Hitler Defiantly Proclaims Austro-German Union

ADDRESS CAPS TRIUMPHANT VIENNA ENTRY

Motor Journey to His Birthplace Is Kingly Procession

VIENNA, March 12 (AP) — Reichsfuehrer Hitler tonight proclaimed the union of Austria and Germany and, turning to the rest of Europe and the world, defied attempts to put them aside.

"We must now prove to the world that any further attempt to part this united people will be useless," were the words with which he capped the triumphal but bloodless invasion.

"Today you have seen German soldiers marching in, willing to fight for the unity of pan-Germany, for its liberty and for the greatness of Germany."

The Fuehrer's motor journey from his birthplace, Braunau, to Linz was a kingly procession, impeded by thousands who tried to kiss his hand.

Reims in Triumph

Hitler returning in triumph to his native land entered Linz at 4:43 p. m., a few hours behind the troops and airplanes. All the upper Austrian villages through which he passed turned out as the Fuehrer moved toward Vienna. Scores of German bombers and other military planes brought German soldiers into the suburbs of Vienna to await Hitler's triumph entry into the city. Hitler flew from Berlin to Munich this morning, leaving propaganda Minister Goebbels to broadcast a proclamation. Hitler declared that a "real plebiscite" would be held in Austria "within the shortest time" to convince the world that the Austrian people really desire a national socialist government.

Naming Field Marshal Goering as acting head of the government during his absence, Hitler delegated Goebbels to tell why Germany went to what was termed the "rescue of a suffering Austria." "I have decided to extend the aid of the reich to the millions of Germans in Austria," Hitler proclaimed. "Since morning soldiers of the German defense forces have been marching over all the frontiers of German Austria." Kurt Schuschnigg, deposed chancellor, remained in a prison armed by a Nazi guard corps in Belvedere castle, Vienna. A thousand German infantrymen, landed from planes, began marching into Vienna in the early evening.

HITLER INFORMS DUCE IN ADVANCE

ROME, March 12 (AP) — Adolf Hitler informed Premier Mussolini in advance that Germany was sending troops into Austria, it became known today. It was learned that an emissary of Hitler arrived at Rome yesterday by airplane bringing Mussolini a personal letter before the troops marched.

BRITAIN CONSIDERS AID TO FRANCE

LONDON, March 12 (AP) — The British cabinet today considered the possibility of an armed British aid to France in protecting Czechoslovakia from the fate which has befallen Austria. The cabinet's views were communicated at a close, tense session to Charles Corbin, French ambassador, but no decision was announced. Premier Neville Chamberlain was known to be greatly angered by Hitler's latest display of the "naked fist"—the imposition of nazism upon Austria.

EASTLAND CO. COTTON QUOTA VOTE 253-222

Two-Thirds Majority Necessary to Apply Restrictions

Eastland county farmers voted only 253 to 222 yesterday in favor of invoking marketing quotas of the new farm act on this year's crop of cotton. A majority of two-thirds of all farmers in the cotton states voting is necessary to invoke the quotas. Result of the vote will await returns from all states participating.

Voters at the Cisco box registered a majority against applying the quotas, the vote going 50 to 42.

Favorable weather throughout the state assured easy access to the polls for Texans. An estimated half million Texans who helped produce last year's crop were eligible to vote. No organized opposition was reported.

Two-thirds majority vote will be necessary to approve setting of the quotas. If this majority is realized farmers producing more cotton than the quotas allotted them by the government will be heavily penalized and the crop will doubtless be much smaller than last year. If the necessary two-thirds majority does not vote "yes," the soil conservation program will continue on a voluntary basis.

The ballot read: "Do you favor setting of cotton marketing quotas?" Underneath this was two squares with the word "Yes" over one and the word "No" over the other. Farmers simply marked "X" in the squares of their preference.

FD Puts Two Courses Before TVA Directors

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP) — President Roosevelt, saying the public interest demanded an end to internal dissension, put two courses before TVA's embattled directors Saturday, united support of the agency's objectives or resignation.

In outspoken language, he told them they should consider problems and policies impersonally and objectively and, once a majority decision was reached, act harmoniously.

"Any of you who can not do that owe it to the public of the United States not to remain on the board," he said.

Although his words were directed to all three members of the Tennessee Valley Authority—Chairman A. E. Morgan, H. A. Morgan and David E. Lilienthal—some observers drew the inference they were aimed particularly at the chairman.

Roosevelt had tried fruitlessly in a dramatic, six-hour session with the directors Friday to bring out all the facts behind the charges and counter-charges hurled by the chairman and his fellow board members—fruitlessly, because Chairman Morgan flatly declined to support his charges.

The chairman, holding out for an "impartial, comprehensive and complete" congressional investigation, repeatedly told Roosevelt he was an "observer and not a participant in this alleged process of fact finding."

Among charges which the president asked Morgan to substantiate, if he could, were that H. A. Morgan and Lilienthal had made "evasive and misleading reports to the president and congress and that they had been guilty of 'dis-

WASHINGTON, March 12.—If you're looking for an explanation of the violent disputes hanging over the Tennessee valley, you can thumb through the pages of Benjamin Franklin's philosophy and pull out the very thing you are looking for.

Soon after the colonials organized the United States along democratic lines, wise old Franklin suggested that any nation that could afford the luxury of democracy was a lucky one indeed.

He was expressing in a few words the idea that democracy was a system of trial and error; that its citizens argued overmuch, and while arguing, delayed the game and made mistakes. He was saying that delay and mistakes were costly—in short, they were luxuries to be afforded only by a nation rolling in natural wealth.

The United States has enjoyed more than a century of democratic luxury since Franklin made his point. Americans have been free, by and large, to build and argue as they please. They have built well, but also they have argued plenty.

JAYCEES WILL MEET MONDAY

Regular Session to Be Held at 7:30

The Cisco junior chamber of commerce, considering a number of projects of benefit to Cisco, will hold its regular meeting Monday evening at 7:30 at the Laguna hotel. President James Harvey announced Saturday.

Attendance of every member was requested while a cordial invitation was extended all young business men of the community, whether members or not, to be present.

Changing Trend at Washington Cited by USC of C

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The chamber of commerce of the United States said today that, for the first time since the recession began, "a changing Washington outlook is affording business some measure of encouragement." He said, "Thus far the change has been more psychological than actual, but signs that a more conservative, constructive trend is under way and gaining momentum are becoming more apparent."

Officers Shot by Fleeing Autoist

EEVILLE, March 12 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff J. R. Ball and Chief of Police Pat Martin were shot today by the driver of an automobile they were chasing. Neither was seriously wounded. The shooting occurred five miles north of here when the officers left their automobiles after stopping the other.

Miss Flora Bacon of Romney is spending the week-end with Miss Mabel Halbert.

Things Seemed Ideal

Enthusiasts like Senator George Norris, of Nebraska, argued the valley waters could be harnessed to distribute the blessings of electric power at low cost. The spot was ideal, with power sites along the Tennessee river and its tributaries, big cities to consume power, and farms to benefit from wider distribution.

Congress took a chance, and has poured close to $250,000,000 into the idea. Dams have been built for water power, flood control and navigation.

Right off the bat, a group of private citizens with money invested in the Commonwealth and Southern utility system, set up a howl that they were being robbed—a howl that's still echoing through the courts and the news.

CLOSE MARGIN IS SEEN FOR LEGALIZATION

Nine Small Boxes Yet to Be Heard From Saturday Night

On the basis of unofficial returns to the Cisco Daily Press last night, Eastland county, with all major voting boxes heard from and nine small ones unreported, appeared Saturday to have voted by a narrow margin to return legal beer to the county.

Tabulation of reports so far received gave the "wets" a majority of 299. The total voting strength of the nine small boxes unreported was listed at 315. There was little possibility that the returns from the preponderantly dry boxes still out could overcome this lead and estimates of the probable majority gained by advocates of legal beer ranged from 30 to 150 votes.

The vote in Cisco, Eastland and Ranger was topheavy for legal beer. That at Carbon, Gorman and Rising Star was as decisively against it. So were the returns from most of the smaller boxes. In general the area of the county lying along the Bankhead highway in the northern half was strongly favorable to beer while that of the strictly farming districts was heavily against its legal sale.

Unreported

Boxes unreported were Alameda with 48 votes; Kokomo with 41; Nimrod with 42; Mangum with 20; Pleasant Hill with 26; Staff with 47; Cock with 42; Tudor with 17; Sabano with 22.

The vote in reported boxes was:

Lobo Band Is Down to Drills in Earnest

The Lobo band, getting into the spirit of the thing, is drilling earnestly for the forthcoming regional band contest with practise for the moment inspired by the band festival at Stephenville next Saturday when progress will be checked and criticised at a meeting of high school organizations from all over west central Texas.

Saturday the band drilled from 7:30 to 11:30, marching by squads, each directed by a drill sergeant, and then as a unit.

Jane Moore is drum major and Glen Boyd is band captain. Drill sergeants are Louise Lawson, Vance Bowman, Helen Leile Haynie, Mary Olive Garrett and Robbie Grace McWhorter.

During these drills the process of selecting the best marching personnel is being carried out. The band falls into two contest divisions—the concert organization and (CONTINUED ON PAGE EIGHT)

Potential of New Producer Awaited

Lone Star company officials said Saturday that the potential of the company's No. 1 Van Parmer, deepened to the Ellenberger from a gas stratum last week, probably will not be known until Monday or Tuesday. The well, treated with 5,000 gallons of acid Friday, made nice flows after being opened, and swabbing operations to remove acid water were begun Friday afternoon.

Prospects for a producer as good or better than the same company's Cozart, which it offsets to the east, were seen.

The well received the acid from 3,972, where the Ellenberger lime was topped, to 3,988½ feet, total depth. The Van Parmer is 800 feet east of the No. 1 Cozart, also a deepened gas well, which was finished recently for 288 barrels daily. In section 477, SPRR survey, it also is about 3,000 feet north and slightly west of the discovey well drilled by Hickok Producing and Development company on a different Van Parmer lease.

The railroad commission potential test on the Lone Star No. 1 Marshall Thomas, section 478, SPRR survey, 1,321-foot north offset to the discovery well, was given Saturday as being 1,183 barrels, higher than earlier announcement. Production was in the Ellenberger from 4,118 to 4,156½ feet. It was presumed connection would be made with the Illinois Pipe Line company as that is the only line in that area.

Lone Star No. 2 Van Parmer, 1,321-foot north offset to the discovery well, in section 477, SPRR survey, was reported drilling in the 2,000-foot range.

Hickok was spudding its No. 1 Grover S. Cleveland (D), section (CONTINUED ON PAGE EIGHT)

Lindberghs Sail For England in Secrecy

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Departing as secretly as they returned to their native land three months ago, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh sailed early Saturday to rejoin their two sons in England.

They drove in a private car to the pier of the North German Lloyd liner Bremen and boarded the ship unnoticed a few minutes before it sailed at 12:30 a.m.

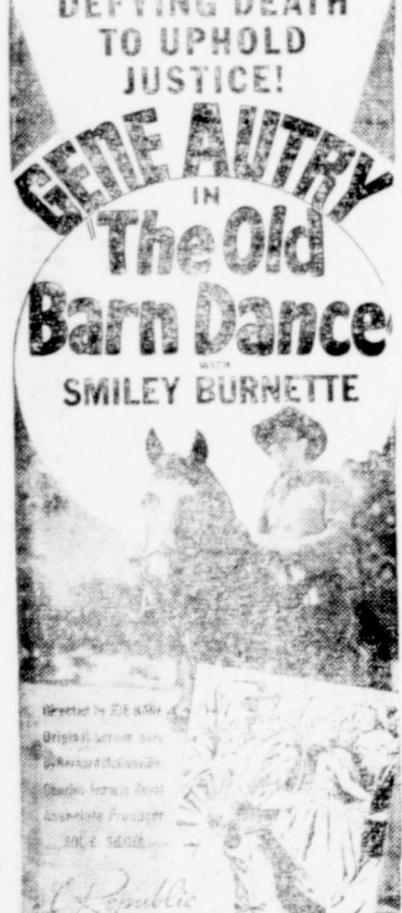

Even officers of the Bremen were kept unaware of the presence of the Lindberghs, line officials said, until the ship was at sea. Their names were not included on passenger lists.

Far into the Future

They said it was democratic to argue things out, but once a vote had been taken, the majority should rule, and A. E. Morgan should shut up.

But Arthur E. Morgan has transgressed the limits of expressing disagreement, they went on. "His methods (and criticisms) . . . violate the principles of democracy . . ."

And so far, far into the future. The world's most ambitious experiment in real estate improvement is beset from all sides. Only a dictator could force the bickering forces to resolve their differences at once. But the United States continues a democracy. After all, democracy nurtured the age of electric power. Democracy will attend to its own children.

greatest freestylers of all time has cracked most of the established freestyle records with abandon. In the water carnival, the "busman power boat" bettered Johnny Weissmuller's 13-year-old 150-yard mark by 1.3 seconds, striking the distance in 1:23.7. Robertson says there is still more speed in the lad who kept baby Florida alligators in his dormitory rooms to keep from getting lonesome. Ralph was forced to leave school at mid-term because of an infected arm.

Robertson is not counting on these men alone to carry the orange and white into the sacred precincts occupied for years by Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Ohio State, Michigan and other schools. He points to Bob Tarlton of Fort Worth, Tex.; John Crouch of Houston, Tex.; Wally Hoffrichter of Detroit and others.

Tarlton, broad-shouldered Gulf, Southern, Southwest and Texas A.A.U. backstroke champion, is getting faster all the time and already is crowding Kiefer.

At the aquacade, the sophomore smashed three American records and topped his performance by bettering Kiefer's mark for 50 yards.

Boat-wearing Cowboy Crouch, acclaimed by some the best freestyle swimmer at the national meet last year, had his first tank experience at the university.

WASHINGTON, March 12—The United States Civil Service commission today issued the following statement:

The public should not be misled by promises of government positions by so-called civil-service schools, their agents or their advertisements. No school is able to fulfill any such promises. The public is also warned against schools or agents that would lead one to believe that they represent the government or are connected with the government in any way, or that give assurance of success in passing civil-service examinations on the completion of their courses.

tried in criminal court and given jail sentences. The Federal Trade Commission also investigates complaints.

The aim of the government is to protect the public against misrepresentation by any of these schools. It is of course impossible for the government to secure or aid in securing of money paid into the schools. The public is therefore urged to heed this warning and to cooperate with the government by making inquiry in every case concerning such claims by civil-service schools or agents before enrolling for courses.

Caution is particularly made against claims by schools that their courses are required in order to take the examinations of the U.S. (CONTINUED ON PAGE SEVEN)

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous—for praise is coming for the upright. In God have I put my trust; I will not be afraid of what man can do unto me—Ps. vii. 11.

Give me, but this, the heart to be content,
And if my wish seems thwarted, to be still;
Waiting till puzzle and till pain can be spent,
And the sweet thing made plain, God meant.

If one would be happy, let him forget himself, and about making some one else happy.—Lilie Whiting.

The Duty of Congress

WHAT has been revealed of the internal row in the TVA indicates that conditions there are in a mess. Charges and counter-charges hurled among the directors of an institution charged not only with the expenditure of many millions of tax-paid dollars but more seriously, with the conduct of an institution which is bound to have profound and—perhaps far-reaching effect upon the American economic life, is not a matter to be passed off lightly, as much as some administration leaders and supporters seem to wish to avoid a congressional investigation.

IT is evident that two theories, if not something more serious than theories, have come into violent conflict on the three-man board. One may conclude that there is little or no common ground for a compromise of these ideals. That fact has been evident in many other instances on the new deal front, however, where the promised ability of the administration to abandon experiments that do not prove practicable or desirable has signally failed to materialize.

BUT whatever may ultimately be revealed as the facts in the TVA issue the charges that have been made are serious enough to warrant investigation. And since congress created the TVA, appropriates the money for its functions and exercises legislative control over it as the representatives of the people, congress is by all odds the logical agency to do the investigating. Any move to prevent congress from examining the matter is not complimentary to the administration.

Advance In Germ Killing

MAN'S advance in antisepsis, the killing of disease germs, has been rapid over the past few years. Ultraviolet rays shed by lamps of special construction are now being utilized to disinfect foods and to purify the air, particularly the air in operating rooms where infection from the atmosphere has always been a serious problem. Bakers use the rays to control fungi growths which are costly, while the potent, invisible beams are turned upon areas of some internal diseases to kill the microscopic parasites which cannot be reached except by operations.

THERE are several kinds of ultraviolet bands. Some of them are extremely harmful to human organisms, and the problem has been to determine the varying natures and effects of each and to produce the means and science of applying the beneficial ones effectively.

LIFE and its purpose is mysterious, but the intelligence of man and his constant quest for the means of prolonging and bettering it are making steady progress in the effort to find out what produces its vital spark.

OTHER OPINIONS*Our Newest Trade Treaty

THE TRADE TREATY between the United States and Czechoslovakia, signed Monday, grants tariff benefits on 76.7 per cent of Czech imports from the United States and on 55 per cent of American imports from Czechoslovakia. On the basis of those figures it would seem that the United States got the better of the trade.

That is a matter to be determined, however, by the volume rather than the variety of the goods flowing between the two countries as a result of the agreement. The principal concessions made to Czechoslovakia were on manufactured goods, in exchange for concessions on agricultural products. Cotton is one of the American farm products expected to be benefited.

Shoe manufacturing is an important Czech industry, and in order to overcome the objections of American manufacturers the treaty sets an upper limit to shoe imports. The day after the treaty was signed, Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts asserted that it would deprive every American shoe worker of seven days' work a year. This is an alarmist view which probably is unjustified.

Ruin of American cattle raisers was prophesied as a result of the American-Canadian trade treaty, but the fact is that they have experienced the greatest period of prosperity in many years since it went into effect. Although the aggregate volume of American-Canadian trade has materially increased, there is no record that any American industry has suffered from Canadian competition. Forebodings concerning the new treaty are apt to prove equally groundless.

There is little room for sentiment in world trade, but if the treaty helps Czechoslovakia, the last outpost of democracy in Eastern Europe, to achieve economic independence of its authoritarian neighbors it will have done something to further the embattled cause of human freedom.—Galveston News.

about 700 miles of the Tennessee river as it runs through Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and a corner of Georgia, is a half billion dollars.

The Big Money
A half billion dollars is big money, even in these days. Of this half billion, about $200,000,000 has been appropriated over the past five years. $40,000,000 is asked for the coming year, and the completed program calls for like sums over several years in the future.

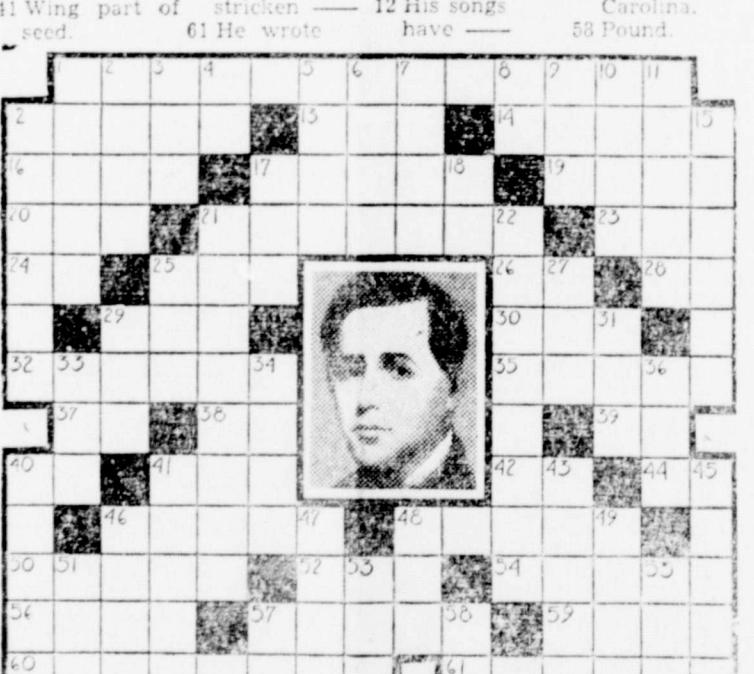

In its brief life, TVA has spent as much as the reclamation service spent building western irrigation projects in 30 years before the New Deal. Since then, of course, both have had a go at the big money.

Congress never has balked much at continuing TVA. It threw up the Florida ship canal and the Passamaquoddy tide harnessing project but mostly has let TVA have its requests.

It has been reasonably easy to defend TVA's flood control purpose, almost as easy to defend its project of opening up 600 miles of river to connect Knoxville with the Mississippi. But defending its third purpose, power development, has been a pig in another poke. At

Human and Other Nature

By W. F. BRUCE

The headline is a fair index to the economic status. The general attitude of readiness or reluctance to receive help affects the length of the line to a considerable extent. But there is enough independent spirit in man to reduce the relief roll to a minimum except as other factors enter in. We could find suggestions as to how to proceed in dealing with this problem by noticing the method of Jesus. His "compassion on them" gives us the moving factor in our procedure for helping human need. His multiplying the loaves and fishes is beyond our power in any direct way, but it does suggest some provision in the distribution of our resources for those who may lack access to or means of developing their share of those resources. His method of distribution is an example of organizing our benevolence so that it will be neither haphazard nor monopolized so far as participation in social welfare is concerned. His concern that "nothing be lost" is a lesson in conservation.

Besides the immediate procedure of taking care of the needy there are further reaching principles that must be considered in social planning. "Looking up to heaven, He blessed." Recognition of the source of good things, with a spirit of gratitude, an attitude that ought always to be cultivated. That is the best counteractive to pauperization which is a result very difficult to avoid in giving help to people. Jesus had to rebuke sharply their seeking Him for no higher motive than that they "ate of the loaves, and were filled." Our present problem of re-

"King George VI," by Hector Bolitho; "Lippincott; $2"; "The King's Daughters," by Lady Cynthia Asquith; "Dutton; $2.

It seems from the evidence so far produced in America, that the current British royal family has nowhere been more unfortunate than in its official propagandists.

People remember, for example, Hector Bolitho's "King Edward VIII," written one way while Edward was king, and then rewritten into an dangerous though oblique distraction when Bolitho now sees the possibilities of toadying to George. Now we have Bolitho at what it might appear to some, is a less skill less in the line of straightforward biography.

In "King George VI" he is preparing for a kingdom in a great way. He not only tells the facts his royal patron might want; he glosses these with the most incredible stuff and nonsense. He might, on certain pages royally dyed with the kingly purple, almost be writing a call to go to divine right and all that goes with it. King George, doubtless, is no such person as made into a spurious legend. What is worse, Bolitho seems to think also can make a hero of his landlord.

There is, for example, Bolitho's insistence that George spent his time up to his nose anti-antiphant communication in places hardly better than you and I inhabit. How Bolitho can call Sandringham unpretentious baffle American understanding. Or for that matter, White Lodge on the head George used to Paradise. But one recalls the rewards of the successful back-scratcher Hall, Sir Hector.

Lady Cynthia Asquith is quite as whimsical. First she writes "Her Majesty the Queen," an effort to glorify Elizabeth which many must have thought slightly ludicrous. Now she does far worse with those two unlucky children, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, in a book entitled "The King's Daughters." Lady Cynthia is writing as many children, doubtless charming as many children are. But how wide Lady Cynthia's eyes have deep her curtain
