

The Cisco Daily Press
Is the Official Paper
for the City of Cisco

THE CISCO DAILY PRESS

CISCO—A city with all the requisites of industrial and commercial development—five lakes of water—three railroads; enormous gas field; electric power; federal and state highways; ideal central location; miles of paved streets.

AND THE CITIZEN-FREE PRESS and CISCO CITIZEN

VOLUME VII Member of the Associated Press CISCO, TEXAS, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1936 (AP) Means Associated Press NUMBER 42

AMERICANS SEARCHED BY SPANIARDS

Through the Editor's
Spectacles
By GEORGE

Justice of the Peace Joe Wilson is convinced that the depression is over. He has performed two wedding ceremonies already this month and confidently looks forward to two or three others before the period has ended. The fine rains of last week have so improved the spirits of the people, he thinks, that more young men and women will be induced to desert pessimism and become optimists in the strictest sense of the word.

His second ceremony was performed yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at his home. R. E. Bisbee and Miss Mary Frances Johnston became man and wife in that, for them, momentous occasion. They live near Cisco and the Daily Press extends them congratulations and best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous marital course.

J. W. Copps, manager of the West Texas Produce company here, is coming out of a shell. He made the welcoming talk to the group of Ford Motor company officials who last week accompanied the three millionth Ford truck to Cisco, and these visitors liked it so well they declared it better than any welcome they had received on the trip and sought a copy of the address for their publicity. Mr. Copps made the talk extemporaneously, however, and I do not know whether he was able to furnish them the speech or not.

It goes thus. The best things we do are often done under stimuli and conditions when we least expect to be unusual. Perhaps the utter naturalness of such moments gives free rein to talents and we do our best because our abilities are the most free. But Copps seems to be natural under all occasions. Before the Lions club and at the formal opening of Randolph college the other day he made such an impression that S. H. Nance urged him to welcome his Ford company guests.

I have heard many "snappy" or effective retorts by speakers to heckling in their audiences, but nothing so devastating as Bob Burns' uses in the picture "Rhythm on the Range" now showing at the Palace. Burns' characteristic drawl, unruffled by any show of temper, adds to the effectiveness of his manner of dealing with his tormentor. The Arkansas humorist, playing the part of a penniless cowboy in New York, climbed on a box with his famous "bazooka" to entertain a silk-hatted and befuddled night crowd for the $28 he sorely needed to pay a hotel bill. "Where's your horse?" heckled a night club lizard. He kept up the interference until Burns got enough of it. "When I was a boy down on my father's farm in Arkansas," began the humorist, paying no attention to the silk hat, "we had the oneriest mule I ever saw." He went on to tell how he had to work the mule and had so much trouble with it that finally, in a fit of exasperation, he picked up a hammer and knocked its brains out.

"My aunt always told me," said Burns turning and looking directly at his interference, "that that jackass would haunt me some day."

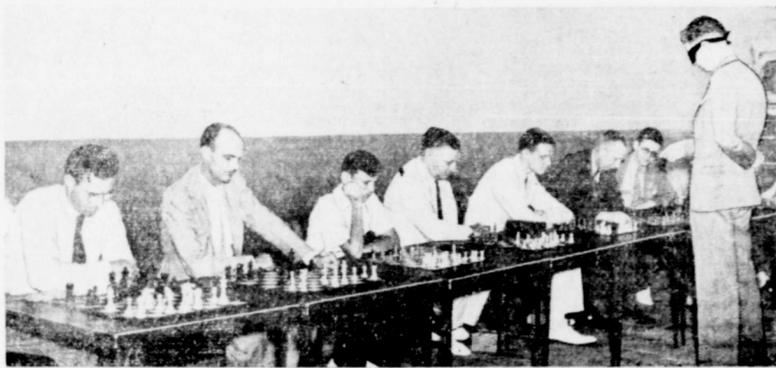

Weather

EAST TEXAS
—Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; showers in south portion Tuesday.

WEST TEXAS
—Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday with local showers.

Rain for month, 6.5 inches.
Rain for year, 20.5 inches.

Blindfolded, He Plays Them Simultaneously

To demonstrate the ability which makes him the outstanding blindfold chess player in Texas, W. N. Kendall, of Lufkin, as pictured here at the Texas Centennial, Dallas, is matching his wits against eight players in a warm-up session prior to the state chess tournament held at the Exposition. The players facing Kendall, from left to right, include Huntley Meredith, Dallas; Roy West, Dallas; Sherry Smith, Dallas; N. D. Naman, Houston; Kenneth Gackney, Dallas; R. M. Van Horn, Dallas; Whiteley Sessions, Dallas, and James Lyle, Dallas.

McAfee Named President Of Cisco's Welfare Association

FORMER CISCO MAN IS SHOT

George W. Weaver Dies At McCamey

McCAMEY, Sept. 21. (AP)—Geo. W. Weaver, 26, tool dresser for the Gulf Production company, died Sunday two hours after he was found in a hotel room with a bullet wound in his head. An automatic pistol was found beside him. Friends said Weaver had been despondent for several days. The body will be sent to Cisco for burial. Funeral arrangements were incomplete. Weaver had worked for the company here for a number of years, residing at the hotel where he was found shot.

BODY TO BE BROUGHT HERE FOR BURIAL

Mrs. George Weaver, mother of George W. Weaver, today was in McCamey, where she went as news of her son's death reached here. A Green hearse left this morning to bring the body here for burial. Arrangements were not complete. Mr. Weaver was a graduate of Cisco high school, having moved here with his parents in 1928.

Allred Opposed To Tax Revision Now

AUSTIN, Sept. 21. (AP)—Governor Allred today expressed opposition to any plan to overhaul generally the state tax structure at the special session of the legislature beginning next Monday.

The governor indicated that legislators probably will have their hands full in raising additional old age assistance revenue.

MRS. McDONALD ILL

Mrs. J. H. McDonald today was reported to be seriously ill at her home.

France is to buy $910,000,000 worth of guns, tanks and other war materials to increase the army's efficiency.

Italy Hints Payment

But Insists on Cut Rate Basis and Then Only If New Loan Is Forthcoming

ROME, Sept. 21. (AP)—Italy hinted Sunday to a desire for war debts refunding and new loans from the United States.

The new ambassador to Washington, Fulvio Sulvich, probably will discuss Italian financial relations with the United States shortly after his arrival this fall, informed sources said.

The discussions would be based

To Succeed H. L. Dyer; Officers Elected for Coming Year

J. C. McAfee was chosen president of the Cisco Charity and Welfare association at the annual organization meeting of the executive board in the city hall this morning. He succeeds H. L. Dyer who is retiring after two terms.

E. P. Crawford was elected vice president; L. D. Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. Charles S. Sandler, recording secretary and Mrs. Philip Pettit, executive secretary.

Mr. Dyer presided. Other members of the board who were present were Mrs. Sandler, Mrs. Sam Kimmel, Mrs. H. J. McArdle, Mr. Crawford, J. E. Spencer, Mr. Wilson, R. N. Grantham and Judge J. R. Burnett.

Needs for the ensuing year were discussed by the board, which withheld the formulation of plans pending the inauguration of the new administration.

Man Held After Car Plunges Into Irrigation Ditch

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 21. (AP)—Officers pulled an automobile out of an irrigation ditch here today found none of the five occupants whom M. H. Galbreath of Amarillo had reported in the machine with him when it plunged into the ditch.

Galbreath, who said he did not know the identity of three men and two women, was held for investigation.

Railway Auditors Indicted by U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Six railway audit and inspection company officials were indicted today by a federal grand jury for refusal to testify last month before the LaFollette senatorial committee investigating civil liberties violations in labor disputes.

ETHIOP ENTRY BEING BARRED

Fail to Get Approval of League Body

GENEVA, Sept. 21. (AP)—The League of Nations credentials committee notified the League assembly today it had approved the credentials of all delegations except Ethiopia, on which a special report would be submitted later.

The committee announced, however, that the Ethiopians might sit in the assembly until that body decided otherwise.

Some members of the committee said the Ethiopian question is so complicated that it might possibly require an opinion from the World Court.

Lobo Gridders Sign Eligibility Blanks

The Lobo squaddens returned from lunch this afternoon early to sign the eligibility blanks which show that the player is eligible to play in the Texas Interscholastic League. About 20 signed them at that time and the rest will sign them later today or in the morning.

WTU Plans Great Temperance Drive

EVANSTOWN, Ill., Sept. 21. (AP)—A $1,000,000 campaign was announced Sunday by the Women's Christian Temperance Union to further what it described as temperance education.

The money will be spent solely for educational purposes, Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, national president, said.

Universal Peace Is Plea of Legion Head

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21. (AP)—National Commander Ray Murphy pleaded for universal peace today at the American Legion national convention.

"America will never start a war but cannot disarm in light of existing conditions," Murphy said.

One Killed, One Hurt When Car Overtakes

WACO, Sept. 21. (AP)—An accident near Clifton yesterday killed Thomas M. Drummond, Jr., 20, Paducah, and seriously injured John Skipper, Stephenville, Texas. A. & M. students, who were returning to college from their home, when the car in which they were riding overturned. Physicians said that Skipper had only a slight chance to recover.

RIVER FLOODS WIDE EXPANSE AT SAN SABA

At 62-Foot Stage As It Inundates Houses Over the Area

SAN SABA, Sept. 21. (AP)—The Colorado river reached the 62-foot stage today as water spread over the San Saba-Lometa bridge area, inundating all houses.

No additional lives were lost.

Water covered the Bluffton bridges approaches. The 60-foot stage was reported at Red Bluff.

Residents of the flood-threatened valley Sunday were warned to seek safety by two coast guard planes as the raging river moved toward more populous regions to the south.

Rises Rapidly
The river, leaving death and destruction in its path, was rising rapidly at Chadwick. The stage there was 52 feet, within a few feet of any recorded high.

It was estimated by W. A. Smith, publisher of the San Saba News, that between 200 and 300 people were homeless in the flood area, but said they were being adequately cared for by friends and neighbors. All of them had lost most of their possessions, including crops, he said.

Two Deaths
Two deaths and untold property damage has already been charged to the turbulent floodwaters. Coast guardsmen established a base of operations at Austin, the state capital for rescue operations.

The capital is in the path of the swollen river, but is braced for the flood crest. Frank Haynes, weather observer, predicted it would not reach there before tomorrow. It is believed that the flood crest is moving southward more slowly than it was first thought.

Band Preparing Its Program For Frontier Show

The Cisco Lobo band will begin a series of drills today to prepare it for the part it is to play in the Cisco Day program at Fort Worth Thursday, it was announced by Bandmaster R. L. Maddox.

Ten new caps have arrived and will be distributed today, Maddox said.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon there will be drill practise at the high school and at 7:15 this evening there will be band practise. This schedule will be followed each afternoon Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, he said. Members who want to make the trip will be required to attend these rehearsals, he said.

Joe Shackelford of Lubbock visited his family over the weekend.

Drilling for Breck

Lobo Team to Have Stiff Workout After Dropping Opener to Electra

After the 31-0 defeat in the hands of the Electra Tigers Saturday afternoon, the Lobos will begin preparations this afternoon for the Breckenridge game in Breckenridge Friday night at 8 o'clock. Coach Shelley said that a long practice session will be held this afternoon.

The game Saturday showed that many of the boys were not "in shape." The blocking was poor and some of the players did not know their assignments on some of the plays. The only Cisco gains

Frontier Show Registration Is Urged by C of C

Secretary J. E. Spencer of the chamber of commerce today urged that all persons who plan to go to the frontier centennial at Fort Worth Thursday to attend the Cisco Day program register at the chamber of commerce.

The chamber of commerce secretary was anxious to have as large a number as possible for the motorcade which will form seven miles from Fort Worth and be escorted to the centennial grounds.

At the same time, he pointed out by registering at the chamber of commerce today or tomorrow, Ciscoans can make reservations for seats at Casa Manana, the great outdoor cafe theater which is proving the greatest attraction at the frontier centennial.

Miss Helen Crawford, Cisco sponsor, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Clett, Cisco hostess, will be introduced. The Lobo band and Harry Schaefer's orchestra will have a part on the program.

CROP PLAN IS IN SPOTLIGHT

Roosevelt Appoints 2 Committees

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—President Roosevelt announced Sunday that he has appointed two committees to work out a crop insurance plan leading to better permanent protection against drought.

The announcement was made by release at the White House of correspondence between the President, Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, and Morris L. Cooke, rural electrification administrator.

Mr. Roosevelt told Wallace he wants him to serve as chairman of a committee on crop insurance. The Cooke committee was assigned to work out plans for the efficient utilization of the resources of the great plains area.

NEEDS FULLEST ATTENTION SAYS ALF LONDON

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 21. (AP)—Governor Alf M. Landon said today that "the question of crop insurance should be given the fullest attention," when asked to comment on President Roosevelt's announcement of appointment of committees to work out a crop insurance plan as drought protection.

Landon said his statement was taken from a speech to be given in Des Moines tomorrow.

Merrill, Richman Complete Flight

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—Dick Merrill and Harry Richman brought their plane down at Floyd Bennett airport today to complete the roundtrip Transatlantic flight to London which was begun September 2.

HALTED THREE HOURS; APPEAL FOR U. S. HELP

Officials Attempt To Seize Jewelry As They Board Ship

MADRID, Sept. 21. (AP)—Americans who boarded the United States destroyer Quincy at Alicante said today that they were delayed three hours while officials searched the baggage of 45 persons.

They were forced to appeal to the Alicante civil governor and the United States Madrid embassy to prevent confiscation of their personal jewelry.

REBELS EXPECTED TO CAPTURE KEY CITY

TALAVERA, Spain, Sept. 21. (AP)—Government forces today failed to halt an insurgent drive along Maqueda highway.

Insurgents were expected to seize Maqueda, key point on the highway, in a few days, and then march down 45 miles of excellent roadway to Madrid.

Government dead littered the fields as the troops retreated.

Texas Farm Income Increase Is Shown

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—The agriculture department survey showed today that Texas farmers received $23,255,000 for crops and livestock in July, an increase of $8,567,000 over July of last year.

Russian Explorer Is Given Ovation

MOSCOW, Sept. 21. (AP)—Russia's aviator hero, V. S. Molokoff, was acclaimed Sunday on his return from a two-month aerial exploration of the Arctic across the northern coast of Siberia.

Molokoff, on a flight of more than 15,625 miles, was the first to trace the whole breadth of the tortuous Soviet coast line.

Dynamite Blast Wrecks Paper In Cuba on Sunday

HAVANA, Sept. 21. (AP)—Dynamite wrecked the newspaper El Pais Sunday and killed at least three persons, but police prevented an attempt to blast Diario de la Marina by breaking wires attached to 1,000 sticks of dynamite outside that newspaper.

At least 20 persons were wounded. Many buildings in the midtown area were damaged. Citizens were hurled from their beds. The detonation was heard for many miles.

The historic old church, Nostro Senora de Monserrate, was wrecked by the blast. It is just across the street from El Pais.

First unofficial estimates placed property damage at more than $1,000,000.

May Get Reward For Surrendering Sons

YREKA, Calif., Sept. 21. (AP)—Whether a gray-haired woman will receive a $1,000 reward for surrendering her two sons for prosecution on a triple-murder charge was worrying county officials today.

Sheriff W. G. Changler said he will recommend against payment of the money to Mrs. A. J. Brite, 64, who Thursday night led District Attorney James Davis to the siding place of her boys, John and Coke Brite, on the prosecutor's promise to protect them from lynching.

Odell Grubbs has returned to his home in Eastland.

THE WORLD WITH A FENCE

A New Novel by Marian Sims

CHAPTER 41
FUTILE HOPE
And then Blake said aloud: "You don't have any conception of love, do you? You can't even imagine what someone so much you'd die for. And that's the way I feel about you. If I can't have her, I don't want to touch another woman as long as I live!"

The passionate intensity of his face shattered the glass about her ears and for all. She really looked at him—for the first time. His face was white and stark and his eyes burned hotly. He means it, she thought dazedly; he's really serious about her.

She played her trump card—an appeal to his chivalry. He could be tender and generous; she remembered that from long ago. Surely he would be that now. "Blake... you think I'm imagining my nervous condition. You think it's because I don't want to be a wife to you. That's not true; it's just that—for a while now—I've been going through a rather—try to remember—time."

His heart sank heavily. So he had been right in his guess. . . . He could not let her plead so in an excuse. A great many women manage to endure their husbands and make them happy even then.

"I know," she said plaintively, "so could I, probably. But I've always been so high-strung, and so I thought best to stay single."

He was moved to pity until he remembered the years before this. He realized that her appeal did not deserve to be heeded. He felt slowly.

"I'm very sorry—for your sake, your excuse rather falls down, doesn't it? We've been living this miserable existence for years. I can't justify six years with anything that's just happened."

She felt as if she were going to faint—as if the walls were really closing in on her. She saw her discarded for a girl; a middle-aged woman who would be merely an object of humor and pity. She made one more bit-tempered attempt.

"I understand, of course. You loved me, knowing that I was more than you; that I was sure to lose my attraction before you were yours. And now that it's happened you're being a beast, and trying to cast me aside like an old rag."

It almost blinded him, so that he dared not answer her for a moment. At last he said with a credible attempt at quietness:

"A boy twenty-two doesn't think, Irma; the poor fool just thinks. You must have seen that possibility—better than I could see—since you've gone your way completely there's only one alternative."

never get it! They'll throw you out of court!"
He shrugged. "All I can do is try."
He turned away, sick of the sordidness and of her presence. He wanted never to see her again.
"There's no use in prolonging this cheap wrangle. I'm taking the next train home, and the papers will be filed Wednesday. If you want to reconsider you can phone me in the next few hours."
He laid his hand on the door knob and looked steadily at her. "And I hope you have a very merry Christmas. . . ."
He opened the door and went quickly out.

When he had gone Irma flung herself face down upon the bed.
"Blake. . . ." The sound of his voice shook her so that she could not go on.
He said quickly: "Carol, darling. Where are you?"
"At home. I've just gotten in."
"May I come right out?"
"Of course. You're not busy?"
"There's no one here but me. I've been sitting here cursing the hands of my watch."
She did not dare to ask if his

The apartment seemed indifferent and empty after the warmth and life of the house in Meredith. Carol closed the door softly and went straight to the telephone without taking off her hat.
Blake answered the telephone himself with an eager "Yes!"
"Blake. . . ." The sound of his voice shook her so that she could not go on.
He said quickly: "Carol, darling. Where are you?"
"At home. I've just gotten in."
"May I come right out?"
"Of course. You're not busy?"
"There's no one here but me. I've been sitting here cursing the hands of my watch."
She did not dare to ask if his swear: I don't matter to you any more than you do to me."

She said shrilly: "But you do matter! I—couldn't live without you!"
His mouth twisted bitterly. "You've made a pretty good stab at it so far."
"But I've had to. I'll come home with you even if it kills me!"

The melodrama revolted him. The supreme sacrifice, she was no doubt thinking. He got up and walked to the door and back.
"I'm sorry, but it's too late now. I couldn't play up. Do we have to talk about it any more? I'm offering you a chance to get the divorce yourself, on the grounds of cruelty."
"Suppose I refuse?"
"Then I'll have to get it myself, on the same grounds."
"You can't do it," she almost screamed. "I can refute anything you try to say!" She made a supreme effort at control, and went on in an altered voice.

"Blake, wait a year and see. You got tired of me; how do you know you won't tire of her?"
The room whirled dizzily with him. There was no use, of course, in trying to make her understand.
"I'm sorry, but I'm through—whether you believe me or not. I'll never live with you again; I'm putting the house on the market as soon as I get back, and starting divorce proceedings immediately. If you want to fight it you're at liberty to do so."
Her body sagged. He was speaking the truth and she knew it. At the sight of her ravaged face pity stirred in him, and he said more gently:

"Wouldn't it be wiser to follow my suggestion, Irma, and get the divorce yourself? People will think you're tired of me, and God knows that's plausible enough. . . ."
"And if I do, will you promise to wait a decent interval before you marry this woman? A year?"
So that people might possibly be deceived, he knew she meant.
"Of course I won't. I'm not a child, and neither is she. Our time is too precious."
"Then you'll have to make a cad of yourself and a joke of me. Because I won't do it."
She was bluffing him, of course; thinking he would not dare. And he knew she was bluffing. He stood up.

"I'm sorry you see it that way. I've already talked to a lawyer, and the papers will be filed Wednesday."
Irma sprang to her feet. "You'll understand, of course. You loved me, knowing that I was more than you; that I was sure to lose my attraction before you were yours. And now that it's happened you're being a beast, and trying to cast me aside like an old rag."

Irma sprang to her feet. "You'll understand, of course. You loved me, knowing that I was more than you; that I was sure to lose my attraction before you were yours. And now that it's happened you're being a beast, and trying to cast me aside like an old rag."

never get it! They'll throw you out of court!"
He shrugged. "All I can do is try."
He turned away, sick of the sordidness and of her presence. He wanted never to see her again.
"There's no use in prolonging this cheap wrangle. I'm taking the next train home, and the papers will be filed Wednesday. If you want to reconsider you can phone me in the next few hours."
He laid his hand on the door knob and looked steadily at her. "And I hope you have a very merry Christmas. . . ."
He opened the door and went quickly out.

When he had gone Irma flung herself face down upon the bed.
"Blake. . . ." The sound of his voice shook her so that she could not go on.
He said quickly: "Carol, darling. Where are you?"
"At home. I've just gotten in."
"May I come right out?"
"Of course. You're not busy?"
"There's no one here but me. I've been sitting here cursing the hands of my watch."
She did not dare to ask if his

The apartment seemed indifferent and empty after the warmth and life of the house in Meredith. Carol closed the door softly and went straight to the telephone without taking off her hat.
Blake answered the telephone himself with an eager "Yes!"
"Blake. . . ." The sound of his voice shook her so that she could not go on.
He said quickly: "Carol, darling. Where are you?"
"At home. I've just gotten in."
"May I come right out?"
"Of course. You're not busy?"
"There's no one here but me. I've been sitting here cursing the hands of my watch."
She did not dare to ask if his swear: I don't matter to you any more than you do to me."

She said shrilly: "But you do matter! I—couldn't live without you!"
His mouth twisted bitterly. "You've made a pretty good stab at it so far."
"But I've had to. I'll come home with you even if it kills me!"

The melodrama revolted him. The supreme sacrifice, she was no doubt thinking. He got up and walked to the door and back.
"I'm sorry, but it's too late now. I couldn't play up. Do we have to talk about it any more? I'm offering you a chance to get the divorce yourself, on the grounds of cruelty."
"Suppose I refuse?"
"Then I'll have to get it myself, on the same grounds."
"You can't do it," she almost screamed. "I can refute anything you try to say!" She made a supreme effort at control, and went on in an altered voice.

"Blake, wait a year and see. You got tired of me; how do you know you won't tire of her?"
The room whirled dizzily with him. There was no use, of course, in trying to make her understand.
"I'm sorry, but I'm through—whether you believe me or not. I'll never live with you again; I'm putting the house on the market as soon as I get back, and starting divorce proceedings immediately. If you want to fight it you're at liberty to do so."
Her body sagged. He was speaking the truth and she knew it. At the sight of her ravaged face pity stirred in him, and he said more gently:

"Wouldn't it be wiser to follow my suggestion, Irma, and get the divorce yourself? People will think you're tired of me, and God knows that's plausible enough. . . ."
"And if I do, will you promise to wait a decent interval before you marry this woman? A year?"
So that people might possibly be deceived, he knew she meant.
"Of course I won't. I'm not a child, and neither is she. Our time is too precious."
"Then you'll have to make a cad of yourself and a joke of me. Because I won't do it."
She was bluffing him, of course; thinking he would not dare. And he knew she was bluffing. He stood up.

"I'm sorry you see it that way. I've already talked to a lawyer, and the papers will be filed Wednesday."
Irma sprang to her feet. "You'll understand, of course. You loved me, knowing that I was more than you; that I was sure to lose my attraction before you were yours. And now that it's happened you're being a beast, and trying to cast me aside like an old rag."

Irma sprang to her feet. "You'll understand, of course. You loved me, knowing that I was more than you; that I was sure to lose my attraction before you were yours. And now that it's happened you're being a beast, and trying to cast me aside like an old rag."

never get it! They'll throw you out of court!"
He shrugged. "All I can do is try."
He turned away, sick of the sordidness and of her presence. He wanted never to see her again.
"There's no use in prolonging this cheap wrangle. I'm taking the next train home, and the papers will be filed Wednesday. If you want to reconsider you can phone me in the next few hours."
He laid his hand on the door knob and looked steadily at her. "And I hope you have a very merry Christmas. . . ."
He opened the door and went quickly out.

When he had gone Irma flung herself face down upon the bed.
"Blake. . . ." The sound of his voice shook her so that she could not go on.
He said quickly: "Carol, darling. Where are you?"
"At home. I've just gotten in."
"May I come right out?"
"Of course. You're not busy?"
"There's no one here but me. I've been sitting here cursing the hands of my watch."
She did not dare to ask if his

The apartment seemed indifferent and empty after the warmth and life of the house in Meredith. Carol closed the door softly and went straight to the telephone without taking off her hat.
Blake answered the telephone himself with an eager "Yes!"
"Blake. . . ." The sound of his voice shook her so that she could not go on.
He said quickly: "Carol, darling. Where are you?"
"At home. I've just gotten in."
"May I come right out?"
"Of course. You're not busy?"
"There's no one here but me. I've been sitting here cursing the hands of my watch."
She did not dare to ask if his swear: I don't matter to you any more than you do to me."

She said shrilly: "But you do matter! I—couldn't live without you!"
His mouth twisted bitterly. "You've made a pretty good stab at it so far."
"But I've had to. I'll come home with you even if it kills me!"

The melodrama revolted him. The supreme sacrifice, she was no doubt thinking. He got up and walked to the door and back.
"I'm sorry, but it's too late now. I couldn't play up. Do we have to talk about it any more? I'm offering you a chance to get the divorce yourself, on the grounds of cruelty."
"Suppose I refuse?"
"Then I'll have to get it myself, on the same grounds."
"You can't do it," she almost screamed. "I can refute anything you try to say!" She made a supreme effort at control, and went on in an altered voice.

"Blake, wait a year and see. You got tired of me; how do you know you won't tire of her?"
The room whirled dizzily with him. There was no use, of course, in trying to make her understand.
"I'm sorry, but I'm through—whether you believe me or not. I'll never live with you again; I'm putting the house on the market as soon as I get back, and starting divorce proceedings immediately. If you want to fight it you're at liberty to do so."
Her body sagged. He was speaking the truth and she knew it. At the sight of her ravaged face pity stirred in him, and he said more gently:

"Wouldn't it be wiser to follow my suggestion, Irma, and get the divorce yourself? People will think you're tired of me, and God knows that's plausible enough. . . ."
"And if I do, will you promise to wait a decent interval before you marry this woman? A year?"
So that people might possibly be deceived, he knew she meant.
"Of course I won't. I'm not a child, and neither is she. Our time is too precious."
"Then you'll have to make a cad of yourself and a joke of me. Because I won't do it."
She was bluffing him, of course; thinking he would not dare. And he knew she was bluffing. He stood up.

"I'm sorry you see it that way. I've already talked to a lawyer, and the papers will be filed Wednesday."
Irma sprang to her feet. "You'll understand, of course. You loved me, knowing that I was more than you; that I was sure to lose my attraction before you were yours. And now that it's happened you're being a beast, and trying to cast me aside like an old rag."

Irma sprang to her feet. "You'll understand, of course. You loved me, knowing that I was more than you; that I was sure to lose my attraction before you were yours. And now that it's happened you're being a beast, and trying to cast me aside like an old rag."

never get it! They'll throw you out of court!"
He shrugged. "All I can do is try."
He turned away, sick of the sordidness and of her presence. He wanted never to see her again.
"There's no use in prolonging this cheap wrangle. I'm taking the next train home, and the papers will be filed Wednesday. If you want to reconsider you can phone me in the next few hours."
He laid his hand on the door knob and looked steadily at her. "And I hope you have a very merry Christmas. . . ."
He opened the door and went quickly out.

When he had gone Irma flung herself face down upon the bed.
"Blake. . . ." The sound of his voice shook her so that she could not go on.
He said quickly: "Carol, darling. Where are you?"
"At home. I've just gotten in."
"May I come right out?"
"Of course. You're not busy?"
"There's no one here but me. I've been sitting here cursing the hands of my watch."
She did not dare to ask if his

The apartment seemed indifferent and empty after the warmth and life of the house in Meredith. Carol closed the door softly and went straight to the telephone without taking off her hat.
Blake answered the telephone himself with an eager "Yes!"
"Blake. . . ." The sound of his voice shook her so that she could not go on.
He said quickly: "Carol, darling. Where are you?"
"At home. I've just gotten in."
"May I come right out?"
"Of course. You're not busy?"
"There's no one here but me. I've been sitting here cursing the hands of my watch."
She did not dare to ask if his swear: I don't matter to you any more than you do to me."

She said shrilly: "But you do matter! I—couldn't live without you!"
His mouth twisted bitterly. "You've made a pretty good stab at it so far."
"But I've had to. I'll come home with you even if it kills me!"

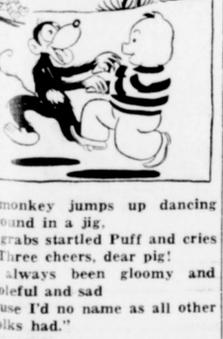

The melodrama revolted him. The supreme sacrifice, she was no doubt thinking. He got up and walked to the door and back.
"I'm sorry, but it's too late now. I couldn't play up. Do we have to talk about it any more? I'm offering you a chance to get the divorce yourself, on the grounds of cruelty."
"Suppose I refuse?"
"Then I'll have to get it myself, on the same grounds."
"You can't do it," she almost screamed. "I can refute anything you try to say!" She made a supreme effort at control, and went on in an altered voice.

"Blake, wait a year and see. You got tired of me; how do you know you won't tire of her?"
The room whirled dizzily with him. There was no use, of course, in trying to make her understand.
"I'm sorry, but I'm through—whether you believe me or not. I'll never live with you again; I'm putting the house on the market as soon as I get back, and starting divorce proceedings immediately. If you want to fight it you're at liberty to do so."
Her body sagged. He was speaking the truth and she knew it. At the sight of her ravaged face pity stirred in him, and he said more gently:

"Wouldn't it be wiser to follow my suggestion, Irma, and get the divorce yourself? People will think you're tired of me, and God knows that's plausible enough. . . ."
"And if I do, will you promise to wait a decent interval before you marry this woman? A year?"
So that people might possibly be deceived, he knew she meant.
"Of course I won't. I'm not a child, and neither is she. Our time is too precious."
"Then you'll have to make a cad of yourself and a joke of me. Because I won't do it."
She was bluffing him, of course; thinking he would not dare. And he knew she was bluffing. He stood up.

"I'm sorry you see it that way. I've already talked to a lawyer, and the papers will be filed Wednesday."
Irma sprang to her feet. "You'll understand, of course. You loved me, knowing that I was more than you; that I was sure to lose my attraction before you were yours. And now that it's happened you're being a beast, and trying to cast me aside like an old rag."

Irma sprang to her feet. "You'll understand, of course. You loved me, knowing that I was more than you; that I was sure to lose my attraction before you were yours. And now that it's happened you're being a beast, and trying to cast me aside like an old rag."

PUFFY
The monkey jumps up dancing round in a jig. Then grabs startled Puffy and cries "Three cheers, dear pig! You've always been gloomy and doleful and sad because I'd no name as all other folks had."

REG'LAR FELLERS
I jus saw a feller drop a quarter an I picked it up an gave it to im. Now's that for bein' honest?
GAMI

A Shady Deal
An' mom had a whole pan of hot crullers with piles of sugar on the table an I didn' even swipe one on account of honesty is the best policy.

By Gene Byrnes
Our whole family is that way. My lil' brother an' head is twice as honest as I am. He has the most honestest face I ever saw in your life.

By Gene Byrnes
When some one gets into the jam mom jus looks at pinheads an' honest face an' yallops me!

THE CLANCY KIDS
Everything is Fair in Football and War
Now these guys are one touch down ahead of us. So watch out for what I told you—we can beat 'em if ya do.

SIGNALS: 72-82-83-90-6-???

GO IT, TIMMIE!
LE'LL SHOW YA

LOOK!! AN AEROPLANE IS ON FIRE.

Y' CHEAT!
CATCH HIM.

HEALTH FACTS!
The cause of pain and physical discomforts too numerous to list; from which you suffer, can be determined by an examination of your spine and corrected by chiropractic adjusting; removing the obstruction between the brain and various organs. Investigate the drugless way to health.

The Spine is the Human Switchboard controlling Health and Vigor

Chiropractic releases the Power Within

Vira S. Martin, D.C.; Ph. C.
Moblely Hotel
Hours 2 to 5 P. M.

Full Measure Service in BUILDING SUPPLIES

Now is the ideal time for any home owner to develop his plans for a home of the future.

Not only have we home building plans, but plans and specifications for any number of inexpensive remodeling and improvement ideas, plus materials of fine quality at prices you can pay.

Interview us for modern building plans.

Rockwell Bros. & Co.

111 East Fifth Street. Phone 4

IDEAL CAFE

Next to Community Gas Office

SHORT ORDERS

T-Bone Steaks

LUNCHES

BEER and GARRETT'S WINES

Blue Ribbon CHILI PARLOR

The home of the Famous Chili Sandwiches

Cold Drinks, Candy and Tobacco.

Fresh Chili made daily. Stop by and take home a pint or quart, it is delicious.

Your patronage will be appreciated.

Across street from Radford Grocery Company

E. L. SPILLERS, Prop.

FROM HOUSES TO CHICKEN COOPS

We have what you need in the Building Line.

CALL 12

BURTON-LINGO LUMBER CO.

LUMBER

And a Complete Line of Building Material of All Kinds.

COOL AND LOVELY

Summer's intense heat takes heavy toll of your skin and hair. Put them in the care of our operators. Our correct methods and Farel Destin preparations will insure their best care.

ELITE BEAUTY SHOP

ELIZABETH McCracken, Prop. Cisco
Phone 144.

ABC Washes

FASTER SAFER WHITER

Now you can do your washing in one-half the time with the beautiful new ABC One-Fifty-Six . . . Largest capacity on the market . . . New exclusive ABC French Type Agitator . . . New ABC aluminum Streamlined Wringers . . . ABC Patented Finger Tip Control . . . ABC Instantaneous Touch Release . . . ABC "Touch Feed" . . . are only a partial listing of the many features of the sensational ABC One-Fifty-Six Washer—The Washer that has more Safety and Convenience Features than any washer ever built. Call for a demonstration!

Gasoline or Electric

ABC Washing Machine Co.

705 D Ave. Tel. 60

Also Dealers in GRUNO RADIOS

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wagoner and daughter, Patsy Lynn, have returned to their home in Ranger after a visit with relatives here.

Miss Marcia Mobley has returned from Abilene.

SOCIETY and CLUBS

MRS. C. W. TRAMMELL, Editor
Phone Numbers 535 and 608

The Notebook

Monday
The Cisco Charity and Welfare association will meet at 9 a. m. at the City Hall. Election of officers will be held.

The Y. W. A. will meet at 8 p. m. with Miss Willie Frank Walker, 109 West Tenth street.

Tuesday
Circles of the Baptist W. M. S. will meet at 3 o'clock at the following places:

Circle One, Mrs. F. W. Snyder, 802 West Eighth street.

Circle Two, Mrs. A. B. Cooper, 603 West 12th street.

Circle Three, Mrs. H. J. McArdle, Humboldt.

Circle Four, Mrs. L. J. Leech, 610 West Fourteenth street.

Circle Five, Mrs. Clarence Cloere, 207 West Ninth street.

Circle Six, Mrs. Roy Moad, East Sixth street.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the church at 4 o'clock. The annual Loyalty Day program will be presented.

All circles of the Methodist W. M. S. will meet at the church at 3 o'clock for Bible study.

Wednesday
The G. A. will meet at the First Baptist church at 7 p. m.

The Marigold club will meet with Mrs. S. E. Hittson, 1010 West 12th street at 3 p. m.

Thursday
The Friendly Twelve Forty-Two club will meet at 8 p. m. with Mrs. Sam King, 1200 M avenue.

Officers Elected By Randy Juniors

The junior class of Randolph college held a meeting at the assembly period Monday morning when the following officers were elected: Frank Donnelly, president; Elsie Pulley, vice-president; Lillian Farris, secretary and treasurer; William Shook, class reporter; entertainment committee: Misses Lucille Clark and Flora Bacon and Billy Kilborne and Thomas Wilson.

VISIT SAN ANGELO

Among those going to San Angelo Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. William Reagan, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Osburn, Miss Lorena Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Caudie, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lane, Mrs. V. E. McCharen and Myrtle Anderson.

Don Foster and Hilton Harbin have returned to their home in Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hamor and children of Ranger, visited Mrs. Hamor's father, John Clark, Sunday.

CLASSIFIED SECTION

Cisco Daily Press and Rural Edition
Every Day Except Saturday.
All classified advertising received before 2:30 p. m. will appear in the evening Press of that date unless otherwise ordered. Classified advertisements to appear in the Sunday morning edition will be received until 8 p. m. Saturday.
Minimum charge 25 cents. Three insertions will be allowed for the price of two. Insertions must be consecutive.

AUTO LOANS
C. E. MADDOCKS & CO.,
Ranger, Texas

FOR RENT—Bedroom and garage for gentlemen. 616 West Fifth.

Personals

Miss Marie Winston of Abilene, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Winston.

Misses Laverne Purvis and Dixie Bills were in Eastland Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson and Mrs. W. J. Foxworth have returned from a visit in Dallas.

Miss Helen Crawford is expected to return today from Austin where she went to attend rush week.

Victor Gilbert has returned from a business trip to Houston.

Miss Bessie Pearce visited her parents over the week-end.

Forbes Lee Wallace, Melvin Lawson and Wendell Russell left Sunday for A. and M.

Mrs. Yancey McCrea and little daughter, Bernice Ann, and Mrs. J. I. Chesley left today for a week's stay in Mineral Wells.

E. E. Gilbert has returned to his home in Austin after a visit with his sister, Mrs. Joe Shackelford.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reimers, Rudolph Schaefer and Miss A. Schluter have returned from a visit to the centennial.

Iowan Conducts Free College for Lawyers

HUMBOLDT, Ia., Sept. 21. (AP)—D. F. Coyle, 78-year-old former district judge, has conducted a one-man, free law college as a hobby in his home here for 21 years and his students never fail to pass Iowa bar examinations.
Former state representatives, county attorneys and men and women who have scattered to other states have practiced law with only the training received in Judge Coyle's home classes.

Black locust, unlike most trees, is a legume, and like alfalfa, clover and lespedeza, improves the land by fixing nitrogen in the soil.
Mrs. Mary Witmer, 70, charged her husband, Allen Witmer, 73, of York, Pa., beat her and choked her because he was jealous.

HOW THEY STAND

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Texas League Playoff
Dallas 4, Oklahoma City 1.
Tulsa 5, Houston 3.

National League
New York 5, Brooklyn 0.
Pittsburgh 5-6, Cincinnati 1-4.
Boston 5-6, Philadelphia 5-5.
Chicago 4, St. Louis 3.

American League
St. Louis 9, Chicago 3 (second game).
Washington 6-2, New York 1-3.
Detroit 5, Cleveland 3.
Philadelphia 3-5, Boston 1-4.

LEAGUE STANDING

TEAM	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	89	57	.610
Chicago	94	64	.598
Pittsburgh	83	64	.565
Cincinnati	82	67	.550
Boston	71	77	.480
Brooklyn	67	78	.462
Philadelphia	62	84	.425
St. Louis	59	97	.340

TEAM	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	98	49	.667
Detroit	81	68	.544
Chicago	78	68	.534
Washington	78	70	.527
Cleveland	76	72	.514
Boston	73	76	.490
St. Louis	54	90	.373
Philadelphia	51	96	.347

RUSSELL BROTHERS
CIRCOUS
AND MENAGERIE
GREATEST CIRCUS ON EARTH FOR THE PRICE
CISCO
Ave. F and 16th
Tuesday
Sept. 29
POPULAR BARGAIN PRICES
PERFORMANCE 2 AND 8 P.M.
A thrill every minute!

PALACE

Now Showing

It's SWING TIME!
It's BING TIME!
in the Wild and Woolly West!

RHYTHM ON THE RANGE

with Croony, Tuney, Loony Romance... with Seven Big Song Hits!

BING CROSBY
FRANCES FARMER
BOB BURNS
MARTHA RAYE
Directed by NORMAN TAURDO

MARCH OF TIME

TOMORROW
CHARLIE RUGGLES
MARY BOLAND
with
ADOLPH MENJOU
in
WIVES NEVER KNOW
A Paramount Picture
with VIVIENNE OSBORNE
CLAUDE GILLINGWATER

IDEAL

NOW SHOWING

JANE WITHERS in PEPPERS

BETTER THAN EVER
BECAUSE SHE'S BADDER THAN EVER!

with
Irvin S. Cobb
Slim Summerville
Dean Jagger
Muriel Robert

Also New Serial
"THE LOST CITY"
with
WILLIAM BOYD
CHILDREN 5c
ADULTS 10c

PALACE

Next
SUN.-MON.-TUES.
Sept. 27, 28, 29
3-Shows Daily—3
Time of Feature
1:30—5:00—8:30

TRIUMPH!
The year's ten best pictures in one—mightiest entertainment ever shown on stage or screen... 50 stars... 300 girls!
NOW AT POPULAR PRICES!

POWELL LOY RAINER
with
THE GREAT ZIEGFELD
with
FRANK MORGAN
FANNIE BRICE
VIRGINIA BRUCE
REGINALD OWEN
RAY BOLGER
ERNEST COSSART
A Robert Z. Leonard Production
Produced by Hunt Stromberg
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

Phone 687
E. L. WISDOM
Plumbing
Electrical Work
All Work Guaranteed
Special Attention Given to
Out of Town Trade
709 W. 3rd
CISCO, TEXAS

SHIP BY... TRAIN

Sample Low Fares

Now you can travel anywhere by train—in safety and comfort—and save money. Here are a few samples:

From CISCO	Round Trips	Coach	*Pullman
Chicago, Ill.	$38.51	$42.80
Dallas, Tex.	4.45	5.90
Ft. Worth, Tex.	3.45	4.60
Los Angeles, Cal.	43.15	44.00
New Orleans, La.	24.41	26.70
San Francisco, Cal.	48.00	57.50
St. Louis, Mo.	28.62	31.80
Portland, Ore.	56.40	A 84.55
Seattle, Wash.	59.70	B 89.55

*Sleeping car space charge extra
A—Tourist Sleeping Car
Fare is $67.65
B—Tourist Sleeping Car
Fare is $71.65

FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY SERVICE

Western railroads urge shippers to take advantage of this new Free door-to-door service on less than carload freight. Started early in 1936, it has already saved millions of dollars for shippers. It is a great convenience, for the railroads take full responsibility from door to door.

Other noteworthy improvements in railroad freight service include faster schedules.

Railroad passenger service is also being revolutionized. Western railroads pioneered in reducing fares to the lowest point in history, with substantial reductions on round trip tickets. Then they provided air-conditioned cars with temperature and humidity control. If you haven't yet traveled in a cool, clean, healthful air-conditioned car do so on your next trip—a revelation in luxury—but costs nothing extra.

Travel by train because it is safer, more comfortable, more economical, more dependable, faster. . . . Ask the railroad agent about travel or shipping to any part of the world.

Proud of our achievements, we appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress

WESTERN RAILROADS

AND THE PULLMAN COMPANY

Tailoring Expert

Coming From The

KAHN

Tailoring Company of Indianapolis

Mr. J. A. Ethridge will be at store
Tuesday and Wednesday
September 22 and 23

To hold a special display of Gentlemen's Fine Clothes for Fall and Winter Tailored-to-Measure. You can choose from bolt samples of smartest new fabrics and enjoy the service of a fashion and fitting expert.

Order While He Is Here
Delivery Later If Desired.
A MILLION DOLLAR WOOLEN STOCK TO SELECT FROM.

Garner's
THE DEPENDABLE STORE
"THE STORE FOR MEN"

GEORGE'S CAFE
PLATE LUNCHES
STEAKS
SANDWICHES
HAMBURGERS
CIGARETTES
CANDIES

COLD LUNCHES

ICE CREAM, 10c PINT; 20c QUART
COLDEST BEER IN TOWN