

HEAVY FIGHTING IN FAR EAST CONTINUES

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Whether or not very many people realize it, there will be an election in Cisco Monday. It will be part of a general state election in which the voters of the state will be called upon to pass upon six proposed amendments to the Texas constitution.

In enacting an amendment to the constitution the people do not make laws in the strict sense of the word, although it has been rightfully charged that the state constitution is being made a statutory document out of all proportions to its appropriate place in the state government.

Among the six proposed changes to be acted upon at this time is one which change the present basis and manner of paying county, district and precinct officials. This amendment was inspired by dissatisfaction with the present method of payment, a method devised by the legislature under authority of a previous amendment allowing abandonment of the fee system.

For that reason I do not think that the change now proposed does anything effective toward meeting the problem. It is up to the legislature to adopt more practical enabling statutes.

10 New Members Are Honored

Sixty-five Veterans of Foreign Wars gathered last night at the Odd Fellows hall for a banquet for the purpose of honoring 10 new members, another indication of the growing membership of the Cisco Post 3359.

The menu for the banquet consisted of fried chicken, cake, punch, and "all the trimmings." Principal addresses were made by Capt. K. K. White and Major Joseph Timmons of Eastland.

The atmosphere of enjoyment was further added to by music furnished by Dick Thomas and his string band.

C. E. Garrittson, chief of staff of the Department of Texas, had charge of ceremonies, bringing a group from Abilene, his home town, for the occasion.

The ten new members honored were Charlie Walker, Earl Ray, J. P. Howell, Frank Allen, W. B. Seaborn, W. F. Siehr, J. W. Booth, E. H. Brooks, J. L. Pettit and Fred Smith.

TEXANS VOTE AUGUST 23 ON AMENDMENTS

Last Election's Officials to Serve Here for Special One

Qualified voters of Texas will go to the polls Monday, August 23, to vote on the adoption or rejection of six proposed amendments to the constitution of the state of Texas. The set-up of election officials which served at the last general election will serve for this special election, it was announced.

W. W. Wallace, C. L. Gilmore, W. C. Huestis and John Dill formed the election board for the East Cisco Precinct No. 5, while Fred Grist, Lee Owen, D. E. Waters and J. S. Stockard were the board for the West Cisco Precinct No. 6.

The amendments upon which the electorate will cast their ballots Monday provide for: 1. Amending the constitution to provide for the amount of the liability of the stockholders in state banks;

2. Assistance to destitute children under 14 years of age not to exceed $8 per month for one child and $12 per month for such children in one family, and providing for accepting financial assistance for such payments from the federal government;

3. Authorizing the state legislature to...

No FFA Camp At Lake Cisco This Summer

The annual Future Farmers encampment at Lake Cisco will not be held this year, it was announced today. Decision to forego the gathering of farm students this summer was arrived at after considering various facts, principal of which was that the encampment had been postponed to next week from an earlier date in the summer, placing it so near the opening of the new school term that it was feared attendance would be materially cut and the chances of success greatly affected.

The decision to postpone the encampment from the original dates of August 5, 6 and 7, had been made because of a general fear of an epidemic of infantile paralysis, although there was none and has been no case of this disease in Cisco. Since the postponement has placed the gathering within three weeks of the opening of schools in most instances and within two weeks of the opening of others, it was decided that it would be best to abandon plans for the three-day event altogether and to center efforts on next year's renewal of the encampment rather than attempt to make a success out of one this year under distinct difficulties.

It was made clear that this action in no wise means that future gatherings of FFA boys at Lake Cisco will be abandoned, but that every effort possible will be made to entertain the largest and best of the series next year.

Everett Sartor of McAlester, Okla., was visiting here Wednesday.

Cut-Rate Market

With their low prices for cut flowers and hand-made textiles and baskets, Mexico's native Indians are taking tourist trade away from the Americanized shops.

Orchids on Your Budget in Mexico That's a Cinch

MEXICO, D. F., Aug. 19 (AP)—A nickel goes a long way in a Mexican market, as Mexico's many visitors from above the Rio Grande are discovering these days. The tourist from the United States is passing up, more and more, the modernistic, Americanized stores catering to travel trade, and is buying his remembrances of Mexico from the original Mexican—the Indian.

So common are American tourists bargaining in the markets for pottery, Mexican shoes, sarapes, flowers, woven baskets, and novelties that the youngsters who hang around hoping to make 5 or 10 centavos carrying bundles are learning considerable English.

Water jars and bean pots, painted in bright colors and glazed for cooking purposes, can be bought for as little as 15 and 20 cents American money. Baskets, designed in beautiful patterns, go for one peso, about 28 cents.

Huaraches, the shoes of woven leather worn by the Indians and many Mexicans, are to be had for about half the price charged in the uptown business section. Gardenias, up to 75 cents each in the United States, are sold for five centavos, or one and one-half cents. Orchids bring 25 to 30 centavos, less than 10 cents American money.

In nearby Indian towns, such as

SINO INFANTRY HAMMERS AT JAP POSITION

American Hospital and Baptist Mission Are Smashed by Bombs

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19 (AP)—Chinese infantry struck at the heart of the Japanese shore position in eastern Shanghai today and forced the enemy lines back almost to the Whangpoo river.

The drive came just as vanguards of the Japanese army from homeland reached the war zone.

This threatened to disorganize Japanese plans for victory on the greatly extended front.

Chinese were apparently trying to isolate several thousand Japanese marines holding the Hongkew sector.

Chinese braved a savage bombardment from the air, ships and land batteries.

Japanese air bombs missed their mark and smashed the American southern Baptist mission at the Chapei quarter and the American mission hospital at Nantungchow. The fate of 20 Americans in the mission is unknown.

Gas Pressure in East Texas Field Declines

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP)—The railroad commission today heard the report of its engineers that gas pressure in the east Texas oil field had declined in the last month.

E. V. Cottingham, chief engineer, said a decline of 13.71 pounds in a month's time was excessive and that withdrawals of oil were too great.

The commission also received the report of the federal bureau of mines estimating the Texas share of the national oil demand for September at 143,600 barrels daily.

Meeting of Oil Association Here Friday Postponed

The meeting of the directors of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas association, scheduled to be held here Friday evening, was postponed several days ago, J. C. Kleiner, Cisco oil operator and member of the board, who suffered the loss of his wife and eldest son, Charles, Jr., in an automobile accident near Tucson, Ariz., last week.

Mr. Hunter requested today that Cisco operators, several of whom are members of the board, confer and agree on a date for the meeting about a week before the meeting of the legislature in special session and inform him so that the necessary notices may be issued.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss the tax situation as it affects the oil industry.

Starr Writes Clyde Garrett On Peanut Topic

Following is a letter written by W. B. Starr, Cisco farmer who was elected president of the Southwestern Peanut Growers association formed at a meeting in Brownwood last week, to Congressman Clyde Garrett.

Cisco, Tex., 8-15-1937. Hon. Clyde L. Garrett, Member of Congress, House Office Building, Washington, D. C. Dear Mr. Garrett:

I appreciated very much your favor of June 14th, written in answer to my previous letter, asking for your cooperation in making peanuts a basic commodity in the new farm bill pending in congress. Am sorry that congress saw fit to delay the passage of any farm bill until the next session of congress. I look within the next three months to see much lower prices on all farm commodities. Had it not been for the very bad crop conditions in Canada with somewhat similar conditions in much of Europe, wheat would have sold this year for between 70 and 80c per bu. I am advised that oats are now selling on the farms in eastern Iowa for 24c per bu.

The peanut growers in the "southwestern area," that territory southwest of the Mississippi river, are now completing an organization to be known as the Southwestern Peanut Growers association. Our first action will be to cooperate with the department of agriculture in an attempt to stabilize the price of peanuts for the 1937 crop at a "fair price" to growers and consumers of that farm product. Am sending you under separate cover a copy of the Cisco Daily Press in which you will find some comments on this new organization. We hope that the future activities of our peanut growers organization will result in a better farm income not only for the peanut growers in their 1937 crop, but also for crops of other years in the future.

Am writing this letter to call your attention to the very great need, at this time, of farmer-warehouses at various points within your congressional district. It is going to be almost impossible for our farmers to cooperate with the department of agriculture in future farm programs unless adequate warehousing facilities are obtained. The writer was very much interested several months ago in noticing in a press dispatch, that farmer warehouses had been constructed in a number of North Carolina towns through WPA assistance. I am sure that the proper pressure on your part can secure for us warehouses in this part of Texas.

These warehouses should be constructed so as to care for several different farm commodities; for instance, peanuts in the fall and winter seasons, and Irish potatoes in the spring and summer. This year our fine crop of Irish potatoes, which as you know under farm-storage conditions, deteriorates rapidly, sold mainly at very low figures. Much of it moving around 70 and 80c per 100 lbs. These prices, as you know, will not pay wages, to say nothing of returns on money invested in lands and equipment.

The same potatoes would

John Dean, Who Died on Sunday, Buried Monday

Mr. John Dean, 78, died Sunday morning at the home of his brother, T. J. Dean, after suffering from a long illness of high blood pressure during the time of which he was confined to his bed. John Dean had been a resident of Cisco for the past 14 years. His brother attributed his death to the result of a stroke Friday when he fell and injured his hip as he tried to leave his bed while in a weakened condition. The hip injury was thought to have aggravated his already weakened state.

John Dean was born in Dixon Springs, Tenn., in 1859. He spent the first 25 years of his life in the place of his birth and from there he moved to Missouri where he remained until he moved to Cisco in 1923.

The funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Methodist church of Cisco after which he was given a Masonic burial. Music was furnished by the Methodist choir and Revs. Patterson and Applewhite conducted the service with Rev. Patterson reading the scripture from Isaiah, first chap. 1-4 verses.

Rev. Applewhite directed his remarks along the line of the relation of this life to after life and gave proof that one would see another life by citing the instance of Christ's rising after death on Calvary's cross.

John Dean was buried Monday morning at Oakwood cemetery with Green's funeral home in charge.

He had no immediate survivors other than his brother.

Cleveland Gas Is Increased by Shot

The Cleveland No. 2 of Hickok Producing and Developing company, eight miles northwest of Cisco, tested 7,500,000 feet of gas following a shot with 80 quarts from 3,750 to 3,830, shortly before noon today.

Gas increased from about 4-500,000.

The national capitol has a single corridor 750 feet long running under both the senate and house chambers.

now bring $1.75 to $2 per 100 lbs. Warehouses properly equipped to maintain needed humidity, temperature and ventilation would have enabled our farmers to store that part of their crop, which we ordinarily call a surplus, but which in fact is no surplus at all, so that a reasonable figure might have been secured for the entire crop. Please advise me in the near future as to what help me may expect through WPA funds in building these much needed warehouses. Very respectfully, your friend,

Signed W. B. STARR, Pres. Southwestern Peanut Growers Association.

Mr. Starr, in commenting to the Press on the needed assistance said: "Surely our country towns will get behind this movement, which are every bit as essential as the building of lateral, highways or parks or other recreational centers in our cities. Roads to town will not avail the farmer much, if there is no market when he gets there."

Must File For Licenses With County Judge

Applications for any class of license authorized under the liquor control act of the state of Texas, as well as applications for beer and wine retailers' permits, must be filed with the county judge, according to a ruling of the attorney general as reported to Eastland county officers in a letter from Bert Ford, administrator of the act.

Following is the letter:

To County Tax Collectors, Assessors, County Judges, County Attorneys and County Clerks.

Under the provisions of Section 7 (a) Article II of the Texas Liquor Control act, as construed by an opinion of attorney general of Texas, each applicant for any class of license authorized under Article II of the act as well as a wine and beer retailer's permit, must file an application for a license or permit with the county judge as in the case of an original applicant, even though the applicant has been in business and has theretofore had a similar license. In other words, no license can be legally procured by filing a petition for renewal with the county tax collector except in such instances where the license expires at a date subsequent to Sept. 1, 1933 (not 1927).

Applicants whose present licenses expire during the first few days of September will of course be compelled to file their application some time during the month of August. In such instances the new procedure should be followed and the tax collector - assessor should forward to the board's office at Austin the required instruments even though the procedure is begun and completed prior to September 1.

The fee of $5 allowed on all applications for licenses according to opinion, would be deposited to the general fund of the county and may not be retained as fees of office.

Boy Plans to Enter College at Twelve

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—A mathematics professor's son plans to enter college a year from September at the age of 12.

The boy, Martin Ettlinger, began his studies in private elementary school when he was four and completed the grades in two years. Then he sprinted through junior high school in a year.

His parents decided to put him on a half-day schedule in high school so he wouldn't be graduated too young. He could have qualified for college entrance last year but broadened his studies to include many elective subjects.

Educators believe his speedy academic advancement is due to his ability to read rapidly and remember what he reads. Three years ago they discovered he could read backwards equally well.

July Employment, Payrolls in Texas Increase Slightly

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—Reports to the University of Texas bureau of business research from nearly 1,400 representative Texas establishments showed that employment and payrolls in Texas during July increased slightly over the preceding month and substantially over the corresponding month last year. A total of 83,183 workers was employed, an increase of one-half per cent over June and 9.3 per cent over July last year. Aggregate weekly payrolls of these firms were $2,143,093, an increase of one-half per cent over June and 22.5 per cent over July last year.

Cities in which the increase in both employment and payrolls exceeded the average for the state were: Abilene, Amarillo, Dallas, El Paso, Houston and Waco. Business groups making a better than average showing were building materials, chemicals, and cotton oil mills.

From June 16 through July 15 fourteen establishments, employing 1,721 workers, reported general wage rate increases averaging 5.3 per cent affecting 1,549 workers. No decreases were reported.

From January 1 through July 16 a total of 172 establishments, employing 46,755 workers, have reported general wage rate increases averaging 8.3 per cent and affecting 41,529 workers. Since January 1 only two establishments have reported general wage rate decreases, with 11 employes affected.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS — eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES — because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING — because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

You need all of these features to make your car tire safe on your week-end or vacation trip. Firestone gives them to you at lower cost. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires — today's top tire value.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON SMOOTH WORN TIRES! DO YOU KNOW THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children? That a million more were injured? THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to smooth, worn, unsafe tires?

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste.

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

IN AND ABOUT MORAN

(By Staff Correspondent)

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Pool and Glen, left Tuesday by automobile for Corsicana, where they will visit with Mrs. Pool's parents. The party expects to be gone a week, Mr. Pool said.

Mrs. J. L. English arrived in Moran Monday from Linden, Texas, where she has visited her husband who is employed there. With Mrs. English was her son, John, who will enroll in Moran high school September. John has attended school here for two years and preferred to finish high school here, causing members of his family to make their home in Moran for the winter.

Ten members of Moran's Boy Scout troops, No. 28, accompanied by Scoutmasters, L. L. Walker, and J. W. Price, camped Tuesday night at park grounds of Lake and McIsco.

The group left Moran at 6:30 Tuesday evening, and returned early the following day. The boys prepared their evening meal at the campsite, swimming and roller skating before turning in, they reported.

The boys were, T. J. Malone, Charles Gardner, John English, Harry Taylor, Bob Martin, Buck McCantles, F. N. Hassen, A. Q. Lummer, and Paul Roberts.

Floyd C. Pool, cashier of the Moran National bank here, announced today that the Moran bank will be closed Monday, August 23, in observance of general election day.

The bank observes the holiday as a member of the Federal Reserve system of Dallas, and the Fort Worth Clearing House association of Fort Worth, Mr. Pool stated.

L. L. Walker, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Co., reports that his son, Prosper Newton, 23, of San Antonio, recently won a children's amateur singing contest, broadcast over station KPLT, of Paris, Texas.

Prosper Newton is 6 years old. The contest was sponsored by Paris bottling company.

The Rev. E. B. Bowen, president of the Stamford district of the Methodist church, and his wife visited the Rev. J. W. Rice, local Methodist pastor, Sunday afternoon.

Edward Brewster, of this city announces the opening of Moran's newest industry, a "help yourself laundry." The business will occupy space in the rear of the Laura T. Wild building on the north side of Moran's business into addition.

Brewster reports that the concern will feature popular prices and modern equipment.

A member of the barber shop group here reports that the call letters of your favorite radio station may not be just something or the announcer to use in identification of his station. For instance, continued the member of the group, the call letters of Abilene's station, KRBC, form the first letters of the words, Radio Broadcasting Co., excluding the first initial. Likewise, he continued, the letters of station WFAA, Dallas, stand for the phrase, "working for all alike," and those of KPLT, Paris, Texas, speak up for Paris, Lamar (county), Texas, as those of KTHS, the Arkansas station says, Kome (come) to Hot Springs."

The first letter of a station's call letters is assigned by the government broadcasting commission, and consequently, frequently has no local significance.

Just back from his vacation, Coach O. E. Patterson, of the Moran Bulldogs, announced here today that fall practice for his squad will begin Monday, August 30, on the local gridiron.

With only five lettermen of last year's championship squad to report, Coach Patterson is starting this year's grid grind somewhat behind scratch. However, with promises of good material for a strong forward wall, Patterson's crying need now is a few fast backs, he said.

Last season, Patterson's first here, the Bulldog team passed it's way to a conference championship, but passed out of the picture in an inter-sectional post-season tilt against a strong Nocona team at Olney.

Lack of proper material will be a challenge to Patterson's coaching prowess, and only time will tell just what the Moran mentor can do with his bunch of unseasoned youngsters.

At yesterday's regular meeting of the Moran Luncheon club in the First Methodist church, 30 members and guests of the club were entertained by a trio of singers from Throckmorton county. The trio, composed of Misses Maxine and Louella McCarron, and Georgia Faye Thompson, were guests of Roy Tuggle, county treasurer from Albany, accompanied by Mrs. McWhorter of same place.

Guests of the club were H. H. Monk of Cisco, Dolph Long, John Holland and Roy Tuggle, all of Albany. The last three gentlemen mentioned are all holders of public offices who are smart enough to campaign at all seasons, competition or none.

County Court

Judge W. S. Adamson of the county court, with Mrs. Adamson and their daughter, have returned to Eastland after spending two weeks on their vacation in places of interest in the west. They visited places of interest in Colorado, Utah, Nevada and California most delightfully, Judge Adamson said. "While we had a pleasant trip, I could not help comparing that country with Texas, but wondered at the accomplishments of man in restoring the deserts of those states and in making those barren acres so highly productive. After leaving Big Spring we saw no lands in cultivation except man-made lands. All farming is done by irrigation, and it is remarkable what irrigation can accomplish when intelligently applied," he stated.

The petition was approved and citation issued for a hearing to be held August 23.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine impulsively hires Ted Gaylor, a jobless puncher. He helps her fight Josh Hastings, a "friendly" neighbor who wants to get her ranch and marry Kay. Ted punishes scrap Johnson, a cowhand who molested Kay. They shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. A girl named Marion finds Ted and her nursing saves his life. Arrested, he is tried for Scrap's murder, but Kay stops the trial by technical protest. Ted is about to be taken back to Montana for a second trial, when he learns Hastings has kidnaped Kay.

Chapter 43 Dash for Freedom

As Ted rode out of Clear Water with Zeke Farley and his posse of four men grouped before and behind him, his eyes scanned the outskirts of the town.

His week's enforced rest had done him a world of good, in spite of the mental strain he had been under, and he felt like a different man from the weak and nearly fainting person who had come into town by this same route such a relatively short time before.

"What are those old buildings down there?" He turned to Joe, who was just behind him, and nodded toward the north end of town with an air of idle curiosity.

"Just a bunch of old shacks," Joe answered. "First off, it looked like the town was going to spread that way. Then, the railroad came a mile farther south than they'd reckoned, and left that end flat. Cleaned Ran Simpkins and a couple of others out complete, and their places have been deserted ever since."

"They're not much to look at," Ted observed carelessly, cleverly disguising the excitement that coursed through him at the thought of Kay being concealed somewhere in those ruined shacks. The time for a break was not yet, and Heaven only knew when it would be. But at least he knew where to head to look for Kay.

One thing would be in his favor: if he once made a getaway, the last place they'd expect him to make for, would be Clear Water Basin. And while they were scouting for him in the mountains, he'd at least have a chance to get back and free Kay. After that, it didn't much matter what happened, he thought recklessly.

as they left the confines of the town, and headed up the trail on the west side of the central divide.

A Pretext for Lagging

For two hours they had been climbing, and the long purple shadows thrown by the setting sun filled the deep canyon that yawned at their left, as they rounded the high cliffs on their right.

So far there had not been the slightest chance for a break, but Ted was pinning his hopes on the more open regions above, just before they struck the big timber. For Kay's sake, as well as his own, he could not afford to let his impatience lead him to take too reckless chances.

To his relief Zeke Farley had decreed that they should push on after dark, until they reached the more dangerous passes.

Ted's attitude of alternate weariness and upathy had persuaded Zeke Farley, as Ted intended it should, that he was incapable of any desperate or daring action, and this feeling had communicated itself to the other members of the posse. So when Ted complained of his cinch being too loose, causing his saddle to slip, there was no objection raised to his dismounting to fix it.

By this time, they had left the narrow defile through which they had been pushing their way upward, and had come out on rock ledges that were bordered by steep slopes scantily wooded with scrub spruce and pine. A stream of water, cutting its way down from the upper levels, had carved out for itself a canyon 50 feet or so in depth, but fairly narrow at the top. Wooded slopes rose again on the far side of the canyon.

The thin, exhilarating air of the high country sent a thrill of elation through Ted. Anticipation of daring action at last set his blood tingling through his veins and, as he bent to his cinch, a heady recklessness took possession of him.

One by one, the men passed him, as he fumbled clumsily with the leather. At a bend in the trail, 50 feet or so from him, Zeke Farley, who was in the lead, called impatiently, "Get a move on," and rounded the curve, calling to Joe to wait for Ted.

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

No matter how much your back aches and your nerves scream, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month.

Too often the honeymoon express is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain. For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

At this instant, Ted's clumsy faltering changed to dynamic action. Springing into the saddle, he seized his mount's mane and twisted it desperately, as he raked him with his heels.

A Daring Leap Snorting and terrified, the horse wheeled and plunged down the trail with frantic speed. Ted gave a sudden lunge and shout, and guided him to the canyon's edge. With a squeal of panic the animal took the jump as the only alternative to the death drop that yawned before him.

The horse barely caught the other side, miraculously gained his balance and plunged up the timbered side, as shots and curses rang out from across the canyon.

Leaning low over his head, Ted urged him on, ducking as the random bullets whistled past, and praying to the gods of luck, into whose hands he had so recklessly played. Behind him resounded the scream of a horse in terror, and a dull crash. Then came a blasphemous chorus of shouts, and the shots ceased.

Ted pushed on with a shudder of horror. One of the men must have tried to follow him, and missed by the narrow margin he had won by.

Realizing that at last he had the break he had hoped for, Ted crashed up the slope. He must give the impression that he was making for the high timber, where there were plenty of places to hide.

It would take Zeke Farley and his posse some time to round the canyon that he had leapt across. And he could easily count on their putting up an all-night search for him, and probably continuing it by daylight. They would never dream that he had headed back to town where anyone who saw him would recognize him, and the game would be up.

When Ted arrived at a point where both shouts and shots behind him had died away, and the twilight silence drenched the pines, blurring their outlines and bringing out their sweet sharp fragrance, he turned shortly at a right angle and started down.

Just how he blazed that unknown trail, against the odds of darkness, Ted never knew. Not his own safety or anything but the desperate urge to reach Kay could ever have pushed him so to attempt and accomplish the impossible.

With reckless disregard of consequences if he was seen, he finally, after hours of agony, headed down the bench and toward the straggling lights of Clear Water.

He was thankful that there was no betraying moon to reckon with, as he galloped toward the north end of the town, then pulled down to a way.
