PORTALES, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1919

Volume XVII, Number 44

PERMANENT LOCATION OF THE NEW MEXICO BAPTIST ORPHANAGE

For four months this institution has been temporarily located at Portales. Shall it remain here? October 22-24, at Santa Fe, the New Mexico Baptist State Convention will hold its seventh annual session during which time the permanent location of the orphanage will be decided and much depends on the efforts of the citizens of our town and surrounding country as to whether it stays here or not. Never was a community more loyal to an enterprise than this one has been to the Home, but this loyalty must assume larger and more substantial proportions to hold it here, for Deming and Artesia, we know, are planning to carry to the Convention liberal donations of buildings and grounds for our use.

Many of us feel that Portales is the logical location because of its being quite centrally located in the most thickly settled part of the state, in a good farming section with land at reasonable price, fine soft water, good altitude, and hence good health, a town of good morals and fine people, good school, all necessary railroad facilities and hence more easy of access than many places in the state.

The Home's growth has been wonderful. May 1st, we opened with four children, now we have twenty-three with twelve others pleading for admission who must be denied because of lack of room and help.

If these needs could be met there is no doubt that by the Convention we would have fifty children. When permanently located it is reasonable to suppose that in two years there would be fully two hundred children. Such an institution would be a wonderful asset to the community—morally, spiritually and financially.

If possible to secure, we need thirty or forty acres already improved in walking distance of school and church. On this we should plan to erect a fire proof building or buildings adequate for present use with good yard fence and gates.

To arrange for this great work and hold the Home here there is to be an all day Orphan's Home Rally at the Baptist church the second Sunday in September. For this day an interesting program will be rendered and we urge the presence of all friends of this worthy cause, regardless of creed.

The program appears elsewhere in this paper.

DR. HOUGH BUYS HOME

The following article which was clipped from the Carthage, Mo., paper of August 23, will be of interest to the many friends here of Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Hough, who formerly made this their home:

Dr. L. R. Hough, of Eastland, Texas, a former resident of this county, has bought of C. J. Squires the latter's fine home at Morgan Heights, including 15 acres of ground, and will occupy it at once. The price paid was $15,000.

Dr. Hough is a dentist and has been residing at Portales, N. M., for 10 or 12 years. He became interested in some good oil property in Texas and moved there a year ago. He was born and reared in the northeast part of this county and is a nephew of G. W. Hough of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Hardy are the proud parents of a fine baby boy which made his appearance at their home Saturday morning, August 30th. Mr. Hardy says that he hasn't fully decided, but that his name will probably be Woodrow Hardy.

PORTALES SCHOOLS WILL OPEN MONDAY SEPTEMBER 8TH

The Portales Public Schools will open Monday, September 8th. While the Board this year has perhaps had the greatest difficulty securing and keeping teachers, any board at this place has ever had, it is expected that a full corps of teachers will be on hand at the opening of school.

Prof. Livingston, of Wisconsin, will be the new principal of the High school. Miss Myrtle Cary, Pampa, Texas, is the new English and Latin teacher, and Miss Lottie Lofton is the new Spanish and history teacher. She comes from Canyon, Texas. The new teachers for the grades are: Miss Ora Crawford, 7th grade; Mrs. E. C. Murrell, 6th grade; Miss Annie Conover, 3rd grade; Miss Cymbeline Warnica, 4th grade; The other teachers of both High school and grades are the same as last year.

The school board thinks they have secured a good corps of teachers and at any rate wish for no further resignations this year.

It is up to the people now to co-operate and help to make this a big year. A good deal of equipment will be added to the school and this will give our children a better advantage. Let's all work together—teachers, patrons, children and all. The school is the best thing in any community.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Ninety-six teachers have been enrolled at the Institute this week and a splendid attendance of patrons, besides the teachers, is at every meeting.

It is doubtful if there was ever an Institute held here where closer attention to the work has been given or abler speakers have been present. This week, to date, we have had Dr. Roberts, of Las Vegas; Dr. Hall, of Silver City; Prof. Mills, of Tennessee; Dr. McConnell, of Atlanta, Ga.; Supt. Wagner, of Santa Fe; Ex-Chief Justice Richard H. Hanna, Albuquerque.

Friday evening the meeting will be addressed by Dr. Guenther, of the West Texas State Normal, of Canyon, Texas, and Prof. J. S. of Portales.

Big audiences have been present at all evening meetings. The church was filled to its capacity to hear Dr. Lincoln McConnell, the noted Chautauqua lecturer, from Atlanta, Ga. His address was great.

Thursday evening the W. C. T. U. gave a banquet on the court house lawn to which the teachers were invited. Justice Hanna addressed the people on this occasion.

Judging by the interest manifested by both the people and the teachers at this institute, we could only believe that prospects for a splendid year for our schools is great.

Among those who attended the Portales Baptist Association held at Clovis last Thursday and Friday, were: M. B. Jones and family, Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Newman, Dr. S. B. Owens, S. B. Fletcher, W. R. McCallum, J. A. Tinsley, Mrs. Harvey Fry, Mrs. J. B. Priddy, Dr. and Mrs. N. F. Wollard, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crow, Rev. and Mrs. Slaughter, Mrs. Joiner and the children of the Baptist Orphanage.

W. B. Oldham, who for the past several years has served in the capacity of cashier of the First National Bank at this place has resigned and will devote his entire time to his loan business. He is at present located in the Lindsey building where he will be glad to meet his friends.

Mr. Egbert M. Stephens and Miss Alice M. Boggs were married Monday of this week at the court house. Judge J. P. Henderson performed the ceremony.

THE A B C OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

1. What is the League of Nations?
A. A union of the strongest civilized nations formed at the conclusion of the great war.

2. What is its object?
A. First, to promote the Peace of the World by agreeing not to resort to war. Second, to deal openly with each other, not by secret treaties. Third, to improve international law. Fourth, to co-operate in all matters of common concern.

3. Does it presume to end war?
A. No more than any government can end crime. It claims to reduce the liability of war.

4. What will be done to any nation that makes war?
A. It will be boycotted and otherwise penalized.

5. How else will the probability of war be lessened?
A. By voluntary, mutual and proportionate disarmament; by exchanging military information, by providing for arbitration, by protecting each nation's territorial integrity and by educating public opinion to see the folly of war.

6. What else does the League propose to do for mankind?
A. (1) Secure fair treatment for labor.
(2) suppress the White Slave Traffic, the sale of dangerous drugs, and the traffic in War Mentions.
(3) control and prevent Disease.
(4) promote the work of the Red Cross, and
(5) establish International Bureaus for other Causes that concern the human race.

7. Who are to be Charter Members of the League?
A. The United States of America, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, British Empire, Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Ecuador, France, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Serbia, Siam, Uruguay and the following states which are invited to accede to the covenant: Argentina, Republic, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Netherlands, Norway, Paraguay, Persia, Salvador, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

8. What other nations may join?
A. Any self-governing State which will agree to the rules of the League, provided the League accepts it.

9. What Agencies will the League have?
A. (1) An Assembly, composed of representatives of all the member Nations.
(2) a Council of Nine,
(3) a Secretary-General,
(4) a Mandatary Commission, to look after colonies, etc.,
(5) a Permanent Commission, for military questions,
(6) various International Bureaus; such as the Postal Union, etc.,
(7) Mandataries.

10. What is a Mandatary?
A. Some one nation designated by the League to attend to the welfare of "backward peoples residing in colonies of the Central Empires, or in territories taken from them." This is to be a "sacred trust," and in selecting a mandatary the wishes of the people of the area in question shall be the principal consideration.

11. Does the League mean a Super-nation?
A. No. It interferes in no way with any Nation's Sovereignty, except to limit its power to attack other nations.

12. Can any Nation withdraw when it wishes?
A. Yes. The League is Advisory and Co-operative, not coercive.

13. Does the League put Peace above Justice and National Honor?
A. No. It puts Reason before Violence.

14. Does not the League take away the Constitutional right of Congress to declare war?
A. No. The League can advise war; Congress alone can Declare war.

15. Does it destroy the Monroe Doctrine?
A. Exactly the contrary. For the first time in history the other nations recognize the Monroe Doctrine; and extend it to all the world.

16. Does it not interfere with Treaty Making Powers of the United States?
A. No. It is a Treaty. We can make any Treaty we please.

17. Would we have had the Great War if we had had the League?
A. No. That War cost the world over 7,000,000 lives and 200,000,000,000 dollars.

18. Of what importance is the League?
A. It is the greatest deed of mankind in the history of the world.

19. Has not anyone a right to object to the League?
A. Yes. This is a free country. Any one has a right to any opinion he chooses.

20. Why is the League so bitterly opposed to a few?
A. Because, unfortunately, any Treaty or League must be made by the President, and a President is chosen by a political party and many members of the opposite Party think they must decry whatever he does.

CULTIVATE THE HABIT OF SENDING IN NEWS

One of the things that ought to become a fixed habit in every household in the county, is that of sending the News all items of interest which you may know of, telling us of the neighborhood happenings and any local item which might be of interest to yourself, your neighbor or your friends.

Every lodge, church body or social organization should have some representative who will look promptly and carefully after its news reporting. If you think some organization has better news service than your own, it is probably because that organization looks after such matters better.

Write your items and send them in when possible. Or, if you haven't time, just phone us. Be early. Don't wait until publication day to send an item in which can be sent in before.

The News phone number is 83.

Dr. J. S. Pearce and family left Sunday morning for an overland trip through Texas and on into Louisiana, his old home. They expect to be away about thirty days. Miss Maude Wallace is running the drug store during their absence.

Miss Annie Conover, of Columbia, Ky., niece of Mrs. J. K. Robertson, arrived last week to attend the Institute. Miss Conover will teach in the Public schools here during this term.

OIL RIG FOR THE MESA OIL COMPANY IS BEING UNLOADED THIS WEEK

The drill and other machinery for the digging of the Mesa Oil and Gas Company's well on their holdings thirty miles west of Portales, arrived a day or so ago and they have had a force of men busy getting it unloaded. The outfit is all new from start to finish and looks to us as though it was competent to go all the way through to China.

They expect to get it hauled out within a day or so and work will be pushed as fast as possible toward completion.

BRIGGS-REAGAN

The following article which appeared in the Fort Sumner Leader last week will be of interest to many Portales readers because of the fact that Miss Reagan was practically raised here and has a host of friends here who wish for her, all the success which she deserves. The item follows:

Miss Edith Reagan and Mr. Leslie P. Briggs were married Sunday at 10:00 a. m., in Clovis, at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. E. W. Reagan. Rev. Redmond, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated.

The wedding was a quiet affair with only the bride's mother, Mrs. Lillian Reagan, the family of E. W. Reagan, and three close friends of the bride, Misses Ione Austin, Beta and Irma Belle Smith, and Mr. Petersen, county agricultural agent of Curry county, present.

The bride and groom left immediately for Colorado where they will spend a two weeks honeymoon after which they will return to Ft. Sumner.

As a valued teacher in the public schools of Fort Sumner, the bride has made many true friends in the two years she has resided here.

Mr. Briggs has been county agent of this county for almost two years, and enjoys a wide acquaintance in all parts of the county and is noted for his efficient grasp of agricultural and livestock matters, no less than his genial disposition and gentlemanly manners.

STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT TURNS GUNN ON SMALLPOX

The State Health Department, in cooperation with the school authorities, has inaugurated its campaign against smallpox in New Mexico by taking steps looking to the carrying out of the provisions of the law requiring vaccination of school children. The matter is being taken up with the county superintendents of schools, who, under the law, is required to see that children of school age are vaccinated, in each county in the state, and arrangements are being made for the instruction of the teachers in each school as to the requirements of the law, which they will be expected to rigidly enforce.

Section 28 of the new public health law, Chapter 85, Laws of New Mexico, 1919, reads as follows:

"Vaccination of Children. It shall be the duty of the school superintendent of each county to see that all children in his county of school age, are vaccinated against smallpox, and to that end each teacher of a public school shall see that the children under his control have been successfully vaccinated, and it shall be unlawful for any child to attend school or any teacher to allow such child within any school house, unless so vaccinated, or showing proper certificate that he has been so vaccinated. Such teacher shall make report of the number of children whom he has caused to be vaccinated and those who have presented proper certificates that they have been vaccinated, to the county school superintendent at the beginning of the school year, and as often thereafter as he may deem necessary, together with the report of the names of any parents who refuse to allow their children to be vaccinated, and any person who shall refuse or neglect to have his or her children vaccinated according to the law shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than ten dollars ($10.00) dollars, nor more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding one hundred (100) days."

In order that there may be no delay in the admission of children to the schools when they open early in September, it is advised that steps be taken toward the vaccination of children of school age, or the securing of the certificates required at the earliest possible date.

It is suggested by the county health officer that each community have a certain date set for the vaccination and have some suitable doctor come out and vaccinate the children. In this way it will save a number of trips for the doctor and also may save somebody a trip to town.

BIG STORAGE HOUSE FOR SWEET POTATOES

As mentioned in last week's paper, the directors and manager of the Portales Valley Sweet Potato Growers' Association are building a storage house 28x120 feet to hold 17,000 to 18,000 bu. of sweet potatoes. It will be necessary to provide other storage in addition to this house to take care of this year's crop.

At a meeting Tuesday night a price of 5c per pound gross weight was decided upon up to digging time and a price of 3c gross weight at digging time.

From present outlook and the number of inquiries received, there will be no difficulty in disposing of this year's crop in fine shape.

Every dealer that has ever handled Portales Valley potatoes, doesn't want any other variety.

W. L. Adams returned Monday to Abilene, Texas, after a few days' visit with relatives here.

RAIL STRIKE PARALYZES COAST

TRAFFIC DEMORIALIZED IN THE FRUIT BELT OF CALIFORNIA

STONE ORDERS MEN TO WORK

But So Far Orders Have Not Been Complied With—Worst Strike in History of West Coast

Los Angeles.—An order to all members of the brotherhood of railway trainmen who are on strike in Southern California to return to work was received from W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood, containing the warning that members who failed to obey the order would be suspended.

Mr. Lee's message pointed out that the strike had not been sanctioned by the international organization and that the members in engaging in a sympathetic strike "will only make a bad situation very much worse. Advances from the railroad administration are to the effect that the Pacific electric is operating under practically normal conditions with strike breakers and that the only roads embarrassed on the coast are government controlled lines, where our organization holds contracts."

Worst Strike in History of Coast

San Francisco.—Although both government and railroad officials were straining to prevent its spread, a strike of yard and switchmen and allied crafts is paralyzing steam rail transportation in southern and central California. The men who went on strike as individuals and without a formal reason, defied definite orders of their union officials to return. In southern California telegraphic instructions were received from Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, for the men of that craft to resume their posts. The men had the instructions under consideration.

Worst Strike in History

Railroad officials said it was the worst strike in the history of the state.

No trains moved in our out of Los Angeles. In the great Santa Clara Valley pear picking ceased and canneries were endeavoring to obtain one thousand motor trucks to bring in and clear their supply. In San Jose an order was issued that gasoline should be sold only for commercial purposes. Milk trains were stalled in many points and freight service over the whole affected area was at a standstill.

An embargo on all freight coming into the San Francisco Dairy district over the Southern and Western Pacific lines was put into effect.

Officials of the shopmen's union here announced that the men would not participate in the strike. In both San Francisco and Santa Barbara superintendents and other executives booked up trains. Fresno bankers predicted that half of the green fruit shippers would be ruined unless there was quick relief.

FLEET REVIEW SEPT. 1ST

Great Show Will Be Pulled Off at San Francisco

Washington.—The review of the newly-created Pacific fleet will be held at San Francisco September 1. Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt announced. This will preclude attendance of President Wilson at the review.

Secretary Daniels, governors of several western states, and the mayors of various Pacific coast cities, will make up the reviewing party.

At the White House, following Secretary Roosevelt's announcement, it was said that the change in the date of the fleet review would not change the president's plans for the western part of his trip.

White House officials said it was probable that the navy department's decision was predicated on the desire of persons on the Pacific coast to have the review held at an early date.

Reunion Planned by 90th Division

Dallas.—A reunion of all army men who composed the 90th division will be held here October 11, according to announcement made by the Nineteenth Division Association, with headquarters here. This association plans to have printed a complete history of the 90th division and keep on file at its headquarters a record of every man serving in the division, either in the states or overseas. The organization is purely a civilian one and formed to vision.

Reorganizing the Army

Washington.—Conditions of which the public has knowledge make it important that a thorough state of efficiency in the American army be reached with as little delay as possible. Secretary Baker declared in a letter to Chairman Kahn of the house military affairs committee, which went exclusively into the reasons why he has asked congress for authority to reduce a maximum of 18,000 commanding officers in the military establishment.

PREDICTS TREATY WILL PASS

HITCHCOCK OPTIMISTIC AFTER SEEING WILSON

Senate Tacks On a Few More Amendments—McCumber Lines Up With the Minority.

Washington.—Provision for American representation on a score of international commissions to carry out details of the peace settlement would be stricken out of the peace treaty under a sweeping amendment adopted by the senate foreign relations committee. Later in the senate itself, the committee's previous decision to amend the Shantung section raised a whirlwind of debate with Senator McCumber, North Dakota, bitterly attacking the committee's course and Senator Borah, Idaho, defending it. Both are republican members of the committee.

In its decision regarding American participation in the reconstruction commissions, the committee divided on party lines and the seven democratic votes all being recorded in the negative. Senator McCumber, who voted with the democrats against the Shantung amendment, was absent.

Ratification of the treaty some time during September, defeat of the proposed Shantung amendment with the aid of at least twelve republican votes and voting down of all amendments to the treaty that might cause it to be sent back for re-negotiation, was predicted by Senator Hitchcock after a conference with President Wilson.

"We are satisfied that the Shantung amendment will be very substantially beaten," said the senator. "There will be at least a dozen republican votes against it. Senator McCumber today put the nail in its coffin."

The Nebraska senator said he himself felt that the proposed trip of the president to the Pacific coast seemed more advisable now than heretofore. He said, however, that the president did not disclose his plans with regard to the tour.

In his speech in the senate, Senator McCumber declared the committee majority really intended the Shantung amendment to drive a "poisoned blade" into the treaty with the purpose of killing the league of nations. He asserted that the change which would give to China instead of to Japan the old German rights in Shantung province was actually a blow at China because it could accomplish no result but to drive Japan out of the league and leave her free to pursue a course of spoliation against Chinese territory.

Senate to Hold Hearing

Washington.—Extending the scope of its public inquiry regarding the peace treaty, the senate foreign relations committee, announced a schedule of hearings that promises to occupy most of its time for the next two weeks and to lead into the intricacies of political and territorial problems in several parts of the world.

The disputed questions to be touched upon in the eight-day schedule in connection with the disposition of Fiume, of the Aland Islands and of the German colonies in Africa and the claim of Ireland for independence. On the list of witnesses are representatives of the Italians, Jugo-Slavs, Hungarian-Americans, Greeks, Irish Lithuanians, Ukrainians, Estonians, Letts and American negroes.

Under the arrangement at the time to be devoted on work on amendments to the treaty this week will be reduced from three days to two, Thursday having been set aside to hear the negro delegation on the question of the African colonies.

Treaty Placed Before French

Paris.—The peace treaty with Germany and the other conventions simultaneously signed at Versailles, were presented for ratification to the chamber of deputies by Premier Clemenceau.

Treaty Ratified by Belgian Senate

Brussels.—The Belgian senate unanimously approved the peace treaty with Germany. The chamber of deputies ratified the treaty August 8th.

BRITAIN TO MANDATE ZION

News Told by Judge Brandeis at Farewell Dinner

London.—The British government is to assume the mandate for Palestine, Justice Brandeis announced at a farewell dinner given in his honor by British Zionists at the Ritz. Justice Brandeis has sailed for America. On his arrival in New York he will go directly to Chicago, where he is to lay the entire Palestine program before the Zionist convention on September 14, including his own plan for the rehabilitation of the Holy Land.

He expressed his enthusiastic belief in various practical steps to be taken to prepare Palestine for occupation by five million of the world's 14,000,000 Jews.

Postal Raise Favored

Washington.—A flat increase in salary of $150 for each postoffice employe for this fiscal year is proposed in a resolution favorably reported by the house postoffice committee.

Bank Robbers Take $50,000

Newton, Kans.—Forcing three officials and a stenographer of the First National bank of Newton to lie upon the floor, face downward, three masked men robbed the bank of $50,000 in currency and $20,000 in Liberty bonds.

U. S. TO OPEN RETAIL STORES

HOUSEHOLD COMMODITIES WILL BE SOLD OVER COUNTER.

MAIL ORDERS TO BE ACCEPTED

Branches to Be Established in 14 Zone Cities on September 25 to Dispose of Surplus Army Supplies.

Washington.—Retail stores for the sale of household commodities included in the surplus stocks of the war department will be established September 25. The stores will be located in depot centers and other large cities and they will accept and fill mail orders.

Continued purchase by the department of certain necessities so that these stores may be continued indefinitely as a part of the government campaign against the high cost of living, is understood to be under consideration.

Prices on all commodities offered for sale will be so fixed as to prevent discrimination between the purchasers who buy over the counter and those who purchase through the mail.

All mail orders will be delivered by parcel post, but the policy of making these sales through the postoffice department is to be discontinued. All such orders will go directly to the stores. To expedite the mail-order sales, the postoffice department has asked to establish sub-stations in each store. Catalogs quoting prices and giving the location of all stores are being prepared and will be available at every postoffice in the United States. The present plan is to open stores in the fourteen zone supply cities, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Atlanta, Jeffersonville, Indiana; Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Antonio, Omaha, El Paso, San Francisco, and Washington. The chain will be extended to additional cities as rapidly as possible.

THREE BANKS ARE ROBBED

And Four Bank Robbers Are Safely Locked Up in Jail

Oklahoma City.—A wave of bank robberies, apparently committed by at least two, and possibly three, separate gangs, broke out in Oklahoma last week. All three were pulled off in the middle of the afternoon, at Lindsay one day and at Bigheart and Meridian the next day. The work was similar in each case and rather amateurish.

G. H. Freund, C. H. Cyle and John Haskins, 23, 22 and 21 years old, respectively, are in the county jail at Guthrie, charged with the robbery of the bank at Meridian in which $2,532.30 was taken and J. M. Heath, bank president, H. S. McCroskey, bank cashier, and J. C. Miller, a visitor, were locked in the bank vault.

The men admitted that they made the robbery. Two of the men are residents of Crescent, Logan county, while the other lives six miles southeast of Guthrie. J. M. Heath, president of the bank which was robbed, has identified the men captured as those who committed the robbery.

Money Recovered

The money, $2,532.30, and the stolen bonds, was recovered and deposited in a bank at Perkins.

The capture of the three bandits is due to the fact that they drove a brightly colored Grant automobile, which could be easily recognized.

Lindsay Bank Robbed

Lindsay.—Three unmasked bandits held up and robbed the First National bank here in the middle of the afternoon, escaping with more than $700 when a stenographer gave the alarm. That the robbers did not get all the money in the bank at the time is due to the coolness of F. W. Bell, assistant cashier, and Miss Winifred Gardenhaire, who were in the building. The three bandits drove their car to the rear door of the bank, left one man in the car, stationed another at the door, while the third entered the bank with a gun in each hand. Bell, who was waiting on a customer at the window, made no sign when the command was given to "hand over" the money but proceeded to comply. In the meantime quietly giving the alarm to Miss Gardenhaire. She dashed out the rear door, running into the guard, who, taken by surprise, let her pass.

When citizens began coming into the bank after the alarm was given, the robbers, who seemed to be amateurs, picked up the cash in sight and speeded out of town.

One Caught at Bigheart

Bigheart.—Two bandits who held up the Bank of Bigheart at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, failed in their attempt to get the bank's cash, and one of the men was captured as he ran from the bank by Indian Agent Stephens, who had been chasing him from Ochelata for stealing an automobile, while the other jumped into the car of a Bigheart man, pointed a gun at his head and forced him to drive out of town. The robber captured was O. B. Credby, until two months ago a barber here, who claims Miami as his home.

WILSON COUNSELS CAUTION URGES A TRUCE IN WAGE-RAISING

Tells Railway Shopmen Effort Should Be Centered on Reducing Costs of Living.

Washington.—Postponement of the settlement of wage demands until normal economic conditions are restored was announced by President Wilson as the policy which the administration will pursue in dealing with such questions, particularly those affecting railroad workers.

The president announced also that it was neither wise nor feasible at this time, when the most important question before the country is a return to a normal price level, to attempt to increase freight rates to provide funds for higher wages.

"We ought to postpone questions of this sort until we have the opportunity for certain calculations as to the relations between wages and the cost of living," the president declared in a statement to the public explaining his decision as to wages. "It is the duty of every citizen to insist upon a truce in such contests until intelligent settlements can be made, and made by peace and effective common counsel. I appeal to my fellow citizens of every employment to cooperate in insisting upon and maintaining such a truce."

Mr. Wilson's statement was issued in connection with the decision of himself and Director General Hines on demands by railroad shopmen for a 25 per cent advance in wages, but the general policy pronounced covers also the wage demands of other hundreds of thousands of railroad workers which are pending before the director general or about to be presented. It is to be expected that other unions trying to obtain more pay will be asked as the shopmen, to play their part with other citizens in reducing the cost of living by foregoing a temporary advantage which would add to transportation costs.

The decision of the president and the director general was announced to a committee of one hundred, representing the shopmen. In reply to their demands for a 25 per cent increase, the shopmen were asked to accept an adjustment of their pay to the basis of ten hours pay for eight hours work, which they contended was given other employees and denied them when the Adamson law became effective. This means an advance of the basis pay from 68 cents to 72 cents an hour.

FOR UNIFIED RAIL SYSTEM

Lenroot's Bill Radical Departure From Plumb Idea

Washington.—Unification of the railroads of the country into one privately owned system with minimum earnings guaranteed, the management shared by the security holders, public and employes and with provision for sharing excess profits between the public and employes, is proposed in a bill introduced by Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin. The plan differs radically from the Plumb plan.

Under the proposed plan the railroads of the country would be placed under the private ownership and operation of one corporation, the management of which, however, would be under the supervision of the interstate commerce commission, but conducted directly by a board of eleven directors appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate, consisting of two employes, two representing the United States chamber of commerce, two farmers, three security holders and one each from the interstate commerce commission and the state railway commission.

LOST AVIATORS ARE FOUND

Mexican Troops Locate Waterhouse and Connelly.

El Centro, Cal.—Mexican cavalry under the command of Captain Trujillo were reported to be scouting to the international boundary. Lieutenants Frederick Waterhouse and C. B. Connelly, American aviators who have been missing from Rockwell field since last Wednesday.

Captain Trujillo reported by courier to Colonel Hipolito Baranca, chief of the military forces of lower California, who has directed a search for the men, that he had found them alive in Lower California, about 200 miles southeast of San Diego, Cal. The country where the men were found is mountainous and inaccessible. It is expected the men will be brought to Ensenoa, the capital of Lower California, or to Mexicalco, whence they will be taken to the United States.

Colonel Baranca dispatched a courier with a request for details to the cavalry band that found the officers.

COMING EVENTS

Arizona State Fair—Nov. 3 to 8, 1918.

Army recruits are arriving at Camp Jones at Douglas and other parts of the Arizona military district faster than men are being discharged.

William Ivie of Farmington, New Mex., shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide in their room at the Southern Hotel in Durango, Colo.

After being entombed for over five hours by a cave-in in the Clear shaft of the Copper Queen property at Bisbee, Ariz., Joe Ramona, a miner, was taken out by a rescuing party unscathed. Romano's was the only one-man car in the rucker slice where the cave-in occurred.

According to recent reports, the peach crop from four orchards in the Houdale, New Mexico, district will run over $7,500 this year. It is said that the tomato crop in this section has been nearly all killed by the blight, but all other crops are the best known in many years.

Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, Roswell, New Mex., now has one of the finest tourists' camping grounds in the state. Much hard work has made it one of the beauty spots of the town. The plumbing is all in so the campers may have running water at all times.

There is going to be plenty of pep, dash and thrills for the rough riding events at the state fair this year at Phoenix, Ariz., according to an outline of the program which Jack Barber, superintendent of cowboy sports, has submitted to the fair commission, and which has met with hearty approval.

A plan for financing the highway from Phoenix to Yuma, Arizona, considered one of the most important road projects with which the Salt River valley is concerned, has been announced by State Engineer Maddock. The proposed road would connect with the California system of paved roads and would place Phoenix exactly 386 miles from tidewater at San Diego.

The New Mexico State Normal is making preparations to again enter the field of athletics, during the coming year. Since the spring of 1916, when all of the school's athletes entered military service as members of Company H, New Mexico National Guard, and were sent to the border, little has been done to maintain regular schedules in any branch of athletic work.

No trace of the assassin of Harry Creme, a Jew sporting man who was shot at Phoenix, Ariz., has been found by the police, and they are apparently at a total loss for methods or means of tracing him. Creme was the proprietor of what is alleged to be a gambling club, and was shot and instantly killed when leaving about 3 a. m., the murderer making good his escape. Twenty-two Greek suspects rounded up were released after examination.

San Juan county, New Mexico, school districts have invested $10,000 in eight motor busses to be used in transporting children to and from their homes to school. This was made necessary through the consolidation of many of the smaller districts so they could have better instructors and longer terms of school. The question of the students being able to travel the long distances thus made was solved by the purchase of the trucks, which are of the latest and most approved patterns for school use. The trucks will be delivered in time to use when the fall terms of school open.

With the receipt of a check from the treasurer of Gila county amounting to $582,000, representing taxes, the state of Arizona is on "easy street," comparatively speaking, and a large number of registered warrants which have been drawing interests will be liquidated. The bulk of the Gila county money represents taxes of the Inspiration Copper company and the International Smelter Company held by the county treasurer pending the outcome of the tax suits brought by the tax commission.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Ray Grayson of Las Cruces, New Mex., while on a trip to El Paso a short time ago secured the handsome gold mounted revolver which was once owned by Francisco Villa. The weapon was first nickle plated and over this was a plating of gold. It was equipped with beautiful pearl handles and engraved on the butt of the pistol was the name Francisco Villa. The gun was taken from a house in Juarez which was once the headquarters of Villa when he was in possession of the border several years ago, and is said to be the identical gun with which Villa killed Thomas Benton six years ago.

The Verda Hotel of Hot Springs, N. M., has been sold to W. H. Harris, of Magdalena, according to recent reports. The Vera hotel was built three years ago and was the first hotel in Hot Springs to fill the much needed requirements of this well known health resort.

The war garden canning kitchens have opened at the Inspiration war gardens in Miami. The canning kitchen is maintained by the big mining companies of this district and is free to any resident of Globe or Miami or surrounding territory.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 7

PARABLES OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 13:31-35, 44-50.

GOLDEN TEXT—Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness.—Matt. 6:33.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Obeying our king. JUNIOR TOPIC—A message of the king. INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The growth of the kingdom. SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The extent of the kingdom.

1. The Parable of the Mustard Seed (v. 31, 32). Three things mainly occupy our attention in this parable:

1. Its unimportant beginning. It begins as the least of all seeds and grows to be the greatest among herbs. The king was of ordinary parentage and humble circumstances. He selected unlettered fishermen as his royal advisers. The prophet had said concerning him that he would be "despised," "rejected," "forsaken," "cut off" and as "having nothing."

2. Its vigorous growth. From these small beginnings Christ's influence has gone forth so that there is no power or influence equal in greatness to that of Christendom.

3. Its lodging capacity. The birds which find lodgment in the tree do not represent the children of men who find safety and salvation in the church. The birds constitute no part of the tree, while the believer becomes a part of the tree, adding to its strength and fruitfulness. The birds are something foreign to the tree, and are burdensome and injurious to it. They come to find shelter and wait to pluck off the tender buds, or to prey upon the ripened fruit. The effect of their lodging in the tree is evil and blighting. In Christ's interpretation (v. 19) he said that the fowls represent the wicked ones. He who would make the lodgers here anything else makes Christ's interpretation a farce. The same Greek word is used in both cases, and the circumstances are the same.

11. The Parable of the Leavened Meal (v. 33).

Three things mainly occupy our attention here: the meal, the woman, and the leaven. 1. The meal. Meal has a wholesome and nutritious effect. It was used in one of the sweet-savour offerings which was typical of Christ (Lev. 2:1-3 R. V.); it was food for the priests (Lev. 6:15-17 R. V.); Abraham had Sarah to knead a cake out of three measures of meal for the angelic messengers of the Lord (Gen. 18:6); Solomon's royal table was provided with meal (I Kings 4:2); Elijah was fed upon a cake made of meal (II Kings 4:41); Elisha used meal as an antidote for the poison of death from the pot (II Kings 4:38-41).

2. The woman. In scripture we find false doctrine being taught by woman (Rev. 2:20). Dealing with doctrine is forbidden to women (I Tim. 2:12). In I Tim. 4:18; II Tim. 2:17, 18; II Peter 2:1-3, we find that the apostasy will be brought in through false teaching within the ranks of God's people. The meaning, then, of the parable is that the true doctrine, the meal given for the nourishment of the children of the kingdom (II Peter 2:2, I Tim. 4:6), will be officially corrupted by false doctrine. Woman is a type of the church in some sense. The church is hiding away false doctrine, and its corrupting effects are seen on every hand.

3. The leaven. In scripture leaven is invariably a type of evil. (1) All through the Old Testament leaven is a continual and unvarying type of evil (Ex. 12:15; Lev. 2:11). It is inconceivable that Jesus should arbitrarily change, without due notice and explanation, a word from an evil to a good sense, which the Spirit of God had so unchangingly used for two thousand years. (2) Jesus himself makes leaven to denote sin (Matt. 16:6, 12; Mark 8:15). (3) Paul uses leaven in its usual biblical sense (I Cor. 5:6-8; Gal. 5:8, 9). Further, this is the only interpretation that will harmonize with Christ's interpretation of the first two parables. Facts patent to all prove that the professed church today is feeding upon the leaven of formalism and legalism, instead of the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth—the Word of God.

III. The Parable of the Mid Treasure (v. 44).

IV. The Parable of the Merchantman Seeking Pearls (v. 45, 46).

V. The Parable of the Drag Net (v. 47-50).

(For a detailed study of the last three parables see the Review for September 28.)

Consideration of the Morrow.

Calm and prudent consideration of the morrow, so far from being a sin, is one of the very first Christian duties, and is so taught by the Holy Ghost in the New Testament; where people are especially enjoined to labor, working with their hands the thing which is good, that they may have to give to him that needeth.—Kebble.

Healing and Health.

Divine healing is for the sinner. Divine health is for the saint. One heals and the other keeps the healed well.

Those proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on September 16th by the voters of the state, should be carefully considered. Two of them, according to our opinion, would be of far reaching effect. The one providing a centralized board of control of all state educational and all institutions, and the other giving the legislature power to issue $2,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness or bonds for road building. To defeat these amendments the voters must go to the polls and vote against them. Failure to vote will not defeat them, so, do your duty.

We Vouch for Them

Of all the tires that are made, why do you suppose we prefer to sell United States tires?

Because they are made by the biggest rubber company in the world. And they know how to build good tires.

They have choice of materials—they have immense facilities,—they employ many exclusive methods.

They can go to greater lengths in testing, improving and perfecting the things that make good tires.

We find it good business to sell United States Tires.

And—you will find it good business to buy them. They are here—a tire for every need.

United States Tires are Good Tires

CAUSEY ITEMS

The people of Causey are busy cutting feed and pulling beans, of which there is a beautiful crop. The chinch bugs (or whatever you call the little pests) are doing a great deal of damage—injuring the kafir the worst—but there will be plenty left I suppose when they get through, or at least we think so.

There was a singing at Rev. Wagner's last Sunday night and a good crowd was present. The singing will be at George Jones' next Sunday night.

There will be preaching at Causey every second Sunday evening at 3 o'clock by Brother Marshall.

Mrs. D. Z. Little returned from a visit at Clovis and Portales.

Mr. Lewis Little has got back from Pampa, Texas, where he has been at work in the harvest field.

Mrs. D. B. Robinson and daughter, Mrs. Elliott, visited Uncle Polk Williams and wife at Inez last Thursday.

Clint Judah has returned from Clovis where he was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Judah.

Miss Lorena Little is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jim Price, at Lakin, Kansas, at this writing.

Mr. J. H. Johnson, who has been at Portales being treated for rheumatism by Dr. Bromley is reported better.

The farmers have begun to jerk broom corn, which is pretty good in this community.

Miss Olva Nell Bromley, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Walter Scott, returned to her home at Portales Tuesday.

D. B. Judah has a nice cotton patch which looks good to us. This has been a good year for cotton. Now if a sandstorm don't come and the "tumble weeds" don't come rolling through and pick all of Mr. Judah's cotton for him, he may make some money.

G. W. Jones has returned from Burkburnett, where he has been working in the oil fields.

J. T. Ralston and little son, Kermit, made a flying trip to Emzy Thursday.

Raymond Jones will teach the Willow Mills school this year. Mrs. Scott's aunt, Mrs. Fitzgerald is visiting her this week.

Mr. Fuller happened to a very painful accident Friday. He was cutting feed with a knife sled and the mule got scared and run away and got Mr. Fuller's foot under the knife and cut it pretty bad. Mr. Johnson took him to Portales for medical treatment.

Mrs. J. V. Bieler, who is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Blakey, is visiting in Clovis this week.

DON'T RISK NEGLECT

Don't neglect a constant back-ache, sharp, darting pains or urinary disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills as have your friends and neighbors. A Portales case:

Mrs. Samuel H. Robertson says: "For one whole winter I suffered with my kidneys. It just seemed as though my back would never stop aching. My hands and feet became swollen and my kidneys acted irregularly. I felt miserable and was so bad off, I had to take to my bed where I remained for some time. Many times I had awful dizzy spells when speaks floated before my eyes, blurring my sight. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and several boxes of this medicine completely cured me. The cure has lasted for more than seven years."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Robertson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Helps Sick Women

Cardui, the woman's tonic, helped Mrs. William Eversole, of Hazel Paich, Ky. Read what she writes: "I had a general breaking-down of my health. I was in bed for weeks, unable to get up. I had such a weakness and dizziness, ... and the pains were very severe. A friend told me I had tried everything else, why not Cardui? ... I did, and soon saw it was helping me ... After 12 bottles, I am strong and well."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Do you feel weak, dizzy, worn-out? Is your lack of good health caused from any of the complaints so common to women? Then why not give Cardui a trial? It should surely do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women who suffered—it should help you back to health.

Ask some lady friend who has taken Cardui. She will tell you how it helped her. Try Cardui.

DOCTOR ADVISED HIM TO TAKE IT

A. F. Roberts, Successful Cattle Dealer Gains 16 Pounds in 60 Days Taking Tanlac.

"One of the best doctors in Colorado advised me to take Tanlac, and it has not only overcome my troubles but I have gained 16 pounds since I began taking it sixty days ago," says A. F. Roberts, who lives at Rocky Ford, Alberta, Canada, a few days ago. Mr. Roberts is one of the largest cattle dealers in his section of the country, and before moving to Canada a short time ago, he had spent most of his life in Colorado, U. S. A.

"I can now understand why Tanlac enjoys such wide popularity both in Canada and the United States," continued Mr. Roberts, "and since it has done me so much good, I know that it is a very dependable medicine and deserves all the praise that is being given it. For the past two years I have suffered from stomach trouble, and when I commenced taking this Tanlac, it was almost impossible for me to retain anything I ate. I was very nervous and never got a good night's sleep, and finally got so weak and run-down that I was hardly able to get about. I often had dizzy spells, and was bothered a great deal with constipation.

"My physician certainly knew what he was doing when he prescribed Tanlac for me, for it has done the work for me, as I am as healthy and strong now as I ever was in my life. In fact, it has done much more for me than I expected it would do. I have a fine appetite and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly, and I never have the slightest sign of stomach trouble of any kind. I am no longer bothered with constipation, and never have those dizzy spells any more. I have regained all my strength, too, and that nervousness has left me, and I sleep like a log every night. In fact, I am simply enjoying perfect health again, and I give Tanlac credit for it all."

WOLVES OF THE SEA

Fate Gives Carlyle Chance He Has Been Seeking.

Synopsis — Geoffrey Carlyle, master of sailing ships at twenty-six, is sentenced to 20 years' servitude in the American colonies for participation in the Monmouth rebellion in England. Among the passengers on board the ship on which he is sent across are Roger Fairfax, wealthy Maryland planter; his niece, Dorothy Fairfax, and Lieutenant Sanchez, a Spaniard, who became acquainted with the Fairfaxes in London. Carlyle meets Dorothy, who informs him her uncle has bought his services. Sanchez shows himself an enemy of Carlyle. The Fairfax party, now on its own sloop in the Chesapeake bay, encounters a mysterious bark, the Namur of Rotterdam. Carlyle discovers that Sanchez is "Black Sanchez," planning to steal the Fairfax gold and abduct Dorothy. He fights Sanchez and leaves him for dead. In a battle with Sanchez' followers, however, he is overpowered and thrown into the bay. In a desperate effort to save Dorothy, Carlyle decides to swim to the Namur. By a ruse he gets aboard and mingles with the crew. The pirates return to the Namur with Dorothy, the captured gold and Sanchez, badly wounded but still alive. Carlyle finds a friend in Watkins, an English sailor.

"If I had any to use; after a sailor has been drunk there is not apt to be much left in his pockets."

"The fact is," he began doubtfully, "what you just said to me on deck changed to be of interest. You are a navigator?"

"I was in command of ships for four years, senior; naturally I know navigation."

"I will soon learn if you have lied, and that will be a sorry day for you. I'll tell you, Gates, how matters stand aboard, and why I have need of your skill. Then you may take your choice—the forecabin or the cabin?"

"You invite me aft, senior?"

"I give you a chance to move your dunnage if you will do my work. Listen now. Sanchez has been badly hurt. It may be weeks before he leaves his cabin, if, indeed, he ever does. That leaves me in command with but one officer, the mulatto, LeVere. This might answer to take us safely to Porto Grande, as we could stand watch and watch, but Francois is no sailor. It was his part on board to train and lead the fighting men; he cannot navigate. Saint Christopher! I fear to leave him alone in charge of the deck while I snatch an hour's sleep."

"I see," I admitted. "And yourself, senior? You are a seaman?"

"Enough to get along, but not quite sure as to my figures. I have taken no sights except as we came north on this trip. 'Tis for this reason I need you—but you will play me no smart English trick, my man, or I'll have you by the heels at once. I know enough to verify your figures."

"I thought of no trick, Estada," I said coldly, now satisfied as to his purpose and confident of my own power. "You would have me as navigator, very well—at what terms?"

"With rating as first officer and your fair proportion of all spoils."

"You mean then to continue the course? To attack vessels on the high seas?"

"Why not?" meeringly. "Are you too white-livered for that sort of job? If so, then you are no man for me. It is a long voyage to Porto Grande, and no reason why we should hurry home; the welcome there will be better if we bring chests of gold aboard. Ay, and the thought will put hope into the hearts of the crew; they are restless now from long waiting."

"But Captain Sanchez? You have no surgeon, I am told. Will he not suffer from neglect of his wound?"

"Suffer? No more than under a leech ashore. All that can be done has been. His was a clean knife thrust, which has been washed, treated with lotion and bound up. No leech could do more."

"And my quarters—will they be aft?"

"You will have your choice of those at port. Come now—have you an answer ready?"

"I would be a fool not to have," he heartily. "I am your man, Estada."

CHAPTER XIV.

I warn Dorothy. The Portuguese, evidently well pleased at my prompt acceptance of his proposal, talked on for some time, explaining to me something of the situation aboard the Namur, and pointing out what he believed to be our position on the chart. I asked a few questions, although I paid but little attention to what he said, my mind being busied with searching out his real purpose. No doubt the situation was very nearly as he described it to be—LeVere was no navigator, and Estada himself only an indifferent one. Yet at that the course to the West Indies was not a long one, and if the Portuguese had been able to bring the bark from there to the Chesapeake, the return voyage should not terrify him. No, that was not the object; he was planning to keep at sea, to waylay and attack merchant ships, and then, after a successful cruise, arrive at Porto Grande laden with spoils and hailed as a great leader. His plan was to dispose of Sanchez—even to permit the Spaniard to die of his wounds; possibly even to hasten and assure that death by some secret resort to violence. No doubt LeVere was also concerned in the conspiracy and would profit by it, and possibly these two were likewise assured of the co-operation of the more reckless spirits among the crew. I remembered what Watkins had whispered to me forward—his suspicions of them both. He had been right; already the fuse was being laid, and, very fortunately, I happened to be chosen to help touch it off. The chance I had sought blindly was being plainly revealed.

It was evident enough, however, that Estada had no intention of trusting me immediately with his real motives. His confidence was limited, and his instructions related altogether to mere matters of ship routine. I could await developments. But I was becoming weary of the man.

"I understand perfectly, senior," I broke in at last impatiently. "You will have to take for granted that I can enforce sea discipline and navigate your boat to whatever part of the ocean you desire to sail. All I need is your orders. This, I take it, is all you require of me?"

"Yes; I plan, you execute."

"Very good; now about myself," and I arose to my feet, determined to close the interview. "You say I may choose any stateroom on the port side?"

"They are all unoccupied, except one, used by the steward as a stateroom."

I opened the door and stepped out into the main cabin, the roll of charts under my arm. Estada didn't wait for me to question him.

"Captain Sanchez' stateroom is aft," he said, with a wave of the hand. "There are two rooms. Jose is with him—a negro with a knack at nursing."

"Who else is quartered aft here?"

He ignored the one thing I most desired to learn, but I did not press it, believing I knew the answer already.

"LeVere has this middle stateroom, and Mendez the one forward. Mendez is third officer and carpenter. Just at present with LeVere required on deck he has charge of the men below. Not the working crew; they are quartered in the forecabin and are largely English and Swede. But we have to carry extra men, who bunk amidships—hellhounds to fight—mongrels of course. They are allowed on deck amidships when we are at sea, but are not encouraged to mingle with the sailors. We're over a powder magazine all the time, Gates—any spark might set it off."

I opened one of the doors opposite and glanced within. The interior differed but little from that of the stateroom occupied by Estada, except it was minus the table. No doubt they were all practically alike.

"This will do very well," I said quietly. "Now how about clothes? These I wear look rather rough for the new job."

"I'll send you the steward; he'll fix you out from the slop chest."

I was glad to see him go and closed the door on him with a sigh of relief. It had all occurred so quickly, almost without effort on my part, I could do little but wonder what strange occurrence would be next. What, indeed, was there for me to do except to await developments? Only one thing occurred to me—I must discover some means immediately of communicating with Dorothy Fairfax.

The importance of this could not be overestimated. With myself quartered aft and eating in the cabin we were bound to meet sooner or later, and the girl must previously be warned of my presence aboard, or in her first surprise at the recognition I should be instantly betrayed. If I was to serve the girl there must be, first of all, intelligent co-operation between us. She must not only know of my presence on the Namur but also the purpose actuating me. I had reached this conclusion when a light, hesitating knock sounded at the door.

Gunsales entered, garments over his arm, and laid out the pieces carefully one by one, evidently proud of his selection.

"The clothes seem to be all right, steward," I said, "and I judge will fit. Now hunt me up first of all something to shave with, then come tohacco and a pipe, and—yes, wait a second—writing materials. And, by the way, there are two staterooms astern. Who occupies the one to starboard—Senior Estada?"

"No, senior; it is the young lady."

"Oh, the one brought aboard last night. Have you seen her?"

"Si, senior; she is English and good to look at, but she sit and stare out the stern port. She will not speak of eat. I take in her breakfast, but she touch not a morsel. So I tell Senior Estada, and he say, 'then bring her out to dinner with me; I'll make the hussy eat if I have to choke it down her dainty throat.'"

"Good; I'll have a look at her myself then. Now hurry up those things, steward, and remember what I sent you after."

He brought the shaving set and writing materials first, explaining that he would have to go down into the lazaret and break open some packages for the tobacco and pipe. The moment the fellow disappeared I grasped the opportunity. I dashed off a note hurriedly—a brief line merely stating my presence on board, and begging her not to exhibit surprise at meeting me. I had no time in which to explain or make clear the situation. With this folded and concealed in my hand I silently pushed open the door.

I crept swiftly forward, following the circle of the staterooms, until I came to the closed door of the one I sought aft. I bent here an instant, listening for some sound from within, but heard none. Beyond doubt the girl was within and alone, and I must trust her quick intelligence to respond to my written message. I thrust it through the narrow opening above the sill, and the moment it disappeared within stole swiftly back to my own room. The action had not been seen, and yet I had scarcely a moment to spare. Before I could lather my face the steward returned, bearing in his hands tobacco and pipe.

Estada, however, remained away longer than I had anticipated he would, and I was fully dressed and comfortably smoking before he came down from the deck and crossed the cabin to my partially open door.

"The starboard watch has been called," he said, "and you are to take charge of the deck, relieving LeVere. I waited to explain the situation to the men before you appeared. I suppose you are ready?"

"Ay, ay, senior," knocking the ashes out of my pipe and rising. He eyed my clothes disapprovingly.

"Rather a fancy rig, Gates, for a first officer on duty."

"Some style, I admit, senior, but they were all the steward offered me."

"You'll have to carry a hard fist, my man, to back up that costume aboard the Namur," he said coldly. "Those black devils are apt to mistake you for a plaything." I followed him up the stairs to the deck. LeVere was still on duty, and came forward and shook hands at my appearance.

"Rather glad I didn't drown you," he said, intending to be pleasant. "But hope you'll not run amuck in the after cabin."

"I shall try not to unless I have cause," I answered, looking him square in the eyes and determining to make my position clear at once. "Senior Estada tells me I am to relieve you. What is the course?"

"Sou'west by half sou'."

"Do you know your position?"

"Only in a general way. We have held an east by south course since leaving the cape, until an hour ago, making about ten knots."

"Very well; I will figure it out as best I can. There is nothing further to report?"

"No, senior; all has been as it is now."

He glanced toward Estada, not greatly pleased, I presume, with my brusqueness, yet finding nothing in either words or manner from which to evoke a quarrel. The latter had overheard our conversation, but he stood now with back toward us looking out on the sea off the port quarter. His silent indifference caused LeVere to shrug his shoulders and disappear down the ladder on his way below. I turned my face to the man at the wheel—it was the giant negro, Cochose.

Peace or war? Dorothy is offered the choice by her brutal captors. Whoever she chooses, what hope is there for her amid the Wolves of the Sea? Carlyle, watching intently, longs for the chance to go to her aid.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Long Day and Night. The north pole has six months day and six months night, the sun apparently traveling in a circle around it from the time it appears in March until it disappears in September.

The hump of a camel is considered a great delicacy by the Arabs. It is white, like veal, but tastes like beef.

HAY STACKERS ARE INEXPENSIVE AND WILL SAVE MUCH FARM HANDPOWER

Unloading by Machines Releases Hand Power.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Thousands of farmers who faced the harvesting of a large hay crop last year with fewer hands than usual to help do the work owe their success in handling and saving their crop to hay stackers. The hay stacker is to stacking what the horse fork is to putting hay in the barn, a saver of man and labor. It lifts the hay on the stack by horse power instead of man power. When hay is loaded on the wagon by hand and unloaded by a stacker one-half of the hand labor is eliminated. If push rakes or hay loaders are used in connection with the stacker the laborious task of pitching by hand is entirely avoided.

Useful in East and South. In the East and South, where much of the hay grown is stored under cover, a stacker could be used to advantage when it becomes necessary to stack, especially where labor is scarce. A boy who can drive a team can take the place of a man in the haying operation. Two men and a boy using a loader and stacker will handle about 75 per cent more hay for each man during a day than a three-man crew loading and unloading by hand.

Hay stackers are classed in two general types, one having teeth on which the hay is gathered and brought to the stack on push racks; the other consisting of stackers that do not receive hay directly from push racks, but handle it by means of horse forks or slings. Both types are comparatively inexpensive and can usually be made at home with material that is available or which can be readily assembled on the farm without using special tools. A stacker will last from 10 to 12 years under ordinary conditions, and the cost of repair is small. On 27 farms in central Kansas, which stack an average of 144 tons of hay a year, all charges against the stackers amounted to less than 7 cents a ton when the yield was one ton an acre.

Small Stacks Not Economical. In building a haystack with a stacker it is scarcely economical to make one containing less than 10 tons, according to experience. In locating stacks long or difficult hauls should be avoided whenever possible. It is very common on many farms to see stacks of hay at the end or corner of the field next to the farm buildings, the site being chosen in order to have the hay handy for feeding. The total distance traveled in bringing hay to one side of a square field is approximately 50 per cent greater than in hauling to the center. If the stack is located at one corner of the field the distance traveled is 100 per cent greater.

To minimize damage by moisture from the ground, care should be taken to keep the hay in the bottom of the stack from coming into contact with the soil. The aim of all good stack builders is to make a stack that will not "take water." This can be accomplished by tramping the middle well and always keeping it higher than the edges during the process of building. To give the stack further protection, many farmers provide a canvas cover or sheets of corrugated galvanized iron roofing which, when properly put on, practically eliminates loss from rain.

DIFFERENT STORAGE HOUSES NOW IN USE

Insulated Structure Best Adapted to Southern Climates.

Aroostook Type With Concrete or Masonry Basement Walls and Wooden Superstructure is Product of Maine.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The insulated potato house is not used extensively, and as a rule is better adapted to southern than to northern climates. The construction feature of such a house is the thorough insulation of its walls, ceilings, doors, and windows. In northern locations such a house must be heated by a stove.

The Aroostook type of storage house, with concrete or masonry basement walls and wooden superstructure, is distinctively a product of Maine and confined largely to that state. It is expensive and is always located on a side hill or knoll in order that advantage may be taken of a ground level entrance. The basements are usually from 8 to 12 feet deep, and most of them have a capacity of several thousand barrels. Generally the only provision for ventilation is by trapdoors in the floor through which the filling of the bins is completed. Occasionally a ventilator is found in the roof.

These houses, although practical in Maine, will never supersede the dugout pit or storage cellar now used in the middle and far western states. Each of these types of storages has distinctive features which peculiarly adapt it to its own environment, but do not necessarily preclude use in other localities.

The artificially refrigerated potato storage house is confined practically to the storage of northern-grown seed potatoes held in cold storage for second-crop planting in the South. There is little demand for such a house in northern sections, but it is thought that community cold-storage plants of this type could be profitably used by the southern truck growers, as they could purchase their supplies of seed in the fall and have them delivered before the arrival of cold weather. The seed potatoes could be stored throughout the winter in the house and be available in excellent condition when desired the following season.

Tuberculosis in Poultry. Tuberculosis in poultry is much more prevalent than poultry breeders realize. It is responsible for a large share of the unexplained losses among chicks and adult stock.

Moist Mash for Chicks. A moist mash will whet the appetites of the youngsters and hasten growth. They relish a feed once a day of the moist mash, but it should not be fed slowly.

CHICKENS LIKE FISH HEADS

Satisfactory Protein-Containing Food for Poultry Flock is Simple and Inexpensive.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A simple and inexpensive substitute for meat scraps, which often are hard to obtain at the average butcher shop, is to utilize fish heads in the poultry ration. Arrangements usually can be made with local fish dealers to save these heads, particularly if the poultryman will furnish buckets in which the refuse may be kept until he calls for them. As they come from the dealer's shop, the fish heads are tough and covered with heavy scales and gristle. However, underneath is fine tender meat which the hens relish keenly. The poultryman can soften the coarse outer shell by boiling the fish head in water for five to ten minutes and then pouring off the water and throwing the fish heads in among the chickens. In many instances the dealers are glad to get rid of the fish heads, and on the basis of actual food value the poultry keeper can afford to pay 4 or 5 cents for a quart of fish heads which provide a satisfactory protein-containing food for his flock.

GENERAL FARM NOTES

The silo's the thing. The early threshed barley usually fares best in the market. All of the vegetables raised in the garden should be utilized for food. Soils that have no crop on them, or the harvest fields as soon as the grain is off, will be better for a good disking. Vegetables in the late summer garden must be kept growing without check in order to obtain satisfactory results. It takes care and attention to improve land so that the crops may be larger each year the seasons are favorable. Shoveling silage out of a silo is play compared with prying corn shocks out of frozen ground and snow banks. Do not forget to continue the fight on mites and lice. They must be fought all the time in all sections and in all seasons. Plowing up the old pasture for flax has one drawback that must be considered—it may make the feed problem harder to meet. Careful packing means much. It pays to arrange vegetables in the most tasteful manner. Here is an opportunity to increase profits.

Parchmented Leather Valuable. Parchmented leather has greater strength while lacking the elasticity of tanned leather, and the belting of M. Felice Gildardi of Turin is designed to combine these special qualities. The hide being impressed deeply with a trelliswork pattern, the compressed portions are unaffected by tanning agents, while the interior of the meshes is tanned in the usual way. The product has the required elasticity and is claimed to be so strong that belts may be much narrower than the ordinary.

Mr. Schleusner in Misery From Kidney Complaint. Doan's Gave Complete Relief.

"Heavy work brought on my kidney complaint," says Wm. Schleusner, 808 Suburban Ave., Wallston, Mo. "One morning when shoeing a horse I was taken with a sudden pain in my back and fell flat on the floor. If I had been hit with a trip hammer, I couldn't have suffered more. I stayed in the house for five weeks and the pain was wearing the life out of me. At times, I couldn't get a wink of sleep because of the misery and I had to get up every few moments to pass the secretions I had were highly colored, of foul odor, filled with sandy sediment and terribly scalding. My bladder felt as though it were a fire. The pain brought stupor and a feeling sensation in my head; the torture of it cannot be described. If I got onto my feet I couldn't walk but felt dizzy and all in a flutter and everything would turn black. My head ached so it seemed as though my eyes were being dragged out. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills and I was soon rid of all the trouble."

AN ADVOCATE OF DEMOCRACY
THE TABLES ARE TURNED

While the Democrats were in power, Republicans dinned the country's ears with criticism and denunciation. Every act and every omission was wrong. Nothing was right. The war was muddled; peace was delayed; reconstruction was impossible. The cure was a Republican Congress, with brilliant statesmen and economists like Senators Lodge and Penrose and Representatives Gillett and Mondell as its leaders.

Three months of Republican responsibility and control has not convinced the people that the change was for the better. Indeed there is not a problem which has not become more acute; not a popular demand that has not remained unfulfilled in this fourth of a year of Republican accountability for legislation.

At the worst, the Democratic Congress preceding the one now in session was charged with doing its work poorly. But it acted. The present Republican Congress has done next to nothing—and done it very badly. If the Democrats made mistakes it was because they made efforts. Against the Republicans is fairly chargeable the greatest and costliest of all mistakes—failure to try.

For the Yankee Robinson Big 3 Ring Wild Animal Circus is coming to Clovis on Tuesday, Wednesday 16th, and Lubbock, Wednesday, September 17th.

Two whole days of excitement that will mean two days in which the baby elephant will eat innumerable peanuts and the lions will roar as only full-grown healthy lions can roar. Of course there will be a parade and it will traverse the down-town streets at noon, on September 16th and 17th.

Afternoon performances are at 2 o'clock and night performances begin at 8:15 o'clock.

R. H. Adams, manager of the Cozy Theater, informs the News that he has contracted with the First National Distributors of Denver, for a series of up-to-date pictures which he will run on Tuesday night of each week, beginning next Tuesday night. All pictures are high class and Mr. Adams believes that he has secured something that will please the public. The series will include such pictures as "Daddy Long-Legs," "Tarzan of the Apes," etc.

Mammoth Cave Has Rival. Workers in a mine at Matehuala, near San Luis Potosi, Mexico, have discovered a cave which is said to be one of the largest in the republic.

It is more than 300 feet below the level of the mine and is 15 feet in width.

Its length has never been estimated, but exploring parties expect to survey it carefully in the near future. One of the most fantastic of its many grotesque adornments is a sulphurous fountain, which pours out continuously a stream of blue water.

It promises to rival in magnificence Kentucky's famous Mammoth cave, when fully explored.

AS YOUNG AS YOUR KIDNEYS

The secret of youth is ELIMINATION OF POISONS from your body. This done, you can live to be a hundred and enjoy the good things of life with as much "pep" as you did when in the springtime of youth. Keep your body in good condition, that's the secret.

Watch the kidneys. They filter and purify the blood, all of which blood passes through them once every three minutes. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you have nothing to fear. Drive the poisonous wastes and dead acids accumulations from your system. Take GOLD MEDAL Haaslem Oil Capsules and you will always be in good condition. You will feel strong and vigorous, with steady nerves and elastic muscles. GOLD MEDAL Haaslem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories at Haaslem, Holland.

They are a reliable remedy which has been used by the sturdy Dutch for over 300 years, and has helped them to develop into one of the strongest and healthiest races of the world. Get them from your druggist. Do not take a substitute. In sealed packages—three sizes.—Adv.

Outfitting the Boys for School

The average small boy apparently gives little thought as to wherewithal he shall be clothed—clothes being the least of his troubles. But if any fond mother has visions of decking him out in things that differ much from the clothes worn by his average, everyday school fellow, she might as well banish them first as last. Men and boys are less independent in the matter of clothes than women and girls are. This is because they come in for a lot of frank ridicule from their fellows the minute they do anything unusual in the way of dressing.

Here are two suits for school boys—the kind they like. They are made of good qualities of woolen goods with two pairs of knickerbockers to each suit and boast certain small finishing touches that will please their wearers, although they are so conspicuous that one's attention must be called to them. For instance the patch pockets on the coat for the larger boy have flaps that button down. This is an advantage that the rough-and-tumble youngster will go over since he will not lose his treasures, no matter what position the fortunes of war may place his anatomy in. Also a buckle, like that on the cloth belt, for some reason, has charms for the small boy, that are lasting. This suit is made of dark woolen goods, soft finish and with an indistinct pin stripe. With a stiff turndown collar and gay-plaid tie, the boy looks very trim and well set up in it.

For the smaller boy a plain wool goods is used to make straight, short pants and a moderately long coat. This is cut with pleats at each side, and the body is set onto a yoke. A belt of the material slips through slides of it, set on and fastened with two buttons at the front to make assurance doubly sure. He may put one fastening out of commission, but hardly two of them at the same time. The turn-down collar is finished off for him with a narrow tie with tasseled ends. He may consider this tie a little extreme in style and manage to dispense with the tassels.

Original Styles in Flapper Coats

Those who originate styles for the flapper are destined to come in for many thanks from that opinionated young person when she views the new winter coats designed for her. Since specialists give their time and thought to her needs styles for her frocks and coats and millinery are no longer afterthoughts of those whose business is to design apparel for grown-ups.

Of course when the girl from twelve to seventeen owns a frock or coat that takes its cue from styles worn by grown-ups her happiness is complete. Here is a coat which has the long shoulder and graceful drapery that rules in the new fall coats for women. It is made of velours and is less full than the coats whose style it follows. But the arrangement of drapery about the sleeves gives it an ample look and makes it roomy, and these things are the mode for winter coats. At the back this coat suggests a skirt set onto a bodice and this effect is emphasized by a row of covered buttons down the center of the body. It is odd and pretty and girlish.

A small sailor collar, with three plaits at each side, sets an example which the sleeves follow by adopting three plaits for their decoration. Covered buttons, like those on the back of the coat, finish up the sleeve trimming. The coat falls to the calf of the leg and hangs straight at the front. Altogether it is as pretty as any model so far brought out for the coming winter—and this is saying a great deal to its credit. It is a convincing example of the advantages that come from expert designing. Girls from twelve to sixteen need the sort of service that specialists can give them and are giving them, with more and more success, until we have ceased to call these years "the awkward age."

THE KITCHEN CABINET

He who hath never warr'd with misery, Nor ever tugg'd with danger and distress, Hath had n' occasion nor no field to try The strength and forces of his worthiness.

SUNDRIES

A new design for an old product is quite worth while, especially in food. Camouflaged Kidneys.—Skin and clean (cutting out the white) four or five lamb or pig's kidneys; cut into cubes and fry in oil or butter quickly; season with chopped parsley, salt and a silver of garlic. It will take about five minutes. Just before taking up add a tablespoonful of vinegar; let it boil up and serve on toast.

Rabbit Sauté.—Clean and cut up a rabbit; dredge with flour and sprinkle with salt. Put into a frying pan with two tablespoonfuls each of chopped onion and drippings; cook gently until brown. Cover with three cupfuls of stock, add a dozen small onions, a bit of bay leaf, blade of mace, six mushroom stems and a teaspoonful of tarragon vinegar. Cook one hour, or until tender. Remove the onions and rabbit and strain the stock. Cut half a pound of ham in strips and cook in a frying pan with the caps of the mushrooms. Add twelve ripe olives, the onion and rabbit and the strained sauce. Bring to the boiling point and season highly. Put the rabbit in the center of a platter, arrange mushrooms, olives, ham and onions in piles around the rabbit and pour the sauce over all.

Mock Roast Chicken.—Take one pound of the shin of veal, two ounces of salt pork, one tablespoonful of chopped onion; mix thoroughly with one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, pepper and one-half cupful of milk. Line a mold with two-thirds of the mixture. Put one cupful of bread crumbs and one cupful of milk in a saucepan and stir over the fire until thick. Add one teaspoonful of salt, a little pepper and one teaspoonful of poultry dressing, with two teaspoonfuls of chopped onions. Mix well and put in the center of the mold. Cover with the remaining veal mixture and strips of salt pork. Bake half an hour; invert the mold on a pan, surround with six potatoes cut in strips, and roast until the potatoes are tender, basting frequently with the gravy in the pan. Dried mushrooms may be soaked several hours in cold water, then used in sauces as the fresh. Cook until tender in the water in which they are soaked and save it for flavor for soups and sauces.

Faith, absolute, unconquerable faith, is one of the essential concomitants, therefore one of the great secrets of success. We must realize that one carries his success or failure with him, that it does not depend upon outside conditions.—Trine.

A SIMPLE DINNER.

The idea of a simple dinner is one that is reasonable in cost, appetizing enough to be attractive and not too much work to prepare.

Seasoned Cabbage With Meat.—Cut a medium-sized cabbage into halves and let it stand an hour in cold water to remove insects, if any. Into a saucepan put one sliced onion, a slice or two of bacon and cook together until the bacon and onion are fried. Add the cabbage, and water to cover, season with salt and cook until the cabbage is nearly tender. Add a few well-washed frankfurters and let them boil a few minutes. Serve the cabbage neatly arranged in halves with the sausages over the top.

Rice Cooked in Chicken Stock.—Cook rice until nearly tender in water then add enough chicken stock to season well and finish cooking. Serve as a vegetable.

Cottage Cheese and Peanut Salad.—Mix a half cupful of peanuts, which have been shelled and put through the meat chopper, using the coarse cutter, with a cupful of seasoned cottage cheese. Make into balls with a spoon and serve on lettuce.

Steamed Oat Bread.—Mix two cupfuls of rolled oats, ground; one cupful of corn flour, two and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder and two teaspoonfuls of salt. Add two cupfuls of milk, two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of melted shortening and one-fourth cupful of corn syrup. Steam in baking powder cans two hours or bake in greased muffin pans.

Rhubarb Pie.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of chopped rhubarb, one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of flour and a half teaspoonful of salt; mix with two tablespoonfuls of water and cook until thoroughly hot and the rhubarb nearly soft. Cool and add two egg yolks, turn into a pie tin lined with good pastry and bake in a hot oven at first then slowly until the filling is thick. Cover with a meringue, using the whites and two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Add a few quarters of marshmallows over the top and brown.

'Tis not in battles of youth we train The governor who must be wise and good, And temper with the sternness of the brain Thoughts motherly, and meek as womanhood. Wisdom doth live with children round her knees.

VARIOUS AND SUNDRY THINGS

The secret of successful sponge-cakes is in the beating of the eggs and the care not to lose the air incorporated when stirring in the flour. Then the "baking" given judgment never comes to some women in the course of their lives," says Kate Douglas Wiggin.

It is as unreasonable to suppose all women gifted in being good cooks as it would be to expect them to be musicians or artists. Because the majority of women are by necessity housekeepers, it does not follow that they are by that necessity doing the work for which they are especially qualified.

In these days of thin cream which refuses to whip, a solution called viscogen will be useful, which may be made at home and kept indefinitely if well stoppered. Take five ounces of sugar and dissolve in ten ounces of water. Add six ounces of cold water to two ounces of quicklime and let it gradually slake; then strain through a fine sieve, to remove unslaked particles. Combine the two liquids and shake occasionally for two hours. In three hours set the mixture aside to settle, then siphon or pour off the clear liquid. Store in small bottles tightly corked, as the liquid absorbs carbonic acid from the air, thus darkening the color and reducing the strength. Keep either in a dark bottle or wrap the bottle in dark paper. Use one-fourth of a teaspoonful of the viscogen to three-fourths of a cupful of cream, well chilled. Stir well, then beat with an egg-beater as usual.

Kitchen Bouquet.—The browning used for gravies and various sauces may be made at home. Put a cupful of sugar in an iron frying pan over the fire. Stir and shake until it turns a dark brown. Add a half-cupful of boiling water, a clove of garlic, one chopped onion, six whole cloves, a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of tabasco sauce and a saltspoonful of black pepper. Simmer twenty minutes, strain and bottle for use. Use a teaspoonful to flavor and color any meat sauce.

A part of what we might term the "optimist's philosophy" is: If you can't mend a situation mend it; if you can't mend it, forget it. Is it a good philosophy or is it foolishness?

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS.

If the dishes in which ice cream or frozen dishes are served are chilled in the refrigerator the problem of melting ices is practically solved.

Salads, too, should be served on cold plates to avoid wilting. Frozen dishes molded in melon molds should be served sliced in pie-shaped pieces, cutting from the center of the mold. Serve at once on cold plates. Cream is whipped enough when the egg beater leaves its print in the beaten cream. Longer beating will often cause bits of batter to form in the cream.

A sufficient quantity of white sauce may be made to last two or three days if kept covered in the ice chest. Flour that has been sifted several days should always be resifted when ready to use. If a cupful of flour is called for in a recipe do not dip the cup into the flour, but fill it lightly with a spoon. All recipes in the modern books call for level measurements of all ingredients.

Sweet milk may be soured instantly by adding two teaspoonfuls of vinegar to a cupful of milk. The usual recipe serves six people amply. By cutting down the ingredients to halves or thirds it suits the needs of a small family. If fortunate enough to have a large one double the amounts.

In making French dressing use half lemon juice and half vinegar or dilute the vinegar with water or fruit juice, using three times as much oil as acid. A convenient way of making the dressing is to put all the ingredients into a fruit jar and shake until it thickens and then it is ready to use at any time with a few preliminary shakes, and will keep indefinitely in a cool place.

In molding gelatin mixtures the chilling may be hastened by having at hand a dripping pan filled with cracked ice into which the molds may be set. A little salt sprinkled on the ice quickens the chilling.

Do not wash mushrooms but brush with a butter brush to clean them. Use the peelings cooked in a little water and drained as flavor for sauces. The flavor is in the liquor, so the peelings may be thrown away.

Cutting the H. C. of L.

President Wilson's recent investigation proved that food hoarders and profiteers are not entirely to blame for the present High Cost of Living.

It was found, for example, that inefficient delivery service to the consumer was indirectly responsible for the rising cost of all commodities.

Realizing this, thousands of concerns using motor car delivery, are reducing transportation expense and lowering the H. C. of L. by cutting tire bills in half.

A new, scientific principle of tire construction—invented by Chas. C. Gates, E. M.—which incorporates your worn casing within a new, puncture-proof, factory built tire, makes this unusual cost reducing, worry ending tire service possible.
