Portales Goes Over the Top 8 to 1 For Peace, Progress and Prosperity.

In the school bond election last Saturday, Portales Consolidated District No. 1, did herself proud in that she put the bond issue for the new High school building over with a majority of almost 8 to 1. This makes a move for unity which will cement the interests of the town and country as nothing else would.

Portales will now rank as the leading school town of the state. She will have ample facilities for the education of the children of the town and district equal to any in the state, and with her healthy climate, and agricultural surroundings will become very attractive to the settler seeking a new location where he can educate his family amid pleasant and congenial surroundings.

The school board has assured the public that they will give them the best building that the money can buy. This building with a good auditorium will do much toward the development of the entire county.

I am now up to the people of Consolidated District No. 1 to get back of the school movement and help the faculty and the local board make this the greatest school in the state.

PORTALES ENTERTAINS 500 TEACHERS OF 2 COUNTIES

This week Portales has been the scene of one of the greatest teachers meetings in the history of the county. Curry county joined with Roosevelt in holding a joint institute, and the attendance has been good from both counties.

The teachers of the county and state play an important part in the development of the future generation, and the public should become acquainted with those who wield such a great influence over the lives of their children.

Prof. J. S. Long is conductor and Mrs. Ruby Dockhorn secretary of the institute now being held here.

FIRST DAY

At the Baptist church Monday morning, August 29, occurred the first meeting of this session of Roosevelt-Curry County Institute, Mr. Long, conductor.

After the singing of America Mayor Reese addressed the teachers. He not only delivered the keys of Portales to the teachers, but Portales as well and bade them take it—for the week.

Supt. Hodges, of Floyd, in well chosen words, responded and suggested to the teachers that they take Mayor Reese at his word and simply enjoy their stay in Portales. He said most teachers had a heavy year's work ahead and as this was the last week of vacation that they make the most of it.

Mrs. Una Steed, the County Superintendent of Curry county, addressed the teachers next, giving excellent advice to the young teachers especially. No teacher could make a failure of her school if she followed Mrs. Steed's advice. She charged the teachers to so conduct themselves that when they saw their conduct copied by the children they would have no cause for regret, for said Mrs. Steed, "As the teacher is, so is the school!"

State Superintendent Conway's address came next on program. Mr. Conway says Roosevelt, Curry and Chaves counties are the banner counties in New Mexico in education. He praised the progressiveness of the people of these counties and thanked them for bringing such a spirit of progress along school lines to the state. He urged the teachers to use their influence to kill the 8th amendment stating that out of every $50 national revenue, $46 goes for war purposes and interest on war bonds, $3.50 for roads and only 50c for schools. This amendment would cut the schools to 4 or not over 5 months and teacher's salaries as well.

Rev. Nix delivered a fine address on "Public Speaking." He said it is one thing to know a thing but another to impart that knowledge to another. He told of his first public speech. He suggested that the teachers form literary societies and give the children practice in public speaking.

Enrollment of the teachers followed. Superintendent Palm informed the teachers that there was no enrollment fee. The Institute this year is conducted with a minimum cost.

Mrs. Ruby Dockhorn was elected secretary of the Institute.

SECOND DAY

Tuesday morning the teachers were entertained and instructed by Miss Miller, Mr. J. W. Russell and Superintendent McKinley.

The readings by Miss Mueller were delightfully entertaining. Mr. Russell had "a splendid speech ordered from Dallas, but it failed to get here," so he gave a good talk on literary appreciation, showing his own appreciation and knowledge of good literature by his ready command and use of some of the gems from our masterpieces.

Supt. McKinley's subject was "Silent Reading Tests," and he gave a most instructive talk and demonstration, showing the necessity of developing a system of determining whether our students are up to standard in their classes or not.

COZY CHANGES MANAGEMENT

Today the Cozy Theater changes management, M. A. Taylor of Oklahoma, taking charge. His son, A. B. Taylor, will have active charge beginning today, September 1st.

Messrs Taylors are operating a string of motion picture houses in Oklahoma and are men thoroughly familiar with the different phases of this business, and will give Portales the very best in this line.

GARBAGE CANS SHOULD BE SUPPLIED ON LAWN

A little forethought by those in authority would save much labor and go far towards perpetuating the beauty of the court house lawn.

Garbage cans should be supplied to take care of the refuse and waste from picnic parties on the lawn. This would save the temper of the keeper and clothes of the visitors who wish to enjoy a few minutes on the nice shady grass.

PRISONER ESCAPES

Lonnie Kirby, who has been sentenced for 2 to 5 years in the reform school for stealing an automobile in Oklahoma, broke out of the Roosevelt county jail Saturday night. Mr. Swafford had been fumigating the cages and had let the prisoners out in the run around. The boy picked out a concrete block and descended the sewer pipe. Officers had gotten no trace of him up to this morning, Thursday.

MORTUARY

Miss Martha Hawkins died in Portales last Saturday night. Miss Hawkins, her mother and brother Charley had recently come here from Oklahoma for the benefit of Miss Hawkins' health.

Rev. J. F. Nix conducted the funeral services at the residence Monday afternoon. Ed J. Neer conducted the burial.

Miss Hazel Todd of Elida is visiting Mrs. J. G. Geraves this week attending the Teachers' Institute.

John Swagerty has purchased the pool hall belonging to Dave Cranfill and will move it to the Sanders building. Jim Swagerty takes charge of the Sweet Shop.

SUNDAY'S GAME CLOVIS VS. PORTALES WAS A DINGER

The playing of both teams Sunday was so "rotten" it was good. Either team did not show up to their usual playing and it reminded us of a one-ring circus. However, it was enjoyed by the rooters. There was quite a number of home runs on both sides. Portales getting 3 and Clovis 4 or 5—we lost count in the excitement. Portales finally nosed out in the 10th inning by scoring the winning run. The score was 11 to 12.

Troutt and Seigner were pitchers for Portales. Troutt struck out ten men in the first half of the game.

The box score was:

FT. WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 30.—Due to a decrease in receipts, the cattle market was more active today and any quotable change in prices was toward strength. Calves also went freely at rates that were strong to 25c higher. Receipts amounted to 2,000 head of cattle and 3,000 calves. Good steers sold around $5.00 to $5.15, best cows went at $3.50, yearlings brought $6.60 and heavy calves notched $6.25.

With 1,500 hogs here the market opened about steady, the top being $9.10. Later the trade weakened and the close was 10 to 15 cents lower. Bulk sales ranged from $8.50 to $8.75. Pigs sold steady at $6.00@7.00.

The sheep market was weak, receipts reaching 2,000 head. Lambs remained generally steady but the sheep demand was easily met and sales were weakened to 25c lower.

JOHN V. CONWAY MAKES VERY IMPRESSIVE TALKS

State Superintendent John V. Conway arrived Monday with City School Superintendent James M. Bickley of the Clovis City Schools and Mrs. Una M. Steed, County School Superintendent of Curry County.

Mrs. Steed and Superintendent Conway addressed the teachers in the morning and afternoon at the Baptist church and the High school building. Monday evening State Superintendent Conway and Supt. Bickley addressed the teachers at the Baptist church. Owing to an urgent call for Superintendent Conway's services in Sierra county, it was impossible for him to remain longer than Tuesday evening. Mr. Conway is making a most vigorous fight against the eighth amendment and reports that indications are that the same will be defeated by a large majority at the coming election on September 20th. The Superintendent says, that if this amendment is carried it will reduce the term of schools in most of the counties of the state to five and six months and this will also mean the reduction in the salaries paid to teachers. He is pleading with educators and the friends of the public schools to protect the children's interests by overwhelmingly defeating the Eighth Amendment to the Constitution.

DEPARTMENT OF VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

For the benefit of those who are not acquainted with the courses we are going to give in vocational agriculture this year in the High school, I wish to call your attention to the following points:

Two year's work will be given embracing a year's work in Animal Husbandry and one in Field Crops and Soils. Students may enroll for either of these courses but not for both. Each course will count two full credits toward graduation. That is a student who completes both courses will have a total of four credits in agriculture.

In addition to the above courses students must take two other High school subjects and not over three. These may be chosen from the electives if the requirements for graduation have been fulfilled. This work is of a practical nature and includes farm shop work and farm mechanics. Students take the work for a full half day. This includes all study. No outside work at home will be required for preparation.

Students who desire to take this work should see me on the opening day and register for the course. Then they will be able to register for such other courses that will fill in. We expect a goodly number to register for these courses and I will be very glad to talk over the proposition with those that desire further information.

R. A. YOUNG, Instructor, Vocational Agriculture.

POLICE BREAK UP TWO-WAY LIQUOR OPERATING GANG

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—With the arrest today of two former prohibition enforcement agents, federal officials declared they had broken up a band whose operations have cost Chicago saloonkeepers more than $100,000.

It was declared members of the band would take the orders of saloonkeepers for whisky. When the liquor was delivered and they had received their money, other members of the band, representing themselves as federal officials, would seize the liquor and make the saloonkeeper pay a sum ranging up to $2,000 to escape arrest. Then the operation would be repeated many times.

MAN RIDES BURRO FOR FIVE MONTHS

ROSWELL, N. M., Aug. 30.—From St. Louis to Roswell by burro has been the traveling experience of H. Hummel, a student of Washington University of St. Louis who arrived in Roswell today after a five months trip on burro back. Hummel and three companions left St. Louis March 15, each riding a burro, and heading for the San Ancho Mountains of Arizona where they expected to hunt big game. When they arrived in Amarillo last week, Hummel's companions decided to locate there and leave the big game hunting to others, so Hummel pushed on alone and is now in search of a partner to brave the wilds of the San Ancho mountains with him.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I am sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. R 85

RED CROSS HEALTH INFORMATION

Rabies
With the beginning of hot weather the danger season for rabies sets in. The virus of rabies or hydrophobia, is present in the saliva of rabid animals, almost invariably dogs or cats. It is transmitted by bites of the infected animals or, more rarely, by the saliva from the animals.

Immediate treatment of a person bitten by a suspicious animal should be deep cauterization of the wounds with strong nitric acid. The second step insuring the safety of the bitten individual is the conferring of immunity by means of the pasteur treatment. Thorough measures should not be neglected as the disease of rabies is one of the most terrible a person could have the misfortune to contract.

The dog should be confined carefully for ten days and kept under observation. If he has rabies at the end of that time he will have died. The life of the dog should thus be temporarily preserved to assist in determining whether the bitten person needs Pasteur treatment.

If, however, the dog has been killed, his head should be sent to the nearest Pasteur Laboratory for a diagnosis. Should the diagnosis be that of rabies the bitten person may receive the necessary treatment by sending a telegram through the State Department of Health.

CLOVIS BURGLAR IS TREATED AS HUMAN

CLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 29.—One burglar, at least, received a pleasant surprise when caught Sunday afternoon while C. L. Sullivan was quietly at work on his books in his grocery store on North Main street. He heard a noise at the rear of the store in the space occupied by Reed's Bakery. Quietly tiptoeing to a good viewpoint, he discovered an intruder reaching for one of Mrs. Reed's pies. A word from Mr. Sullivan sent the burglar out the exit in the rear, and rushing down Main street at top speed. Mr. Sullivan jumping into a car quickly overtook him, and told the man he was under arrest. But when the victim plead that he was hungry and only looking for something to eat, Mr. Sullivan weakened. As a result the prisoner was taken to a restaurant, given a good feed and after he had promised to leave town at once, and never repeat his offense, the groceryman sent him on his way rejoicing.

RAIL WORKERS TO SAY WHETHER WAGE CUT BE ACCEPTED

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Taking of the strike vote of the railroad workers of the country was under way today.

The Brotherhood of Trainmen was the first of the big four union organizations to start its test of workers' sentiment on whether to accept the wage cut or walk out.

The trainmen broke away from the other three brotherhoods in taking the strike vote because of the proposed wording of the ballots.

A statement accompanying the trainmen's ballots declares the vote of the membership to accept the wage reduction, or to "leave the service of the railroads rather than to continue under the reduced wages now in effect," will be final and binding upon officers of the Union.

The other three brotherhoods, it was said by officers of the trainmen, desired to word the strike ballot in such a manner that union officers would be authorized to disregard a vote to strike if they saw fit.

The sentiment of the 2,000,000 railroad workers of the country will be sounded out before October 1, on the question of acceptance of reduced wages or striking. Union leaders are then expected to go direct to the railroad management with their final proposition rather than acting through the United States Railroad Labor Board.

Great significance was attached to the fact that the railroad unions desire to get out the vote of every railroad union member in the country.

THE NEW SCHOOL BOOKS

Necessity for buying new school books at prices higher than those of the past six years is immediately before the parents of New Mexico. It is not surprising that there should be protest against the increased prices. We are likely to protest at any kind of a price increase these days.

A certain amount of misinformation, however, has been spread abroad with reference to the new school books and their adoption by the state board of education. Whether this has been done deliberately, or merely through ignorance, it is difficult to determine. It is important that school book buyers should know the facts and these have been frankly and fully stated by J. H. Wagner, president of the New Mexico Normal University who was state superintendent at the time the new text books were adopted.

The impression that school book buyers could have continued obtaining the old text books at the low prices of the past six years is entirely erroneous. The contract covering the price of the old text books expired last June. Efforts were made to renew them at the contract prices. These failed as a matter of course, because all text book prices had advanced several times over during the period. If all the old books had been re-adopted the prices we would have had to pay for them, book by book, would have been as high, or higher than for the new books adopted.

Moreover, in the contract covering this text book adoption New Mexico is protected by a provision giving school book buyers in this state the advantage of any price reduction made on any of these books in any state, during the period of the contract.

The only advantage that would have been gained by re-adopting the old text books would have been the possibility of using second hand books in families already having them. These old text books are accepted on return at such a low price as to become virtually junk. But this advantage of using old or second hand books would probably have been overcome by the advanced prices for new books.

As to the wisdom or unwisdom of the text books actually adopted The Herald has no knowledge. Probably no one outside of the experienced educators of the state are qualified to pass judgment on the efficiency of the books chosen.

Of this we are well satisfied; that the state board of education, in making this adoption, did so believing that it was making the best possible deal for the school patrons of the state and in the best interests of the children of New Mexico. And in spite of the present criticism and protest it is probable that time and use will demonstrate that the board of education was right—Albuquerque Evening Herald.

Read the amendments in this issue of the Portales Valley News. You should be posted to vote intelligently on September 20.

One of the principal issues in the coming election will be the $2,000,000 road bond issue. If the people of Eastern New Mexico fail to go out and vote this issue will carry. It is backed by the auto clubs of Albuquerque and Santa Fe, and Mr. Farmer, you will have to pay the freight.

Americans and Their Wives.
I am picking my words. In spite of their proclamation, I doubt whether the American man is quite as much at his wife's feet as is made out. It seems to me that he respects his wife as he respects an expensive picture. He talks a great deal about the high qualities of women, but tends to treat them like little dears. He seems to revere women in general, but perhaps not in particular, his wife the most particular of instances. In America women do have a great deal of power, but I suspect that this is because the men are so busy that they have no time to argue, and too little time to exercise all the powers themselves. So they hand over some of the minor powers and honestly believe that this constitutes a feminine coronation.—W. L. George in Harper's Magazine.

Plants on a Daylight Ration.
It will come as a surprise to many persons that plants may suffer by reason of being allowed too much sunlight. In other words they sometimes thrive better if they are put on rations as far as light is concerned. A recent discovery by W. W. Garner and H. A. Allard, of the bureau of plant industry, United States Department of Agriculture, shows that, entirely apart from any effect of burning, it is possible for plants to have too much sunlight, or, in other words, too many hours of daylight in comparison with the number of hours of darkness. Too long a day as well as too short a day will prevent many kinds of plants from ever reaching their stage of flowering and fruiting.

In Ruby Mountains.
In the Humboldt National forest there are no movies, nor any jazz bands to split wide open the quiet of the night, but just a bit of unspoiled wilderness where one can hunt with camera, fish, climb not too rugged mountains, or just rest to a full contentment amid interesting and restful surroundings, says the American Forestry Magazine. The gems of Ruby mountains—the lakes, streams, peaks and canyons found here—are all yours to enjoy if you will but come and camp near the three lakes that nestle in the high valley amid pine dotted meadows.

Long-distance telephone lines in India have recently been greatly extended. A 600-mile line from Simla to Peshawar is finished, but needs modern equipment to be of commercial value. An 80-mile Bombay-Poona line is in official use, though not yet ready for public service.

Old-Time Prospectors Responsible for Hair-Raising Descriptions of Desert Adventures.

I wonder what has become of that good old character of the Southwest, the mining prospector? I see him no more, either here or in the smaller cities of the desert—only occasionally at the movies, and then not always true to life.

The prospector was given to romancing. And what a field he had to work in. Why, in the good old days there was not a romancer in the entire Southwest but cherished beyond measure the Colorado desert, for no matter how great a story he might unwind, if he located it in the desert, it was safe, for no one lived there to prove it false.

Well do I remember the chagrin of a certain prospector when he was over-reached by two story-tellers in his own field. He told a good one himself, about finding a spring of natural ink in the desert, but another prospector decorated the story still further by describing a mine of natural pens he had run across. That would have been all right if it had been allowed to drop there, but a third prospector dropped into town a few days later and placidly related the incident of his discovering an asbestos mine from which he could peel sheets of natural blotting paper. That seemed to be too much for the prospector of the first part, who moped around town for a couple of months. We all knew that something would happen, and sure enough it did.

In due time No. 1 returned to the city, and I hesitate to tell the story that he unrolled. He said he had found a spring of natural gin. According to the prospector, all the animals of the vicinity were given to drinking from the spring, and in consequence there was a merry round of pleasure among them all, except when they occasionally retired from the scene to sleep off the horrors of swollen heads.

Then No. 2 appeared, and he, too, had had an inspiration. Out on the Chocolate mountains, while following a drift of quartz, he had been led into an invisible city, where he could hear all the noises of a busy mart of trade, and occasionally collided with the wall of a sky-scraping building which he could not see. He could hear the rumble of street cars but he could not see them, and he was in mortal terror of being run over, and made his escape as quickly as possible.

That beautiful story, never yet proved to be false, held its own for years, and when No. 3 appeared a little later and related what he thought was a sockdolager the general public apparently did not think it an improvement. The story of the latest arrival was that he had found on the desert an invisible serpent with a glass cup instead of a rattle, and when the serpent was alarmed the cup revolved, producing exquisite music. And that story has never yet been proved false. —E. F. Howe in the Los Angeles Express.

Fine Engineering Work.

A notable feat in road engineering was the recent repair in New Mexico of a section of concrete highway that had been undermined by heavy rains. The engineer of the United States bureau of public roads first placed a shield of brush alongside the guard against further washing, and then quickly substituted a solid built-under bed for the damaged portion of the foundation. Sagging concrete slabs were brought into proper position on wooden stringers raised by hand-operated jacks. All loosened parts of the roadbed were then filled in with wet sand and this was firmly consolidated with a heavy ram worked by four men. Cribbing was placed under the stringers before the jacks were removed. The concrete slabs proved of high quality, and are said to have withstood setting and restoration without development of crack or flaw.

The Sheep-Herder's Pay.

A telegram from Kalispell, Mont. (a town of wide horizons and wide-arched sky of fox-glove blue), brings sad news and good. The wages of sheep-herders have fallen with a dull thud from $100 a month to $60, but the number of herders is just the same. For here is a life where the wage never was in cash, but rather in that satisfaction men get from far and lonely places, where no elevated trains rattle overhead, and no shrill whistles are "shagged" by the police. To the sheep-herder the prairie and the rolling lowlands must ever be the sea to him who longs for the sea. This week and next the little wagons will go off, one by one, into the loneliness and delight of vast Montana. Even at only $60 per month many will flick their whip as they start and say: "This is the life!"—Christian Science Monitor.

New Fall Goods

OUR BUYER spent the first two weeks of August in the Eastern Markets buying our Fall stocks. These new goods are arriving on every train. While some lines of merchandise is yet too high when compared to the price of the raw material, they are very cheap in comparison to war prices. In fact it is the general feeling and belief in the East that prices in general have reached the bottom. Some manufactures of cotton staple goods even predict higher prices on account of the prospects of a shorter cotton crop this Fall. We extend you a cordial invitation to call and see us. We appreciate your business.

TOUGH MEATS MADE TENDER WITH PRESSURE COOKER

One of the chief values of the pressure cooker is its use in the cooking of meat. Coarse, tough cuts are made juicy and palatable at a great saving of time and fuel.

Sometimes we are asked, is not this a violation of the principle that proteins are toughened and hardened by high temperatures?

In the pressure cooking of meat, the art of proper cooking is to apply the high temperature only long enough to secure penetration of a very moderate degree of heat to the center of the meat.

The time required for the cooking of meats depends not only upon the weight and size of the piece of meat to be cooked, but also upon the amount of bone contained and the texture of the meat.

A seven pound roast which consists of the shoulder clod of a rather old animal, and which has been boned and rolled and tied to make a compact piece may require 15 minutes to the pound at 15 or 20 pounds pressure.

On the other hand, a leg of lamb of very nearly the same weight may be perfectly done in less than half of that time at the same pressure.

Miss Denton also says that at the present time, "From 10 to 15 minutes per pound is about as safe a rule as can be hazarded."

It will be found that better results will usually be obtained if the meat is cut in rather small pieces or in the form of a thick steak; as the heat penetrates the meat more quickly and there is less danger of the outside portions becoming dry and hard, than when the meat is in one large piece.

After the operator becomes somewhat expert with her own cooker she will find it possible to supply her table with deliciously flavored tender meats with much less expenditure of time and money, than by using the old methods of boiling and roasting.

GRAPES CAN BE GROWN IN MANY PARTS OF STATE

Grapes can be grown in many parts of New Mexico, but the right varieties should be selected. The European, or so-called California grape is better suited to the lower and warmer irrigated parts of the state.

The native varieties such as the Concord and Delaware are better adapted to the cooler and higher altitudes, according to the horticulturists of the Agricultural College.

The European grape is not quite as hardy to cold as the native varieties and occasionally the whole vine may be winter killed—especially during a very dry and severe winter.

The grower should take precautions against any loss from this source. The best and easiest way to protect the European grape is to hill the dirt around the vine to the height of 8 to 12 inches above the scaffold of the stump.

The native variety being very hardy to cold would not need to be winter protected. The grapes are more or less subject to late spring frost injury, but due to the fact that as a rule they are later in starting to grow in the spring, they escape more injury than many of the other fruits.

Vineyards are all started from cuttings, preferably rooted cuttings. When the cuttings are of the average size of 15 to 20 inches long, they can be planted half their length, leaving from 3 to 4 buds above the ground.

A sandy loam to a loam is considered the best soil for grapes. The heavy adobe tends to produce too much of a cane growth and makes the grapes ripen later and more irregularly.

AMERICAN LEGION WEEKLY LETTER

With the practical closing of the harvest season, the employment office of an American Legion post at Aberdeen, S. D., where L. W. W. tried to cause a general "strike" among farm hands, has closed.

The city election in Birmingham, Alabama, may be postponed at the request of an American Legion post of that city. The service men want to vote.

When President Harding visits Birmingham, Ala., in October, he will be attended by an honor guard of 1,000 members of the American Legion, drawn from each of the 80 posts of the state.

The parents of Merle Hay, one of the first three Americans killed in the world war, will receive no insurance because their boy died before the war risk act became operative.

Michael E. Cassidy, member of the American Legion post at Bisbee, Arizona, and morale officer at Camp Cody, New Mexico, during the war, was last week appointed, appropriately enough, prohibition director for his arid state.

JAIL BUILT SATURDAY; BLOWN TO BITS SUNDAY

Crystal Falls, Texas, Aug. 29.—This little oil town was mourning the loss of its "brand new" jail this morning.

Authorities were investigating in an effort to ascertain who was responsible for the blast which rocked Crystal Falls and reduced the jail to kindling wood.

Saturday afternoon carpenters put the finishing touches on the first calaboose to be built here. It was built to take care of Stephens County "bad men" and was considered one of the strongest of its kind in the state.

PORTALES ENTERTAINS
TWO COUNTIES

Third Day

The teachers meeting was opened this morning by singing three verses of "America."

The first number on the program was an address by K. K. Rannels of Texico. His remarks were bristling with fiery denunciation of everything that is wrong and deep filling praise and encouragement for the teacher who knows and loves the right and dares to do it. But all through his discourse ran rich veins of his characteristic humor.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Rannels paid high tribute to the hospitality of Portales and a most glowing tribute to the editor of the Portales Valley News, saying that "were he an editor of world-wide renown, he could not possibly say things better nor more forcefully than some of the things I read in your paper yesterday." Then he quoted a tribute the editor had paid to the teachers.

The second number was "Community Health Problems," by Dr. D. B. Williams. The Doctor read a masterly, valuable and instructive paper on the subject, and when he had finished, it was moved, seconded and voted unanimously that we heartily thank Dr. Williams for this valuable paper, and that he be requested to give us a copy of the same to be published in the local papers of Roosevelt and Curry counties, and the New Mexico School Review, and that the county superintendents of both counties have copies printed for the teachers and patrons of their respective counties. The tribute was paid him publicly that he is a man who sees more than the dollar in his profession, and that he is vitally interested in the health and welfare of his community.

The third number was a most delightful reading given by Miss Maurine Priddy.

Prof. Butts of Center, made a very interesting talk on "Educational Tests."

The teachers sang "Fair New Mexico" and adjourned till 2 o'clock.

Fourth Day

Sesison opened by singing "America." Editor J. G. Greaves extended an invitation to the teachers to use the columns of the Portales Valley News for honor-rolls and school news, which brought out many remarks of praise for this paper.

First number was an able talk by Miss Ferrin on "Phonetics in the First Three Grades."

Miss Priddy favored the teachers with a song.

Prof. Butts reported on Supt. McKinley's Reading Test given Tuesday.

Miss Bramlett rendered a most enjoyable piano solo.
