The following cases have been filed in the district clerk's office for litigation in the 91st district court:

Bessie May Bush vs. James E. Bush, divorce and custody of children. Mrs. J. L. Pippen vs. J. G. McClary, injunction. Lucille Head vs. C. M. Head, divorce. Carrie E. Tipton vs. Fannie J. Kimmell, apportionment and receivership. E. H. Connell vs. Josephine Connell, divorce. Elizabeth Williams vs. A. D. Williams, divorce and custody of minor children. Gertrude Howard vs. A. P. Howard, divorce. In re estate of William Tilman Stubblefield, appointment of successor trustee. Mary Norton vs. S. B. Norton, to set aside former judgment decreeing division of property. Stella Alexander vs. William Alexander, injunction.

Notes
Judge Davenport, as presiding judge of the ninth judicial district, has assigned himself to preside over the Tarrant county district court during the trial of O. D. Stevens, recently returned from Alcatraz prison to face charges of murder in the Handley triple murders, in which Judge William M. McGregor, whose bench he will occupy, has been disqualified by reason of having participated in the prosecution of associated hearings. Judge Davenport will leave for Fort Worth Sunday, Sept. 13.

THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH DISTRICT COURT

(Judge Patterson, Presiding)
New Cases Pending
The district clerk has docketed the following new causes of action for litigation in the 88th district court:

Claude L. Murray vs. Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., action to collect insurance policy. Mrs. Brice Elizabeth Walker vs. H. D. Walker, divorce. Bell Smith vs. Roy L. Smith, divorce. Eastland Investment Co. vs. S. B. Norton, foreclosure of lien. Pauline Bailey vs. Melvin Bailey, to set aside and annul marriage contract. D. K. Williams vs. C. Rosenfield, note. Mrs. Beulah Boyd et al. vs. The Fidelity Casualty company of New York, suit on policy. Sarah Pratt vs. Martin Pratt, divorce. Katie Louise Johnston vs. J. F. Johnston, divorce.

Judgments and Orders

Ex parte Howard E. and Bessie Deas, application for adoption of Belinda Burnam, minor. The court finding that applicants are in all matters proper persons to become the adoptive parents of said minor, their petitions were approved, and it is therefore adjudged and decreed that the petitioners herein are authorized to adopt said minor as their own child, and it is further decreed that the name of said minor shall hereafter be Ann Deis.

Ex parte M. A. Clatt, application for letters of adoption of Glenn Green, minor, son of Mrs. M. A. Clatt by a former marriage, and it appearing to the court that the said minor is more than 14 years of age and agrees to said adoption, the application of the said M. A. Clatt is approved, and it is decreed that letters of adoption be issued, and it is further decreed by the court that the name of said minor be changed to Glenn Clatt.

Clarence Metz vs. The A. W. Drilling company, application of W. A. Stiles, receiver, for ratification of his execution of a release to J. B. Johnson and wife to a certain gas and oil lease, is hereby approved.

Grand Jury Convened

Judge Patterson will convene the grand jury drawn for the September term Monday, which will be empaneled and at once begin a probe of the infractions of the criminal laws of the state. The full personnel is as follows:

Henry Case Pending

The cases of Della Henry, murder in connection with the death of H. L. McBe, the Rising Star skeleton murder, and the case of Fela Campbell, murder, in connection with the death of Burford Farver, are the outstanding criminal cases pending in the 88th court. However, Judge Patterson said none of the criminal cases will be assigned until the grand jury renders its first report. The September term of the court will convene Monday. Juries have been drawn for the second, third and fourth week of the court, but these will not be released until it was determined for what week they will be summoned for service.

Cases Dismissed

On motion of Criminal District Attorney Grady Owen the following criminal cases have been dismissed on account of insufficient evidence: Tom Burns, swindling, indicted March 16, 1932. T. J. Norton, drunk driving, indicted April 6, 1934. Mary Lou Howell, conspiracy to rob, indicted Sept. 6, 1934. Mary Lou Howell, murder, indicted April 6, 1934. Elmer Van Clave, murder, indicted Sept. 6, 1934. E. L. Huntington, felony theft, indicted Nov. 1, 1935.

The cases against Mary Lou Howell and Elmer Van Clave were in connection with the robbery and murder of L. F. Throet, and is in accordance with the mandate of the court of criminal appeals, which tribunal found that the charges against Van Clave, who had previously been convicted on his plea of guilty in Callahan county and given a two-years sentence on a charge of conspiracy to rob, and the Howell woman was tried in the Callahan county court on a robbery with fire arms. This case was reversed by the criminal appeals court of her 20 year sentence. Also the court held that the death sentence against Clifford Doggett was so intimately connected with his conviction in a former trial at Baird in which he was given a life sentence, that the two constituted one and the same offense, and therefore placed him in former jeopardy. The death case was reversed and dismissed.

The murder case against Van Clave was a companion case, which has just been dismissed by the court.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE COUNTY CLERK

Matters in Probate

H. S. Childress executor under the will of Mrs. Mattie E. Venable, deceased, application to probate will, approved, and M. D. Gibson, F. V. Tunnell and M. G. Joyce named appraisers, and will ordered probated.

In re guardianship of Thornton Cooper, resignation of Frances H. Cooper, approved after filing her final report showing full and proper account of all property coming into her hands. It was the decree of the court that her resignation be accepted and the guardian and bondsmen be relieved of all liability. At the same time it appearing to the court that a necessity existed for a guardian, and Hall Walker was appointed to succeed Frances H. Cooper, resigned. His bond was placed at $1,000, which he filed with E. H. Mills and W. F. Creager as sureties. The court allowed from the estate of the said Thornton Cooper $15 per month for the care and maintenance of his minor child and Frances H. Cooper.

The court approved the report of Mrs. Alice Odom, guardian of the estate of Russell Owen, N. C. M., in which it was recited that the loan of $8,000 of the funds of said ward, authorized to be loaned on real estate in Abilene and Ranger, to Hal Walker, had been reduced to $5,200, and upon the showing of said guardian that the Abilene property had increased in value, and that it was now sufficient to secure the remainder of said loan, the guardian was authorized to release the Ranger property as the owner had an opportunity to sell the property at this time.

Best Livestock Show for County Expected Oct. 16

T. G. Caudle, vocational agriculture teacher in Cisco high school and agriculture expert of the chamber of commerce, today was looking forward to the best Eastland county livestock in the history of the exhibit, to be held here October 16 and 17.

A large entry list, both of stock from this area and that from other counties, is indicated for the show.

Discussion of the stock show probably will take place at the next meeting of the chamber of commerce, Caudle said today, in pointing out that plans for the show must be made in the near future. The stock show, which formerly was held here each spring, was changed to the fall season last year.

Irion County Seat Changed to Mertzon

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 10 (AP)—By a vote of 453 to 222, nine more than a two-thirds majority, Irion county voted Saturday to move its county seat from Sherwood to Mertzon.

A $50,000 bond issue was voted in June and a $40,000 grant from the WPA has been applied for, to construct the new building. The new courthouse will be the third county building. The new state highway No. 10 misses Sherwood by two miles.

Administrative offices of various executive divisions of the Kentucky state government are distributed widely over Frankfort in five different office buildings.

THE WORLD WITH A FENCE

A New Novel by Marian Sims

SYNOPSIS: Carol Torrance's first summer working in Blake Thornton's advertising agency in Atlanta has proved that she could, if it weren't for Blake's older and selfish wife, come to love her employer, and he her. Just as matters were tightening up a little uncomfortably, Ellen Sands asks Carol to be her bridesmaid, and now Ellen is coming to Atlanta to buy her trousseau. It will at least take her mind off Blake's unfortunate position, Carol thinks.

Chapter 32
 ANOTHER WORLD
 The next week Ellen arrived, glowing and self-conscious; marked by a new and minute diamond on her third finger. They had lunch together, and Ellen detailed her plans further.

"It'll seem awfully funny to go back to Ashboro as a matron," she chuckled. "The first thing I'd like to do would be to go over and thumb my nose at Mrs. Taylor."

Carol smiled. "Dear Mrs. Taylor! As a matter of fact I ought to be grateful to her. If it hadn't been for her I might have stayed on another year, just because I was afraid to step out."

Ellen looked keenly at her. "You really like it here?"

"I think I do—as much as anywhere. I don't have much time to think."

Ellen was still eyeing Carol shrewdly. "You look a lot better, you know—as if you'd found something. Are you in love?"

"Oh, Lord, no!" The vehemence of her denial startled them both. Ellen said skeptically:

"Well, don't bite my head off. It wouldn't be so strange if you were."

She shook her head. "I wish I could be. I wouldn't deny it; I'd shout it from the office window."

Ellen's eyes glowed. "It does make you feel that way?"

Carol changed the subject abruptly, seeking firmer ground. "What's the news from Ashboro? Did Mike ever come back?"

"He hadn't the last time I asked Mack. Annabel's started divorce proceedings."

Carol's throat contracted at the thought of Mike. She pushed the thought away.

"What's the rest of the news? Mr. Hudson back this year?"

"Yes. He seems to be a fixture. And Mr. Hall too."

It was only with a great effort that she could remember the school as a reality, existing and functioning even as she existed. Queer, she thought, how places ceased to be when you left them; you were invariably surprised that they went on without you, just as they, no doubt, would be surprised to know that you went on without them.

"Where will you live?" she asked.

"We've taken a furnished apartment at Mrs. Houston's on Market street for the time being. Living-room, bedroom and kitchenette."

For the time being Carol's throat swelled at the courage of that phrase; at the youth and hope, and fearlessness of Ellen, who could find her heart's desire in a furnished apartment on Market street, knowing so surely that it was only for the time being.

What's wrong with me? she thought desperately; was I born a thousand years old? She forced herself to say enthusiastically:

"It sounds lovely." And suddenly her eyes stung with tears, so that she laughed unsteadily. "I get positively maudlin when I think how happy you must be."

Ellen nodded soberly. "So do I. But of course it won't always be as good as I think it's going to be. I'm not that blind!"

Ellen stayed two days. Days spent in an orgy of shopping for all the traditional trousseau garments. A "white suit," which meant under-garments of white gossamer, and a bridal nightgown. There was nothing of paganism—to Ellen—in the idea of faring forth upon matrimony in virginal white. She was even planning a trousseau tea, at which these intimate garments would be exhibited to a fluttering and envious circle of friends. Carol remembered unwillingly a remark made by Annie, the Torrance cook, when she was treated to a similar display.

"Gawd, Miss Mary," Annie had chuckled, "you sho is plannin' to tempt him!"

Well, she thought, why not? But she was glad, and ashamed of her own relief, when Ellen went back to Anderson. Ellen was a demoralizing influence for a girl who was trying to keep her mind on advertising.

On Wednesday before the wedding Blake stopped beside Carol's desk.

"What time are you leaving tomorrow?"

She glanced up in surprise, and found his eyes considering her gravely.

"At half-past five," she said. "I think the schedule was arranged especially for me."

"What about your bags?"

"There's only one. I'll leave it at the check room in the morning."

"You can't bring it in on the street car. I'll pick you up on my way in."

She didn't look at him. Does he think of everything? she wondered wildly. Aloud she said:

"Thanks; that would be a help. I was going to take a taxi."

He shook his head. "Rank extravagance. I'll come a little early—about quarter past eight, if that's all right. That'll give us plenty of time. And—I'd be glad to take you to the train."

She wanted to cry: Blake, you mustn't . . . and knew that to refuse his offer would be to invest it with undue significance. And so she accepted.

The girls in the office were excited over the wedding too. They asked innumerable questions, and Freddie begged for a piece of wedding cake to sleep on. "I'll bring you a whole slab," Carol laughed, "and you can all sleep on it—you optimists!"

"And remember all the details," Laura insisted. "So you can tell us about it."

"I'll try. But I'm not very observant about things like that."

She and Blake were silent during the drive to the station. They seemed to have lost the knack of casual interchange, she thought regretfully and was afraid to speculate on the reason. She tried to tell him goodbye at the Terminal entrance but he shook his head.

"Wait for me while I park."

In a moment he was back. "Give me your check," he ordered, "and I'll get your bag while you're buying a ticket."

There was a disturbing intimacy in a departure like this. In the midst of hurrying strangers you were too completely alone with a companion.

He came back with the suitcase, smiling a little. "I never saw a woman travel as light as this. Irma'd have two bags and a trunk."

"Not for three days, surely. Besides, everything I've got wouldn't fill two bags and a trunk."

She gathered up her change and ticket. "Get a porter for that, Blake."

"No need to." For the barest second his eyes were naked. "I'd rather carry it myself."

He went with her to the Pullman and saw that she was settled.

"What time will you be back Sunday?" he asked.

She was startled. You can't meet me! she almost protested, and realized that he had not suggested it.

"At four-ten," she said.

"Well—" he held out his hand, "have a hell of a good time, Carol, and forget the office."

Tears scaled her eyes again. I am getting maudlin, she thought furiously, and gave him her hand.

"I'll try, Blake. But—well, this sort of thing isn't quite my lay."

"It ought to be. You're getting too bloom'n' serious-minded."

The conductor was yelling "All board" in a voice that rolled like thunder under the sheds. He crushed her hand and ran down the aisle as the train lurched.

As he was conscious during the drive home of an unwanted lack of purpose in his movements. His existence and his surroundings were gray, grayer even than usual; and the house seemed empty in spite of Irma's presence and his own.

Irma was more difficult in these days than he had ever known her to be. She made frequent mysterious trips to Dr. Freeman's office, and told him nothing of what happened there. She seemed always to be resting, and refused his every suggestion that they go out in the evening or invite people in.

It mattered little to him that she refused, because the suggestions came from a sense of duty and not from his heart. He had an unquerable sense of disaster impending, and was trying in the only way he knew to ward it off. He was incapable of fighting it single handed.

He knew the root of his foreboding and still denied his knowledge. The gray fabric of his life was shot through with an occasional golden thread, and though he plucked out the threads and threw them resolutely away they appeared a day or a week later, brighter and more precious than before.

One day, unless Irma stretched out her hand to help him, he would destroy the warp and cling to the bright web—to discover perhaps that what he cherished was after all fool's gold.

32 Cisco Scouts Having Big Time At Centennial

(Special to The Daily Press) DALLAS, Sept. 10.—Thirty-two Boy Scouts and Scouters from Cisco were enjoying the Texas Centennial as they spent their second day at the world fair of the Lone Star state.

The Cisco scouts have been comfortably housed in a large tent at Tent City, three blocks from the entrance to the Centennial grounds.

Scouts in Party

Dick Schaefer, Otis Lomax, Lee Smith, C. S. Turner, Billy Montgomery, Tommie Wilson, James Spoon, James Flournoy, Harry Gray, A. G. Bardwell, Charles Yates, Vance Rominger, Wilborn Chormley, W. R. Miller, J. B.

Duff, J. V. Heyser, Harvey Reynolds, Frank Judia, Tom LeMoore, Harry Watkins, Bobby Grantham, Robert Christie, Norman Ball, Jack Martin, Bobby Teague, Kenneth Tomlinson, Phil McCantles, and Berl Martin.

The Ciscoans will visit the Frontier Centennial at Fort Worth tonight before coming home.

Camp Grounds

The tent where the scouts are housed has a wooden floor and siding halfway up the wall and is covered with canvas. Strong canvas cots are furnished with sleeping mats. The boys themselves furnish their cover.

Breakfast each morning is served in a large mess hall on the Tent City grounds. All other meals are served within the Centennial grounds.

A day and night police guard is maintained. A chemical truck and fire extinguishers provide fire protection. A medical tent and a physician also are on the camp grounds and available to the scouts.

Lankford Resigns To Attend University

Livius Lankford has resigned his position with The Cisco Daily Press to attend the University of Texas this fall. Darcy Bruce will take his place as manager of the circulation department.

Lankford today is in Dallas leading a group of Cisco boy scouts in their visit to the Texas centennial.

A public court or building with a portico, in architecture among the Romans and Greeks, is called Basilica.

Dixon Wins Golf Title; Beats Cole Here on Monday

James Dixon of Abilene Monday won the 1936 Cisco golf championship by defeating Houston Cole of Ranger, one up, in 20 holes.

Dixon staged a comeback to overtake Cole after the latter had shot sub-par golf to lead, one up, at the end of the first nine holes. Cole played good golf and sank several long puts to remain in the running during the last few holes but Dixon apparently had the edge over him and won at the twentieth hole.

Bill McMahon of Longview, former Ciscoan and last year's champion, won the first flight consolation by defeating Art McKinney of Abilene, one up. McMahon, who had previously won the driving contest, had lost his first match to Gid Faircloth of Ranger.

Norris Wins Second

Elmer Norris of Ranger won the second flight championship by defeating H. S. Foy of Ranger, 6-4. O. T. Jarvis of Philpeco won from L. V. Simmonds of Eastland, one up, to become champion of the third flight. F. B. Altman defeated A. D. Starling, one up, in the fourth flight finals, and R. L. Gannaway defeated Claude Wilson in the fifth flight.

Sentell Caffrey won the second flight consolation by defeating Byron Wright of DeLeon. J. W. Thornton of Philpeco was the third flight consolation winner with a victory over L. E. Boyd. S. R. Wood defeated S. B. Muller in the fourth flight consolation and Nick Miller was the winner over James Moore in the fifth.

Dixon, the new champion, won his way into the finals by defeating Fred Bedford, J. T. Hammett, and D. A. Harkrider. Cole previously had scored victories over O. V. Cunningham, H. G. Agnew, and James Phillips, champion two years ago.

The tournament this year was the first to be played upon the new grass greens on the Cisco course. Much praise for the course improvements, especially the grass greens, came from the visiting golfers.

Vacuum Tube Study Due at University

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (Spl.)—Preparatory to opening a new field for experimental work in the field of the manufacture of vacuum tubes, incandescent lamps and gasous tube illumination, the department of electrical engineering at The University of Texas has purchased a complete laboratory outfit and will this fall offer courses in one of the newest and broadest lines of scientific research.

During the past few years, several educational institutions have followed the pioneering footsteps of Massachusetts Institute of Technology in establishing courses in this field of work, but in most cases their equipment has consisted of second-hand purchases or gifts from commercial laboratories or has been make-shift equipment devised in their own workshops, according to Dr. J. A. Correll, professor of electrical engineering at the University. Prior to M.I.T.'s entry into this branch of work four years ago, all research and experiment with vacuum tubes and neon tubes were carried on in commercial laboratories.

Senator Norris, Favored by FDR, Seeking Return

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 10. (AP)—Senator George W. Norris, veteran republican independent, supported by President Roosevelt, today became a candidate for re-election to the United States senate, with the filing of his petition bearing over 40,000 signatures in his behalf.

Senator Norris has been supporting the democratic presidential nominees since 1928, and plans his campaign this fall for the re-election of Roosevelt.

Search for Belt Of Vacuum-Weight King

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 10. (AP)—A search is on for a gold and silver belt emblematic of the world's "vacuum weight championship."

The "vacuum" division of the prize ring was the creation of Monte La Mountain, now a Manila cafe proprietor. The story dates back to the younger days of the famous Pancho Villa, the greatest little fighter to invade the United States from the Philippines. When Pancho first scrapped in the Islands he weighed 89 pounds. He was too tough for the little fellows so they threw him into the ring with flyweights and bantamweight. Monte, an early admirer of Pancho, thought the little bundle of dynamite needed some recognition, so he put up the "vacuum-weight" belt. Pancho cleaned up the field and copped the prize.

When Villa went to America, there to win the flyweight title and to be stalked by the tragedy that ended in his death, he took the

MISSISSIPPI STATE uniform and "we do not care to junk it for an extra number which, after all, is not necessary."

Monte belt along. The emblem disappeared and now Monte has started a quiet search for it.

HER REASONS ARE YOUR REASONS

"I HAD always wanted a modern kitchen but thought I couldn't afford it. Particularly I did not see how I could justify the purchase of a new range, since the one I had was still fairly good.

"Then one evening in a Magic Chef advertisement I saw just the kind of a charming modern kitchen I had always dreamed of having; some day, I couldn't resist. Next day I went down to see a Magic Chef demonstrated. Then I realized how sadly old-fashioned and lacking in advanced features my old range was. I realized, too, that in putting up with its bother and inconvenience I was paying for a new Magic Chef gas range without having it. Paying for it in discomfort and dissatisfaction, in nervous strain and sacrifice of leisure, in loss of time and labor. Even paying for it in actual money that Magic Chef saves in gas bills and food. I bought it because I was convinced I couldn't afford to do without it.

Like Mrs. Modern, you, too, can afford to replace your old range with a Magic Chef. Magic Chef will modernize your kitchen, simplify your cooking and baking tasks and shorten your kitchen hours. You'll have less work and worry, more leisure, better cooked and more appetizing food, a cooler and cleaner kitchen.

You can see the modern Magic Chef gas ranges in our store. There is a model, style and price that will meet your individual requirements.

Wreckers Clear Up Debris After Train Smashup

Two wrecking crews this week were busy clearing away and removing the tangled mass of broken and twisted box cars which resulted from the wreck of the Texas and Pacific freight No. 54, east-bound California fruit special, three miles west of Cisco shortly after noon Saturday.

The wreck, caused by a broken wheel on one of the cars, piled up 17 cars, most of them refrigerator cars containing oranges and grapes. One was a tank car.

Line Open Sunday

The wreck tied up traffic on the main line until 5:15 Sunday morning when two wrecking crews completed turning the wrecked cars out of the way and relaying the rails so that a passage for trains could be opened. The wreckers, one from Big Spring on the west, and the other from Fort Worth, started work on the mass about 9 p. m. Saturday. Six hours had been estimated as the time for clearing a path. It required eight.

The wreck occurred at a trestle just behind the Hayden Cooper inn, which was saved from destruction probably by the presence of the stone ditch wall which stopped the broken parts of cars. Mrs. Cooper and other members of the family were in the house at the time. They said they thought a cyclone had struck, so great was the volume of dust and stones that enveloped the house. The terrific noise of the crashing and grinding cars was less frightening than the storm of flying rocks and dust, Mrs. Cooper said.

Move Cars

This week the wreckers resumed their more leisurely work of clearing up the debris by lifting such of the cars as remained whole back upon trucks brought to the scene and placed upon the rails by the big cranes. The great hoists lifted the loaded cars bodily while crews ran the wheels under them.

Screw Worm Control Exhibit for Fair

A screw worm control exhibit with all the "trimmings" will be served visitors to the Eastland county fair September 16-19 by Otis Lerner, district screw worm specialist who is with the U. S. bureau of entomology and cooperating with county agents in screw worm control. Lerner urges all who visit the fair to see his exhibit and discuss control and treatment of this pest of livestock which costs the livestock raisers of Eastland county hundreds of dollars each year in labor, drugs, and loss of livestock.

In discussing his exhibit, Lerner said "it will be of much interest and importance to the ranchers and farmers as the screw worm causes much loss annually by deaths of animals. It also causes other animals to lose weight and to enter the winter too thin to pull through."

H. C. Davis, fair superintendent, has promised a choice location for the screw worm exhibit. Lerner will be in charge of the booth and ready to answer inquiries and explain recommended methods of controlling the screw worm.

Exhibitor Tells How He Selects Sorghums

J. W. McKinney of Shady Grove community, who has a reputation for winning at fairs with his grain sorghum exhibits, made the following explanation to Elmo V. Cook, county agricultural agent, of his methods of selecting and preparing heads:

"I go in the field with my knife and a light box and hunt for the low rich spots, where the cane makes the largest growth. I look for the heads that come up to the standard; usually I'll select about a hundred heads to get the ten that I intend to use.

"Then I go to the house and spread them out on a table in rows being careful that no head looses not even a single grain. I then go over them all and select the best head there is in the pile. Size and purity both considered I then get nine more heads just as much like the first one as possible.

"I put the heads in the shade for about six days so that they will dry out, and then wrap each head separately and put away from mice and weevils."

Central School Transferred Here For Coming Year

Central school district Friday by order of County School Supt. C. S. Eldridge was transferred to the Cisco independent district for a period of one year. The order was issued because transfers of individual students from the district had left an insufficient number of pupils there to maintain a school, the county superintendent explained. The law requires in such cases that the county superintendent temporarily annex the depleted district to another which he considers best able to serve the interests of the students involved.

Most of the children who had been transferred out of the district had come to the Cisco schools, a fact which prompted the county superintendent to issue the formal order of transfer for the entire district.

THE COLD GERM IS WAITING FOR YOUR DEFENSE TO BE LOWERED!

Don't give a "common cold" an even break! The fact that this is good advice is emphasized by the report of leading doctors who point out that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold."

It is well known that sudden chilling of the body after overheating will often cause sneezing, watery secretions or nasal obstruction. Of this, there can be no doubt from the experience of generations of people everywhere. Any sudden change in bodily temperature during winter months such as going from a warm room into a cold one disturbs the heat regulating apparatus of the body and lowers your defense against the insidious attack of the cold germ.

If you heat only one or two rooms . . . if you "huddle" in these warm rooms while the rest of the house remains cold, sudden indoor temperature changes are unavoidable. It's good health insurance as well as good advice to provide adequate heat and a proper circulation of pure warm air in every room of your home during the coming winter months.

If you should catch cold, consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? Hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight in its fatness.—Isaiah 55: 2.

Give us our daily bread To cheer our fainting souls: The feast of comfort, Lord, And peace make us whole. For we are sick of tears, The useless tears we shed, Now give us comfort, Lord, To be our daily bread. —PROCTOR.

Wouldst thou plant for eternity? Then plant into the deep inflexible faculties of man. If the poor toil that we have food, must not the high and glorious toil for him in return that we have light, freedom, immortality.—Carlyle.

The Senate

DR. ALBERT SHAW, editor of the Review of Reviews, argues for six-year terms in the national house of representatives, with one-third of the membership retiring every two years, and maintains that the United States senate, as now formed, gives undue representation in that body to many states of small population. He asserts that the senate is not responsive to public opinion. The New York Sun takes issue with the Review of Reviews editor on the latter statement, pointing to a number of instances to prove that the senate has been more responsive to public opinion than the house and has maintained a show of independence of the White House to a greater degree than the house.

AN even more detached and reasoned view of Dr. Shaw's somewhat querulous criticism of the congressional make-up (his statement seems to have been inspired by a complete dissatisfaction with the result of the system in the administration at Washington, rather than with the functioning of the system itself) should have led the Sun to disagree also with the premise that the principle of representation employed in the senate is disproportionate. Dr. Shaw should remember that the very principle against which he complains, a principle which embodies the accepted idea that geographic representation should be joined to representation by population to achieve the most beneficial and equitable democratic results, is the senate's reason for being. Oddly enough, we have here in Texas a considerable thoughtful complaint against a legislative system because it violates that principle. To partially offset that political mischief the voters of the state are being called upon to adopt a constitutional amendment placing a limit upon the number of representatives which one county may send to the lower house. There is little practical use under the system of senatorial districting that is employed in this state, for a bicameral legislature. Whatever reason for two houses does exist will be virtually eliminated if the people restrict county representation. There would be but little use for a two-house national congress if senatorial representation were shifted from its present basis and determined upon population as is representation in the house. The senate, say what we please about it, has time and again proved itself the more valuable and responsive to the public will of the two. Moreover, to destroy its present composition would mean laying an ax at the very roots of the ideal that this nation is a compact of independent and sovereign states.

WHATEVER complaint against the expressed will of the people as represented in the government at Washington today the able editor of the Review of Reviews might have, his suggestions for improving the system of representation are not calculated to make the method of selecting public officials more effective. They proceed from the arbitrary assumption that the administration in power and the representation in congress are not the choices of the people. If his suggestions were put into effect, on the contrary, Dr. Shaw would find much more numerous and reprehensible the instances of misgovernment and injustice he now deplors. The great populations of New York, Chicago and other large communities would gain gradual dominance of the national house. And it is startling to note that it is in these large centers of population that the most egregious forms of political corruption are practiced through organized gangs of political barons. His suggestions for reforming the American legislative system would simply place the country more and more at the mercy of these influences. The American senate is still the greatest legislative bulwark against the corruption of the democratic ideal and misgovernment in this country.

15 Lettermen To Form Nucleus Of Baylor Gridders

WACO, Sept. 10. (Sp.)—With fifteen lettermen returning, eight of them starters for the Bears last year, Coach Morley Jennings terms his prospects for the 1936 season as "very good, we'll be tougher than last season." Winning eight of eleven contests last fall, the Golden Bears finished the stormy Southwest conference in third place, behind only the mighty Mustangs of Southern Methodist and T. C. U.'s flying Frogs.

The toll of football men taken by graduation was not heavy. Seven linemen were lost, but not a single backfield man was taken. The Baylor freshman team of last year was not outstanding, but it contained several stars who will reinforce the varsity team considerably this fall.

Backfield

Baylor's backfield is especially promising with such lettermen as Lloyd Russell, the singing quarterback and showman from Dallas, Bob Masters, line-plunging halfback from Comanche, Carl Brazzil, ace blocker and defensive demon from Barbers Hill, and Beaumont's Bubba Gernand, blocking halfback, all returning. This quartet, which started practically every game for the Bruins last season, shows great prospects of rounding into one of the outstanding backfield units of this section. Russell, who is playing his last year in the Green and Gold uniform, specializes in end sweeps, broken field running, and punt returning. The signal calling

Centers

The center position will be filled capably by John Reynolds of Waco, two-year letterman. The reserve pivotman are a bit weaker but may develop with Herman Rose of Taylor, and Leonard Bialock and Jack Oswalt as sophomore candidates. At the guard holes, which graduation widened by taking three dependable veterans, Frank Heuser, letterman, seems certain for the call, while the other berth is a wide open scramble between seven eager candidates. Carl Laneri of Ft. Worth and Foster Coleman, both varsity squadmen, are back for guard duty, with three promising sophomores to press

Lion and Rattler Visit Ranger Farm

EASTLAND, Sept. 10.—R. E. Harrell, who operates the G. & H. dairy in Ranger, and whose farm is on Eastland Hill, believes that a mountain lion and a rattlesnake visited his pig pen at the same time early Wednesday morning, as he saw the results of a kill that must have been made by the lion, and heard the warning of the snake as he investigated.

Hearing one loud squeal, coming from his pig pen early in the morning Harrell rushed to the pen and found one of his fattening pigs, which weighed about 70 pounds had been instantly killed. The pig's head had been bitten by some large animal and it was dead before he arrived.

Tracks near the pen indicated that it was a mountain lion, Harrell said, because they were too large to be those of a killer dog. The rattler, like the lion, was not seen, but as Harrell tracked the animal he heard the warning rattle several times, but the snake apparently followed the example of the lion and slipped away in the darkness of the early morning.

them hard. The first-year men are Walter Higgins and Joffre Boles, of Fort Worth, and Billy Foster of Houston. Banks Bradley and Buel Bankston, junior college transfers, will aid in filling these posts.

Three lettermen returned at end. They are Ken Clark of Temple, James Kimbriel of McKinny, and Clois Mansker of McGregor. Sam Boyd, Julie Gernand (brother to Bubba), and Charlie Lawrence are sophomore hopefuls at the wing positions.

The Eight-Mile Boil

By IRVIN S. COBB

AN Easterner went camping in Wyoming. Upon his return he was telling a friend some of his experiences.

to boil some coffee for supper. Now I don't know a thing in the world about cooking; and, besides, we were way out in the desert where there didn't seem to be any firewood handy. "So I hit on the idea of taking a box of matches and touching a light to a clump of bunch-grass. As it blazed up, I'd hold the coffee pot over the flames until the bunch grass had all burned up. Then I'd move along to the next clump and repeat the process.

"Say, old man, when that coffee finally came to a boil I was eight miles from camp!" (American News Features, Inc.)

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Washington's political critics—that coterie of brains and brass who says "that's a good idea" or "that's a poor idea" of any new campaign trick—had some good words to say of the republican $1,000 prize contest on "Why I Am for Roosevelt."

The plan is to give first, second and third prizes of $500, $300 and $200 for the best letters on the subject from anybody but Charles Michaelson or other smart ones from Democratic organizations.

Gains Audience

Offhand it sounded as if Governor Landon's newest pet word, "cockeyed," would fit the proposal. But more study suggested it might be an alert one.

It would give the republicans an audience of democrats, both in conducting the contest and in answering the pro-Roosevelt arguments advanced. Whether it is a large audience or a small one depends on how well the contest is conducted.

Getting democrats to study Landon arguments in preparation for telling why they like Roosevelt better was expected to bring the principal results. You won't see much profit in that for republicans unless you agree that Landon's arguments will sway democrats who read them. Democratic spokesmen say they won't.

Monopoly on Phrases

esque army English gets into circulation and headlines in mid-September when he begins a series of speeches for his former chief, President Roosevelt.

Close friends say early drafts of his first speeches simply bristle with headline material. How the general loves a good firecracker phrase, pickled in vitriol! The ex-cavalryman hasn't been touted as a political peace maker.

Johnson's debut into the 1936 campaign will make even more lopsided the monopoly democrats have on phrase makers, what with Secretary Ickes seemingly at his best.

If the republicans want only to impress the voters with the quiet serenity of Governor Landon in contrast with New Deal speech-making, they could ask nothing better than General Johnson on the warpath for Mr. Roosevelt.

Human and Other Nature

By W. F. BRUCE

I am not a painter. But if you are or intend to be perhaps this would be a good subject for a landscape painting; or rather a bit of sky-scape. A cirro-stratus curtain hangs above the horizon so nearly motionless as not to disturb the picture. The sun is in the scene only in the delicate pinks, and the soft to ardent yellows, and the rosy reds that it throws upon the cloud; or in the black shadows that it produces across the bright face of the cloud through the intervening heads of cumulus clouds that stand above or else hide below the horizon, and shut off the sunlight in certain radiating streaks of black. The dark cumulus heads themselves are fringed by brilliant colors all around their edges. Setting it all off is a reversed secondary reproduction of the whole picture reflected in the lake below. There is little promise of rain in such a cloud; but the very breaks in it that shake one's hopes of rain, are the same breaks that allow the setting sun to paint the sublime picture.

Economist Scores Banker 'Delusions'

DIGSWELL, Hertfordshire, Sept. 9. (P)—Bankers are deluded persons and prefer to remain deluded, declared Prof. Frederick Soddy, British scientist and economist, at a prosperity campaign conference here.

"Under the present monetary system, war is the only possible outlet for the great resources modern science has provided," Soddy said. "Democracy is a failure because it cannot create money."

Frankly Speaking

By FRANK LANGSTON

Livius Lankford, erstwhile circulation manager of The Daily Press, has seen need for more education and resigned to attend the University of Texas during the coming year. Meanwhile he has turned Press correspondent from the Texas centennial while serving as a leader of some 30 boy scouts visiting the exposition.

His first dispatch, which came by mail from Strawn, was written shortly after the scouts' bus left Cisco early Tuesday. It carried a note to the copy editor which said: "It's too dark to write a lead for this—and too rough."

According to a dispatch from Lankford this morning, the scouts are having a wonderful time and are seeing the centennial in detail. The first evening they saw "Cavalcade of Texas," which every Texan ought to see. Earlier in the day they had inspected the General Motors building, federal building, and foods building, besides visiting the Ford assembling plant in downtown Dallas.

"All scouts so far have followed orders given by their group leaders," Lankford wrote, "and have reported a very interesting time."

That part of the scout law which says: "A scout is obedient" apparently is not being overlooked by the Cisco youngsters.

Bedford Tenth District to Transfer All Pupils to Cisco Public Schools

Addition of the Bedford district by group transfer this week brought the total number of outlying districts transferring all pupils to the Cisco school system this summer to five, and the total number of districts transferring pupils here for any purpose to 10, it was announced by Superintendent R. N. Cluck, leaving for a belated vacation in Osage.

Additions for all purposes this summer included Bedford, Friendship, Reich, Shady Grove, and Central. Other districts which already were transferring all pupils here are Dethman and Sandy. Cottonwood, Bluff Branch, and Pleasant Hill send pupils here for high school purposes only.

Cluck said this week that he expected an enrollment of between 1,500 and 1,600 pupils from the 1,700 scholastics next week.

The Cisco district will receive all state and county apportionments as well as all local revenues from districts which transfer all pupils here. In return the pupils will receive a nine-months school term in a Class A school system affiliated with the state department of education, transportation to the Cisco school, and more adequate equipment, and individual attention.

Oysters Not Fat In R-Less Months
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—With the season only 10 days old, this reported set out Sept. 10 to fathom the mystery of an oyster's strange affinity with "R"-months.

"What does the oyster know about months and spelling?" was the first question shot at Fred F. Johnson, assistant superintendent of the division of fishery industries.

"Mensibus erratis vos ostrea manducatis," answered Mr. Johnson.

"What?"
He repeated the Latin phrase. "Come, come, Mr. Johnson." Painstakingly the official explained he was answering the question by quoting the Romans—"Oysters should be eaten only in certain months."

He said the belief that they should not be eaten in a month the name of which lacks an "R" goes back many hundreds of years. "However," he added, "it's silly. Oysters harvested in the summer are entirely edible."

"During the summer spawning season," explained the official, "the oyster loses weight and is not quite so fat although it tastes just as fine as at any other time."

He added there is an ever-growing demand for summer oysters and predicted it may soon be met by marketing those caught and frozen in winter months.

The division thinks so highly of the bivalve as a food that its chief, R. H. Fiedler, has written a biography of an oyster.

The division also has dished out 29 separate ways to cook oysters, including everything from a system called "pigs in blanket" to "oysters in parchment."

Christians Urged To Fight for Peace

MONTREUX, Switzerland (AP)—The intervention of Christendom to maintain peace is urged in resolutions adopted here by the management committee of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the churches. Twenty-five countries sent representatives to the meetings.

The committee decided to send delegates to the world peace rally which is being held in Brussels in September.

Survey of University of Texas Land To Be Completed During This Month

(Special to The Daily Press)
AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—All of the field work connected with the survey of the 2,000,000 acres of land owned by the University of Texas will be completed some time this month, with the possible exception of a tract of 11,520 acres in El Paso county. It has not yet been determined by the board of regents whether the El Paso lands shall be embraced in the present survey, due to the fact that during the last few years there has been no demand for them for grazing purposes.

This resurvey, as it should probably be designated, is the largest undertaking of its kind since the solid body of 3,000,000 acres of land in Northwest Texas, originally granted the Capitol Syndicate of Chicago in exchange for the construction of the state capitol at Austin, was resurveyed some years ago. The Capitol Syndicate land resurvey resulted in the discovery of an excess of 80,000 acres which reverted to the state.

Original Survey
The original survey of the 2,000,000 acres of endowment lands of the university was necessarily roughly made due to the remoteness of the several tracts and the inadequacies of field equipment. It will not be determined for several months, perhaps, whether or not there were excesses or deficiencies in the original surveys. These will be shown when the field notes and other data of the survey have been worked out under the direction of the land department of the university.

The resurvey of these lands was started in 1929. In some respects it has been a stupendous job, due in some instances to the rough region in which some of the tracts were situated. The work is in charge of Frank Friend, special surveyor of the University, with headquarters at San Angelo. The surveying crews have just finished running the lines and placing the boundary monuments on the university's tract of 184,960 acres in Pecos county, and has begun work on its 64,080-acre block in Culberson county. The erection of boundary monuments on more than 2,000 square miles of university lands in Schleicher, Irion, Reagan, Crockett, Upton, Terrell and Pecos counties was recently completed. These permanent markers were designed by Mr. Friend. They are constructed on concrete and have a length of four feet. Embedded in the top of each monument is a brass plate representing four sections of land, each of 640 acres, with the numbers of the blocks and sections stenciled thereon.

The university lands, with the amount of its holdings in the respective counties of West Texas, are as follows: Andrews, 294,400 acres; Crane, 63,680 acres; Crockett, 356,480 acres; Ector, 6,980 acres; El Paso, 11,520 acres; Huddspeth, 453,120 acres; Culberson, 46,080 acres; Irion, 22,720 acres; Loving, 22,400 acres; Pecos, 184,960 acres; Terrell, 61,440 acres; Schleicher, 57,600 acres; Reagan, 194,560 acres; Upton, 77,440 acres; Ward, 80,640 acres; Winkler, 53,120 acres; and Martin, 14,080 acres.

Actual Value Unknown
While the book value of the 2,000,000 acres is placed at $10,000,000, actual and potential values are matters that would be difficult to estimate. This is due in part to the lack of positive knowledge as to the oil reserves and possibly other minerals upon the lands. This necessity of a resurvey of the enormous acreage was brought about largely by the development of oil on various tracts. At this time there are producing oil fields upon university blocks of land in Reagan, Pecos, Crane, Ector and Ward counties, with a total of approximately 575 wells.

The discovery well upon university land was completed in May, 1923, in what is now the Big Lake field in Reagan county. Since that time wells upon the institution's lands in that and other fields have produced a total of approximately 150,000,000 barrels of oil, of which the university has received as its share, including lease bonuses and rentals, more than $22,000,000, all of which has been placed to the credit of its permanent fund, shared by Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college.

In addition to the 2,000,000 acres which it owns in West Texas, the university has title to 4,130 acres in Galveston county, 200 acres near Fort Davis, which is the site of the W. J. McDonald Observatory, and a considerable acreage in Austin, including the campus of the Main University.

Berwanger Turns Down Pro Offers For Coach's Job

By WILLIAM WEEKES
CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Jay Berwanger could have made himself a lot of quick money in professional football, but the "Flying Dutchman" from Dubuque, Ia., is going back to his alma mater, the University of Chicago, to teach the game this fall—probably for not very much money.

The rugged 190-pounder, who earned all-America honors at half-back last year and for three seasons was called the Maroons' one-man football team, likely could have profited as high as $10,000 a season as member of the Chicago Bears, had he chosen to cash in on his fame.

He was urged by many to grab the money while he could, before turning to the task of building a business career.

Drills Freshmen
Instead, he decided to return to the midway as an assistant to Head Coach Clark Shaughnessy. He will work with the backs, especially the freshmen, and if he can teach as well as he ran, passed and kicked, little Maroon talent should go undeveloped.

Owner George Halas of the Bears who brought Red Grange into professional football, was prepared to go a long way financially to sign Berwanger.

One of the pioneers in the pro game, Halas pictured to himself the throngs which would go to Drigley field and other national professional league parks to watch the back who gained more than a mile of ground during his final season at Chicago, who beat Illinois virtually single-handed, and who all but wrecked Ohio State's season in Big Ten warfare by brilliant ball-carrying and defensive work last fall.

To Start Life Work
Nothing Halas had to offer, however, could convince Berwanger he couldn't do better by starting work immediately on a lifetime job. He has a post with a manufacturing concern which will permit him to give a share of his time to Maroon grid hopefuls. If he is successful he plans to shoot for a full-time coaching job.

So, this fall will find him on the midway practice field, working on a job that pays a lot less than $10,000 a year.

Abo, the oldest city and former capital of Finland, had a population in 1928 of 63,918.

Sister of Late W. H. Kittrell, Sr., Is Buried Friday

A message to Mrs. W. H. Kittrell, Sr., and family of Cisco announced the death Thursday at midnight of one of Texas' pioneer women, Mrs. Lida D. Durst, widow of a pioneer Christian church minister. She died at her home in Junction, Texas, at the venerable age of 82 years and some months. Mrs. Durst was a sister of the late W. H. Kittrell, Sr., former well known and highly esteemed Cisco citizen and minister of the gospel.

The Daily Press carried a story of Mrs. Durst last March, recounting her friendship with General Sam Houston, the first president of the Texas republic and hero of the battle of San Jacinto.

In this story Mrs. Durst said that her father, the late Dr. Pleasant Kittrell, attended General Houston during his last illness, and recalled that as a child she had often sat upon his knee.

Mrs. Durst was buried Friday in Junction.

In her passing it may be said one of the last of the earlier settlers is taken from Texas, as the Kittrell family and the Durst family were two of the oldest in Texas, and for many years were prominent in affairs of the Lone Star state.

Judge Norman G. Kittrell, also a brother of Mrs. Durst, was a member of the legislature from the Harris county district, and took a leading part in the politics of the state, both as a legislator and writer.

Gunsite Will Get Mail From Cisco

Residents of the Gunsite community will receive their mail from Cisco, beginning Sept. 30, it was announced this week by Postmaster Luther McCrea.

McCrea said he had an order from the post office department discontinuing the Gunsite office and announcing that community would be served by the Cisco office on its rural route three.

The population of the Philippines includes about 500,000 Moslems and 500,000 pagans. The bulk of the population is Catholic.

MONUMENT TO SAN JACINTO CAPTAIN

In this, the centennial year of the independence of Texas, many of the celebrities who made it possible for those now living to enjoy the present splendid civilization which their courage, heroism and sacrifices have left to us as a glorious heritage, are being given recognition in monuments of lasting marble. One of the most recent, and of local significance, is that erected to the memory of Captain A. J. Berry, pioneer Callahan citizen, in Ross cemetery near Baird.

Bearing the great seal of the state of Texas, this monument will be unveiled at an early date, the date and program to be announced later. Judge B. L. Russell, Callahan's favorite son, will have charge of the ceremonies.

This monument, erected by the state, bears the following inscription:

"Captain Andrew Jackson Berry, veteran of San Jacinto, officer in the Confederate army, born in Indiana May 16, 1816, died at Baird, Texas, July 31, 1879.

"Erected by the State of Texas 1936."

Monument for the Living Not only do we honor our hero dead, but tributes are paid to their widows, as was the case with Mrs. Mary Catherine Berry, widow of Captain Berry, of Baird, and one of the two surviving widows of those who fought under Sam Houston at San Jacinto.

Mrs. Berry, a venerable octogenarian living near Baird, was honored by the splendid women of that place on the occasion of her last birth anniversary, she having reached the venerable age of 83 on August 29. A birthday dinner was given in her honor Sunday, August 30.

The event was celebrated at the home of her youngest son, Ode Berry and his wife, and was prepared by Mesdames Ode, Harry and Grover Berry. The birthday cake, a huge white confection, was made by Mrs. Mae Ivey and Miss Ella Moore, and adorned with 83 pink candles, in green holders.

Guests present to do honor to this venerable pioneer woman were many of the early citizens of Baird, who presented the honor guest with many appropriate gifts as they felicitated her upon reaching such a ripe old age.

Live in Our Memories Thus, while we are perpetuating the memory of the old warriors in lasting stone, none the less are we building monuments in our hearts and memories for their surviving widows.

Of this celebration the Baird News said:

"Mrs. Berry, who lives at the old homestead where she and Mr. Berry settled in May, 1881, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Berry and George Berry, her oldest son live with her on the ranch. Mrs. Berry enjoys good health and looks after her flower garden as usual and is keenly interested in the affairs of public interest.

"She is planning to visit the Texas centennial and frontier centennial sometime this fall.

"For sometime Mrs. Berry was believed to be the only surviving widow of the veterans of 1836, as Mrs. Margaret Price was believed to have died, but a recent inquiry made finds that Mrs. Price, who is 93 years of age, is still living in a Rochester N. Y. hospital where she has been a patient for some time.

"Mrs. Price, like Mrs. Berry, is the second wife of her Texas soldier husband, to whom she was married in 1873."

Cisco Masons At Annual Fish Fry At Caddo Friday

Headed by L. D. Wilson, secretary of the Cisco Masonic lodges, about 14 Cisco Masons motored to Caddo Friday night in response to the invitation of the members of the Masonic lodge of that place to be their guests at a fish fry, which is an annual event with Caddo Masons.

Those other than Secretary Wilson in the party were Frank Yarger, L. E. Vaughn, Fred Steffy, J. M. Witten, H. L. Dyer, A. J. Moon, Sam King, Billy Bacon, Bill Harder, Dudley Lee, A. V. Clark, and R. W. H. Kennon. Another member of the party was Richard Bacon, of New Orleans, a former Cisco man and cousin of the Cisco Bacons, with whom he is visiting.

Honor guests at the fish fry this year was Hon. Jewel P. Lightfoot, past-grand master of Texas Masons, and former attorney-general of Texas.

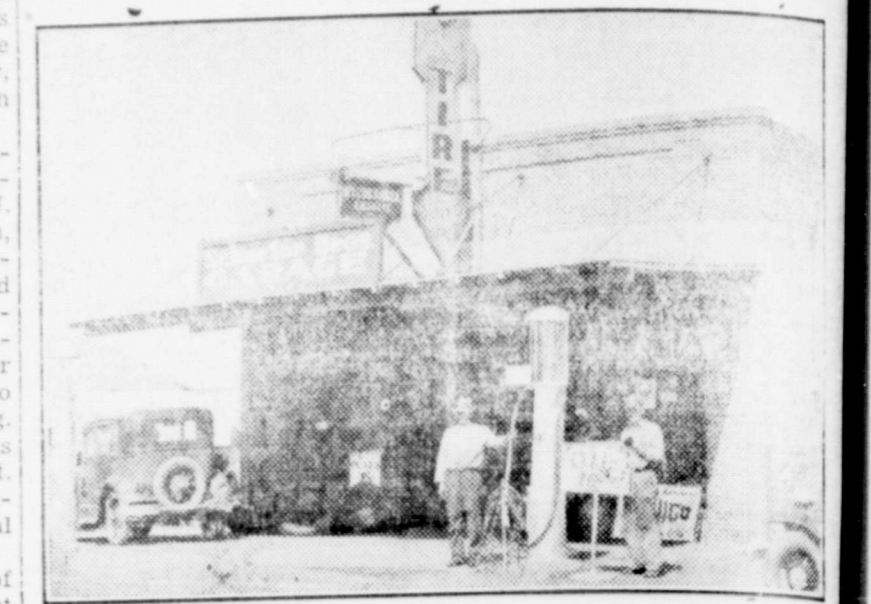

Representatives from many of the lodges of this Masonic district were in attendance, included those from Breckenridge, Eliasville, Ranger, Eastland, Gorman, Fort Worth, Strawn, Thurber, Sweetwater and lodges in Oklahoma. About 130 were present.

Past-Grand Master Lightfoot was introduced in a strong address by J. W. Cockrill, of Gorman, who spoke on American and Texas institutions. Mr. Cockrill was introduced by the worshipful master of the host lodge.

Mr. Lightfoot spoke on Masonry, and a masterful, as well as a highly instructive talk was heard by the audience, who gave him the closest attention throughout his more than one hour address.

At the conclusion of the Lightfoot address, the local and visiting Masons were invited to the banquet hall where a meal of fried fish, barbecue, bread, coffee, pickles, etc., was spread for the hungry throng.

Quezon, and United States High Commissioner Frank Murphy.

OUTFIELDER PLEASES ALL

NEW ORLEANS. (AP)—Tommy Henrich, versatile young New Orleans outfielder, was a unanimous choice for the all-star rookie team of the Southern association.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE: It is the year 1757. Cora and Alice Munro are on their way to Fort William Henry, to join their father who is stationed there. They are accompanied by a British officer, Major Heyward, in love with Alice. Magna, their Indian guide, betrays them, and they are captured by the Hurons, but Hawkeye, an American hunter, saves them with the aid of his Mohican friends, Chingachgook and Uncas, father and son. The Hurons pursue them, and Hawkeye splits the party in two groups, the better to elude them.

Chapter V RE-UNITED

The canoe assigned to Heyward was the larger one already carrying Cora, Chingachgook and Uncas. Alice had been unceremoniously dumped into the smaller canoe with Hawkeye at the paddle. As the two canoes shoved off from the bank, a shot rang out. The wounded sentry had managed to crawl to where his carbine was leaning against the log. With a final convulsive effort, he had watched the Huron canoes race past. Alice breathed heavily.

"A bit close, that—" she said. "We're not out of it yet," said Hawkeye grimly. He reflected for a moment. "There's a settlement ahead where we can get shelter until sundown."

But this refuge was denied them. When they reached the settlement, Alice cried out in horror. Before them, the blackened ashes of a log cabin. In front of it a pile of charred bodies. Alice turned her head away, her face contorted.

"What happened?" she cried. "They've had their hair cut by the Huron barbers," Hawkeye said grimly.

Alice was shocked by his words. "How can you speak so unfeelingly?"

"Unfeeling?" said Hawkeye. "I blazed the trail that brought them here. This is how my parents died—fire and scalping knife!"

"I'm sorry," said Alice.

"This won't be all," Hawkeye continued. "With the men at Fort William Henry no settlement is safe."

Alice now for the first time understood the reluctance of the Colonials to leave. "I wish father could see this," she said in a low voice.

Hawkeye shook his head. "Won't pull the trigger, warning the other Hurons.

The sound of the shot caused Hawkeye and the others to paddle more furiously. There was need for haste. Magna and his band had rushed to the sound of the shot and discovered two of their canoes missing. Unencumbered by passengers, they were able to drive their canoes forward at terrific speed and soon were able to see the fugitives at a distance. Hawkeye, eastern of the larger canoe, saw his pursuers at the same time.

Oldest Terrace Is Being Sought by County Agent

Where and when were the first terraces in Eastland county built? County Agent Elmo V. Cook is anxious to locate the farm having the oldest terraces in order to study the effects of terraces over a long period of years and to compare the productivity of land protected by terraces with fields exposed to erosion.

It is estimated that 12,000 acres of farm land in Eastland county have been terraced under the supervision of county agents. These terraces have been constructed largely with farm power and often with home made drags. Many hundreds of these acres have been terraced without any cash outlay. In recent years the county commissioners have used road machinery to build terraces on many farms. The cost of terracing with heavy machinery is usually below $1.00 per acre.

In the early years it was difficult for the county agents to persuade farmers to build terraces. Here and there a few farsighted men agreed to use their farms as demonstrations. Before long the neighbors could see the improved crops growing in the fields where terraces protected the rich top soil from gullying and sheet erosion and held the water on the land until most of it was absorbed.

Information in the form of a letter or a visit to the office about these old terraces in the county will be given to the newspapers as they are collected.

States Oil Corp. No. 4 J. W. Henderson, sec. 3, block 4, H&TC Ry survey, Eastland county, 160 acre lease.

Application to Shoot
J. F. Carter (S. F. Gas Co.) No. 1 Bee McGinnis, Comanche county, Shot with 60 quarts nitro from 2860 feet to 2800 feet, also treated with two separate leads of acid, same thickness of formation, 2580 feet to 2800 feet, 2000 gallons and 3000 gallons respectively. No results reported.

Plugging Record
Hoffman & Page Co., (Adamson & Boorman) Nos. 1, 2 and 3 N. N. Rosequest, 1466, 1432 and 1476 feet respectively.

Vennex Oil company of Texas, Nos. 3-C and 4-C Roy Nielman, Thos. Benson survey, Brown county 1305 feet and 1291 feet respectively. Same company's No. 6 and 9, G. T. Butler, Thos. Benson survey, Brown county, 1266 feet and 1277 feet respectively.

OLD RANGER WELL BEING DEEPENED
RANGER, Sept. 10.—The Texas & Pacific company's No. 17 Copeland, five miles north of Ranger, which is being deepened to some pay horizon expected between 3,530 and 3,900 feet, Saturday had been taken to 3,750 feet.
The well, located on the J. P. Rohms survey, was brought in about 15 years ago for some oil production.
After being acidized, Dorothy oil company Saturday was cleaning out its No. 1 Holcomb heirs, located three miles east of Eastland in section 1, block 4, H&TC survey. The well came in recently between 1,485 and 1,508 feet for initial production of 20 barrels of oil and 1,250,000 cubic feet of gas.

TO DRILL FOR KING NEAR SANDY RIDGE

Locations were staked this week for two eastern Jones county wildcats which will seek production from the King sand horizon.

Rig was being moved late this week to a location staked by Merry Brothers & Perini, independent operators and geologists who pioneered this area in exploration, for a test west of the Sandy Ridge field in eastern Jones.

The test is an east offset to a dry hole which was abandoned after striking water in the Bluff Creek sand. Location was based on the strength of showings obtained in two wells drilled west of the Sandy Ridge area. Both the Hal Hughes test and the Dancier and Pearson No. 1 White encountered non-commercial showings of oil from the King sand but were plugged. A third test, recently drilled by Knight & Ewing on the Steffens land, half a mile southeast of Sandy Ridge production, had no showings in the King.

The Merry Brothers & Perini No. 1 J. H. White will be in the southwest corner, 220 feet from the south and west lines, of the northwest quarter of section 6, block 15, T. & P. survey. It is a west offset to a test drilled by Robb & Brewer of Wichita Falls.

Near Nugent

The other wildcat location is the L. H. Pearson No. 1 Guitart trust estate, four miles southeast of Nugent, in the center of a block of 2,100 acres. It will be drilled to the Swastika, about 40 to 50 feet below the King sand horizon, unless oil or gas is found in commercial quantities at a lesser depth. Location is 412 feet from the north and 400 feet from the west lines of the southwest quarter of section 23, block 14, T. & P. survey.

One mile north of Hawley, the Thomas D. Humphrey No. 1 W. F. Rushing this week-end was expected to reach the last of five possible Hawley said horizons, the Lower Hope. It had drilled to 2,176 feet in blue shale without obtaining a showing of oil, gas or water. Last sand logged was the Cook, at 2,026-27 dry.

In the same area, the Alliance Oil company No. 1 Guitart trust estate, in section 44, block 15, T. & P. survey, had drilled past 925 feet in lime. The test is a mile east of Hawley.

Northeast of Hawley, the John Reeves and E. P. Campbell No. 1 S. A. Kelley, in section 9, G. Martinez survey No. 194, was drilling past 540 feet in shale.

Completion

In the Sandy Ridge pool, the Sandy Ridge Oil Corporation No. 6 Percy Jones flowed 102 barrels on a 24-hour railroad commission potential gauge this week after being shot with 40 quarts in sand at 1,936-52. Total depth was 1,073 feet, plugged back to 1,056 feet. It is in the southwest corner of the northwest quarter of section 5, block 15, T. & P. survey.

Sandy Ridge began immediately moving rig to a new location as a direct 420-foot south offset to the Knight & Ewing No. 3 Farrow for its No. 1 M. E. Connell, to drill to the Bluff Creek at 1,950 feet. Location given is 200 feet from the east and 1,620 feet from the north line of the southeast quarter of section 6, block 15, T. & P. survey.

The Knight & Ewing No. 3 Farrow was rated as a good producer for the pool as it was drilled into the Bluff Creek sand this week-end, taking 21 feet of the saturation to a total depth of 1,956 feet. It is a west offset to the Sandy Ridge No. 6 Percy Jones, and is in the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of section 6, block 15, T. & P.

In the Lueders area, the Ungren & Frazier No. 11 J. W. Jennings was plugged and abandoned at a total depth of 3,050 feet in lime with a hole full of water. It had sought production from the Canyon sand horizon. Location was in the northeast corner of section 207, BBB&C survey.

A. R. Forster, Ungren and Frazier and Frank Oyster No. 1 C. H. King, in the N. Scott survey No. 16, had spudded and was drilling past 700 feet. It is a King sand test, four miles southeast of Lueders field.

In the Condor-Sayles-Holt field eight miles north of Abilene in Jones county, the Condor No. 10 Henry Sayles was underreaming five-inch casing this week, with bottom of the field, in section 1, block 20, T. & P. survey.

Half a mile south of Hawley, the Gist & Graddy No. 1 G. C. Ranson, wildcat delayed for several weeks by tools lost in the hole, was reported shut down. Tools had been cemented off and plug drilled, but the test had not deepened beyond 1,675 feet. It is in the north end of the B. M. Clopton survey No. 224.

Northwest of Anson, the H. C. Owen-Roy Prichard No. 1 H. Arnwine, in section 69, BBB&C survey, remained shut down at 634 feet.

Northeast of Anson, the Cliff Camp No. 1 O. E. Woodson, in section 37, D&DA survey, had skidded 40 feet to the west and spudded on a new hole after 16 joints of eight inch casing had been lost in the hole at a total depth of 1,735 feet.

Half a mile northeast of the N. H. Martin & Son No. 1 Spurrier, which discovered a new production area from the Hope sand for eastern Jones county, the Archer Drilling company No. 1 W. E. Berryhill, in the Louis Moore survey No. 1, lot 7, was drilling ahead past 1,673 feet after running six-inch casing at 1,650 feet.

Martin No. 2 Spurrier remained location with pits dug, but was waiting on machine. It is in the northwest corner of section 1, Wm. C. Walker survey.

Western Rail Tours Near All-Time High

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Record-shattering western tour business during the past season was revealed here today in preliminary reports received by Harry G. Taylor, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives, from passenger traffic officials of leading western rail carriers.

In many instances escorted tours through the west equalled and in some cases surpassed the 1929 peak when the national parks and other western outdoor vacation lands enjoyed their banner year.

R. Thomson, passenger ticket manager of the Northwestern railroad reported the biggest tour year in the history of that line. "The 1936 season exceeds by several hundred the 1929 high mark on our road," he said today. "In fact, our tour department has had its largest year since its inception back in 1902."

Bo McMillin, football coach at Indiana, never has tasted liquor.

SHIP BY TRAIN

FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY SERVICE

Western railroads urge shippers to take advantage of this new Free door-to-door service on less than carload freight. Started early in 1936, it has already saved millions of dollars for shippers. It is a great convenience, for the railroads take full responsibility from door to door.

Other noteworthy improvements in railroad freight service include faster schedules.

Railroad passenger service is also being revolutionized. Western railroads pioneered in reducing fares to the lowest point in history, with substantial reductions on round trip tickets. Then they provided air-conditioned cars with temperature and humidity control. If you haven't yet traveled in a cool, clean, healthful air-conditioned car do so on your next trip—a revelation in luxury—but costs nothing extra.

Travel by train because it is safer, more comfortable, more economical, more dependable, faster. . . Ask the railroad agent about travel or shipping to any part of the world.

Proud of our achievements, we appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

Continuous strain from daytime use of eyes is doubled when this man tries to read his evening newspaper in light that is inadequate for easy seeing.

The only difference is the LIGHTING

Why is one of these men squinting over his paper, while the other man is reading in perfect comfort? Both probably have normal eyesight. The seeing task is the same in each case. The difference is in the amount of light falling on the paper! The man on the left is straining his eyes under less than five footcandles of light. . . while the man at the right enjoys comfortable reading with better than 30 footcandles.

Now, thanks to the world's largest research laboratories, the lighting in your home can be measured just as accurately as a thermometer measures temperature! Held under your reading lamp, the scientific new Light Meter tells instantly how much light you are getting, how much your eyes need for easy seeing without eyestrain. Just phone, and we will make this free Light Meter check-up in your home. This Measured Lighting service is free to all our customers.

Smart Dinner Gowns Have Long Sleeves

PARIS, Sept. 10. (AP)—The news comes from Vichy that long sleeved dinner dresses are being worn by the smartest women there. Many of these styles take inspiration from the Middle Ages.

One dress in heavy black cloque had long loose sleeves and no trimming note except a gold metal girdle. A frock of heavy white crepe was made with long tight sleeves, and an old fashioned bodice buttoning down the front above a shirred full skirt.

Another white crepe dress had large puff sleeves shirred on to the shoulders, and the chic contrast of orange velvet in a fronted sash falling to the hem.

Southern Teams Counting on '36 Class for Wins

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP) — Sophomores are expected to grab off a big share of football honors in the Southern conference this year.

More dependent, perhaps, than any other team on first-year men will be V. M. I. Coach Bill Rafferty is counting on twelve sophomores to bring a successful season.

The V. M. I. freshman team was undefeated last year.

Clemson is counting on a big sophomore flash, Don Willis, scaling 208 and a hard-plugging back. Then there are Harold Huffine, Lyn McMakin, Gus Goins and Hubert Miller—all of whom are promising.

Two sophomores are groomed for backfield berths at Duke—Eric Tipton and Robert O'Mara. Coach Wallace Wade is banking on Dan Hill, Jr., to fill a guard position.

Outstanding sophomore aspirants at North Carolina State college are Coleman McDonough and Andy Pavlosky, backs, and Linemen Stanley Turlo, Walter Novich, Albert Sandfloss and William Bailey.

Jim Meade is rated by coaches the best fullback to matriculate at the University of Maryland since the days of Jack McQuade.

Coach Raymond Wolf, who succeeded Carl Snavely at the University of North Carolina, hopes sophomore material will iron out his backfield worries.

Ed Clary, 190-pound triple-threat back, is almost a sure-fire bet for star rating in the conference. He will favor for the University of South Carolina Gamecocks.

Virginia sophomores look none too promising, coaches say, but eleven will try for berths.

Coach H. B. Read of V. P. I. says he expects Herman (Foots) Dickerson to be an offensive power this season.

Bill Borries, brother of "Buzz" Borries of navy fame, is among rising sophomores at Washington and Lee.

Texas Crop Placed At 3,036,000 Bales

AUSTIN, Sept. 10 (AP) — The United States department of agriculture forecast the Texas cotton crop for 1936 as 3,036,000 bales.

Based upon condition of Sept. 1, the forecast gave the state an increase of 80,000 bales over last year's production of 2,956,000, but fell 544,000 short of the five-year peak record of 1928 to 1932.

It also represents a decrease of 814,000 bales, or 21 per cent below the Aug. 1 estimate.

ALBANY PIONEER BURIED

ALBANY, Sept. 10.—Last rites for Mrs. F. B. Cloud, wife of an Albany ranchman and lumberman, were said at the family residence here Monday morning, the Rev. J. A. Owen, pastor of the Matthews Memorial Presbyterian church, officiating. Mrs. Cloud, a member of the Rockwell family of pioneer Texas lumbermen, died Saturday midnight following an illness of several weeks. Survivors are her husband, two sons, Rockwell Cloud of Abilene and Owen Cloud of Albany.

Fra Bartolommeo was one of the most distinguished masters of the Florentine school of painting.

Collects Cop Badges To Show at Meeting

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 10. (AP)—If badges meant anything, Jack Ellis would be a whole international police force himself.

Ellis, in charge of supplies for the Kansas City police department, has a collection of police badges from nearly 100 cities over the world and others are coming in almost daily.

He started the collection seven months ago in preparation for an exhibit for the convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs here September 21.

Farm Officials Of County at Meeting

EASTLAND, Sept. 10.—County Agent Elmo V. Cook and Home Demonstration Agent Miss Ruth Ramey were included in an Eastland county delegation who Wednesday attended a meeting of the Texas agricultural association at Brownwood.

'LET BASEBALL ALONE' MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Billy Southworth, ex-big league star and present manager of the Memphis club of the Southern association, says "let the baseball alone."

"I can't see any reason for changing the ball we have," declares Southworth. "Fans like baseball as it is played now and I don't think they would want a baseball that would make for too much low scoring. A good pitcher can still make monkeys out of batters."

and patents. Favoring the new deal program Dr. Montgomery stressed the right of the farmer to be the beneficiary of the bounty of the government as were the industrial enterprises. Also the speaker stressed the importance of stronger and increased organization and more complete cooperation, such as collective buying, mass selling and thorough understanding in production.

Sectional Meetings

In the afternoon the meeting was split into sections, with a director for each group. The section on organization was under the direction of R. H. Bush, former county agent of Eastland county, now organization specialist with the extension department.

The department of legislative activities was under the direction of Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, editor of the A. & M. extension publications.

The recreation section was under the direction of L. L. Johnson, state boys 4-H club agent.

Dr. Montgomery is billed to lecture at Breckenridge tonight on the same subject of his Brownwood address. Several from Cisco will hear him in his Breckenridge address.
