THE CLOSING PROGRAM AT FLOYD SCHOOL

Floyd school closed Friday, June 4th. A large program was planned for Friday night but, due to the rain, only part of it was rendered.

The declamatory contest of the grades was held, with Vera Mires winning. The declamatory contest between the high school boys was also held. The prize in this case was a gold medal given to the school by Prof. Long, proprietor of the Portales Drug Store. This medal was won by Clifton Morgan.

As the rain was so heavy in parts of the country the rest of the program was held over until Monday evening. Monday evening was beautiful, so a large crowd gathered to hear the rest of the program.

The declamatory contest was continued by the high school girls. There were three contestants. The prize, which is a gold medal, the same as the boys, was won by Stella Compton.

The diplomas, of which there should be seven, were to be presented, but, due to the fact that they have not yet come, that part of the program was postponed.

One of the most interesting features of the evening was the "Old Maids' Convention." Several boys have been heard to make the remark that they were as lonely a bunch as you ever saw. The famous professor, the owner of the beauty machine, played his part well.

Another interesting feature was "Vinegar's Vaudeville." The Jew, Jewess, and darkey were the leading characters in this play. They played their parts well, being ably supported by the rest of the troop.

Several pretty numbers were rendered which space will not permit us to give individual mention, among which were the rose drill, the little maidens of Japan, and the "Lates Thing in Hats."

The spirit of the boys and girls in rendering the program was such that the community can well accord to be proud of Mr. Shock, who, by the aid of his daughter and other high school girls, kept things lively by furnishing music. The program was rendered under adverse circumstances, Mr. Kelso being away and Mr. Woodburn sick, but the spirit of the boys and girls was such that, though they regretted the absence of Professors Kelso and Woodburn, they carried the work through in as good shape as a crowded house and stage would permit.

Everybody had a good time. An old gentleman was heard to say though the program was long he was delighted with it. So we close hoping for a nice and happy year next year.

The News is $1.50 per year.

JOE PAXTON FOUND DEAD

On Thursday afternoon of this week while returning to his home from town, Mr. R. E. McAlister of the Delphos community found the body of Joe Paxton, who lives about ten miles southwest of town lying in the door of his home dead. Mr. McAlister immediately notified some of the neighbors who came to town and notified the local authorities who went out and held an inquest over the body. The verdict arrived at was that he came to his death from natural causes and no signs of foul play were visible. Death was probably caused by heart failure. The remains were brought to town and Mr. Bob Kiker, a brother-in-law of the deceased, had the body taken to Clovis. Mr. Paxton seemed to be in very good health and his sudden death was quite a shock to his friends, however, those who were more intimately acquainted with him say that he had never fully recovered from an attack of the influenza some months ago. He leaves a sister who resides at Texico, and two or three brothers the whereabouts of whom we failed to learn. He was about 48 years of age.

BE THE SIXTH MAN

The Savage lives. He eats the same food his great-great-grandfather did and worries not at all over tomorrow, just like his ancestors. That's the reason he's a savage. He didn't look ahead. He lived in the present.

Do you live within your income. So does the savage. Do you save some of it? If you do—you are out of the savage class.

If you wait until you get a thousand dollars together before you begin to save—you won't begin. If the quarters burn a hole in your pockets—the dollars will slip through that hole.

Five men out of every six are destitute when they have reached their sixty-fifth milestone. The five are those who didn't save. Be the Sixth Man.

Put your quarters in Thrift Stamps. Invest what you can in War Savings Stamps. They mean first payment on a home, education for your children, insurance against adversity, an opportunity fund.

Obituary

Our little community, Doss, was sadly shocked by the sudden death of our friend and neighbor, J. C. Paxton, or better known as Joe Paxton. He was best appreciated by those who knew him best. He was an industrious and honest man in all of his dealings with friends or strangers and was esteemed a worthy citizen everywhere he has lived before coming to our midst. We are so grieved over the loss of him and extend our sympathy to his bereaved loved ones. You will miss him, so will we. He has gone to his reward, an experience we all must see and experience some time. We pray God's blessings may rest upon each of his loved ones and that they may find rest in Jesus when the trying hour of death comes to them as it did to our friend and neighbor, Joe Paxton. —A Friend.

Baptist Church

We had a fine day last Sunday. Large congregation for preaching services at both hours; one conversion at night.

Sunday School growing rapidly. Services next Sunday at eleven o'clock will be mostly memorial and it should be a great hour.

Preaching at 7:45 P. M. on this text: "How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?" J. F. NIX, Pastor.

When Balances Are Hard to Strike

FALSE ECONOMY AT EXPENSE OF FARMERS

Senator Harrison Charges Majority Is Unfair to Agriculture

Washington, D. C., June 8.—False economy at the expense of the agricultural interests and the food production of the country is charged against the majority party in Congress by Senator Harrison, who declares that while there have been vast appropriations for the army and navy, the agricultural appropriation bill has been cut more than seven million dollars.

While the government is urging increased production of food and moving against profiteering, Senator Harrison contends, the conference report on the agricultural budget shows an indiscriminate and harmful use of the pruning knife. Agriculture in all sections will suffer, he argues, and the consumer, as well as the farmer, will be penalized by such an "economy" program. Republican economy claims, Senator Harrison believes, will have their reaction when food production is crippled and prices go higher.

"The party in control," said Senator Harrison, "is simply trying to deceive by pretending economy in government appropriations. While reducing agricultural appropriations, you have increased the army bill $250,000,000 and the navy bill $450,000,000 over the appropriations carried for the army and navy during the pre-war period."

Senator Harrison said such economy is a "pretense, a sham, and a grave injustice to farmers who helped America win the war and must now be depended upon to produce more than ever if something approaching national famine is to be averted.

"If you believe in this sort of false economy, practiced upon this class of our citizens, will be rewarded in the coming elections, then you are misjudging the temper of the times and a great awakening is coming to you."

At a special session of the County commissioners held this week, J. M. McCormack was appointed to fill the office of sheriff for the unexpired term of A. L. Gregg, resigned. Mr. Gregg has accepted a position as special prohibition enforcement officer of New Mexico.

The recent rains have been very encouraging to the farmers of this county and crops are almost assured for the coming year. Some have been a little late with their planting but all are putting in a maximum acreage.

Dr. and Mrs. M. Byrne will leave next Tuesday for St. Louis, where they will visit with friends and relatives for a month. The doctor will also attend a meeting of dentists at that place.

Rough Reynolds and Zeph Sander made a business trip to Ralls, Texas, the first of the week, returning Wednesday.

The Faithful Cow

The farm cow that gives milk for human food stands first with a total value of $2,022,000,000, as compared with other classes of farm animals, according to the Bureau of Crop estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture. Not even the total value of all other cattle is equal to the value of the dairy cow. The average price of milk cows, per head, in this country, has increased from $58.25, since January 1, 1915, to $91.95, the average for 1919, or a gain of 58 per cent in five years.—The Earth.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Connally came over Sunday from Fort Sumner and spent a few days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Harris.

Chas. Lewis, of the Universal Garage, left Monday for Strawn, Texas, to attend to some business matters and to visit a few days.

Mrs. C. West, of Floydada, Texas, arrived Monday of this week and will visit a few days with her father, C. W. Ayres.

Mrs. Irene Ellerd and baby, of Plainview, Texas, are visiting in the home of her parents, Captain and Mrs. T. J. Molinari.

MARRIED LAST SATURDAY

Mr. J. R. Webb and Miss Ida Ora Johnston, both of Portales, were married at the home of the bride's parents near Floyd last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. J. H. Wagner performed the ceremony.

Both parties are well known in Portales, Mr. Webb having lived here for the past several years and formerly run the Travelers' Inn. The bride has been teaching in the public schools of this city for the past two years and is highly esteemed by all who know her.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS

The teachers' examinations will be on the following dates: June 11 and 12, June 25 and 26, July 9 and 10, July 23 and 24. Teachers interested should confer with me.

The date of the Institute will be the last week in August. Announcements will be mailed out later.

Very respectfully,
SAM J. STINNETT,
31-3tc County Superintendent.

TO SERVICE MEN

Regardless of how long a service man has been discharged or how long his insurance has lapsed or been cancelled, he may reinstate his war risk insurance at any time before July 1, 1920; or within eighteen months after his discharge, if that be at a later, and upon payment of only two monthly premiums on the amount of insurance he desires to reinstate, with a satisfactory statement of health.

Judge Cowart and family and Roy Hayes, all of Ada, Okla., were here the first of the week visiting with old Ada friends, and incidentally looking over the Portales Valley. They left Tuesday for Roswell to look over that part of the country. They are contemplating locating somewhere in this part.

Mr. Dewey Thomas and Miss Lola Little were married Thursday of last week at the residence of James Lee Wilson, Rev. Wilson officiating. The bride is of Causey and the groom of the Inez community and both have the congratulations of many friends.

J. M. Nash and family and Mr. Ralph McCorkle, all of Atlanta, Georgia, arrived in the city Monday and are looking over the Valley with a view of locating. While here they are the guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Turner.

The merchants of Portales are waging a battle on the High Cost of Living and from the reports are winning right along. Read their ads in this issue, it will mean a great saving to you if you but heed their call.

Carl Turner returned Monday from an extended visit in Atlanta, Georgia, and North Carolina points. He has been away for about three or four months in the interest of the oil business.

Miss Delia Vawter, of Kansas City, Kansas, arrived the first of the week and will spend several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. May.

"THREE DAUGHTERS" AT THE PARSONAGE

Mrs. C. B. Jones favored Rev. and Mrs. Vada Davis with the proverbial chickens and, thinking it would be sellish to eat them alone, invited three young ladies, whose united ages are 225 years, to dine with them Tuesday.

Ella Jones entertained with selections from the latest classic and popular music and some old time melodies. Bettie Culbertson gave us a beautiful description of the southern lady of yesterday, in that flow of language which is peculiarly her own. Julia McGee, by her flashes of wit and sweet smiles, added very much to the rare pleasures of the day.

ELIDA 7—PORTALES 8

Quite an interesting game of baseball was played on the local grounds last Sunday afternoon in which the Elida team and the Portales bunch were the contestants. It seemed that both teams got off on the wrong foot and looked like it was going to be a footrace, but they finally got down to playing and kept the on-lookers pretty well interested. The score stood 5 to 7 in favor of the Portales team until the first half of the ninth inning when Elida run in two scores and tied the game. Two more innings were played before either side made a score and Portales was the lucky ones.

A letter to homefolks from the young ladies from Portales who are attending the summer normal school at Las Vegas, state that they have gotten settled down and everything lovely with them. They are: Misses Ruby Braley, Pearl Bramlett, Eddie Lee Hall, Florence McAlister, Faye Reynold and Gladys Dennison.

Finis Henderson left Wednesday morning for Fairview, Okla., where he has a position. We don't know what kind it is but he says it means seven bucks per day and chow. Wonder if they could use another hand?

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thomas are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy who made his appearance at their home on Wednesday morning of this week.

Pull Together for an American Merchant Marine

The war resulted in the creation of a great merchant marine—10,000,000 tons of American ships which cost us $3,000,000,000.

Everybody agrees that we must keep this fleet on the sea.

If we fall back to pre-war conditions—when only 9 per cent of our foreign trade was carried in American ships—We shall be in the position of a department store whose goods are delivered in its competitor's wagons.

Congress is considering legislation which will perpetuate our war-built merchant marine.

Until this is done the ships we have should not be sold to face conditions which, prior to the war, resulted in the decline of our merchant marine to insignificance.

This Committee calls attention to these facts because a right solution of our shipping problem is vital to the future prosperity of shipbuilding, but equally vital to the safety and prosperity of the nation.

MILTON WILL BE AT THE COWBOYS' REUNION

Las Vegas, N. M., June 9.—The ancient Milton was a master at slinging words. The modern Milton is a master at slinging steers. Both have a graceful style.

The ancient Milton, these many years, twangs his lyre in paradise. The modern Milton will be in Las Vegas next month. He has no lyre—that is to say, no prose agent. He is Milt Hinkle, otherwise known as "the South American Kid." Hinkle is a champion bulldozer, steer rider, bronk rider, trick rider, roper and Roman rider. His best stunt, however, is the rube cowboy characterization, in which he utilizes all his talents. Hinkle has been engaged for the New Mexico Cowboys' Reunion at Las Vegas July 8, 9 and 10. His wife, Mildred Douglas Hinkle, the champion lady bucking horse rider of the world, will be here to give exhibitions and backseat riding.

This Is What Allen Says of Good Tanlac Did Him—Is Picture of Health Now

"I wouldn't take all the money in the world for the good Tanlac has done me," said J. B. Allen, a well-known employee of the C. B. & Q. Railroad, residing at 567 East Fourth St., Galesburg, Ill.

"I had suffered for six years," he continued, "and had gotten so weak I couldn't do my work regularly and was ready to give up when I began taking Tanlac. Nearly everything I ate disagreed with me and felt like a coal of fire in my stomach and gave me such terrible cramping pains that I could hardly stand them. I was so badly constipated that I had to take a laxative nearly every night and awful, feverish headaches would come on that would lay me up in bed for a day or more at a time. I lost so much weight and got so weak that I could hardly walk, and really I looked so bad that one day at the roundhouse I overheard one of the boys say: 'He's not long for this world.' Right then I decided to give up my work and try to find something that would help me."

never saw anything as wonderful as the way Tanlac has brought back my health."

The "Z" Lives a Long and Useful Life

"Z" Engine endurance is proverbial—it's a lifetime engine. That's because every part built to wear is easy to overhaul. Push rod rollers—valve stems and cones—connect parts throughout—are made instantly hard by heat treating. They will not wear—nor will they break.

The "Z" has an extra large crankshaft. Not one has ever broken. All "Z" bearings are die cast and removable. Every "Z" part so carefully made that it is absolutely interchangeable. Ample lubrication—positive—well-adjusted, comprehensive mechanical design—helps make the "Z" the lifetime farm engine. On the job—dependable—popular—strong.

Other "Z" features are: Runs on kerosene, coal oil, gas, as well as gasoline; built-in Beach high tension oscillating magnets; more than rated power; every part interchangeable; clean-cut, efficient design.

HAD CHRONIC BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS NOW WELL AND HAPPY THIS IS WORTH READING

The experience of Mr. E. J. Tompkins, 1488 Rose street, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, is chiefly remarkable on account of the length of time he was afflicted.

He writes: "I have been suffering with chronic bronchitis for twenty-six years and every winter I would catch cold and become so hoarse I could not speak for six or eight weeks. I could get only temporary relief.

"This winter I was taken with Grip and was in awful shape. A fellow workman advised me to take PE-RU-NA. By the time I had used three-fourths of a bottle, the hoarseness was gone, also that tired feeling. I am on my second bottle. Hereafter PE-RU-NA will be constantly in my house. It is the best medicine ever put up for the purpose."

For any disease due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions, PE-RU-NA is equally dependable. Coughs, colds, catarrh of the head, stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins, bloating, belching gas, indigestion, catarrh of the large and small intestines, are some of the troubles for which PE-RU-NA is especially recommended.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

BY REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

(Copyright, 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JUNE 13

A SHEPHERD BOY CHOSEN KING.

LESSON TEXT—1 Sam. 16:1-13.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward.

—1 Sam. 16:13.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Ps. 1.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of a Shepherd Boy.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Kingly Shepherd Boy.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Possibilities of Youth.

I. The Lord Rebuked Samuel for Excessive Grief (v. 1).

It was a bitter experience for Samuel to pronounce God's judgment upon Saul. The cause of Samuel's grief was threefold:

1. The wreck of a promising life. In all history, perhaps, a life with greater promise cannot be found, and yet it affords no example of a more wretched failure.

2. A personal loss. No doubt as the spiritual adviser of the king, Samuel found many things in him to admire. His removal, therefore, Samuel most keenly felt.

3. Anxiety for the national welfare. Samuel knew quite well that a change of dynasty oftentimes meant severe war and the reign of anarchy. This would very seriously weaken the already weak kingdom. His concern for the people's good was therefore a part of his grief. One can readily see why Samuel should mourn, but as a prophet of God he should not have indulged to excess. The Lord's question "How long will thou mourn for Saul?" has in it a rebuke for Samuel. Grief for others is a sacred thing, but whenever it is carried so far as to interfere with one's duty it becomes sinful.

II. Samuel Sent to Bethlehem to Anoint Saul's Successor (vv. 1-6).

Though Saul failed, God is able to provide a successor who is better than he. Samuel is directed to go to Bethlehem and from among the sons of Jesse choose a successor. Samuel again showed his weakness in expressing his fear lest Saul should kill him. If God sends a man on an errand what matters it though a thousand Saul's be waiting to kill him? Even though it means death, if God sends, who dare refuse or offer excuse? God instructed him to avoid publicity by the concealment of his real purpose. Some may question the diplomacy of Samuel, but we must remember that no one is under obligation to tell all that he knows, especially to parties who have no moral right to know. To withhold truth which is necessary morally to tell is duplicity which dare not be practiced. God allowed Samuel to hide his true errand under the cloak of a sacrifice in order to shelter his weakness. The whole matter was already decided; the moral acts were already committed; the issues were already faced. The exposure of Samuel to the murderous hatred of Saul would have only made matters worse.

III. The Method of God's Choice (vv. 6-12).

The elders of Bethlehem were somewhat alarmed when Samuel came. He, in the exercise of his judgeship, went from place to place, and at times he doubtless had to deal in severity with the people. He calmed their fears by assuring them that he came peaceably, even to worship God. While the preparation for the sacrifice was being made, Samuel seems to have had the interview with Jesse and his sons. When the eldest of Jesse's sons passed before him he decided that this stalwart young man must be God's choice, but God told him that man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. We should learn, like Samuel was obliged to do, that the qualifications in God's sight for workers are inward, not bodily. The one who does God's work must do it by leaning upon him, not through personal strength or endowments. To the utter surprise of Samuel and Jesse, David the shepherd boy, was chosen.

IV. Samuel Anoints David (v. 13).

When this stripling of a boy came before Samuel, the Lord indicated his choice. Samuel proceeded to anoint him. This anointing typified the endowment of the Holy Spirit, which is essential for any and all service for God. The preparation which David needed for the office of king was just what he got as a shepherd boy. God's choices are not arbitrary. As king, his responsibility was to defend, feed, and lead God's flock, and this he had learned to do as he attended his father's flock. This promotion of the shepherd boy should be an encouragement for boys of lowly station in life.

If You Want to Be Miserable.

"If you want to be miserable, you must think about yourself, about what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay you, and then to you nothing will be pure. You will spoil everything you touch. You will make sin and misery out of everything which God sends you. You will be as wretched as you choose."

The Good and Bad.

To the good the world is very good; to the bad it is bad.

CALOMEL LOSING OUT IN SOUTH

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Responsible for Change for the Better.

Every druggist in town has calomel a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it," Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much, but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, just ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.—Adv.

Not a New Discovery.

"It says here that an English scientist has discovered how to turn anything into gold."

Mr. Ade blew forth a smoke cloud thoughtfully.

"But, then," he added, "our proficients discovered that several years ago."

Nothing better than Cuticura Soap daily and Ointment now and then as needed to make the complexion clear, scalp clean and hands soft and white. Add to this the fascinating, fragrant Cuticura Talcum and you have the Cuticura Trio.—Adv.

Some Chance for Him.

When Jack Jolly, the golf ball manufacturer, was in town last fall a friend with whom he was playing said:

"Jack, do you think I'll ever learn to play this game?"

"How old are you?" asked Jack.

"Forty-two," was the reply.

"Well," retorted Jack, "I have a friend in Scotland who was 81 years old his last birthday and he says his game is still improving."

Think twice before you speak and you can frame an excuse so much better.

ALL WRONG WAS HER LIVER

Grandin, Mo.—Mrs. Susa Brooks, of this place, writes: "Some time ago I was in a bad fix, with stomach and liver trouble. I did not feel good at any time. I was very constipated, and had headaches from this condition, and had a continual hurting in my stomach, and bad taste in the mouth. Could tell my liver was all wrong.

"I had known of Black-Draught, so decided to try it myself. I began with a large dose or doses, gradually getting to smaller doses. It regulated my bowels, relieved me of the hurting in my stomach, cleaned off my liver and made me feel like a new person."

If you get up in the morning feeling as tired as you did when you went to bed—achy, coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, sallow complexion—then your liver has not done its full duty, and your system has absorbed the poisons which your liver should have taken away.

Get a package of Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine today. Druggist sells it, or can get it for you.—Adv.

According to William J. Linton of Ketchikan, Alaska, Ketchikan is one place where there is no need to worry about the high cost of living.

He says: "You could come to Ketchikan and build your own shack in the country near by, catch fish as quickly as you could cast your line in the rippling streams, shoot deer and other game enough to last you for months, make your own maple sugar, render your own lard, trade some extra fish for bread or flour, trade a little meat for furniture or make it yourself, and be comfortably happy."

Acid Stomach Makes the Body Sour

Nine Out of Ten People Suffer From It

It sends its harmful acids and gases all over the body, instead of health and strength. Day and night this ceaseless damage goes on. No matter how strong, its victim cannot long withstand the health-destroying effects of an acid stomach.

Good news for millions of sufferers. Chemists have found a sure remedy—one that takes the acid up and carries it out of the body; of course, when the cause is removed, the sufferer gets well.

Bloating, indigestion, sour, acid, gassy stomach miseries all removed. This is proven by over half a million ailing folks who have taken EATONIC with wonderful benefits. It can be obtained from any druggist, who will cheerfully refund its trifling cost if not entirely satisfactory. Everyone should enjoy its benefits. Frequent the first tablet gives relief.

VILLA'S SMALL BAND MUST GO

Temporary President Declares War to Death Against All Mexican Bandits; Huge Reward Offered.

Mexico City.—War to the death has been declared against Francisco Villa and his followers by the new Mexican government.

"We are going to clean up Mexico and take Villa dead or alive if it takes the last man in the Mexican army," said Gen. F. Elias Calles, acting minister of war, in an interview.

"Banditry must be eliminated in Mexico and the government is determined to see that it is eliminated. This is especially necessary in the isolated regions. The republic must be made safe for foreigners and outside capital. No stone will be left unturned to bring this about. We are opening a campaign of extermination against the outlaw Villa and his followers. An effort was made to negotiate with Villa and secure the surrender of himself and his men, but it has failed. Terms of settlement were offered but the Villistas rejected them."

Provisional President De La Huerta rose from a sick bed recently to review a military parade of 30,000 men. The picturesque and imposing pageant was led by Gen. Alvaro Obregon and his staff, accompanied by prominent Mexicans from all parts of the republic. General Obregon announced this was his last public appearance as a military man. He said he would return to civil life immediately to further his candidacy for the presidency of the republic.

The military procession was in motion from 10 o'clock in the morning until late in the afternoon. It consisted of trained federal soldiers, Yaqui Indians and former revolutionists from the ranch districts, wearing gigantic sombreros and riding half wild horses. A battalion of cadets from the national military school participated also.

Villa Sends Envoy.
While General Calles was on his way to Mexico City from Sonora, Villa sent an envoy to Chihuahua City to confer with him and establish the official status of the Villistas in the anti-Carranza revolution.

General Calles suggested that Villa and about 200 of his followers retire to the state of Coahuila and remain quiet until after the presidential election when the new government would make known its decision.

Villa refused to go to the state of Sonora and made the counter demand that he be put in supreme command of the rebel forces in the state of Chihuahua. General Calles rejected this proposal.

Three troop trains bearing more than 2,500 soldiers have left for Chihuahua during the last 36 hours to join the hunt for Villa. There is already a number of federal troops in the central part of that state seeking Villa and they are believed to be hot on the trail, but the wild and mountainous nature of the country and Villa's knowledge of the intricate mountain by-ways makes the hunt a difficult one. General Calles said the plan of the campaign is to form a "steel ring" about the central part of the state, where Villa is now in hiding and then close in gradually.

In order to stimulate the campaign and bring it to a quick close, all the federal soldiers have been notified that the government will pay a reward of 100,000 pesos for Villa dead or alive.

George Bellamy Dies in El Reno.
El Reno, Okla.—George W. Bellamy, who has held a prominent place in the political circles of the state since the opening, died in the Kerfoot hotel here at 3:20 a. m. this afternoon, here, from bronchial pneumonia at the age of 52 years.

British Flag Insult Being Investigated.
Washington.—The state department asked the District of Columbia commissioners for a statement of facts as to the burning of a British flag in front of the treasury by women sympathizers with Irish freedom.

Russian Reds Advance.
London.—Russian bolshevik forces are advancing on each end of the Polish front; but are being held along the Beresina river, according to an official statement issued at Moscow and received here by wireless.

Norway Refused Danzig Mandate.
Copenhagen.—The national Tidende says it learns that Norway refused to accept the mandate over Danzig when it was proffered by the supreme council and the mandate was then accepted by Poland. The British troops will leave Danzig August 8, according to the newspaper, and French on Sept. 1.

Postal Pay Bill Passed.
Washington.—The postal pay increase bill was passed by the house by the unanimous vote of the 342 members present.

LAUNCH MIGHTIEST WARSHIP SUPERDREADNAUGHT NOW AFLOAT

Entirely Manned by Men and Officers From the State After Which it Takes Its Name.

New York.—The superdreadnaught Tennessee, the largest and most formidable battleship afloat, is now in commission at the Brooklyn navy yard. Constructed at a cost of $20,000,000 she represents the last word in battleship architecture. She is 625 feet long, has a beam of 98 feet and a displacement of 32,500 tons. She is the next thing to a pleasure yacht in the comfort of her appointments for officers and men; she is the first battleship to recruit her entire personnel from the state from which it takes its name, and she represents advantages taken from lessons learned in the battle of Jutland and other important naval battles of the world war.

A special feature, which distinguishes the Tennessee from all other units of the United States navy is the highly organized "fighting brain," enclosed in a steel fort near the top of the forward mast. Here are contracted devices for observing enemy ships, a device not known in the battle of Jutland, enabling the crew to quickly ascertain the position of enemy craft. Special devices are installed in this turret, which enable the crew to train the fourteen-inch guns on the enemy before the crew of any other battleship known could even sight the Tennessee. This new device consists of three decks and their fighting complement is 25 men.

By special signaling devices, connected throughout the ship, reports from this fighting top can be flashed instantly to all parts of the ship, thus insuring instant correction of range and rapid fire. This "fighting brain" is filled with mechanical devices for range finding and other delicate instruments never before used on a battleship.

Another important feature in the construction of the Tennessee is her electrical control of speed, enabling her to quickly change from her capacity speed of 21 knots to an almost imperceptible motion. This is considered an important point from the standpoint of maneuvering.

REALTY LICENSE WANTED

National Association to Lift the Profession.

Kansas City, Mo.—To place the profession of the realtor on a plane affording the client the same protection that surrounds medicine and the law is the purpose of a special committee on real estate license, whose report was submitted to the convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, in thirteenth annual session.

To bring this condition about, the committee urged that the convention go on record as favoring the adoption by states of stringent license laws governing real estate operators and cities the license laws of California, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Oregon, from which it draws creditable features and combines them into what is submitted with the report as a model real estate license law. The features incorporated provide for the creation of a licensing commission in each state to license real estate brokers and salesmen and for revocation of licenses granted by the commission for malpractice or other unethical dealing.

WHITE SLAVERY CHARGED

Accused of Transporting Texas Girl to Oklahoma.

Oklahoma City.—Charged with transporting Miss Loma Brendle, pretty 18-year-old girl from Vanderbilt, Texas, to Oklahoma City, Fred A. Spears, was arrested in Oklahoma City. Spears made bond of $2,000 before United States Commissioner Ernest Chambers, and waived preliminary hearing. The Brendle girl is said to live in Robstown, Texas, but the indictment alleges the transporting took place between the city of Vanderbilt and this city. It is believed the Brendle girl came from Robstown to Vanderbilt and there met the 28-year-old Spears man.

Actors Are Poisoned by Coloring.
Concordia, Kan.—Ten amateur actors were poisoned by an overdose of fruit coloring in imitation punch used in a local school playlet here recently. Three young girls of the cast were taken to their homes in such a serious condition that physicians had to be summoned.

Legion Branch May Withdraw.
Columbia, S. D.—To consider withdrawal from the national organization because of the cash bonus agitation, the South Carolina department of the American Legion has advanced its annual convention date several months.

Railroad Executive Dies.
St. Louis, Mo.—John Scullin, president of the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad and chairman of the board of directors of the steel company here that bears his name, died after an illness of a week.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

Chicago.—The republican candidate for the presidency will be nominated on the seventh ballot, if the averaged opinions of 23 visiting politicians serve as an indication. Hiram Johnson's or Leonard Wood's.

Whose shoulders caught the mantle of Roosevelt? Lobby chatter gives it to Wood since Colonel Roosevelt, "son of the old man," arrived here and "sat" to have his picture taken with the general.

Republican women delegates have been invited to "Hoover House," presided over by James W. Morrison, a Hooverite.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS JUNE 5

NO EXTRA SESSION UNLESS NECESSARY

After Some Debate It Was Voted to Adjourn by a Vote of 44 to 22.

Washington.—President Wilson has assured senate democrats that if the present session is ended June 5 he will not call an extra session during the coming summer unless there is a grave emergency.

Announcement of the president's decision was made in the senate by Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democratic leader, who said he had been authorized to deny reports that an extra session was contemplated.

Sharp criticism greeted the adjournment resolution when it came up for debate. Senator Kenyon, republican, Iowa, moved to amend it so that the adjournment would be to August 30.

An effort by Senator Kenyon, republican, Iowa, to amend the resolution, so that congress would reconvene on July 12, failed.

Congress will end its present session June 5 under a resolution of adjournment adopted by the senate, after assurances had been received from the White House that President Wilson did not intend to call a special session during the summer, unless a grave emergency arose.

The vote on the resolution was 41 to 24. It came after two attempts to amend the measure so as to provide for a recess in the one case to July 12 and in the other to August 2 had failed.

Senator Kenyon, republican of Iowa, first offered an amendment to make the date of re-convening August 30, but at the request of Senator Jones, republican, Washington, he changed the date to July 12. The second attempt to amend was by Senator Trammell, democrat, Florida. Both amendments were voted down, 47 to 20.

The resolution already had been passed by the house.

TROOPS GO TO GALVESTON

Austin, Tex.—State troops will take charge of the lonshoremen's strike situation at Galveston. In a communication to Adjutant General W. D. Cope of Texas, Governor W. P. Hobby ordered 29 troops of dismounted cavalry and three machine gun companies of the Texas national guard to proceed immediately to Galveston. The troops are mobilizing at various Texas cities.

In the communication to Adjutant General Cope the governor directs to "proceed to Galveston, with a sufficient number of officers and men to fully look into the heretofore and now existing" situation. He adds that General Cope will be directed to take such action as will be necessary to enforce the laws of the state without partiality and "to keep open those arteries of trade which are essential to the prosperity and uninterrupted conduct of business in Texas."

Governor Hobby warned municipal and county officials at Galveston that he would "assume control" of congested freight conditions at the wharf if local authorities did not relieve the situation. Mayor H. O. Sappington of Galveston in reply telegraphed the governor that if the state intended to take a hand in the situation "to do it."

Many Still Captured.
Hot Springs, Ark.—In one of the most elaborate moonshine raids in the history of the state, posses headed by Major R. B. Keating of Little Rock, and eight local officers, captured five illicit stills and nine alkoxed moonshiners. The officers destroyed between 200 and 300 gallons of whisky and several times as much mash, in Marble township near here. The prisoners will be turned over to the United States marshal.

Apparition of Virgin Mary Appears.
Pittsburg.—Thousands of curious persons have passed through the home of Patrick Mangan here to view the apparition on the ceiling of the Virgin Mary holding a babe. Mangan's son, an overseas veteran, died in the house just a week after the vision appeared. When word of the phenomenon became noised around a big crowd surrounded the home. While police stood on guard thousands were allowed to pass quickly through the room.

CONDENSED CLASSICS

LES MISERABLES

By VICTOR HUGO

Condensation by Nathan Haskell Doak

Victor Marie Hugo was born at Besancon, France, on Feb. 26, 1802, so puny an infant that it was not believed he could live. He was the third son of a distinguished soldier under Napoleon.

He came from sturdy but not of noble stock, his ancestors on his father's side having been simple peasants. He was well educated in France and in Spain, where his father held high rank under Napoleon's brother. He was a precocious lad, writing long plays in verse and prose while hardly more than a child. Before his 21st year he had won several high prizes for his verse. But, thrown on his own resources by the death of his mother, he found it difficult to live by his pen. He moved into an attic, where he had his only experience of actual poverty. His writings, however, soon became popular and he was able to marry, at the age of 21, Adele Foucher, his playmate of childhood days. It was a happy marriage for 10 years. Then Hugo became infatuated with an actress to whom he was devoted for 15 years. From his youth until his death, on May 22, 1885, Hugo wrote rapidly—poems, plays and novels. No other man of his time had such an international reputation. Schubert has high rank in the garden of the convent of the Petit Plepus, where worked Pere Fauchelevent, whose life M. Madeleine has saved when he was mayor of M.—. The gardener, out of his gratitude, got him appointed his assistant by representing him to be his brother. Cosette was taken into the convent school. She grew up into a charming girl; beauty suddenly came to her like the blossoms to a cherry tree in April, and Jean Valjean, happy in loving her as his daughter, as his granddaughter, as the only woman he had ever loved, guarded her as a sacred treasure.

He had good reason to be wary, for the Thenadiers had come to Paris and joined a band of robbers; and Javert never forgot. He had several desperate encounters with them. On the one side outlaws; on the other undeviating law personified. He took part in the abortive revolution of 1830 and saved Javert's life, at last winning the admiration of that implacable and fatally honorable man.

But there was one danger from which he could not protect Cosette; the most beautiful thing in the world, which nevertheless seemed to him his worst enemy—love.

Baron Marius, the son of a man whom Thenadier had robbed at Waterloo and incidentally saved from a terrible death, had been turned out of his house by his royalist grandfather and was earning a poor livelihood by literature. He saw her and they met. Their love went through more than the usual vicissitudes. During the insurrection Jean Valjean carried the youth through the mazes of the Paris sewers and brought him desperately wounded to his grandfather's house. The old man relented and consented to the marriage. Jean Valjean gave Cosette a dowry of about 600,000 francs. In order to have a conscience perfectly clear he told his life story to Marius, who, not understanding the grandeur of the spirit that had never done anything but good, allowed him to go away with a broken heart. Thenadier, however, came to the baron to blackmail him and unconsciously revealed what a noble life Jean Valjean had led. Marius, taking Cosette, hastened to the old man's death-bed, and gave him one last taste from the cup of happiness. He died in their arms.

Victor Hugo calls "Les Miserables" "a drama in which the hero is the Infinite, the second character is Man." It is in reality a melodrama in which are mingled scenes of history, a host of characters from the highest to the lowest, improbabilities which strain one's credulity, a vast amount of rare and curious information on all sorts of subjects, dissertations on philosophy, science, politics, and religion. Its treatment of social injustice had a powerful influence on public opinion, not only in France but in many countries. It has been an epoch-making book. Copyright, 1919, by the Post Publishing Co. Soon a Lost Art.
Among the lost arts of the world, it is to be feared that Indian basket making must soon be included. And it is a very great pity, too. It is a wonderful art, and one that has been created at vast pains and sacrifices.

The younger generation of California and desert Indians are not learning to make baskets. Like the younger generation of the white race, they are not fond of hard work. And ever buys an Indian basket for a few dollars has seldom a realization of the work and the patience that has been expended upon it.

As a Favor.

Miss Blunt—Yes, you can take particular care not to miss the steamer.—Boston Transcript

Refused shelter or food at tavern or private house, he came to Monsiener Myriel, Bishop of D——, in the foothills of the Alps. He was treated like a prince, but in the night he stole some of the bishop's silver plate, was caught as he made off and was brought back to the good bishop, who, with a smile, assured the germinald that the articles were not stolen but given. Adding two silver candlesticks, the bishop said to him: "Take them and become an honest man. My brother, you no longer belong to evil, but to good. I have bought your soul of you, I give it to God."

As he fled, he yielded to one last temptation to do wrong; he took from a hurdy-gurdy boy a two-franc piece, but almost immediately, filled with remorse, he tried in vain to find the boy. Two years later a stranger, dressed like a workman arrived at the little city of M—— sur M——. Just as he arrived a fire broke out in the Town Hall and he rescued two children belonging to the captain of the police. This saved him from having to show his passport. He made an invention and soon became prosperous. He built great workshops, endowed a hospital, founded schools, paid high wages and was made mayor.

Employed in his factory was Fantine, a girl who had been deserted in Paris by an unworthy lover. She had left her baby, Cosette, with a crafty and hideous pair named Thenadier. When it was learned that she had an illegitimate child, she was discharged without the knowledge of M. Madeleine, the benevolent manufacturer, and was reduced to such poverty that she could not pay the Thenadiers, who took Cosette's clothes for their own girls and wrote Fantine for more. The girl sold her beautiful blonde hair; then they informed her that Cosette was ill, which was a lie, and demanded 100 francs. To obtain this she sold her front teeth to a traveling dentist; then she went on the town, and when a dissolute dandy, to annoy her, put snow down her back, she scratched his face and was arrested by Javert, inspector of police, a brutal and over-officious tyrant, who had been attached to the galleys when Jean Valjean was there and suspected the mayor of M—— of being the former convict. The mayor freed Fantine. She supposed he was the cause of her misfortunes and spat in his face. He took the affront meekly and investigated her complaint. She was ill of consumption and he provided for her and promised to look out for her child.

About the same time the police arrested another man who three former convicts swore was the missing Jean Valjean. Jean Valjean's conscience would not allow an innocent person to be punished in his place. Surmounting extraordinary difficulties, he went to Arras, where the trial took place, and just as the judge was condemning the wrong man, he confessed he was the missing convict that had robbed the bishop and the hurdy-gurdy boy.

The judge let him go; but Javert was implacable and apprehended him at Fantine's death-bed. He was lodged in jail, but having enormous strength, he broke out and returned to his house to secure his great fortune. He had time to hide his money in the haunted forest of Montfermeil, but was captured and sent to the galleys for life. Nine months later at Toulon he broke his chain and saved the life of a sailor who was hanging head down from the topmast of a ship, but he himself either fell or jumped off from the spar and was reported drowned.

The battle of Waterloo had taken place and the Thenadiers, who had been guilty of robbing the dead on the fatal field, kept a wretched inn at Montfermeil. They treated Cosette, now eight years old, with great cruelty, Christmas, 1823, was the climax of her wretchedness; she was sent after dark to fetch water from a spring in the dreadful forest. A poorly dressed stranger, passing, carried her heavy bucket. At the tavern he protected her from her mistress' threatened punishment, and the next morning he took Thenadier 1500 francs and took Cosette to Paris, where he occupied a tumble-down habitation just outside of the city; the gloomiest place in all the gloomy boulevard. By day ugly, at twilight lugubrious, and at night sinister. He thought himself secure there, but his benevolence made him conspicuous, and the old caretaker, being full of envy and uncharitableness, grew suspicious of her lodger.

One day he saw Javert. He took Cosette and again fled. But Javert was on his track. Only by unexampled adroitness and by his colossal strength did he escape by climbing over a high wall. He found himself in the garden of the convent of the Petit Plepus, where worked Pere Fauchelevent, whose life M. Madeleine has saved when he was mayor of M——. The gardener, out of his gratitude, got him appointed his assistant by representing him to be his brother. Cosette was taken into the convent school. PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Wyandotte, Mich.—"For the last four years I have doctored off and on without help. I have had pains every month so bad that I could nearly double up. Sometimes I would not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman."—Mrs. MARY STENDER, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte, Mich.

DEATH WAS NEAR

Florida Woman in Critical Condition From Dropsy, But Doan's Brought Recovery

"Dropsy brought me right down to the shadow of the grave," says Mrs. Ida B. Atwell, 904 William St., Key West, Fla. "For fifteen years I was a hopeless wreck, struggling between life and death. The pains were so severe in my back I screamed in agony. My head ached so severely I thought my skull was being crushed. Black specks floated before my eyes, and I had to grasp the bed to keep from falling. The kidney secretions became red and scalded and I could pass only a few drops at a time. My body bloated. The pressure of so much water on my chest almost smothered me. My feet also swelled and large sacs of water hung beneath my eyes. My skin had a shiny, white appearance and anywhere I pressed a dent would remain for hours. I became a nervous wreck.

"A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and oh! I felt so happy when I found they were helping me. Continued use of Doan's completely cured me." Sworn to before me.
