Look for Crisis in Illness of King Tonight

Through the Editor's Spectacles
By GEORGE

Combed from a freight train at Baird yesterday in a burst of infrequent train crew wrath, a young army of transients walked the 25 miles from that city to Cisco last night, straggling into the Cisco police station to the number of about 40. Some of them were nearly frozen, their bodies quivering with cold even after hours of thawing out in the police station. Most of them were hungry, to boot.

They were, for the greater part, well-countenanced young men, knights of the road in search of adventure and not crime. Bearded, tanned with weather, coarsely dressed, inured to hardships and resourceful without being resentful, they marched into the city like a modern small version of Coxe's army without a cause save getting back east the cheapest way possible. In the group were a number of drivers from a used-car caravan that went to the coast several weeks ago. They were beating back, economically, possibly to pick up another job of the same sort, but more probably to find a different course of employment or adventure.

Usually the train "bulls" let such transients ride unmolested. But there occurs a period of deprivations by an element which is less socially-minded than these floating citizens and the railway authorities assert themselves vigorously. Off the roofs and out of the empties go the whole kit and kaboodle without respect to appearance or intention. Yesterday at Baird, one of the transients said, the "bulls" apprehended some of gang in the act of breaking into an orange car. The average transient, he said, does not do this. He simply climbs into an empty and goes where he wants to go. Most of them have a bit of money, or they depend upon gratuities.

But the fact remains that such a course of life without a definite personal responsibility to a fixed job or a location, breeds irresponsibility which sooner or later breeds crime. What to do with the transient citizen is a problem that is intimately connected with social security.

R. L. Maddox, the Lobo bandmaster who will never grow up even if he does produce good bands, towered over me yesterday to resent my having ignorantly called him a youngster. It developed that he was the person against whom the indignation of Asa Skiles had been aroused in the course of a snow fight before Asa's store at 14th street and D avenue. Asa, liberally plastered with snow, forgot all about his business and gave himself wholeheartedly to chasing Maddox among the traffic, loaded for retaliation. I saw the battle from a distance and was called away before the end, therefore I beg Maddox forgiveness for the mistake. But I insist, nevertheless, that they both looked like a couple of kids.

NEW CITIZENS
Mrs. Veola W. Short and two children, Wanda Jane and Warren Brooks, lately of Wichita Falls, are new Cisco citizens, living at 700 W. Third street. Mrs. Short is in the insurance business.

COUNCIL OF STATE TO ACT IN HIS STEAD

Physicians Announce Patient Passed a Restful Night

BULLETIN
SANDRINGHAM, Jan. 20 (AP)—Physicians' bulletins today announced that the strength of King George was "diminishing," as oxygen was administered to the royal patient.

SANDRINGHAM, England, Jan. 20 (AP)—King George, propped up in bed today, signed the document setting up the council of state to assume most of the royal duties during his grave illness.

The council consists of Queen Mary and their four sons, the prince of Wales and the Dukes of York, Gloucester and Kent.

The royal physicians announced that the king had passed a more restful night, but said there "is no substantial change to record of his condition."

The possible crisis is looked for tonight.

Vote Nears on Bond Bonus Bill in Senate

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP)—The senate today passed the bill to pay the soldiers bonus in redeemable "baby" bonds.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The last obstacle to the passage of the baby bond bonus bill was cleared away today with the senate's rejection of an amendment to provide payment only for the present value of the service certificates.

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

An Exception for a Native Son

By IRVIN S. COBB

THE clannishness of the rural Vermonter is proverbial. In illustration of this trait a distinguished citizen of the Green Mountain state told me a story the other day. He vouched for it as having a basis of fact.

He said that on a certain rather cloudy day a typical group of natives sat on the porch of the main general store in a town on the shores of Lake Champlain. Among them appeared a youth clad in a dress and having rather an air of assurance about him. In silent disapproval the company took in his belted coat, his knickerbockers and golf stockings and, most disapprovingly of all, the confident, cocksure manner of the alien.

"Good morning, everybody," he said breezily.

The elder of the group, a venerable gentleman, made answer for the rest:

"How do," he said shortly.

Somewhat abashed at the coolness of his reception the young man tried again:

"Looks rather like rain," he said.

"Twon't rain," said the old man in a tone of finality.

"I rather thought from the looks of those clouds—"

"Twon't rain," repeated the ancient in the voice of one who is not used to being argued with.

A dauntless silence ensued. The stranger fidgeted in his embarrassment. The old man fixed him with a cold and hostile eye.

"What mout your name be?" he inquired, as though desirous properly to classify a curious zoological specimen.

"My name is Nelson—Herbert Nelson," stated the youth.

"My name is Nelson—Herbert Nelson," stated the youth.

"Nelson, hey?" said the patriarch. "There used to be some Nelsons in the Kent neighborhood. Don't s'pose you ever heard of them?"

"I've been hearing of them all my life," said the young man. "I come from New York, but my father's name was Henry Nelson and he born out near Kent in this county."

"Then you must a-been a grandson of the late Ezra Nelson," said the aged Vermonter. His manner perceptibly had warmed; indeed, by the time he was almost cordial.

"Yes sir," said the youth. "Ezra Nelson was my grandfather, now it was almost cordial."

"Dew tell, now!" said the patriarch, "so you're a son of Henry Nelson and a grandson of Ezra Nelson. Well, in that case it may rain."

IS IMPROVING

Word received from Albert Hunt, formerly of Cisco, stating that Mrs. Hunt, who is ill in St. Paul Sanitarium, was improving and would soon be sufficiently recovered to be removed to her home, 305 S. Edgefield street, Dallas.

WENDE WELL EXPECTED TO BE PRODUCER

Drill Resting at 3,215 Waiting on Pipe to Be Run

With the drill resting five feet in the Lake Eastland sand where a half million feet of gas and a good show of oil was encountered between 3,210 and 3,215 feet, the Wisdom and Parsons No. 1 Wendé, south of Cisco 6 miles, today was preparing to run more pipe before drilling farther into the pay.

The oil show indicated, according to reports, that the well, a wildcat, will be a commercial producer although probably of small quantities. Success of the test, however, was expected to stimulate a great deal of activity in the region to the south, as giving prospect for locating a considerable pool which many operators and geologists have believed exists in that section.

The well is one and a half miles northwest of the Humble Schor well which was completed nearly 20 years ago for strong and stable gas production. Humbletown has been supplied from that well constantly since.

The Wendé is on a tract of 3,000 acres blocked up by Wisdom and Parsons to make the test. It was reported, without confirmation, that a similar block is in process of being grouped to the south of the present holdings.

The Wendé is under contract to be drilled to a depth of 3,500 feet. It topped the Lake Eastland, known to be a constant producing horizon, at 3,210 where the gas was found. At 3,215, where drilling was halted when the blizzard struck, it bailed considerable oil.

COLD WAVE EASES GRIP

The bitterly cold weather eased its grip on Texas today after a freezing thrust at the winter vegetable crop of South Texas. Snow melted rapidly in north Texas, and the mercury moved up after general freezing temperatures. The low registrations were: Gainesville, 11; Denton, 12; Wichita Falls, 13. The earth was still covered with snow this morning at Denton, and a heavy frost was reported at Corpus Christi. Damages to vegetables in the valley believed not to be heavy. Citrus was unhurt.

AID DEMANDED BY ETHIOPIA

Ethiopia sent a note to the League of Nations today demanding more positive aid, in the form of stronger sanctions against Italy.

The League of Nations' committee of thirteen decided that the questions of sending a commission of inquiry to Ethiopia and financial assistance to Ethiopia were not opportune, but were outside of the competency of the committee.

Unofficial Ethiopian sources said that Makale and Aksum were virtually surrounded by Ethiopians, and that the rebels in Gojjam province had been defeated.

Frieds of Premier Laval, of France, said he would submit the resignation of himself and cabinet Wednesday, and would refuse to form a new cabinet.

TORNADOES SWEEP 3 STATES; TRAFFIC MISHAPS TAKE TOLL

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (AP)—Tornadoes last night swept Alabama, Florida and Georgia, while blizzards lashed the northern tier of states from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic coast, as the nation counted at least 15 dead, including 58 in traffic accidents.

Colder weather was forecast for the north section of the United States. Schools are closed and traffic is impeded seriously. A family of six was wiped out by the terrific winds which roared into northern Florida, two were killed in near-by Alabama and five lives were taken in southwest Georgia.

After skipping from the extreme northern part of Alabama to the extreme southern part, the winds cut a wide path near Chipley, Florida, and passed on into Georgia, where the victims included five negroes whose tenant homes were blown away.

News of the storm was not received until residents came out at daybreak Sunday for assistance. Communications were disrupted.

Red Cross officials, headed by Russ Davis, chairman of the Chipley Red Cross, and a group of CCC workers went to the rescue.

Davis said bodies of the Dykes family were more than a quarter mile from the home. The baby was found a mile and a half away, the body dashed against a tree.

Undergoes Operation for Tonsils Sunday

Homer Ferguson of the Ferguson Shoe department in Altman's Style Shop, was reported to be doing well today following an operation for removal of tonsils at Graham sanitarium yesterday.

Dr. H. A. Hoy has returned to his home in Brownwood.

Weather

WEST TEXAS—Partly cloudy and warmer tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy and warmer except in the southwest portion.

EAST TEXAS—Fair, and not so cold, frost in the southwest and extreme west coast portions tonight; Tuesday, partly cloudy and warmer.

GOV'T SEEKS REHEARING ON PROCESS TAX

Dismissal of Bankhead Suit Is Asked by Administration

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The supreme court adjourned for two weeks today without passing in the constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley act, after the government had asked dismissal of the suit of Governor Talmadge, of Georgia, against the Bankhead act, and sought a rehearing on the court's decision on the processing taxes.

The government asked dismissal of the suit against the Bankhead act because the "United States is the real defendant and may not be sued without its consent."

In the two hundred billion dollar processing tax case, the government asked for a clarification of the decision, saying it contradicted an earlier opinion.

W. D. Conway to Be Buried at Ranger Tuesday Morning

Funeral services for W. D. (Bill) Conway, 60, prominent Ranger oil operator and civic leader, who died in a Dallas hospital yesterday after a lengthy illness, will be held at St. Rita's Catholic church in Ranger Tuesday to 10 a. m., it was announced.

Conway had served as president of the Ranger chamber of commerce and was a past director of the West Texas chamber of commerce. He was at the time of his death chairman of the board of the Commercial State bank at Ranger.

Mr. Conway was a native of Butler county, Pa. He came to Ranger from Ardmore, Okla., in 1918.

For 10 years until the time of his death he was associated with R. F. (Bob) Gilman, Cisco operator, in oil operations. He and Gilman developed the Crosscut field in Brown county. A 65-acre lease, of which he had charge, in that field has proven the most producing tract in the county. Since 1924 it produced $800,000 worth of oil, some of which was sold for 20 cents a barrel. The lease is still making 26 barrels daily.

INJURED IN FALL ON ICE

W. M. Tanner, Cisco, conductor on the Cisco and Northeastern railway, injured his back in a fall on the ice at Breckenridge this morning shortly after his train had arrived there from its origin at Cisco.

He was removed to a Breckenridge sanitarium where an X-ray examination was understood to have revealed a dislocated vertebrae. He will be placed in a cast and probably taken to the Texas and Pacific hospital at Marshall, Texas. Mrs. Tanner and their son, Mainer, of the Moore Drug company, left at mid-morning to be with him.

Funeral for McGugin Is Set for Tuesday

NASHVILLE, Jan. 20 (AP)—Funeral services were tentatively set today for Tuesday for Daniel Earl McGugin, 56 years of age, Vanderbilt head football coach for three decades, who died Sunday of heart attack.

Nye Turns Down Aid Offered by Priest

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Senator Nye today refused to accept money offered by Father Charles Coughlin to keep the munitions investigation from being killed by indignant senate democrats refusing to replenish committee funds. Nye said the priest had no right to do that, although he spoke the "mind and will of a great many people."

HOFFMAN IS STILL SILENT

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 20 (AP)—Governor Hoffman today adopted a policy of silence until he was ready to announce his reasons for doubting that Hauptmann was the sole kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby.

He refused to comment on reports that finger prints had been found on the kidnap ladder to correspond with those of a man whom Detective Ellis Parker suspects; that Hoffman had been advised to have Attorney General Wilentz removed, and that Hauptmann had asked him to see him again.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The Lord thy God shall bless thee in all the works of thine hands, and therefore shalt thou surely rejoice. Consecrate yourself today to the Lord, that he may bestow upon you a blessing this day.—Deut. 10: 15; Ex. 22: 29.

And by the hours that yet remain to thee, Stormy or sunshine, sympathy and love That inextinguishably dwell within Thy heart, shall give a beauty and a light To the most desolate moments, like the glow Of a bright fireside in the wildest day.

"Lift your eyes to your leader for heart cheer, His face will be your light; his hand your strength; his grace your food; his loving kindness your never-failing strength."

Gains for the Few

PERSISTENCE of the ex-service men in demanding immediate payment of the bonus appears to have gained for the more provident of them a considerable increase in the ultimate value of the certificates they hold.

THE irony of the situation, if it may be called irony, is that those least in need of the bonus will receive the greater benefits therefrom in terms of actual cash return.

Among The Derricks

CLYDE DISCOVERY WELL ON GAUGE

CLYDE, Jan. 20.—With the discovery well placed on a pumping gauge last week-end two new tests in the recently opened area two miles north of Clyde in Callahan county were starting to test the limits of the production.

L. E. Lockhart No. 1 Mrs. Helen woods, formerly the Dick Barclay at No. 1 Woods, was cleaned out with a sand pump, swabbed and put on its first official potential gauge. The test was drilled in October, but litigation held up the completion.

Bought 606 Acres Lockhart, who is president of the Inevitable Oil company of Dallas, bought 606 acres from Hal Hughes, receiver for the Barclay interests.

made for 15 other wells to be drilled in development of the area, well-spacing being 200 feet apart. Lease contract calls for the drilling of at least five other wells on the Woods tract.

Sherrill Nears Pay About a quarter mile west of the discovery well, the Turnbow and Guffey No. 1 Mrs. P. L. Sherrill is nearing the pay level, drilling at 1,200 feet. Eight inch casing was set at 1,150 feet, after a delay caused by sand freezing the casing.

R. F. St. John No. 3 Hub Kniffin is being rigged 500 feet southeast of the No. 2 Kniffin, a 25-barrel pump, and will drill to 2,000 feet unless production is found in one of the two upper sands.

hemselves and their families. Now the efforts of those who need immediate cash and who demanded immediate payment will return them additional benefits of future security.

The Wonder Car

APPEARANCE here Thursday of the U. S. Marine corps' World Wonder Car, a traveling museum containing 1001 scientific exhibits of uncommon interest, should prove a treat to the youngsters of the Cisco public schools as well as to the adults generally.

EVERY CHILD in Cisco ought to be privileged to view the exhibits contained in this car. It affords an instance of visual education which should strike deep into the conscious memory of the youngsters.

Kipling's "If"

THE death of Rudyard Kipling the other day recalls the inspiration of the poem "If", which is perhaps the most generally known of all his works and which expresses more than any other single bit of his voluminous writings the force and power of his character.

"If"

By RUDYARD KIPLING

If you can keep your head when all about you Are losing theirs and blaming it on you; If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,

If you can dream and not make dreams your master; If you can think and not make thoughts your aim; If you can meet with triumph and disaster,

If you can make one heap of all your winnings, And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss, And lose and start again at your beginning,

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue, Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch, If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you, off-set to the No. 14 failed to make production in the upper Tannehill, but drilled to the Cook and cemented off for a 7,100,000-foot gasser. It is shut in.

THREE WELLS TESTING IN HAWLEY AREA ABILENE, Jan. 20.—Three wells testing for production, one nearing the pay level, and one new location headed activities in the Hawley area of Jones county last week-end.

Portex Oil corporation and Danziger Oil & Refineries No. 1 Dorsey, showing for a small extension northeast of the Hawley field, was un-derreaming eight-inch pipe to the upper pay horizon of the field Saturday to determine the amount of showing encountered at 1,950-53 feet earlier in the week.

The St. John No. 2 Kniffin, north of the No. 1 Kniffin, is being drilled to 2,000 feet unless production is found in one of the two upper sands.

THE GAY THIRTIES

Fort Worth, and Danziger is of Wichita Falls.

Showing at 2,150 Jamison, Pollard and Forster No. 1 Mrs. G. B. Triplett, seeking an extension to the field one mile north-west of production, was running five-inch pipe Saturday to test a show-ing of oil encountered at the reported depth of 2,150 feet.

Ungrun & Frazier No. 1-C Dorsey, south edge well of the field was being deepened, apparently passing up a good showing of oil in the Cook sand, second pay for the field, topped at 2,635 feet.

N. H. Martin & Son of Wichita Falls No. 4 Henry Dorsey estate, midway between two sand producers from different pays, gauged 44 barrels on a 24-hour railroad commission pumping potential test ended
