PRESBYTERIANS ARRIVING FOR CAMP

Through the Editor's Spectacles
By GEORGE

The drought-scourged farmer of the middlewestern United States, considering his parched fields, would turn green with envy if he could step into the office of the Cisco Daily Press today and view the two tall stalks of corn leaning against the partition that separates our offices. Frank, the editor, stared at it as he arrived for his daily stint, and remarked "This must be Iowa, where the tall crown grows."

It is that tall, all right. But it grew in Cisco at the home of Glenn Huddleston, 303 West Fourteenth street. I protest that the Cisco country always grows good corn and good grain sorghums and other crops. Of course we have periods of crop failure, due to a variety of causes, including drouthy condition which affect almost every other section of the country. The supposedly always humid areas of the northern middlewest have the same trouble. We also, and as frequently as from drouth, have crop failures caused by too much rain.

But the moisture that came in such timely fashion that the season appeared almost to have been made to order. The result as exhibited in the stalks of corn now in our office is indeed a sight to gladden the agricultural eye. Mr. Huddleston lives on one of Justice Joe Wilson's places and the seed for this particular corn was bought from "Punk" Thornton.

The roof garden of the Laguna hotel will be dressed out in Texas flags and Texas centennial bunting for the visit of Governor James V. Allred here next Tuesday noon. James Haynie of the Oil Belt Flag and Decorating company will attend to that detail. The decorations, adding a bright and appropriate color to the banquet room, should add to the pleasure and enjoyment of the governor's visit. Cisco should make every possible effort to impress the Texas chief executive with the community's hospitality at this luncheon. From all over the county are coming requests for tickets, so that it has become necessary to place a limit upon the number each community is allotted.

Robert S. Cope, of the West Texas Utilities company here, opened an envelop addressed to him from the Dallas district sales headquarters of the Frigidaire Sales Corp. and straightway hit the ceiling, almost literally as well as figuratively. Out of the envelop came a check for $25 and a letter.

Cope was notified that he had won the first eight prizes in a national contest on Frigidaire salesmanship. The contest consisted in answering a questionnaire, which Cope did several weeks ago and promptly forgot about it.

KARPIS GANG LEADER SHOT IN OKLAHOMA

Kills Enid Policeman And Wounds Two In Gun Battle

ENID, Okla., July 9 (AP)—A young gunman, shot to death after he had killed an Enid policeman and wounded two others, was identified today as Lawrence de Vol, a Karpis-Barker gangster, the widely hunted leader of 16 convicts who escaped a Minnesota criminal insane asylum last month.

The gangster killed Patrolman Cal Palmer, Assistant Police Chief Leon Coyle shot de Vol to death.

The police held a man who said he was Donald Reeder, companion of de Vol, and that he and de Vol escaped from the Minnesota institution June 7. Reeder is the last of the escapees to be captured.

H. L. Mobley, Jr. Is New Manager Of The Laguna

H. L. Mobley, Jr., today arrived and began work as manager of the Laguna hotel, succeeding Dallas Wales, who is being transferred to another unit of the National Hotels chain.

Mobley comes to Cisco from Muskogee, Okla., having succeeded Wales there when the latter came to Cisco. The new hotel manager is a former Ciscoan, the son of Henry Mobley, who was for many years connected with hotels here and who is now located at Galveston with the National hotels.

Wales said he and Mrs. Wales probably would leave tomorrow morning.

Marland Drops His Liquor Vote Effort

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 9 (AP)—At the headquarters of Governor E. W. Marland it was announced today that the governor had abandoned the plans to put the initiated liquor repeal state monopoly control measure on the ballot in the run-off election July 28.

Marland will be in the run-off primary with Representative Josh Lee, of Norman, in the race for the democratic nomination for United States senator.

The action of the governor in not submitting the liquor repeal control measure to the voters came as a complete surprise. He had advised the dry organization that he would call a vote on the measure.

Wanderer Returns To Spout His Philosophy

Enjoy Life, Says 'Texas Mack', Who Has Been Putting His Belief Into Practice

It's a great life and everybody ought to enjoy it. That, in a nutshell, is the philosophy of Sampson McDonald, better known as Texas Mack, the vagabond cowboy adventurer and explorer, who paused in his wanderings to spend last night in Cisco, swap a few stories, and perhaps help somebody else enjoy life a little also.

Get close to nature, added the wanderer, who is half Cherokee Indian. That's the way to enjoy life.

"Even if you take off only a day a month, get out in the open. Hollow out a place in the sand, fill it with grass, and sleep there like the Indians. You'll be as warm and as comfortable as if you were in a bed, too," he said.

Author, Too

"There's no need to work all the time," he told a much worried newspaperman. "Even if you do make a fortune you can't take it with you when you die. Enjoy life."

Nine years ago, back in 1927, Texas Mack set out from Dallas to see the world. He has poked about in almost every conceivable place since then and now is returning to the Texas centennial with a wealth of experiences and three books to be published soon.

Of all his experiences, the one that Mack recalls as the most pleasurable was his visit with the famous Death Valley Scotty not long ago.

"Death Valley Scotty," he said.

Allred Grants Stay For Glenn Warren

LONGVIEW, July 9 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred today granted a three-weeks' stay of execution for Glenn Warren, one of the four men sentenced to die early tomorrow in the Huntsville penitentiary.

Warren had asked for a "little time to collect myself," in view of the slaying of his father Saturday, allegedly by the son of the man Warren was convicted for murdering.

Scheduled to die with Warren were Grady Warren, (no relation of Glenn), Oscar and Mack Brown, negro brothers. The governor took no action in the cases of the other felons.

The quadruple execution would have been the second busiest night in the history of Texas' electric chair.

Shaken By Slaying

Glenn Warren was shaken by the slaying of his father Saturday night and appealed to the governor for a few more days in which to "pull myself together." The elder Warren was shot down after an argument with M. H. Cansler.

Gangsters Chase Car Through Chicago

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—State Representative John M. Bolton, 29, was assassinated today by gunmen in a wild automobile chase through the streets of Chicago. A shotgun blast ripped through his head.

Officials, at a loss for a motive for the crime, pondered the theory that Bolton's efforts to legalize hand-book betting here brought underworld retaliation when he began a new investigation of gambling in Chicago.

ALLRED SAYS OIL TAX PLAN IS VOTE BAIT

Opponent "Tampering With The Welfare Of Texas," Charge

(Special to The Daily Press)

LONGVIEW, July 9.—Proposals for a several hundred per cent increase in the oil tax, now being offered by one candidate for governor, were called "vote bait" and "tampering with the welfare of Texas" by Governor James V. Allred in a speech at Danville, near here, this morning.

"One candidate for governor proposes an oil tax hike of 666 per cent, which he says will raise an additional $70,000,000 annually, a fantastic figure from any single tax source," Gov. Allred said.

"While I have long favored and often advocated an increase in the tax on natural resources, such an increase as that would unquestionably sound the death knell of the oil industry."

"But there is nothing to be alarmed about. Any thinking citizen of this state—and I include that candidate in that class—knows that such a tax program would never be approved by the Texas legislature."

"Vote Bait"

"Therefore I charge that he is not offering it seriously as a solution of our revenue problems but rather as 'vote bait' with which he hopes to catch enough votes to land him in the governor's chair."

"The Texas oil industry means too much to this state for us to allow it to become a political plaything. Proposals such as these, even though it would take a miracle for them to gain the approval of the people and the legislature, are nothing short of tampering with the very welfare of the state."

Governor Allred spoke to several hundred oil field workers and business men. He stopped off at Danville en route to Palestine, where he speaks tonight in his campaign for a second term. His itinerary includes brief visits during the afternoon to Kilgore, Henderson and Jacksonville. He will attend a luncheon in his honor at Cisco Tuesday.

SAFETY TEST TO BE GIVEN

Highway Patrolmen to Be In Charge

The safety lane campaign from Austin will be here August 24 and 25, according to Carroll Monroe of the state department of public safety. There will be a flying squadron of courtesy evangelists and a radio equipped courtesy car. These cars will be stationed in a side street, and all traffic will be routed from D avenue into these side streets for an examination. It is only a courtesy measure for the protection of the people, there is nothing compulsory about it, he said.

The lights, horns, brakes, mufflers, windshield wipers, and steering gear will be tested.

The cars passing the tests will receive a blue windshield sticker for their car, certifying that all the parts have passed the tests. The cars not passing the tests will receive a pink sticker which can be eliminated by having the defects remedied.

Since April 1, 100,000 cars have been examined and 23,000 have been found defective. The department began operations in West Texas today at San Angelo.

U. S. State Men Inspect Orchards In Peach Survey

(Special to The Daily Press)
EASTLAND, July 9.—The eradication of phony peach and mosaic peach diseases will be of much interest to the fruit growers of Eastland county, it has been announced by Hugh F. Barnhardt, assistant county agent.

The phony peach disease as many of the growers know was first noticed in Georgia, where it has done great damage to the peach growers of that state. "In the last few years it has spread across the southern states reaching into Texas, and doing considerable damage in parts of the state.

The mosaic peach disease was first noticed in the state of Colorado. It has also found its way into Texas, first being discovered in Brown county. This disease has also ruined hundreds of acres of orchards in Colorado and is rapidly spreading in this state. These are both virus diseases and there is no known cure for either.

The effects of both diseases on the peach is very similar; in that, not only the fruit becomes smaller each year; but the yield is also less. The trees do not seem to be more subject to winter injuries or to other serious weakening diseases than the normal trees, and they may live many years after showing characters of the disease; thereby harbouring the disease and futhering the spread, more so than if the disease killed the tree outright.

This work is being done by D. E. Kelly and J. J. Rasor representatives of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine of both the U. S. and state departments of agriculture.

Fruit growers are urged to cooperate to the fullest with this work to the extent that the appearance of the disease may be stamped out before serious damage is done.

McDonald Vote Saved By Error Discovery

EASTLAND, July 9.—A mistake which might mean the difference between election and defeat to William H. McDonald of Eastland in his candidacy for the commissionership of the general land office was corrected Monday on the July 25 ballot.

Sunday the printers had received the final o. k. on the ballot and "final" corrections had been made until Earl Conner Jr., aiding his successor, Oscar Lyerla, as chairman of the county democratic executive committee, noticed McDonald's name on the ballot, "W. H. (Bill) McDonald."

Nicknames are not allowed on names of state candidates and McDonald's vote in the county would probably have been invalidated by the state democratic committee if the change wasn't made.

The dean, commenting on the achievement, said:

Ordinance Passed To Protect Katy

The city commission, in its last meeting, passed an ordinance protecting the Katy railroad against any damage claims which might arise as a result of the building of the overpass which will carry the rerouted Highway One over its tracks on Eighth street. This ordinance was passed at the request of the Katy and merely affectuates the terms of a resolution which the city commission passed some time ago to assume all damage claims arising from the rerouting.

U. S. Agriculture Department Buys Onions in Texas

(Special to The Daily Press)
COLLEGE STATION, July 9.—

The commodities purchase section of the United States department of agriculture recently completed a purchase program of about 700 cars of onions bought from Texas producers for approximately $250,000, according to J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist.

Rosborough stated that the price paid was on a basis of U. S. number one onions ranging from 45 to 55 cents per bushel. The onions will be distributed to relief agencies throughout the nation.

He went on to say, "there has been more onion planting this year than in previous time of onion production in the state."

In mentioning some of the history of the onion crop, Rosborough said, "The growing of Bermuda onions in Texas started over 25 years ago in the southwestern part of the state near Laredo. Since that time, the growing of this crop has spread out until it involves about 33 Texas counties, usually shipping from six to eight million cars a year to eastern markets. Today the bulk of Bermuda onions used in the entire United States comes from Texas. With a normal crop, onions should bring about $2,500,000 a year into the hands of Texas growers. This year, because of increased acreage, prices dropped to as low as 30 cents per bushel. This price is below the cost of production," he concluded.

The American Indian's main contribution to modern civilization is the cultivation of many valuable plants.

Home Grown Hay, Feed Profitable To Wise Farmer

DECATUR, July 9. (Spl.)—Finishing home raised steers on home grown feed and making a profit is a result has recently been demonstrated by R. E. Caraway, farmer in Wise county, according to D. F. Eaton, county agricultural agent.

"Caraway finished out 17 calves which were all of his spring crop," the county agricultural agent stated. "They were grade calves, but from good cows and a well-bred bull and were good type feeders."

These calves were fed 136 days on home grown ground corn, oats and cotton seed meal with minerals supplied. In addition to the grain, they had all the prairie hay they could consume. They were valued at $27.50 per head at the beginning of the feeding time.

They made an average daily gain of 2.5 pounds. The gross returns were $972 which netted Caraway a profit of $11.31 per head. Their final average weight was 765 pounds per animal.

POTENTIALS OF NEW HAWLEY WELLS HIGH

ABILENE, July 9. — Potential tests on two Lower Hope sand completions this week in the Hawley field, one on the north and one on the south ends of the production, further indicate the broad productivity in the deepest of the area's five sands.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 2 Bertha King, northernmost test for the field, completed a railroad commission gauge flowing 624 barrels on a six-hour gauge through two-inch tubing. The test had failed to make a producer in either of the upper sands, although operators attempted to shut off water in the Bluff Creek at 1,950 feet to gain a 50 to 75 barrel pumper. The lower sand was topped at 2,216 feet and drilled one foot. Initial completion was June 19, but the official gauge was not taken until this week. It is located in the south half of section 20, Manuel Bueno survey No. 198.

On the south end of the field, the Ungren & Frazier No. 6-C Dorsey flowed 840 barrels through three-quarter inch choke from the Lower Hope on an eleven-hour gauge. Sand was topped at 2,196 and drilled to 2,214 feet, with lime streaks between saturation. It is a twin well to the same operators' No. 2-C Dorsey which produces from the Cook sand, and is located in the south end of section 6, S. W. King subdivision of Manuel Bueno survey No. 197.

In the Condor-Sayles-Holt field nine miles north of Abilene, the Condor Petroleum company No. 5 Clayton Holt was spudded this week, 680 feet north of the No. 1 Holt, in section 4, block 20, T&P survey. It will be drilled to 2,500 feet, or the King sand, as another inside exploratory tests to determine whether any other horizon beside the regular producing Sayles sand at 1,900 feet will be commercially profitable in the field. The first of these tests, the Condor No. 9 Sayles sand at 1,903-29 feet.

In eastern Jones county, the N. H. Martin & Son No. 1 Spurrier, wildcat showing production from the Hope sand at 1,921 to 1,928 feet, had installed pumping equipment and a new storage unit this week. It will probably be placed on proration gauge by Thursday. Location is in the south center of section 1, Wm. C. Walker survey.

Two miles north, the Owens-Snebold Oil corporation No. 1 S. Gorman was running casing to shut out cavings developing at 1,840 feet. It is in section 5, Wm. C. Walker survey.

Drought Reduces Boll Weevil Loss

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., July 9.—Continued drought throughout Mississippi, practically assures Delta farmers against serious damage from boll weevils this season, a survey by the state plant board reveals. Weevils were present on 60 per cent of farms visited, but infestation was only 1 per cent compared with 16 per cent this time last year. Cotton plants received by the plant board from New Albany this week indicated damage from chrips, but only local areas were affected. Slight damage from grasshoppers has been reported.

McCanlies, Donovan Branding Bunch of Fine Hereford Calves

By R. W. H. KENNON
A most impressive picture of the possibilities of the Cisco country for Hereford cattle production was that which I witnessed Tuesday evening when Brecheen jerked me out of the "Judge's Corner" and said: "Let's go to McCanlies and Donovan's round-up." Well, I am not such an enthusiast as Brecheen, though I have lived in the panhandle, and been intimately associated with cows and cowmen since 1900. I have never had the good fortune to go out on the ranges where the cow hands were branding and vaccinating and dehorning, as most of those cattle with which I have been on speaking terms were of the longhorn species, before the white face breed became so popular.

But I saw as fine a bunch of range cattle as I ever laid eyes upon. The herds on the McCanlies and Donovan ranch showed what can be done with the better grade of cattle in the Cisco country, and induces me to say that the potentialities for breeding the better grades of cattle are as promising here as any spot on the globe.

I have visited the Weddington ranch, the Ed Hayden ranch in the Moran area, where are as fine Herefords as anywhere in the state. With the modern equipment of Bob Weddington's ranch, and the natural advantages and careful breeding on Hayden ranch, I was deeply impressed that from these sources come the foundation for the best bred range cattle that the market could wish. And so it is, and it is the sires on these ranches that are responsible for the splendid herds that may be found in this area, notably that of the McCanlies and Donovan ranch, located just north of Cisco. This ranch's premier sires are of the same strain as those bred by Bob Weddington and Ed Hayden.

But McCanlies and Donovan were branding and cutting their calves this week, a little late, perhaps, but owing to unfortunate circumstances these ranchmen were unable to cut and brand their herds any earlier.

This ranch is breeding and raising cattle for the beef market, and the baby calves they now have ready to be disposed of just when the price is right are bound to be classed as prime stuff when they decide to sell.

Prime Baby Calves

There is a bunch of prime stuff cut back into the market pasture, which will be shipped out when ready for sale.

I did not have the pleasure of being present at the commencement of the round-up, when the marketable baby calves were segregated in a special pasture, nor was I present when they branded and cut the cattle from the calves yet to be branded, but Brecheen dragged me out there Tuesday evening when they had segregated the unbranded calves and the mother cows from those that had already had the branding iron traced on their hides.

These ranchmen and their neighbors had worked out the herds pretty well before Brick and I arrived on the scene. They had segregated all the young mother cows with suckling calves, into a special pasture, where the branding program is being carried out today. I was told that the process will be concluded by early this afternoon.

Brecheen and I arrived a bit late, after most of the work was complete for the day, and the unbranded calves and their mother cows had been transferred to a pasture on the Perkins ranch, and the cow hand neighbors gathered to assist in the round-up were taking their ease from a day of hard work, cutting the cattle while awaiting the return of Jonah Donovan and Lee Holland from another pasture where they had driven other cattle not to be included in those yet to be branded. Brecheen had provided some liquid refreshments of Dr. Pepper and Coca Cola, and believe me, that thirsty bunch didn't do a thing to those bottled beverages.

Cattle Fat and Sleek

But while waiting we strolled among the cattle assembled in this pasture, whose calves are today feeling the search of the branding iron, we saw as fine a bunch of bovines as the eye ever saw. There were something like 100 of these calves and their mother cows, all as fat as butter, and sleek as a ribbon, due to the splendid grazing that had kept them in perfect condition all summer.

These calves that are being branded today will be ready for market next fall, or possibly may be held over for next spring market, owing to the prevailing price, McCanlies told me.

The fact is McCanlies and Donovan, who are among the largest cowmen of Cisco, don't have to sell their yearlings until they are so minded to, as they have ample pasturage and feed to carry their stuff over indefinitely, and are in a position to sell when the market is right.

The young stuff that is ready for market, about 100 head, are in a pasture separated from the other cattle, and when the time comes to ship them to market their gathering and delivery will be a matter quickly disposed of.

McCanlies and Donovan have about six sections of land under lease and ownership that is as fine grazing land as there is in Texas. Most of which is well watered, on which there are some 500 head of grade Hereford cattle. These men are not breeding show stuff, but many of the calves we saw Tuesday would give a pretty good account of themselves in a show ring without any pampering.

Ten Registered Bulls

Most of those cows that were segregated in the Perkins pasture were young cows, with their first calves, 50 of which were purchased this spring as heifers, and bred to the registered Hereford bulls on the ranch. McCanlies said most of the cows were grade Herefords, but they keep ten registered Hereford bulls of the best strain, and the females from these matings are well bred stuff whose offspring will be practically as good as the pure bred cattle.

On the whole it seemed to me that Jess. McCanlies and Jonah Donovan were setting mighty pretty as Cisco cattlemen.

One thing I want to mention in this story is that neighborly spirit that prevails among those ranchmen. When ever the round-up or branding season rolls around, these neighboring ranchers come in and make a hand. This is a reciprocal custom, and most of the other ranchers have been assisted by McCanlies and Donovan. Of those who were out to help McCanlies and Donovan, and his an James Floyd, Tuesday were Virgil Heyser, Bedford Mashburn, (both said to have been cradled in a saddle on the back of a cow pony) J. C. Car, Lee and John Holland, neighbor ranchmen. This reciprocity spirit expedites the branding work, and makes it easier for each of them.

Demonstrations For Screw Worm Control June 14

Two demonstrations in screw worm control, accompanied by discussions of trench silos will be held in the vicinity of Cisco Tuesday, June 14, sponsored by the county agent and the extension department of the A. and M. college of Texas; it was announced by County Agent Elmo Cook.

The first will take place at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the farm of George P. Fee, north of Cisco on the Breckenridge highway. Mr. Larner of the screw worm control agency of the department of agriculture will conduct the demonstration in this control. Mr. Cook will lead the discussion on trench silos.

A similar demonstration will be held on the Bruce Eberhart farm, a short distance north of Rising Star, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Four other demonstrations are planned. One will be held near Carbon Wednesday morning, July 15, another near Gorman Wednesday afternoon, one at Ranger the following Thursday morning and one at Eastland that afternoon.

Other demonstrations will be Wednesday, 10 a. m., W. B. White ranch, six miles south of Carbon on the Okra-Carbon road.

Wednesday (2 p. m., Blackwell-Hankins ranch, 4 miles east of Gorman on the Desdama road.

Thursday, 10 a. m., Shell-McDowell ranch, 6 miles east of Ranger, on Strawn road.

Thursday 2 p. m., Connelley ranch, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Ranger on the Carbon road.

Home Grown Hay, Feed Profitable To Wise Farmer

DECATUR, July 9, (Spl.)—Finishing home raised steers on home grown feed and making ap profit as a result has recently been demonstrated by R. E. Caraway, farmer in Wise county, according to D. F. Eaton, county agricultural agent.

"Caraway finished out 17 calves which were all of his spring crop," the county agricultural agent stated. "They were grade calves, but from good cows and a well bred bull and were good type feeders."

These calves were fed 136 days on home grown ground corn, oats and cotton seed meal with minerals supplied. In addition to the grain, they had all the prairie hay they could consume. They were valued at $27.50 per head at the beginning of the feeding time.

They made an average daily gain of 2.5 pounds. The gross returns were $972 which netted Caraway a profit of $113.11 per head. Their final average weight was 765 pounds per animal.

POTENTIALS OF NEW HAWLEY WELLS HIGH

ABILENE, July 9. — Potential tests on two Lower Hope sand completions this week in the Hawley field, one on the north and one on the south ends of the production, further indicate the broad productivity in the deepest of the area's five sands.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 2 Bertha King, northernmost test for the field, completed a railroad commission gauge flowing 624 barrels on a six-hour gauge through two-inch tubing. The test had failed to make a producer in either of the upper sands, although operators attempted to shut off water in the Bluff Creek at 1,950 feet to gain a 50 to 75 barrel pumper. The lower sand was topped at 2,216 feet and drilled one foot. Initial completion was June 19, but the official gauge was not taken until this week. It is located in the south half of section 20, Manuel Bueno survey No. 196.

On the south end of the field, the Ungren & Frazier No. 6-C Dorsey flowed 840 barrels through three-quarter inch choke from the Lower Hope on an eleven-hour gauge. Sand was topped at 2,196 and drilled to 2,214 feet, with lime streaks between saturation. It is a twin well to the same operators' No. 2-C Dorsey which produces from the Cook sand, and is located in the south end of section 6, S. W. King subdivision of Manuel Bueno survey No. 197.

In the Condor-Sayles-Holt field nine miles north of Abilene, the Condor Petroleum company No. 5 Clayton Holt was spudded this week, 660 feet north of the No. 1 Holt, in section 4, block 20, T&P survey. It will be drilled to 2,500 feet, or the King sand, as another inside exploratory tests to determine whether any other horizon beside the regular producing Sayles sand at 1,900 feet will be commercially profitable in the field. The first of these tests, the Condor No. 9 Sayles sand at 1-903-29 feet.

In eastern Jones county, the N. H. Martin & Son No. 1 Spurrier, wildcat showing production from the Hope sand at 1,921 to 1,928 feet, had installed pumping equipment and a new storage unit this week. It will probably be placed on proration gauge by Thursday.

Location is in the south center of section 1, Wm. C. Walker survey.

Two miles north, the Owens-Snebold Oil corporation No. 1 S. Gorman was running casing to shut out ravings developing at 1-840 feet. It is in section 5, Wm. C. Walker survey.

Drought Reduces Boll Weevil Loss

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., July 9.—Continued drought throughout Mississippi practically assures Delta farmers against serious damage from boll weevils this season, a survey by the state plant board reveals. Weevils were present on 60 per cent of farms visited, but infestation was only 1 per cent compared with 16 per cent this time last year. Cotton plants received by the plant board from New Albany this week indicated damage from chrips, but only local areas were affected. Slight damage from grasshoppers has been reported.

McCanlies, Donovan Branding Bunch of Fine Hereford Calves

By R. W. H. KENNON

A most impressive picture of the possibilities of the Cisco country for Hereford cattle production was that which I witnessed Tuesday evening when Brecheen jerked me out of the "Judge's Corner" and said: "Let's go to McCanlies and Donovan's round-up." Well, I am not such an enthusiast as Brecheen, though I have lived in the panhandle, and been intimately associated with cows and cowmen since 1900. I have never had the good fortune to go out on the ranges where the cow hands were branding and vaccinating and dehorning, as most of those cattle with which I have been on speaking terms of the longhorn species, before the white face breed became so popular.

But I saw as fine a bunch of range cattle as I ever laid eyes upon. The herds on the McCanlies and Donovan ranch showed what can be done with the better grade of cattle in the Cisco country, and induces me to say that the potentialities for breeding the better grades of cattle are as promising here as any spot on the globe.

I have visited the Weddington ranch, the Ed Hayden ranch in the Moran area, where are as fine Herefords as anywhere in the state. With the modern equipment of Bob Weddington's ranch, and the natural advantages and careful breeding on Hayden ranch, I was deeply impressed that from these sources come the foundation for the best bred range cattle that the market could wish. And so it is, and it is the sires on these ranches that are responsible for the splendid herds that may be found in this area, notably that of the McCanlies and Donovan ranch, located just north of Cisco. This ranch's premier sires are of the same strain as those bred by Bob Weddington and Ed Hayden.

But McCanlies and Donovan were branding and cutting their calves this week, a little late, perhaps, but owing to unfortunate circumstances these ranchmen were unable to cut and brand their herds any earlier.

This ranch is breeding and raising cattle for the beef market, and the baby heaves they now have ready to be disposed of just when the price is right are bound to be classed as prime stuff when they decide to sell.

Prime Baby Heaves

There is a bunch of prime stuff cut back into the market pasture, which will be shipped out when ready for sale.

I did not have the pleasure of being present at the commencement of the round-up, when the marketable baby heaves were segregated in a special pasture, nor was I present when they branded and cut the cattle from the calves yet to be branded, but Brecheen dragged me out there Tuesday evening when they had segregated the unbranded calves and the mother cows from those that had already had the branding iron traced on their hides.

These ranchmen and their neighbors had worked out the herds pretty well before Brick and I arrived on the scene. They had segregated all the young mother cows with suckling calves, into a special pasture, where the branding program is being carried out today. I was told that the process will be concluded by early this afternoon.

Brecheen and I arrived a bit late, after most of the work was complete for the day, and the unbranded calves and their mother cows had been transferred to a pasture on the Perkins ranch, and the cow hand neighbors gathered to assist in the round-up were taking their ease from a day of hard work, cutting the cattle while awaiting the return of Jonah Donovan and Lee Holland from another pasture where they had driven other cattle not to be included in those yet to be branded. Brecheen had provided some liquid refreshments of Dr. Pepper and Coco Cola, and believe me, that thirsty bunch didn't do a thing to those bottled beverages.

Cattle Fat and Sleek

But while waiting we strolled among the cattle assembled in this pasture, whose calves are today feeling the scorch of the branding iron, we saw as fine a bunch of bovines as the eye ever saw. There were something like 100 of these calves and their mother cows, all as fat as butter, and sleek as a ribbon, due to the splendid grazing that had kept them in perfect condition all summer.

These calves that are being branded today will be ready for market next fall, or possibly may be held over for next spring market, owing to the prevailing price, McCanlies told me.

The fact is McCanlies and Donovan, who are among the largest cowmen of Cisco, don't have to sell their yearlings until they are so minded to, as they have ample pasturage and feed to carry their stuff over indefinitely, and are in a position to sell when the market is right.

The young stuff that is ready for market, about 100 head, are in a pasture separated from the other cattle, and when the time comes to ship them to market their gathering and delivery will be a matter quickly disposed of.

McCanlies and Donovan have about six sections of land under lease and ownership that is as fine grazing land as there is in Texas. Most of which is well watered, on which there are some 500 head of grade Hereford cattle. These men are not breeding show stuff, but many of the calves we saw Tuesday would give a pretty good account of themselves in a show ring without any pampering.

Ten Registered Bulls

Most of those cows that were segregated in the Perkins pasture were young cows, with their first calves, 50 of which were purchased this spring as heifers, and bred to the registered Hereford bulls on the ranch. McCanlies said most of the cows were grade Herefords, but they keep ten registered Hereford bulls of the best strain, and the females from these matings are well bred stuff whose offspring will be practically as good as the pure bred cattle.

On the whole it seemed to me that Jess, McCanlies and Jonah Donovan were setting mighty pretty as Cisco cattlemen.

One thing I want to mention in this story is that neighborly spirit that prevails among those ranchmen. When ever the round-up or branding season rolls around, these neighboring ranchers come in and make a hand. This is a reciprocal custom, and most of the other ranchers have been assisted by McCanlies and Donovan. Of those who were out to help McCanlies and Donovan, and his an James Floyd, Tuesday were Virgil Heyser, Bedford Mashburn, (both said to have been cradled in a saddle on the back of a cow pony) J. C. Car, Lee and John Holland, neighbor ranchmen. This reciprocity spirit expedites the branding work, and makes it easier for each of them.

Fire Chief Paints; Causes False Alarm

TROY, Ohio, July 9. (AP)—Fire Chief John Kessler went out with some red paint to touch up a few weather-beaten alarm boxes over the city. As he put finishing touches on box No. 27, an engine rumbled to a stop at the curb.

"Must have been too vigorous with the brush," the chief explained to his boys.

AKRON, Ohio. (AP)—Because smoke from Akron's rubber factories contains sulphur, the city is poor in silver. Jewelers say the sulphur tarnishes silver quickly, and carrying big lines of silver jewelry and hollow-ware is unprofitable.

Demonstrations For Screw Worm Control June 14

Two demonstrations in screw worm control, accompanied by discussions of trench silos will be held in the vicinity of Cisco Tuesday, June 14, sponsored by the county agent and the extension department of the A. and M. college of Texas; it was announced by County Agent Elmo Cook.

The first will take place at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the farm of George P. Fee, north of Cisco on the Breckenridge highway. Mr. Lerner of the screw worm control agency of the department of agriculture will conduct the demonstration in this control. Mr. Cook will lead the discussion on trench silos.

A similar demonstration will be held on the Bruce Eberhart farm, a short distance north of Rising Star, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Four other demonstrations are planned. One will be held near Carbon Wednesday morning, July 13, another near Gorman Wednesday afternoon, one at Ranger the following Thursday morning and one at Eastland that afternoon.

Other demonstrations will be Wednesday, 10 a. m. W. B. White ranch, six miles south of Carbon on the Okra-Carbon road.

Wednesday 2 p. m. Blackwell-Hankins ranch, 4 miles east of Gorman on the Desdemona ranch. Thursday, 10 a. m. Shell-McDowell ranch, 6 miles east of Ranger, on Strawn road.

Thursday 2 p. m. Connellee ranch, 2½ miles southeast of Ranger on the Carbon road.

Rabbits dig burrows but hares do not; therefore native American "rabbits" are really hares, naturalists point out.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; Yea saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their words do follow them.—Gen. 15: 15; Rev. 14: 13.

"Happy are the faithful dead,
Blessed who in Jesus die;
They fro' mail their toils are freed,
In God's keeping safely lie.
These the spirits hath declared
Blest, unutterably blest,
Jesus is their great reward,
Jesus is their endless rest."

"Grant, O Lord, that through the grave and gate of death we may pass to our joyful resurrection; for his merits, who died, and was buried, and rose again for us, thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord."

Rails Coming Back

RAIL traffic and passenger travel is coming back. Statistics on the number of passengers carried by the railroads show that there has been a substantial increase over 1935 and that the trend of the increase is continuing. Several reasons are advanced for this condition, principal among which are the general recovery and the strong effort that the railroads are making to attract passengers. They confront three competing mediums—the airways, the buses and the passenger cars. To meet this three-fold threat, the railroads are speeding up trains and schedules, stressing passenger convenience, comfort and safety, and improving their service and the attractiveness of their equipment. Air-conditioning of cars is a big factor in pulling passenger traffic in the summer months. Moreover, the comfort of the big coaches, with their sleeping quarters, dining rooms, soda fountains and all the convenience that one may have at a hotel, is far superior to the conveniences that even the largest buses may provide. The safety factor is another important point that is considered in the appeal to the traveling public. There is no question but what rail travel is more secure and comfortable than any other form of land travel. It has had disadvantages in regard to speed and flexibility of schedules. But these disadvantages are being met while the advantages are being capitalized upon in this energetic effort of the railroads to come back to such a degree that there is now the prospect that they will achieve their former magnitude as carriers of passengers. But it will be service and not monopoly that does it, which proves again that service is the supreme test of the right of any industry or organization to exist.

Appearance of Inconsistency

MR. FARLEY'S presence in the national administration set-up at Washington may be essential to the success of the administration and his hand on the helm of the national democratic campaign machine may be necessary to the success of the Roosevelt bid for re-election, but there is an appearance of inconsistency about the Farley case that has not been satisfactorily explained. The inconsistency arises from the early insistence of the administration that members of the democratic national committee who held federal positions quit one of the two.

THE continuance of Farley in the post of national chairman and in the cabinet position of postmaster-general at the same time doesn't fit in with this reasoning. The anomaly is especially interesting in view of the fact that the postmaster-general is the chief patronage dispenser of the administration, and patronage, as everyone knows, is the chiefest coin of the political pay-off. It is quite extensively used to promote obligations in vital spots and bind the brothers in the faith.

THE announcement of the president that Jim would be given a leave of absence "without pay" indicates quite strongly that the administration, while needing his abilities in the campaign, does not intend to permit the patronage disbursing department to get very far out of Jim's hand.

Letters From Our Readers

BLANTON REPLIES

THE CISCO DAILY PRESS:

I feel that you will be just and fair enough to allow me to reply to your Tuesday's editorial.

I have in no way criticized or reflected upon anyone. I am making a clean campaign, upon a dignified high plane, based solely upon my official record.

When I remained on the job in Washington, busy with official duties, attending to the business of my constituents nearly two thousand miles from home, for several months I was maliciously maligned, slandered and libeled. I knew what was going on only through letters written me by friends.

When for the first time my record on the bench as a district judge twenty years ago was attacked, naturally one of my close friends who had served on my juries, and was biased in my favor, should be excused for expressing a high opinion of my record, when advising me of such attacks.

Inasmuch as such attacks were being repeated in the Washington press, I had the right to quote what my friends were saying in reply. My friends who wrote me assure me that there is not one untrue statement made by them, and I know absolutely that every statement I made myself was true and correct, and I challenge anyone over their signature to show that any statement was not true.

I am a close personal friend of both Judge Davenport and Judge Patterson, and have for each of them the highest regard and confidence, and in no way did I reflect upon either of them. Their close friends who serve as jurors under them in their courts would undoubtedly express the same high opinion about their record, as my close friend expressed about my own.

I am not going to be drawn into a mud-slinging campaign. If I can't be re-elected on my record, I do not want the office. I am receiving scores of letters daily, congratulating me on conducting my campaign upon a high plane.

Very sincerely,
THOMAS L. BLANTON.

Laughing Around the World

The Matrimonial Shopper

By IRVIN S. COBB

A YOUNG Scotchman, methodical, painstaking, and sincere, as so many of his race are, had been a bachelor of long standing. Since coming to this country he had saved his money until now he felt he was qualified properly to support a domestic establishment. One day he went to a friend:

"I've about decided to get married," he said. "In fact, I'm looking around now for a wife."

"Where are you looking?" asked his friend. "I'll tell you," said the Scot. "It's my belief that the girls who work as clerks in the big department stores here in New York are mighty fine types. As a rule, they are well-dressed and tidy and good looking and have nice ways. They must be self-reliant or they wouldn't be working. They have to be intelligent or they couldn't hold their jobs. They know how to make a dollar go a long distance or they couldn't dress as well as they do on the modest wages most of them get."

"My notion is this: On pretext of wanting to buy something, I am going to tour the big shops until I see a girl behind a counter who seems to fill my requirements. Then I'm going to find out her name and make private inquiries as to her character and disposition, and if she answers all the requirements I'll secure an introduction to her and if she seems to like me I'm going to ask her to marry me."

Six months went by. The cautious Scot and the man to whom he had confided his plan of campaign met again. The latter thought his friend looked rather careworn and unhappy.

"How are you getting along?"

"Well," said the Scot, "I'm a married man, if that's what you mean."

"Well, did you follow the scheme you had in mind—I mean the one you told me about the last time I saw you?"

"Yes, I married a girl that worked at Macy's."

"Congratulations. How's everything getting along?"

The Scot fetched a small sigh.

"Sometimes," he said, "I can't help thinking that maybe I might have done better at Gimbel's."

(American News Features, Inc.)

are New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Indiana.

Together, these four states have almost half enough votes to elect a president. If the entire bloc were added to either south or west, and a few incidental votes thrown in, there would be no doubt of the result.

All four are, at the moment, under democratic governors, although all normally are rated as republican in national elections. That the republicans will try for them intensively is certain. Landon not only is planning to make his first major away-from-home speech in New York state, but he may visit all the other three on the way.

That the democrats will make a real fight even for such normally rock-ribbed republican states as Pennsylvania cannot remain a secret after the pains taken to compliment and woo the Philadelphians at the democratic convention hall and Franklin field.

These four states may not, in the end, prove quite so pivotal as both sides now seem to think, but they are worth watching.

GAS-PROOF TENT

LaVerne Purvis Winner of Revue, Centennial Trip

Miss LaVerne Purvis, representing John H. Garner's, won first place in the chamber of commerce bathing revue held at the Lake Cisco pavilion Saturday. She will receive a two-day trip to the Texas Centennial as an award.

Miss Helen House, representing the Community Gas company, won second place. Miss Golda Harrell, representing the Laguna hotel, won third. Second place winner will receive a season pass to the Lake Cisco swimming pool and third place a $5 book of swim tickets.

More than 5,000 saw the revue as the crowd jammed the pavilion and the edges of the pool.

Others entered in the revue were Misses Helen Page, Brown Sanatorium; Nadine Mayhew, Leach Stores; Betty Groce, West Texas Utilities; Florence Jensen, J. C. Frankly Speaking

By FRANK LANGSTON

There's something about a cop. There's a characteristic—besides the flat feet which all New York Irishmen on the force are supposed to have—which distinguishes him from the rest of humanity. He hates personal publicity—or at least makes a great show of disliking it, at the same time taking a great part in the cheering and razzing when another member of the force gets his name or picture in a paper—for any reason whatever.

So it was that E. O. Hendricks today was making a lot of bluster and show over the fact that he unwittingly wandered into this column. It all happened when Henry Stubblefield, day desk sergeant, remarked:

"Nothing has been happening since E. O. Hendricks came to work in the daytime." Repercussions from that remark have reached both the desk sergeant and the chronicler of city hall events in Frankly Speaking.

Stubblefield, however, explained it this way:

"He didn't stop to think that we were paying him a mighty big compliment. Why, since he's been working in the daytime everybody's so scared that there's no meanness at all going on."

The new city directory resting on my desk this morning has made one big hit at least. There are two features in it, besides the regular listing of residents and business firms which are bound to be appreciated by any business man or news writer.

There are a numerical telephone directory and a street and telephone guide. Such streets as Ash, Austin, Railroad, Ramsey, and others not very well known are listed, together with their exact location and with every house and its resident on them. That's a big help sometimes.

The numerical telephone directory begins with number 2, the Red Front Drug Store. I've often wondered who is number one. Now that the directory reveals there is no number one, there pops up the question of

Rate Reductions Are Aid to Farmers

AUSTIN, July 9.—Millions of dollars were saved Texas farmers and ranchmen during the drouth, depression and dust-storm periods by freight rate reductions initiated by the railroad commission, Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the commission, declared recently.

Thompson, a candidate for reelection to the commission in the July primaries, has given full explanation of the commission's freight rate decisions in his campaign speeches.

When the drouth situation became acute two years ago, Thompson took the initiative in bringing about lower freight rates on cattle, food-stuff and farm products to tide farmers and ranchmen through the period of stress.

Millions of dollars were saved farmers by reductions in rates on grain, while the initiation of a carload shipment plan for cotton has reduced the cost of shipping a bale of Texas cotton from the interior to the ports more than half.

A typical example of the reduction in the cost of shipping cotton is one small North Texas town where this rate has been reduced from $4 per bale to $1.55.

The total saving to Texas cotton farmers last year from the new cotton shipment plan was in excess of two million dollars.

Walter Woodward To Head Texas Lawyers

DALLAS, July 9. (AP)—Walter C. Woodward of Coleman was elected president of the State Bar association defeating Joe H. Barwise of Fort Worth in a close race here yesterday.

The election was made unanimous after the ballot was counted on Barwise' motion.

A thirteenth juror to serve as an alternate for criminal cases was advocated on the grounds such a move would speed justice, provide a great saving of time and public money, and prevent many dismissals of cases because of jurors becoming ill after trials are well under way.

Advertisement for Ernest O. Thompson, Railroad Commissioner. Text includes: 'ERNEST O. THOMPSON for Railroad Commissioner. PROTECT THE FUTURE OF TEXAS' SCHOOL CHILDREN! THE men who founded Texas made wise provision for the education of Texas children by dedicating large tracts of public lands to free Public Schools. These lands had but little value and brought but little income until discovery of oil and gas made them extremely valuable. School funds receive the income. The Common School Permanent Fund now is $5,466,703.71 and that of the University of Texas and Texas A. & M. College is now $18,490,411.71. This is chiefly due to oil and gas leases and royalties. This income varies directly with the price of oil. When the East Texas oil field was wastefully "wide open," oil dropped to 10 and 15 cents a barrel. The income of the Permanent School Funds during the year September 1, 1932, to August 31, 1933, totaled $1,569,266.22. Then the Railroad Commission of Texas, under the able leadership of Ernest O. Thompson, chairman, enforced the present legislative policy of conservation. Immediately, the price of oil went to $1.00 a barrel. In the year September 1, 1934, to August 31, 1935, the income of the two Permanent School funds rose to $3,797,562.27. This was a clear dividend to the school children of Texas of $2,228,296.05 per year over the chaotic period of wasteful oil production. SAFEGUARD THE FUTURE OF YOUR CHILDREN! POLITICS at random

By BYRON PRICE (Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

The party conventions and what has followed go a long way toward confirming that the presidential campaign will rise to great intensity in certain special sectors of the east and midwest.

The democrats are assuming that Roosevelt will have the solid south, and the republicans are taking it for granted that Landon will enjoy his greatest vote-getting power in the west.

It is the stretch from the Mississippi to the Atlantic seaboard, north of Mason and Dixon's line, where each side now seems bent on picking up enough additional votes to tip the balance and assure the election of its candidate.

Not that either side is conceding anything elsewhere. Certainly the democrats, who not long ago were counting the west a rather definite part of their electoral nest-egg, hardly will give up plans for an aggressive campaign there. Similarly, the republicans, aware of the open restlessness of some southern democrats under Roosevelt, may be expected to try again to break the south as they did in 1928.

But a theory taking all of these things into account, and transcending them, still points to the east and midwest as the scene of the principal shooting.

Picture Reversed This theory, on the democratic side, is that if Roosevelt were to lose the south, there would be no hope for him anyway. On the republican side, the reasoning takes the form of a supposition that if Landon can't carry the west, he might as well quit.

So far as the republicans are concerned, this directly reverses the assumption of a year ago, when it was not known who the party nominee would be. Party planners then were figuring that any republican who couldn't carry the east rather solidly to begin with had no chance of election and that the west would be the real debated ground.

Landon's nomination, and the rise of his western group to party control, changed that. It was one of those extraordinary turnings which make politics so unpredictable.

The practice of party organizations is, in general, to center their pressure on those needed areas where the candidate is supposed not to be at his strongest, yet has a chance. That area happens to be, for both parties, the east and midwest; since Roosevelt is regarded as surest of his ground in the south and Landon's followers believe him strongest in the west.

Four Pivotal States The indications today point to four states as special possibilities for that kind of pressure. They

Absentee Voting Of County Begins As Ballot Issued

Absentee voting for the county began Monday with the issuance of the first absentee ballot to Louis Griggs.

The law provides that qualified electors may cast absentee ballots three to 20 days before the date upon which the election is to be held. The ballots are issued by the county clerk upon receipt of the proper application.

Absentee ballots may be cast either in person or by mail. Electors must include 15 cents postage with applications mailed to the county clerk.

MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

Chapter 14
THRILL FOR NANCY
"Captain Reeves? Why?"

"I've got an idea he went up to the Court on Monday afternoon."

"Whatever makes you think that, Dale?"

"I just do think it, that's all," Dale said, childishly pleased with the air of mystery he had succeeded in inducing into the conversation.

"But why on earth hasn't he said anything about it?"

"I don't know," Dale answered slowly. "I wonder. But he came home early from hunting that afternoon if you remember."

"Yes, but—"

"I hope this frost won't hold till Friday," Dale said in his acrobatic conversational style. "I want to try that new mare."

"You have bought one then?"

"I haven't paid for her—still I suppose that sort of thing doesn't worry you Nancy. I often wonder—" if you realize how lucky you are; you've got a couple of hunters and a nice place and everything you want."

"More tea Dale?"

"Thanks; a bit stronger this time."

Nancy took the proffered cup and filled it in silence.

"Is that all right Dale?"

"Yes thanks, that's fine."

Dale shot a more careful look at his guest. He had never before in his life regarded Nancy Featherstone in the light of a woman, he had known her too long, and somehow, always considered her too essentially uninteresting; but as a matter of fact this afternoon she didn't look half bad, and she certainly knew how to ride.

"Cigaret Nancy?" he asked, and his hand went automatically to his waistcoat pocket, but it returned empty, his usual swagger silver case was not there and he had to fish out a shabby looking yellow packet from a side pocket.

"Thank you Dale."

"You smoke a good deal, don't you?"

"Um. Too much, I'm afraid."

"Good Heavens, what does it matter? Life's short anyway."

Nancy laughed at this newly found philosopher. For half an hour now she had basked in unwanted sunshine, never had she known Dale so friendly before. They talked easily and quietly, almost instinctively slipping into their mood by stages that Nancy could hardly recall when afterwards she went back slowly over the scene.

Somewhat the conversational needle swung round to its inevitable north, and with the mention of Enderton Court and what had happened there illusion left the scene.

"Did you see your uncle after that row you had with him last week, Dale?"

"What row?" Illusion had gone now with a snap.

"Why, last week, I met you in the fields behind the Court, and you told me you'd seen your uncle and how trying he was, don't you remember?"

"Yes—I remember." He had told her, and he had completely and utterly forgotten even meeting her then; he cursed his stupid tongue which was always ready with the latest thing that had happened to him. "We didn't have a row, of course, and as a matter of fact I don't think I've mentioned it to anybody else."

"If you like, you can consider that you didn't even mention it to me," Nancy said with a sudden smile.

"I'm very sorry to disturb you, sir, but if you please—"

"Don't be a fool woman," Dale growled. "You're not disturbing anyone. Come in and switch on the light."

Mrs. Somers duly banished the friendly fireglow with the merciless efficiency of electricity, and Ranger, in such paroxysms of delight that he might have been separated from his goddess for half a life time, made a tumultuous entry.

"What is it?" Dale asked.

"Please, sir, there's someone to see you."

"Who is it?"

"Mr. Lawson from the Court lodge, sir."

In the middle of replying to Ranger's ecstatic lunacies Nancy happened to glance up at that moment and was astounded to see all the color suddenly drain from Dale's face. It was as though he had opened an unexpected telegram bearing the worst news in the world.

"Tell Mr. Lawson I'll see him in a minute," he said at last.

Nancy jumped to her feet. "I must be going," she said. "Thank you so much, Dale, for—for tea, and—and everything."

"That's all right, Nancy. Very pleased you could come in. Good-bye."

"Good-bye, Dale. I—I—"

They stood facing one another for a moment on the front door step.

"What is it?" Dale asked almost harshly. Nancy wanted to tell him not for the world would she say anything to anybody about their meeting in the fields the other day and about what he had told her of his quarrel with his uncle; but for some reason or other she couldn't.

"Nothing, Dale," she said awkwardly. "I just wanted to say 'thank you,' that was all. Come on, Ranger. Good-bye, Dale; see you out on Friday, I suppose?"

"Probably."

Dale waited until she had reached the wicket gate where she turned and waved shyly to him, and then shutting the door he went back to what awaited him in Fielden Cottage.

When tea was over and done with in Fielden Cottage and Nancy Featherstone, attended by the still exuberant Ranger, was making her somewhat unhappy way home, Detective Inspector Hylton rapped eagerly on the door of the police cottage in Hope Enderton.

He had been for a long tramp during the afternoon as an aid to thought and was mentally and bodily stimulated in consequence. At that moment the Inspector's mind was filled, almost to the exclusion of everything else, with visions of a lightly boiled egg and large slices of thick white bread and butter.

The door was opened to him by a woman whom he had no difficulty in recognizing. He had seen her photograph once already, and attractive though it had been he had to confess that the reality was far more attractive still.

Alice White was a finely made woman of about thirty-six. She was broad-shouldered, generous breasted, broad-hipped; in coloring she was very dark, almost as though she had a touch of the barbaric beauty of the Romany about her, and when her full free lips parted in laughter they showed magnificently white and even teeth.

"Friend White knows where to pick 'em, apparently," was the Inspector's unspoken comment.

"Did you want to see Mr. White?" the woman asked pleasantly.

Hylton introduced himself and was instantly made welcome.

"Oh, come in please, Mr. Hylton. I'm sorry I didn't know you. I've heard a lot about you already, of course, Jimmy's gone off on some job or other about this awful murder business, I expect."

"He's gone off on a wild goose chase, I'm afraid," Hylton said laughingly as he stepped into the house. "At least I think he has. It's his admirable devotion to duty which made him go, not me. Do you realize what a painstaking husband you have, Mrs. White?"

Alice White laughed and showed her even gleaming teeth. "I expect he's very much the same as any other husband," she said, "when he isn't at home you miss him, and when he is he's a nuisance."

The Inspector smiled in response and sat down doing his best to look like a man who is in sore need of a cup of tea. He succeeded; the very next thing Alice White said was, "Would you like a cup of tea, Mr. Hylton?"

Kingsley beamed. "I should not only like it," he said, "I should probably die without it, and, Mrs. White—"

"Yes?"

"—catch a hen and shake it until an egg appears and then boil same lightly, would you?"

Alice White gave a peal of cheerful laughter. "Boil you an egg for tea? Of course. If you make yourself comfortable here I'll run into the kitchen and get it done in no time."

"Can't I have my tea in the kitchen," he begged, "and watch you deal with the egg?"

Sergeant White's wife, disappearing through the door, stopped and looked over her shoulder. "Of course you can," she said, "if you really want to. I'd like it," and she treated Hylton to a slow, appraising smile which he found slightly disconcerting.

Precinct 4 Road Program Already Has 58 Thousand

Federal grants to precinct 4, by the WPA, for three lateral roads projects amount to $58,671.14. Commissioner Arch Bint told the Cisco Press, and in addition there has been approved by the WPA more than $200,000 for lateral road projects in this precinct, which will be undertaken as soon as labor is available to do the work. So, according to Commissioner Bint, the precinct is and will be the beneficiary of federal bounty to the amount of $258,671.14 when the approved projects have been completed.

3 Projects Under Way
The three lateral roads projects covered by the report includes the Cisco-Canyon road, the Dothan-Cottonwood road and the Dothan-Scranton road. These projects are all three nearing completion, which will give this precinct a splendid system of lateral roads, connecting up other highways of the county, giving the farmers of this part of the county all-year highways to market their produce.

These three lateral roads projects, when complete, alone mean a grant of $58,671.14, plus the $200,000 for other approved projects to be expended in the county when labor is available.

These projects, discussed by Bint, and the amount of federal grants for each project, include: The Cisco-Canyon road: Labor, $9,102; truck hire, $1,625; team hire, $1,319; gravel, $357; cement, $959.44; reinforced steel, $364.52. Total federal funds granted for the project, $13,727.46.

The Dothan-Cottonwood road: Labor, $21,544; truck hire, $4,680; team hire, $3,549; gravel, $795; cement, $2,022.75; reinforced steel, $647.95. Total federal funds granted for the project, $33,238.68.

Dothan-Scranton road: Labor, $7,499.50; truck hire, $2,191.50; team hire, $1,539.08; cement, $475. Total federal funds granted for the project, $11,705.08. Total federal funds granted on the three lateral roads project, $58,671.14.

Detailed Statement
Included was a detailed statement of how these expenditures were made and for what purpose.

The following prices for labor were fixed by the federal administrator at Washington, and the commissioners court had no say as to what should be paid to men, teams or trucks; truck hire, 50c per hour; drivers, $36 per month; teamsters for 2-up teams, 35c per hour, and $36 per month for driving the teams. Money for gravel is being paid to property owners adjacent to the projects, where available, cement and reinforced steel is being purchased from local lumber yards so that the entire amount of the federal grants will be expended in the county for all projects.

These projects are giving employment to 234 men, for a total period of 23 months. These laborers are selected from all over the county by the U. S. labor office without regard to precinct lines, assigning sufficient men for each project. The rate of pay for all labor and equipment is fixed in Washington, all materials are bought on competitive bids from the lowest bidder, and all this is furnished by the WPA, with only the expense of the foreman, tractors and graders and operators being paid by the county on all projects.

All roads are being graded, low places filled in, hills cut down to improve the grades, curves being straightened to make safer, location straightened where necessary, and deep and hazardous ditches filled in with rock to prevent erosion.

All draining structures are built with substantial rock abutments, and wing walls, with reinforced concrete tops and head walls.

Rights-of-Ways Donated
Land for the right-of-way for all three projects have been donated by the property owners abutting on the road, at no cost to the county. Each project has a 60-foot right-of-way.

Bint gave a more detailed description for each of these projects as follows:
Cisco-Canyon road—27 acres of land for 60-foot roadway; 8.8 miles of fence set back and rebuilt, new posts furnished at no cost to county; nine drainage structures which, if built by contract, would cost $260 to $1,100 each, no cost to county except wire, nails and form lumber; 3,488 cubic yards of gravel, at a contract value of $3,139.20, placed at no cost to the county.

Dothan-Cottonwood road — 27 acres of land for 60-foot roadway; 22 miles fence set back and rebuilt, new fence posts cut and furnished at no cost to county or property owner; 40 permanent drainage structures with rock abutments, wing walls, reinforced concrete tops and head walls, whose contract value would be approximately $13,230; 15,900 cubic yards of gravel of a contract value of $14,300, placed at no cost to the county.

Dothan-Scranton road — Seven acres of land donated for 60-foot roadway; 3 miles of fence set back, rebuilt, new posts cut and furnished at no cost to the county; 7 permanent drainage structures with rock abutments and wing walls and timber decks, which if built by contract would have cost $288 to $2,000 each, or a total of $6,094, only cost to the county was bridge foreman; 705 cubic yards of gravel, contract value of $6,345 placed on the job at no cost to the county other than county machinery for cutting sub-grade and maintaining same.

$250,000 Federal Funds
Since this work started in December there has been expended approximately $250,000 in the county, covering labor, teams, trucks and material, by the federal department for lateral road improvement alone.

Think of the season of torture Summer—before the discovery of the electric fan. And think, too, how noisy and inefficient those first fans were, and how much costly current it took to operate them. Today fans are smartly designed and quiet in operation. So use plenty of fans this Summer—they're inexpensive to buy and to operate, and they turn a torrid Summer into a cool, healthful Fall, indoors! And it's astonishing how much cooling one gets for one cent!

Frontier Fair Opening July 18 Sure, Says Rose

(Special to The Daily Press) FORT WORTH, July 9.—Completion of construction for the Fort Worth frontier centennial assures the opening of the $5,000,000 grand amusement center as definitely scheduled for July 18, Billy Rose, director general announced today.

Rehearsals for all of the major attractions—Casa Manana, the last frontier and jumbo—are now in the final stages and any of the productions could be opened within 24 hours, Rose added. Among the stars already on the grounds are: Eddie Foy, Jr., who followed the footsteps of his famous father up the ladder to stardom; Sally Rand who has developed a new, sensational electrical ray dance; Everett Marshall famous Broadway vocalist; Hugh Cameron whose most recent success was in Earl Carroll's, "Of Thee I Sing!" A. P. Kaye famous English actor who made his first hit in New York with the Irish Players; Jack Soanes famous character actor last seen in "Cornell," Wynn Sahoo who deserted the cinema to play the leading role in Jumbo, and several others who desiring a rest are here incognito.

Star Recovering

Fanny Brice, whose illness stopped the Ziegfeld Follies, is reported to be rapidly recovering and is expected to join her husband, Billy Rose, here soon.

Paul Whiteman and an array of other stage, screen and radio stars are scheduled to arrive within a few days.

Motion picture newsreel men are now on the grounds making pictures of rehearsals and the vanguard of the parade of stars. "Nothing but a major catastrophe can prevent the Fort Worth frontier centennial from opening as scheduled on July 18, Billy Rose said. "We set no date for the opening until we were positive that even the most minor details would be fully developed prior to the opening as it is poor showmanship to open a show before it is ready."

AMARILLO, Tex., July 9.—July 1 estimates of wheat production in Texas, released Friday by the agricultural department of the Santa Fe Railway, placed output at 13,598,000 bushels, compared with 10,010,000 bushels last year and an average normally of 41,085,000 bushels.

Letters From Our Readers

HAYDENS ARE APPRECIATIVE

(The Cisco Daily Press recently published a life sketch of one of the leading and best known pioneer cattlemen of this section, Ed Hayden, and in appreciation of this sketch the Press is in receipt of the following letter.
