Another Lehman Climbing Higher?

While his brother, Gov. Herbert Lehman, campaigns for re-election in New York state, Judge Irving Lehman, above, continues on the job as a justice of the New York State Supreme Court. There have been reports out of New York that Judge Lehman might be named to fill the U. S. Supreme Court vacancy left by the death of Justice Benjamin Cardozo.

EASTLAND TO PLAY MIDGETS

Game to Be at Chesley Field Friday

With no Lobo football game scheduled this week, local grid interest has shifted to the game at Chesley Field Friday between the Cisco grammar school Midgets and the Eastland Longhorns, grammar eleven of that city. The game is to be at 4 o'clock and admission is 10 cents. The Midgets lost their first game of the season last week when they were downed 13-6 by a much larger Brownwood junior high school eleven, although outplaying their heavier opponents most of the way. With the exception of that loss and a tie with the Moran Pups, which they avenged by a 20-6 victory later, the Midget record is unblemished.

The Eastland eleven is rated one of the best in this section and premises to put up a strong battle. Recently the Longhorns defeated the Gorman grammar eleven, one of the better teams of this section. Local interest has been high and a good crowd is expected. Funds will be used for athletic purposes.

District Laymen's Fall Banquet to Be at 7 o'Clock

Officials in charge of arrangements for the District Laymen's annual Methodist fall banquet, to be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the Methodist church, urged all who possibly can to attend.

Chief speaker at the banquet will be Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Fort Worth. The banquet is expected to be one of the most outstanding of its type in this section. From 400 to 400 people are expected from the numerous towns of this district.

Weather

West Texas—Fair tonight and Wednesday; cooler in the north Wednesday.
East Texas—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; cooler in the northwest Wednesday afternoon or night.

KENAMER IN HEARING ON SANITY TODAY

Unofficial Parole Board Grants Parole If Sane

McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 1 (AP)—Phil Kenamer, convicted Tulsa "society gang" slayer, was examined today by the state sanity board in McAlester penitentiary in a hearing to determine whether he shall receive six months parole.

The state's unofficial parole board yesterday recommended a parole conditional upon a sanity hearing after Federal Judge Franklin Kenamer urged a parole for his son so he might accompany a sick mother to Arizona.

Finals In City Golf Tournament Played Sunday

Climaxing the annual city golf tournament sponsored by the Cisco Country club which has been in progress during the past two weeks, finals in three of the four divisions were played Sunday only the first flight consolation finals remaining.

Winner in the first flight was I. J. Henson who defeated Chuck Van Horn, medalist with a 75, 3-2 in a close match.

Gus Nix won the second flight by defeating K. N. Greer one up on 20, in perhaps the hardest-fought and closest match of the tournament.

In the second flight consolation Rice Foreman emerged victor by defeating F. B. Altman in the finals.

Only match remaining to be played was the final one between W. R. Miller, who defeated H. V. McCorkle 4-2, and H. G. Foy.

Winners are to receive prizes of golf equipment.

Pension Payments of County Increase

EASTLAND, Nov. 1—An increase in Eastland county pension payments during November was noted Monday in the list filed by the Old Age Assistance commission in the office of County Clerk R. V. Galloway.

October pension payments, totaling $12,736, went to 868 persons. In September 855 checks were issued to Eastland county residents, totaling $12,634.

Has 3,000 Great Nieces, Nephews

GRACEVILLE, Fla., Nov. 1 (AP) Wiley Williams says he has more than 3,000 living nieces, nephews, great, great, great-great nieces and nephews.

Williams, aged 69, is the youngest son of the Pioneer Andrew Elton Williams, who reared a family of 22 children. Each of the 22 children—save one who was killed by lightning—had families of eight to 18 children.

Eastland Warehouse Still Taking Peanuts

EASTLAND, Nov. 1—H. J. Tanner, secretary-manager of the Eastland chamber of commerce, announced Monday that the Southwestern Peanut Growers association warehouse at Eastland is still accepting peanuts.

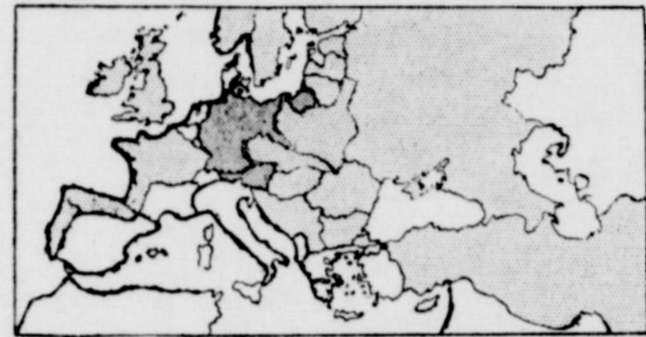

Tanner stated that buying will probably continue until 500 tons have been purchased. There is ample storage space, he added.

Germany Maps 10-Year Plan for European Conquest

Ein Volk, ein Reich, ein Führer!

Groß-Deutschland 1938-1948

Deutschland, Deutschland über alles!

Germany's "10-year plan," projecting a program of Nazi-fascist expansion and conquest that by 1948 would place most of Europe and parts of the Near East under the swastika, with Italy sharing in the spoils, is revealed in the above map, circulated in Austria a few hours after the Munich peace pact. Top row illustrates the 1938-39 expansion program, with the first two steps, absorption of Austria and Czechoslovakia accomplished, and the third, absorption of Hungary, scheduled for 1939. Second row shows Poland included in the Nazi orbit late in 1939 and the swallowing of Yugoslavia, Rumania, and Bulgaria in 1940. Third row, the drive east and west in 1941, year of the big war, when German armies smash through Poland and Rumania, seizing all European Russia south of Moscow to the Caspian sea, and at the same time sweep over Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and northern France. Large map at the bottom envisages Europe in 1948 completely dominated by the Rome-Berlin axis. Germany (dark shading) has taken over the British Isles and Ireland, southern Norway and Sweden and wiped out the Turkish nation, occupying Istanbul and Persia (light shading). Italy, represented by the white, holds all of Spain except the northwest coast which goes to Germany. Italy also gets a great chunk of southeastern France, Palestine, Albania, Greece, and the entire North African coast. This map distributed by Nazi propaganda agents concurrently with the occupation of Czechoslovakia, came into French possession and eventually to New York. The legend across the top reads: "One people, one state, one leader." Across the bottom: "Germany, Germany over all."

Attorney-General's Assistant Is Killed

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Marvin Trevathan, 30, assistant attorney-general, was dead, and Miss Lydia McCutcheon, employee in the attorney-general's office, was painfully injured in an automobile accident here today.

Trevathan, formerly of Lufkin, died soon after he was taken to the hospital, police reported. Miss McCutcheon was treated for a fractured arm and severe cuts and bruises.

The police at the traffic bureau said Trevathan's automobile collided with the trailer-truck driven by Ernest Holb, Cotulla.

'Family Men' Can't Buy Liquor Here

CARROLLTON, Ky., Nov. 1 (AP) Tavern keepers in and near Carrollton, were given a list of 55 persons and warned by County Judge William G. Reed against selling them liquor.

"They spend their money needed to support their families," the judge explained.

Newspapers Say Wage-Hour Act to Curtail Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Elmer Andrews, wage-hour administrator, told newspaper executives today he was carefully studying their contention that the new maximum hour requirements would curtail newspaper service to the public.

Daily papers definitely come under the act's provision he said in a letter to Elisha Hanson, attorney for the American Newspaper Publishers association.

PROGRAM IN AUDITORIUM

The district banquet of the First Methodist church will be held tonight at the church and Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will be the principal speaker. Following the banquet the program will be held in the church auditorium.

PATROLMEN IN HUNT FOR DESPERADO

Scour Woods for Charley Chapman, Believed Dead

PHILADELPHIA, Miss., Nov. 1 (AP)—Highway patrolmen and other officers searched wooded areas near here today for Charley Chapman, escaped bank robber. Federal Bureau of Investigation men describe as one of the Southwest's most desperate lawbreakers.

Chapman, 42, who before turning outlaw was a successful Eldorado, Arkansas, contractor who escaped Louisiana, Arkansas, and Texas prisons, was surrounded by highway patrolmen here last night. He darted into the woodland when officers opened fire, returning four shots.

Murphy Roden of the Louisiana state police said he believed Chapman was dead in the woods. Roden said Chapman's companion, believed to be Dave Gates, midwestern bank bandit, was captured.

Government-Utilities Peace 'Heartening'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Clarence Grosbeck, chairman of the Electric Bond and Share corporation, said after a half-hour white house conference today that the "reapprochement between the government and utilities is most heartening and its implications are of far-reaching national significance."

He said he told the president that all his companies had "already complied with the wage-hour bill."

Polish-Czech Agreement Is Reached Today

PRAGUE, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Czechoslovakia-Polish frontier dispute ended today by an exchange of notes between Foreign Minister Chvalkovsky and Casimir Papez, Polish minister to Prague.

Official Polish circles declared the accord excluded the possibility of a plebiscite in Frydek, disputed area near the regions of Teschen and Frystat, now occupied by Polish troops.

Dewey Says Will Not Quit Governorship

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Republican gubernatorial nominee Thomas Dewey today declared he would "certainly" serve his full four-year term if elected governor of New York.

Manhattan's district attorney made the declaration at a press conference answering reported democratic statements that he would seek the presidency in 1940 if successful in the gubernatorial race.

Hen Is Affected by Football Season

SAYBROOK, Ill., Nov. 1 (AP)—The football season affected one of William Hildreth's hens. She laid an egg shaped like a football that bears ridges resembling the stitching and lacing of a pigskin.

STRIKE ENDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Ratification of a "basis of settlement by employers and unions to-day ended San Francisco's 56-day strike against 35 leading retail stores.

CHAMBERLAIN WILL MOTION FOR DEBATE

Will Make Move Before House of Commons Tomorrow

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Premier Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons today that he intended to bring the Anglo-Italian accord of April 16 into force as "soon as possible."

Chamberlain, speaking to the house assembled for a four-day session, said he would offer a motion for debate tomorrow to the effect "the house welcomes the intention of the government to bring the Anglo-Italian agreement into force."

The Rome accord was designed to provide comprehensive settlement of all conflicts of the British-Italian interests in the Mediterranean, Africa, the Near East, and Spain and also provided for British recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia and complete Italian withdrawal from Spain after civil war.

Report Damage Halloween Light

After checking up on damage usually resultant from the annual bug-a-boo of local authorities, Hallowe'en, officers said the damage wrought was less than many years and expressed their thanks to the citizenry for the splendid cooperation given them.

Chief of Police M. L. Perdue said this had been one of the noisiest Hallowe'ens in some years but emphasized the fact that there had been little or no vandalism and said that as yet he had received no reports of any property more seriously damaged than "soaped" windows, etc.

West Ward PTA Carnival Is Big Success

Announcing that their carnival held last night had been very successful in raising funds to finance the coming year's work, officials of the west ward P-T-A wished today to thank the numerous business men and merchants for their aid in the campaign, which would have been impossible without their help.

Stating that the parents, many of whom worked in the campaign in one capacity or another, will receive their thanks in benefits to their children, P-T-A officials at the same time expressed appreciation for the aid of the following individuals, firms, and establishments in addition to those mentioned Sunday: West Texas Utilities company, P. G. Berry of Cisco Amusement company, N. C. Packer of the Admiration Coffee company, Estes Radio Shop, Brown Candy and Cracker company, Laguna Coffee Shop, and the Hickok Gas company.

Three New 4-H Clubs Organized in County

EASTLAND, Nov. 1—Total of 117 boys have enrolled for 4-H club work the coming year, according to extension officials.

In addition to the 10 clubs last year, three additional are to be organized. New clubs will be at Carbon, Ranger and Romney. Old clubs are at Alameda, Lone Cedar, Gorman, New Hope, Okra Morton Valley, Flatwood, Kokomo and Desdemona.

The 117-enrollment figure represents an increase of 35 over the figure for this time last year.

Peanut Warehouse Purchases Reach 190 Tons Today

Beginning actual purchasing last week, the bonded warehouse of the Southwestern Peanut Growers association located in Cisco by today had purchased 190 tons of this section's fine crop.

Officials said purchasing would continue for perhaps another month. The warehouse is bonded up to 1,000 tons and will accept peanuts up to that amount if they are offered.

This warehouse, located in part of the Foxworth grocery building which has been sub-leased for the purpose, is one of a number established throughout this area by the Southwestern Peanut Growers association.

Prices paid for the peanuts are "minimum" quotas of the association.

The peanuts are being paid for in full at the time they are delivered with drafts issued for the purpose.

Auxiliary Charter Will Close Nov. 5

Mrs. K. K. White, president of the local post of the ladies auxiliary announced today that the charter which has remained open for the past 60 days will close November 5.

All of those who wish to become charter members may do so by joining at the regular meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m. This meeting, to be held in the V. F. W. hall on the third floor of Judia building, will be the last opportunity to become a charter member since no others are scheduled before the charter closes.

Mrs. White urged that all members be present at this meeting since plans for the coming year will be outlined.

Racial Origins Must Be Forgotten in America

If Americans were shocked and saddened by the dissection of Czechoslovakia, they ought to be almighty careful not to let the principle on which that dissection was based be established in their own land.

The principle is simple. It is that the "race" are both permanent and all-ant; that a man is, for all time, what his ancestors were, no matter where he may live, and that no right of claim of economics can prevail over that racial tie.

That is about as dangerous a piece of dynamite as could well be introduced into American life. For if there is one spot on earth where the whole structure of society rests on the exact opposite of that theory, the United States is it.

So it is extremely discouraging to read of the little brush which Gov. Lehman of New York has been having with the Ukrainians of that state.

The Ukrainian-American Democratic club recently bolted the state ticket—on the ground that although the Ukrainians cast 125,000 votes in New York elections, only five persons of Ukrainian extraction hold political office. The president of the organization declared that in addition to patronage his people want representation in party councils in proportion to their voting strength.

Now it is no great jump from that position to the position of the Sudeten Germans in Mr. Benes's Czechoslovakia. The original complaint of the Sudetens—that they were not given state offices in proportion to their strength—is almost precisely like this complaint. And although it is a little hard to imagine Messrs. Hitler and Chamberlain hot-footing it across the Atlantic to see that the downtrodden Ukrainians get justice from brutal Uncle Sam, the parallel is an ominous thing just the same.

That insistence on the importance of racial origins wrecked Czechoslovakia. It could wreck America just as neatly, if it were carried far enough. And before it is carried any further, all who believe that the unity of the nation is worth saving ought to express themselves in unmistakable terms.

We have in America people from every nation on earth. The only possible way for us even to come close to order and progress is to insist that our diverse racial origins are of no importance whatever. They may have a sentimental meaning, to be sure—but absolutely nothing beyond that.

That is a lesson that we thought we had learned a century ago. Apparently it needs to be learned again. For this emphasis on the importance of race is the subtlest and most dangerous thing that could possibly arise in American life. Unless it is stamped out we are in for the worst kind of trouble.

There are seven sets of twins now attending San Jose college in California. Both members of each pair look as alike as two college students.

Walt Disney has been sued by Snow White and three others for plagiarism. There must be moments when he wishes Snow White and the Seven Dwarf were all back in the ink bottle.

Texas Industry, Trade Increase Over Last Month

AUSTIN, Nov. 1—Industry and trade in Texas during September increased moderately over the preceding month but the composite index was still substantially below that of September last year, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas bureau of business research. The upward phase of the business cycle in Texas which now appears to be getting under way will probably be more gradual than for the north and northeast just as the decline here was far less abrupt in those sections of the country, he pointed out.

During the September the composite index after adjustment for seasonal influences rose nearly three points from August, 93.99 to 96.74; but it was still nearly eight points below September, 1937, when the index stood at 104.43.

The indexes of employment and pay rolls gained slightly over August, while the indexes of miscellaneous freight loadings and electric power consumption gained substantially. There was a slight decline in the indexes of general department store sales and runs of crude oil to stills. The detailed figures are given in the following table:

	Sept. 1936	Sept. 1937	Aug. 1937
Employment	87.93	95.58	89.20
Pay rolls	90.84	98.63	90.44
Misc. Freight Loadings	65.15	84.11	87.94
(S. W. District)
Crude runs to stills	176.38	183.79	178.74
Dept. store sales	110.27	115.26	111.46
Electric power consumption	127.84	126.53	126.92
Composite index	96.74	104.43	92.99

WHAT IT MEANS— The Fall of Hankow

By MORGAN M. BEATTY

AP Feature Service Writer
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—Seven years of bitter, intermittent warfare have put Japan in a position to take a half Nelson on struggling China. But don't jump at conclusions—yet.

Here is a thumbnail survey of what it all means, dating back to the 1931 push into Manchuria. 1. The Japanese army and navy has established tenuous control of a 1500-mile reach along the rich coastal plain of eastern Asia, from Hong Kong on the south almost to Vladivostok on the north.

2. On a map, the territory now under the nominal influence of the Japanese looks like two huge bites taken by some giant, the northern chunk extending from Shantung to Siberia, and the southern from Canton to Shantung. 3. That territory includes less than one-quarter of China's 4,500,000 square miles (including Manchukuo) but—and this is vastly important—it covers most of the developed wealth of China and two-thirds of her population of 466,000,000 people.

4. Left to China are: The rice basket, wheat basin, and tea fields of the interior; caravan routes to interior Asia; one railroad link, with the outer world; at Yunnan in the deep southwest; and vast undeveloped mineral resources including coal, copper and oil. 5. Thus have Chiang Kai-shek and his generals lost the great reserve of man-power on which they have been drawing for the armies they sent against the Japanese. Only one thickly populated province, Szechwan, and its 52,000,000 people remains outside the Japanese sphere.

utilities, and the railroads in the United States, and a foreign policy developed for removal of barriers to international trade, a prolonged period of industrial prosperity could readily be envisioned. During the next six months more definite indications of the longer term trends with respect to both the domestic and foreign situation may be expected to appear.

Likewise the great transportation arteries—the railroads and the rivers—are lost to Chiang, as well as the bulk of the nation's manufacturing resources. Also now in the power of the Japanese are the customs revenues and most of the salt tax money. That amounts to about 150,000,000 American dollars a year. It has been paying off soldiers and foreign loans.

All of this is a dreary picture, indeed, from the Chinese point of view, but the experts tell you not to jump at too many conclusions in the next few weeks. Watch for Japanese pressure and Chinese tricks.

Chiang's Chance
For instance, note that the Japanese are proving two armies toward each other from Canton and Hankow. This object is to close the door to orderly retreat for Chiang and his various armies. If Chiang succeeds in withdrawing with most of his men, he may be able to muster enough strength to make it worth while for the Japanese to deal with him. If not, he has been removed from the picture.

The Japanese privately claim they are counting Chiang out. On that basis, all the signs point to the establishment of three big puppet states like Manchukuo along the Chinese seaboard. A northern state could be dominated from Peiping by Chinese willing to talk Japan's language. A mid-Nanking or Shanghai, and a southern state would be ruled from Canton.

About Our Friends

By STEP A. LONG

G. B. Kelly, retired wholesale and retail merchant of Cisco, alludes to an article recently carried in the Cisco Press regarding the school district of Porterville, Kansas, in which there are only 14 boys—no girls. Says he began his business career in that town . . . also went to school in the district.

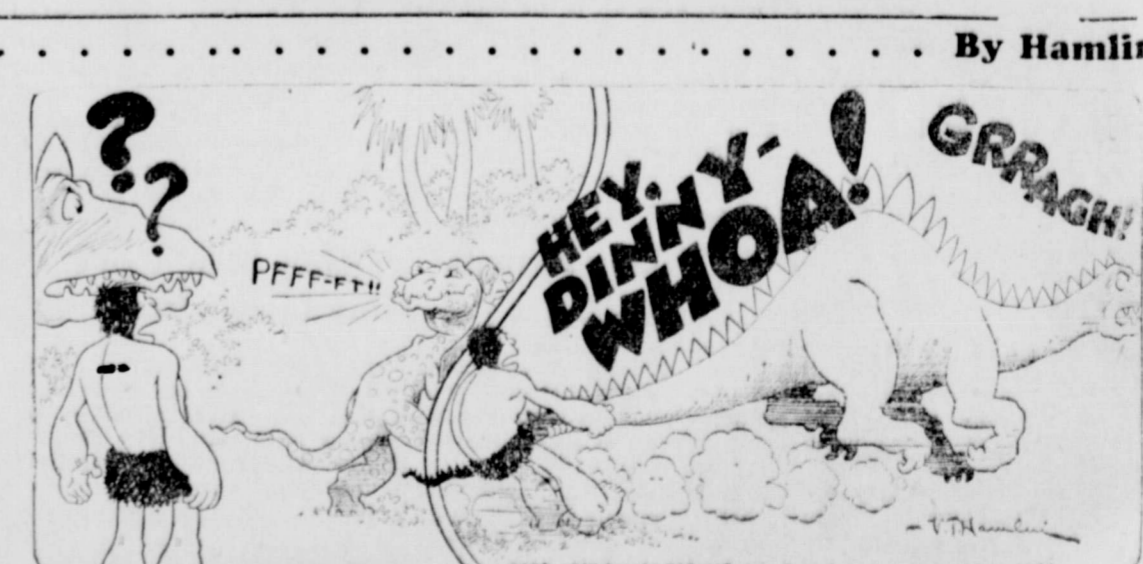

The town is just out of Fort Scott, Kan., Mr. Kelley says. . . . Visited there not long ago . . . It is significant that Mr. Kelley began his business career just 50 years ago . . . Times, people and conditions change in a half-century . . . But some, like Mr. Kelley live on, seemingly with little change so far as years are concerned . . . Time has dealt lightly with this Irishman, and many friends recall Mr. Kelley when he retired from business here in Cisco about 20 years ago, as looking just about as he does now.

Charles Yates, who generally sees everything and who has an instinctive eye and ear for news, wanted to know if there was a football game in Cisco today . . . said he just saw a yell leader pass by Red Front . . . Investigation proved it was only Supt. Cluck going to the Savoy for a cup of coffee, all dressed in his lounging jacket . . . Since the operation, the general superintendent must see many people, and of course he must be dressed at all times . . . Charles wanted the Press to have a picture of him and his dress jacket, but Bonnie Butler fears his camera would not be able to bring out all the rich colorings of the garment.

Mrs. Charles Fee and Mrs. Alex Spears shopping . . . Mrs. Clarence Cleere being complimented for her delicious hat makes . . . Miss Ellen Bacon attending the Halloween parade . . . graded some of the merchandise she acquired for some she liked better . . . We have found three or four people who did not attend the street parade last night . . . We really thought all in the several adjoining counties were on the streets . . . Six thousands of people we never saw before and we have been living in Cisco since 1919 . . . You think that is an exaggeration? Well, then . . . make it a dozen or more anyway . . . But we did see many people from Eastland, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Bode Parish . . . They were meeting old friends.

Dr. Woods tried mighty hard.

DON DOMEY—heroine, the sensational singing leader.
ERT TAIT—hero, News-photographer—detective.
E LESTER—Myrna's close-associate with Don.
NIE FEELEY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden's murder.

Tait looked at Feeley. "We can go into the Golden Bowl and use the piano in there. You play, Mr. Weeks?"
"Oh, yes, I play. I am not a musician like, let us say, Ludden Domey, who couldn't read music but could only make weird noises on a clarinet."
"Good . . . let's go into the Golden Bowl."

Monday: Detective Feeley and set the song writer, Weeks, in the hotel lobby. Feeley is certain he is the murderer.

CHAPTER XXVI
They are all friendly and Tait walked toward pale man. He had already seen them, his eyes burning with an unnatural eagerness.

"You Mr. Weeks?" Feeley asked these eyes.
"This kind of more adventures."
Elliott Farnsworth. This is Tait, manager of the band. Perhaps you've heard of him.

Tait is naturally interested in the fact, he made arrangements with our firm to introduce the Golden Bowl."
"As was done the Cat's Meow?"
"That individual, who never paid the slightest attention to popular songs, was entranced at Weeks' simple ability to play the piano. As the musician finished, Tait nudged Feeley. The latter straightened. "Well . . . he hesitated. "Well, it's very good." He turned to Tait. "After all, Tait, your band has to introduce it. What's your opinion?"

"I think it has possibilities," Tait said. "But of course I want to hear others and make some comparisons."
"You want to hear the words?" said Weeks.
"That's not necessary," Tait said. "Not now, at least. A lyric can always be worked over, if the tune has the stuff."

Weeks' eyes narrowed. "You mean to infer that perhaps this tune I have just played does not have the stuff?"
"I didn't say that," Tait answered.

The tall musician arose from the piano bench. "Listen," he said. "I said I could tell you something of interest about this very popular song, this 'The Cat's Meow.' I wrote that song! Do you understand?" Weeks' eyes were glittering. "I wrote it! And I can show the agreement Domey made with me. An agreement which he did not keep. It was a song which made thousands — for Domey. And now, Mr. Tait, do you know what is going to happen? You are going to give me a place in your band and let me introduce my new song. You are going to do it because, if you refuse, I will make a public announcement which will ruin your band."

As they went through the lobby and into the empty Golden Bowl, strange and ghost-like now in its quiet, Tait exchanged glances with Feeley. The detective looked grim. Plainly he could hardly restrain himself from clapping the unpleasant Weeks into custody.

The man walked to the piano immediately. "I am not a singer," he said. "I will play it for you, and then recite the lyric."

Tait nodded. The man began to play. As his fingers went over the keys, Tait's jaw dropped involuntarily. The tune was bad. It was trite—it would have been trite even if original, but it was not original. It was a jumble of popular songs from the last five years so badly disguised as to be not disguised at all. Tait looked at Feeley. That individual, who never paid the slightest attention to popular songs, was entranced at Weeks' simple ability to play the piano. As the musician finished, Tait nudged Feeley. The latter straightened. "Well . . . he hesitated. "Well, it's very good." He turned to Tait. "After all, Tait, your band has to introduce it. What's your opinion?"

"I think it has possibilities," Tait said. "But of course I want to hear others and make some comparisons."
"You want to hear the words?" said Weeks.
"That's not necessary," Tait said. "Not now, at least. A lyric can always be worked over, if the tune has the stuff."

Weeks' eyes narrowed. "You mean to infer that perhaps this tune I have just played does not have the stuff?"
"I didn't say that," Tait answered.

The tall musician arose from the piano bench. "Listen," he said. "I said I could tell you something of interest about this very popular song, this 'The Cat's Meow.' I wrote that song! Do you understand?" Weeks' eyes were glittering. "I wrote it! And I can show the agreement Domey made with me. An agreement which he did not keep. It was a song which made thousands — for Domey. And now, Mr. Tait, do you know what is going to happen? You are going to give me a place in your band and let me introduce my new song. You are going to do it because, if you refuse, I will make a public announcement which will ruin your band."

Tait could have kicked himself

senseless. What had he blundered into? What had he done just when it looked as if the band might come out from under its obligations? The recording company had been staved off only temporarily, and if this mad man should blab, then Montgomery of the recording firm would swoop down, too, for Domey's lapses of contract.

"If what you say is true," Tait said slowly, "we naturally want to do the right thing."
"Then I am with your band, beginning tonight?" Weeks asked. "And I will introduce the song?"
Tait shuddered. The piece Weeks had just played would ruin a second-rate band in the most unsophisticated of tank towns.

"I'm afraid we wouldn't have time for rehearsal enough to do it justice. Suppose you played 'The Cat's Meow' instead? The crowd will like that, because we haven't used it since—since Domey was killed."

"Very well." The musician drew himself straighter. "That will be enough for the present." He looked at Farnsworth. "But I think it would be well for Mr. Tait to convince you that my new song is worth $10,000 advance against royalties."

Feeley turned a little pink, and Tait put in quickly. "I'm sure Mr. Farnsworth will give it every consideration." He held out his hand. "I'll see you tonight, then, Mr. Weeks. The band will need no rehearsal for 'The Cat's Meow.' I'll have 'Torchy' Stephens arrange for a piano solo for you on it. I think it'll be a hit." Gravelly Weeks shook hands with Tait and Feeley, bowed low, and walked across the afternoon emptiness of the Golden Bowl. The two stood looking after him until he had gone out the wide doors which led to the lobby. Feeley took a step forward, and Tait restrained him. "I'll take the job of following him, Dannie. Is that okay with you?"

Feeley nodded. "Sure. But don't let him slip. That's our man, Bob. He's done murder and attempted murder—and now he's going to try a little blackmail. . . . That wasn't a bad piece he played, though, was it?"

"It was awful, Dannie. And the fact that it's awful has me stumped. The guy that wrote 'The Cat's Meow' couldn't possibly write a song as sour as the one he just played."

"I don't know," Tait said. "I'll see you later." He hurried out of the Golden Bowl and into the lobby of the Pacific-Plaza. He glimpsed Weeks going through one of the swinging doors of a side entrance. Tait rushed after him and then, spotting him among the sidewalk crowd, slowed down.

He followed Weeks for blocks, grew increasingly astonished to find that the man was heading not for the poorer part of town but for the section where were built the swankiest apartment hotels. "If he lives in this section," Tait mused, hurrying after the long-legged musician, "there's something screwy, that's certain." Suddenly it occurred to Tait that he was in the block which held Harris Rogers' apartment. Even as the thought struck him, Weeks turned into the entrance of that building!

Tait waited on the sidewalk until Weeks should have time to take the lift. Then he followed and went straight to Harris Rogers' door.

Another Lehman Climbing Higher?

While his brother, Gov. Herbert Lehman, campaigns for re-election in New York state, Judge Irving Lehman, above, continues on the job as a justice of the New York State Supreme Court. There have been reports out of New York that Judge Lehman might be named to fill the U. S. Supreme Court vacancy left by the death of Justice Benjamin Cardozo.

KENNAMER IN HEARING ON SANITY TODAY

Unofficial Parole Board Grants Pardon If Sane

McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 1 (AP)—Phil Kennamer, convicted Tulsa "society gang" slayer, was examined today by the state sanity board in McAlester penitentiary in a hearing to determine whether he shall receive six months parole.

The state's unofficial parole board yesterday recommended a parole conditional upon a sanity hearing after Federal Judge Franklin Kennamer urged a parole for his son so he might accompany a sick mother to Arizona.

Finals In City Golf Tournament Played Sunday

Climaxing the annual city golf tournament sponsored by the Cisco Country club which has been in progress during the past two weeks, finals in three of the four divisions were played Sunday only the first flight consolation finals remaining.

Winner in the first flight was I. J. Henson who defeated Chuck Van Horn, medalist with a 75, 3-2 in a close match.

Gus Nix won the second flight by defeating K. N. Greer one up on 20, in perhaps the hardest-fought and closest match of the tournament.

In the second flight consolation Rice Foreman emerged victor by defeating F. B. Altman in the finals.

Only match remaining to be played was the final one between W. R. Miller, who defeated H. V. McCorkle 4-2, and H. G. Foy.

Winners are to receive prizes of golf equipment.

Pension Payments of County Increase

EASTLAND, Nov. 1—An increase in Eastland county pension payments during November was noted Monday in the list filed by the Old Age Assistance commission in the office of County Clerk R. V. Galloway.

October pension payments, totaling $12,736, went to 868 persons. In September 855 checks were issued to Eastland county residents, totaling $12,534.

Has 3,000 Great Nieces, Nephews

GRACEVILLE, Fla., Nov. 1 (AP) Wiley Williams says he has more than 3,000 living nieces, nephews, great, great, great-great nieces and nephews.

Wiley, aged 69, is the youngest son of the Pioneer Andrew Elton Williams, who reared a family of 22 children. Each of the 22 children—save one who was killed by lightning—had families of eight to 18 children.

Eastland Warehouse Still Taking Peanuts

EASTLAND, Nov. 1—H. J. Tanner, secretary-manager of the Eastland chamber of commerce, announced Monday that the Southwestern Peanut Growers association warehouse at Eastland is still accepting peanuts.

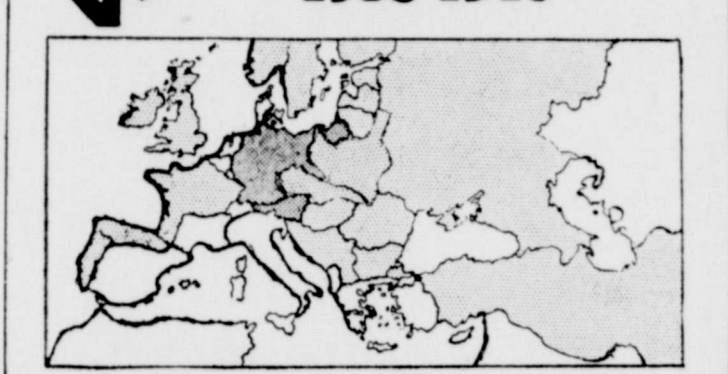

Tanner stated that buying will probably continue until 500 tons have been purchased. There is ample storage space, he added.

Germany Maps 10-Year Plan for European Conquest

Ein Volk, ein Reich, ein Führer!

Groß-Deutschland 1938-1948

Deutschland, Deutschland über alles!

Germany's "10-year plan", projecting a program of Nazi-fascist expansion and conquest that by 1948 would place most of Europe and parts of the Near East under the swastika, with Italy sharing in the spoils, is revealed in the above map, circulated in Austria a few hours after the Munich peace pact. Top row illustrates the 1938-39 expansion program, with the first two steps, absorption of Austria and Czechoslovakia accomplished, and the third, absorption of Hungary, scheduled for 1939. Second row shows Poland included in the Nazi orbit late in 1939 and the swallowing of Yugoslavia, Rumania, and Bulgaria in 1940. Third row, the drive east and west in 1941, year of the big war, when German armies smash through Poland and Rumania, seizing all European Russia south of Moscow to the Caspian sea, and at the same time sweep over Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and northern France. Large map at the bottom envisages Europe in 1948 completely dominated by the Rome-Berlin axis. Germany (dark shading) has taken over the British Isles and Ireland, southern Norway and Sweden and wiped out the Turkish nation, occupying Istanbul and Persia (light shading). Italy, represented by the white, holds all of Spain except the northwest coast which goes to Germany. Italy also gets a great chunk of southeastern France, Palestine, Albania, Greece, and the entire North African coast. This map distributed by Nazi propaganda agents concurrently with the occupation of Czechoslovakia, came into French possession and eventually to New York. The legend across the top reads: "One people, one state, one leader." Across the bottom: "Germany, Germany over all."

Attorney-General's Assistant Is Killed

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Marvin Trevathan, 30, assistant attorney-general, was dead, and Miss Lydia McCutcheon, employe in the attorney-general's office, was painfully injured in an automobile accident here today.

Trevathan, formerly of Lufkin, died soon after he was taken to the hospital, police reported. Miss McCutcheon was treated for a fractured arm and severe cuts and bruises.

The police at the traffic bureau said Trevathan's automobile collided with the trailer-truck driven by Ernest Holb, Cotulla.

'Family Men' Can't Buy Liquor Here

CARROLLTON, Ky., Nov. 1 (AP) Tavern keepers in and near Carrollton, were given a list of 55 persons and warned by County Judge William G. Reed against selling them liquor.

"They spend their money needed to support their families," the judge explained.

PROGRAM IN AUDITORIUM

The district banquet of the First Methodist church will be held tonight at the church and Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will be the principal speaker. Following the banquet the program will be held in the church auditorium.

PATROLMEN IN HUNT FOR DESPERADO

Scour Woods for Charley Chapman, Believed Dead

PHILADELPHIA, Miss., Nov. 1 (AP)—Highway patrolmen and other officers searched wooded areas near here today for Charley Chapman, escaped bank robber Federal Bureau of Investigation men describe as one of the Southwest's most desperate lawbreakers.

Chapman, 42, who before turning outlaw was a successful Eldorado, Arkansas, contractor who escaped Louisiana, Arkansas, and Texas prisons, was surrounded by highway patrolmen here last night. He darted into the woodland when officers opened fire, returning four shots.

Murphy Roden of the Louisiana state police said he believed Chapman was dead in the woods. Roden said Chapman's companion, believed to be Dave Gaves, midwestern bank bandit, was captured.

Government-Utilities Peace 'Heartening'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Clarence Grossbeck, chairman of the Electric Bond and Share corporation, said after a half-hour white house conference today that the "reapproachment between the government and utilities is most heartening and its implications are of far-reaching national significance."

He said he told the president that all his companies had "already complied with the wage-hour bill."

Polish-Czech Agreement Is Reached Today

PRAGUE, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Czechoslovakia-Polish frontier dispute ended today by an exchange of notes between Foreign Minister Chvalkovsky and Casimir Papez, Polish minister to Prague.

Official Polish circles declared the accord excluded the possibility of a plebiscite in Frydek, disputed area near the regions of Teschen and Frystat, now occupied by Polish troops.

Dewey Says Will Not Quit Governorship

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Republican gubernatorial nominee Thomas Dewey today declared he would "certainly" serve his full four-year term if elected governor of New York.

Manhattan's district attorney made the declaration at a press conference answering reported democratic statements that he would seek the presidency in 1940 if successful in the gubernatorial race.

Hen Is Affected by Football Season

SAYBROOK, Ill., Nov. 1 (AP)—The football season affected one of William Hildreth's hens.

She laid an egg shaped like a football that bears ridges resembling the stitching and lacing of a pigskin.

STRIKE ENDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Ratification of a "basis of settlement by employers and unions today ended San Francisco's 56-day strike against 35 leading retail stores.

Society Bitten by Jitterbugs

Pied Piper to the general populace, Benny Goodman crossed the railroad tracks the other night and proved that Park Avenue is really infested with jitterbugs under the skin. Photo shows the swing king in the ritzy Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria. As Mr. B. G. wheedles his wailing clarinet, the socialite swing-addicts gather round in the open-mouthed manner made famous by unjeweled, engorged but suffering alligators in other neighborhoods.

CHAMBERLAIN WILL MOTION FOR DEBATE

Will Make Move Before House of Commons Tomorrow

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Premier Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons today that he intended to bring the Anglo-Italian accord of April 16 into force as "soon as possible."

Chamberlain, speaking to the house assembled for a four-day session, said he would offer a motion for debate tomorrow to the effect "the house welcomes the intention of the government to bring the Anglo-Italian agreement into force."

The Rome accord was designed to provide comprehensive settlement of all conflicts of the British-Italian interests in the Mediterranean, Africa, the Near East, and Spain and also provided for British recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia and complete Italian withdrawal from Spain after the Civil war.

Report Damage of Hallowe'en Light

After checking up on the carnage usually resultant from the annual bug-a-boo of local authorities, Hallowe'en, officers said the damage wrought was less than in many years and expressed their thanks to the citizenry for the splendid cooperation given them.

Chief of Police M. L. Perdue said this had been one of the noisiest Hallowe'ens in some years but emphasized the fact that there had been little or no vandalism and said that as yet he had received no reports of any property more seriously damaged than "soaped" windows, etc.

West Ward PTA Carnival Is Big Success

Announcing that their carnival held last night had been very successful in raising funds to finance the coming year's work, officials of the west ward P. T. A. wished today to thank the numerous business men and merchants for their aid in the campaign, which would have been impossible without their help.

Stating that the parents, many of whom worked in the campaign in one capacity or another, will receive their thanks in benefits to their children, P. T. A. officials at the same time expressed appreciation for the aid of the following individuals, firms, and establishments in addition to those mentioned Sunday: West Texas Utilities company, P. G. Berry of Cisco Amusement company, N. C. Packer of the Admiration Coffee company, Estes Radio Shop, Brown Candy and Cracker company, Laguna Coffee Shop, and the Hickok Gas company.

Three New 4-H Clubs Organized in County

EASTLAND, Nov. 1—Total of 117 boys have enrolled for 4-H club work the coming year, according to extension officials.

In addition to the 10 clubs last year, three additional are to be organized. New clubs will be at Carbon, Ranger and Romney. Old clubs are at Alameda, Lone Cedar, Gorman, New Hope, Okra Morton Valley, Flatwood, Kokomo and Desdemona.

The 117-enrollment figure represents an increase of 35 over the figure for this time last year.

EASTLAND TO PLAY MIDGETS

Game to Be at Chesley Field Friday

With no Lobo football game scheduled this week, local grid interest has shifted to the game at Chesley Field Friday between the Cisco grammar school Midgets and the Eastland Longhorns, grammar eleven of that city. The game is to be at 4 o'clock and admission is 10 cents.

The Midgets lost their first game of the season last week when they were downed 13-6 by a much larger Brownwood junior high school eleven, although outplaying their heavier opponents most of the way. With the exception of that loss and a tie with the Moran Pups, which they avenged by a 20-6 victory later, the Midget record is unblemished.

The Eastland eleven is rated one of the best in this section and promises to put up a strong battle. Recently the Longhorns defeated the Gorman grammar eleven, one of the better teams of this section.

Local interest has been high and a good crowd is expected. Funds will be used for athletic purposes.

District Laymen's Fall Banquet to Be at 7 o'Clock

Officials in charge of arrangements for the District Laymen's annual Methodist fall banquet, to be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the Methodist church, urged all who possibly can to attend.

Chief speaker at the banquet will be Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Fort Worth. The banquet is expected to be one of the most outstanding of its type in this section, from 400 to 400 people are expected from the numerous towns of this district.

Tickets are 35 cents.

Tait said, "If I could play it for...

Tait looked at Feely. "We can go into the Golden Bowl and use the piano in there. You play, Mr. Weeks?"
"Oh, yes, I play. I am not a musician like, let us say, Ludden Dombey, who couldn't read music but could only make weird noises on a clarinet."
"Good... let's go into the Golden Bowl."
As they went through the lobby and into the empty Golden Bowl, strange and ghost-like now in its quiet, Tait exchanged glances with Feely. The detective looked grim. Plainly he could hardly restrain himself from clapping the unpleasant Weeks into custody.
The man walked to the piano immediately. "I am not a singer," he said. "I will play it for you, and then recite the lyric."
Tait nodded. The man began to play. As his fingers went over the keys, Tait's jaw dropped involuntarily. The tune was bad. It was trite—it would have been trite even if original, but it was not original. It was a jumble of popular songs from the last five years so badly disguised as to be not disguised at all. Tait looked at Feely. That individual, who never paid the slightest attention to popular songs, was entranced at Weeks' simple ability to play the piano. As the musician finished, Tait nudged Feely. The latter straightened. "Well...," he hesitated. "Well, it's very good." He turned to Tait. "After all, Tait, your band has to introduce it. What's your opinion?"
"I think it has possibilities," Tait said. "But of course I want to hear others and make some comparisons."
"You want to hear the words?" said Weeks.
"That's not necessary," Tait said. "Not now, at least. A lyric can always be worked over, if the tune has the stuff."
Weeks' eyes narrowed. "You mean to infer that perhaps this tune I have just played does not have the stuff?"
"I didn't say that," Tait answered.
The tall musician arose from the piano bench. "Listen," he said. "I said I could tell you something of interest about this very popular song, this 'The Cat's Meow.' I wrote that song! Do you understand?" Weeks' eyes were glittering. "I wrote it! And I can show the agreement Dombey made with me. An agreement which he did not keep. It was a song which made thousands — for Dombey. And now, Mr. Tait, do you know what is going to happen? You are going to give me a place in your band and let me introduce my new song. You are going to do it because, if you refuse, I will make a public announcement which will ruin your band."
Tait could have kicked himself

senseless. What had he blundered into? What had he done just when it looked as if the band might come out from under its obligations? The recording company had been staved off only temporarily, and if this mad man should blab, then Montgomery of the recording firm would swoop down, too, for Dombey's lapses of contract.
"If what you say is true," Tait said slowly, "we naturally want to do the right thing."
"Then I am with your band, beginning tonight?" Weeks asked. "And I will introduce the song?"
Tait shuddered. The piece Weeks had just played would ruin a second-rate band in the most unsophisticated of tank towns. "I'm afraid we wouldn't have time for rehearsal enough to do it justice. Suppose you played 'The Cat's Meow' instead? The crowd will like that, because we haven't used it since—since Dombey was killed."
"Very well." The musician drew himself straighter. "That will be enough for the present." He looked at Farnsworth. "But I think it would be well for Mr. Tait to convince you that my new song is worth $10,000 advance against royalties."
Feely turned a little pink, and Tait put in quickly. "I'm sure Mr. Farnsworth will give it every consideration." He held out his hand. "I'll see you tonight, then, Mr. Weeks. The band will need no rehearsal for 'The Cat's Meow.' I'll have 'Torchy' Stephens arrange for a piano solo for you on something screwy, that's certain." Suddenly it occurred to Tait that he was in the block which held Harris Rogers' apartment. Even as the thought struck him, Weeks turned into the entrance of that building!

Tait waited on the sidewalk until Weeks should have time to take the lift. Then he followed and went straight to Harris Rogers' door.

Albany Man On Trial In Guard Slaying

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Two badly frightened hardened criminals came off Alcatraz island Monday and faced a jury of San Francisco business executives and potential death in California's lethal gas chamber for the slaying of an Alcatraz guard.

The pair of youthful bad men—James G. Lucas and Rufus Franklin—met with clasped hands in the closely guarded federal court rooms, while their unpaid attorneys spent the day in legal jousts over composition of the jury which will try the two former bank robbers for murder.

Lucas, so badly frightened he was known to have spoken only twice in two months, kept his head bowed and never looked up throughout the morning session. In the afternoon he peered under his brows to observe examination of the jury.

In a futile plea to have a jury determine whether Lucas was insane, Defense Attorney Harold C. Faulkner said that so far as he and Alcatraz officials could tell, the 26-year-old former Albany, Texas, bank robber had been mute since Aug. 4 except to say "thanks" once, and at another time to ask for more porridge. He smiled once during the two months.

Movie Stars Are Among University Of Texas Exes

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—If the University of Texas should send mail to its ex-students, not a few of the letters would be addressed to Hollywood, Calif., for some of Hollywood's best-known actors and actresses once attended the University.

John Boles, screen lover, who was born at Greenville, was graduated from the University in 1917 and studied in New York and Europe before beginning his screen career. Among the motion pictures in which he was starred are "Love of Sunya" with Gloria Swanson, "Bride of the Night," "Shepherd of the Hills," "The Littlest Rebel" with Shirley Temple, "Rose of the Rancho," "A Message to Garcia," and "Craig's Wife."

When John Arledge came to the University from Crockett in 1925-26, he was known as Johnson L. Arledge. He went to Hollywood in 1931 and has played in such films as "Daddy Long Legs," "Shipmates Forever," "We're On 'Human," and "Old Man Rhythm."

Heien Vinson, movie star and wife of the top-ranking tennis player, Fred Perry, attended the University from 1922 to 1924. Her real name is Heien Ruffs and her home was in Beaumont. Among the films in which she appeared are "I Am a Fugitive from the Chain Gang," "Broadway Bill," "The Captain Hates the Sea," "Transatlantic Tunnel," and "Voices of 1938."

Campus beauty, artist's model, moving picture star is descriptive terms applicable to Adrienne Ames. As Jeannette Florence Allen, University of Texas co-ed, she was selected one of ten campus favorites in 1928 and her picture appeared in the University yearbook, the Cactus. She was born in Fort Worth, registered in the University from Eureka Springs, Ark., and later lived in Temple. She received her degree from the University in 1930. Shows in which she appeared are "George White's Scandals," "Woman Wanted," "The Road to Reno," and "The Death Kiss."

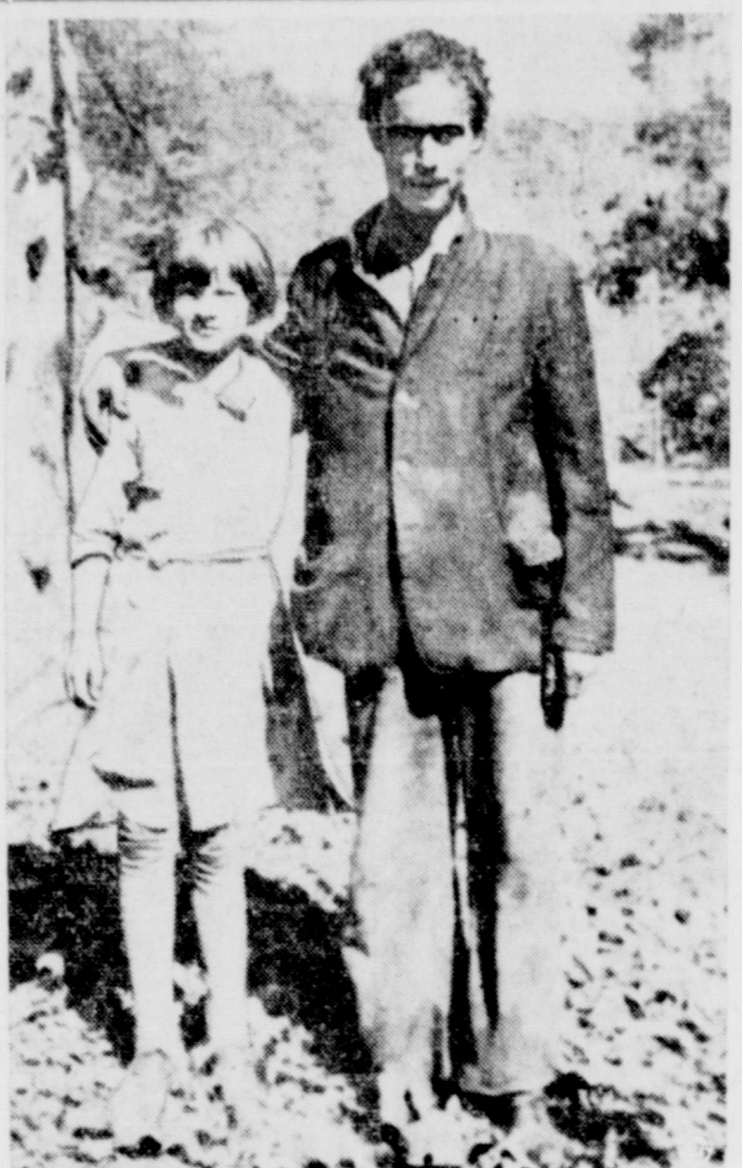

The name of Corinne Griffin, former United Artists star, is listed on the rolls of the Ex-students' Association of the University as Corinne Griffin of Mineral Wells, who came to the University in 1912.

Tex Ritter, western star, studied at the University from 1922 to 1927. His real name is Woodward Maurice and his home was Nederland.

Smith Ballou, Dallas student at the University from 1921 to 1923, played a bongo in an orchestra composed of University students before he joined the movies in Hollywood.

One of the latest additions to the ranks of University exes making good in Hollywood is Mary Tom Blackwood from Alexandria, La., sweetheart of the university in 1932. She attended the University of Southern California after leaving Texas and then signed a contract with Fox.

Husky Fleming Tackett, 34-year-old coal miner, and his 10-year-old bride, Rosie Columbus, pose for their wedding picture in the backhills of Kentucky near Paintsville. Married by the Rev. W. G. Ratliff, a blacksmith, Tackett and his wife—the neighbors say she's "just a baby"—have moved into a two-room log cabin with her parents, two brothers, a sister and "some in-laws."

How to Bring Back Prosperity

"Just like that!" Business Economist Roger Babson explains with gestures his theory that unemployment would vanish in six months if capital, labor and distributors allowed interest, wages and prices to find "natural levels" instead of "pegging" them artificially.

AUTHOR DIES

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 1 (AP)—Two-week illness ended in the death Sunday of Prof. Milton Sawyer Rose, associate professor of English at Colorado college, playwright and poet.

Arizona State Favored Over Hardin-Simmons

ABILENE, Nov. 1 (Sp.)—Convinced that comparative records establish the Arizona State College, of Tempe, Border conference members, as two touchdowns better than his Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, Coach Frank Kimbrough today pushed drills for what he described as "our uphill battle," when the teams meet in an inter-sectional clash Saturday at Phoenix.

Arizona State defeated Santa Barbara, west coast eleven, 10 to 0, last week-end, while the University of San Francisco Donns, that trounced the Cowboys 20 to 0, were able to take Santa Barbara only 14 to 0, Coach Kimbrough pointed out.

Injuries in Saturday night's East Texas State game, which the Cowboys won to remove the undefeated and untied class, added to the H-SU mentor's worries today.

Owen Goodnight, triple threat sophomore star of the Cowboys, received knee injuries that will keep him out of the Phoenix game. In his stead, W. J. Ford, 190-pound sophomore, will start. Co-captain Bud Reeves, ace end who has already snagged three passes for scores this fall, has an injured hip but may start.

In the win over East Texas State, Lone Star loop leaders, the Cowboys rang up their third win in a row.

Kirk McKinnon, Lamesa junior, scintillated in the game's star running, passing and kicking role. McKinnon passed to Reeves for one score. Co-captain Luke Raley passed to Neal Davis, right end, for another.

Ford smashed over for a third, and M. H. Raiborn, senior guard, contributed the fourth, taking a lateral from Deward Marcum, sophomore end, after Marcum took an aerial from McKinnon.

Other than Goodnight, starters against the Arizonians will be the same as in the contest with the Lions.

Following the Arizona tilt, the Cowboys go to Los Angeles to meet Loyola's Lions, November 19.

Exhibit Peanuts of County at Chicago

EASTLAND, Nov. 1.—Peanuts grown by Eastland county 4-H club boys will typify the best in Texas on exhibit at the International Hay and Grain Show which begins November 26 at Chicago, Ill.

This was announced Monday by Hugh F. Barnhart, assistant county agent, State extension service officials designated Eastland county as the one in Texas to prepare the 4-H exhibit.

The exhibit will be composed of four one-gallon samples of peanuts and 20 peanut vines.

Medical service rates to farmers in the United States increased 21 per cent between 1910 and 1929.
