NEW SHALLOW OIL STRIKE NEAR PUTNAM Will Perform Duty 'Undeterred, Unafraid'---Dies

MAKES REPLY TO CRITICISM OF ROOSEVELT

Charges Cabinet Members Tried to Discredit Investigation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt's rebuke of the house committee on un-American activities brought from Chairman Dies today the declaration that he would continue to do "his duty undeterred and unafraid."

The Texan took issue with the president, who accused the committee of making no effort to learn the truth about the testimony that Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan had acted treasonably during the sit-down strike last year.

"Under my conception of public duty," Dies said, "it would have been wrong to shield Governor Murphy simply because he was a democrat and a strong friend of the president."

Dies also said that cabinet members aided in "a well-planned campaign of misrepresentation, ridicule, and sarcasm" he claimed was conducted by persons who hoped to discredit the inquiry.

The Texan mentioned the Shirley Temple incident of several weeks ago.

SAYS CALIFORNIA DEMO WAS COMMUNIST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Harper Knowles, chairman of the radical research committee of the California American Legion, testified before the house investigators of un-American activities today that the chairman of the democratic campaign committee in California, John G. Clark, was a communist and that three of the party's nominees for high office had communist connections.

Maddox have been received from the processor and have been shown to the band. Maddox announced that the films would be shown again for the benefit of any who wished to view them and that a date sometime in the early part of next week would be announced.

The band has been summoned for drill at 7:30 tomorrow morning.

Peanut Ass'n Pays Farmers Of County Big Sum

EASTLAND, Oct. 26 (Sp.)—Dick Weekes, manager of the Southwestern Peanut Growers association, headquartered at Eastland, announced Tuesday that by the week-end the cooperative will have paid Eastland county farmers $200,000 for this season's peanuts.

At the same time Weekes announced that through the sponsorship of the Eastland chamber of commerce a warehouse for receipt of peanuts in Eastland will be opened by the latter part of this week.

D. O. Simpson will be manager of the new warehouse, which will be located in the 200 block of West Main street, next to the Hartstill Candy company.

Soldiers in Harness

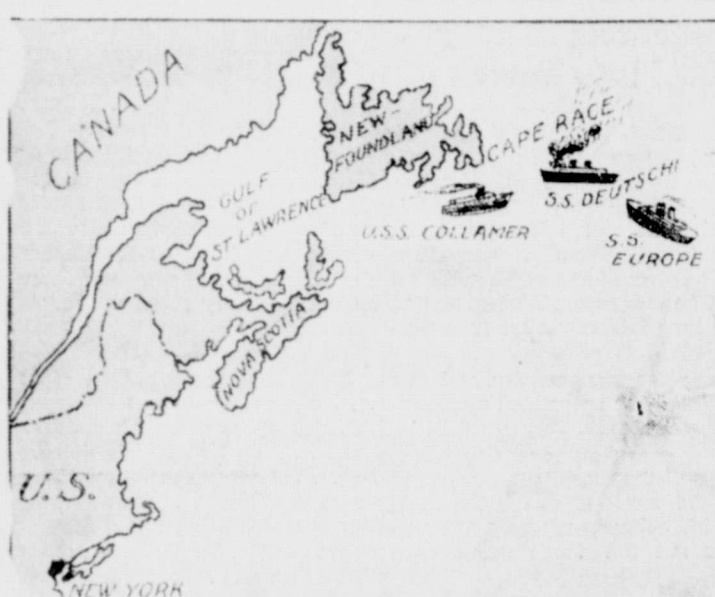

So rough and difficult is the South China country traversed by the Japanese in the speedy conquest of Canton that pirates long have used it as a favorite hide-out. And yet Japanese soldiers averaged 15 miles a day in their march on Canton. The above picture is a striking example of how they combined manpower with horsepower to get equipment and supplies over the mountainous region in their notable 10-day march.

FIRE ON LINER EXTINGUISHED

None Of 981 Passengers Are Injured

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Hamburg-American line announced today that the liner, Deutschland, with fire on board, had been extinguished and the ship was proceeding to New York.

Captain Karl Steincke wirelessed that none of 981 persons aboard were injured.

The Deutschland sent out SOS signals last night when the fire broke out in the number two hold after an unexplained explosion.

West Ward P.-T. A. to Hold Second Meeting

The west ward P.-T. A. will hold its second meeting of the current school year tomorrow at 3:30 at the west ward school, it was announced today.

An interesting program has been arranged for this meeting with Mrs. C. C. Jones as speaker for the afternoon and musical numbers to be given by pupils of the third grade.

Reports on the progress of the carnival will also be given by the committee.

First Baptist Training School Enrollment Big

Enrollment in the First Baptist training school at the church which began Monday night and will continue for five nights closing Friday, has greatly exceeded expectations the Rev. Judson Prince, pastor, announced today.

The second evening of the training course 50 were enrolled in the four classes, an unusual percentage since the school has only 65 officers and teachers.

Four books are being taught in the course. The Rev. H. D. Blair is teaching "The Book We Teach;" Mrs. Judson Prince "Personal Factors in Character Building;" Mrs. C. F. Stephens is teaching a junior departmental book; and the Rev. Mr. Prince is teaching "Outlines of Bible History."

This school is open to all who wish to attend and is not primarily for officers and teachers. The school will begin at 8:45 this evening and everyone is invited; officers and teachers who have not attended are expected to be on hand.

Another inspirational period will be conducted tomorrow.

FIFTH SUNDAY SINGING

The regular fifth-Sunday singing will be held at the Church of God Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Cisco Operators Find Possible Large New Shallow Pool

Opening of a new shallow oil pool of believed large extent was being hailed here today as operators completed the Warren and Kleiner No. 1 Dr. F. E. Clark, two miles southwest of Putnam, for production estimated at 25 to 30 barrels daily from ten feet of a new sand topped yesterday at 737 feet.

The well, brought in in strictly wildcat territory, is located in the southwest quarter of Section 304 of Block 5, SPRR survey, on the Clark Hereford ranch. It was drilled by L. A. Warren and Charles J. Kleiner, Cisco operators.

The well was carried through the oil formation in open hole and today pipe was being run to be cemented and complete. There is no gas and the well will be produced on pump. Production is from nine feet of saturated sand.

Operators believe that the well is on the edge of a pool of considerable extent and that other wells will run into better production. The distinctly wildcat nature of the operations does not make it possible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the potentialities of the new play, but the fact that three-quarters of a mile south of the producer two previous wells found showings in the same horizon too small to be profitable is taken to indicate that the sand is extensive.

Oil is of medium gravity. Several other wells will be drilled but no locations have been announced. The new find is expected to set off considerable activity in the area, particularly since the shallow character of the production is well suited to independent operator activities.

Remaining Parts Of PTA Program Being Arranged

With arrangements for three features of the P.-T. A. carnival, to begin at 8:30 Saturday morning, already completed, plans were going forward today for the remaining events on the program.

The program thus far includes a "bake sale" at 8:30 at Norvell and Miller grocery store followed by the sale of coffee, doughnuts, candy, and chili buns at 11:30 in the building adjoining the Dean Drug store.

Final feature of the carnival at present will be a program to begin at 7:45 at the city hall consisting of two one-act plays and several musical numbers.

The first one-act play, to be given by the faculty of grammar school, is entitled "Hagin' Out the Wash," while the second, to be staged by students of the high seventh grade, is called "In the Doctor's Office."

Members of the cast of the play "In the Doctor's Office" are as follows: Inez McCantles, nurse; Jackie Maybaw, old maid; J. J. Robertson, duke; Jeffie Jean Robertson, negro nursemaid; Jimmie Mae Nance, rich patient; Johnnie Jo Warren, country woman; Garland Lassater, rheumatic patient; Mattie Vick Johnson, town gossip; and Glenn Doggett, husband of town gossip.

The funds from this carnival are to be used to benefit the grammar school library and the junior band, this year's projects of the grammar school P.-T. A.

Loboes Given Good Chance For Victory

When the Loboes meet the Eastland Mavericks at Eastland 3 o'clock Friday they will be trying for their first victory in something like four years. During this period the Loboes have not gained a single win over the Mavericks and on many occasions have been on the uncomfortable end of large scores.

This year it seems, however, that the Loboes may do the trick. The 1938 Cisco grid machine seems to be smoother, more powerful, and of general better quality than in many a year, while the Maverick eleven seems to be one of the weaker Eastland teams. The game means a lot to the boys and they seem determined to win this one at any cost.

In addition to the loss of Latch, Tipton, and Preston, who are fairly certain not to play, a few more men may not see action against the Mavericks. Report cards were handed out today and although nothing definite is known, several boys are perilously near the ineligibility line.

Coach Petty said today's drill would be spent on offensive work with much time spent in running plays against a five-man line, which Eastland used to such good advantage in last year's 6-0 victory.

Thus far no injuries have been reported with the exception of the three men already mentioned. The team has looked good in drills but the coaches have had their hands full fighting over-confidence which seems to be threatening the Loboes' fine spirit of the last few games.

Members of the Midget traveling squad are as follows: J. M. Eady, Lasater, Doggett, Pollard, Ingram, C. Eady, Phillips, Shirley, Davis, Mosely, Decker, Patterson, Tompkins, Holder, Akers, Bailey, Watkins, Garrett, Schwartz, Kent, and Coates.

Hankow Is Completely Occupied By Japanese

SHANGHAI, Oct. 26 (AP)—Dispatches tonight reported that the Japanese army and navy had completed occupation of Hankow and its sister cities, of Wuchang and Hanyang.

Dispatches from Chungking said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was determined to conduct a prolonged resistance against the Japanese.

Health Talk Given At Lions Meeting

Lion D. G. Streater presented Dr. F. E. Clark today in a talk on syphilis before members of the Lions club and invited guests, who on account of their positions in school activities, were expected to be interested, and whose cooperation might be depended upon to assist in stamping out the evil in Cisco.

Dr. Clark told of the prevalence of the disease over the country, and discussed at length how measures could be taken to detect and stamp out the disease. Many questions were answered by the speaker.

Miss Hazel Lewis, county superintendent of housekeeping aid, preceded Dr. Clark in a discussion of her work which she is about to begin in Cisco for training women in economic and nursing methods. This is a form of WPA relief, which is already in operation in Ranger and Eastland in this county.

Miss Lewis was asking for sponsorship from the Lions.

Lion E. L. Smith announced that he had been transferred from his present work with the C. & N. E. railroad to the main office in Dallas. He later announced that his transfer would take place immediately and expressed his regret.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Let us follow after the things that make for peace. For he that in these things serveth Christ, is acceptable to God, and approved of men.—Rom. xiv, 18, 19

Believe in God; trust God by obedience to the uttermost; trust Him for a way when there is no way; for light when there is no light; for joy when there is only sorrow; for life when you are in the midst of death; then you will find at last that faith is not only righteousness, but life and joy and peace.—T. The Same Thing in a New Guise

SECRETARY WALLACE'S proposal for a two-price system for disposing of farm surpluses appears well on paper but we fail to see in the plan anything fundamentally different from the relief programs already in effect. The plan, according to its outline, would fix one price for those able to pay and a lower price for those who cannot pay as much. The government would purchase the farmer's surpluses, process them and sell them to needy Americans at rates lower than citizens able to pay regular prices could obtain them. Isn't the proposed effect of such a plan exactly what is being attempted under different guises now? Stripped of its leaves it is nothing more than a plan for paying the farmer for indigestible surpluses and distributing these surpluses among the needy on a cost-minus basis. This is exactly what the government has been attempting to do in the past and is attempting to do now through its various AAA programs and its more numerous schemes of direct and indirect relief. It makes no difference to the farmer whether the government buys part of his crop outright, or pays him a parity or equalization fee on his output. One is simply six, the other half a dozen. It makes no difference to the needy whether the government gives him a certain percentage of the commodities he needs to sustain life or whether it gives him the money to buy what he needs on a budget based on current prices. And so far as the cost to the government is concerned there is no difference. All roads lead to the same end.

As a relief program the scheme may work as well or better than present relief programs. But if Mr. Wallace is proposing it as a solution to the present state of congested domestic economy, we find some serious objections. As such a solution it is obviously planned economy, expected to operate in a society of free and competitive enterprise and unlimited choice. It would necessarily mean price fixing and consumer classification. It would mean two levels of economy, one in which the government is the middleman, the other in which the usual distributive machinery of our private domestic economy operates. To keep these two systems separate side by side and functioning would demand in the final analysis the exercise of government powers amounting to martial law.

For any such a program, as we see it, is simply a step toward a more rigid control of production and distribution. To control production successfully consumption must be controlled. And control of consumption means that the right of every individual's choice to what he shall purchase for his use shall be supplanted by authoritarian fiat, just as has been done in Germany and other totalitarian countries.

Mounting Costs of Government

FIGURES relating to state tax collections recently pointed out by Omar Burkett, representative-nominate from the Callahan and Eastland county florial district, should induce sober thought concerning the high price we are paying for government and what we are getting for what we pay. Make no mistake, every person pays. Burkett reveals that the state collected $214,600,000 in taxes for 1937. That is a staggering sum. It does not, however, include local and county taxes. It includes only the revenues which went into state coffers.

Of the $214,600,000, $109,000,000 was paid by the oil industry, a percentage of 51.2. Of this 109 millions $70,000,000 was paid in direct taxes and $39,000,000 in gasoline taxes.

The question arises, what services are the people of Texas receiving in return for this huge sum? In spite of the fact that state government is more costly than at any time in history more and more of the powers and duties that should repose in the state and local governments are being usurped by Washington where the cost of federal government is mounting at an even more terrific pace. What will be the end of such a trend? That should be all too plain. And what is the remedy? That also should be plain.

Writer Gives Formula For Beating Yanks

By DILLON GRAHAM
AP Feature Service Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 26 — After days of serious cogitation (ah, hal bragging again, eh?), I've hit upon a solution to curb the Yankee menace.

The Yanks are a menace, because—

(A) Col. Jack Ruppert won't break up his unbeatables. Alas, he even intends to strengthen them.

(B) The other clubs can't or won't build up to New York power.

(C) This causes, as we say in the horse set, a stalemate—naturally, in favor of the Yanks.

So to make things even I make a suggestion to the kindly Colonel Ruppert. He is kind. He returns his aged brewery percherons to an upstate farm and lets them sip beer, er, that is, nip grass, for the remainder of their earthly days. I suggest he arrange a sort of handicap for his weak and bewildered rivals.

How It Works

The Cleveland Indians, the Boston Red Sox and the Detroit Tigers, under this benevolent program, would be granted four outs and a base on balls every inning.

As a further concession to Washington and Chicago, the Bronx Bombers would commit one wild pitch each game, said erratic throw to be perpetrated whenever the Senators or White Sox demanded.

And as for Philadelphia and St. Louis, in addition to the other grants, the Yanks should allow them to toss out and replay any inning they selected. For instance, the Yanks often slug their runs across in clusters. The A's and Browns could elect to overlook, forget and disregard any particular inning they chose. (Of course, there is the possibility that the re-takes would be even more disastrous, but generosity cannot go on forever.)

Other Graham Ideas

Other suggestions that might be looked upon with great favor by the underdogs are—

(1) New York's opposition would score automatically from third base in Sunday games whenever the party of the second part advanced into such rarely-explored territory.

(2) The second game of double-headers would be called after five (5) innings. (Tide would reduce by almost 50 per cent the Yankees' period of attack.)

(3) As a special concession to home town crowds on such holidays as the Fourth of July, Labor Day, and Mother's Day (isn't that a sweet thought?) the Yanks would be required to become victims of double plays, whenever timely, in the third, sixth, and ninth innings.

(4) The Yankees should be penalized one run for any purposeful body blocks at second base intended to break up possible double plays at first.

And as for their National league rivals in World Series competitions, the Yankees should grant them a head start of two games.

This might serve to bring the odds on the Yankees down to as low as 2-1.

Hallowe'en

A Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 — As he approaches the end of the sixth year since he first was elected, President Roosevelt has:

The biggest and fastest-growing navy.

The biggest national debt.

The biggest social security and relief agencies.

The biggest cabinet (You have to include Harry Hopkins, ex-officio, these days).

The biggest federal payroll (except possibility for the wartime peak).

More and deeper face wrinkles.

The last come from all the business that produced the rest. It is no snap job being president in a time when nations are pitching nickels to see which goes to war first. Pucker-wrinkles, the kind gained from compressing the lips, seemed deeper about the president's mouth last time we saw him than even a few months ago. He's been easing up these last few days since the Czech war scare, taking time out at Hyde Park whenever possible.

Landlords Operate With Program

Leases on eight farms in county have been signed by landlords who are renting to farm security administrators, Eastland county supervisor said today. Four contracts were on the farm lease forms preferred by the supervisors. The lease does not necessitate change in customary rental payments," he commented, "but make possible a variety of plans for improvements on the property, and for the use of specialized crops on the property. The lease has been established, and the contract over a year if it is agreeable to both parties. Storage space for feed is an example of what can be provided for under the lease. The lease is of farms on most tenant land, and is not available to any person living on the land. A glance at the lease and other buildings show that no place is provided for the storage of such things as cans, boxes, and other things. The lease is not a "flexible lease" because its provisions can be adjusted to cover a variety of agreements, the supervisor pointed out.

TCU and Baylor To Meet in Main Conference Bout

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26—In the most important game on the southwest conference's front, Baylor university's Golden Bears come here Saturday to play Texas Christian university's undefeated and undefeated Horned Frogs. A near capacity crowd is expected. The Frogs, fresh from an inter-sectional victory over Marquette and with two conference scalps already under their belts, are primed for the Bears. T. C. U. suffered no injuries from the Marquette scrap and arrived home Monday morning in fine shape. Coach Dutch Meyer of the Frogs started his boys to work immediately in preparation for the game, which now looms strongly as one of the season's most crucial contests. Pass defense will be stressed all week as it's no secret that Saturday is a good day for Baylor's Billy Patterson will fill the team with passes. Right now it's a good bet that the Frogs will try a good bit of running against the Bears, although before the game is over they will have probably given the Bears a mixture of both. Coach Meyer believes that his big Purple line will open up enough holes for the Christian backs to gain plenty of yardage through, but if his ground game bogs down he can always give the word and little Davey O'Brien and mates will take to the air. However, reports have it that the Bears forward wall took a good bit of slamming around from the vicious charges of a big Texas Aggie eleven last week and that it is in bad shape. If so, the Frogs may stay on the ground much of the time Saturday.

Author Is Released From Ellis Island

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—John Strachey, British Leftist author and lecturer, was released from Ellis Island Tuesday, although he lost a court action for his freedom under a writ of habeas corpus.

Federal Judge Edward A. Conger, dismissing the writ obtained by Strachey's lawyers, placed the author under $500 bond and an injunction to deliver no lectures, but said he could leave Ellis Island, where he has been detained since he came to this country with an invalidated passport visa two weeks ago.

The peculiar twist of developments, which gave Strachey his liberty when his writ was dismissed, was due to the fact that he gave notice of intention to appeal from the order barring him from the United States. The bond was posted pending the appeal.

Floyd Hamilton Gets Another Five Years

MONTAGUE, Oct. 26 (AP)—Another five years Tuesday was added to Outlaw Floyd Hamilton's mounting string of penitentiary sentences by a jury which found him guilty of theft March 8 of a pickup truck from the home of Paul Donald, Bowie attorney. Hamilton's partner, Ted Walters, will go to trial Wednesday charged with the same theft.

NON-GAME BIRDS NEED RIGID PROTECTION

The game birds of Texas usually receive the most attention because they are the ones that the hunter gets a chance to take during an open season. These birds compared to the non-game birds are by far the less numerous. The non-game birds are the ones that are the most useful to us, and especially useful to the farmer in his fight against insects. The Bob-white quail is classed as a game bird, but is also a good fighter against insects.

Let us look at a few of the non-game birds that we have in this section. Their beauty and value cannot be bought at any price. Their usefulness is seldom seen until they are gone from us. Everyone should do his part in protecting these birds and preventing the killing of them by small boys with their "nigger" shooters, air rifles and other small bore rifles.

The mocking bird is probably the most beautiful song bird that we have in Texas. Every one knows this bird on sight, and who does not love to hear the cheerful notes produced by this beautiful bird? Surely they do deserve all the protection that we can give them. However they do some damage to the berry patches but their control of insects in these patches more than pays for the few berries that they eat. I have been told by people from the northern states that they would give anything in the world, if they could get the mocking bird to stay up there in these northern states. There are some who do not know how to appreciate them until we have to do without them and cannot hear their cheerful notes. There are probably many who did not know that the thirty-sixth legislature in 1919 officially recognized the Texas state bird to be the mocking bird.

Other non-game birds that we have in this section are most useful to the cotton farmer in his fight against the cotton boll weevil and other insects and are most beautiful to look at. Surely, every land owner would do all that he could to get these birds to remain on his land. These birds are: plover, killdeer, red-headed woodpecker, flicker, night hawk, chimney swift, scissor-tailed flycatcher (commonly known as scissor-tail), king bird, cow bird, meadow lark, lark sparrows, English sparrows, (some think this bird totally useless), field sparrows, purple martin, blue bird, mocking bird, yellow warbler, cliff swallow, winter wrens, buntings, of several species, red-winged black bird, blue jay, chipping sparrow, white-throated sparrow, cardinals, (red birds), brown thrasher, brewer's black bird and bullock's oriole.

There are more than 66 of these non-game birds listed as enemies to the cotton boll weevil, but space does not permit the naming of them all. I suggest that you write to the United States Department of Agriculture and ask for bulletin No. 755 for more information on these valuable birds.

One may help increase these birds by killing all wild house cats.

Fort Sam Houston 'Gold Rush' Ends

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The "gold rush" around Fort Sam Houston was over Tuesday.

Three men from Taylor, armed with spades and picks, began digging Oct. 12 for gold bricks on the banks of Salado Creek. They had permission from the Treasury Department to work 72 hours for the precious metal, but the trio packed up their tools after working 56 1/2 hours.

Only the replaced mud and bare grass spot marked the "diggings"—with no findings—where the men had toiled.

"I drove 50 MILES to fill up at this STATION"

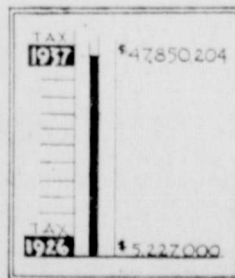

Motorists prefer the cleanliness, the courtesy, the friendliness of Humble Service Stations; that's why so many Texas motorists have the Humble habit — they look for the Humble sign before they stop. We know this because they tell us so; these are quotations from Humble service check cards:

Be back real soon . . . It is certainly worthwhile to wait for a Humble station . . . We stopped only at Humble stations . . . Made us a steady customer . . . My future business assured . . . From now on I will always stop at a Humble station . . . You can be assured of my patronage . . . Stimulated my party to make all our gasoline purchases at Humble stations . . . This is my first visit to a Humble station but it will not be my last.

See for yourself why so many Texans have the Humble habit. Next time — stop for service where you see the Humble sign.

Do you know — that the Texas gasoline tax bill increased from $5,227,000 in 1926 to $47,850,204 in 1937? Gasoline is cheap, only the tax is high.

CHAPTER XXI

Archie Mackey, the gossip columnist, retuned and merry, greeted Bob Tait cheerfully. "Well, well, Mr. Tait—and where's the picture box tonight?"

Tait smiled at the other's infectious good humor, a good humor which blossomed out at just before midnight and lasted until dawn. "I'm not working tonight, Archie. Are you? Why you night spot columnist it's hard to tell."

Mackey signed solemnly. "That's what everybody says. You don't really work for a living, they all say. You just play and play—and get paid for it! That's what everybody says, and now you say it." The gossip writer motioned to an empty chair. "Sit down and I'll buy you a drink."

"Thanks," Tait said. "Tonight I'll make it for water."

Archie Mackey shrugged. "If you insist. But in the Golden Bowl of the Pacific-Plaza ice water costs almost as much as a highball. But if you insist..." Mackey signaled a waiter. Then, carefully

"She must have considered Lud Dombey a fine young man." Mackey shook his head. "Oh, no, Lud Dombey never gave her what she really wanted."

"What was that?"
"A spot in his hand. Nelda Starr wanted to be a swing singer, featured in Lud Dombey's Swingsters."

Tait was silent a moment. "Well..." he said slowly. "Progress isn't made in a straight line. She might make it yet."

As he spoke, "Torchy" Stephens brought down his hat in a wide arc and the band lapsed into a sudden silence which left the "whackies" gasping in their erratic tracks. Suddenly Tait saw Nelda Starr, alone, walking toward their table. He got to his feet with the columnist. He could not help staring at the girl. She was unbelievably young—hardly more than 19 to 20—and yet there was a sophistication about her that betrayed many a night in spots like the Golden Bowl.

"How are you?" Archie Mackey said. "Where's your handsome partner?"
Nelda Starr shrugged and the slight gesture disposed of the dark man with whom she had been dancing. "Archie—please let me have a Martini."

"Of course, Miss Starr, this is a very old friend of mine. Bob Tait."

As he acknowledged the introduction and held the Starr girl's chair out from the table, Tait caught that faint perfume. There was not the slightest question but that it was the same scent he had detected in the Millbay district. And he was certain that this was the girl he had seen leaving the Claremont Apartments.

She regarded him with frank interest across the table. "Tell me, aren't you the new manager of The Swingsters?"

"Only temporarily," Tait said. "You see, managing a swing band isn't really in my line. I'm doing it only until—until Mrs. Dombey can find someone else."

"It's a lovely band," said Nelda Starr dreamily. "A lovely band than 19 to 20—and yet there was a sophistication about her that betrayed many a night in spots like the Golden Bowl."

Tait hoped that he hadn't looked startled at the question. "I imagine that in deference to Dombey he's giving it a rest. You like the piece?"

Nida closed her eyes. "It was wonderful," she said. "When Lud got into the groove on that song it was like nothing human."

Watching her there, with her eyes closed, her head tilted slightly toward the ceiling, Tait heard her words re-echo in his brain. It was like nothing human.

She Wants Love Before Riches

Love and happiness come before riches in the plans of 26-year-old Janet White, above, who sticks to her $300-a-week job in a Rochester, N. Y., department store, demonstrating sewing machines in preference to marrying Leonard Marler, 35, son of Sir Herbert Marler, Canadian minister to the United States. Miss White publicly renounced her love for Leonard, who now is suing his father for $300,000, charging illegal confinement in a mental hospital.

Green refused. He proposed instead that only the old CIO unions be reconstituted at once. That would assure Green a majority and leave Lewis' fledgling industrial unions to the mercies of the old line crafts. Lewis would not accept.

Finds Chickens Gang Up and Kill the Rats

There are dozens of points of conflict. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (CIO) is in the men's clothing field now occupied by the United Garment Workers of America (AFL).

Workers Want Peace

The newly chartered AFL seafarers union is a bitter rival of the National Maritime union (CIO). Several AFL crafts claim jurisdiction in the oil and refinery industry where CIO insists on supremacy.

Any joint commission such as suggested by Secretary of Labor Perkins would have many conflicts like that to settle.

To more than one astute observer, the thing looks insoluble, but there is a real peace ferment arising from the ranks of the workers themselves.

And lately, labor leaders have expressed real alarm over pending proposals for state and federal legislation to outlaw jurisdictional strikes and otherwise restrain union organizations. It is conceivable that together these influences might generate enough heat to bring about a welding.

ALL YOUR CURIOSITY satisfied by Your Mileage Merchant... Ask him exactly how you're sure of fast winter starting and extreme oil economy by changing now to WINTER OIL-PLATING

Is OIL-PLATING just a different name? ...No. OIL-PLATING is what Conoco Germ Processed oil does! The out-and-out difference is this: OIL-PLATING will stay firmly attached—plated—clear to the topmost point in your engine, while any plain mineral oil drains clear down the crankcase at every stop.

Exactly where is your gain? Well, in starting up again—next day or next month—the coldest OIL-PLATED engine is always oiled in advance...pre-lubricated before any oil down in the crankcase could ever stir. OIL-PLATING thus keeps every engine part constantly slippery. The starter speeds...the battery lives and so does the engine, free of fierce starting friction.

But is there any oil saving? Why?... Because less engine wear puts more miles between quarts. And OIL-PLATING itself never passes out during the use of Germ Processed oil. Only the Germ Process, patented, creates OIL-PLATING, the sensible reason for you to switch to Your Mileage Merchant today.

Build Home for 200-Inch Telescope

Sometime next year or possibly the year after man will perform his most fantastic feat. He will peer back in time and view a nebula as it was a billion years ago. The view will be done with photographic plates at the receiving end of the world's largest camera, the new 200-inch telescope now being constructed by the California Institute of Technology. The Hill they planned will have come 5 sextillion miles and have been eroded one-third of the estimated life of our planet. The giant telescope will throw new light on Einstein's theory of curved space, distribution of matter in space and the expanding universe, thereby increasing man's knowledge of the cosmic structure. On remote Mt. Palomar, 130 miles southeast of Los Angeles, a huge observatory is nearing completion. Negotiating primitive, brush-covered cattle roads eroded by storms and land slides, Ford V-8 trucks carried initial supplies to the 6100-foot summit, then hauled up material for concrete work and now are aiding in construction of a modern highway to the top. Ford V-8 passenger cars carry scientists and construction officials between the summit and Pasadena.
