is curious how a man becomes attached to his residence while he is away. While he is away, the faults and irritations of the place are more likely to be noticed, but once he goes home, the place seems to be full of life and approval. Thus, the Cisco state fish hatchery returned to Cisco today, and I returned to Lubbock with Mrs. Wright for a visit with his sister, Mrs. J. M. Robinson, who is staunchly loyal to the climatic conditions of the Lower Rio Grande valley where he is in charge of the Olmito hatchery in Cameron county. The heat, said, never has climbed above 100 degrees, whereas Cisco has a temperature as high as 106. I aid temporarily, because such extremes are rare.

Wright can't get Cisco out of his skin. Like all the rest who have lived here, he likes his country, likes the city and people. And I am confident that he would like mighty well to come back to this soil and climate and live among these people again.

Wright went to Jasper from Cisco about a year and a half ago. Jasper is in southeast Texas, down among the pines and cypress and the inert mosses of parasitic Spanish moss. Here for five months, he was transferred to his present post May 15, 1936.

At the Press office this morning, he inquired after the health of D. C. Harper, superintendent of the Cisco hatchery and, incidentally, gave me the low-down on Harper's attack of illness while on a visit to the Olmito hatchery a few weeks ago. According to Wright, Harper was a guest in the home of the superintendent of the Kerrville plant and so appreciated the hospitality of the superintendent that he ate two roasted steaks, a watermelon or two and efficient trimmings to round it up a good meal. He topped this at night with half a dozen sandwiches, a quart or so of ice cream, a box of candy and a considerable quantity of other delicious food. During the afternoon he had taken the edge of his appetite with a few sips.

Harper couldn't understand at had gotten the matter with digestion when the illness struck him late at night and he was five or six Alka-Seltzer tablets to sort of help matters. He was looking pretty green when the doctors got there, and still wasn't looking so hot when he got back to Cisco after he had relieved him of his monetary distress.

ites for Mother of Mrs. Van Horn Held

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Hardinville, Ill., for Mrs. Daniel Miller, 77 year old mother of Mrs. John Van Horn, who died Monday at her home. Mrs. Van Horn did not attend the funeral since she has just returned from a three months visit with her mother. Mrs. Miller had been ill the past three years.

R. E. Lee and daughter, Ann, of Coleman visited friends here for short time today.

ONE MEANS OF STOPPING TAX EVASION, SAYS

Propose Eight-Point Program to Plug Income Tax Leaks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The senate-house tax committee recommended drastic increases in domestic personal holding companies today as one means of preventing tax avoidance.

It proposed for enactment in this session an eight-point program to plug income tax leaks and suggested that undistributed net income of foreign personal holding companies be figured in gross income of their American owners.

Treasury officials said enactment of the committee's recommendation would mean an increase of $100,000,000 in federal revenues.

The committee recommended a stiffer tax treatment for various methods used by the wealthy to reduce taxes, revealed in a recent investigation.

County School Sup't Rotary Speaker Today

An address by County Supt. of Schools C. S. Eldridge, a piano solo by James Whaley, 8-year-old niece of Mrs. R. N. Cluck and a reading by "Scrippy" Cluck formed the program for the luncheon today of the Cisco Rotary club.

H. H. Monk, new manager of the Cisco district of the West Texas Utilities company, was introduced as a member of the club. Other guests were P. W. Campbell, traffic manager of the West Texas Utilities company, Abilene, and W. M. Howard of Rising Star.

"Unless we change our educational system to teach children how to think instead of what to think, we are heading for trouble," said Mr. Eldridge. "The problems of tomorrow are the problems of the children with whom we deal in our public schools. What is occurring nationally today is the result of the teachings of 15 and 20 years ago. If we would solve the problems of the future we must solve them through the children of today."

He criticized the educational program of the state for its emphasis on college education, declaring that the wrong track had been taken in building colleges and then endeavoring to build the public schools to them. "We do not put on a roof before we build the foundation and the structure," he said.

He recited the progress that has been made in giving Eastland county rural school children access to affiliated high schools and appealed to the club members to assist in urging upon the legislature the need of adequate transportation appropriations in order that this service might continue to be available to the children in outlying districts.

Mrs. Ernest Hittson was pianist for the club.

Plans Made for Son To Enter Tarleton

Mr. and Mrs. Zed Kilborn were in Stephenville Tuesday where they went to make arrangements for their son, Billy, to enter John Tarleton college this fall.

They were accompanied by their guest, Miss Lucile Cantrell of Columbus, Ohio.

Young Instructor at Texas University Disappears

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—State and city police today continued their search for Charles Ely Lankford, 25, instructor in bacteriology at the University of Texas, who has been missing since Monday.

His father, Eugene Lankford, a Cisco attorney, and Dr. B. C. Tharp, university professor, were reported planning to go to nearby towns in an effort to locate the young man.

A brother, Eugene, Jr., with whom Charles roomed, said that the latter had complained of a severe headache shortly before disappearing. The instructor was last seen by friends on a street car.

HURRY TO AUSTIN

Judge Eugene Lankford, Cisco attorney, and his son, Livius, employee of the Cisco Daily Press, left hurriedly for Austin yesterday afternoon when first informed of the disappearance of Charles.

VFW Delegates To National Camp Chosen Last Night

E. T. Personette and A. L. Gattis, members of the Cisco Post 3359, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were elected last night as Cisco delegates to the national encampment of the V. F. W. to be held in Buffalo, N. Y., August 29 to September 3.

The men, chosen by the members of the Cisco Post, will attend, it was said.

Rev. Luther Pryor, Captain G. T. Lamar and D. L. Langston were obligated into the post at Wednesday night's meeting and four new applications were passed on for membership.

Post 3359 will serve a banquet August 18th, it was decided at the meeting. E. T. Personette will furnish chicken for the occasion.

Band Attends DeLeon Festival Wednesday

The 45 band members who went to the DeLeon Melon-Peach festival Wednesday had a big time. Bandmaster R. L. Maddox said today.

The group arrived too late to march in the parade but played a 30-minute concert at the fair grounds in the morning and went to the Traveler's Hotel where they were served a "swell" chicken dinner. Later they returned to the fair grounds where they played a 45-minute concert. Following this the members enjoyed the exhibits and then each member was served a quarter of a cold watermelon, furnished by the DeLeon Chamber of Commerce.

The group then "took in" the carnival and returned home.

Wage Hike Quiets Threats of Strike

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5 (AP)—Threats of a strike of more than a million railroad employees diminished to day as a five cents an hour increase announced in Washington brought peace.

Rails still faced the threat of strike for wage raises by five operating brotherhoods.

108 DEGREES IS RECORDED

Rain Wednesday Fails To Halt Heat

While the state and nation swelter under the present heat wave that has scorched the country during the past few weeks and which promises no letup, Cisco Wednesday recorded one of the highest temperatures in the state, if not the highest, and probably the highest in this section.

Wednesday afternoon from about 1:30 until about 4:30 the mercury hovered around 107 degrees and at 2:30 the peak was reached when the thermometer at the Cisco Gas Corporation office recorded 108 degrees, a new high in Cisco for the year and one of the hottest registered in recent years.

Hopes for a good cooling rain rose high late Wednesday afternoon when dark clouds collected, but only a little shower resulted and relieved the situation little.

Although it was believed today that the temperature would not rise as high as it did Wednesday, the recording at noon showed that it was almost identical with the noon reading yesterday.

Scranton to Get Special Nurse to Combat Paralysis

SCRANTON, Aug. 5.—A special nurse will be hired here to aid in the campaign to prevent further spread of infantile paralysis in this Eastland-Callahan county line town, health officers of the two counties and Commissioner King of Putnam decided Wednesday.

The disease, which has claimed four lives here within two weeks, is believed under control, however, with three patients apparently recovering and no new cases reported.

Duty of the nurse will be to see that the three families under quarantine are supplied with food and their mail and to direct nursing. Under quarantine are the Robert Cozarts, who have three children still ill and who have lost a son and a daughter; the Ben Cozarts, whose 19-year-old son, L. B., died Monday morning; and the family of Mrs. Pete Thompson, whose four-year-old daughter died Sunday. The Robert Cozarts and the Thompsons live in Callahan county, and the Ben Cozarts live in Eastland county.

RESPONSE TO EVENT GOOD

150 to 200 Rockwell Officials Due

Plans for the Rockwell Bros. & Co. picnic to be held at Lake Cisco Saturday are about completed, Frank Harrell, in charge of planning and organization of the event, said today.

Mr. Harrell said the response had been wonderful with an expected attendance of between 150 and 200 officials of the company and their families.

Prominent among the visitors will be James W. Rockwell, Houston, head of the Rockwell organization, son of its founder and a native of Cisco. Another high official of the company will be John Sprouse, right hand man in the headquarters office, who like F. E. Harrell, field manager of all the Rockwell yards, began his career with the key yard at Cisco, the yard from which the founder, the late James M. Rockwell, built a business that spreads over three states.

Saturday's "get-together" promises to be one of the most successful picnics held in Cisco this year. The officials of offices in New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas will be present. This is the first year this gathering has been held at Lake Cisco.

Headquarters for the day will be the mezzanine floor of the Laguna hotel. The group will be "foot-loose" for the forenoon and

FEAR WORK OF MISSIONARIES TO BE ERASED

"Will Fight to Death," Proclaims Chinese Generalissimo

SHANGHAI, Aug. 5 (AP)—United States consular officials in all China organized the whole of the American population to guard their lives and evacuate them if necessary today, while Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek suddenly proclaimed: "We will fight to death."

Columns of motorized Japanese troops rolled north to halt the Chinese advance from behind the great wall.

American missionaries feared Japanese domination of north China would erase missionary and education work representing millions of dollars of American investments and years of hardest toil.

Consul General Clarence Gaus at Shanghai directed formation of an American residents' emergency committee to safeguard the lives of 4,000 Americans there. Similar committees were being organized elsewhere.

In London a Chinese embassy spokesman said China had reached an agreement in principle on a $100,000,000 loan that may be raised by subscription over the world.

Concrete Topping of Town Tennis Court Is Begun

The community tennis court project work was resumed this morning following a delay of several days while the contractor finished previous work and prepared to begin on the court.

The community court, sponsored as a Cisco recreational project by the young people's department of the First Methodist church and located on the lot next to the church, will be completed in the near future, it was believed.

The contractor prepared to begin pouring concrete on the area early this afternoon following scattering of gravel on the court this morning and surveying of the tract.

Several boys in town interested in tennis are working with the men today helping them with the concrete and Ralph Barton is lending his assistance.

The court is being paid for by Ciscoans interested in more forms of recreation and amusement. The cost of the concrete topping is about $150, it was said.

Ernie Wilson Resting Easy After Operation

Ernest (Ernie) Wilson was reported this morning to be resting easy after undergoing an operation for appendicitis at the Graham sanitarium Tuesday.

Ernie, who is with the Humble Pipe Line company located at Coleman, was stricken Monday and was immediately brought to the sanitarium by Mrs. Wilson where he went on the operating table Tuesday.

He passed a restless night Wednesday, but his improved condition this morning indicates a speedy recovery.

Ernie, a son of Justice and Mrs. Joe Wilson, was one of the "old guards" of the Lobo grid team when the Lobos were the pride of the oil belt.

Mrs. W. H. Huestis and little daughter are spending a few days in Dallas.

Grasshoppers Damage Putnam Area Crops

"I estimate the grasshoppers have damaged the cotton crop in the Putnam country about 15 per cent," said Sam Yeager, gin operator of Putnam while here one day this week.

"Being a gin man, and therefore interested in the cotton yield in my territory, I have visited and inspected many of the farms. The hoppers have caused much damage to corn and feed crops, and are now working on the cotton plants. But I found where the farmers put out poison early, before the hoppers were old enough to fly, they have caused only slight damage. The McKinney and other farms northeast of Putnam show very little damage to the cotton crops. These farmers put out poison before the hoppers could fly, and have profited by so doing."

Poultry Shipments Increase Sharply

AUSTIN, Aug. 5. (Sp.)—Poultry shipments from Texas to interstate points during June were almost double those during the corresponding month last year, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. A total of 63 cars of poultry were shipped out of the state compared with 32 cars in June, 1937. Egg shipments for the month totaled 43 cars, against 44 cars a year ago.

Interstate receipts of eggs totaled 11 cars, against 17 cars in June last year. Of these receipts nine cars came from Kansas and two cars from Nebraska. In June last year 14 cars were brought into the state from Kansas, one from Missouri and two from Oklahoma.

The Canadian Broadcasting corporation has announced plans for the construction of two large broadcasting stations near Montreal and Toronto.

Hoppers Damage Stephens Crops

Ben Lauderdale, former Cisco resident but now operating his farm in Stephens county, was greeting old friends here this week. Mr. Lauderdale reported that grasshoppers have damaged the crops of Stephens county badly this summer.

"They have practically destroyed my orchard," he said. "The hoppers have stripped all foliage and fruit from the trees and are now eating the bark. The havoc they have wrought will likely cause the death of a large portion of the fruit trees, compelling me to plant a new orchard if I have one."

"I had harvested my grain crop before the hoppers became numerous, and the orchard was about all that was left for to eat, and they have made complete job of the orchard."

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE SERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Fire destroys Kay Crandon's Lazy Nine ranch house and barn. Josh Hastings, owner of the Flying Six, tries to buy her ranch and court Kay. She hates him and is determined to keep her ranch and rebuild. Ted Gaylor, a puncher she impulsively hired, fights Scrap Johnson, a cowhand who molested Kay. They shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings finds them unconscious and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. Ted crawls to a shack where a girl named Marion nurses him through a feverish week. The gun is found and Sheriff Farley hunts Ted. Kay goes alone to the shooting scene at the central divide.

Chapter 31 Jealous Misery

Turning back, Kay paced out the distance from the water to the spot where Scrap Johnson's body had been found. Then she searched the ground between with minute care.

Her eye suddenly caught a gleam in a small clump of grass. Pulling it aside, she picked up a steel nail head, of the type that is used to stud belts and gauntlets.

She knew that because so many people had milled over the spot, her find was of little value, but Kay slipped it into her pocket, and went on with her search.

Standing up and stretching to relieve her muscles of this strained position, Kay suddenly noticed that the sun was sinking in the west. She glanced at her watch and saw that it was after four o'clock, and she hadn't yet followed the stream southeast.

She decided impulsively to take a chance on getting out of the mountains before dark. The trail was so well defined that there was small danger of getting lost, and now that she was here, it was foolish not to study every possible phase of the situation.

Starting along the water's edge, she came after a hundred yards or so, to such thick brush that she almost decided to turn back. As she peered ahead, however, she noticed several twigs that had been snapped off short, and pushed on with a fast beating heart.

Her excitement quickened as she thought she saw more evidences that someone had penetrated the brush fairly recently. Although it seemed impossible that any wounded man could have made such rough going, she persevered, and finally reached the clearing.

The old prospector's cabin stood at the end of it, deserted and forlorn, with its sagging boards and dark background of pines.

Giving way to curiosity that this relic of the past raised in her, Kay determined to investigate. The intense silence, broken only by the gentle rustling of the tree tops, led her to steal forward on tiptoe, so as not to disturb the magic hush.

She noisily crossed the clearing and stopped for a moment at the boarded up window, before going around to the door. Cupping her hands about her face, she put her eye to a crack.

The Black Haired Beauty

Kay managed to stifle the amazed gasp that escaped her at the extraordinary sight that met her eyes, but she stood rooted to the spot, gazing with hypnotic incredulity at what she saw.

Her heart beat in uneven, suffocating jerks, and a blaze of color flooded in her cheeks.

Stretched on the cot, somewhat pale, but evidently all right, considering the animated way in which he was talking, Ted reclined, his head half turned from her toward a dark haired girl who sat beside him, with her hand gently laid on his.

Kay couldn't hear a word of what they were saying, but it was obviously an engrossing talk.

Bright points of light flickered before Kay's eyes and a strange buzzing sounded in her ears as she gazed, as though petrified, at the unsuspecting couple before her.

Tom Runyon's words, describing Ted's fight at Kelly's, came back to her. "He won't mind boasting about it to the black haired beauty he was fighting for!"

So, it was true, then! All that time that they had been riding back in the sunset, with the pressure of his arms tightening about her, had seemed the expression of the emotion she had thought was sweeping over them both, his thoughts had really been on another girl! And the first minute he could, instead of coming back to Kay as he had promised, he had gone to her rival.

A stifled sob broke out in spite of her, and Kay saw the girl inside raise her head in sudden inquiry and listen.

Kay shrank back from the window, and ran into the grove of pine trees that half circled the cabin. Panting as though she had been running a long distance, she bit her lower lip, and stood with her hand pressed against her heart, as she peered out.

The next instant, the willowy figure of the dark haired girl appeared on the steps of the cabin. She stood for a moment in a listless attitude, and Kay had an opportunity to take in her oval face, with its rather sad but sweet expression, and the transparent whiteness of her skin against the glossy black hair that dipped in soft waves on her forehead. In a moment she vanished inside.

One More Look

Impelled by a wild surge of emotion that was stronger than anything she had ever felt in her life before, Kay could not resist creeping back to the window for one more look. It couldn't be true! She must have dreamed this nightmare!

Hardly recognizing herself in the grip of the jealous misery that possessed her, Kay watched Marion's smile as she held her hand on Ted's forehead. Then, as she turned and moved over to the tiny stove, Kay shrank away and ran quietly back across the clearing.

She blindly pushed her way through the thick underbrush that separated her from the spot where she had left Flicker, her mind seething with inarticulate thoughts, and tumultuous emotions. She was incapable of consecutive thought, her one intelligible idea being to get away, as fast as she could, and never let anyone know what she had seen.

Forcing her way on with relentless energy, she at last came out on the grassy space that surrounded the head waters. The sluggish water that had seemed so mysterious and wonderful in the sunlight, looked dark and sinister in the fading twilight. A few streams of color from the after glow of the sunset still streaked the sky, but the faint gleam of a planet and one or two stars told of the near approach of night.

Still animated by her wild desire to get away, Kay felt, without consciously noticing it, the changed aspect of the place, and a shudder ran over her, as she reached Flicker and prepared to mount.

As she swung into the saddle, her eye caught the fatal spot where Scrap Johnson's body had been found. Her overwrought nerves caused an involuntary cry. She gave Flicker a touch of her heel, and they raced through the narrow pass and pointed down the trail at a headlong pace.

By JOHN SELBY

"A POPULAR HISTORY OF WITCHCRAFT."

By Montague Summers! (Dutton: $2.75). Please rub your eyes before beginning Montague Summers' "A Popular History of Witchcraft," because it is a book to provoke wonderment and arouse incredulity. It is difficult to swallow the fact, even second hand, but Mr. Summers is a British expert in witchcraft who actually believes that witches were, and that witches are today. He is therefore remarkable enough for the attention of Mr. Robert Ripley.

"The Black International of Satan," he writes, "that is the canker which is corrupting and destroying the world."

Mr. Summers is definitely not pulling your leg with that sentence, either.

Mr. Summers gives most of his book to a discussion of the life detail of the well ordered witch (and wizard). A sorcerer is, he declares, one who has commerce with the devil. Witches are mentioned, beginning before Biblical times and coming right down to Pennsylvania and its hex business. Formal contracts are made today with Lucifer, Mr. Summers believes. Who can doubt, he adds, that "the Revolution of (sic) Russia, the persecution in Mexico, the anarchy and atrocities of Spain, have been fomented, energized, and directed by Satanic agency?" This Satan is the old devil with the forked tail, none of your modern psychological substitutes.

He describes with minuteness and relish the wicked deeds of witches—of Mother Fillet, who covered the child of John Spink with lice (in 1645); of the Cornish witches who covered two men with vermin, and finally were thwarted when the men stood in a church porch as the congregation departed, muttering to their verminous selves, "We have lost our flocks, call them home."

He describes the witch covens, the Sabbat, the technique used by witches in their broomstick riding (ointment of a sort is indicated). He believes that witches kill newborn babies and eat them.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM CONGRESSMAN CLYDE L. GARRETT

New Agricultural Bill—Chairman Jones of the agricultural committee has introduced a new bill in the house but it is not going to be brought out of committee at this session according to reports in the papers in which Mr. Jones is quoted as saying that hearings will be held between sessions and the bill prepared for early action in the next session of congress. If this is done the bill will be ready for the farmers of Texas in ample time.

Visitors—Our office has been visited the past week by Judge Frank Roberts of Breckenridge, who was on his way home from the Rotary trip to Europe. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Kenney and son Billy of Eastland and Miss Roberta Moss of Denton were in also on their way home from a tour of the east. Miss Lena Alams of Abilene has also been in to see us.

Many Thanks—That big basket of peaches from the Scotts of DeLeon was highly appreciated and they did not hurt the reputation of Texas among those from the more benighted section who had never seen a Texas peach. Those who received one were astounded at the size, coloring, flavor and aroma.

Emergency Interest Rate on Farm Loans—The land bank commissioner announced the continuation of 3 1/2 per cent interest rate on federal land bank loans and the reduced rate of 4 per cent on land bank commissioner loans. Land bank reduction is effective July 1st. Commissioner reduction on July 22. This is in accordance with act passed by the congress and which has now become a law.

Neutrality—The state department and the White House are still stumped as to how to apply the neutrality law to the China-

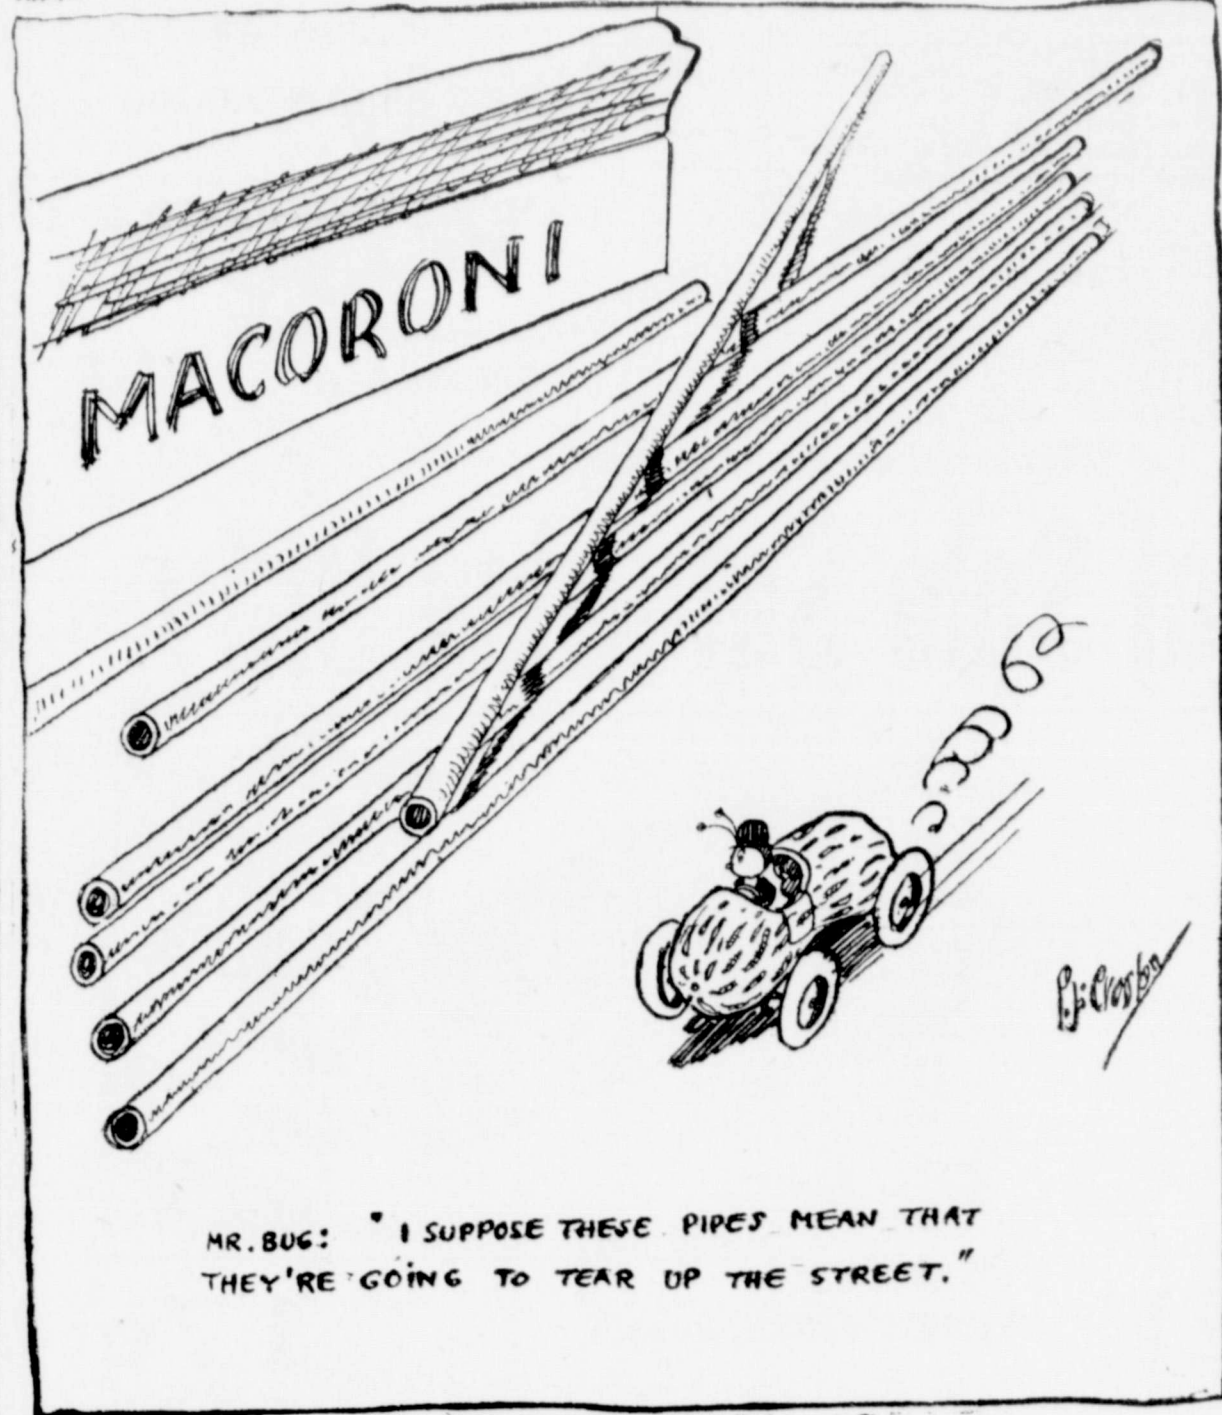

A Fortunate Choice

CHOICE of Julian Montgomery for the place of chief engineer with the Texas Highway department by a unanimous vote of the commission is a selection that will be applauded. The commission has demonstrated in this choice a determination to continue the high character of skill and the service which have distinguished the administration of Gibb Gilchrist, who has resigned to accept the deanship of the school of engineering at the Texas A. and M. college. Mr. Montgomery's service with the Public Works administration as Texas director and chief engineer recommends him highly for the duties he will assume. He showed in that capacity a genius for combining conscientious performance with public satisfaction with his services. That ability is very essential in the post which he has now accepted.

Byrd Amendment Accepted

THE UNITED STATES SENATE has adopted the amendment proposed by Senator Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia placing a limit of $4,000 on each home to be built under the Wagner low-cost housing bill. Byrd, one of the foremost economy advocates among the administration forces in the senate, has been a severe critic of practices under the resettlement administration, instances of which he has thoroughly investigated. These investigations have revealed, according to his criticisms, an extravagance that is reprehensible, in some cases houses which normally could be built for less than $1,000 costing four or five times that much. The opportunity for similar excesses under political influence in the administration of the low-cost housing bill is quite obvious. Charges of obstructionism are quite out of place. The democratic administration is fortunate in this character of conscientious service which will do more to perpetuate the party's control of national government than any amount of supine acquiescence.

The Difference That Money Made

By IRVIN S. COBB

IN THE old boom days in Virginia City, James Fair, the famous Silver Magnate, was sitting one day in a bar room. It will be recalled that Mr. Fair, despite his lack of book-learning, amassed a great many millions of dollars and became a leader in several lines of endeavor. As he sat there the bar-keeper, who was writing a letter, called out to him, asking him how to spell the word "bird." "B-U-R-D," answered Mr. Fair. "That's the way I thought it was," said the letter-writer. An educated gambler who had overheard this conversation bided his time. On the following day, finding Mr. Fair in company of a group of mining-men, the gambler offered to bet him a hundred dollars that he could not correctly spell the word "bird."

"B-I-R-D," said Mr. Fair, reaching for the stakes. "My Lord!" exclaimed the loser. "You didn't spell it that way yesterday."

Japanese situation in the event of an outbreak. Japan can come over and get supplies, but China cannot, according to the law. Not only is this dangerous, but it will interfere with the new currency agreement with China.

Medical Research—The federal government has been put into a field of medical research in a large way by the bill adopted by both houses of congress. A cancer institute is to be founded, if approved by President Roosevelt, at a cost of three-quarters of a million dollars with an authorized annual expenditure of $700,000 for its operation. This would be expected to do much toward finding a cure for the dreaded disease. It was estimated that 25,000 lives might be saved yearly from deaths due to cancer if the patients could be given modern treatment.

Housing—Inability to get together various agencies interested in housing on a central program still continues to hold back administration forces in their efforts to do something worthwhile to provide low-cost housing. A new plan is being worked out, however, for a public housing program.

Pensions—The house approved a 50 per cent increase in Spanish-American War veterans' pensions, granting $60 a month to those with 90 days or more service upon reaching the age of 65, and $100 a month to those disabled veterans who required an attendant. 28,885 pensioners will be affected by the increase, and entail a cost of $5,749,000 the first year, is estimated by the veterans' administration.

Aliens Eliminated—The house unanimously voted to remove the alien civilians from government pay rolls, including WPA. The government compensation for thousands of aliens would be done away with and the way opened for United States citizens who will replace the aliens.

Flood Control—The house passed a $24,877,000 bill authorizing construction of levees, flood walls and drainage structures along the

Fort Worth Man, Prison Board Member, Quits

FORT WORTH, Aug. 5.—J. B. H. Holderby will end his services as a member of the state prison board Monday because he did not seek reappointment he said.

He laughed heartily at reports Governor Allred had not reappointed him because Holderby was sympathetic toward Lee Simmons, former manager of the prison system.

Declaring that he had led a fight against some of Simmons' policies, Holderby said the reports, which originated in Austin, were incorrect.

"I have a high regard for Simmons," Holderby said. "No one is better qualified than he to manage the system, but he wanted to play politics and the position would not mix with politics. He resigned of his own accord after he and I parted as the best of friends."

Opposed Plan to Reduce.

"I am not going back on the board because I did not want to be reappointed. I told Governor Allred when my term expired in February that if he had some other man he wanted to name it would be all right with me."

Holderby said he also advised the Governor that if he were reappointed it would be on his past record, and that he would not ask anyone to intercede for him. He had planned to resign from the board, anyway, at the September meeting, Holderby said.

"The truth is that the Governor had a political debt to pay," the Fort Worth man declared.

Member Over Eight Years.

Holderby, a railroad engineer, has been a member of the board for eight and a half years. First named by Governor Moody to fill out an unexpired term, he was reappointed by Governor Sterling for a six-year term that expired in February.

At the meeting Monday—Holderby's last on the board—civil service examination rules for prison system employees will be adopted.

In advocating civil service, Holderby said that prison guards, now paid from $90 to $95 a month, should receive $150 a month.

"The people don't understand," he said, "that the guards are the most important part of the prison. The guard is the last line of defense and when a prisoner gets away the lives of citizens are endangered."

Can Get Better Guards.

By paying higher salaries the prison system can get guards with better education and reputation, the retiring board member said. Men comparable to those on police forces can be obtained with higher salaries, he believes.

Holderby, who is chairman of the construction committee of the board, pointed out that if the present program is carried out the prison system will be in fine shape from the standpoint of physical equipment within a few years.

The system now manufactures its own building bricks as a result of an appropriation obtained from the state through Holderby's efforts. The board is now in the midst of a construction program, replacing worn-out frame barracks with modern brick buildings. Cost of the buildings, including the material, will be small because the work is being done by the prisoners.

Governor Allred Saturday appointed two new members to the board—Dr. C. W. Butler Jr. of

In And About Moran

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCollum and daughter, Mrs. B. H. Willis, of Moran have been in Bay City on the Texas coast, visiting Jack Dunn, a son-in-law of the McCollums. Mr. McCollum relates that, while fishing off the coast quite by accident, he connected with, and landed, a small shark, 3 feet in length. Accustomed only to inland fresh water angling, Mr. McCollum states that he needed someone to help him turn that shark loose.

Mrs. C. B. Snyder is visiting her mother in Ft. Worth.

Mrs. Ida B. Leftwich left yesterday for Ft. Worth where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Nora Hightower. She expects to visit the Frontier Fiesta while there, Mrs. Leftwich stated. She traveled via bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Pool of Moran, Miss Ova Brown of Cisco and Bob Taylor of Moran attended a showing of Casa Manana of the Frontier Fiesta at Fort Worth Tuesday. The party were guests of the Fort Worth clearing house association, a banking organization.

Mr. Pool, cashier of the Moran National bank here, reports that the banking association entertained some 2500 bankers and guests at Fort Worth Tuesday.

H. T. Wagley, Moran driller, reported today that he, yesterday, drilled in a shallow well on the Townsend tract, 1 1/2 miles east of the city, to produce about 3 barrels daily at 125 feet. Tanks to store production were being arranged for today, Wagley said. This is the first offset to 3 new wells on the adjoining Harris tract at the same depth, Wagley said.

H. H. Monk and E. L. Jackson of Cisco, and P. W. Campbell of Abilene were business visitors in Moran Wednesday.

Crockett, and F. D. Chesnutt of Kenedy to succeed Holderby and W. A. Paddock, chairman. Dr. S. M. Lister of Houston was reappointed.

The Moran Luncheon club met yesterday in the dining hall of the First Christian church for its regular Wednesday noon session. 25 members and guests were present to partake of a bounteous meal of the usual summer dish, fried chicken, done to a turn by the ladies of the church.

The gathering was entertained with readings by Miss Alice Dale Townsend, and piano selections by Mrs. Garland Shelton.

Guests were C. A. Long, Methodist evangelist from Abilene, and Dolph Long, Shackelford county clerk, of Albany. The two Mr. Longs, one being of the clergy, and the other a politician, could rake up no old family ties.

Justice of the peace, J. P. Husky, of Moran reports that Tuesday at 5 p. m. he officiated at the wedding of two Sedwick citizens, L. D. Hammond and Miss Margie Rice. They will make their home in Sedwick it was learned.

Texas Retail Sales Below Preceding Year

AUSTIN, Aug. 5. (Sp)—For the first time in many months year-to-year comparisons of Texas retail sales have failed to show a favorable trend, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. Reports from 106 representative establishments composed of department stores and specialty shops show June sales 14.9 per cent below those of the preceding month and no change from those of the corresponding month last year. Sales for the year-to-date were 10.7 per cent above those of the like period last year.

Paralysis Has Taken Lives of 4 in Scranton

L. B. Cozart was the fourth victim of infantile paralysis in the past three weeks in Scranton, it was reported Wednesday and the people of that community are taking every precaution possible to prevent spread of the dreaded disease there.

No church services are being held and unnecessary contacts between residents of the community are being avoided.

A boy 12 years old and a five-year-old girl, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cozart have also succumbed to the malady. Three other children in the Robert Cozart family have been stricken. L. B. Cozart, member of the Scranton soft ball team, died early Tuesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cozart, prominent farm family. L. B. was an uncle of the two younger victims.

The other victim was Caroline Thompson, four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Pearl Thompson. She died at her home 1 1/4 miles southwest of Scranton at 5 a. m. Sunday. She was buried in the Putnam cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Dr. T. F. Isabell, Eastland county health officer, said the death of L. B. Cozart left three cases in the county. All are past the contagious stage and are out of quarantine, he said.

The cases are widely separated one being in Alameda, on the extreme eastern edge of the county, another in Gorman, and the third at Pumpkin Center, halfway between Eastland and Carbon.

Dr. W. S. Hamlett, Callahan county health officer, reported three cases of infantile paralysis in that county with two quarantined.

THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH DISTRICT COURT

(Judge Patterson, Presiding)
New Cases Pending
The following cases are of recent filing in the district clerk's office for litigation in the 88th court.

Drucilla Johnson vs. J. O. Johnson, divorce. W. T. Boyd vs. Anna Mae Hogsett et al, suit to establish mineral claim. L. H. Reed vs. Rio Grande National Life Insurance Co., damages.

THE NINETY-FIRST DISTRICT COURT

(Judge Davenport, Presiding)
August Term Begins Monday
The August term of the 91st district court opened Monday. Judge Davenport called the appearance docket Tuesday, and Wednesday he began his summer vacation.

Judgments and Orders
The following orders were handed down by Judge Davenport during the past week:
Mary Coffman vs. W. A. Coffman, divorce and designation of separate personal property.

Two old cases, Nos. 8956 and 8962, styled Starnes vs. Security State bank, and County School Trustees vs. Ed Hall, both pending in the 91st court for several years, were dismissed by Judge Davenport for want of prosecution.

Ellis Minton vs. T. A. Minton, divorce. Non-suit granted on motion of plaintiff and cause dismissed.

Goldie Smith vs. Travis Smith, divorce. Judgment for plaintiff.

Grand Jury Report
The grand jury of the 91st court adjourned Wednesday and submitted its final report to Judge George L. Davenport, which is as follows:

We, the grand jury, for the 91st district court, June term of 1937, desire to submit our final report. We have been in session six days, have examined 96 witnesses, and have returned 36 felony indictments.

We desire to express our appreciation to the sheriff's department, district attorney's department, and the constables and bailiffs for their courteous and efficient service during the grand jury term.

We have made a thorough and painstaking investigation of all matters brought to our attention from the various parts of the county and have tried to perform our duties faithfully and in compliance with the law. We regret to advise that there is an alarming increase of highway accidents in Eastland county, resulting from the careless and reckless manner of operating automobiles, and resulting from the operation of automobiles while under the influence of intoxicating liquors and beverages. Our state law and the city ordinances of the respective cities of this county should be strictly observed by the citizens and enforced by the officers until such time as the highway accidents shall have been reduced to a minimum.

We have made an inspection of the jail house and find that it is well kept and in a sanitary condition. Mr. Ross Crossley is to be commended for his efficient service.

Having completed our investigations and deliberations upon all matters brought to our attention, we respectfully request that we be discharged.

Respectfully submitted,
W. F. WALKER, Foreman.
O. A. Kountse, Secretary.

THREE FAMILIES REPORT INFANTILE PARALYSIS

B. E. McGlamery, rehabilitation worker for this district, said Friday there were three families in the county whose members were victims of infantile paralysis. The Cozart family near Scranton, with five children stricken, two of whom have died, leaving three other children stricken; Noble Hager of Gorman, nine-year old girl; and Jim Matthews of Pumpkin Center, one child stricken.

Mr. McGlamery said he had written the state health department regarding the Cozart cases, stating that the case should be investigated as there were five in this family stricken, which led him to believe the cause was local and an investigation might develop the source of the malady.

Doubtless the same condition prevails in other counties regarding the prevalence of this disease, similar to the condition in Eastland county, as isolated cases are reported from other counties of the state.

"Our department can do nothing until the disease has run its course, then it's our mission to step in to do what we can to rehabilitate the patients. We work after the effects of the disease is determined. It is the medical department that must cope with the malady during its prevalence.

"The results of the disease are usually determined in four or five weeks," Mr. McGlamery said, "and if we can get the patient as soon as the results are known the best work can be done in restoration of the patient."

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

Transportation Cut
"Transportation of scholastics is a subject that should interest all friends of the schools," Supt. Eldridge said, "and I hope every school man and woman will write to their senator and representative and urge a more liberal appropriation for transportation. Probably many do not know that the transportation appropriation has been cut from a little over two million dollars to just one million dollars. Unless this appropriation is restored to approximately $1,500,000 indications are that many of the scholastics will have to walk to school. Eastland county plans to continue to operate its transportation system, but it will be at a loss unless the appropriation is increased. We can get this appropriation restored if the school people get busy and urge their representatives to support an appropriation adequate to continue operation of the school buses.

The present appropriation is simply out of the question as it would not support the present transportation program for more than one-half of the school term. "Conditions all over the state are similar to those that prevail in Eastland county where there has been an increase in scholastics since 1934-35 when there were slightly more than 900 scholastics transported. In 1935-36 there were between 1,200 and 1,300; 1936-37 the scholastics transported jumped to over 1,800 and it is only reasonable to expect an increase in 1937-38. So, it is plain to see that with decreased appropriation our transportation service will be crippled. We will either have to finance the operation of the 42 buses in Eastland county or abandon this service.

Abandonment of the transportation service would mean a disruption of the present program that would be a serious handicap for the schools of the state. But I believe the legislature will take care of the matter when it is properly placed before the two houses, if the governor will recommend the appropriation in the call for the extra session next month."

TRANSCRIPT READY TO FILE

monthly allowance of $25 was approved for the maintenance of the wife of said incompetent and his six children, which the guardian was authorized to use for the purposes specified after waiver of Eric Eads, veteran administration attorney, was filed.

Leave of Absence Granted
The commissioners court, at the regular July session, granted County Judge W. S. Adamson two weeks leave of absence with privilege of traveling out of the state. Judge Adamson, accompanied by Mrs. Adamson and their daughter, Margaret, leave Eastland today on their vacation. They will visit the west coast and points of interest en route.

A delegation from Desdemona, Gorman and Strawn was before the commissioners court Friday in the interest of a highway from DeLeon to the intersection of highway 89 with the Bankhead highway. Judge Adamson said some time ago a communication was received by the court from the state highway department agreeing to designate this road as a state highway provided the county would secure the right-of-way, move and rebuild the fences.

The Car that Stands Up Best

THIS BIG, ROOMY, FULL POWERED CAR IS AMAZINGLY ECONOMICAL TO OPERATE
It's the biggest of "All Three" lowest priced cars, and it's the biggest, roomiest Plymouth ever built—wider by three inches than the old standard width, and engineered to give you a new Hushed Ride, an experience in riding comfort heretofore impossible in low priced cars.
Yet it costs less to operate . . . owners report 18 to 24 miles per gallon of gas and surprisingly little oil consumption. And all the famous features pioneered by Plymouth — Safety-Steel body, Hydraulic Brakes, Floating Power, plus the sensational "Hushed Ride" make this 1937 Plymouth the biggest value in low priced car history.
Owners you know right here in town will tell you Plymouth stands up best. That's one reason why Plymouth owners find their cars worth up to $100 more than either of the other two when they trade theirs in on new cars.
See and drive the big, beautiful 1937 Plymouth. We have one waiting for you. Come in today.

No Charges Filed Here Against Youth

No charges had been placed late Saturday afternoon against a youth, apparently a soldier, being held here in connection with the slugging of A. D. Anderson, local Chevrolet dealer, by a hitch-hiker whom he picked up Thursday night as he was returning home from Dallas.

Cisco police stated that identification was not sufficiently established to justify charges and that if any were placed it would be done in Palo Pinto.

Palo Pinto officers came here Saturday afternoon and carried the boy back to that town for further investigation.

available for the purpose, and none of the parties interested contacted the court," Judge Adamson said, "so nothing was done about the matter. The delegation Friday agreed to move the fences, but did not agree to secure the right-of-way or rebuild the fences, so nothing was accomplished. However, the matter is still pending with the court and probably will be given consideration after I return from my vacation."

Dan Christ, clerk of the eleven court of civil appeals, is taking advantage of the dull season of the court and enjoying his annual vacation.

Why Firestone STANDARD TIRES are EXTRA SAFE

TAPPING RUBBER TREES ON FIRESTONE PLANTATIONS IN LIBERIA

From these plantations comes an ever increasing supply of the world's finest rubber. Economies in producing raw materials, manufacturing and distribution make it possible for Firestone to give you so much for your money.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber in every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

Firestone Standard Tires give you all these extra value features because they are first-quality tires built with high-grade materials and patented construction features. You SAVE MONEY because you buy this high quality and extra value at such low prices.

Before leaving on your vacation trip, join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires—today's top tire value.

DAILY TIMES-TRIBUNE

There's always something different about anything Fort Worth does, and this show is no exception. There's a bigness about it all that brings the feeling that what is shown is tops. The show was so different from the Casino in Dallas, rival show, that it could not be compared.

Dallas' Casino is sophisticated, finished, polished. The sort of place where formal clothes and quietness seems appropriate. Ft. Worth's Casa Manana is big, boys' town, and whooping. The men and women of the press enjoyed the show, and doubtless will write much of Fort Worth's unsurpassed hospitality.

Lankford, eldest son of the attorney.

A photograph of Charles was sent to the Associated Press at Dallas this morning by the Cisco Daily Press with an appeal that matrices of the picture be furnished to all client papers in the hope that persons with whom he might be in contact would recognize the features and identify him. It was felt certain that overwork and the intense heat had afflicted the brilliant young instructor with amnesia, causing him to wander without any recollection of the past. He had not been ill, however, his mother said today.

Charles had been missing from the university since last Monday when he was last seen riding a street car to town. His brother, Eugene with whom he lived, and university authorities refrained from notifying the family here in the hope that he would be located.

Brilliant Student

Known as one of the most brilliant students of the university, Charles is an indefatigable worker, applying himself to his studies with such devotion that no amount of urging on the part of his family or his physician could induce him to relax his application.

He is credited with having isolated a new species of bacteria which gained him considerable scientific recognition. Graduated with a bachelor of arts degree from the university in 1935 he pursued his studies toward a master's degree, obtaining all the necessary credits. The thesis which is required for this degree has not yet been finished.

Meanwhile, awarded a fellowship by the University of Wisconsin, young Lankford went to Madison, Wis., in January and did one semester's work toward the degree of doctor of philosophy. He returned to Austin for study and research during the first summer term and at the beginning of the second term a short while ago joined the faculty as instructor in bacteriology, planning to return to Madison September 1 to continue his work toward a degree of doctor.

Cisco High Graduate

He was graduated from Cisco high school in 1928, his scholastic career there marked with the same brilliance that has distinguished his record in college and university. At the time of his disappearance he was wearing a Cisco high school class ring of 1928.

About six feet in height, weighing normally 137 pounds, he carried himself erectly. His hair is brown, very wavy and combed pompadour style, his eyes blue. A slight scar on the left arm just above the elbow at the back and a scar on the back of his right leg just above the knee are distinguishing marks.

A letter which his parents received from him last Friday said that the heat at Austin was unbearable and that he was getting very little sleep, doing research work late at night.

Livius Lankford, younger brother of Charles, is an employe of the Cisco Daily Press during the vacation season. He attends the university during the regular fall and winter terms.

Since 1920 there have been 18 per cent more men teachers and only 6 per cent more women teachers in the public elementary schools of the United States.

More than 6,000 campgrounds will be ready for this season's vacation visitors to the 160 national forests, the United States Forest Service says.

Night accidents, which account for nearly 60 per cent of all motor fatalities, are on the increase, says the American Automobile Association.

Nearly all national forest land is under observation of two look-out stations.
