"Savior of Texas" TRAPPED PAIR READY TO DIE IN GOLD MINE

Dictate Their Wills Through Long Pipe to Surface

MOOSE RIVER, Nova Scotia, April 21 (AP)-Weary miners today continued to hope that they might rescue alive the two men entombed nine days ago in the Moose River gold mine cave-in. Simultaneously the pair, trapped 141 feet underground, indicated to the rescuers that they were ready to face death, after dictating their wills through a 100 foot tube to the surface.

Michael Dwyer, Nova Scotia's minister of mines, who is personally directing the rescue work, said "a few hours, at the outside," should suffice to reach the certainly more reason for investing for dividends in the association.

SSURED that the financial principles of safety and dividend return will be as adequately or better served by investing in the home loan association, there is a more satisfying and more significant reason for putting one's money into the latter. By doing so, the investor is making his money work for his community. Thus it will do a double duty. Not only will it pay him a return in immediate dividends of cash, but it will help to promote the best interests of his community so that his investments and his interests here will be improved.
