Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advanced years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Hairien Oil is included in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Hairien Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. At the first sign that your kidneys are not working properly, go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Hairien Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

Only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.
A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

Pigs Fooled the Butchers.
Three hundred pigs were on a San Francisco wharf on their way to death, waiting for a scow, when they turned upon their drivers, put them to rout and leaped as one ton of pork into the bay. Sailors of the merchant marine, out on a boat drill, pursued them in the manner of whale fishers, but the pigs could not be pulled aboard, and they, on the other hand, succeeded in pulling some of the sailors over the side. When last seen the pigs were still swimming out toward the sunset.

"BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice in regard to such ailments write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its forty years' experience is at your service.

You Do More Work.
You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.
GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel it strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.
GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.
The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today and you can get it from any drug store. 50c per bottle.

Trust Me! Try Dodson's Liver Tone! Calomel Harms Liver and Bowels

Read my guarantee! Liven your liver and bowels and get straightened up without taking sickening calomel. Don't lose a day's work!

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can't salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel, your money is waiting for you.—Adv.

Planes Hunt Swamps.

One of the novel uses to which the airplane now is being put is that of locating pestilential swamps and marshes.

The navy department reports that Ensign Van Court of Hampton Roads, recently made a successful trip along the North Carolina coast, in the vicinity of Morehead City, for the purpose of spying out territory which should be drained or purified.

Van Court's job particularly was to find the breeding place of mosquitos and as these are discovered, steps are taken by sanitation engineers for their elimination.

In physical training, a clenched fist should be the last motion.

Life is a sort of song—often distorted into a ragtime parody.

SPECIAL COOK BOOK OFFER

A Valuable 72-page Cook Book
Handsomely Illustrated in Colors
SEND FOR IT TODAY

It's not often that you get an opportunity to secure so valuable a Cook Book. It is not often we can make this offer. It is too expensive.

For convenience sake, use the slip found in 1-lb. cans of Calumet Baking Powder sold by your grocer for 30 cents. If you prefer buying the 10-cent size send three of the slips from the 10-cent cans. Only include in either case three 2-cent stamps to cover cost of wrapping, mailing and postage, and the book will be sent you at once.

This recipe book contains 276 home helps which every housewife should know, explaining how to make work in the home easier—how to reduce the cost of foods—and prepare them in a tasty way. Many of the recipes have never before been given to the Public. They have all been tried and tested. It gives useful household helps, hints and practical menus.

This Cook Book will help you with economy in the kitchen. In all recipes that call for Baking Powder because it possesses the farthest reaching baking powder economy.

CALUMET Is Recommended

You save when you buy it. The price is moderate—it leaves you money over the cost of high-priced brands for purchase of other articles. Costs but little more than cheap powders—far more valuable in quality.

You save when you use it. Possesses twice the ordinary raising force—you use only half as much as is ordinarily required.

You save materials it is used with. Calumet never fails with any kind of recipe or with any kind of flour—always produces perfectly raised, delicious bakings.

You'll notice a great difference when you use Calumet. Calumet produces light, sweet, wholesome, flaky bakings.

This Recipe Book and Calumet Baking Powder give you the means and help of great economy in the kitchen.

NEW VERSION OF SPORTS STYLES

Just what will happen next to sports clothes is a fascinating subject for speculation. The new weaves in silk have lent them originality. All sorts of materials, from leather to cricket flannel, with a company of sturdy woollens forming their main dependence, invite designers to become independent. Cleverness is at a premium, nothing is considered erratic and there are sports clothes and sports clothes; some of them for actual sports wear and some of them merely versions of sport styles.

For actual sports wear, coats and skirts of wool, or heavy cotton, are plain and cut on boyish lines. Skirts wide enough and patch pockets big enough are their sensible outstanding features. The sweater and sweater-coat, in greater variety than ever, reappear, entitled to more service stripes than any other garment. One of the new, short slip-on models occupies the center in the group of three sports costumes pictured here. This is a very popular model and is made in many gay and brilliant colors. At the left of the picture a very handsome suit reveals a plaited skirt of silk in which a plain satin stripe and a crepe stripe alternate, the satin stripe in white and the other in light green. The jacket, of white taffeta, has a quilted pattern on the collar and cuffs, and forming a border at the bottom, having the stitching done in green silk thread. Stitching covers the narrow belt and defines the pocket, proving a very original and beautiful embellishment.

Roshanara crepe makes the unusual dress at the right of the picture. It has a straight panel at the back but achieves the effect of a loose cut-away coat at the front, with flaring sleeves that are split up the back. Crepe georgette is used in facings that extend beyond the edges of the sleeves and coat drapery. It took audacity to add a sash of the same material as the dress, to this design, but it is here and vindicates its presence by finishing perfectly a smart and comfortable sports dress.

For Youthful Wearers

It takes considerable discrimination to choose suits for girls who are not quite grown up or for those who are grown, but still in their teens. It is not half so simple a matter as it seems, to express youth by varying the cut and finish of garments just enough to take them out of the young woman class and place them in the young girl company. Generally, in suits, this is accomplished by making coats vague as to fit and simple as to line and by following current fashions, as becomes youth, at a distance. The two suits presented in the picture are examples of good designing to meet the needs of the miss from fourteen to nineteen, and they are recommended for young women who affect youthful styles, providing their figures are girlish enough to suit these models.

Jersey cloth, serge, duxetyn or any of the standard suitings will make the smart suit shown at the left of the picture successfully, but the firmer weaves appear to be the best choice for misses' suits. This one is of beige colored serge trimmed with rows of narrow silk braid to match and insets of navy blue taffeta. The skirt is noticeably wider than those in vogue for older women and is gathered in at the waistline. Five short bands of braid in rows at each side simulate pockets. The coat in this suit hangs from the shoulders in lines that are straight at the front and a little flaring at the sides and back. In this particular suit a deep cape collar replaces the small turnover that is so youthful, worn with a tie of silk for the younger girls. But a smaller collar would not admit an inlay of taffeta such as finishes this one. The braid on the sleeves is put on in rows but not in straight lines and a curved inset of taffeta is placed above it. The sleeves are especially good.

Dark blue serge makes the chic suit with bloused coat, at the right of the picture. Narrow braid in two rows finishes the collar, the sleeves, and the skirt of the blouse. Silk cord and round buttons account for the fastening in the best way and form a finish for the close-fitting sleeves. The collar in this suit is the style best liked for girls.

Satin Floor Cushion. Big floor and divan cushions are covered with colored satin, in a tone to match the room furnishings, and are finished with double ruches of the fabric. Two colors are used, one on one side, the other on the other side of the cushion, and the double ruche shows both colors.

Royalty Fond of Sport.

Another member of the British royal family who has been taking a keen interest in sport is Prince Albert. He has lately been seen quite frequently at Walton Heath, where he plays golf with much keenness. In spite of his enthusiasm, however, he admits that so far he is—to use his own words—"a rotten player."

Princess Mary, whose love for hunting has called forth much admiration, fully deserves the title of "the open-air princess," which was once given her. Young as she is, she can hold her own in most sports. Her training includes every game and athletic accomplishment adjudged suitable for her. She can drive, ride, swim, cycle, lance, play golf and hockey, cook, sew and turn out the daintiest of butter-pats in the Sandringham model dairy for her father's early tea and loaf before his morning ride with her.—Indianapolis Star.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Backyard Pigs.

One town of 2,000 people in Georgia produced 35,000 pounds of pork from pigs raised in sport in Prince Albert. The production of this meat was stimulated largely by pig club work conducted by the state college of agriculture, in co-operation with the United States department of agriculture.

BAD BREATH Often Caused by Acid-Stomach

How can anyone with a sour, gassy stomach, who is constantly belching, has heartburn and suffers from indigestion have anything but a bad breath? All of these stomach disorders mean just one thing—Acid-Stomach.

EATONIC, the wonderful new stomach remedy in pleasant tasting tablet form that you eat like a bit of candy, brings quick relief from these stomach troubles. EATONIC sweetens the breath because it makes the stomach sweet, cool and comfortable. Try it for that nasty taste, congested throat and "deadly feeling" after too much smoking.

If neglected, Acid-Stomach may cause you a lot of serious trouble. It leads to nervousness, headaches, insomnia, melancholia, rheumatism, scabies, heart trouble, ulcers and cancer of the stomach. It makes millions of victims weak and miserable, listless, lacking in energy, all tired out. It often brings about chronic indigestion, premature old age, a shortening of one's days.

You need the help that EATONIC can give you if you are not feeling so strong and well as you should. You will be surprised to see how much better you will feel just as soon as you begin taking this wonderful stomach remedy. Get a big 50 cent box from your druggist today. He will return your money if you are not satisfied.

Wounded in the Hall of States

Wounded soldiers from New Mexico, lying in the big Army Debarcation Hospitals of New York are dependent for their first personal welcome and their first touch with home on the activities of women volunteers from New Mexico working in the Hall of States. While other states have made large appropriations—such as Kansas's $25,000 and Michigan's $50,000—for the welcoming of their men—New Mexico has not provided any fund, either officially or by subscription—and the women of the New Mexico Hospitality Committee are doing the best they can to care for the wounded men without being able to do the things that the better financed committees are able to do.

The work of caring for wounded men and affording hospitality to the well soldiers centers in the Hall of States, where Hospitality Committees from all the states gather. This large building is maintained by the War Camp Community Service as hospital headquarters. The Hall of States is continually in the service of the casual or unattached soldier. It is the only place in New York city from which the important work of comforting wounded soldiers can be carried on by state groups. The men arrive at the big Army hospitals. Under a system perfected by the War Camp Community Service their names are quickly divided according to states and the lists given out to the various hospitality committees. Letters of welcome are promptly written to these sufferers by the women of the committees. They are asked to come to the Hall of States or to write of their needs if they cannot come.

New Mexico's wounded who come to the hospitals respond gratefully to these letters. The New Mexico women call on these suffering lads, cheer them, give them fruit or flowers or write letters for them to the folks at home.

For those who have returned unharmed the Hall of States gives that same home-touch to the welcome. How the eyes of the home-comers do shine when they sight women from the old state!
