Lobo Band Elected Official Band of Lions

Through the Editor's Spectacles By GEORGE

There is current in Cisco and in numerous other communities, no doubt, a seductive proposition involving collective advertising over a radio station situated in a city of some distance.

The merest fraction of the price paid for this advertising can be regarded as covering the appeal to local listeners of that station, and the remainder, consequently, is wasted.

The "town pride" argument is unsound. It is a form of coercion which is glibly advanced to counteract the fact that so little time can be allotted the Cisco program that no one business or merchant can be effectively mentioned.

As it stands it is of the same stripe as the scheme of the plausible out-of-town photographer who represented himself as a collector of photographs of prominent citizens who might later be involved in news happenings of consequence.

MUCH PRAISE GIVEN CISCO ORGANIZATION

Ciscoans Had Played Twice Tuesday for Convention

Another honor was achieved by the Cisco Lobo band Wednesday afternoon when it was elected official band for the District 2-E Lions International amid much praise by the delegates to the convention held at Weatherford where the band played two concerts Tuesday.

The band played at 3:45 Tuesday afternoon in the Weatherford high school auditorium and again at 7 o'clock preceding the banquet held in the American Legion hall that night. Both performances were 30 minutes in length.

The Cisco Lions club sent the local band to the convention with all expenses paid.

The program was rendered Tuesday night in honor of Ross Covey, retiring president of the District.

The convention, the fifth annual one for the District 2-E, was brought to a close Wednesday afternoon. Interest in the convention reached a climax when the time came for the election of a district governor and selection of a convention city.

Delegates elected to the state convention which will be held in Galveston June 21-22 were L. B. Lewis of Fort Worth, Frank Alder-

Three Convicts Electrocutted for Mutilation Death

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 10 (AP)—William A. Kuhlman, Frank Williams, and Joseph Poholsky, former Ohio convicts, were electrocuted for the mutilation murder of Harry Miller, retired Cincinnati fire captain. This was the first triple execution in the state prison's history.

Hot Oil Measure Is Accepted by Senate

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—The senate today accepted the conference report on the Connally hot oil bill, extending the measure two years. Only the presidential signature is necessary now to make it a law.

Police-Pickets Clash Breaks Calm in Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, June 10. (AP)—A clash between pickets and officers here today shattered the calm in the seven-state steel strike.

Fifty policemen and deputies used tear gas and night sticks in hand-to-hand fighting. Several hundred strikers in the melee precipitated when pickets attempted

Royal Family Still Awaits Ceremony

King Farouk Of Egypt With (L. to R.) Sisters Fawziya, Faiza, Faika and Fathiya Their Father Believed "F" Was Lucky

Coronation Of Egyptian King to Be July 31

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—Six royal residents in England are looking forward to another coronation far more important to them than the one just held here.

King Farouk, the 17-year-old boy king of Egypt, his mother and four younger sisters will return to Cairo the last of June to complete preparations for his coronation on July 31.

Just now the group is winding up a four months' "object lesson in history" spent visiting the continent and England.

The four sisters are Fawziya, Faiza, Faika, and Fathiya, ranging from 16 to seven years. (The late King Fuad believed "F" was lucky).

Childish peals of laughter echo almost daily from a secluded tennis court atop Kingston hill for nothing interferes with the program of education and play outlined by the king before his death.

The girls' mother, Queen Nazli, a dark, slim Moslem beauty not yet 40, sees to that.

In principle, their father wished the bright-eyed princesses reared not only as loyal members of their race, religion and family but as constructive citizens of the world.

So the girls spend mornings at

Earhart Hops Off Despite Warnings

DAKAR, French Senegal, June 10 (AP)—Amelia Earhart flew eastward across Africa's wild expanse despite warnings that tornadoes ranged in the path of her round the world flight.

She headed for Gao, 1140 miles northeast of here.

'Fun Fest' Program Is Announced Today

The program for the second Cisco Lobo band "Fun Fest" was announced this afternoon by Bandmaster R. L. Maddox. This program is tentative and several other numbers will probably be added before the program.

The performance, to begin at 8 o'clock at the high school tomorrow night, is a widely varied musical presentation consisting of 14 numbers already and several more to be added.

Mr. Maddox stated today that he and his musicians have worked out just about as good and widely varied program as is possible for his band to present.

It will consist of novelty tunes, sacred numbers, solos, German band, medleys, popular songs and almost everything along that line that the band can present.

The tentative program as announced this afternoon is: "His Honor," March; "Francaise Militaire," French march; "In the Gloaming," cornet solo by Jack Lauderdale; "Imparita Roca," Spanish march; "I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen," brass trio consisting of Durward Boyd, baritone and Jack Lauderdale and Glenn Tableman, cornets; selections from the musical comedy, "Rio Rita"; Novelty Tune, "Three Trees"; "Rock of Ages," Sacred; "Safari," 1936 contest number; "Blue Hawaii," popular; German band, June Morehart and Norma Gormley, clarinets; Jack Lauderdale, cornet, Ralph McAnlies, bass and Jere Loftin, trombone; "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," sacred; Novelty, "Comin' Round the Mountain;" and "Trombone Blues."

The price of admission will be 15 and 25 cents.

Fishermen in Lakes at Eastland Warned

EASTLAND, June 10.—A warning to those who have been fishing with trot lines in Ringling and Lake Eastland, from which Eastland obtains its water supply, was given Wednesday by City officials, who reminded that an ordinance forbids such fishing.

A trot line was found Tuesday night in one of the city lakes with dead bait.

Livius L. Lankford Arrives from Austin

Livius Lankford arrived today from Austin where he has been attending the University of Texas. He and his father Judge Eugene Lankford will leave Friday for De Valls Bluff, Ark. Charles Lankford, student at the University of Wisconsin, will meet them there and return to Cisco for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Cox have returned to their home in Merkel after a visit with Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Seale and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Holt of Sanderson are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cooper.

N. Y. WOMAN DISAPPEARS WEDNESDAY

Either Kidnapped or Murdered, Investigators Believe

STONYBROOK, New York, June 10 (AP)—Two theories, kidnapping or murder—confronted government investigators seeking to unravel the mystery disappearance of Mrs. Alice Parsons, 38, New York social registerite, from her fashionable North Shore home on Long Island.

Bolestering the abduction theory was a note, penciled on cheap white ruled paper, addressed to William H. Parsons, husband of the missing woman, and retired business man.

The note demanded $25,000 and suggested that police activities might mean her death. It had no signature.

Supporting the murder theory was a blood-stained axe found on the Parson's chicken farm. Investigators suggested that it possibly had been used to kill chickens, however.

A servant, Mrs. Anna Kupryonova, said a middle-aged couple called in an auto for Mrs. Parsons yesterday. This was the last time she was seen.

The axe and a hatchet, also stained with blood, was rushed to New York City for examination as Parsons reported that he was ready to pay the ransom demanded.

Dr. Taylor Speaker for Rotary Meeting

Dr. Thomas Taylor, president of Howard Payne college at Brownwood, was the speaker for the Cisco Rotary club's noon luncheon today. He based his talk upon the theme that fellowship is the basis for the Rotary club organization which has girdled the globe and appears to be taking an important influence in international affairs toward the end of bringing about peace and amity between nations.

Five Killed in Fire at Halle, Germany

HALLE, Germany, June 10. (AP)—A mysterious fire killed at least five persons and injured four in a freight depot here today. Nine other employees were missing. The blaze destroyed 120 loaded freight cars and 45 empties. The damage was in the millions of Marks.

Ranger Veterinarian to Be Here Friday

Dr. Ross Hodges, veterinarian of Ranger, will be at the city hall Friday to vaccinate dogs against rabies.

Chief of Police M. L. Perdue requested today that all Cisco persons owning dogs bring them to the veterinarian Friday for vaccination. Chief Perdue stated that a drive will be begun here for prevention of rabies in dogs.

Russia Asks to Join Discussions, Refused

LONDON, June 10. (AP)—Great Britain refused Soviet Russia's request to join in discussions between Britain, France, Germany and Italy of safety guarantees for warships patrolling Spain, and said she felt that enlargement of the number of conferees might cause friction.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Campbell of Abilene were in Cisco today.

BOOKMAKING OUTLAWED BY SENATE VOTE

Governor Vetoes 3 Bills Passed in Regular Session

AUSTIN, June 10 (AP)—The senate unanimously passed a bill to outlaw bookmaking in Texas today. The vote followed swift action by the committee which reported the bill favorably, nine to four.

Members of the sub-group of the house criminal jurisprudence committee said they would have an anti-bookmaking bill ready for presentation to the main committee tomorrow.

Governor Alfred vetoed three bills passed in the regular session. One would remit certain ad valorem taxes to east Texas counties, including Angelina where taxable values declined because of federal land acquisitions for reforestation.

Another amended the law authorizing leasing penitentiary lands for mineral development. The third proposed exemption of county mutual insurance companies from firemen's relief and retirement fund tax.

94 Enrolled in Bible School at Baptist Church

Ninety four including teachers and pupils are enrolled in the daily vacation Bible school now in progress at the First Baptist church. It was reported this morning.

One hundred sixteen were present today on the fourth day of the school.

The school will continue through Friday week with classes being held each morning from 8:30 until 11 o'clock.

The junior department of the school, with May Beth Langston superintendent spends its mornings in Bible stories, songs, scripture, Bible work and in manual training.

The work of the primary group with Mrs. John Smith its head, consists of Bible stories, memory verses, play periods, drawing periods and this division together with the beginners are served eats every morning.

The beginners, superintended by Mrs. G. B. Langston, spends its periods with Bible stories and cutout work, mostly.

Rev. E. S. James is principal of the entire school.

'Repent or Perish' Is Revival Subject

Good crowds continue to attend the Church of Christ revival. Last night Evangelist E. W. Freeze preached on "Salvation by Grace." Tonight his subject will be "Repent or Perish." Tomorrow night his subject will be "Can a Good Man Be Saved Outside the Church?"

Services are being held each evening at 8 o'clock.

"The subject of 'Salvation by Grace,' is certainly a Bible subject and a very important one, for no man can be saved except by the grace of God." Evangelist Freeze said last night. "The great question is how to accept the grace of God. The answer to this question is 'by faith,' but not by faith alone. A faith that will not obey is dead and cannot save; a faith that will humbly submit to the commandments of God is a perfect faith. This is the faith that is required in accepting the Grace of God."

WHEAT IMPROVED

Clint C. Carey, living north of Cisco, was among those shopping here Saturday. He said the recent rains were highly beneficial to all row crops, but interfered with his harvesting his wheat crop. Carey said wheat yield would be much better than was indicated earlier in the spring, and that he estimated his yield would be between eight and twelve bushels.

Roscoe Mayor Dies of Bullet Wounds Sunday

Mayor A. J. Parker of Roscoe died in a hospital here early Sunday of three bullet wounds suffered in a street shooting at Roscoe Friday afternoon.

Mayor Parker was the brother-in-law of Mrs. Asa Skiles having married her sister.

The mayor, at first believed to be critically wounded, was operated upon Friday night and Saturday morning his physician gave him a fair chance to live.

Upon hearing of the shooting Mr. and Mrs. Asa Skiles left for Roscoe where Mrs. Skiles has been since Friday night. Mr. Skiles returned Saturday morning and went back late that night.

A message was received this morning from Mr. and Mrs. Skiles, stating that no definite funeral arrangements have been made but that they would not return until Tuesday.

A charge of murder was filed against Bill Dawson, 59-year-old night watchman. Dawson has been under a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Sheriff Tom Wade said the shooting followed notification to the Roscoe city council that Dawson had been discharged as night watchman at Roscoe. Wade said the council gave Dawson notice January 1 but the watchman refused to leave his job, staying even after the council cut his salary.

HOUSE PASSES RACE REPEAL BILL 93 TO 13

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—The house passed 93 to 13 Friday the bill the senate had already approved outlawing pari-mutual wagering.

Because the bill had failed by a two-thirds majority in the senate it will be effective in ninety days, probably late in September. The governor's signature is needed to complete the legislative action.

The senate had already passed the measure Thursday.

Bringing to a climax a controversy which long had torn the legislature, it passed 17 to 14, a bill repealing the law which four years ago authorized pari-mutual wagering at the tracks. Then it clinched the matter by refusing to reconsider the action and adjourning until Monday.

The vote at this session of the legislature, an extraordinary one called by Governor James V. Allred last week for the sole purpose of settling the issue, was a reiteration of views also expressed at the recent regular session. In the regular meeting, the bill which swept through the house on an avalanche of votes died on the senate calendar.

When the matter of race betting repeal finally was disposed of, the governor told the senate in a special message, the subjects of outlawing betting and laws against other forms of gambling, as well as disposition of state-owned jacks and stallions financed by revenue from tracks, would be submitted.

Cisco Boy Qualifies As Expert Rifleman

W. H. Robinson, son Mr. and Mrs. Ira Robinson of Cisco is now one of Uncle Sam's expert riflemen, having qualified as such recently, according to a letter to his parents. Young Robinson is said to have made 246 hits out of 250 shots.

He enlisted in the United States army April 20, but was not called for service until May 1. He was assigned to Company L 20th infantry, and is stationed at Fort Francis at Cheyenne, Wyo. He is 18 years of age.

Funeral Is Held at 10 Monday For 'Mother' Overton

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock for Mrs. John Overton who died Sunday morning about 9 o'clock at her home, 309 East Seventh street. Rites took place at the Nazarene church with the Rev Luther Pryor officiating.

"Mother" Overton, as she was known to Ciscoans, suffered a stroke of paralysis about two years ago from which she never fully recovered. She had a second stroke Saturday evening.

Mrs. Overton and her husband came to Eastland county over 35 years ago from Tennessee. Mr. Overton died in 1925. After spending two years on a farm near here, Mrs. Overton came to Cisco where she made her home until her death.

She was a charter member of the Cisco Nazarene church, of which only three charter members survive.

A sister near Germantown, Tenn., is the only near relative, but she was unable to attend the funeral because of illness.

Burial was in Oakwood cemetery. Neil Lane funeral home was in charge.

Lightning Burns Humble Gathering Plant at Pioneer

Fire, believed to have been caused by a bolt of lightning which followed power lines into the plant, igniting oil in transformers and switches, destroyed the Fleming field gathering station of the Humble Pipe Line company about a mile south of Pioneer between 4 and 5 Friday morning. None of the oil on location was lost, only that left in the pumps when the plant was shut down for the night at 9 p. m. Thursday being burned.

The plant, which gathers oil from the Brown county field for delivery to the Company tank farm, was electric driven. The three pumps, one suction bringing oil into the station, and the wooden frame and sheet iron structure and other station equipment were destroyed, with a loss in the neighborhood of $50,000. The fire occurred during a series of heavy thunderstorms.

The station had a daily delivery capacity of 11,000 barrels and was being operated on an 1,800-barrel schedule.

Rattler, 54 Inches Long, Shown

A venomous diamond-back rattler was being exhibited in Cisco Monday morning by J. W. Dennison, living 6 miles south of Cisco in the Dan Horn community. The reptile measured a fraction over four feet six inches in length, and nine inches in circumference. However, its middle was distended as though it had just dined on a medium-sized rabbit. The snake carried 12 rattles.

Mr. Dennison said he shot the rattler with a .22 calibre target rifle. He said a mate to the one killed evidently was larger than this, judging by its skin which he found shedded in the same vicinity.

Nance Rally Short, Red Front Wins 15 to 9

Losers Score 9 Runs in Sixth, Seventh Innings

It was looking like another walling for the supposedly weak Nance soft ball team last night. The Red Front heavy-hitters had smashed the oval all over the park and Nance had committed enough errors with the bingles to make the score 15 to 0 as the Ford boys came to bat in the last of the sixth inning.

The first two men up were easy outs. Pete Nance was becoming disgusted with his team. Suddenly his boys came to life and the surprised Red Front team gave up five runs before they finally checked the rally.

Webber, diminutive young moundsman for Nance, then set down the head of the batting order in the first of the seventh inning and Nance came to bat for the last time. Cheered by the five run rally the preceding inning, they began hitting leather and Red Front began fumbling the ball. Hardly before anyone realized it, Nance had scored four more runs. However, the Red Front team finally managed to check the spirited rally and came out winner 15 to 9.

Bozett Injured
A near-serious accident occurred when Bozett, star pitcher of the Red Front team, came to bat in the first of the second inning. He got on base and a moment later one of his mates was on too. A grounder was hit and Bozett, on third, flew for home base. He slid head-first into the ground, the catcher and his mask, and the plate. He came up with a deep gash in his head which was bleeding freely. He was immediately taken to town and doctored but he was back to the game before two innings had been played.

The winners scored in almost every inning, making four runs in the first round and were never headed. They smashed the ball freely and Nance was almost as free with errors. Grady Johnson poled a home run into deep right field in the fifth inning.

Rylie, who replaced Bozett in the second, had complete control of the losers until the last two innings. He kept burning a fast pitch through that Nance was unsuccessful in trying to hit.

Last night's defeat put Nance into undisputed possession of the cellar in the city race.

The lineup were:
Nance — Eddleman, catcher; Webber, pitcher; Nance, first base; Sherman, second base; Wallace, short stop; Yates, third base; McCrary, short field; Caudle, right field; Dean center field and Elliot, left field.

Expect W. Texas to Send Many to Fiesta

West Texas provided the greatest attendance of any section at the Fort Worth Frontier centennial last year and no doubt will flock this year to the Fort Worth Frontier fiesta by the tens of thousands, declares D. A. Bandede, manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce.

"We regard the show with personal interest and pride because it is presented in Fort Worth, the gateway into the west Texas empire," he said. "The development of Fort Worth into the amusement center of the southwest means a great volume of tourist travel through west Texas cities."

Bandede pointed out that the West Texas chamber of commerce building last year at the Fort Worth exposition was visited by 700,000 persons and an even greater number is predicted this season when the WTCC will present "West Texas, Old and New" with approximately 150 cities having displays in the building.

Bank Nights Are Declared Illegal By Appeals Court

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals, the state's highest tribunal for criminal cases, ruled Wednesday in the year old Bonham test case that threatre bank nights are lotteries and therefore illegal.

The supreme court recently ruled that bank nights were against public policy, but did not pass on the lottery phase of the question.

More Forms For SSA Tax Returns Are Now Released

Announcement was made today by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering of the release of Forms SS-2 and SS-2a which have been prescribed for use by employers in making their information returns under Title VIII of the Social Security act. Copies of these forms are now being printed and will be made available in the near future at offices of collectors of internal revenue.

Every employer who, during any calendar month beginning with the month of January, 1937, employed one or more individuals in an occupation not specifically exempt from the taxes imposed by Title VIII of the act, is required to file an information return on Form SS-2 and SS-2a. These forms, it was stated, are in addition to the monthly tax return on Form SS-1 which is also required to be filed by each such employer.

The first return on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a covers the period January 1, 1937, to June 30, 1937, both dates inclusive, and must be filed not later than July 31, 1937, with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the employer's principal place of business is located. Subsequent returns on such forms will be filed on a quarterly basis to cover each period of three calendar months ending on September 30, December 31, March 31, and June 30, and are required to be filed on or before the last day of the first month following the period for which the return is made.

Form SS-2, which must be filed in duplicate, will contain a summary statement of all taxes wages paid to all employees within the period covered by the return. Form SS-2a must show the taxable wages paid to each employee within such period. Form SS-2a is not to be filed in duplicate, but it was emphasized, a separate original form must be filed for each employee, whether temporary or permanent.

Each employer who filed Form SS-4, employer's application for an identification number, will be notified of his number prior to the time the first information return on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a is due. The employer is required to enter his identification number on the information return as well as his monthly tax returns. If no identification number has been assigned prior to the time for filing the information return, the employer must enter on the return the date on which the application on Form SS-4 was filed and the name and address of the agency to which the application was addressed.

Each Form SS-2a filed by an employer must also show the account number of the employee whose taxable wages are reported thereon. If the employee has no account number, the employer is required to enter on the form the date on which the application for the number on Form SS-5 was filed, the agency to which the application was addressed, and the address of the employee. It was pointed out in this connection that under Treasury regulations if, on the last day of the period covered by an information return, an employee has failed to file an application for an account number on Form SS-5, the employer is required to file an application for such employee, based on information and belief.

Form SS-2 must be signed by (1) the individual, if the employer is an individual; (2) the president, vice president, or other principal officer, if the employer is a corporation; or (3) a responsible and duly authorized member having knowledge of its affairs, if the employer is a partnership or other unincorporated organization.

Each return must be acknowledged before an officer authorized to administer oaths but if the amount of taxable wages paid within the period covered by the return is $500 or less, the return may be acknowledged before two disinterested witnesses instead of under oath. An employee is not considered to be a disinterested witness.

Employers who have been filing Forms SS-1 and whose names are thus on collectors' mailing lists, it was stated, will be furnished with a supply of blank Forms SS-2 and SS-2a sufficient for their current needs without the necessity for requesting them at collectors' offices. In view of the large number of employers to whom the forms must be furnished, however, it was not expected that the distribution by collectors would be completed before July 1, 1937. An employer who does not receive copies of the forms by that date should at that time, but not before, request a supply sufficient for his current needs from the office of the collector for his district. In this connection, it was pointed out that failure to receive blank forms will not excuse employers for failure to file their returns on time. Severe penalties are imposed by law for willful failure to file returns or for false or fraudulent returns.

The information to be reported on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a should be made up from the records which every employer liable for tax under Title VIII of the Act is required to keep with respect to all remuneration paid to his employees after December 31, 1936, for services performed for him after that date. Such records must show in regard to each employee: (1) his name, address and social security account number;

(2) his occupation; (3) the total amount and date of each remuneration payment and the period of services covered by such payment; (4) the amount of such remuneration payment which constitutes wages subject to tax; and (5) the amount of employees' tax withheld or collected with respect to such payment, and, if collected at a time other than the time such payment was made, the date collected.

No particular form is prescribed for keeping these records. Each employer must use such forms and systems of accounting as will enable the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to ascertain whether the taxes for which the employer is liable are correctly computed and paid.

Picnic for Cisco Presbyterians Is Held on Tuesday

Between 125 and 150 persons attended the annual picnic of the First Presbyterian church held at Lake Cisco Tuesday afternoon.

The event started about 4 o'clock and lasted until after 7. The time was spent in swimming, skating and in other entertainments at the lake.

Barbecue and "everything that goes with it" and lemonade was served to a large crowd. The barbecue supper was served ed in the dining hall, recently completed, at the Presbyterian encampment.

Henson Williamson Lions Club Speaker

Henson Williamson, brother of Chapman Williamson of Cisco spoke at the Lions club meeting Wednesday. His talk was on soil erosion work that is being done in Tom Green and Coke counties by the soil erosion experimental station there.

The program was short today because several of the members were gone to Weatherford for the convention.

8 Seek Old-Age Benefits From Security Board

AUSTIN, June 10.—Eight claims for lump-sum payments under old-age benefits provisions of the Social Security act have been filed with the Austin field office of the Social Security Board, M. D. Dewberry, field representative, announced today.

"Although inquiries about claims procedure are coming into our offices in increasing volume and it is anticipated that development of claims soon will become one of our major functions, we are still far behind in the number of cases expected to be handled by this office during the year.

"The Social Security board has estimated that approximately 1,530 claims should be filed in the Austin area this year. On that basis, this office should have received about 635 claims by now," Dewberry declared.

Six of the claims entering the Austin office have been filed by estates of workers who have died, while two have come from workers who have reached the age of 65. Throughout the tenth Social Security Board region, which includes Louisiana, New Mexico and Texas, 227 claims had been filed up to May 29, of which 158 have been death claims, 69 age 65 claims. These figures bear out the Social Security Board expectation of two "death" claims for each "alive" claim.

"Old-age benefits should not be confused with old-age assistance," Dewberry pointed out. "Lump-sum payments are now being made only to persons in covered employments who attain age 65 and to the estates of those who die before reaching that age. Lump-sums amount to 3 1/2 per cent of the total wages received by an individual in commercial and industrial employment after December 31, 1936, and prior to death or attainment of age 65."

Allred Signs Three Measures on Tuesday

AUSTIN, June 9. (AP)—Governor Allred vetoed Tuesday three bills passed at the recent general session of the legislature providing for $750,000 for the Rio Grande Big Bend park; $250,000 for a cotton research laboratory; and $800 to replace a burned Cass county school.

He signed the new liquor regulatory bill, a bill creating an upper Red river flood control and irrigation district, and a measure providing support for the judiciary. He said he would sign the general education appropriation without deletion.

Spray Makes Shampooing Easy

Shampooing at home is made easy by use of the spray. It drives soap out of the hair with scarcely any trouble. Thorough lathering with a soap shampoo, in liquid or jelly form, is very important.

Permanents Too Expensive? Then Shampoo Oftener

AP Feature Service Writer
Blondes, brunettes and redheads alike are paying more attention to their hair these days. This season's open-crown hats make a faulty coiffure all too conspicuous.

If a new permanent wave is financially out of the question, soap and water will give you glossy locks which, after all, are far more important than curls.

Do It at Home

A leading New York beautician says, "No woman shampoos as often as she should." That's a broad statement, but how many women you know shampoo thoroughly every ten days or—if they have oily hair—every week?

Women with dry hair are luckier. Every two weeks will do them because dry hair does not pick up dirt so readily.

Despite the array of gadgets in beauty parlors, you do not need much equipment for a shampoo. Soap, liquid or jelly, plenty of water and, if possible, a spray at the end of a long piece of hose. A shower is a good substitute for a rinsing spray.

Proper Procedure

Wet the hair thoroughly. Then part it in several places, rubbing soap into each part. Don't forget to soap well around the hair line. Combine a scalp massage with the soaping process. Expert pressure with the finger tips and work with a circular motion.

After a quick rinse with warm water, lather the hair a second time. Then rinse at least three more times. Most women prefer a warm rinse but many make the final one cold. It is easier to set waves after a cold rinse.

Lemon or vinegar rinses are safe. A few drops of either in the final rinse water are enough. Science has no corroboration for the report that lemon is best for blondes, vinegar for brunettes.

A reminder to salt-water bathers: Be sure to rinse the hair in fresh water after a dip in the surf. Sea water dries the hair.

Mayes New Chairman of Texas Park Board

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—Wendell Mayes of Brownwood Friday became chairman of the state park board succeeding Pat M. Neff of Waco.

He was chosen at the first meeting of the board since its membership was increased six by the legislature. J. V. Ash of Bastrop the new member, was elected vice-president.

The group urged Governor Jas. V. Allred to approve a $150,000 appropriation for a Big Bend park development.

Dr. Tyndall Will Take Pulpit at Tucumcari, N. M.

Dr. David F. Tyndall, pastor of the First Christian church, tendered that congregation his resignation Sunday, and announced that he had accepted the call from the First Christian church congregation at Tucumcari, N. M. The local church had not decided who will be his successor, he announced today.

Dr. Tyndall said he would close his pastorate here the fourth Sunday in June, and will begin his work with the Tucumcari church the first Sunday in July. He will move his family there immediately after closing his pastorate here.

Dr. Tyndall and Mrs. Tyndall extend their thanks and appreciation to Cisco friends and the people generally for the many courtesies and kindnesses shown them during their residence in Cisco, both while pastor of the First church and during his connection with Randolph college.

Dr. Tyndall came here a few years ago to accept the presidency of Cisco's junior college after the tragic death of his brother. Dr. John W. Tyndall, who was killed in an automobile accident. Later, he accepted the pastorate of the First church in connection with his college work, finally resigned as a teacher in the college and devoted his entire time as pastor of the church.

Both he and Mrs. Tyndall have made many friends during their residence here, and all will regret their departure, non-members as well as those of his congregation, whose best wishes attend them in their new home.

R. L. Thurman Gets Agriculture Degree

Robert L. Thurman of Cisco was one of the graduates of the A. & M. college, according to the list released Saturday. He was awarded his degree in agriculture.

"Bobbie" Thurman, as he is known by his intimates, is a product of the Cisco high school, having received his primary agricultural instruction under E. H. Varnell, then vocational instructor, and attended Randolph college one term and one term at John Tarleton before matriculating at A. & M.

He is a son of Mrs. J. C. Thurman of the Word community and a brother of Harvey Thurman of the Gulf service station, West 8th and E avenue. Wayne Thurman, well known farmer of Word community, E. M. Thurman of the Aeme Wrecking Co., Cisco, and Floyd Thurman, vocational teacher of the Kaufman high school, are other brothers. The latter was honor graduate of the A. & M. three years ago, and was awarded a trip to Japan for his scholastic efficiency.

Bobbie is planning to take up vocational teaching as his career.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

Chapter 35
Doped to the Gills

The Skipper had run from Jude's room straight to the exact spot of her brother's fall, just as if she had known what she was looking for and where to find it. She had particularly requested that her doubtful story about the old man not be repeated to her sister, the only person aside from Higgins who could in any way substantiate or refute it.

Her alibi with respect to the shooting of Mr. Farrington rested exclusively on Higgins, who would have died for her with pleasure. Higgins had been in a bad state of nerves since our arrival. I could not forget that he, intentionally or otherwise, had almost succeeded in causing my fingerprints to be planted on a weapon that he certainly believed to be the only one used on M. Farrington.

It all boiled down to the fact that the Skipper was the center of the horror that engulfed us. She could use a gun quickly and well—we had seen her do so in the case of the cat. Her story could be substantiated only by Martha Farrington, and Martha Farrington's life had twice been threatened since we had heard it. The Skipper had been left alone with her sister, who, but for our chance arrival, would be dead. And the Skipper was missing.

My mind began to consider the unsuspecting rescue party that would probably put in an appearance by morning. I wondered what they would say—what we should say to them. I speculated upon who would be in that boat.

I pictured to myself old Andie Darrel, with salt water running down his wrinkled face and his enormous mouth gaping at us. Andie would be in that boat. And after Andie—I couldn't seem to decide on anyone else. Well, we should say that two people had been killed, a third both wounded and poisoned, and a fourth disappeared. Andie would gape at us, and then—blankness. I went over the same ground a dozen times before William came in.

"Mr. Michael says to come down to dinner, sir. I'm to stay with Miss Farrington."

William was to stay—Well, suppose he had locked that cellar door? He had saved the old lady's life first, and he would hardly have gone through all that if he were planning another attempt. After all, it was Michael's aunt and Michael's decision. I went down to dinner.

An Appalling Meal

A have eaten some bad meals in my day, but I have never been confronted by anything equal to that one. Hash-browned potatoes, cold and reeking of grease, underdone pork chops, limp and slimy, burnt peas fresh from a tin can. Mike threw down his fork in disgust.

"Higgins," he exploded, "what the devil is the meaning of this?"

Higgins had been quite well aware of what he was giving us. He had served the appalling meal as quietly and carefully as he might have served a banquet for the Duke of York, and yet I had the impression that he had been enjoying an excellent joke. His face never moved a muscle.

"The meaning of what, sir?"

Michael nearly strangled. "Don't mimic me! What do you mean by serving this disgusting mess? Has Cook lost her mind?"

"No, sir. Cook is a bit upset, sir. I'm very sorry."

"Sorry!" Michael's face turned purple. "Do you mean to—"

But Gay interposed quickly. "Shut up, Mike. Is there anything in the ice box, Higgins?"

"There might be, miss. I will look."

Gay pushed back her chair. "Never mind," she said. "We'll look ourselves."

Unexpectedly Higgins planted his back against the door. His face was expressionless, but it stopped all three of us.

"If you'll excuse me, miss, I wouldn't advise your going into the kitchen just now." His words were civil enough, but his tone was commanding. It took Michael several seconds to be able to speak at all.

"Why not?"

"Cook is not quite herself. Nerves and a little too much stimulant, sir."

I glanced back at the untouched meal. "Do you mean she's drunk, Higgins?"

"No, not exactly."

Brushing past the butler, Mike strode into the kitchen with Gay at his heels. I took a good look at Higgins. With a slight shrug, he stepped to the table and began to clear it. I wanted to knock some answers out of the man, but his back told me plainly that I might just as well save my breath. Reluctantly I followed the others.

An arresting scene presented itself in the kitchen. Cook sat at the head of the table, a huge spoon in her hand with which she from time to time dipped into an enormous bowl in front of her. The woman was not drunk. She was doped. Her eyes and skin betrayed that.

Mike was staring at her, dumfounded. But sheer terror was written all over the face of Annie, who crouched on a stool at the other end of the table, apparently under orders not to move. Through the open door into the entry, I could see Gay rummaging in the refrigerator.

"What's the matter with you?" said Michael strenuously.

Cook waved a roguish, dripping spoon in his direction and began to curse fluently. We couldn't quiet her for a long time.

Finally, she turned the full benefit of her glassy, muddled eyes on my face. Then, grunting like a ponderous animal, she wobbled to her feet and wove an unsteady course up the stairs, still clutching the repulsive bowl in her arms. Four of us gaped after her.

Is Cook an Addict?

Mike flung himself into a chair. "Oh, hell!" he muttered wearily. "What next? Damn it all, what next?"

I didn't answer him. My attention for the moment was fixed upon Annie, still shivering at the end of the table.

"Annie," I said, "have you ever seen Cook like that before?"

The girl nodded dumbly.

"Often?"

"No—no—only once."

"When?"

"Last winter. It was only once, Mr. Wells. She ain't done it in years except then. It was—was an awful storm, sir. And she had a toothache."

I chewed that rapidly. "Did either of the Miss Farringtons know of it?"

Annie was on the verge of tears. "No, sir. We—we said she was sick—me and William. There wasn't no use in letting on to Higgins. He'd have gone straight to the missus, and—it's hard to live things down, sir. I used to know Cook when I was little. She'd given it up, sir. And anyway, it wasn't like this. She was just quiet. Mr. Wells, you're not going to—"

"I don't know," I said. "Go help Miss Palmer scare up something to eat out there."

She went, but I had to help her to her feet. As soon as she was out of earshot I whirled on Michael.

"She's doped to the gills now. That means—I was just beginning to realize what it did mean. The second attempt on Mr. Farrington's life had been made by dope. And either Cook had once been an addict or Annie was a liar. No help was forthcoming from Michael. He sat staring at the floor, not even listening to me.

"What do you think, Mike?" No answer. Impatiently I shook his shoulder. But the entrance of Gay and Annie stopped me. They had found food all right—plenty of it. But for once a successful raid afforded me no satisfaction. We all ate because we needed food, not because we wanted it. Higgins made quiet entrances and exits to and from the dining room, assured us that he had already eaten, begged permission to retire, and took himself off upstairs with evident relief.

Over and over in my mind, I mulled the possibilities that this new angle lent to the situation. If Cook was now doped—and there seemed very little doubt on that score—there was a possibility that she had been in the same condition on the night when Norman Farrington made his dramatic entrance into the house.

In that case, all of our previous calculations of time were worthless. There was no telling how long Annie had lain bound and gagged in the entry. And the unquestionable fact of William's lathered and partially shaven face dwindled in importance. He might have taken all the time in the world to prepare that evidence.

REICH

By MRS. W. E. MORRIS

The Reich Home Demonstration club will meet at the home of Mrs. G. W. Horn and Addie Mae Friday afternoon.

Little Maxine Morris is ill with the measles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Horn were visiting friends in Cisco Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Elbert Ezzell visited Mrs. G. W. Horn Tuesday morning.

W. E. Morris went to DeLeon with the Woodmen of the World soft ball team Saturday evening.

R. H. Horn and family of Cisco visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Horn Friday morning.

Mrs. G. W. Horn and Addie Mae attended the funeral of Mrs. John Overton in Cisco Monday.

This community was deeply saddened by the death Thursday morning of Mrs. R. E. Dillon. Mrs. Dillon was one of the earliest settlers of this community having donated a part of the land for the school ground here. In the early days of this community she was very prominent in the church work and other activities and at the time of her death still owned a large amount of land here. She was always a charitable person giving help to those in need and was loved by every one who knew her. She was a devout Christian, a member of the Methodist church, and was always interested in the welfare of her fellowman. We of this community wish to express our heartfelt sympathy to her bereaved relatives. May the Heavenly Father's greatest comfort be theirs in this hour of great sorrow.

FD's Son May Run For Texas Office

AUSTIN, June 10 (AP)—Rumors at the capitol here indicate that Elliott Roosevelt, second son of the president, may enter one of the Texas statewide races next summer. The reports generally link him with the campaign for lieutenant governor.

Young Roosevelt, whose home is Fort Worth, already has evinced a keen interest in Texas politics. He is a past officer of the state organization of young democrats.

News From County 4-H Clubs

Ernest Bob Dobbs, president of the Colony Boys' 4-H club was recently declared the winner of a ten dollar merchandise certificate in the national farm record book contest for 1936. This contest was sponsored by the International Harvester company for 1936 and they will sponsor the same type of contest in 1937. The announcement of Dobbs as winner in the contest was made by J. P. Caudie, blockman for this district, to Assistant County Agent Hugh F. Barnhart on Tuesday. This ten dollar merchandise certificate will be presented to Dobbs by J. P. Caudie of Breckenridge during the county boys' and girls 4-H club encampment, July 9th and 10th. Dobbs won this prize by keeping an accurate up to date record of all farm operations on his father's farm for the year 1936.

Several 4-H club boys have already entered the contest for this year expecting that several awards will be made to Eastland county boys for 1937.

Farmers Invited to Make Requests Soon

Eastland county farmers and ranchers who intend to make requests to the county agents' office for field terrace lines or pasture contour lines and who intend to do the construction work this summer should get their requests in at once, announces County Agent Cook.

The county terracing supervisor, R. R. Bradshaw and N. Y. A. boys employed under the terracing project will terminate their services on July 1st and workers to run terraces and contour lines will not likely be available after that date, Cook stated. However, it is likely that another such project will start operation again this fall running terrace lines on row-crop land.

Ways of Controlling Grasshoppers Cheap

Modern methods of controlling grasshoppers are economical and very effective if used properly. County Agent Cook is urging those whose crops are suffering from grasshopper infestation to apply control measures early in the infestation, as the expense of control at this stage is much less than if used later.

Poison bran mash for grasshopper control is made as follows: Coarse wheat bran, 25 lbs.; Paris green or white arsenic, 1 lb.; high grade amyl acetate (avoid cheap grades of banana oil or bronzing liquids), 1 oz.; cane or sorghum molasses (avoid corn syrup), 2 qts.; water sufficient to make a moist mash as explained below.

Mix the bran and poison together thoroughly, Cook said. Dilute the amyl acetate and molasses in about two gallons of water. Pour this liquid over the mixture of poison and bran until every particle is moist. Then make further additions of water and mix thoroughly until a mash is obtained that is quite moist, yet so it will fall apart after being tightly squeezed, and so may readily be sown broadcast.

This quantity of mash should be broadcast so as to cover about five acres. A good practice is to mix at night and sow early in the morning before nine o'clock, since the hoppers do not actively feed until the dew dries up. If it is desired to kill hoppers in grass land, sow over the entire acreage to be protected. Where they are migrating from fence rows or pastures into cultivated crops, sow the fence row on a fairly broad margin of the pasture, and also a broad margin of the cultivated crop with the mixture.

Amyl acetate is preferable in the formula but if it cannot be obtained, substitute six lemons for one ounce of the amyl acetate. This should be diluted with water as with the other substance, but one should use both juice and rinds, grinding the latter in a fine food chopper.

Do not place the mash in piles. Do not use lead arsenate—use Paris green or white arsenic, and do not use cheap banana oil or bronzing liquids, the agent said.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor
LOS ANGELES — Fishermen assert a fish will do whatever you wish if you can tackle him, but an easier way has been invented by science—give him an itch.

H. T. Burkey, electrical engineer here, does this electrically. For him fish will stop still, in masses, and just stand wiggling. They stop at the outside edge of an electrical field in the water, produced by a simple electrical fence, carrying small, harmless charges. Mr. Burkey hangs it in the water from a float. Fish stay six feet away, poking their noses into the electric field. The invention is for conservation—to keep a fish where he belongs until the government wants him.

date of death. Some 4000 persons in Texas are now entitled to these lump-sum and death payments, but only about 100 claims have been filed. To file a claim for payment, one need only to write the Social Security board at Austin and advise that the worker became 65 and wishes to claim his benefit or that the worker died, and his widow, or his child, or his executor or administrator or the guardian or trustee of his estate wishes to file claim. Then, von Rosenberg said, his office will send the simple forms that are required to be filled in and returned to the Austin office of the Social Security Board, after which the claim will soon be on its way toward adjudication.

The minimum monthly benefit that will be paid is $10, which goes to the beneficiary who has been paid only $2000 total wages, while the maximum monthly benefit will be $85 per month. To qualify for a monthly benefit, one must have earned by the time he reaches age 65, a minimum of $2000 in total wages, he must have received these wages in some part of 5 different calendar years, and he must cease working for wages in covered employment. Benefits are based on wages received, and are figured on the basis of 1/2 per cent of the first $3000 wages received, or $15 a month, plus 1-12 per cent per month on the next $42,000 or $35, plus 1-24 per cent per month on the next $84,000 or $35, making a total of $85 per month maximum.

As an example, von Rosenberg said, a man now 60 years of age who works for $50 a month for the next five years will be 65 years old, will have received $3000 a year for five years, or a total of $3000. That man, when 65, and when he retires, will receive a check each month for the rest of his life in the amount of $15.

A man now 20 years old, who works till he is 65 at $50 a month will receive $3000 a year for 45 years. He will have received a total of $27,000 in wages and his retirement benefits at the age of 65 will be 1/2 per cent of the first $3000 or $15, plus 1-12 per cent on the next $24,000 or $20, making a total of $35 a month that he will get for the remainder of his life each month. If that 20-year-old - fifty-dollar-a-month man should save and invest enough money to yield himself a $35 a month retirement income, he would have to save and invest at 4 per cent the amount of $10,500. He therefore might consider that his social security account is worth $10,500. Some employees, von Rosenberg said, do not understand the value of their social security accounts. In fact, it is reported that some employees in Cisco are refusing to apply for numbers. When they realize that these accounts are worth big money, they will not hesitate to get numbers. Also, the numbers are required by the law, von Rosenberg said, and therefore one cannot choose to remain out of the program. Neither can a person who is not within the scope of the program voluntarily elect to participate. If a person works in any kind of manufacturing or business establishment he is required to get a number and participate.

The Social Security Board office in the Old Federal Building at Austin, von Rosenberg said, is prepared to answer questions regarding the program.

Modern Safety Deposit Service

First National Bank

IN CISCO, TEXAS
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

During the twenty years of this bank's existence it has never borrowed a dollar or re-discounted a note. Operating so independently of the outside financial world, so to speak, for the period of its existence, is a unique record.

We are justly proud of such an achievement for we believe it indicates sound management, dependability and strength.

When the waves of prosperity have washed high, and when the troughs of depression have dipped low, this strong, reliable institution has sailed the business seas with confidence, precision and safety . . . and at all times under its own power and control.

Why not let this bank handle your banking business?

Xmas Trees May Become Farm Crop

PORT ANGELES, Wash., June 10 (AP)—Growing Christmas trees may become just as much a farm crop venture as growing wheat or potatoes, if experiments being directed by the U. S. Forest Service are successful.

Chilling conservation campaign, supervised by George M. J. Mager, are planting 22,000 Douglas fir seedlings on Olympic Peninsula forested land, spacing them but four or five feet apart, instead of the usual eight-1000 spacing used in general reforestation.

When the baby trees reach a suitable height they will be marketed as Christmas trees, and a close check on all costs of the project will be available to show whether "Christmas tree farming" is a profitable cultural enterprise.

Red Hair Is No Sign of Temper Says Prof.

AUSTIN, June 10 (AP)—There is no belief that persons with red hair have a temper, as is claimed by Dr. D. B. Klein, professor of psychology at the University of Texas.

No relation has been worked out yet between a certain coloristic and a given body type, he says.

"The average person may remember only the outstanding examples when he forms an opinion. The belief that a person with red hair has a bad temper is a popular one. No doubt every son can think of an example among people he has known tend to forget the ones with tempers and remember only whether "Christmas tree farming" is a profitable cultural enterprise."
