Changing Styles for Trail Blazers

COL. CHARLES A. LINDBERGH

HOWARD HUGHES

The contrast between the circumstances surrounding the historic flights of Howard Hughes and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is shown in the two sketches above, portraying the difference in their attire. Lindy made his flight to Paris in the days when helmet, goggles and heavy suits were essential to flyers. Hughes set out on his round-the-world tour dressed nonchalantly in informal business suit, slouch hat and with his shirt collar flaring open.

Finals Will Be Held Tuesday

Four teams today were left in the running for the tournament championship, having emerged from a field of 12 classy teams who have put up some thrilling battles.

Texas Cou. Cola, having defeated Eastland Methodist and Coleman, is now in the semifinals. Texas Pipe Liners, who drew a bye in the first round and then smashed Jaycees last night, are still fighting for the finals. Hanlon Gasers with two close extra-inning scrap which eliminated Rising Star and the other a 9-inning struggle with Coca Cola of Eastland—are also near the top. Graham with a bye and a victory over Red Front also remains in the tournament.

Tonight there will be one game, because Cou. Cola of Abilene, scheduled to meet Hanlon, will be unable to return tonight. Graham will play Texas Pipe Line and the girls will play in the second.

The winner of the Graham-Texas Pipe Line game tonight will go in the finals to meet the winner of the Coca Cola-Hanlon contest.

Since the second semifinal battle must be played Saturday night, the finals to decide the winner of the tourney and the $100 first prize will be decided Tuesday night, instead of having two games Saturday night which would put one of the teams at a disadvantage having to play twice the same night, officials decided today after a conference with team managers.

Speculation on Texas Lawyer For Justice

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Joseph C. Hutcheson of Houston, judge of the fifth circuit court, was included in the names of a handful of lawyers and jurists being considered for the post today in capital speculation on a successor to Justice Cardozo.

HUGE PARADE IS HELD FOR FOUR FLIERS

Big Crowd Gathers to Honor Round-World Record Breakers

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Howard Hughes and his three companions rode triumphantly up lower Broadway today to the battery and city hall in the most tumultuous heroes' parade New York has held in a decade.

It was like a throwback from the celebrations of Lindbergh, Ederle and Byrd. For 17 minutes downtown New York screamed praise, showered ticker tape and tore up telephone books and emptied them along with contents of waste baskets from the windows of the skyscrapers.

Police estimated there were approximately 75,000 along Broadway and probably 35,000 or 40,000 around the city hall.

The fliers quickly got used to the frenzy of reception. Hughes rode in the first car, the other fliers in the second. The wives of Thurlow, Stoddard, Connor and Thurlow's boy rode in the next.

The morning held a threat of rain, but the sun came out as the party reached the battery. There were fire bells ringing, church bells clanging, uproar of voices and motors as the fliers were escorted to the municipal court chamber.

They were congratulated there by Mayor LaGuardia and Jesse R. Jones.

"Speaking for your home state," said Jones, "I know your parents are looking down on these proceedings greatly satisfied with what you have achieved."

Hughes, an orphan, drew his handkerchief and touched his eyes, profoundly moved.

Hughes responding praised the men who had perfected plane engines and lauded the airline pilots of this country.

Neil Lane Has Remodeled His Funeral Home

Neil Lane, funeral director, has leased the old A. L. Mayhew home at 300 West Ninth street, and has remodeled it into a combination chapel and living quarters with two rooms for display of caskets. Painting of both interior and exterior, refinishing and carpeting of floors, and other improvements are going forward to make it an up-to-date funeral home.

The big commodious house with cool porches, lends itself ideally to its new use. A "family room" is located just off to the right as you enter; the spacious hall opens off to the left for the chapel, and another room adds to the seating capacity of the chapel by means of sliding doors.

Cisco Barber Buys Shop in Moran

Reed Young, of the Elite Barber shop has purchased a shop in Moran and will move there next week, he announced today.

Mr. Young, who has worked in the local barber shop for the past several years, leaves many friends in Cisco.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hodges have returned to their home in Wink after spending a short while here.

Seek 'Goddess' Title at Sweetwater

mately 30 West Texas cities, including Miss Helen House Baker of Cisco, above center, and Miss Frances Henson of Highland, right. The revue is to be held at the football field at Sweetwater where from six to 8,000 people can be accommodated. The winner is to be crowned by George O'Brien of Hollywood, RKO movie star, who is arriving via American Airlines plane.

DEFENSES OF 2 SEEM TO BE HOLDING OWN

Japanese Refusal of Olympics Is Made Final Today

(By Associated Press)

The tide of battle shifted today to an advantage defense of the forces of China and Spain.

Japanese had made no marked advance toward Kiaukiang in three days. Chinese insist they had been stopped.

Government reinforcements apparently had halted insurgent frontal attacks on Valencia.

Another bomb exploded in Jerusalem today killing six and wounding many.

Britain ordered 1,000 Spitfire warplanes today, the largest single order ever given a British firm.

JAPAN WILL NOT HAVE OLYMPICS

The Japanese cabinet made the olympic refusal final today, approving the stand of Welfare Minister Koichi Kido.

The international olympic committee said they would relocate games as soon as they were officially informed of Japan's withdrawal.

Helsingfors officials expressed a willingness to entertain the games. They had originally lost out to Japan.

They warned that they would "pare the program to the bone," cutting out a lot of newly added extra-olympic sports.

Cleveland and San Francisco are considering making bids.

Coca Cola Stays In Tourney by Narrow Victory; JCC Out

Coleman Throws Scare at Abilene Team, Loses 6-4

As the crowds continue to grow at the soft ball park, the tournament progresses with at least one real battle in each night's double header.

The mighty Coca Cola team of Abilene today were still in the tournament, but they were praising Miller, their flashy catcher who tripled in the seventh inning and then came home on a wild throw in, to give his team a 6 to 4 victory over a fighting Coleman crew who played the game with three starters out of the lineup.

The Abilenians' famed defense broke and they gave up four errors. They stepped into a 1 to 0 lead in the second inning and cashed in on two hits and two errors to stretch it to 4 to 0 in the fourth while Coleman failed to get a man past first base.

Then the defense broke and Coleman scored three runs on two hits and two errors. They went on to tie it up in the sixth on an error.

Bull Infuriated By Own Image

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 15 (AP)—The next time Charles Brawner buys a new car he will be more careful where he parks it at his dairy farm. Recently he drove a shiny new car into the pasture and a huge bull wandered toward it, eyed it with curiosity.

Suddenly the bull saw its image in the polished surface of the car door. He charged and the door crumpled. Before Brawner could move the machine there were few smooth surfaces left large enough to reflect images.

INCREASE IN WPA WAGES

Means Extra $8,250 to County Workers

Purchasing power of 1,375 unskilled Works Progress Administration employees in Eastland county will be increased $8,250 when $6 monthly wage increases for each worker goes into effect the first pay period after Friday, July 15. R. Towner Dickinson, area engineer, reported Thursday.

The increase will bring the unskilled worker's monthly wage average to $30, the official stated.

Authorized by the national 1938 appropriation act, the pay increases are being made for all labor performed on WPA projects by workers who are classified as unskilled.

Breck District Zionists Will Meet at Lake

The Oil Belt organization of Zionists for the Breckenridge district which includes Cisco and other towns of this section, will have its regular monthly session at Lake Cisco Sunday, it has been announced by Manuel Sheinberg, president of that body.

Among the upward of seventy-five members who are to be present, there will be several notables of the state or national organization on the program, which is to be one of business and entertainment, Mr. Sheinberg stated.

All towns in the district will send representatives for the day's activities.

Pipe Liners Show Power in Downing Jaycees by 12 to 0

Another team, heretofore given little chance to win the tournament, showed fans last night they are one of the leading teams in the tourney—the Texas Pipe Liners from Breckenridge. They smashed Cisco Jaycees 12 to 0 behind the one-hit pitching of Jack Johnson to advance.

Johnson, burning in the fastest ball seen in the local park during the tournament, fanned 13 batters in six innings. The game was called at the end of the sixth.

The veteran Pipe Line team collected 9 hits off Thomson and Carter of the Jaycees, took advantage of four errors, and had no trouble downing the Ciscoans. Both Cisco entries are now eliminated from chances for the title.

The Breck team's performance last night even shaded Hanlon—the other team from that city who

Increased Feed Crop Acreage Is Reported

AUSTIN, July 15 (AP)—A department of agriculture officers here today reported increased acreage in Texas of important feed crops and a material decrease in cotton on July 1.

Cotton cultivation aggregated 9,960,000 acres. This was 78 per cent less than last year, and the smallest since 1908.

YOUTHS HELD
PITTSBURGH, July 15 (AP)—Police held 11 negro and six white youths in jail today on charges of inciting a riot. Several outbreaks of violence from roving bands of white and negro youths swept through two districts.

Barkley to Probe Ky. Pension Checks

NEWPORT, Ky., July 15 (AP)—Senator Barkley announced today that he would ask for a federal investigation of the distribution of old age pension checks in Kentucky.

He said he had been informed that the checks were delivered this month by agents instead of by mail, warning that payments would stop if they did not vote for Governor Chandler.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The Lord lift up his countenance upon thee and give thee peace.—Num. vi. 26.

When with the virgin morning thou dost rise Crossing thyself, come thou to sacrifice. First wash thy heart in innocence, then bring Pure hands, pure habits, pure, pure everything.

Do your duty as well as you can; then, whether praise or blame be yours, you will at least have peace.

The Alternative to War

The round-the-world flight of Howard Hughes has stirred world imagination on the future use of airplanes in warfare, demonstrating as it did, the swiftness with which huge fighting planes, already developed to a speed considerably greater than that of the Hughes craft, may strike at cities half-way around the globe from the aggressor nation.

It is becoming more and more apparent that the world has only two choices for eventual peace—a ruthless war in which one side would triumph to the complete annihilation of the other, or a world prosperity which would remove the reasons for dictatorships or aggression.

The work of Sec'y of State Hull in the negotiation of trade treaties between the United States and other nations is the most effective work that has been done in the cause of world peace. By opening world channels of trade he is providing the basis for a prosperous international business which would be a more effective antidote to militarism than all the armaments that can be mustered.

Ex-Industrialist with a Social Conscience

A BRAND-NEW American diplomat is launching his international career amid difficulties, but in a cause that is so broadly humanitarian that many eyes are fixed on him.

He has been elected chairman of the inter-governmental committee which is trying to find a place in this broad world for thousands of people whose countries have declared they do not want them.

To solve jointly this heart-breaking problem, President Roosevelt has called a conference in Switzerland of representatives of 32 democratic nations, to canvass and pool their respective facilities for taking in these 20th Century Ishmaels.

Heading the American delegation, and the general meeting, is a diplomat new to diplomacy, and yet not new to great affairs. He is Myron C. Taylor, sometime chairman of the U. S. Steel Corporation.

TAYLOR, who rounded out a long business career by reorganizing financially the huge U. S. Steel corporation, and by signing the first general labor contract ever granted in the United States by a great steel company, appears now in a new role.

The assignment to the refugee conference followed. Taylor is hard at work there to get definite results that will to some extent alleviate this mass of misery.

This may seem a strange occupation for the one-time head of the great steel combine. Yet it is not so strange when it is first remembered that Taylor is a Quaker. As such he is a member of the sect which is making so gallant a fight throughout the world to see that pity shall not perish, nor mercy be forgotten.

People were astonished when Taylor took his revolutionary step in signing a labor contract with the C. I. O. on behalf of U. S. steel. They would have been less so if Taylor's Quaker modesty had not observed a social conscience which guided a long career devoted to New York's Family Welfare, United Hospital, and Mobilization for Human Needs relief campaigns.

If Taylor succeeds to any extent at all in this role of the Samaritan who was "a neighbor unto him that fell among thieves," he may well be considered a valuable addition to his country's diplomatic forces.

And in thus offering his services to mankind as well as to the country in which he prospered and fared well, he is setting an example that might well be followed by others of his position whose social conscience seems less active.

A fisherman in Yatesville, N. Y., has caught a trout with two mouths and two sets of teeth, and he's got enough nerve to try to take some of the credit for the feat.

Do you suppose Henry Ford's new "saddle" motor is making competitors bridle?

Several of the Pueblo folks have been attending the meeting at the Cottonwood school house.

Mrs. L. R. Nelms spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Pence.

Mrs. Charlie Pence and children spent Tuesday with Mrs. Cecil Eubanks and family.

The Rev. C. P. Cowart filled his regular appointment at the church Sunday morning. After the church services the church went into conference and Rev. Cowart offered his resignation as pastor.

INTERNE TROUBLE

Late that night, Dr. Sargent, coming from the operating room gray with fatigue, halted in the corridor outside Miss Armstrong's office at sight of light framed by the transom, knocked, and went inside.

"Ah?" said Miss Armstrong, and glanced with a sigh at the pile of reports under her folded hands.

"By a strange coincidence," Dr. Sargent went on, staring at the ceiling, and luxuriously wreathing his head in smoke, "it's the one who was up in court—"

"I shouldn't be so sure of that," she said, a dry smile in her shrewd dark eyes. "Even so, it is pretty well known that the unemotional Miss Miller is your first choice for the operating room."

With passing of cotton from the picture, the production of peanuts stepped into the spotlight and has proved highly profitable. Shelled peanuts are the money crop, but the hay is an excellent by-product. To utilize that farmers have become interested in dairying.

Recently 22 head of registered Jersey heifers were imported from Cleburne, C. L. Wilson, Rising Star vocational agriculture teacher, is sponsoring this move. Two bulls have been bought to improve the quality of dairy calves. With newly-constructed cheese plants at Coleman and Comanche and milk houses penetrating this section, there is no worry of selling milk.
While April's freeze killed this year's fruit crop, more emphasis is placed on that crop. Last winter 45,000 peach trees were put out. There's not a house for rent in Rising Star, so there may be a new prosperity in the air.

resses sorsorship the world has heard of this marauder only in recent weeks when the plane began to attack and sink British shipping. Prior to that, however, the attacker had a long and spec- tacular string of successes during which it is reckoned he destroyed around a half billion liters of gas- oiline and oil along the Republicn seaboard.

His most spectacular coup was in Valencia harbor in mid-Jan- ary. Plummeting down from a great height with silent motor just at dawn one morning the plane barely skimmed many five to eight-million liter gasoline and oil tanks while the pilots leisurely machine-gunned the tanks with armor-piercing bullets.

Burned Three Weeks
Then the plane wheeled sharp- ly and flew back to drop incendi- ary and explosive bombs. There fire. Three weeks later the fire had not yet fully died out. Well over 10 million liters of oil and gas- oiline were lost.

This episode was repeated at Barcelona, Tarragona, Alicante and Cartagena, leaving the gov- ernment to rue the day when preceding regimes rejected the American-drawn plan to put stor- age tanks underground in the hills behind the coast.

The mystery plane's most brutal attack came on April 14 north of Castellon where it swooped down on the international brigade's Red Cross hospital train carrying for- eign casualties from Valencia to Barcelona. After trailing the train at a 50-foot altitude and bombing it, the pilots circled about and machine-gunned the wreckage for 15 minutes. Sixty patients were re-wounded and a dozen died; some lost their minds under the ferocity of the attack.

The raiders in June went after all shipping, frequently disabling or sinking two ships in a single night. The same methods of di- rect, low attack with bombs fol- lowed by machine-guns were used, always with success. The plane also experimented suc- cessfully with an aerial torpedo against the British freighter Thorpeess outside the Valencia breakwater, then flew off to bomb and sink a nearby ship.

The raiders prefer the dawn at- tack unless there is moonlight. They use a single motored hydro- plane equipped with at least two historic animals were mired in quicksand and perished. Solidified and tilted on edge by some later convulsion of nature, the resulting sandstone now streaks across the landscape as a five-foot-wide "vein," and is being mined just as the Argonauts mined gold-bearing quartz.

Before Man Appeared
The animal remains are proba- bly 7,000,000 years old, says R. A. Sillerton, curator of mammals in the university's museum of paleon- tology. This puts them in the plicocene period, about 6,000,000 years before man is assumed to have appeared.

Excavations already have shown that the California of those days was inhabited by a giant-tusked mastodon, a sort of big brother to the present elephant, and also by a giant camel.

Dog fanciers will learn of an early breed the size of a shepherd, but of heavy, muscular build and with jaws that could crush bone. This branch of the family has died out.

came in 1926, when Dr. B. L. Clark picked up prehistoric teeth on the site. The discovery was not fol- lowed up, and it was only when King Arthur Richey, a research student, was assigned to work there that its full significance was revealed.

The location is on the vast, sprawling slopes of Mount Diablo, but the exact place is a secret. Souvenir hunters have ruined many scientific excavations, and Diablo is only an hour's drive from the 1,300,000 population of the San Francisco-Oakland area.

The WPA has assigned workers to cut out and clean the fossilized bones preparatory to scientific study.

A Convention Battle Is Shaping

The part that Jack Garner, who is vice president of the United States, will play in the 1940 presidential campaign is a subject of increasing interest and speculation among politicians and political writers these days. President Roosevelt's visit to Texas is viewed as a move to offset the Garner influence in the Garner state. Reports of a growing rift between the president and the vice president, who represent distinct wings of the democratic party, have come with increasing authority and political commentators look to a stirring battle between "leftist" and "rightist" elements at the next national convention, the former to keep the party on the New Deal trend and the latter to wrest control to a more conservative regime. Garner is the natural leader of the conservative element and whether or not he enters the lists in quest of the presidential nomination, he is certain to be a foremost figure in any intra-party struggle which may develop over the New Deal issue.

GARNER'S age—he will be 71 in 1940—and his characteristic methods of operation suggest that he will not be a candidate. Instead, it is more probable he will employ his genius for working behind the scenes, championing some other democrat. The vice pres-

Human and Other Nature

By W. F. BRUCE

The question is still raised as to whether woman should fill this or that or the other occupation or position. No one ever asks any more whether woman can do all these things; she has demonstrated that. But the question is as to whether she has a right to do certain things—a right from the standpoint of what the Creator intended, or what is best for the race. Meanwhile, through the centuries, woman has at times in emergency done about everything that man has. Oftentimes it has been because man was indifferent, or incapacitated, or inefficient for the particular task that called for the particular opportunity that opened up; perhaps a man even had the first chance, if he could have measured up.

The latter case is illustrated in the instance of Deborah. Barak said, weakly, "If you will go with me, I will go." It was a decided victory in a time of crisis. What was she to do, with her prophetic insight into the great importance of the occasion, and seemingly no one to rise up equal to it? It is evident that even then Deborah did not forsake her natural and ordinary responsibilities. She seemed to think of this broader public work as only an extension of the work she had been doing; or else that the work she had been doing gave her the qualifications for her larger task. In the song of Deborah celebrating her victory she speaks of the distressing times that prevailed "until that I Deborah arose, a mother in Israel." She became a sort of "mother of her country."

Bachelor Head of Stock Exchange Pans Rich Girls

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

AP Feature Service Writer NEW YORK, July 16.—William McChesney Martin, Jr., the 31-year-old president of the New York Stock Exchange, sat down in his guarded air-conditioned office, hunched his knees against the desk, and confessed to a weakness for the simple life.

"I haven't any expensive habits," he said. (He neither smokes nor drinks, doesn't keep a car in New York.) I like to go to the theater, but I go by myself and usually sit in the balcony. I used to play tennis three or four times a week at Forest Hills. Lately I've been too busy."

Martin, the first paid president of the Exchange, gets $48,000 a year. A fiend for work, he doesn't act like a go-getter. He moves slowly, speaks slowly, smiles often—but slowly. His clothes are common place.

A "Regretful" Bachelor Social life doesn't interest him but he's being asked around quite a bit, now that he's in the limelight. Says he's a "regretful" bachelor, doesn't look regretful. He did say, "I'd like to travel every day of my life." At that, he's done a pretty good job of touring the United States—ident has been very effective at this sort of thing. Roosevelt, on the other hand, is a master in the art of appealing to popular support.

A Victory for Peace Comes in Sight

JUST at the time when things looked blackest, and it seemed probable that exhausting war might again break out in the Chaco region of South America between Paraguay and Bolivia, a sudden and spectacular victory for peace becomes possible.

A draft agreement has been initiated by the foreign ministers of the two countries which, if ratified by their respective governments, would peacefully put an end to a controversy which has been going on for 100 years.

North Americans who are unfamiliar with the Chaco controversy can scarcely appreciate the magnitude of this victory if it is ratified. For the Chaco dispute is one of the bitterest international controversies to harry a tired world.

THE CHACO, a wild region about the size of Arizona, seems to North Americans a prize of too dubious value to warrant such long and bitter struggles. But to Paraguavans and Bolivians, it is more than a mere jungle controlling access to the sea. It has become a symbol, a point of honor around which militaristic elements of either country have been able in the past to rally frenzied feeling.

If final settlement of this galling controversy can really be achieved, then a light for the whole world have been set up in South America. For in the bitterness of feeling surrounding it, the Chaco feud exceeds anything Frenchmen ever felt about Alsace-Lorraine or that Russians ever felt about Bosnia and Herzegovina. If the Chaco dispute can be settled sanely and decently by arbitration, then any dispute can be so settled.

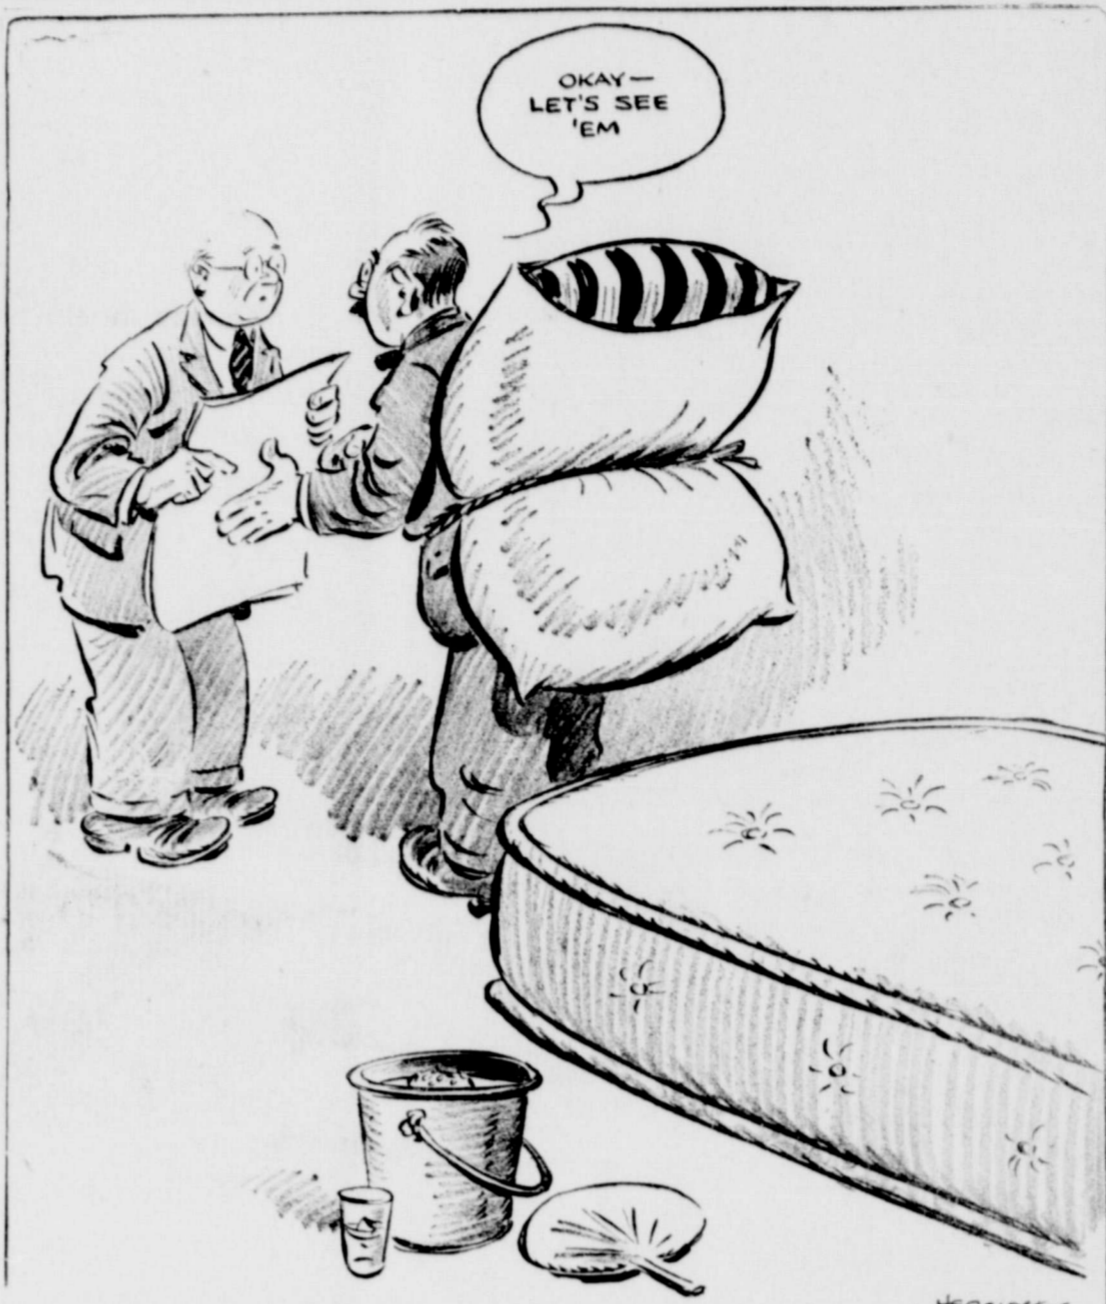

IN both La Paz and Asuncion, capital cities respectively of Bolivia and Paraguay, great crowds clustered about bulletin boards, "Peace" extras were eagerly bought, bombs were exploded and sirens sounded. The people, the ordinary people of both countries, showed that they could greet hope of peace as enthusiastically as they have greeted war. It is that way throughout the world. The people want peace. It is only governments, or small minorities who stand to gain by it, that want war.

Perhaps those bombs in La Paz and Asuncion, celebrating a triumph of sanity and reason in faraway South America, may be heard 'round the world no less distinctly than the rattle of musketry that rolled across the bridge at Concord on that spring morning of April, 1775.

A 99-year-old woman in Stratford, Ontario, says the youth of today is just as good as the youth of 50 years ago. He's a lot younger now, too.

What the world needs is an artificial hare to run in front of the dogs of war in the argument race.

STORIES IN STAMPS

Battling the Arctic By Men on Wings SINCE 1931 Soviet Russia has become increasingly interested in the task of conquering the Arctic wastes. Expedition after expedition has plowed into the wilderness, and not the least have been the airplanes.

Russia's ultimate goal work, says Dr. Otto Schott, Arctic Hero No. 1, is to achieve mastery of the far even to the pole itself.

ingly, Russian flyers have received this aerial route into a mountain near Khaba, 177 miles from Moscow. Thirteen of the crew were three injured, two escaped, and one subsequently Russian steamer crewed the polar scientists, but Russia is planning new conquests in the north.

Harley Appeals for Votes for Jerry

In this issue will be found a display advertisement by Harley Sadler, renowned west Texas showman, appealing for west Texas votes to support his kinsman, Jerry Sadler, for the office of railroad commissioner. In supporting Jerry Sadler, Harley breaks a life-long rule of staying out of politics. "I believe west Texas people should get behind Jerry because I firmly believe him the best qualified man in the race and one who will give this section a square deal," Harley said. Indications this week pointed to a heavy lead in many sections of Texas for Jerry Sadler, and political prognosticators were wondering just who would get in the runoff with him. The peak of employment in the canning industry is August and September.

R. V. (Rip) Galloway, county clerk of Eastland county, is seeking re-election to that office and is unopposed. Rip conducted one of the most unique campaigns two years that has been witnessed in Eastland county. He is conducting the county clerk's office in a most efficient manner, and he and his assistants are very courteous to everyone who calls at the office for any kind of information or to transact business. "I am just your hired hand," states Rip, "and trying to make you the best county clerk you have ever had." Daily Press Want Ads Clerk.

Residents Build Moat to Waylay Hopper Hoards

FOUNTAIN, Colo., July 16 (AP)—The residents of this town and of nearby irrigated districts resorted successfully to ancient moat defenses recently to repel a threatened invasion of grasshoppers. Hoppers, too young to fly, were moving toward the town and the rich farm lands. The problem was to exterminate them before they grew wings and could fly. Water was turned into an old ditch that circled the city on the north, east and south sides. Poisoned bran was scattered on the side of the ditch from which the hoppers were approaching. Healthy grasshoppers can swim, but the poison made them ill. When they tried to cross the water they were washed downstream into a nearby reservoir. There they drowned and nearby residents reported the millions of bodies created such a stench it was "almost unbearable."

Casa Manana Attractions

Presenting some of the principal reasons why Fort Worth's world famous Casa Manana, opening July 29, will be bigger and better than ever before. Right, Wayne King, America's premier orchestra leader and waltz king, whose augmented band will play for dancing under the star studded Texas sky for the first two weeks. Left, Marion Downey, golden voiced tenor of stage, screen and radio fame, who tops the brilliant array of stage attractions on the initial program. Bottom, just some of the 52 gorgeous Texas beauties who will cavort throughout the five hours of entertainment in special numbers, devised by Paul Oscar, famous producer.

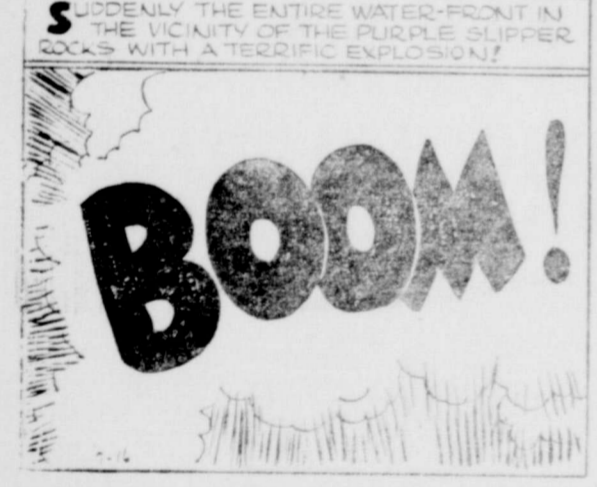

Extensive Plans For Casa Manana In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, July 16 (Spe.) Full speed ahead for all plans connected with the pretentious opening of MCA's extravagant 1938 edition of Fort Worth's world famous Casa Manana has been ordered by those in charge of arrangements, and no pains will be spared to make the forthcoming production surpass all others in previous years. Wayne King and his orchestra, easily the most famous dance band in the United States, Morton Downey, famed stage, screen and radio star, eight acts of scintillating entertainment, plus a multitude of gorgeous Texas girls and a raft of other worthwhile features, will be presented on the gala opening bill, starting July 29, and the same high standard of big time entertainment will be observed in subsequent programs, all of which are devised and designed to offer five hours of real enjoyment for the one price.

Boy Steals Buttons For His Accordion

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—A boy who wanted to make his 12-key accordion look like one with 48 keys had the city hall jittery for five weeks.

Police, WPA workers and city employes spent a hectic time trying to catch the person who unscrewed elevator signal buttons on the fourth, sixth, tenth and other floors during that time—averaging a button a day. Finally an elevator operator nabbed the lad and turned him over to the police, but he was not arrested.

"I wanted an accordion with 48 keys but couldn't buy one. The elevator buttons looked just like keys when I glued them on my accordion," he explained.

Lewis Goodrich Seeks Office of Attorney General

SHAMROCK, July 16 (Spe.)—Lewis Goodrich, whose personalized campaign for attorney general of Texas is being conducted daily as the faithful first Democratic primary nears, is a native of Texas and as proud of the fact as Texans are wont to be.

Goodrich was born on a farm near Oliver Springs school house, about eight miles from De Leon, Comanche county, on April 25, 1898.

His parents moved to Fredrick, Okla., in 1901 and to Shamrock in 1905. He was graduated from Shamrock high school in 1915, but as the school was not affiliated, he went to Comanche and finished his high school work there.

Early in life he conceived an ambition to become a lawyer and never lost sight of that goal, although he was forced to gain his education the hard way and overcome almost insuperable difficulties before he was finally admitted to the bar.

In gaining a livelihood and furthering his education in the law, Goodrich never found any honest labor beneath him. He has worked as deliveryman for a grocery store, drove a truck, worked in oil fields, led cattle and cut wood for farmers—at the time earnestly studying law in his spare time and at night.

Toward the close of the World war he enlisted in the navy and was sent to Baylor university (Students Navy Training Corps). He was released from active duty in 1919. Lack of funds brought an end to his brief college career, but failed to dampen his ambition.

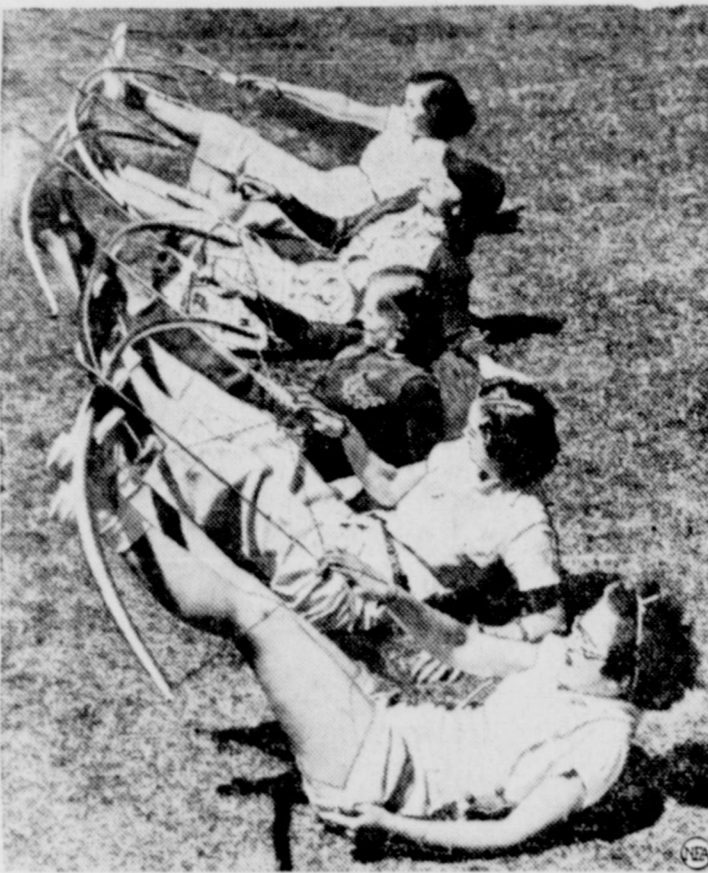

Goodrich was married December 18, 1923, to Miss Lora Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Griffin of Tulla. Mrs. Goodrich's father is a prominent merchant and wheat farmer. She was born in Cottonwood, Callahan county, where her parents lived until 1914. Her wife coaching him at night while he worked in a grocery store, Goodrich passed the bar examination in 1927. Shortly afterward they moved back to Shamrock, where he opened an office for the practice of law, using the library of another friendly attorney. Goodrich's popularity with his home folks is illustrated by the fact that he was elected city attorney of Shamrock after one of the shortest campaigns on record. He decided to make the race only one day before the deadline for filing for the ticket and canvassed the town in the few days before the election. He served five years as city attorney.

He ran against Raymond Allred, for district attorney of the 31st Judicial District, comprising Wheeler, Gray, Lipscomb and Roberts counties, and was elected. He has been re-elected twice and is now serving his sixth year.

Goodrich is making the race for attorney general without the backing of any wealthy or powerful group. He is not singling out any particular phase of the attorney general's duties to emphasize. Feeling that the duties of the "people's lawyer" are pretty well defined, his platform is just that he will honestly perform all those duties. His campaign slogan is: "I have no political debts to pay."

Aside from his unquestioned ability, his friends consider his tenacity of purpose and his love of justice his outstanding qualities. As a prosecutor they have seen him work long hours without food or sleep in an effort to unravel a difficult case and they have seen him work equally as hard to prove some unfortunate person innocent whom he felt had been wrongly accused.

One of Goodrich's outstanding cases as district attorney was one in which he succeeded in sending Pete Traxler, one of the Southwest's most desperate bad men, along with three other gangsters, to the Texas penitentiary for the robbery with firearms of the Christian Babitzke farm home near Lipscomb, Texas. Circumstantial evidence entangled two other men, but Goodrich uncovered evidence which pointed to Traxler and his pals. He secured a confession from Traxler and the desperado's testimony convicted his three accomplices.

Goodrich's fairness, however, impressed Traxler, who, as he was leaving for prison under guard, told the district attorney, "If there is ever anything I can do for you, just let me know."

South Dakota was admitted to the union in 1889.

bored by long-winded speeches. As reported by the Wall Street Journal, Gen. Alexander Smythe, the fellow-member, was a studious man and a laborious speaker. Turning to Mr. Clay one day in the course of a very tedious address, he said: "You, sir, speak for the present generation; but I speak for posterity." Clay gravely retorted: "Yes, and you seem resolved to speak until the arrival of your audience."

APPEALS JUDGES ON VACATION

There were no orders in the court of civil appeals this week. It is playtime with the appellate judges, and all three have hiked away to their chosen resorts to enjoy the heated term allowed by law, that they may return when the weather is cooler, probably in the early part of September. We toilers may envy them, but we are not appellate judges.

Down East" is more nearly a mine than a book, for Buxton has for three years been interviewing Maine people for a column he writes in the Bangor Daily News. This is a collection of these columns—source material, of course, but also good reading for those odd moments when even a short story is too long. (Stephen Daye: $3).

For a man with a little spare time and no aversion to thinking, "Modern Competition and Business Policy," a short book by H. S. Dennison, the manufacturer, and J. K. Galbraith, the economist, may be useful. There is no such thing as "free competition" and therefore no self-regulating laissez-faire economic system, Messrs. Dennison and Galbraith feel. Hence their different approach to the problem of What to Do About Depressions. (Oxford: $1.25).

E. B. Mann uses that sadly over-worked fictional character, the girl who comes from the east to take over her western ranch, as the trigger to set off the dynamite in "Shootin' Melody." If you aren't critical about such matters as probability, obvious fictional devices and so on, Mr. Mann's Western is good for you. (Morrow: $2). Books of excerpts are not this

If you are confused by all the conflicting refrigerator claims of "super" savings, "super" service, "super" service, etc., etc., here are six simple facts worth remembering when you choose your refrigerator.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

- The GENERAL ELECTRIC Triple-Thrift REFRIGERATOR is a product of the combined research, engineering skill and manufacturing experience of the world's largest electrical manufacturing company. It is thrifty in price, thrifty in current, thrifty in upkeep.
- The all-steel refrigerator cabinet, the sealed-in-steel cooling mechanism, the 5 year performance protection—all were originated by GENERAL ELECTRIC.
- Although the sealed-in-steel G-E THRIFT UNIT is now widely imitated it is still years ahead. For G-E's sealed mechanism has long since passed the experimental stage, and is the one that has been constantly improved for twelve years. COOLING is a GENERAL ELECTRIC development that assures quiet operation, low current cost and long life.
- GENERAL ELECTRIC has built and sold more refrigerators with the popular sealed type of mechanism than any other manufacturer.
- The GENERAL ELECTRIC is recommended to you by millions of satisfied users, and has an unparalleled record of enduring economy.
- GENERAL ELECTRIC new economy models of 1938 claim a smashing 12-year record of ever increasing values—this first choice of millions is now popularly priced!
