SYROVY APPEALS TO CZECHS FOR CAUTION

ASKS ARMY TO USE CARE IN ITS ACTIONS

Must Be Reconciled to Fate Prime Minister Says

PRAGUE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Premier General Syrový appealed to his army today not to commit any act that might "bring on intervention more cruel than in the present situation" for what is left of Czechoslovakia.

"There is nothing to do," he told troops, "but to reconcile ourselves to our fate."

Dr. Joseph Tiso, prime minister of Slovakia, and eight representatives of the most powerful Slovak political parties, came here to discuss the Slovaks' role as an autonomous unit of the Czechoslovak federal state.

DETROIT, Oct. 7 (AP)—United Automobile Workers' demonstration for a 32-hour week closed two large factories here today and left approximately 12,000 idle.

Main plant of the Plymouth Motor Corporation and the Mack Avenue Plant Mfg. Co. were closed.

Peanut Crop Will Be Best In Seven Years

RISE STAR, Oct. 7 (Sp.)—In going over figures on sales so far and checking acreage yet to be harvested a total of around a quarter of a million dollars is indicated for the peanut crop here this year, which is by far the best done here in several years.

A local buyer, in conversation with a representative of the Record Wednesday, expressed the opinion that the average yield would easily reach 25 bushels per acre and that on some farms, it had gone as high as 50. Talking further, he reached into a bag and pointed out that everyone was a No. 1 nut, and said that practically all peanuts offered for sale here was of No. 1 grade. He said this was especially true on all ground on which fertilizer had been used.

The market has been strong this week at 80 cents and a little above and it is believed that just as soon as arrangements are completed for the opening of the government warehouse that they will quickly jump to above 90 cents.

The bank and local stores, who grant charge accounts, report good collections and it is believed that the peanut crop will greatly stimulate business here just as soon as obligations are taken care of.

Yankees, Cubs In New York to Continue Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—The New York Yankees and the Chicago Cubs arrived here today to resume the World's series tomorrow. The Yankees took the first two games at Chicago.

Manager Hartnett, Chicago, said he would send Clay Bryan* to the mound in an effort to stop the Yankees. He will be opposed by Monte Pearson.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brooks of Moran are in Cisco today.

Negro Charges Texas 'Bluebeard' Fed Victims to Alligators

A weird story comes from San Antonio, Tex., of Joe Ball, a night club owner, and his pets—the alligators pictured above. Entertainers came to Ball's club then mysteriously disappeared. The last of these was Hazel Brown, shown top right. Police questioned Ball, lower right. When released, Ball committed suicide. Then Cliff Wheeler, a negro, told police he had helped Ball kill Hazel Brown and that he had seen Ball feed parts of other girls' bodies to his alligators. Mrs. Brown's torso was found in a shallow grave.

HITLER STRUCK WITH BOUQUET FROM ADMIRER

Orders All Flowers Taken From Persons Along Route

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Adolf Hitler was slightly injured in the face today when an over-enthusiastic Sudetenlander tossed a bouquet of flowers at Der Fuehrer.

Authoritative reports said Hitler's face was scratched when hit squarely by a big bunch of roses.

As a result of the mishap Hitler issued a general order that Nazi party leaders henceforth would be held personally responsible for seeing that flowers are taken from all persons along the line of march. Even small bouquets in the hands of spectators must be seized.

Hitler visited today the first part of the fourth zone of occupation on the northern fringe of central Czechoslovakia.

Body of Missing Pastor Is Found North of Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Oct. 7 (AP)—The charred, mutilated body of the Reverend O. J. Schmidt, pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran church in Beaumont, was found today in the woods 60 miles north of here.

The minister, reported despondent over a difficulty with his congregation after dedication of his new church six weeks ago, had been missing for six days.

The wreckage of his automobile, destroyed by fire, was found near the body.

Tyler county officials said murder was possible after viewing the body.

Administration Will Strengthen Its Spy Defense

HYDE PARK, Oct. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt today disclosed that the administration was planning to tighten its defense against activities of foreign spies.

The president said he was seeking to determine what new machinery might be set up to frustrate the efforts of foreign agents to obtain military and naval secrets.

15.7 Miles Road To Be Constructed Near Rising Star

RISE STAR, Oct. 7 (Sp.)—Commissioner A. N. Sneed has announced approval of a new P.W.A. road project of 15.7 miles embracing most of the Peak community, both north and south of the highway between Rising Star and Pioneer. The work order had not been issued Tuesday but Mr. Sneed said that it was expected any day and that work would begin within a few days.

The project calls for a total expenditure of $58,596.07 and calls for 118,476 man hours of labor. Forty-nine drainage structures are set out in the plan and on which 3,097 sacks of cement will be used.

A great deal of the road is that over which school buses are operated and will be a great help in getting the children in to school in bad weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fizer of Breckenridge have returned to their home after visiting here.

Bringing Home the Treaty

Waving the "no-more-war" pact signed with Adolf Hitler, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain acknowledges the crowd's cheer at Heston Airport, London, as he returned from the historic meeting with Hitler, Mussolini and Daladier at Munich, Germany. After the four powers agreed to avert war by ceding areas of Czechoslovakia to Germany, Hitler and Chamberlain signed a pact banning war between their nations. This picture was radioed from London.

Former Midwestern Desperado Executed

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—Adam Richetti, last survivor of the trio which terrorized the Midwest a few years ago, was executed in Missouri's lethal gas chamber today for his part in the 1933 Kansas City Union station massacre of four officers and their prisoner.

"What have I done to deserve this?" were Richetti's only words as he was strapped into the chair. Richetti, Pretty Boy Floyd, and Verne Miller were named by officers as the actual murderers. Floyd and Miller were later slain.

The massacre was a bungled attempt to rescue Frank Nash, escaped convict, from officers taking him back to Leavenworth prison.

A good showing of oil was struck in the Caddo lime in this well, but it was decided to go on down to the Ranger lime.

Whiteside Bros. yesterday had placed their new shallow well, 7 1/2 miles southeast of Rising Star and on the A. K. Anderson tract, on the pump. On account of a considerable amount of oil in the hole it will take a few days to get an accurate test of production.

There has been a bit of leasing in the vicinity of the Whiteside well and several new wells are expected to be started shortly. Just as soon as his rig, which was used to drill the Whiteside well, is available, E. M. Howard will start a well just south of the Anderson tract. R. C. Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Better file your deeds, mortgages, etc., with the county clerk required by law if you want to be protected in your ownership interests in property, advises county Clerk R. V. Galloway in newspaper article in an Eastland paper. Strange as it may seem, many deeds are never put in a record. In such instances the legal claim of the holder of the deed is not established. The place may be sold again and whatever rights the holder of the deed may have by virtue of his purchase of the property can be taken away by some adroit legal process. A court, in determining title to a piece of property, must look to the record to see who filed first. If the second purchaser did so, the chances are that you will have plenty of trouble proving your claim is first.

In the case of chattel mortgages it is necessary Galloway pointed out, to file the mortgage in order to show legal lien on the property until the last installment is paid. The mortgage on record is protection against third parties who might step in an buy from the person who sold it to the mortgage-holder.

If you married six months ago and the marriage license was not returned to the county clerk's office for record of the marriage contract, you just ain't married. The license must be returned to the office within a certain period or recording. It is then returned to the wedded pair and their marriage is complete.

This precaution is intended to prevent a third party from stepping in and walking off with the pot, perhaps, or to keep friend husband from burning up the record and declaring himself free and untrammelled. It is a beautiful theory but it doesn't always work in practice.

Lobo "B" Eleven Loses To Graham In Close Contest

Playing in their second game of the season the Lobo "B" team was defeated yesterday at Chesley field 14-7 by a bigger and more experienced "B" eleven from Graham.

The game was closely fought from the start and only a touchdown in the last few minutes of play following a Cisco fumble saved the game from a 7-7 deadlock. The Graham eleven outweighed the Cisco lads markedly which in the final analysis was the deciding factor. The local eleven showed big improvement over their form of the last game and bid fair to win plenty of games of they continue in this vein.

The Lobo eleven opened the scoring when they counted in the first quarter on Donovan's fine 35 yard off-tackle run. Play remained even during the rest of the half and it ended with Cisco leading 7-0.

Midway in the second quarter the Loboes weakened under the steady pounding and Graham pushed over their first marker. Then late in the fourth quarter when it appeared the game would end in a deadlock, an end run by Graham netted another touchdown. Shortly afterward the game ended with the count Graham 14, Cisco 7. All three extra points were tallied on plunges, Donovan counting the local eleven's only conversion on a two yard drive.

Mrs. F. Sandler has returned from a visit in Fort Worth.

Football Attracts Many Automobiles

People formerly looked upon Labor Day as the close of the heavy driving season, but nowadays there are many week-end highways are jammed with traffic, following the holiday on which the "Explanation is easy," declared R. W. McCauley, local dealer for The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. "The day is long past when the automobile was a vehicle used only in fair weather. Nowadays motorists start out regardless of weather, reach their destinations and return.

"Big factor in heavy week-end traffic during Fall months is football. Contests between rival schools are being held in hundreds of stadia throughout the land every Saturday for an eight-week period beginning in late September or early October. Not only alumni of the schools but others who love to watch fast college teams in action, swarm the highways in a seemingly endless stream.

"Important it is to the motorist who finds himself driving along at a good clip in a heavy stream of football traffic that nothing happens to his tires. A blowout under such circumstances can have serious consequences, not only to the motorist himself, but to others who are on the highway. "Many local motorists won't have this to worry about on their football excursions this year," he continued. "Reason is that they have equipped their cars with Goodyear Life-Guards, the safety device that eliminates all danger of accident following a blowout no matter at what speed."

Football Attracts Many Automobiles

People formerly looked upon Labor Day as the close of the heavy driving season, but nowadays there are many week-end highways are jammed with traffic, following the holiday on which the "Explanation is easy," declared R. W. McCauley, local dealer for The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. "The day is long past when the automobile was a vehicle used only in fair weather. Nowadays motorists start out regardless of weather, reach their destinations and return.

"Big factor in heavy week-end traffic during Fall months is football. Contests between rival schools are being held in hundreds of stadia throughout the land every Saturday for an eight-week period beginning in late September or early October. Not only alumni of the schools but others who love to watch fast college teams in action, swarm the highways in a seemingly endless stream.

"Important it is to the motorist who finds himself driving along at a good clip in a heavy stream of football traffic that nothing happens to his tires. A blowout under such circumstances can have serious consequences, not only to the motorist himself, but to others who are on the highway. "Many local motorists won't have this to worry about on their football excursions this year," he continued. "Reason is that they have equipped their cars with Goodyear Life-Guards, the safety device that eliminates all danger of accident following a blowout no matter at what speed."

Former Midwestern Desperado Executed

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—Adam Richetti, last survivor of the trio which terrorized the Midwest a few years ago, was executed in Missouri's lethal gas chamber today for his part in the 1933 Kansas City Union station massacre of four officers and their prisoner.

"What have I done to deserve this?" were Richetti's only words as he was strapped into the chair. Richetti, Pretty Boy Floyd, and Verne Miller were named by officers as the actual murderers. Floyd and Miller were later slain.

The massacre was a bungled attempt to rescue Frank Nash, escaped convict, from officers taking him back to Leavenworth prison.

Cox No. Two Begins Drilling Thursday

RISING STAR, Oct. 7.—C. C. Cross, of Ranger, who recently took over the contract to finish the C. R. Cox No. 2 Lee, 2½ miles southeast of Rising Star, drilling after having succeeded late the past week in pulling a string of lost tools from the hole that had held up operations for the past 60 days or more.

Cement was poured in the hole Monday afternoon and after being allowed time to set, drilling was to be resumed. Bottom hole depth is placed at about 3600 feet. The pay is expected at about 2900 feet. A good showing of oil was struck in the Caddo lime in this well, but it was decided to go on down to the Ranger lime.

Whiteside Bros. yesterday had placed their new shallow well, 7½ miles southeast of Rising Star and on the A. K. Anderson tract, on the pump. On account of a considerable amount of oil in the hole it will take a few days to get an accurate test of production.

There has been a bit of leasing in the vicinity of the Whiteside well and several new wells are expected to be started shortly. Just as soon as his rig, which was used to drill the Whiteside well, is available, E. M. Howard will start a well just south of the Anderson tract. R. C. McCarter, is to begin operation, it is stated, as soon as titles to affected land is cleared up.

Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Better file your deeds, mortgages, etc., with the county clerk required by law if you want to be protected in your ownership interests in property, advises county clerk R. V. Galloway in newspaper article in an Eastland paper. Strange as it may seem, many deeds are never put in record. In such instances the legal claim of the holder of the deed is not established. The place may be sold again and whatever rights the holder of the deed may have by virtue of his purchase of the property can be taken away by some adroit legal process. A court, in determining title to a piece of property, must look to the record to see who filed first. If the second purchaser did so, the chances are that you will have plenty of trouble proving your claim is first.

In the case of chattel mortgages is necessary Galloway pointed out, to file the mortgage in order to show legal lien on the property until the last installment is paid. The mortgage on record is protection against third parties who might step in an buy from the person who sold it to the mortgage-holder.

If you married six months ago and the marriage license was not returned to the county clerk's office for record of the marriage contract, you just aint married. The license must be returned to the office within a certain period or recording. It is then returned to the wedded pair and their marriage is complete.

This precaution is intended to prevent a third party from stepping in and walking off with the spouse, perhaps, or to keep friend husband from burning up the record and declaring himself free and untrammelled. It is a beautiful theory but it doesn't always work in practise.

Lobo "B" Eleven Loses To Graham In Close Contest

Playing in their second game of the season the Lobo "B" team was defeated yesterday at Chesley field 14-7 by a bigger and more experienced "B" eleven from Graham. The game was closely fought from the start and only a touchdown in the last few minutes of play following a Cisco fumble saved the game from a 7-7 deadlock. The Graham eleven outweighed the Cisco lads markedly which in the final analysis was the deciding factor. The local eleven showed big improvement over their form of the last game and bid fair to win plenty of games of they continue in this vein.

The Lobo eleven opened the scoring when they counted in the first quarter on Donovan's fine 35 yard off-tackle run. Play remained even during the rest of the half and it ended with Cisco leading 7-0.

Midway in the second quarter the Loboes weakened under the steady pounding and Graham pushed over their first marker. Then late in the fourth quarter when it appeared the game would end in a deadlock, an end run by Graham netted another touchdown. Shortly afterward the game ended with the count Graham 14, Cisco 7. All three extra points were tallied on plunges, Donovan counting the local eleven's only conversion on a two yard drive.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

I will hear what God the Lord will speak: for He will speak peace unto His people.—Ps. lxxxv. 2

Dark though my path in life may prove,
The smile of peace, the voice of love,
If they my lamp and guide will be,
Are all I need in following Thee.

The peace which the Savior gives His own, is peace of heart and mind amid daily duties. It is that "central peace" which may subsist in the heart of endless agitation.—Boyd.

Is Democracy Without Defense

DOROTHY THOMPSON, columnist wife of Novelist Sinclair Lewis, finds truth in the prophetic words of Charles A. Lindbergh several years ago, bolsters it with what happened in Germany, and discovers therein democracy's loss of a defense. The airplane, she observes, is outlawing war as Lindbergh predicted it would do. It is doing so because it takes the war from the armed and marshalled field to the population. It has made warfare a process of extermination, victory a question of nerves. In the face of the certainty of a long-drawn-out and miserable experience nations hesitate to accept war as the alternative to agreement, even an expensive agreement.

Germany, she remarks, proved it had the better nerves at Munich. Dictatorships have better nerves than democracies, she continues. Which is logically true, considering the controls which a dictatorship exerts, controls that anesthetize the public with ignorance or suppress it with fear, giving authority and voice to but one.

In the outlawry of war, remarks Miss Thompson, democracies are without the one weapon which can be effective against conquest. They are laid open to invasions of propaganda and the fomenting of internal revolutions which are instruments of conquest as surely as war is such an instrument. Unless democracies are able to devise a defense against such measures, a defense that will serve them as well as the suppression of free speech and control of the press and radio protect the dictatorships against internal revolution the future of the democracies looks gloomy, Miss Thompson avers.

THERE is much truth of a sort in her analysis. But it appears to have overlooked an important factor. Dictatorships thrive on opposition from abroad. When that opposition ceases the reason for the dictatorship ceases. Hitler and Mussolini rose to power on a common fear. Each expresses a national objective. Each will exist after the reason for the fear is gone. But when they are gone, what? And how in a world so closely knit, so shrunk to neighborhood proportions will it ever be possible to keep one people in perpetual ignorance? What Lincoln said of his own nation is as true of the world. Democracy's future is securely tied to the upward mind of man. Whatever assists that advance, whether it be a dictatorship or a dread of war, is a contribution to the ultimate democracy. Civilization cannot improve without improving man's ability to live with himself and unless there is a hope of this, there is no cause to regret his failure.

An inventor predicts that there will be no new death-dealing instruments in the next war. Oh, that's all right: what was good enough for pa's good enough for us.

Comes a flash that Florida has produced two million pounds of tung oil in the last year. If that's an item about the chambers of commerce the spelling's not very good.

What the world needs is fewer uselessly totalitarian states and more totally utilitarian ones.

Spiritual Worship

Text: Exodus 20:4-6; 32:1-8; John 4:19-24

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

ONE thing that stands out strongly and unmistakably in the history of the Children of Israel is the insistence upon the evil nature of idolatry. The moral degradation of the people and much of the misfortune that came upon them in almost invariably attributed to the turning from the worship of Jehovah to the worship of false gods.

Why should this be? What is the difference between the worship of an idol and the use of a symbol in worship? In Christian churches, there are many images. The difference is that a symbol stands for something very real; when the symbol itself becomes an object of worship instead of a symbol, the resulting worship is idolatry.

But it was not this alone that was in the mind of the Hebrew leaders and prophets, who so strongly denounced the worship of idols. Deeper down was the fact that idolatrous worship was associated with immoral and corrupt practices. The opposition to idolatry was social as well as religious. The leaders of Israel did not wish to see the people corrupted by materialism and false ideals.

THERE are those who make much of the fact that the religion of Israel was centered around the worship of a tribal God.

That may have some aspects of truth, but the real significance of the Old Testament lies in the extent to which it is not true. The important thing to grasp is that, in the worship of the true prophets and saints of Israel, there was always something emphasized, and emerging larger than the worship of a tribal God. Almost from the beginning, there is the emphasis upon the one God.

In the early pages of the Old Testament, we have the conception of this one God as personal. Man is made in His image and likeness, and is therefore linked inescapably with his Creator.

There, right at the threshold of religious faith and experience, is something on a far higher plane than idolatry, or even the worship of a tribal god. The promise to Abraham is, "In thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed." There is something larger than tribal vision.

When we come down to the prophecies and the Book of Jonah, we have strongly emphasized this fact that God is a God of mercy who is related to other than the "chosen people." Else, what is the meaning of the reference of Jonah's journey to Nineveh and his effort to avoid his mission? It is the idea of that narrow conception of religion, centering around a sectional or tribal God, in conflict with the enlarging conception of a God of the whole universe.

The story of the meeting between Jesus and the woman of Samaria at Jacob's well, as told in the Gospel of John, is very fittingly linked with Old Testament passages. When Jesus expounded to this woman the nature of God and the nature of true worship, summing it up in the words, "God is a spirit; and they that worship Him must worship in spirit and truth," he was not stating something new, but was interpreting the very highest in Old Testament religion.

The process of the development of the worship of God as the Loving Father of all mankind is one that is going on today.

There are individuals and peoples that are away back in the tribal stage, for whom God is linked with sectional and national interests and prosperity. But there is an increasing number of men and women who see that God is the God of the whole earth and the God of all peoples, and that His chosen are not those of a particular race or region, but the devout souls who devote themselves to doing justice, loving mercy, and walking humbly before God. There God reveals Himself, and there is found the true worship in spirit and in truth.

Mustangs Meet Marquette at Chicago Tonight

DALLAS, Oct. 7. — Southern Methodist's Mustangs entrained Wednesday afternoon for Chicago where they will battle the Golden Avalanche of Marquette University Friday night on Soldiers Field. The Ponies are fresh from two wide victories over North Texas Teachers and the University of Arizona while Marquette bowed to Temple last week-end.

Before leaving, the squad worked out Wednesday night on the Highland Park high school field in Dallas in order to become accustomed to lights.

"Our principal difficulty," revealed Coach Matty Bell, "will be with offense. We're not as smooth as we should be to tackle an experienced team like Paddy Driscoll's."

However, the Mustangs will have one factor in their favor which was missed during the two previous grid bouts—there are no injuries. Jack Sanders, regular tackle, and "Red" Stidger, reserve back, are in fine shape and will be ready to play Friday night.

The Marquette game is a charity benefit attraction sponsored by St. Vincent's Orphanage of Chicago.

Ranger Boy Accepted for Tarleton Band

RANGER, Oct. 7 (Spe.)—In recent try-outs C. E. May, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. May of Ranger, Texas, won a place on the college dance orchestra. He plays the second trumpet in the ten piece swing band.

The college dance orchestra plays for all the dances given at Tarleton and in many well-known dance places in west Texas. Recently this organization gained wide publicity as the only college jazz band in the United States directed by the Dean of Men, Morton P. Brooks, who holds that title at John Tarleton college, leads the orchestra. He earned his way through college playing in a dance orchestra, and states that he has found the cadet musicians to be hard-working, studious boys.

About Our Friends

By STEP A. LONG

H. D. Carmichael, who has been general utility man for the Community Natural Gas company for some time, has resigned to go to Austin to look after business affairs, incident to the demise of his father, Col. Carmichael, who succumbed to a heart attack at Austin recently.

A. D. Starling, late of the Home Furniture company, will succeed Mr. Carmichael with the gas company. Friends regret the loss of the Carmichael's, he being president of the junior chamber of commerce, and live man in the community, but will be glad to know that Mr. and Mrs. Starling are to remain in Cisco.

Some days ago it was our pleasure to call attention to improvements in south Cisco and to commend their progressiveness in keeping their part of Cisco on the map. We mentioned that north Cisco would be staging a comeback to keep it from reverting to the Indians. And here are a few of those improvements already.

As we walk up the street we note that the old Hartman hotel property is being remodeled for occupancy and is being repainted on the outside, which includes the front of Reimer's Cleaning plant.

Just a little further down and across the street, Osburn's Bakery is working over the front, taking down the old awning and repainting. . . . and back to the west side of the street, we see A. & P. Grocery with a new coat of paint. . . . and further up the street the odor of creosote tells us that a building is being roofed. . . . yes, there it is. . . . Altman's store is undergoing repairs to the overhead.

But now back down here in the far north, that irreplaceable J. J. Litchfield is at it again. Litchfield has done nothing but improve since he purchased the Laguna Service station. . . . Now he is making his storage permanent by surrounding the property with a native stone wall, glass windows, overhead steel roof, and a washing and lubrication stone structure. . . . This is some improvement! . . . This station features the slogan, "Litch is still going places." . . . and he seems to be making good on the idea. . . . So now with this storage and that of Mr. Duveldie across the street, storage for the Laguna and the Mobeley will be rather well cared for, it appears.

E. L. Wisdom going to work. . . . again we encounter Mrs. J. B. Cate as we go to work. . . . Miss Blanche Van Horn about to run us down with a car. . . . Earl Strickland driving down town. . . . Connie Davis at the postoffice. . . . Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien getting the mail. . . . Now Pittard and Gus seem to be in trouble again. . . . this time with H. C. Henderson who called them twins and then apologized to Gus. . . . and Pitt thinks it should have been the other way around. . . .

Number of homes for sale. Small cash down payments. Small monthly payments. Low interest rate. Connie Davis, Tel. 198.

We can't keep them straight. . . . Think we'll call in officer Pierce and let him lock up the whole bunch, police commissioner and all. . . .

Rather difficult to do any business up the street with our friends in the afternoon. . . . Yanks and Cubs carrying on over the radio. . . . if we speak to some one they frown at us and say. . . . "sh-h-h-h." . . . He just hit a home run. . . . So we pass on to the next place and there a group stares at us in a vacant minded way and act as if they thought we were trying to break up the game. . . . Guess we'll do our selling during the mornings and go off to a foot ball game in the afternoon. . . . may have to go golfing with Frank Walker, Jewel Poe, Punk Thornton and Nick Miller.

Misses Cathryne Russell, Billie Cole and Zona Maude Surles slipped away to sing for the Lions at Baird Thursday. . . . liked them so well, they encored them repeatedly. . . . almost exhausted their repertoire, they said. . . . Mrs. O. J. Russell and Wendell Russell accompanied them. . . . Dr. and Mrs. John McKinzie and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd LaRoque, attended the Abilene fair Thursday afternoon and evening.

Little Jimmie Dan Cheshire, of 201 West 12th street, dressed up in his cowboy boots, red suit, tie and white shirts. . . . and with money in his pocket. . . . a fine, manly little chap. . . . and friendly, too. . . . Walking the streets with his dad.

Thunder, which is the loudest common noise, never has been heard unmistakably more than about 20 miles from the flash.

TRUCK, CAR COLLISION
A car and a truck collided, the car only slightly damaged, in a collision this morning on Front street and East street, driven by and group of negroes, struck mobile driven by Thurman. One slightly injured was guilty.

DOMBEY — heroine, the sensational swing dancer.

LESTER — Myrna's close friend.

FEELEY — officer assigned to investigate Ludden murder.

CHAPTER V
Tait and Anne start the country where Myrna hid and Tait reveals the shooting he found with a gun in it.

Tait increased his speed. "Good!" He scanned the darkened outline of hill above them. "I don't see any light. Are you sure?"

"Positive. We'll probably see it again at the next curve in the road."

"I wonder if we ought to go the rest of the way on foot?" Tait mused. "We might frighten her out of the cottage. After all, she doesn't know you and I are out here after her."

Anne nodded. "You won't be able to drive much further, anyhow. We'll come to a fence-line and the rest of the way is along a footpath."

Even as she spoke, the fence loomed ahead, and the road ended without ceremony. Tait turned the ignition switch and the lights. "Can you find the path?" he said in a low voice.

Anne was quietly opening the door of the car. "Yes. But we shuddered involuntarily. "I wonder if I haven't been wrong, getting us out here," Tait said suddenly. "I liked it better in the then—and I think I still am light on it."

should be able to see the light from here. She must have turned it out. I couldn't have been seeing things back there on the road."

Tait nodded grimly, and slid out of the car behind Anne. They started through the blackness. Tait held firmly to Anne's arm to keep her from stumbling, but he had to let himself be guided. Somehow Anne managed to follow the path.

A host of worried thoughts fretted through Bob Tait's head. Nothing but the sheerest sort of desperation, or a mind temporarily unhinged, could have made a girl like Myrna seek this place. And if she were desperate, and that desperation was caused by guilt, then what would keep her from shooting them down as they stole along the path in the darkness? If she had been burning a light, as Anne insisted, and had extinguished it, then she must have seen or heard the car. She must know that the cottage was being sought.

Suddenly Tait held Anne from a further forward step. "This is foolish," he whispered. "There's no telling what that girl may do next. You'd better let her know who you are."

Anne nodded. There in the darkness she called Myrna's name clearly. It echoed and re-echoed. But there was no answer from the cottage shrouded in blackness.

"That's okay," Tait said. "At least she knows you're here. She's probably being cautious, but she won't be trying any fireworks. Let's get going. My hunch is that we've been talking to thin air, and that the light you saw was a firefly. Anyhow, we—"

Tait stopped, clutched Anne's arm. Unmistakably, there was a thrashing in the brush near the shack. Yet Tait was positive that the door had not opened since the dwelling had come into their view. Anne heard it, too, and stood back fearfully against him. Tait reached into his pocket.

clutched the revolver he had found in Myrna's bag. "Myrna Dombey—" he called the words suddenly and clearly. "If that's Myrna Dombey we want to help you. If it isn't, then come on down the path—with your hands in the air."

For a breathless second there was only silence. Then the thrashing started again, wildly this time, and they saw a figure run down the hillside, away from the path. It was a figure in trousers, unmistakably, and yet Tait dared not shoot for fear it might be Myrna.

"I'm—I'm afraid," whispered Anne with a queer catch in her voice. "Let's hurry."

She began running headlong toward the cottage, heedless of unseen danger. The next thing Tait knew she had thrown open the door, stood staring into an even deeper blackness.

"Myrna? Myrna, please. It's Anne."

Tait flashed a light and held it aloft. There in a corner of the room, the flickering light was reflected in two fear-widened eyes. (To Be Continued)

Out He Goes as Rescue Fails

This is what happened when a group of Vulcan, Mich., business men tried to free the Rev. Simon Borowski who has been held a virtual prisoner in his rectory for seven weeks by parishioners who refuse to permit his transfer to a Wisconsin seminary. Shown here sailing through the air after he was hurled from the rectory by the angry parishioners is one of the priest's "liberators." Father Borowski gained a few minutes freedom, but the picket line of parishioners rioted, seized and returned him to the rectory.

Football Attracts Many Automobiles

People formerly looked upon Labor Day as the close of the heavy driving season, but nowadays there are many week-ends highways there are jammed with traffic, following the holiday on which the "Explanation is easy," declared R. W. McCauley, local dealer for The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. "The day is long past when the automobile was a vehicle used only in fair weather. Nowadays motorists start out regardless of weather, reach their destinations and return.

"Big factor in heavy week-end traffic during Fall months is football. Contests between rival schools are being held in hundreds of stadia throughout the land, every Saturday for an eight-week period beginning in late September or early October. Not only alumni of the schools but others who love to watch fast college teams in action, swarm the highways in a seemingly endless stream.

"Important it is to the motorist who finds himself driving along at a good clip in a heavy stream of football traffic that nothing happens to his tires. A blowout under such circumstances can have serious consequences, not only to the motorist himself, but to others who are on the highway.

"Many local motorists won't have this to worry about on their football excursions this year," he continued. "Reason is that they have equipped their cars with Goodyear Life-Guards, the safety device that eliminates all danger of accident following a blowout no matter at what speed."
